The pamphlet has also a comparison of prices between various local markets along the border, such as Detroit and Windsor, Buffalo and Toronto, Ogdensburg and Prescott, etc. eight comparisons in all having been made. The report of these experts shows that the price of dairy cows, stockers and feeders ,sheep, lambs, and hogs, of potatoes, beets, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, onions, tomatots, eggs and milk, were higher on the Canadian side than on the American side. In forwarding the report to the President, the American Tariff Board makes the following remark:

"The accompanying tables give a comparative view of the prices of agricultural products in our border States and in certain Canadian provinces. The prices were ascertained at first hand by , representatives of the board during the months of January and February, 1911. In making the comparisons care has been taken that the prices quoted should be strictly comparable, and in the case of most commodities this has been possible."

It is thus apparent why the prices of horses and dairy cows were omitted from the Canadian Government's statement.

That the report of the U. S. Tariff Commission is correct is testified to by the abandonment of thousands of farms in the eastern States and the emigration of hundreds of thousands of farmers from the western and northwestern States into Canada. That is evidence strong enough to convince any person who is amenable to reason.

LEMIEUX AND BOURASSA MEET AT ST. HYACINTHE

Minister of Marine and Nationalist Leader Exchange Compliments Before Crowd of Twenty Thousand—Much Excitement and Many Bitter Words—Mr. Bourassa Admits Asking for Position of Deputy-Speaker of Commons—Mr. Lavergne Makes Charges that Liberals Tried to Buy His Silence by Offering His Father Position on Bench—Scenes During the Debate—Platform Gives Way

(From the Montreal Star.)

STE. HYACINTHE, Que., Aug. 11—What was described by many old campaigners as the most wonderful political meeting ever held in the province of Quebec took place yesterday in this city. The meeting was wonderful in point of size; more than twenty thousand people heard a Minister of the Laurier Cabinet, Hon. R Lemieux, expound the Government doctrine, the platform on which the administration will go before the country, and the same number heard Mr. Bourassa in answer.

Then again, a new member of the Cabinet, Dr. Beland, not yet sworn in, made his initial appearance, and in turn was answered by Mr. A. Lavergne.

Both sides assert that the meeting was favorable to its interests; an impartial observer might say that while there was much applause for both there were also placid periods of silence; not that these were passive people, but rather that they were solid people accustomed to think and not likely to be carried away by oratory, being those who desire to hear arguments and then make decisions.

Reciprocity and the naval question were the chief topics undertaken in discussion by each side, and the evident intention of the main body of the large gathering was to dismiss the former topic, and to take up the other in order to secure a government statement. That reciprocity will be against the general interests of the people was the broad statement of the critics and that it would greatly enhance the revenue of the farming community was the general statement of the government representatives.

On the naval question Mr. Bourassa made the assertion that neither Liberal, Conservative, nor Nationalist had the right to lay down a policy for the people of Canada without first ascertaining the wish of the Dominion by means of the electoral mandate.

SOME INCIDENTS AND PERSONAL FEATURES.

The meeting was rather unusual by reason of numerous personal incidents Once Mr. Lemieux, after Mr. Lavergne had tugged at his coat-tail, asked that the latter should retire from the forefront of the platform and seek a less conspicuous position. Mr. Lavergne first refused, but on the request of Mr. Emile Payant, the mayor of Ste. Hyacinthe, who acted as chairman for the occasion, he afterwards retired, and Mr. Lemieux resumed his speech.

Later Mr. Lemieux objectde to some half-audible comment of Mr Bourassa, and desired that the latter shift his position, but the Nationalist leader held his seat, and the Minister of Marine and Fisheries continued.

Later Mr. Lavergne asserted that his father could have been placed in a high judicial position, that of Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals at the price of his, the speaker's silence.

Then Mr. Lavergne asserted that Mr. Justice Tourigny had been approached on behalf of the higher power, and asked to see to it that the petition in the Chicoutimi election protest was withdrawn.

At this juncture Mr. Lemiex jumped up and declared that Mr. Lavergne was a public calumniator.

HOT FEELING BUT LITTLE DISTURBANCE.

At another time Mr. Lemieux, after a verbal bout with Mr. Lavergne turned to a Montrealer on the platform (Mr. John Boyd) and said sharply, "I did not expect to see an Englishman supporting Mr. Bourassa."

"I have a right, as a citizen, to my own opinions," was the reply.

Mr. Lemieux responded, "I beg your pardon. I was rather hasty."

There were many sharp passages and each was followed by a roar of commendation or derision. At times the uproar from the crowd fairly overwhelmed the voice of the speaker, and it became difficult to hear what was being said.

Feeling ran high at times. Occasionally a boo or a series of hisses followed a statement and during one stage of Mr. Lavergne's speech a hot-headed spectator attempted to strike him. That contingency had been foreseen, however, and Mr. McCaskill Chief of Provincial Detectives, intervened and the first shot harmlessly in the air. A few moments later, a couple of sturdy assistants removed the would-be assailant. This was the one incident of that kind. Otherwise the vast gathering was content to listen and verbally to applaud or disapprove.

The illness of Mr. Aime Beauparlant caused a change in the programme of the meeting, with the result that Hon. Mr. Lemieux opened the speech-making. He was followed by Mr. Henri Bourassa. Then Dr. Beland, the newly appointed Postmaster-General, spoke and Mr. Armand Lavergne replied. The final speaker was Mr. J. E. Gladu, former member for Yamaska. The meeting was brought to a close by the Hon. Mr. Lemieux rising and calling for three cheers for His Majesty the King, which were heartily given.

The former local member, Mr. Beauparlant, was reported to be seriously ill, and in the morning Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Lavergne called at his home Mr. Bourassa arrived at the meeting place at a time when the crowd was becoming impatient and demanding some action. As he rose in view on the platform, the crowd cheered Some minutes later Mr. Lemieux appeared, and his reception was adso an enthusiastic one.

PLATFORM COLLAPSES; NOBODY IS INJURED.

It was an amazing gathering, and that it dispersed without untoward incident or injury-working accident is remarkable. The meeting was held in the open space fronting the handsome armoury of the 84th regiment A temporary platform had been erected of builders' trestles guarded by a railing of scantlings. At one time the press of the crowd threatened the whole structure. As it was three sides of the railing were crushed like a weak egg shell, and the safety of those in the immediate vicinity was at stake. In the collapse those on the edge clutched at their fellows, and among those who fell from the six-foot high staging was Mr. Lemieux father of the Minister. The old gentleman, seventy-five years of age, was fortunate in his fall, and was uninjured, and a moment after was pulled to the upper space by two of his sons, none the worse for the adventure Hon. Mr. Lemieux also aided in bringing several women to a place of safety on the platform.

In the end the fourth railing gave way, but here again all were fortunate, and no injury followed. The crowd filled the vast space in front of the platform, the edges being flanked by motors and carriages. In the rear the armoury gave shelter and shade to friends of the regiment, while the castellated coping of the roof gave shelter to a veritable "army."

"It was the most wonderful political gathering I ever witnessed," commented Mr. Lemieux to a Star representative after the meeting

"I thought I had witnessed the acme of gatherings at the reception to Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Montreal but the meeting on the Champ de Mars was overshadowed by this affair It certainly was wonderful. Surely there were thirty thousand people there. It was certainly a great meeting, and it shows you that for real interest in politics one must come to Quebec. Where else in the country could such a meeting take place?"

The great crowd practically policed itself, and it was well that it did so because a panic or sudden movement in any direction would have ended in disaster.

THIRTEEN SPECIAN TRAINS CARRIED THE CROWD.

It was early in the day when the people began to gather. The morning trains bore their big quota of interested politicians. Then the special trains followed. In all, according to the statement of Mr. Joseph Quinlan District Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk, who was in charge of the arrangements, ninety cars left Bonaventure station during the day—seventy-eight over the Grand Trunk and twelve of the Intercolonial system carrying 8,250 from Montreal.

In all thirteen special trains ran into Ste. Hyacinthe, including two Grand Trunk specials from Levis; two Intercolonial specials from the same place; fifteen cars of Quebec Southern specials from Sorel and way stations; specials from St. John and Sherbrooke and local traffic, the total estimated officially as 12,110 people brought to Ste. Hyacinthe by railway. This number was handled as expeditiously as possible under the conditions, and the whole traffic was maintained without accident.

Mr. Armand Lavergne, lieutenant of Mr. Bourassa, the Nationalist chief brought down the stormiest period of the contradictory assembly and began by stating that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had endeavored to induce him to leave the Nationalist party by offering his father the position of chief justice. (Cries of dissent from Government supporters.)

Then he created a sensation by turning to the Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who sat on his left, and said: "But worse than that, I accuse publicly Laurier and Lemieux of trying to buy Judge Tourigny, of Chicoutimi county in the case of Simon Lapointe against Girrard, M. P., in an election petition." (Loud groans and tumult and the minister of marine rose excitedly and shouted):

"I ask proof of this immediately of Lavergne—caluminator—the proof I want."

Mr. Lavergne faced the crowd, part of which hissed him and part cheered

Mayor Payan could do nothing and Mr. Lemieux said: "Oh, Lavergne bandit that you are, and public liar give me proof immediately."

Mr. Lavergne, very pale, tried to speak, but his only remark, "On my word of honor," was cut short by Mr Lemieux calling him "Bandit and foul mouthed fellow, and to think his uncle was my messenger."

Mr. Lavergne—"I affirm that Tourigny went in the name of Laurier."

Mr. Lemieux, shaking his fist in the speaker's face, "you are a liar, it is false, and give me immediate proof No, you will not speak, but you can speak if you withdraw your remark immediately."

For ten minutes the crowd was in a state of ferment. Then shook their fists and howled and cheered, and to crown it all, a man on the platform said that Mr. Lavergne was correct in his accusations, which incited the minister of marine to raise his hands in threatening fashion and cry:

"Say so again and I will defend my honor and that of Laurier with my hands."

Mr. Lemieux then rose and said:—"Gentlemen I ask proof immediately Lavergne, you are a bandit. I affirm that you are a liar and a fool."

Mr. Lavergne, then roused to fever heat, raised his hand as if to push the honorable minister back to his seat, shouting, "Sit down, traitor."

Both speakers tried at the same time to speak, Mr. Lavergne being heard to say: "Mr. Minister, the proof of my assertion is that the crowd believes me when you don't To-morrow in Le Devoir the whole affair will be published."

Mr. Lemieux—"Give me proof, bandit."

Mr. Lavergne—"You have denied your language, Mr. Lemieux, and even the English members have blushed. You said there were more Doukhobors in the West than French-Canadians."

Mr. Lemieux—"There was no French language there."

Mr. Lavergne then continued and endeavored to exonerate himself from the interview given to a Toronto newspaper, and said he was in favor of a navy if Canada was attacked.

Mr. Lemieux—"We have, then, no need to buy you?"

Mr. Lavergne—"You have no need of a fool, but I will never march beside a traitor. We are, perhaps, men mad for the cause of honor, but not parvenus like Lemieux."

Mr. Lavergne concluded by condemning the Laurier government for encouraging immigrants from Europe who did not speak French, and concluded with a violent attack in saying: "The day will come when the country will judge its traitors and renegades."

Mr. Oscar Gladu, M. P. for Yamaska county, also spoke, and the meeting terminated after having lasted three hours and forty-five minutes.

DESERTIONS FROM THE NAVY.

High Pay on Coast Attractive to Men on Cruiser Rainbow.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—R. J. Lang, secretary of Naval Department, when seen regarding the statement that 46 men had deserted from the cruiser Rainbow on the Pacific coast, stated that these desertions had been going on ever since the cruiser went to Esquimalt station.

Higher pay elsewhere is given as the reason.

"It is not an uncommon thing for men to desert from warships on the Pacific coast, even in large numbers," said Mr. Lang.

"It has been done on imperial ships stationed there time and time again. You see, wages are high on the coast, and as the naval department is naturally unable to pay prevailing rate, the men desert and obtain work elsewhere at more money. I do not know off-hand the total number of men who have deserted from the Rainbow since she went to the Pacific coast, but would say that 45 or 50 was approximately correct."

It is Coronation Year at the Canadian National Exhibition and the attractions are largely of a Coronation nature, including the Coronation Procession, Festival of Empire, His Majesty's household band, a replica of the crown jewels and coranation fireworks.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle for his text today took the words of Jesus. "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, also in me" (John xiv 1.)

As usual there was a big crowd and closest attention. He said in part:

The world does well to keep up a cheerful, outward demeanor. Nevertheless, there is a great force and weight to St. Paul's words to the effect that the whole creation is groaning and travailing in pain together waiting for "Messiah's Kingdom and its long promised blessings, to lift the curse of sin and death and restore to mankind the smile of the Father's favor." Reason though they may that there is no personal God—that there is merely a blind god of nature, an evolutionary force, nevertheless, deep down in the heart, men believe there is a God. Almost unconciously the mind attributes to Him wisdom, justice, and power—but little of love or sympathy with humanity and its frailities.

This very intuitive knowledge of God is closely associated with many human troubles. As the root of nearly every trouble, perhaps below the surface, is sin—disobedience to recognized principles of righteousness, and a fearful looking for of retribution, and an uncertainty as to what it will mean. It is true of many Christians, but frequently true of others who have made no profession.

This troubled heart-condition does not always show upon the surface. Sometimes the troubled heart seeks the theatre to try to forget its troubles. Sometimes its owner is immersed in sinful pleasure-seeking in endeavor to drown some haunting grief. Sometimes relief is sought through intoxicating liquors or narcotics; sometimes in suicide. One cannot surely know that the merry laugh or witty joke or cheery song do not come from a troubled heart. We are sure that they do, in many instances, for frequently those who have been indulging in merriment have committed suicide a few minutes thereafter, leaving messages that their hearts have been heavily burdened, while outwardly cheerful.

We have much sympathy with these walkng "through the valley of the shadow of death" day by day. On every hand we have reminders of this—grief, disappointment, headache, heartache, etc. If we are measurably free from pain ourselves, yet have sympathy, we are pained for others.

In our troubles we sooner or later realize the lack of human sympathy or, at least, its impotency. Feeling our helplessness we look instinctively to our Creator. In the hour of trouble remarkably few doubt the existence of God. But as we look to the Almighty for protection and consider divine justice and realize our own weaknesses and shortcomings, the heart of man fails. How could man think that the Omnipotent One would have interest in our care for such a worm of the dust as he feels himself to be? How could divine justice look with sympathy upon the course of selfishness which he recognizes stretches out behind him in full view of the All-Seeing Eye?

"The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom," is the inspired message. Surely many have this beginning of wisdom come to them at some period in their life's experience. But such a fear is the start of wisdom only when it leads the fearful one to greater carefulness of living and a desire of the Heavenly Father's approval.

The Father knows your heart troubles. He wishes the burden to be there until you appreciate its weight—until you will be ready to cry to Him that you are sinsick, weary, troubled, and above all, hungering and hirsting for righteousness and desiring reconciliation to Him—the smile to His face. He has not waited for all this to take place before making provision for you. He has anticipated your needs your longings, your necessities. He has already provided the Redeemer who is mighty to save. If divine justice is exacting in all respects to the last degree, believe that divine love, as represented in the Redeemer sent of God, is equally exhaustless, boundless, sufficent for all your needs. If you will accept this the divine arrangement through Christ your heart troubles may be at an end. You will still have troubles in the flesh weakness, aches and pains, but your heart will be joyful, happy, in fellowship divine.

Ah! says one, I have heard of God and of Jesus and of the invitation to reconciliation but I know not how to proceed. How can I gain a hearing in my case to obtain the blessed assurance of God, this "Thy sins are forgiven thee; go and sin no more." Which of the churches shall I join? To what priest shall I confess?

You need not confess to any earthly priest but as the Master said, go to the Father in secret. Go not in your own name or merit but in the merit of the Redeemer. Go Scripturally, claiming Him as your Advocate and appealing in His Name for forgiveness provided by divine mercy—to cover all the sins of the past and provide for all the imperfections unwillingly yours for the future, even to the end of the way. Coming thus, Jesus becomes your Priest, your Advocate. "We have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous" (I. John ii, 1). Let us "come with courage to the throne of grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in every time of need" (Hebrews iv. 16).

We cannot give this message to the world at present, even as Jesus could not do so. It is better for the world that their hearts should be troubled now to a considerable degree. Those in the most dangerous position, perhaps, are the ones who have no troubles at all and therefore, no incentive to seek the Great Burden-Bearer and fellowship with the Father through Him. Jesus said of such, "Woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received consideration. Woe unto you that are full! for you shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep. Woe unto you when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets" (Luke vi. 24-26). These must await the inauguration of the glorious kingdom of the Messiah, soon to be usherd in, when "every blind eye shall be opened and every deaf ear unstopped."

London, Aug. 15.—By a vote of 241 to 128, the House of Commons yesterday passed a resolution appropriating $1,250,000 for the payment of members salaries for the coming year. This action was taken pursuant to the resolution passed Aug. 10, providing for an annual salary of $2,000 for each member of the House of Commons. This is a radical departure from the principle of gratuitous public service, which hitherto prevailed in the Commons.

Newbro's Herpicide

If you want to free your head from dandruff and stop falling hair, you must sooner or later resort to Newbro's Herpicide.

By using Herpicide first you save yourself worry, which is desirable you save money ,which is a consideration, and you save your hair, which is the most important of all.

Why not profit by the experience of Mrs. S. A. Lee, of 110 South 4th St. Richmond, Va., who writes:

"Four years' residence in India ruined my hair, until it was but two inches long. I tried everything in Europe and America without benefit until I was induced to use Herpicide My hair is now long, soft, and silky and natural color, while before it was quite gray. My friends never tire of admiring my hair.

Mrs. Lee's story is a typical history of hair troubles. After everything else fails Newbro's Herpicide brings relief. It would be just as effective if used first.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and prevents falling hair It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. No matter what the claims of others, Newbro's Herpicide is the only genuine original dandruff germ destroyer.

WHAT IS LIFE!

The Pursuit of the Good the Proper Solution.

You will find existence full of sweet savour if you do not expect from it what it cannot give. When people complain of life, it is almost always because they have asked impossible things from it. Upon this believe wholly the teaching of the wisest. There is but one foundation for a happy life — the pursuit of the good and of the true. You will be well pleased with existence if you make fair use of it, and if you abide well pleased with yourselves. A noble sentence is that which says, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

SPORTING NEWS

GREAT BALL GAME.

What will undoubtedly be the best game of ball that Belleville has seen in many moons will be played to-morrow afternoon at St. Michael's picnic in Holton's grove. The contending teams will be the Peterboro T. A. S. and an All Star combination from the local city league. The Peterboro boys have played great ball all the season and so far are the leaders in the Midland league. They suffered their first defeat about three weeks ago when Phil Flagler's Pets wrested a 4 to 3 victory from them in a 10-inning contest that was a hair-raiser from start to finish. Naturally the norhern stars are still just a little sore over that defeat and will come down to-morrow grimly determined to get even. According to rumor Peterboro will have two firstclass twirlers in their squad—Quinlan who is pretty well-known locally and Connolley, one of the best stand artists of the Toronoto City league. Wilder will do the backstopping; while a brace of heavy hitting outfielders from Port Hope and Bowmanvile are expected to knock Fred Ashton out of the box the first time up. With this line-up, Jim Dorrie claims he will easily defeat any team Belleville can produce. Local fans have the greatest confidence in the home-brews. The Belleville nine will be practically the same that defeated the Barracas so handily on the 7th, although there may be a couple of changes with a view to strengthen up the batting order of the team. Batting is the only department of the game showing weakness and so the good hitters should be given a chance, as for instance Gerow of the Coleman Flats. The diamond is being laid out and the ground levelled to the queen's taste, so that everything will be ready for the great contest at 3 p. m. sharp. Mr. Pat Logue will likely act as umpire.

SALMON CAVIAR.

May Devlop Into An Important Industry.

The ever increasing demand and the diminishing supply of sturgeon caviar led fishermen of eastern Siberia to experiment with salmon roe, which had not only been considered useless for human consumption but had even been looked upon as injurious to health.

Up to 1907 the fishermen in the neighborhood of Nicolaevsk considered salmon roe as valueless, but from that time it was demonstrated that cavier could be made so as to prove commercially profitable and of such a quality that although it cannot compare with the taste of the sturgeon caviar it is nevertheless a great delicacy.

Vast quantities of salmon roe are annually destroyed in Alaska, as they have discovered no means of preserving it, and should a taste be created for caviar of this kind it would develop into a very important industry. The limited supply of sturgeon caviar and the consequent high price places it beyond the reach of many who enjoy such delicacies, whereas salmon caviar could take its place and be practically within the reach of all.

MAKE YOUR CHILDREN HAPPY

Girls and Boys Should Be Frisky, Gay Little Animals.

Mothers, would you make your children really and truly happy and give them the firmly grounded belief that the world — strange old, wonderful world into which they have been dropped from they know not why — then learn to "frivol." Don't take things — any thing — too seriously. There is nothing in the world so wholly pitiful as a too serious, sober faced little child. Children were meant to be frisky, gay little animals; allow them the privilege of fulfilling their rightful mission of childhood. Don't lay burdens of seriousness on their little shoulders.

Soon enough there will be burdens all their own, and if these small shoulders are strengthened and reinforced by childhood years of irresponsible joyousness, they will be ever so much better able and willing to bear burdens all their own!

Managerial Unreasonableness

A curious effect which the constant repetition of one part has upon an actor is that after playing it for a great length of time, he is apt to forget his lines and take up wrong cues. A story is told of an English performer who, after playing the part for a very long time, forgot his lines one night. "It's very strange," said the stage-manager when the actor came off, "that you are not perfect in that part by this time. You have been playing it for two hundred nights." "Well," said the actor, "do you expect me to remember it for ever?"

The Apology

Pat (at the meeting of the Ballyshannon Debating Society): "Phwat! Ye'd be afther makin' that spalpeen, Mick Casey president! Divil fly away wid um! Sure all the baste is fit for is to carry swill to the pigs!"

Chorus: "Shame! Shame on ye! Apologize! etc."

Pat (cooling down): "Bhoys, Oi regret me unseemly outburst, an' Oi retract me hasty words. Sure he isn't fit to carry swill to the pigs!"

Valuable Tim.

Andrew Wilson, an attorney, was named as the administrator of an estate. It was his duty to find the lucky but missing brother. "He was slicing turnips for the sheep on his employer's farm, up among the mist-clad hills of Scotland," said Mr. Wilson, "when I found him. I had traced his life from the old farm on which he was born, step by step through forty years of ill-paid and often most unpleasant labor before I approached him. It was not difficult, for he had held but a few positions in all those years. Every one in the countryside knew him. 'Are you Alexander Stephenson?' I asked. 'I am,' said he, without taking his eyes from the turnips and the knife. 'Your brother James is dead in New York,' said I. 'Aweel, aweel, allemen must e'en die,' he said, slicing away. 'He left you a great fortune,' said I. 'I want you to come to the house with me, so that I can establish your identity and arrange for you to enter into possession of the estate.' 'I'll talk to ye at sax o'clock, young mon,' said he. 'I'll be busy till then. Thay fortune will keep, but thay turnips will not.'"

'Good-for-Nothing Posts.'

In the North-western Chinese province of Kansu there are great stretches of entirely unoccupied barren land. For the guidance of travellers the Government has set up posts in these districts, with directions as to the road painted on them. Lanterns are hung on the posts at night, with characters telling the way. Lanterns and posts are alike of the poorest material, otherwise they would be stolen; but little worth though they be ('good-for-nothing posts' the posts are called) they serve their purpose; they guide the wayfarer. The Chinese have a happy eye for the picturesque. 'I am a good-for-nothing post,' said a Chinese Christian doctor at a Christian conference in Honan, 'but in my dispensary I have been enabled to point many the way to heaven.

A Well-Protected Wedding

Not long ago the daughter of the chief of police of a big Eastern city was married. The next day a woman who had expected an invitation to the wedding and had been disappointed remarked acidly:

"I understand it was one of the best policed affairs of the year."

Jolted From Wagon.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—William Puttock, 13 years, 77 Frizell avenue, was killed Saturday afternoon by being run over by a lumber wagon upon which he, with two other lads, was playing at Bain and Pape avenues.

Howard Chapman, a driver for the York Lumber Co., was resting his horses at the corner when the boys climbed upon it. Chapman, who had not noticed them, started his team. Puttock was jolted from the heavy wagon, the rear wheel of which passed over his neck. He was carried into Dr. Chaffin's office, where he died a few moments later.

PURPOSES OF COMPANY

Canada Bread Company, Limited, has acquired as going concerns the plants and the businesses of the Bredin Bread Company, Limited, of Toronto; Geo. Weston, (The Model Bakery) of Toronto; H. C. Tomlin (Toronto Bakery) of Toronto; Stuarts, Limited, of Montreal, and W. J. Boyd of Winnipeg. In the case of Boyd the real property is excluded, but a parcel of land in the City of Winnipeg, about two acres in extent, is substituted. The first three companies have been in operation for almost thirty years and the last two for close to twenty years. They have all grown from small beginnings till they are now among the largest in their respective fields in Canada. The combined output of the companies at present is, approximately, 600,000 loaves of bread per week. It is intended, by extensions to the present plants and the erection or acquisition of new plants, to forthwith increase the output of the Company to one million loaves per week. Modern plants will later be added in the other large cities. The sum of $1,000,000 cash is being placed in the treasury to provide for the erection of the proposed new plants and to supply ample working capital.

POSITION OF BONDS

For full particulars reference may be made to our prospectus which is accompanied by a letter from Mr. Mark Bredin, the Vice-President and General Manager of the Company. We draw attention to the following points:—

1. The present $1,250,000 of 6 per cent. First Mortgage Sinking Fund thirty-year gold bonds are secured by trust deeds to Guardian Trust Company, Limited, Toronto, constituting a first mortgage on all the property, real, personal, or mixed, now owned or hereafter acquired by the Company, as more fully described in said trust deeds. In the trust deeds it is specially stipulated that of the $1,000,000 cash being placed in the treasury, the sum of $500,000 shall be held by the Trustee, to be used only in the redemption of bonds or in investment in additional plants and real estate, thus increasing the fixed assets under the mortgage. A Sinking Fund of 1 per cent. is operative from August 1, 1911.

2. The assets of the companies already taken over stand in excess of all liabilities, and without any allowance for good will, trade-marks, etc., at $841,428.70. There has also been placed in the treasury $1,066,221.08 of cash which, besides furnishing funds for the the purchasing of construction of additional plants, will provide ample working capital.

3. The earnings of the present plants, as per certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., after allowing for depreciation, amounted, from April 30th, 1910 to April 30th, 1911, to $107,016.14, to which may be added $35,000, being interest at the rate of 3 1-2 per cent. on $1,000,000 cash in the treasury pending its employment on extensions. It is estimated that, with the economies to be effected, the earnings on these plants will shortly amount to $180,000 a year, or nearly two and one-half times the bond interest.

4. With the extensions that it is proposed to effect forthwith, the company by the end of its first fiscal years should be in a position to show earnings of $260,000 a year, equal to three and one-half times the interest requirements on the bond issue, and with all the additional plants that will be provided with the cash in the treasury the earnings should steadily gain to over $530,000 a year, or more than seven times the bond interest requirements.

5. The company, with its plants situated in the larger cities of the different Provinces of Canada, will be in an exceptionally favorable position to benefit by the marked economies that will be possible in manufacturing, and more especially in distribution, and all the time will be turning out a more uniform product under the most sanitary conditions.

6. The practical men who have made the different companies particularly successful will be identified with the management and direction of the new company. Mr. Mark Bredin, who is probably one of the most successful bread manufacturers in Canada, will occupy the position of Vice-President and General Manager, while the services of the heads of four of the different companies taken over and of an efficient representative of the fifth have been assured to the company

BORDEN GIVES REASONS

Conservative Leader Issues a Second Manifesto.

He Puts Into Brief Form Crushing Arguments Against the Passing of the Reciprocity Agreement — Laurier and Borden Leave for Opening Meetings in Simcoe and London To-night.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R. L. Borden left Ottawa last night for Simcoe and London, where they will open their campaigns to-night. The Prime Minister, who will have with him Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the new Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Alex. Smith, former Liberal organizer for Ontario, left by the Grank Trunk at 6 o'clock and goes straight through to Simcoe, where Hon. Geo. P. Graham and Hon. Mackenzie King will join him.

Mr. Borden left at 11.20 by C.P.R. for Toronto. He will have Hon. J. J. Foy, Attorney-General of Ontario, and a number of Western Ontario members with him in London. Mr. Borden stays in Ontario, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaves Simcoe for Three Rivers, where he speaks on Thursday.

Mr. Borden yesterday issued a manifesto to the electors of Canada, in which he voiced the position of the party and replied to the Premier's pronouncement of a few days ago. It says in part:

"The objections to that compact are profound and abiding. They may be thus summarized:

"It shatters the ideal and the hope of reciprocity within the Empire. The President of the United States has avowed that the main purpose with which he sought the treaty was to prevent the consolidation of the British Empire.

MR. R. L. BORDEN.

"It reverses the policy of Canadian nationhood, which sought to bring together the provinces of Canada by intercourse and commerce over east and west lines of transportation; and it stultifies the unexampled sacrifices of a half century which the Canadian people have cheerfully made for that high purpose.

"It is a direct and serious menace to our international lines of water communication and to our ocean shipping as well as to our Canadian Atlantic ports that have been constructed and equipped at such enonmous cost to the country.

"It abandons the policy of improved trade relations with the British people, our best customers, and centres our hopes on the American people, our strongest competitors in the markets of the world.

"It will destroy the distinctive character and reputation of our staple products, which will henceforth be merged in those of the United States, and will be known as American rather than Canadian products.

"It exposes our natural resources to the depredations of the gigantic trusts which have already secured control of those of the United States.

"It will encourage the export of our raw material and unfinished products for manufacture abroad instead of at home.

"It will establish conditions and relations from which it will be extremely difficult and even impossible to retreat, except with the consent of the United States or under terms dictated by her."

Will Oppose Pugsley.

St. John, N.B., Aug. 15.—The Conservative convention held here last night nominated Dr. J. W. Daniel and H. W. Powell, ex-M.P., to oppose Dr. Pugsley and James Lowell, M.P.P., respectively, for the City and County of St. John in the coming election.

At St. Stephens yesterday the Charlottetown Liberal convention unanimously nominated W. Todd.

The Kent County Conservatives yesterday nominated F. J. Robidoux.

Other Nominations.

Inverness, Que., Aug. 15.—At the Conservative convention for Megantic County yesterday afternoon, Dr. J. E. Beauuet of Thetford Mines was nominated.

Cookshire, Que., Aug. 15.—The Conservatives of this county yesterday nominated Fred. Dromwell.

Bury, Que., Aug. 15.—A. B. Hunt was chosen as candiate at the Liberal convention here yesterday afternoon.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 15.—Frank McRae, who as a Conservative ran against Sir Wilfrid Laurier several years ago in Drummond, Arthabasca, was yesterday chosen as Liberal standard-bearer for this district.

Mr. Alex. Weatherston was nominated by East Northumberland Liberals.

A New Record.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—By flying the 286 miles from St. Louis to Chicago, and in an actual flying time of 5 hours 43 minutes, yesterday, Harry N Atwood of Boston believes he has set a pace which will result in his flight by aeroplane from St. Louis to New York and Boston.

HONOR FOR MARKSMAN

Toronto Gives Pte. Clifford a Rousing Reception.

Crowds Surround Depot as Winner of King's and Prince of Wales' Prizes Arrives and He Is Presented With a Case of Silver From the City—Men of His Company in the Grenadiers Pull His Carriage.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—Private William J. Clifford of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, winner of the King's Prize and the Prince of Wales' Prize at Bisley, was accorded a typically Canadian welcome on his arrival home last night. Fully an hour before his train was due at North Toronto station, groups of people were beginning to congregate in Yonge street, and on the approaches to the station.

The train drew into the station at five minutes past eight, and Clifford alighted and shook hands with the principal officers present.

So soon as the greetings were over, Clifford was escorted to a decorated carriage which was drawn by men of his company; his wife, mother-in-law, and his son were accommodated in another decorated carriage, and then the procession was formed and marched to Queen's Park, via Yonge street, Queen street, and University avenue.

Crowds lined the entire route and they stood quietly until the carriage containing Clifford came by. Then they broke into storms of cheers.

On reaching the band stand in Queen's Park, Clifford was carried up the steps by members of his corps, and then Ald. McCausland opened the proceedings with a brief speech paying high tribute to the skill and training of the man who had won both the King's Prize and the Prince of Wales' Prize.

Mayor Geary, then addressed the crowd. Speaking was made a little difficult by the enthusiastic cheering of the people and by the band playing "The British Grenadiers," and "For He' a Jolly Good Fellow," at frequent intervals.

Before the presentation was made, Col. Stimson, who commanded the Canadian team at Bisley, gave a brief address. He said it was the first time on record, that one man had carried off both the King's Prize and the Prince of Wales' Prize. Clifford had competed with 1,158 entrants for the King's Prize, and had to shoot on three successive days under varying conditions.

Then followed the presentation. The city's gift consist of a handsome case of table silver, standing about four feet high. A plate on the case bears the following inscription: Presented by the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of Toronto to William J. Clifford, winner of the King's Prize and the Prince of Wales' Prize at Bisley.

In returning thanks for the gift and the reception given to him, Clifford, in a very brief speech, said that he had won with a Ross rifle. His last few words were lost in the cheers of the crowd.

BIG STRIKE THREATENS

English Railway Employes May Walk Out.

There Now Seems Little Hope of Averting a Widespred Tie-up of the Transportation Systems of the United Kingdom—Larger Revolt May Follow—Liverpool Is Scene of Further Troubles.

London, Aug. 15.—Last night there appeared little hope of averting a great railroad strike, which probably will be accompanied by a general labor revolt that will have a tremendous effect on the trade of the United Kingdom.

At a meeting held in London yesterday by the managers of all railroads having terminals here it was resolved that the time had arrived to resist the men's encroachments. The managers contend that the men by striking will violate the agreement arrived at after the railway troubles of 1907, under which all disputes were to be referred to conciliation boards or an arbitrator. This agreement, they say, was to run until 1914, unless either side gave notice of its termination, which has not been done.

Yesterday's meeting was unanimous that the only way to terminate constant dislocation of business would be to take a firm stand and refuse all concessions to the men. One manager in an interview after the meeting expressed the fear that there will be grave troubles on all the railway systems of the country before the present week is ended. He said the railroads were preparing to run the best services they could under the circumstances, with the aid of police protection for their employes who are still willing to work.

Sectional strikes of railway men were declared last night at Manchester, Liverpool, Sheffield, and other places. Some of the railway lines already have given notice of their inability adequately to handle freight traffic.

Declared General Strike.

Liverpool, Aug. 15.—The strike committee at 12 o'clock last night declared a general strike of all transport workers, including the railway men, who, up to the last, had refused to go out. The strike will be effective on all the local steamboats and the Mersey ferries. Seven thousand dockers struck last night at Birkenhead.

During the day the lockout threatened by the shipowners became effective, and 30,000 men were refused employment until they decided to abide by the terms of a recent agreement.

There has been much disorder in both Liverpool and Birkenhead throughout the day, and the police were constantly in conflict with disorderly crowds. Last night the plateau in front of St. George's Hall, where the rioting started Sunday, became impassble because of the great crush of workmen. There were frequent stampedes, following the efforts of the police to disperse the crowds.

Germany Protests.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The Berliner Tageblatt protests against the United States admitting duty free, certain Canadian products prior to the ratification of the reciprocity treaty by Canada, as a direct infraction of the German-American trade agreement.

Glasgow Tramway Strike.

Glasgow, Aug. 15.—The tramway strike situation has improved perceptibly, and is likely to collapse altogether. A majority of the men have agreed to return to work and submit their dispute with the municipality to the arbitration of the Board of Trade.

Fired on Mob.

Liverpool, Aug. 15.—The troops were compelled to fire on a mob of strikers here early yesterday morning. Bayonet charges also were made upon the disorderly element.

Fatal Heat In Germany.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The hot wave has claimed many victims. Sunday was the hottest August 13 since the establishment of the weather bureau in 1848. The local observatory reported 89 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade but the shade temperature in the streets was about 97 degrees. At Frankforth-on-the-Main it was 95 degrees.

In this city 34 cases of sunstroke, four of them fatal, were reported. A cab-driver became insane because of the heat.

Several fires, due to spontaneous combustion, occurred. A number of forest-fires broke out in the vicinity. A great conflagration is raging on the moors at the Belgo-German frontier. Soldiers of both countries are fighting the fire. Despite the intense heat railway traffic is enormously heavy owing to the fact that the schools will open to-morrow. It is estimated that 80,000 persons returned from Baltic and North Sea resorts on Sunday.

Suspect Cholera Cases.

Ottawa, Aug. 15—The health branch of the Department of Agriculture has received advices from Grosse Isle to the effect that there are 37 cases of suspected Asiatic cholera on the incoming steamer, Lake Erie, and a large number of suspected smallpox cases on the German vessel Wittinkind. Both vessels are now at Grosse Isle and will be held there till the medical officers of the department have an opportunity to investigate and report. Should the reports prove to be well founded, all the steerage passengers of both ships will be held in quarantine at Grosse Isle for an indefinite period.

Politics Hot In Spain.

Paris, Aug. 15.—Vague rumors of political troubles in Spain are afloat here. They cannot be confirmed and appear to be based chiefly on the absence of definite news to the contrary from Madrid, where the censorship of press despatches has been particularly strict since the mutiny on board the Spanish battleship Numancia.

Morocco Again.

London, Aug 15.—Great Britain has ordered the Mediterranean fleet to Tetuan, Morocco. France has also ordered three first-class warships to Casa Blanca. The Moroccan question seems to be assuming an ugly phase.

Rowing Across North Sea

The foundation of Normany a thousand years ago by the hardy Norsemen from Scandinavia is soon to be celebrated in several ways, the most striking being the project of seven Norwegian students to row from Bergen to Rouen in a boat which will be an exact copy of that in which King Hugleik with his Vikings rowed up the Seine in A.D. 910.

Zionist Movement.

Basel, Switzerland, Aug. 15.—The Zionist Congress, believing that the retirement of David Dolffsohn as president of the organization offered an opportunity for changes in the rules and statutes of the organization decided yesterday that a college composed of seven members henceforth shall manage the Zionist movement.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—On Saturday night at 10 o'clock at Bathurst and Bloor streets there was some excitement when a Bathurst car caught fire with a crowd on board.

The passengers got off in a hurry, and it was found that the vestibule was badly damaged. The motorman and conductor stamped the flames out with their feet, and the car being disabled had to be pushed to the barns by another car.

PATRIOTIC SPEECHES AT MOUNTAIN GROVE

Reciprocity, Ne Temere and Other Topics of the Time were Ably Discussed

L.O.L. No. 982, with visiting brethren from Sharbot Lake and Arden, and the 'Prentice Boys of Olden, with some of the Arden 'Prentice Boys, had a fine celebration there on Saturday.

There was a big turnout, and after a good dinner a procession was formed, and to the strains of band music, a march was made through the village. A platform meeting was held near the Orange Hall. Henry Drew was elected chairman and called upon the various speakers to address the people.

Rev. Mr. Hall, the Methodist minister, did not know that he was expected to make a speech. He came there to show the good will to the 'Prentice Boys and Orangemen. He read a piece from some Protestant magazine about President Taft attending mass in Roman Catholic churches on great occasions like Thanksgiving Day. He hoped to have the pleasure of addressing them again.

Mr. Avery, ex-M.P., of Sharbot Lake, came over to show his good will also, and though not expecting to be called upon, spoke for some time on the subject of reciprocity. The people of the United States were to blame for the way they had always treated Canada. Sir John Macdonald, Sir John Thompson, Sir Wilfrid Laurier went to Washington to try and get reciprocity, and only got a slap in the face. Sir John Macdonald then built a tariff wall on this side of the line. He shipped five vessels at one time to the United States and had to pay $2,000 duty on the lumber. While they shipped their lumber in free. If the country had been consulted and we got them to come to fair terms, it would be all right. Mr. Fielding was wrong in going to Washington without taking the people into his confidence first. If we cannot get fair trade, we ought to put up our tariff wall higher. We want the Union Jack always to be over us.

Mr. Cronk, Reeve of Olden, referred to the great work of Sir John Macdonald in building up a united Canada. We can go through our own country now. Before the C. P. R. was built we had to go through United States territory. Now there are the three great railways to help us through our country and carry our grain to market.

Rev. Mr. Forster, the Anglican missionary in Parham, apologized for Dr. Edwards' absence. He had only received his invitation the day before. He was booked some weeks ago to speak at George Taylor's meeting at Delta. He congratulated them upon the success of their demonstration. Some people had no use for Orangemen or 'Prentice Boys. They were keeping up old fences that should be forgotten and not transplanted to a new country. All people, both Protestants and Roman Catholics, enjoyed the priceless liberties won by their forefathers on many a hard fought battlefield. The brave men of Derry showed a grand example of heroism. He read a piece of poetry called "The Cannon of the 'Prentice Boys," which was much appreciated. He advised them not to be scared over the meaning of the word catholic. It had no hidden superstitious meaning like some people imagined. The Jewish church was for one people. Christ's church was catholic or universal and was for all people and for all time. Father Vaughan, at the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal could insult the Protestants. He ought to have been asked about France, Spain, Portugal and Italy where Rome has had undisputed sway in the religious training of the people. Who ever thought that the day would come when the Pope would be cursed by a howling mob in Rome. He strongly advised people to marry in their own religion. It would save a lot of trouble. He had known cases where there was no trouble in mixed marriages. The Ne Temere decree ought never to be allowed to go in force in the British Dominions. King George should take the same stand as Emperor William of Germany, who would not permit the decree to be enforced in Germany. King George would be supported if he took the same stand as Emperor William. They should stand by their brethren in Ireland on the question of home rule for Ireland. The Irish Bishops, clergy and laity were opposed to it because in their opinion home rule meant separation from England and Rome rule as well. The burning question with many people to-day was reciprocity. The chairman had quoted President Taft about Canada being at the parting of the ways. He denied this. Canada did not have to look to Washington. As an important part of the great British Empire she would look to London and not to Washington. There was no sincerity in the boasted friendship of the United States for England. She only wished to weaken the ties which bound Canada to the mother country. He quoted from speeches of leading statesmen and prominent newspapers to show what they meant by reciprocity—annexation of Canada to the United States. He advised people, Grit and Tory alike, to put the interests of their country above party, and maintain Canada as a part of the great British Empire. With God's help and blessing the Union Jack would never be pulled down in Canada.

Mr. W. D. Black, Conservative nominee for Lennox and Addington, congratulated the 'Prentice Boys on the success of their demonstration, and the ladies for the fine dinner they had enjoyed. He moved a vote of thanks to the chairman.

The meeting was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

There was a baseball match at the close of the platform meeting between Parham and Mountain Grove teams. The game was a close one, and was won by Parham by a score of 17 to 14.

The dance in the Town Hall was such an attraction that speeches and baseball games were in the cold shade of opposition.

The proceeds of the celebration will go towards furnishing the Orange Hall at Mountain Grove.

THE TROUBLE OF COUNTESS CHIMAY

PARIS, France, Aug. 14.—The particulars of how the third husband of Clara Ward, the former Princess de Caraman-Chimay, and later the wife of Rigo the gypsy, has secured his separation are not without interest.

The third husband's name is Peppino Ricciardi, whom she first met at Naples, in 1906, and married in England the following year. Last spring he filed a suit in Paris for judicial separation, he, as an Italian subject, being unable to sue for a divorce. No such obstacle, however, stood in the way of the former Princess, who filed a counter petition for divorce. The third husband has now won his suit, and the counter-petition has been rejected, the judgment reading as follows:

Considering that in a large number of letters Mme. Riccardi made violent attacks on her husband, and that especially in a letter of February 19, 1911, she did not hesitate to utter against her husband the most outrageous epithets by writing to him as follows:

"Ungrateful wretch, a being that does not possess what even the lowest of animals have, gratitude; remember what I have done for you; for your brother, for your sister; remember how you were a beggar in Naples before you became my nominal husband. Remember all my attentions, ridiculous they were, I admit, for a being like you. * * Do you think, then, that everybody is like you and that their letters have to be dictated and corrected?"

Considering that in that same letter she accuses her husband of having invented a malady of his mother in order to obtain money, that she boasts of having wished for his death, adding that the oblivion of her husband would cause his name no longer to be even a remembrance, that she had so little confidence in him that she never left him alone with her jewels, and that she congratulates herself on her present happiness, due to the departure of her husband.

Considering that these words are a grave injury to M. Ricciardi and entitle him to demand a separation de corps from his wife.

It is now quite a number of years since the beautiful American became the wife of Prince Joseph de Caraman-Chimay, with whom she was perfectly happy, to all appearances, until she met Rigo, the wonderful gypsy musician. Then the world learned with astonishment of her sudden and romantic departure, the adventures of the couple in the Tyrol and elsewhere, and the talk there was of Clara Ward appearing on the music hall stage; and then her sudden trouble with her second husband, from whom she separated, however, on generous terms. Her third matrimonial venture was with Peppino Ricciardi, whom she had seen for the first time as an employee on the Vesuvian Railway. Four years sufficed to break the romance.

It's Going to Be Hot Again.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—Get ready for another hot wave. Yesterday marked the beginning of it. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the mercury was at 74. The maximum temperature on Sunday was 78. Thunderstorms occurred in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and the Northwest, but Ontario remained dry. "The outlook is for more summer," says the observatory officials with a grin.

West and southwest winds will probably prevail for the next few days and with the atmospheric conditions as they are at present there will be some warm days in August.

Forest Fires In Nova Scotia.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 15.—Tremendous forest fires are raging on the southwestern shore of Nova Scotia, from Port Clyde, Shelburne, to within eight miles of the Town of Liverpool. The fire has been burning for two or three days, but Sunday and Monday burst out with greater virulance. At Port Clyde twenty-five buildings were destroyed.

THE MOIRA RIVER BRIDGE IS FINISHED

The Construction Train is Now Working This Side of the Cemetery

Construction work on the line of the C.N.O.R. in the city and vicinity is progressing most satisfactorily.

The five piers across the river at the foot of Dundas street are completed and to-day workmen were engaged in removing the crib work which was built around them during construction. It is contemplated that at least a portion of the superstructure will be in position within the next two weeks.

From Trenton eastward, to a point near the Belleville cemetery the roadbed has not only been made, but the ties are being laid on the roadway which passes through Mr. Feeney's farm opposite the cemetery. This work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible in order that rails may be laid so that the heavy framework of the bridge may be conveyed to the city.

A gang of fence men are also engaged east and west of the city in constructing a fence along the side of the roadway.

Work has been commenced on the station here. Excavation for the foundation has been made, and part of the foundation has been laid.

And the workingman sadly asks: "Where do I come in?"

FREE TRADE FEELING IN THE WEST IS RAPIDLY DYING OUT

British Immigrants are Building Homes—The Possession of Property Converts Them to Protection for the Community as Well as for Themselves—The National Policy Therefore Wins their Approbation

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT TO THE TORONTO NEWS AND THE INTELLIGENCER.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Aug. 4.—This is one of the towns in the West that has not had its "boom." Its growth to a population of seven thousand has been steady and consistent and as a result has the appearance and tone of being well established and resourceful. The Portage plains have no superior as a crop district, and this year the crop will not be under twenty bushels to the acre. Merchants and real estate men look for the best year in the history of the town.

The future of Portage la Prairie however, does not depend altogether on the amount of wheat that can be produced from the surrounding district, exceptionally fertile as it is. Some day, before the next half decade has elapsed, a hydro-electric system will be inaugurated in Manitoba and electric power will operate a line of cars from Winnipeg to Portage. Already the municipalities within a convenient radius of Winnipeg are being consulted about the use of the power that is being developed on the Winnipeg River. The introduction of cheap power would mean much to this town in its endeavor to establish industries, and no one could mistake the aspirations of the people here towards industrial development. There are now large milling and foundry plants, as well as two flourishing brick yards in the town, employing in all about five hundred hands. In talking with the mayor of Potrage la Urairie, Mr. Garland, he pointed out the facilities for distribution that were afforded to all parts of the West from this point. Three Canadian transcontinental lines and a branch of the Great Northern from the south cross here, and property along the tracks is both cheap and accessible.

It was only natural in view of the plans laid and premeditated in this municipality to find a distinct feeling of opposition to the proposals for freer trade with the United States. The mayor, Mr. Garland, speaking for himself, was of the opinion that all the towns of the West like Portage la Prairie would oppose the reciprocity agreement, and "I don't think all the farmers are in favor of it, either," he added. It was the Mayor who also said that Mr. Borden's straightforward remarks had left a decided impression on the people of this district regarding the fallacy of reciprocal trade with the United States.

Mr. Arthur Meighen, M. P., was found in his office, and while anticipating a close fight for his seat, he has every confidence in the judgment of his constituents, the greater part of whom, he believes see that the towns and cities of Western Canada must suffer if the adjacent farms are to become mere grain producers for the United States; a condition that would surely be realized under reciprocity.

While nine-tenths of the harvest taken from the Portage plains this year will be wheat, there has been a larger proportion of mixed farming throughout the district. More flax has been grown than ever before largely owing to the insistent demand and big prices for it last season. Few realize that the increasing interest in the flax industry dates back to and is largely dependent upon the protective duty of ten cents per bushel imposed upon American flax in 1907. Before that year Canada was a large importer of United States flax; to-day conditions are just the reverse. Barley and oats, however, form a comparatively small part of the total crop, and the grade of barley particularly is low, being suitable only for feeding. Livestock was pretty well cleaned out of the district last year and there are not enough cattle sheep or swine to consume the comparatively small production of fodder crop. The anomaly of the whole situation is also striking when one sees the farmer purchasing his supply of butter and eggs from the town store.

"You simply can't get him to raise those other food products at this stage of the agricultural game," said one of the merchants. "There is money in it, just as much as in growing wheat and it would be better for the land but it is easier work for the time being to grow grain and impor tthe other stuff." There is marked division of interest between town and country at Portage la Prairie, both selfish, perhaps, but the sooner the two elements get together the better for all concerned. The point of the situation is that the town realizes what is wrong and it is the town voter who will do all he can to forestall reciprocity.

There is a farmer here and there too, who will express himself as opposed to free competition in agriculture with the United States. One of these kind was overheard from the writing room at the hotel making the challenge to a friend that he would bet ten dollars against Laurier's chances of being elected on this reciprocity deal. Strange to say, the farmers' name upon inquiry was found to be Macdonald and nothing was heard about the wager being accepted.

A QUESTION ANSWERED

Belleville, Aug. 15, 1911.

To the Sporting Editor of The Intelligencer.

Canadians as a people are rejoicing over the victory of Private Clifford in winning for Canada the greatest distinction in the art of shooting, namely the much coveted King's Prize. Speaking yesterday at the wonderful reception tendered him by the citiezns of Toronto in honor of this wonderful event, Private Clifford said in fact: "he was proud that the great honor had come to Canada and while he had brought it here, he gave much of the credit to the Ross rifle. We Canadians should all be proud of it," he said. "It is a Canadian gun and it has proved itself for three years."

Now, sir, I would like to ask if this is the same Ross rifle we used to hear so much about in The Intelligencer, and, if so, then why is it we hear no more about the failure of the Ross rifle on this, the eve of a general election.

Respectfully yours,
D. V. SINCLAIR.

Editor's Note.—No, it is not the same Ross rifle. It is an improved weapon of the same make, which is the result of exhaustive experiments. It was as a service rifle, not as a target rifle, that the Ross weapon was a failure, and if Mr. Sinclair will inform himself on the subject, he will learn that, for ordinary service in unskilled hands, it is yet far from being satisfactory.

'Tammie didna ken his wark,' observed the man coolly as he turned his team about. 'Ye see, when the drills is crookit the sun gets well in on a' sides, an' so ye can get early tatties."

MI-O-NA

AN EXCELLENT STOMACH REMEDY.

Mrs. J. R. Whyte, Killarney, Manitoba, say: "I have found great comfort and relief from Mi-o-na. I had been greatly troubled for months with heartburn and a heavy burning feeling in the pit of my stomach. A fair meal would disturb me so much that I would have to sit up at night—the food would sour on my stomach and form a gas which would cause belching and dizzy spells. These distressing troubles disappeared after using Mi-o-na, and I shall always speak highly of this excellent stomach remedy."

Mi-o-na is the best prescription for stomach trouble ever written. It gives quick relief and cures permanently. Mi-o-na is put up in tablet form and is small and easy to swallow. Sold by leading druggists everywhere, 50 cents, with a guarantee to cure or refund your money, or postpaid from the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie Ont. You will search the world over and not find a stomach remedy half so good as Mi-o-na. Sold and guaranteed by J. V. Doyle.

SELF-DEPRECIATION NOT ALWAYS GENUINE.

Partakes of the same Character as Self-Assumption.

Self-depreciation partakes of the same character as self-assumption. Both come from over-thought of self, and both vanish when self is merged in something else. Just as soon as we are earnestly anxious for some result we begin to work for it, without stopping to gauge our powers or to think anything at all about them. The mother who ardently loves her child and desires his best good does not spend her time in bewailing her unfitness to take care of him. She begins at once, and does her best, and her power grows with every effort. The business man with a family depending upon him does not delay providing for the members because he distrusts his ability to do so; he forgets to consider that, and simply pursues his work as well as he can. So in every instance, if the self-depreciative will cease thinking about themselves at all, and devote all their thought and energy to the duty in hand, they will find their strength and fitness for the work grow with exercise, and the fears which have stood in the way of success will melt away.

THE CANADIAN FLAG

How One Mother Teaches Patriotism To Her Boy.

Here is an excellent plan tried by one mother for teaching patriotism and a high regard for his country's flag, and an equally high regard for truth and square dealing, to her small son. In this boy's room a Canadian flag hangs on one wall, serving as the principal decoration of the room.

But sometimes the flag does not hang in its accustomed place — now and then the flag comes down from the wall and is furled and carried into mother's room, for, says this mother to her small boy, "The cross of St. George is not to shield and protect and wave over any but the brave and true," therefore when a boy strikes a smaller boy, or when he misrepresents things or shields himself at the unjust expense of one of his playmates, when boyish arguments and quarrels arise, the flag comes down.

Not very often is it away from its accustomed place on the wall of the boy's room, the occasions are growing more and more infrequent.

Why Irish Millionnaires Are Scarce

In a classification of millionnaires by nationalities it will be found that Irishmen are very far down on the list. Why this should be so may seem hard to understand at first. The Irishman, generally speaking, possess more than average intelligence.

He is an excellent workman and a capable business man. But the fact remains that he rarely becomes a millionaire.

The Rev. Francis X. McCabe, President of a great university, has offered an interesting solution. He says the fault, if it can be called a fault, is in the Irishman's heart, not in his brain or business acumen. The Irishman is so generous toward his fellow man that he has little chance to accumulate millions for himself.

'Irish generosity is a bar to the Irish millionnaire' is the way that President McCabe puts it. That is why there are not nearly so many millionnaire Irishmen as there are millionnaires of other individual nationalities.

"The Irish are always looking on the bright side of things to come, not only for themselves but for others as well. They have carried with them always a spirit of optimism. They are, moreover, a people of deep religious convictions and faith. They have done an important work in the building up of the civilization of the world."

And, after all has been said and done, this may be better than becoming more millionnaires.

Verdi Played Many Hours

It is related of Verdi that in early youth he went to the instrument at all hours, early and late, playing scales and discovering chords and harmonious combinations. Sometimes he would forget or lose one of his favourite chords, and then there was an outburst of genuine native passion which was quite contrary to his usually quiet demeanor. Once, when labouring under one of these fits of temper, he seized a hammer and began to hit the keyboard with it. His father, attracted by the noise, rushed in and by administering prompt chastisement, stopped furtherefforts of a similar sort in the direction of piano hammering.

WATER AN OLD ANAESTHETIC

Found to Be As Useful Today as Ever.

The use of lukewarm water as the sole anaesthetic in operations for appendicitis at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, reported in The Times, was declared by surgeons here to be quite possible and in line with the use of water anaesthetic, first tried in this city years ago.

One surgeon who has performed successfully more than 5,000 operations with no other anaesthetic than an injection of water into the skin, declared, however, that the use of this simplest of all anaesthetics would probably never come into general use, and that, while it was applicable in many major abdominal operations, it was not applicable in a majority of such cases, especially where inflammation or an abscess had formed.

As long ago as 1885 Dr. J. Leonard Corning of this city, pointed out in his book of "Local Anaesthesia," the value of heating the anaesthesia before injecting it. The use of water as an anaesthetic in a certain class of operations was explained by Dr. Samuel G. Gant in a paper before the Medical Association of the city in 1903. Dr. Gant mentioned Burney, Yeo, and Griffith, of England, as among the pioneers to suggest in 1888 the relief of pain by the subcutaneous injection of water.

The theory on which water so used is believed to act according to Dr. Gant, is that the water provides a pressure of the nerve ending, which blocks all sensation or pain so long as the water continues unabsorbed or unscattered. Dr. Gant said recently he had found that any other fluid that gave pressure and was not absorbed would have the same anaesthetic effect. The method was applicable, he said, in nearly all skin operation, and he had tried it successfully in some operations for laparotomy, colostomy and appendicostomy all of which necessitate the opening of the abdomen.

"Water anaesthesia, however, is no good at all for operations when an abscess has formed or inflammation sets in, as, for example, in cancer or in case of a ruptured appendix" said Dr. Gant. "To be successful, the water anaesthetea must be applied to the whole part where the operation is to be made, and in the majority of such abdominal operations as I have mentioned there is in the first place, uncertainty as to where to operate, and in the second place the tissues refuse to hold the water and allow it instead to scatter."

Dr. Gant, at the last meeting of the Maryland Medical Society, read a paper telling of some 2,000 skin and muscle operations he had performed with water anaesthesia in the last eight or ten years, and it is thought he may have suggested the most recent application of water anaesthesia now reported in operations for appendicitis at Johns Hopkins.

THE KING AND THE TAR

How The Seaman Became An Understudy.

The manager of a third-rate theatrical touring company was desperate. At the critical moment the baggage man, who undertook the walking-on parts, was missing, and there was none to take his place. The small town was searched for an understudy, and at last an ex-seaman, who was glad of any berth, was unearthed. The manager told him he would give him a handsome salary provided that in time he acquitted himself satisfactorily in the part in question. He had one line to say.

Thus encouraged, the hopeful tar rehearsed his one line until he was word perfect.

He had been at sea in terrible gales, but had never known fear till in armor clad he stood at the "wings" and waited for his cue. How his heart beat and how terribly nervous he was when he faced the footlights! His throat went dry and his voice seemed to fail him. But he made a supreme effort, and stammered out:

"Me lord — me king! me cap'n — I mean me liege! Methought I saw an army on yonder hill."

"Liar!" thundered the king, affecting a terrible passion and giving full vent to his acting powers.

This completely unnerved the tar.

"Shiver me timbers, cap'n!" he remonstrated, "that's wot the lubber told me to tell 'ee!"

Mapping Africa.

The British colony of the Gold Coast with Ashanti is about as large as Ontario. A map of more than forty sheets in four colors has now been finished. The Gold Coast is the first of the British tropical African colonies to have a complete and modern map on a scale large enough to show a great deal of detail. The surveys and map have cost $340,000 and nine years of work. The map was necessary as a basis for economic development. Gold is the chief product, and the mining companies are exporting more than $500,000 worth of it a month. Disputes over the boundaries of minging claims and other property were incessant, but even African colonies that have little or no gold find that it is worth all it costs to produce good maps of the new possessions. Nowhere in the world are surveys and map making being pushed more rapidly than in Africa. The German tensheet maps of Togo and large parts of German East and Southwest Africa and the Camerons are among the best maps of the kind ever made in new lands. The French, English and Belgarians are almost equally active, and the hundreds of map sheets now before the public give a far more accurate idea of the regions they represent than could have been derived from any way of Alaska published twenty-five years ago.

A Settler.

Landlord to tenant: "Good morning, sir; fine day, sir. Just called round to see if it would be convenient to settle your quarter's rent?" "Do you know, landlord, that none of the doors in this house will shut?" "New house, sir; new house, you know; takes time to settle." "Ah, then there is a pair of us! I'm a new-tenant; it takes time for me to settle, too. Good morning. Call again!"

"MY BACK IS KILLING ME"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" WILL CURE

Backache means Congestion of the Kidneys. Dull ache in the back—sharp, shooting pains—headache and nervousness—mean that the Kidneys are overworked. The Bowels are constipated and the skin is inactive, so that the Kidneys are compelled to do the work of both bowels and skin in throwing off the waste of the body. The Kidneys thus become irritated and inflamed and backache results. The only possible way to relieve the congestion and cure the pain is to force the bowels and skin to do their share of the work.

"Fruit-a-tives", the great fruit medicine, is the best and most scientific Kidney Remedy in the world.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Pain in the Back and Kidney Trouble. 50c. box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. Dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

A Famous Buddhist Priest.

The Ceylon papers give much space to the death of the Buddhist high priest, Sri Sumangala, at the age of eighty-four. He was the leading Oriental scholar in Ceylon, and was in constant communication with Orientalists in the United Kingdom and on the Continent. His death is described by the Ceylon 'Observer' as not noly a loss to the Buddhist community, but to the entire Oriental world. Among his friends and correspondents were Sir Monier Williams, Sir Edwin Arnold, Professors Max Muller, Rhys Davids, and Lanman, of Harvard University. He was in friendly touch with pastors and missionaries of the different Christian churches, and took a leading part in the agitation against the opium traffic in the island. His Sinhalese Grammar is used as a text-book at the London University. The remains of the aged priest were cremated in the presence of a great assembly. The Colonial Office was represented.

Insurance For Durbar.

London, Eng., Aug. 15.—During the past week or two a number of insurances have been effected in Lloyd's in connection with the Coronation Durbar at Delhi.

The uncertainty of the political situation at home and abroad has led to fears that the Durbar may have to be abandoned altogether. Against this risk underwriters in Lloyd's are issuing policies at 10gs. per cent., covering only the risk of abandonment. In a few instances policies have been issued at 30gs. per cent., covering against an alteration in the date, but very few insurers are willing to take this risk, as it is considered that by no means unlikely that local health conditions may make a temporary postponement of the Durbar advisable

Where the Scents Come From

Attar of roses reaches this country mainly from Smyrna and Constantinople, the oil of lemons from Sicily and Portugal, bergamot from Sicily, anise from Germany and the East Indies, and oil of cloves to a small extent from the Malay Islands, though it is believed that a large amount is distilled by the London wholesale [illegible].

Still Susceptible.

He was a nervous, fidgety young man, and he looked with considerable apprehension at the woman next him, who held a baby, its face covered with a thick veil. The baby gave now and then a sharp cry, which the woman evidently tried to suppress.

At last, after many anxious glances, the young man spoke.

'Has—has that baby any—anything contagious?" he asked.

The woman looked at him with a mixture of scorn and pity.

'Twouldn't be for most folks,' she said in a clear, carrying tone, 'but maybe 'twould for you. He's teething.'

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND NEAR LEWISTON

NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 15.—Coroner Emes of Lewiston believes he has a murder mystery to unravel in the finding of the body of a well-dressed young woman yesterday afternoon about 100 feet from where the Ridge Road crosses the Indian Hill road on the Tuscarora Indian reservation The woman had been shot in the temple. Near the body lay a revolver two chambers discharged, and containing one exploded shell. Dr. Emes is of the opinion that the woman was murdered and the weapon thrown there.

Chief Williams of the Tuscarora reservation says no Indian or white women are missing from the reservation. He says that lonely region is frequented by joy riders and he believes the girl was a victim of one of these parties. The girl had been dead about two months, and the body was in a bad condition, the features being unrecognizable.

The body is that of a young woman apparently between 20 and 30 years of age, five feet tall, and small of feature. She wore a jacket and skirt of white serge through which ran a black stripe. The discovery was made by an employee of the Niagara Navigation Company who was strolling about the country while his boat was tied up at Lewiston dock.

A Loss of Fifty Dollars on Every Horse in Ontario

The question of horses was discussed by a World reporter with Mr. C. A. Burns (Burns & Sheppard) of The Repository of the leading horse mart in Ontario. The conversation turned altogether on the effect of reciprocity, should it come into force, on the horse industry of the farmers of Ontario. Mr. Burns has always been a Liberal, and his father before him, the late Charles Burns, was one of the Liberal leaders in Toronto. Mr. Burns intends to vote against reciprocity in the coming elections, and, as a Liberal, to vote against his party, because reciprocity should it pass, will injure his business incidentally, and also because it would be a great blow to the farmers of the province. What Mr. Burns says can be verified by any horse dealer in Ontario, or with any of those shipping horses to Manitoba.

At the present time the Province of Ontario is shipping at least sixty thousand horses every year to our western provinces, and these are worth on the average $165.00 apiece to the Ontario farmer who raises them, or, in round figures over ten million dollars, which Ontario takes for her horses every year from the Canadian west. Mr. Burns' firm shipped about a million dollars' worth last year to the west; other dealers in Toronto shipped almost as many; and there were bought and shipped from other centres in the province at least eight million dollars' worth more, making, according to Mr. Burns, a shipment that aggregated at least ten million dollars, every dollar of which was distributed among the farmers of Ontario.

If the duty on horses is removed and American horses are allowed in Canada free, Mr. Burns gives it not only as his word but as his experience and as a fact, that these horses can be bought in the southwestern states at fifty dollars less than they can be bought for Ontario, with a shorter journey and lower freight rates to boot.

"Say it for me," said Mr. Burns, "that the Ontario farmer will lose fifty dollars at the very least on every horse he has to sell, if reciprocity comes into effect; and that means three million dollars to the Ontario farmers every year of loss. They can breed horses in Arkansas and the southwestern states for much less than in Canada; they can graze them for nine months of the year, where the most the Ontario farmer can graze his horses is five or six months in the year. Moreover, they can feed their horses corn which is cheaper than oats."

In every way, the American horse raiser can turn out his horses for a great deal less than the Canadian; and when Mr. Burns was in the southwest a short time ago visiting the big sale stables at Memphis, St. Louis and Chicago and the other southwestern cities, the one opinion that he heard from the dealers there was that they desired to get into the Canadian market with their animals!

At the present moment there are scores and scores of buyers who came from Manitoba to the Toronto and Ontario horse markets every year. They buy their horses here and they ship them over Canadian railways, and every one that comes here, when he comes, also buys one or two carloads of other goods from Ontario or Toronto merchants. They spend their money in Toronto for clothes, for other goods, at Toronto hotels, for supplies, for wagons and the like, and this money, which they leave for horses would hereafter go to the cities of Chicago, St. Louis, and the other horse centres of the United States.

"No one can imagine," said Mr. Burns, "how serious a foe reciprocity will be to Ontario, to the Ontario farmer, and to the City of Toronto, once our horses lose their values and we lose the present trade we now have. It is a black eye for the Ontario farmer, and it is a black eye for the City of Toronto; and it simply means the transfer of a profitable industry and its attendant benefits from Ontario to the United States."

It would be well for every farmer to weigh well these facts before casting his vote.

THE VOTES OF THE VETERANS

In All Parts of the Dominion Will be Cast to Suit their Own Purposes

OTTAWA Aug. 15.—While both political parties are firing the first volleys of the election campaign there is an active force at work in Canada arranging to control at least 150,000 votes all over the Dominion. This is composed of the organized Federal Veterans of 1866-70. Some of them at least, exist in every important place in the Dominion from Halifax to Vancouver. They are deeply interested in the present campaign, and like good soldiers, they are saving their powder until the fighting is at the hottest. Then look out for them.

Capt. Joseph H. Patterson, of Ottawa, president of the association is a busy man these days, as busy as any political leader in the land. He is sending out circulars and messages by every mail. Better than that, he is sending out scores of copies of Hansard reports showing how Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his solid majority by a decisive vote early last session turned down the request of the veterans of 1866-70 for that recognition to which they were entitled.

USED TO DISCIPLINE.

They are organizing for the fray wherever they dwell in the country these veterans. Men used to discipline of military life are banding together, as the practice of bygone years comes back to teach them how to stand solidly in line before they press onward to the front.

Captain Patterson has received many encouraging messages—he got one yesterday from Vancouver, telling of organization, and canvass and results.

It is no disadvantage that many of veterans are up in years, he says In fact, it is one of their greatest sources of influence. For what one of them has not sons, brothers, brothers-in-law, sons-in-law, close intimate friends of lang standing who will, and are rallying to the help of the old heroes whom they believe have been unjustly treated by an arrogant administration?

WOULD ADDRESS THEM.

"Had I the time and the opportunity to go," said Capt. Patterson today, "I could address a meeting in every province in Canada in the next few weeks. They would be big meetings, too, and enthusiastic. Behind the veterans of 1866-70 stand the imperial veterans, the South African veterans, and all who have known what it is to make sacrifices for their native land. Perhaps 150,00 is too low an estimate of the number of votes we will control by September 21st."

Capt. Patterson will address a large gathering of veterans in the Eastern townships on Aug. 17th. At the present time he is engaged principally in addressing envelopes and bundles of literature which is being eagerly snapped up and read by the veterans he is leading and their friends.

CURRENT COMMENT

LET BORDEN HAVE HIS TURN.

Laurier and larger trusts.

Laurier and a leap in the dark.

LAURIER AND LARGER COMPETITION.

A gentleman in Montreal who is in close touch with the political situation, stated to the Brockville Times that not a single Liberal will be elected in the Metropolis.

After being nominated by the Liberals of North Torontocmfwyp mfwyp erals of North Ontario, H. M. Mowat K. C., said the caption "reciprocity" was a misnomer. Right for once. Sir John A. Macdonald gave it its correct definition, "veiled treason."—Toronto Telegram.

Those Toronto Star "farmers" who were alleged to have begun preparing their lands for a crop of barley to be sold to the U. S. maltsters next year under "tariff relief" have not as yet materialized. The only fertility they will find will be in the minds of the Grit newspaper editors.

It is a condition, not a theory, with which the people of Canada have to deal. The theory is that the Canadian people would gain very largely by the tariff pact. The condition is that the apple would be eaten by Uncle Sam, while Johnny Canuck would get only a little bit of the core.

R. A. Peck, of Caledonia, N. Y. told the Ontario Gleaner of Cannington the truth about reciprocity "Competition," he said, "is very keen in the States, and there has to be some outlet for our production. Times are very dull with us, and from a Canadian standpoint, Canadians will stand to lose, while the Americans will gain should Canada adopt reciprocity."

Most of the time the Lauriar Cabinet Councils that have been held lately, judging from the announcements made has been devoted to making appointments to offices of various kinds. Evidently there are many friends of the Ministers who think that a bird in the hand now may be worth more than a flock in the woods after polling day, and have influence to get action taken in accordance with their belief, even if it does make it look as men on the inside of the party were somewhat scary.—Montreal Gazette.

The Toronto Star, a Laurierite journal, published in Toronto, says in black headlines, "Bourassa captured Liberal meeting with his bitter anti-naval appeal." No one will wonder at this. Did not Laurier and his cohorts acept the same cry in 1896 when he captured Quebec by appealing to the voters to condemn the Conservative party because it propesed to spend $300,000 in the purchase of firearms with which to arm Canadian Volunteers. If the chickens have come home to roost Laurierites should not complain.

A telegram from Halifax of the 14th inst. says: "Many Liberals in Halifax admit that Mr. Fielding stands a good chance of defeat. The Conservatives are hopeful of being able to beat him." Not a bit of it if money will elect him. If elected and his right to the seat is contested there will be a repetition of the farce played at the last attempt to unseat him. The money distributor will find it convenient to be out of town when wanted in the witness box, and a friendly judge will rule out evidence on the ground that the evidence referred to is out of date.

Mr. Gordon Wilson, who represents Wentworth in the Ontario Legislature, has resigned, and will contest the riding in opposition to the late member of the Commons, Mr. Sealey in opposition to reciprocity. True to Liberalism, an attempt was made to buy him off. Mr. Wilson stated at a public meeting that there was truth in the statement that G. C. Wilson would get a seat in the Provincial House at the next election, if he is willing to withdraw from the present campaign in Wentworth. That statement was made to him by Liberal emissaries, and they got his answer an emphatic "No." Bribery and corruption seems to permeate every action of the Liberal party.

Miss Skeeter's Death

When the summer sky is azure blue
When your heart is light and your love is true;
When you sole idea of a joyous lark
Is a slender waist in a spot quite dark;
When you have the place and the girl and that,
And you're sitting there for a quiet chat;
When you scratch and thrash, and slap and swear,
And you claw and slash, and he's not there.
If you want relief invest a quarter—
And SKEETER SKOOT will complete the slaughter.

FOR SKIN IRRITATION

WE GUARANTEE RELIEF. YOUR MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED.

We have an ointment possessing extraordinary power to permanently relieve all forms of eczema, skin eruptions, pimples, blotches, ringworm acne, tetter, scaly scalp, hives, all forms of itching and irritation caused by insect bites. Its power to soothe ulcers, sores and wounds is very pronounced.

We are so positive that Rexall Eczema Ointment is unexcelled for overcoming these ailments that we sell it with our personal promise that it will not cost the user anything unless it in every way gives satisfaction. We exact no promise and in no way obligate the purchaser. You must admit that we could not affor to make such a broad, liberal guarantee, except we are certain we could substantiate our claim.

Rexall Eczema Ointment is a grayish-white, pleasant smelling, antiseptic, cooling, healing salve that is strongly germicidal. It destroys the germs that pentrate the skin and cause eczema and other tormenting skin ailments. A remedy must do that to be effective, for in no other way can such diseases be overcome.

Rexall Ointment is ideal for the treatment of skin irritations peculiar to children, for barbers' itch, and for sore, itching feet.

It is positively the best remedy we know of, and we urge you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00

EVELYN THAW LIVES IN A NEW YORK FLAT

All the world knows of the killing of Stanford White on the Madison Square roof garden and the testimony of Evelyn Thaw upon the witness stand which enveloped her in perpetual shame. It was this story that sent Harry Thaw to an asylum for the criminal insane instead of to the electric cage.

After the second trial many stories were told and published as to the whereabouts of the girl, her mode of life and her ambitions. She was variously described as living luxuriously upon her income from the Thaw family and occupying a small studio, occupied in the study of sculpture. Gradually she has drifted out of the range of public notice.

As a matter of fact this girl, not yet passed the youth of her twenties the centre of a tragedy known throughout the world, living in a modest flat in New York, unnoticed and alone.

FEW ELECTION BETS "ABOUT THE STREET"

MONTREAL, Aug. 15.—So far election betting on the "Street" has been compartively quiet. When the campaign opened a few Reciprocity boomers bet 2 to 1 as a grand stand play but a broker who had several hundred dollars he wanted to put up at those odds has been unable to locate any more 2 to 1 coin.

The "prominient financier" who was quoted as wanting to bet 5 to 1 is not very prominent. His bluff was called and he failed to make good.

A few small even money bets have been made, but it is too far away from the election day to excite the betting element.

The other day a leading Liberal offered to bet $5,000 that the Conservatives would not gain a seat in Ontario.

When the money was raised and he was "seen" a few days later, he explained that "the wager was only good for the day on which it was made."

HOW MEN ENDURE

The Oat-Fed Man Can Outwork All the Rest

A concern which employs 2,000 woodcutters made scientific tests of food. The result has been to prove oatmeal the great endurance food. Those workers now all start the day on a diet of oats alone.

No other grain supplies the energy of oats. You know the affect on horses. It is just the same on man. Any man can increase his endurance, his vim and vitality by eating more oats.

That is why oatmeal is so immensely important. In this food above all foods one should insist on the utmost. It is not a wise thing to serve common oatmeal.

The rich, plump grains used in Quaker Oats are selected by 62 siftings. Only ten pounds can be obtained from a bushel. But those choice grains have richness and flavor, and the maximum value as food.

Quaker Oats is the cream of the oats made delicious. Yet, despite its quality, the cost to you is but one-half cent per dish.

Made in Canada. (170)

MORNING THEATRE FOR NEW YORKERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—New Yorkers who do not desire to go home till morning have a new way of amusing themselves. At midnight last night the curtain in a local theatre went up on a musical play which extended until 1.30 a. m.

Early morning performances at theatres are fairly common in Berlin and Vienna, but so far as known, they have never before been given in this country.

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

Mr. Whiting was a handsome gentleman of about fifty-five, and the son a tall, fine-looking, well-formed young man of about twenty-six, sat near him. In appearance father and son closely resembled each other, and in many ways their characteristics were identical.

Frederick Whiting was all, and more than his sister had expressed; he was the soul of honor, and a royal good fellow, too

A little cry of delight, and Marian appeared, only to folded an instant later in her father's arms as she kissed him repeatedly. Frederick then came in for his share of sisterly affection.

"But where is this wonderful hero of yours, my dear?" her father mischievously asked, when they had finally settled down. "The landlord has been entertaining us with an exhaustive account of his brilliancy in a variety of accomplishments, including an exhibition of pugilistic prowess, in behalf of my daughter. Is it possible that the fastidious Miss Whiting has found her ideal in the masculine pugilistic line?"

"He is far above that, Father," replied Marian, feelingly. "Alex is a man among men. It is very fortunate for your daughter that we met. He has been a valued friend from the moment of our meeting, which was most auspicious." Then, beginning with the Salt Lake City incident, she recounted his many acts of kindness and his deeds of valor.

"And you say he is a product of the Green Mountains? That portion of America noted for its Rheubenistic proclivities, its cow-hide boots, its home-spun clothing, not to mention log cabins surrounded by dense woods hills, vales and rocky fields. Truly the ambition of my beautiful daughter has experienced a fall."

"But, Father, Mr. Grant is a direct descendant of the famous Allens, Ethan Allen, you know. Besides, he does not wear coarse garments, nor cowhide boots," and Marian surveyed her parent with an air of injured dignity "He is a young gentleman whom you would be proud to acknowledge as an associate."

"Better have him come before us for inspection," suggested Frederick with feigned curiosity. "If he has been of service to my sister, then I desire to personally express my gratitude, even though he be clothed in the costume of his nativity. A man is a man, whether clothed in broadcloth or home-spun. Tell your friend that I wish to shake his hand," as Marian rose to obey her brother's wish.

She found Grant sitting in deep thought. He was not aware of her presence until a hand was placed lightly upon his shoulder.

"Father and Brother wish to meet you," she said in a low voice.

With a start he looked up into her face. "I was enjoying a mental visit to my home," he smiled, rising. "It is wonderful how we may commune with our friends, even though thousands of miles away. Do you believe in mental telepathy, Miss Whiting?"

"I really have never given it a thought," she laughed. "But while I am awaiting your coming South, I will investigate the science, and report upon your arrival. And were you really communicating with friends at home?" and she looked quizzically into his face.

"I was talking with my sister, Ethel."

"And did she answer you?"

"Yes. She had read the first Chronicle report of my fight with DeLaurie and said she believed you were true. She also praised me for standing by you."

Miss Whiting's eyes shone with delight. "O, Alex,—and she believed in me after reading that terrible story?"

"I had written to her a week previous, giving an account of our meeting, a description of yourself, and our cordial friendship. She told me over the invisible wire that my letter had arrived, and to tell you that she had sincere faith in you. I could hear her voice as clearly as I can yours."

"For a moment Miss Whiting was silent. Then, looking drolly into his face, she said. "The next time you communicate mentally with sister Ethel, kindly give her my love."

"And shall I keep any for myself?" he asked daringly.

"All you wish," was the prompt response.

Before he could answer they had reached the reception room, and Marian was introducing him to her father and brother.

If Mr. Whiting had any misgivings as to the wisdom of his daughter's intimacy with the young Easterner they passed quickly from his mind as the young couple slowly approached chatting familiarly. He at once divined the outcome of the acquaintance and was forced to admit the admirable qualifications of the young man as the two drew near. The exchange of greetings was cordial. "Mr Grant," said Mr. Whiting, shaking the young man's hand warmly, "I must thank you personally for your gentlemanly conduct and exceptionally fine care of my daughter. Your championship of her good name makes me your life-long debtor."

Voters Think Of It

The ordinary controlable expenditure of the Dominion under Conservative rule in 1896 was $21,500,000, and in 1911 under Liberal administration, was within a few dollars of $74,000,000, an increase in the cost of running the Government of $52,500,000 in 15 years. What do the taxpayers think of it? Is this the economy promised by the Liberal party when in opposition? One thing is certain, there has been no stint in their liberality to friends at the expense of the taxpayer.

A Grit Dodge

The Grit party, having "appropriated" the Conservative policy of moderate protection when they assumed the reins of power in 1896, instead of "free trade as they have it in England," which Laurier had proclaimed as his policy in 1893, are now vociferous in support of what they declare to be another portion of the Conservative policy of twenty years ago, namely reciprocity in natural products with the United States. The Conservative policy of protection has maintained them in power, but their present project would have the effect of emasculating that policy under which Canada has prospered amazingly of late years. They have blindly, without taking into account the fact that circumstances have so changed in favor of Canada that our neighbors are now suing for favors from Canada such as they had many times refused to the Dominion, entered into an arrangement which, as is elsewhere explained in this issue, is not the policy of Sir John A. Macdonald or his successors. They never followed Sir John when he was in life and their pretence that they are now in accord with his opinions of twenty years ago is with the sole object of gaining the votes of the dead statesman's old time admirers.

What Sir John A. Macdonald's course would be under present circumstances can best be judged by the attitude of the surviving members of his Ministry of 1891, namely, Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. John Haggart, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, Sir John Carling, Hon. E. Dewdney, all of whom are opposed—most of them actively—to the policy which the Government of to-day are now asking the people to adopt on the false assertion that it is identical with the Conservative project of 1891.

Gross Misrepresentation

The Grit party, from Sir Wilfrid Laurier party are trying hard to make a point out of the fact that twenty-one years ago, and under circumstances wholly different to those now existing, the Conservative Government made a standing offer to the United States of reciprocity.

In his "manifesto to the people of Canada," which Sir Wilfrid Laurier published immediately after the hurried dissolution of Parliament, the Premier expressed himself as follows:

"The present Conservative party in Parliament seems absolutely to reverse the lifelong policy (reciprocity) of its great leaders in the past, declaring that it will oppose to the bitter end the very principles enunciated by both Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson, in the last election addresses upon which each of these statesmen ever appealed to the Canadian people."

In the foregoing statement Sir Wilfrid is guilty of attempted deception and gross misrepresentation wholly unworthy of a gentleman who occupies the high position of First Minister of Canada.

In opposing tht Taft-Laurier agreement the Conservative party of the present day are not opposing either the principle or the policy of the late revered leaders of their party.

The reciprocity which was sought by Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir John Thompson was vastly different from that which is now proposed, and here is proof positive and complete of that statement:

The Conservative Offer.

When as Prime Minister, Sir John A. Macdonald, passed the N. P. in 1879, it contained the following proviso, which was kept standing for years:

"Any or all of the following articles, that is to say: animals of all kinds, green fruit, hay, straw, vegetables, including potatoes and other roots, plants, trees and shrubs, coal and coke, salt, hops, wheat, peas and beans, barley, rye, oats, Indian corn, buckwheat, and all other grains, flour of wheat, and flour of rye, Indian meal, and oats meal, and flour meal of any other grain, butter, tallow, meats, fresh, salt or smoked, and lumber, may be imported into Canada free of duty or at a less rate of duty than is provided by this act upon proclamation of the Governor-in-Council, which may be issued whenever it appears to his satisfaction that similar articles from Canada may be imported into the United States free of duty or at a rate of duty not exceeding that payable on the same under such proclamation when imported into Canada."

The Present Agreement.

In the agreement which the people of Canada are asked to endorse are embraced a long list of products of the forest, field and farm, and also the following reductions of duty on manufactured articles:

On waggons, from 25 per cent. to 22½ per cent.

On plows, from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent.

On tooth and disc harrows, from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent.

On binders, from 17½ per cent. to 15 per cent.

On drills and planters, from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent.

On mowers, from 17½ per cent. to 15 per cent.

On horse rakes, from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent.

On cultivators, from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent.

On threshing machines, from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent.

On windstackers, baggers, etc., from 20 to 15 per cent.

On hay loaders, 25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

On potato diggers, 25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Fodder or feed cutters, 25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Grain crushers ,25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Fanning mills, 25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Hay tedders, 25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Field rollers ,25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Bells and gongs, 30 per cent. to 27½ per cent.

Also one or two articles upon which the present Government has been paying a bounty to encourage their manufacture in Canada have been put upon the free list.

On comparison of the two projects it will be at once perceived that they differ entirely in principle.

In the Conservative policy not one manufactured article is embraced.

In the Laurier pact—we will not say Liberal, for many Liberals are opposed to it—there are no less than eighteen manufactured articles comprised.

And yet Sir Wilfrid Laurier, his orators and his supporters in the press have the audacity to declare that the Conservatives of to-day are opposing the policy to which they gave their support twenty years ago; whereas, the truth is that they then, as now, fought against reciprocity in manufactures.

Such a glaring attempt at misrepresentation will surely bring upon its authors the contempt of all fair-minded men, regardless of their party affiliations.

Moreover, it is but fair to state that, so greatly have circumstances changed in favor of Canada since 1891, that not only the Conservative party, but a very large number of Liberals who place country before party, are opposed to reciprocity because of the disadvantageous effect which it would have upon our trade and commerce.

THOUSANDS OF EMPTY HOUSES

Berlin Householders and Speculators Have Gone Too Far

In its desire to overshadow any other city in Europe in rapid development, the City of Berlin has greatly overreached itself, and houseowners and speculators who a year or two ago could not put up buildings fast enough, are now bitterly complaining because they have to pay taxes on their new built houses while they find it impossible to tenant them. There are at present more than 65,000 flats standing empty in Berlin and its suburbs, according to an official report just issued. Of these flats 28,987 are in Berlin itself and over 21,000 of them consist of two rooms and a kitchen intended for working families. The workingmen, however, are more and more adopting the system of building small houses for themselves outside the city limits, and are encouraged to this by building societies, railroads and trolley companies alike. If the movement continues to grow, in a few years all the "Hinterhauses," that is to say tenements in the rear of the palatial buildings that line the main streets of the city, and which are all visitors ever see, will be empty ,and the well-to-do people will have to pay enormous rents to make up for the loss on the empty houses in their backyards.

A NATION'S STRENGTH IS IN ITS SELF-RELIANCE.

MR. BORDEN ISSUES A SECOND MANIFESTO

Attacks Reciprocity as Tending to Disunite the Provinces; Shatter the Ideal of Empire; Reverse the Policy of Canadian Nationhood; Menace Canada's Water Communications; Destroy the Home Market; Deplete Our Natural Resources; and Open Canada to the American Trust Evil—An Admirable Constructive Policy Concisely Stated

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, to-night issued the following manifesto on the eve of opening his campaign in London, Ontario:—

"To the People of Canada:—

"When Parliament was suddenly dissolved on the 29th of July, I issued a short statement touching the circumstances under which that dissolution had taken place. It now becomes my duty to indicate the issues which present themselves for decision.

"In resisting the Government's proposal for reciprocal trade with the United States, we have been met with the cry that the majority must rule. Under our system of Government the minority in Parliament is in some sense the guardian of the people's rights. It is clear that the late Parliament never received any mandate to surrender to the United States the complete fiscal autonomy with which Great Britain endowed this Dominion, a consequence which follows from the reciprocity compact. With a firm heart we have taken the stand that the people and not a temporary Parliamentary majority shall give the answer which must determine the future destiny of the Dominion and of this empire. That position needs no apology and we offer none.

"Nearly 50 years ago, Canada began her work of nation building in the face of difficulties which seemed insurmountable, but which did not daunt her spirit. On the West she flung her boundaries to the far Pacific and on the north beyond the Arctic Circle. She undertook the wardenship and development of a territory greater in area than the continent of Europe. She did not shrink from holding the border for nearly 4,000 miles along the northern frontier of one of the most powerful and aggressive nations of the modern world. Her faith and her courage were unsurpassed, but not greater than the success that has attended her endeavors. In the midst of that success, the Government, without public consideration or discussion, have undertaken to commit the country to a treaty which completely alters he conditions and the policy under which our country has grown so rapidly and so surely to its present splendid stature.

The Pact Arranged.

The objections to that compact are profound and abiding. They may be thus summarized:—

"It tends to segregate and separate the provinces of Canada which Confederation aimed to unite, and it thus destroys the very meaning of our Confederation.

"It shatters the ideal and the hope of reciprocity within the Empire. The President of the United States has avowed that the main purpose with which he sought the treaty was to prevent consolidation of the British Empire.

"It brings Canada to the parting of the ways, turns her from the path of Canadian unity and British connection and leads her along the way to Washington.

"It reverses the policy of Canadian nationhood, which sought to bring together the provinces of Canada by intercourse and commerce over East and West lines of transportation; and it stultifies the unexampled sacrifices of half a century which the Canadian people have cheerfully made for that high purpose.

"It is a direct and serious menace to our internal lines of water communication and to our ocean shipping, as well as to our Canadian Atlantic ports, that have been constructed and equipped at such enormous cost to the country.

"It makes Canada a commercial appanage to the United States, and virtually surrenders the control of her destinies.

"It interlocks our finance system with that of the United States, and fetters the power of Parliament to alter our tariff according to the just requirements of our people.

"Its duration is nominally within the control of either country, but actually within that of the United States alone. The conditions of its abrogation would involve so many delicate and difficult international considerations that the stronger party would eventually dictate the terms.

"Its tendency and aim are complete commercial union between the two countries, to the exclusion of the rest of the Empire.

Opens Our Markets.

"It opens to the United States our home market, which consumes 80 per cent. of our animal and agricultural product. It also has the effect of opening that same market to the twelve foreign countries and to all the British possessions, for which we obtain no reciprocal or compensating advantage. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is sending to these foreign nations a polite invitation to forego and renounce this right to enter our markets. The suggestion that they are likely to be thus considerate and unselfish is so foolish that it requires no answer.

"It abandons the policy of improved trade relations with the British people, our best customers, and centres our hopes on the American people, our strongest competitors in the markets of the world.

"It makes an absurd pretence of bringing relief to the farmer by exposing him to the competition of the world in everything that he sells, and by continuing the existing burden of taxation on everything that he buys.

"It threatens the existence of our fishing bounties, and takes away our power to give such encouragement to any industry affected by the agreement.

"It will destroy the distinctive character and reputation of our staple products, which will henceforth be merged in those of the United States, and will be known as American rather than Canadian products.

"It exposes our natural resources to the depredations of the gigantic trusts, which have already secured control of those of the United States.

"It will assist those trusts to exercise an undue influence and pressure upon Provincial Governments for the purpose of forcing them to abandon the wise policy of conserving our natural resources and of converting them into finished commodities by the labor of our own people.

"It will give to American trusts a power, an influence, and a control in this country equal to that which has been exercised so remorselessly and unsparingly in the United States.

"It will for the most part reduce the prices which our producers will receive for their output, while the control of the trusts will prevent any reduction to the consumer.

"It will discourage the higher and more progressive methods of agriculture by which the product of the farm is turned out in finished form, and the fertility of the soil maintained and preserved.

"It will encourage the export of our raw materials and unfinished products for manufacture abroad instead of at home.

"It will establish conditions and relations, from which it will be extremely difficult and even impossible to retreat except with the consent of the United States, or under terms dictated by her.

"And, finally, it is at the best a rash and perilous experiment, inconsiderately and unwarrantably undertaken, in a period of unequalled development and prosperity after Canada had long since outgrown the conditions under which such a policy was once thought desirable.

The Prime Minister's Manifesto.

"The address of the Prime Minister may fairly be taken as indicating the position of the Government party in this contest. Let me examine it briefly.

"He attempts to represent the opponents of the treaty as casting doubt upon the loyalty of the Canadian people. There is no foundation for such an insinuation. The loyalty of the Canadian people is undoubted. But no people can escape the consequences of their own acts ,and if Canada places itself under the commercial control of the United States its political importance if retained will be a shadow and not a substantial reality.

"Three chief contentions are put forward by the Prime Minister. He says: 'At all times during the last forty years it has been the constant effort of all political parties in Canada to make with the United States an arrangement for the free exchange of natural products between the two countries.'

"I. absolutely deny this proposition. It has been repeatedly shown, both in Parliament and on the platform, that the Prime Minister by his own utterances during the last ten years has repudiated and denied such a policy. The repetition of this statement in his election manifesto is made with cynical disregard for the known facts.

"One quotation from his utterances will suffice:—

" 'There was a time when we wanted reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts and our offers were put aside. We have said goodbye to that trade, and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade.' (Imperial Conference, May, 1907.)

"The Prime Minister next refers to the supposed advantages of the 'free American market.' In Parliament we repeatedly demanded from the advocates of the treaty a detailed and systematic statement of these advantages covering the whole agricultural, industrial and commercial situation in Canada; but our demand was not complied with. The main facts have, however, been made clear in other ways. Looking at the result of the whole discussion, I assert that the Government and its friends have totally failed to make out a case. The disadvantages of opening up our farmers' markets to the United States, to the whole British Empire, and to twelve other countries, far outweighs any possible advantages to accrue from allowing free entry of our farm products to the United States.

First Step Toward Annexation.

"Lastly, the Prime Minister's endeavors to rebut the argument that the reciprocity treaty will lead to annexation. Whether it will do so or not no man can tell. But it is beyond the possibility of doubt that the leading public men of the United States, its press and the bulk of its people believe that it will so result, and support it mainly for that reason. I could fill pages with quotations in proof of this assertion if it were necessary. The plain fact is that in entering upon this treaty the people of the United States believe that they are accomplishing the first step toward annexation. My position is that we cannot safely ignore the pronounced views of the other party to the compact, and that sooner or later we shall have to reckon with them. Surely this is a view which will commend itself to all reasonable and thoughtful citizens.

"But there are issues which also merit attention. The Government has twice refused any investigation of the expenditure on the National Transcontinental Railway, which is assuming startling proportions. This refusal has been persisted in, although outrageous misappropriation of public money has been charged by engineers of high position on the works.

"Shortly after the election of 1908 the Prime Minister was invited by the leading Liberal journals throughout the country to clean the Augean stables of certain great spending departments. The cleansing process has not commenced. Scandal after scandal was unearthed in the last two weeks of the recent session, and not a tenth has yet been told.

"Since the last general election the Government has entered upon a new line of policy in regard to naval affairs, which is of far-reaching importance. The policy adopted was not debated before the people during that election, and it bears all the earmarks of a hasty and ill-considered scheme. In my judgment, our duty to the Empire cannot be properly or effectively fulfilled by such a measure. I hold that the plan of the Government contemplates the creation of a naval force that will be absolutely useless in time of war, and therefore of no practical benefit to Canada or to the Empire. It will cost immense sums of money to build, equip and maintain. It will probably result in time of war in the useless sacrifice of many valuable lives, and it will not add an iota to the fighting strength of the Empire. The more it is considered, the more does it become evident that the whole naval plan of the Government is an unfortunate blunder.

"The remarkable inefficiency and lack of business capacity manifested by the Government in connection with the Quebec bridge and other great public undertakings should also receive the grave consideration of the electorate.

" (1) A thorough reorganization of the method by which public expenditure is supervised. The increase in what is known as ordinary controlable expenditure from $21,500,000 in 1896, to nearly $74,000,000 in 1911, is proof of extravagance beyond any possible denial.

" (2) The granting of their natural resources to the Prairie Provinces.

" (3) The construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, and its operation by independent commission.

" (4) The control and operation by the State of the terminal elevators.

" (5) The necessary encouragement for establishing and carrying on the chilled meat industry.

" (6) The establishment of a permanent tariff commission.

" (7) The granting of substantial assistance towards the improvement of our public highways.

" (8) The extension of free rural mail delivery.

" (9) The extension of civil service reform.

" (10) The granting of liberal assistance to the provinces for the purpose of supplementing and extending the work of agricultural education and the improvement of agriculture.

" And, lastly, it pledges itself to a course of policy and administration which will maintain independent and unimpaired the control of our own affairs by the Parliament of Canada; a policy which, while affording no just cause of complaint to any foreign nation, will find its highest ideal in the autonomous development of Canada as a nation within the British Empire."

The Issue.

"In the past we have made great sacrifices to further our national ideals. We are now face to face with a misguided attempt to throw away the result of these sacrifices.

"The true issue is this. Shall we continue in the course which has led us to our present enviable position of prosperity and national development, or shall we at the moment of greatest success and achievement, lose heart and abandon the fight for national existence?

"Upon this momentous issue, I appeal to the people with the utmost confidence and in the strong belief that their verdict will be for the unity and not for the disintegration of Canada; for the strengthening and not the loosening of the ties which bind this Dominion to the British Empire.

Two Tragedies.

Grimsby. Aug. 15.—Two tragedies occurred in this district yesterday. The first was the burning of the fine barns of Homer Carpenter of Fruitland. A spark from a threshing engine set fire to the straw. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $5,000; partially covered with insurance.

The second accident of the day was when the little three-year-old daughter of Harry and Mrs. Taylor, living one mile south of Beamsville, fell into a cistern at noon yesterday and was drowned. The child stepped on to a rotted board covering the cistern.

NO HATPINS NEEDED.

Hatpins are not required for several of the new types of toques. Instead, the drapery trimming of the toques is wound rather tightly around the head and lower part of the toque body in a manner which reminds one of the cloths women wind round their heads as a dust protector when cleaning house. The free end of the drapery is fastened by means of hooks and eyes after being wound.

WOMEN'S WORLD

COMPLEXION HINTS.

The "water cure" is said to be an excellent aid to a clear complexion as well as to rid the system from the excess of uric acid which causes rheumatic troubles. Drink at least eight glasses of water a day between meals

The girl with a thin scrawny neck or a coarse, red neck, should never wear a low-neck or a Dutch collar. Instead she should wear a high lace or embroidery collar, well boned to keep it in place.

Rub the face and hands frequently with lemon juice, and put a few drops of tincture of benzoin in the wash water. This will help to keep the skin white.

Wear shoes that fit, even though you should have to try on a dozen pairs to find the right ones. Nothing ruins one's walk and facial expression more than corns.

TO STUDY AMERICAN WOMEN

M. Francois de l'Espigarie de Tessan whose cousins are the marquis, count and viscount of the French family of Chambrun and who is a contributor to French magazines and newspapers is on a holiday trip around the world.

And what could be more natural than that he should spend a year of his long furlough in the country he has long admired,—the country of Washington, the stepcountry of Lafayette.

So M. de Tessan and the charming woman who is Mme. de Tessan arrived in New York this week on the first lap of their long journey.

M. de Tessan, of course, was asked what he thought about American women, and as he had been here before the question was not so unfair as it is sometimes. In reply he said:

"I find the American woman beautiful and charming, and she has a delightful conquering air that distinguishes her from the women of other nations. But in everything about the American women I shall not make the mistake of taking a few ladies of the great world as typical. I shall study the girls in the shops and factories and the wives and daughters of workingmen, for they are the real American women.

"I believe in extending the influence and power of women everywhere for I think it will be conservative of good. Women are powerful in France. They have always been powerful.

"And femininism is strong in France and growing stronger. You don't hear much about, for our women are not sensational, not aggressive. The idea of the family is strong with us. We have just as many fine matches as you, but with us marriage means not only the union of two loving hearts, but of two families.

"The French marriage unites the ideal and the practical, while here you have only the ideal. After 10 or 12 years, when the ideals of youth are gone there remain with us practical ties of interest and of family solidity

"The French woman still clings to the Christian idea of forgiveness. We are in some respects much more conservative than you. Our ideas go far too, in my opinion, but our ideals don't go so far as yours. For instance, the two young women under indictment for shooting a man who are exhibiting themselves in a theatre here. Such a spectacle would not be possible in Paris. It would not be permitted. We exhibit any picture of any crime, but we do not show criminals."—New York Tribune.

SHOT MOTHER'S MURDERER DEAD

PENASCOLA, Fla., Aug. 15—News has reached here of a tragedy in Lee County, Saturday night, resulting in the death of Mrs. Weeks, wife of the postmaster of a small Lee county town Andrew Williams, an escaped convict and serious injury to a son of Mrs Weeks.

Williams, who was serving a life sentence on a convict farm near the Weeks' home, for the killing of two white men six years ago, escaped from the convict farm, together with three other life-term prisoners. Stealing four horses they rode to the Weeks' home, supposedly for the purpose of robbery. Thinking that it was her husband returning Mrs. Weeks went to the door. There she was confronted by Williams who immediately opened fire; the woman was instantly killed.

Awakened by the shots Mrs. Weeks' 16-year-old son ran to the door and was shot also. He managed to crawl back to his room and securing a revolver shot Williams as he was about to enter the door. The other men escaped, leaving Williams lying on the ground. He remained until noon Sunday when Williams returned home to find his wife dead and his son unconscious from loss of blood. Later Williams died in the yard.

In contemplating what we do for others we are apt to lose sight of what others do for us.

Some women are miserable because people talk about them, and others are miserable because they don't.

LAURIER OPENS FIGHT

The Premier Addresses a Gathering at Simcoe.

With All the Old Grace, But Little of the Conviction Sir Wilfrid Attempts to Belittle the Suggestion That Closer Trade Means Disruption to the Empire—Says Pact Can Be Terminated.

Simcoe, Aug. 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier fired the first shot in the general election campaign here yesterday. He made it plain that reciprocity with the United States in natural products was the issue.

He repudiated the suggestion that closer trade relations with the United States might lead to annexation, and with some bitterness said: "Let Mr. Borden answer for the Tories; I will answer for the Grits." Further on he said: "The talk of annexation is beneath the contempt of serious people."

He claimed that the leaders of public thought in Canada for the past forty years had favored reciprocity with the United States, hence it was natural that this policy should be adopted by him. The present Conservative leaders he called renegades.

He held that the agreement with the United States could be terminated on a day's notice, and that it would not interfere with the action of Canada should Great Britain make advances to us in the matter of mutual preferential trade. If it did, then so much the worse for the agreement with the United States. If the attitude of Great Britain regarding preference changed at any time, Canada would be ready to meet the change.

The effect of the favored-nations' treaties was very slight, he said, claiming that the countries that would be brought into competition with Canada were of little importance, and the goods they sold Canadians did not interfere with Canadian products.

The fact that John Carlton, who for 25 years represented Norfolk in the House of Commons, was the champion all his life of freer trade relations with the United States, and had his home in this town made Simcoe a fit place for Sir Wilfrid Laurier to utter his battle-cry in favor of reciprocity.

The issue of the campaign was reciprocity between Canada and the United States. He believed the agreement was a measure mutually beneficial to both countries, but he did not hesitate to say that it was more beneficial to Canada than to the United States.

If any man in public life in Canada had given his mind to this question of reciprocity with the United Sattes, that man was Sir John A. Macdonald. He was the Moses of the policy of reciprocity, but like Moses he was not destined to see the promised land. It might not be that he. Sir Wilfrid, would be the Joshua that would carry the people of Canada to that goal.

A voice: "Yes, you will."

He said that the United States was prepared to go further than Canada in the matter of letting down the bars. They were prepared to go all along the line. "We could not go that far. We stand for stability of tariff and no revision until after study. We were prepared at all times to have reciprocity in natural products."

It was said if this agreement was adopted it would lead to annexation. How would it? He would like to discuss this question frankly and with common sense. How would it come about that the United States would annex us? There could be only two ways, either by violence or by persuasion. No one had ever heard that it was the intention of the U. S. to annex Canada, war had not been declared. Would the reciprocity agreement render so much benefit to Canada that we would be seduced from our allegiance?

"I will tell Mr. Borden this, if he will answer for the Tories, I will answer for the Grits."

Sir Wilfrid spoke in the open air to a gathering of 3,500 people, composed of towns folk and yeomen from the surrounding neighborhood. It was a well-ordered, attentive and appreciative audience; at no time was the applause prolonged or uproarious, but the patriotic and personal parts of Sir Wilfrid's address were thoroughly applauded and frequently cheered.

The meeting was called to order at two o'clock by Mr. H. M. Mowat, president of the Ontario Reform Association, Toronto. He spoke briefly, congratulating Simcoe and Norfolk on being chosen for the opening meeting in the campaign, and extending thanks for the honor done him, as president of the reform association by being chosen chairman.

The first speaker was Hon. W. A. Charlton, brother of the late John Charlton, and present Liberal candidate in Norfolk. He told of the reluctance with which he had accepted the nomination. His friends had reminded him that it was his duty to go into battle. He had met Hon. S. H. Blake on the train, and he had told him that it was his absolute duty to go into the campaign now and support Sir Wilfrid, and Mr. Fielding and prevent a change of Government that might be made in favor of Mr. Borden.

Little Progress Made.

Paris, Aug. 16.—In semi-official circles it is declared that Mr. Cambon, French ambassador to Germany, and the German Foreign Secretary, Alfred Von Kiderlen Waechter, have not made serious progress toward reaching an accord on the dispute between France and Germany over Morocco. While the bases of the discussion have not yet been defined, it is said that the slow progress toward an agreement is due to Germany's unwillingness to grant France sufficient compensation in return for part of the Congo, which she expects France to cede to her.

POPE REPORTED NO WORSE.

How Newspaper Man Got Interview With His Sisters.

Rome, Aug. 16.—The cool air of the early morning helped to freshen the Pope, who when he was visited by his physicians appeared to be no worse than yesterday. Prof. Marchiafava, the consulting doctor at the Vatican, explained that the pontiff's restlessness during the night was due perhaps to the fact that he had slept longer than usual the afternoon before. Moreover the restlessness might be described as impatience at an invalid life, which is really a symptom of convalescence.

An incident amusing to some but annoying to the sisters of the Pope is related. The sisters, who have been besieged by newspaper men and photographers, have become unapproachable to those wishing information regarding the pontiff's condition for public uses. Late Tuesday a reporter disguised as an inspector for the Gas company, entered their home, and after examining the metre and the pipes, humbly inquired about the Holy Father. The sisters, mistaking the man for a devout individual anxious for the pontiff's health, answered candidly. A few hours later they were chagrined to see every word they had spoken published in the Giornale di Italia.

The next morning a genuine clerk from the Gas company's office, who had not read the Giornale di Italia, visited the home of the sisters, and was overwhelmed by a torrent of Venetian remonstrances. The unhappy clerk retired hastily, discomfited and at a loss to know how he had given offence.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Very severe storms were reported at London, Ont.

Hon. Charles Murphy was nominated in Russell by a unanimous convention.

The troops fired on the mob in Liverpool, killing two and wounding many.

James Cooke, otherwise "King Cook," of McGill University, is dead, aged 85 years.

P. C. Larkin may be appointed a member of the royal commission to investigate trade.

Hon. Wm. Paterson was nominated by the Brant Liberals at a convention held at Paris, Ont.

Owing to drought and impending famine in India the Delhi durbar may not take place in December.

The Duke of Connaught will preside at a dinner given to the Canadian artillery in London on September 5.

Edward Wilkie and Frank Perry were charged with murder as a result of Mrs. Wilkie's death in Toronto.

Mrs. William Downing of Lucan, Ont., was so severely burned by the explosion of a gasoline stove yesterday that recovery is impossible.

One hundred and fifty delegates, representing nearly every part of Canada and the United States, attended the opening session of the biennial convention of the Order of Scottish Clans at Boston yesterday.

Western Harvesting.

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—If the authenticity of the Canadian northern crop can be accepted, harvesting will be general throughout Western Canada within one week. The weekly crop report issued yesterday was most optimistic, predicting in some areas a yield in wheat of from thirty to forty bushels per acre. Generally speaking, the report forecasts general cutting earlier than other reliable sources. It claims that the yield, while not uniformly abnormal, is better than last year in all districts. Special press representatives in the western fields claim that it will be between two and three weeks before cutting is general in Saskatchewan and Alberta. It is estimated to-day that 15,000 harvesters have arrived and been placed since the first of the month.

Col. Astor's Bride-To-Be.

New York, Aug. 16.—It became the opinion of some Fifth avenue modistes to-day that Miss Madeleine Force, the young fiancee of Col. John Jacob Astor, is to be very economical in the arrangements for her wedding trousseau. It was learned on the avenue that she and Col. Astor drove in a taxicab to five shops Monday afternoon, where the young woman made it plain that $1,000 would be the limit of expenditure for her wedding finery.

In contrast to the $20,000 which a recent society girl is said to have spent on her trousseau, including $2,500 for a single gown, it was said that Miss Force objected to a $250 creation which one modiste showed her, and found one at a shop further on which pleased her just as well for $100.

Lincoln's Aide Dead.

New York, Aug. 16.—News has just reached this side of the death in Germany of Major Henry Reid Rathbone, who was a military aide to President Lincoln, and who in attempting to defend the President on the night he was assassinated, received a stab wound from Booth.

Rathbone died in an asylum for the criminal insane, where he was incarcerated for murdering his wife. He was appointed consul-general at Hanover, Germany, in 1887, and lost his reason while on that post.

Fatal Wreck Near Berthier.

Berthier, Que., Aug. 16.—Two were killed and one seriously injured when two Canadian Pacific freight trains crashed together at St. Cuthbert's, sixty miles from Montreal, yesterday morning. The collision, which was head-on, occurred as two heavy freight trains were passing through Cuthbert Station. What the cause of the collision was is still unknown. The dead are: Fireman Lesueur, Brakeman Lefebvre of Three Rivers. Engineer Caisse of Bethier was injured.

Jap Volcano Active.

Tokio, Aug. 16.—Asama-Yama, the volcano in the Island of Hondo, was in eruption yesterday, and it is feared that about thirty mountain climbers, including several foreigners, have been killed.

FIRED ON MOB.

Troops In Liverpool Kill Two Rioters and Wound Many.

Liverpool, Aug. 16.—A reign of terror exists here, and troops are pouring into the city with the object of putting down disorder. A special guard has been detailed to protect the landing-stage of the transatlantic steamers, which, it is asserted, the rioters have planned to destroy by fire.

Five prison vans, escored by fifty Hussars, which were carrying riot prisoners from the Police Court to Waltham Jail, were attacked yesterday afternoon by 3,000 members of the roughest class in Vauxhall street, who tried to rescue the prisoners. The mob attacked the soldiers with missiles of every description, and in defending themselves the Hussars fired. At first blank cartridges were used and then ball cartridges. In this affray two were killed and many persons severely wounded.

The troops then charged the mob with drawn sabres and cleared the street. So daring were the rioters that one of them tried to unhorse an officer, who was obliged to use his revolver, wounding a man severely in the head.

Another but less serious affray, in which the troops again were compelled to fire, took place in Bond street. Only a few persons were wounded here.

In each case, before the troops were ordered to fire, many of their number had their faces streaming with blood from injuries caused by stones and broken bottles thrown by the rioters.

Before enforcing the general strike order the strike leaders have decided to allow the railroad companies twenty-four hours in which to agree to meet the representatives of the employes and discuss their grievances.

OUTBREAK IN PORTUGAL.

Republican Government Is on Shaky Foundation.

Lisbon, Aug. 16.—These are anxious weeks in Portugal. The men forming the Provisional Government are doing their constructive work upon the Republic in a singular confusion of distrust, extreme idealism, the hostility of old interests, the disappointed hopes of new elements, and the sober, determined disinterestedness of the few. The monarchists have a secret organization within the country, and are openly conspiring without. The nobility and many of the wealthy men of Portugal support the monarchical principle.

Something like $100,000,000 has been withdrawn from the country in capital or through the sale of properties since October of last year.

The monarchists have a military organization in Spain, with abundant funds, stores of arms, ammunition, artillery, and various equipment. It seems as though an attempted invasion and rising could not be indefinitely delayed. The monarchists have invested so largely and have raised such hopes that they must make an attempt even under great risks. They contend that they have the support of the Jesuits.

As Greenwood Sees It.

London, Aug. 16.—Hamar Greenwood, M.P., writes to The Westminster Gazette giving, as he says, the broad facts of the situation in the Canadian election. As usual, he says, Quebec is the key of the situation. The only hope of the Conservatives to defeat Laurier here is to join the Nationalists who are advocating Canadian independence and no party. "Surely," exclaims Greenwood, "this situation ought to make the wildest imperialism in England pause before accusing Laurier of lukewarmness in imperial matters."

Greenwood concludes that the motto of Canadian Liberals is Laurier and larger markets, and the Opposition of the English-speaking Canadian Conservative party to the reciprocity bill is based on the presumption that reciprocity makes for annexation to the United States.

That Fisher Interview.

London, Aug. 16.—The Pall Mall Gazette says it is pretty obvious that unless the opinions attributed to Premier Fisher in a certain interview had been utterly repudiated by him his relations with the Australian democracy to-day would be of a character which it would be fantastically considerate to describe as strained. Consequently every opportunity of publicly tearing the interview into little bits has been seized by Fisher, much to the satisfaction of his audiences. His forecast of the decision of the commonwealth Parliament in the event of war is as confident as any man who knows the Australian mind could find.

Tenders For Tubes.

Toronto, Aug. 16—The Board of Control authorized the city engineer yesterday to advertise at once that tenders would be called for on Sept. 21 for the tube system. Controller Hocken moved it, and after some discussion it was passed.

The controllers wanted the matter published far and wide so that all possible contractors would know about it. He wanted all the European and United States contractors to have time to prepare their tenders so they would be in by October 15.

Stewards Acquitted.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—The case against 57 stewards of the Allan liner Victorian charged with "disobedience to lawful commands" was yesterday dismissed by Judge Leet, who held that the men had been illegally arrested, as the police had no warrants. The men thereupon filed past the captain, saluting him, and reported for duty.

Restigouche and Kent.

St. John, N.B., Aug. 16.—Restigouche Conservatives yesterday nominated W. S. Montgomery, mayor of Dalhousie, as candidate in the coming elections and Kent County Conservatives selected F. J. Robidoux as their standard-bearer.

TWO AVIATORS KILLED

Young Men Lose Their Lives in Meet at Chicago.

William R. Badger, a Wealthy Young Amateur of Pittsburg, Dashes to His Death in a Pit in the Aviation Field Because of a Flaw in His Propeller—St. Croix Johnstone of Chicago Is Drowned in the Lake.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Two aviators, William R. Badger of Pittsburg and St. Croix Johnstone of Chicago, both young men, lost their lives at the international aviation meet here yesterday. In dying, both revealed the frailty of the craft in which two-score more aviators were curving and gliding about the air, with scarcely a pause for the deaths of their contemporaries.

Death in both cases was due to unexplained accidents, probably the result of unsuspected defects in the mechanism of the machines, and was in no way caused by carelessness nor lack of responsibility of the drivers.

Badger, a wealthy youth, careened to his death in a pit in the aviation field. There had been a flaw in one of the wings of the propellor of the Baldwin machine, which he drove. Centrifugal force broke the propeller, upset the delicate equilibrium of the machine, and Badger dashed 100 feet to the bottom of the pit, his neck being broken.

Johnstone fell 500 feet under his engine and was drowned as the result of an equally unsuspected defect. Caught under the heavy engine in the Moisant monoplane, he was carried deep into Lake Michigan, and his body was not brought to the surface until an hour later.

Badger lived for 45 minutes after he had been extricated from the remains of his engine. He did not recover consciousness and died almost at once after he had reached a hospital. His death was the first serious accident of the meet, although 35 flyers have dipped and glided here for three days.

St. Croix Johnstone's wife saw her husband fall, but she was told that he had been rescued and rushed to the hotel to meet him. His father, Dr. Stuart Johnstone, had left the grounds twenty minutes earlier.

Sheridan Goes to Trial.

Orillia, Aug. 16.—Arthur Sheridan was committed for trial yesterday by Magistrate Clark at Barrie Fall Assizes for the murder of Ross Ford at the Duff farm last week. The preliminary trial occupied little time. The prisoner was defended by J. T. Mulcahy, who pleaded "not guilty" on the prisoner's behalf to the charge of murder following the finding of the coroner's jury on Tuesday night.

Sheridan's written and signed statement made to the police, in which he admitted stabbing Ford was introduced. The line the defence is to follow is that of self-defence, Sheridan claiming that Ford attacked him first on the night of the killing.

Shot By His Brother.

London, Aug. 16.—Accidently shot by his elder brother with a 22-calibre rifle on July 22nd, Victor Lee, the young son of Charles H. Lee, the general manager of the Canada Spice and Grocery Co., died in Victoria Hospital at five o'clock Tuesday. The accident occurred at Thorndale, while the two young boys were out shooting rabits, when the younger brother rushed in front of the gun to pull away his dog. As he did so the rifle was accidentically discharged, the charge entering the boy's right side.

ENCOURAGE CHILDREN TO LAUGH

Fill the Home with Merry Laughter of Your Children.

Encourage your children to laugh. This may be hard sometimes for children do giggle and simper and shriek with laughter when many grownups can't find a single thing to laugh about, and many and many a time, the laughter of children is shrill [illegible] on one's nerves, if one allows oneself to have nerves; but encourage the little ones to laugh any way.

Doctors say that good hearty laughter loosens up the nerve tensions more effectively and desirably than anything inthe world; if laughter is suppressed because, perchance, you don't see anything to laugh about, little by little the nerves grow taut, [illegible] little faces correspondingly set, and perhaps a long train of nervous ills and misery set in motion.

Let them laugh — make them laugh. It is childhood's birthright.

Rather Burn $12,000 Boat.

Boston, Aug. 16.—Rather than pay the $500 annual tax imposed by the U. S. Government on all foreign built vessels, Lindsey Loring has directed that his boat, the Eelin, be burned at her dock in South Boston. Everything of value has been stripped from the boat, including her 20-ton lead keel, her masts and rigging.

The Eelin was built at Southampton in 1899, and was brought to this country as a racing boat. She was 90 feet long and valued at about $12,000.

Two Nominations.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—The Conservative convention for Beauharnois yesterday unanimously nominated J. G. H. Bergeron as candidate in the coming elections.

The Liberal convention for St. Antoine division last night nominated Dr. Milton Hersey to oppose Mr. H. B. Ames.

McCurdy Wins Speed Contest.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—J. A. D. McCurdy won the twelve-mile biplane speed contest in 14 minutes 41 seconds.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, In Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ANOTHER WESTERN DISTRICT THAT IS NOW AGAINST RECIPROCITY

Brandon and District Strongly Opposes the Pact—There, as in Ontario, Barley Such as U. S. Maltsters Require Cannot be Grown—The Grain Growers' Association no Longer Rule the Roost

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT TO THE TORONTO NEWS AND THE INTELLIGENCER.

BRANDON, Aug. 5.—So far as the larger towns of Manitoba are concerned the movement towards free trade with the United States is distinctly slow. In these centres is the nucleus of an agitation in the other direction, namely, that of moderate protection. Brandon is one of the most prominent in this respect. The feeling generally amongst the rising towns in Manitoba, whose origin and point of view is more thoroughly Canadian than any of the other Western provinces, is that their future must naturally lie more or less along the same lines as that of the established towns of the western States, and every one knows that these towns across the border grew to a position of national importance under the nurturing hand of a high protective tariff. Brandon in particular, even though accredited with being the home of the Grain Growers' Association, is opposed to reciprocity, and in more than one conversation to-day the opinion was expressed that if Hon. Clifford Sifton would return to his old riding as an independent he would be elected by a substantial majority. Mr Sifton's stand on reciprocity at Ottwa has pleased the people of Brandon, and they are looking forward in anxious anticipation to his appearance in this constituency as a leader in the fight that is being waged most strenuously against the agreement.

At this particular point in the province there have been a number of influences at work to identify the mind of the people with a protectionist as opposed to a free trade policy. The Dominion Experimental Farm is situated about a mile from Brandon and the country round about is closely in touch with the work done there. One thing that has been proved, and which weakens a strong argument for free trade in natural products is that the variety of barley demanded for use in the States, cannot be grown in Northwestern Canada. There are two breweries in Brandon and not one bushel of home-grown barley is used by these factories: They import all their malt. The grades of barley grown in Manitoba are suitable only for feeding purposes, and the greater part of the Brandon crop is fed at home. The live stock industry is greatly on the increase in this district, as two large creameries and hide warehouses in Brandon attest. It is also a significant mark on the landscape to see waving fields of corn which the farmers cut green and keep for fodder. The Experimental Farm says there has been about about four times as much corn grown this year in Manitoba as was grown last season. McGregor's famous Poll-Angus cattle which are bred and raised here, have also given a stimulus to the raising of live stock. Farming as it should be is largely in vogue in the district adjacent to Brandon, and this fact is inclined to turn many minds against the proposals for free trade in natural products with the United States. As was expressed to me here by business men and farmers, free trade in natural products would undoubtedly tend to make the prairie provinces mere growers of wheat for the United States. Confinement to this single pursuit would almost certainly react against the cities and towns on the Canadian side, which need districts close to them that will grow adequate supplies of all the food products. Those who are acquainted with conditions in the United States know that with the tariff bars down, nearly all the supplies would enter the Canadian West from Chicago. An authority in Brandon drew my attention to the fact that most of the annual three-billion-bushel corn crop of the United States went towards the cultivation of animal products in the United States. "That is the process we want to teach our farmers here," said he.

That the citizens of Brandon are decidedly against any alliance of interests with the United States was shown in a trial vote taken by one of the local papers six weeks ago. The ballots were returned to the newspaper office marked and signed by the man who marked them. The verdict at that time was 4 to 1 against the reciprocity agreement. I saw the pile of ballots which the paper has on file and it contained a number of names of men, known as "amongst the strongest Liberals of Brandon." The nature of the vote may be partially explained through the stand taken by Mr. Sifton at Ottawa. If he did nothing else, he voiced the sentiments of the people in his home town, and by expressing himself as strongly and logically as he did, additional strength was reflected in the opinion of this element of his constituents. Apart from Mr. Sifton's influence the natural trend of Brandon's opinion is along the national groove already indicated. Out of a population of 15,000, over 2,100 persons are employed in manufacturing and in wholsale distribution. This means, in the ordinary course of calculation, that more than seven thousand of this city's population are directly connected with some phase of industrial activity whose life depends upon the continuation of the protectionist policy in Canada in its every particular.

The Grain Growers' Association occupies a place in Brandon which is strikingly analagous to that of the prophet without honor in his own country. In the East the idea prevails that the Grain Growers have consolidated the West on the policy of free trade. After talking with a member of the Association in Brandon and with other men acquainted with its influence and actual work one is led to believe that the chief link between the West and reciprocity is the leadership of the Grain Growers. Nominally all members of the Grain Growers' Association, which comprises most of the farmers in the Prairie Provinces, are warm advocates of reciprocity. In reality such is not the case, and numbers of the older members of the association see that the farmers of the West are being led by the nose by a few ardent Liberals, who, in the case of reciprocity, appear to be politicians first and farmers second. Mr. P. Middleton, of Brandon, is an old member of the Grain Growers' Association, and happens to own the farm next to Roderick Mackenzie, the well known secretary of the Grain Growers. Mr. Middleton says Roderick is a far better talker than he is a farmer. And he also says that the Grain Growers' Association have always been a good and powerful co-operative organization until they got mixed up in the present political situation. "I was one of the farmers who declined to support reciprocity, at our meeting when Mr Oliver was here," said Mr. Middleton "and there are others in the country like me, who do not want to get mixed up with the United States." Another man in Brandon, one who did not wish to be quoted, said: "It is patent on the face of it, that the Grain Growers' Association are being used for political purposes. The farmers went to Ottawa, hardly got anything they asked for, and yet when the country is handed the reciprocity deal, we find the Grain Growers nominally swinging in behind it with great force."

"The only consistent thing for the Grain Growers' Association to do under the present circumstances," observed a lawyer, speaking on the political situation, "is to run independent candidates throughout the West. And if they do, he added, "we'll lick them to a frazzle."

Just now in Brandon both Liberals and Conservatives are looking for candidates. It it rumored that the present mayor, Mr. Fleming, who is willing to be nominated, will be placed in the field for the Liberal party. On Tuesday, August 15th the Conservatives will hold a convention here to select their candidate, but at present even the chief organizer himself, is puzzled over the choice of a strong standard bearer.

DYSPEPSIA AS IT BEGINS

THIS STAGE EASILY CURED.

The first symptoms of dyspepsia and indigestion give little indication of their subsequent seriousness.

One of the most common symptoms of stomach disorder is a sense of fulness or lightness after eating. This indicates that the stomach needs help. Belching of gas frequently follows, the tongue is coated, the bowels become irregular, until finally, in addition to the stomach distress, constipation adds its deadly influence in destroying health.

The treatment is simple, and if employed promptily and reasonably persevered with, cure is speedy and permanent. Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills in full doses every second or third night, then three times a week, one pill at bed time.

The first effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills is to excite activity of the liver and kidneys. This cleanses the system and prepares the stomach for vigorous work. Gastric juice is abundantly secreted, digestion of food and not its fermentation, marks stomach activity with total absence of gas and removal of other symptoms of perverted action.

For good health, vigorous appetite and the best digestion, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No other medicine will do so much good. Price 25c. per box at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

The most curious thing in the world is a woman who isn't.

It's easy enough to be good natured if you have nothing else to do.

Love at first sight proves that second thoughts are often best.

The social scale is not always life's most reliable weighing machine.

A fellow never suffers from ennui till he gets tired of doing nothing.

In society it is much easier to do the proper thing than the right thing.

NO CUTTING DOWN

Vaudeville at the C. N. E. will be Better Than Ever

While the Coronation Procession, Festival of Empire and the Coldstream Guards Band loom large among the attractions at the Canadian National it must not be thought that the circus and vaudeville are being overlooked. On the contrary, the list of thrillers, gymnasts, comedians and trained animal performances will be bigger and better than ever. Four stages and a Roman arena will be kept going all the time. Of course, this looks like a big contract but it must be remembered that the show in front of the big grand stand plays to audiences of from 20,000 to 30,000—the population of a good-sized city. And that makes all things possible.

A Settlers

Landlord to tenant: "Good morning, sir; fine day, sir. Just called round to see if it would be convenient to settle your quarter's rent?" "Do you know, landlord, that none of the doors in this house will shut?" "New house, sir; new house, you know; takes time to settle." "Ah, then there is a pair of us! I'm a new tenant; it takes time for me to settle too. Good morning. Call again!"

PRESERVING CRADLE OF METHODISM

First Church in Upper Canada, at Hay Bay, Taken Over

PICTON, Ont., Aug. 14.—This has been a memorable day for Methodism in Canada. There was a unique demonstration to mark the taking over for future preservation of the historic chapel of Hay Bay, the first church built in Upper Canada. It was erected in the summer of 1792, under the direction of Wm. Losee, pioneer Methodist minister in Canada, the first itinerant Methodist preacher. It was enlarged and rebuilt in 1834, and was used until 1860, since when it has fallen into disuse. The last Methodist Conference, however, voted to have this cradle of Methodism brought back and preserved as a relic.

Eight hundred people gathered on the historic shores of Adolphustown to-day. Excursions were run from Picton in connection with the home coming of the Prince Edward Old Boys from Toronto, as well as other places. A. R. Davis, author of "The Old Loyalist," and chairman of the new trustee board, told the gathering the history from the coming of the U. E. Loyalists to Hay Bay shores on June 16th, 1781. He told of the building of the church. In 1860 the church was sold for $50, to be used as a granary.

MECCA OF METHODISM.

Dr. Carman, Superintendent of the Methodist church, was the speaker of the day. "Here is a church, the mother of them all," he declared "The seed sown here in times gone by has borne an abundant harvest. It is not only the church, but is the county and its citizenship. Near this place are the ruins of the homestead of Sir John A. Macdonald. Humble enough now, but then a cathedral of Methodism," was the description Dr Carman gave of the buliding, which is a great, square frame structure Inside are the original great rafters huge timbers, characteristic of pioneer life. "It is expected," he said that this will be a veritable Mecca of Methodism, here on the shores of Hay Bay, scene of the primal settlement of Canada."

The service was characteristically an "old-time" meeting. The walls fairly echoed with the old-time tunes all in the early-fashioned metre There were many there whose grand parents were of the original flock.

Three collection boxes used in the beginning were the only original furnishings. Pulpit and pews have been destroyed. Hand-wrought nails out of the old beams were distributed as souvenirs.

The trustees are A. R. Davis, J. N Lake, secretary-treasurer, and C. C James Toronto; F. N. Hooper, Napanee, and George Ruttan, Adolphustown. The Prince Edward Old Boys returned to Toronto to-night from their annual trip.

PECK OF CHICKEN KILLED A WOMAN

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 15.—Blood poisoning, the result of getting a peck on the hand from a chicken, caused the death of Mrs. Susan Banks, aged 31, at the Hotel Dieu here yesterday. The wound was only a scratch and nothing was thought of it at the time The arm began to swell, and the patient was removed to the hospital about two weeks ago. The whole arm later became infected with the poison and death was a welcome release from intense suffering.

Of course silence gives consent. Did you ever notice how silent people are when you say something mean about yourself?

FATALLY INJURED RESCUING HUSBAND

ST. HILAIRE, Aug. 15.—In an effort to rescue her husband from beneath the hoofs of an infuriated horse Mrs. G. M. Authier was knocked against the animal's stall and received injuries from which her physician fears she may not recover.

Mrs. Authier heard the cries of her husband who had just left the house and gone to the barn, and in endeavoring to rescue him, the horse turned upon her from his first victim. Mr Authier finally rescued his wife who had become unconscious and dropped to the floor of the stall.

While Mr. Authier's injuries were only flesh wounds and he will likely recover, the doctors look upon the injuries received by the wife, who sustained a fracture of the skull, and a compound fracture of the leg, as hopeless. Mr. Authier was formerly United States consul at Ste. Hyacinthe.

BLIND MAN IS STENOGRAPHER

Aad Has a Good Position in Government Service at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 15.— Mr. Antoine Godbout, the young blind man from Quebec who arrived in the city recently, has secured a position in the interiar department where he is now employed as a stenographer.

Incidentally the coming of Mr. Godbout to Ottawa has opened a way for a new employment for several of Ottawa's blind citizens, who are about to enter on the study of stenograhy and typewriting.

Mr. Godbout writes his shorthand on a sheet of brown paper, which he pricks in regular lines, using a small tool not unlike a miniature awl. Passing his hand over these notes when they are completed he is able to read with surprising rapidity the letters which are dictated to him

"It takes a very good memory for a blind man to write shorthand," he said to-day, "but a great many of them can do it, although I do not know of any other blind stenographers in the city."

Mr. Godbout has been in Ottawa long enough to make himself thoroughly familiar with the city, and he can go about anywhere now by himself. He is fond of smoking, and this morning puffer constantly at a cigar while he conversed with a Journal reporter He lighted it without the slightest trouble, although he is totally blind Mr. Godbout is a pluck young chap of very youthful appearance, who is making his own way, justly proud of his ability to care for himself under the handicap of his affliction.

ASTOR'S FIANCEE IS ECONOMICAL

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—It became the opinion of some Fifth avenue modistes today that Miss Madeleine Force, the young fiancee of Col. John Jacob Astor, is to be very economical in the arrangements for her wedding trouseau. It was learned on the avenue that she and Col. Aster drove in a taxicab to five shops yesterday afternoon, where the young woman made it plain that $1,000 would be the limit of expenditure for her wedding finery.

In contrast to the $20,000 which a recent society girl is said to have spent on her trouseau, including $2,500 for a single gown, it was said that Miss Force objected to a $250 creation which one modiste showed her and found one at a shop further on which pleased her just as well for $100.

A loyal wife will do anything for her husband except treat his stupidity as if it were her own.

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

POLITICS ARE COMPLICATED IN PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

The Days of Rouge and Bleu No Longer Exist—Crossed Planks on Many Platforms—Montreal Plans Novel Welcome for Togo—Fire Insurance Rates to be Lowered—New Record for Ocean Travel

(From our own Correspondent.)

MONTREAL, Aug. 15.—The days when a voter in the province of Quebec could signify his party politics by the use of one or two words have slipped by far far back on the calendar and the present campaign has opened here with the cusomary "rouge" and "bleu" explanation of the habitant's political inclinations meaning naught.

Instead, when a man in the back pariishes wants to tell his sentiments it takes him a long time. Never have the farm dwellers been so well posted on the questions of the how as they are at the opening of this campaign. Last election and the election before a man said he was rouge or bleu and let it go at that. Ask him why and he invariably replied with a shrug: "Sais pas" or "jes' because," or else "my father's rouge too."

Ask a back country Frenchman today what his politics are and he'll sit up and argue for half a day. He's educated and educated up to the minute. One is for Laurier but against the navy another for Laurier but agains reciprocity. He'll tell you why and all about it. Some diversified forecasts have been made as to how the results will tally up in solid Quebec. How near right any of them may be is still the question. One thing is certain. Never taking all in all will a less ignorant vote have been cast.

Admiral Togo Coming.

Admiral Togo, the distinguished Japanese, will be the guest of the city of Montreal, Monday Aug. 21. His Excellency will arrive from Buffalo on Monday morning and will be escorted to the Sailor's Institute, where the Canadian Club will tender him a luncheon which promises to be unusually magnificant. Monday evening the distinguished foreigner will entrain for Vancouver with his suite. He will be accompanied to Montreal by Commander Taniguchi, and their secretaries and aides.

The Imperial Consul-General of Japan, will come down from Ottawa to meet the Admiral and the Consul Hon. Nakamura will speak at the luncheon. Count Togo, however, will not make a speech as his knowledge of English, though fair, makes him hesitate to speak in public.

Reduced Insurance Rates.

Five years ago the Fire Underwriters suddenly and very materially increased their Montreal risks. It was contended that the heavy losses from fire which were occuring at that time were largely chargeable to the inadequacy of the city's fire fighting equipment and the efficeency of those who were in charge of it. There was naturally much complaining but on the whole, the city accepted the situation at the Underwriters' estimate and the city council began to discuss ways and means for remedying it.

Until the advent of the Board of Control but little practical improvement was made in conditions, although the tide of general discussion continued to occasionally disturb the quiet of the city hall. In the last 19 months, however, $2,500,000 has been spent on new water conduits, more fire apparata and generally increasing the efficiency of the fire fighting forces.

But, so far, the insurance rate has remained the same. The city is preparing a long report on the matter and the fire Underwriters will be called upon to lower their rates.

New Travel Record.

A new record for ocean travel, or for that matter travel of any kind, so far as human beings are concerned, has just been made here by the purser of one of the transatlantic liners plying regularly between this port and Europe, who has just completed his thousandth trip across the Atlantic. These trips represent about 3,500,000 miles of travel far surpassing any other achievement of the sort of which any record can be found. The thousand trips are equal to 140 around the earth or 15 to the moon. Of course not all these trips represent voyages by the same vessel, nor was their accomplishment a quick one, since the purser in question has been travelling the Atlantic since 1864, or for nearly half a century. His first trip was of a nature to discourage any but the most enthusiastic lover of the sea since it was made on a steamship that took fire on its way to this country and was saved only after all hope had been abandoned. Altogether it is likely that it will be long beore this 3,500,000 mile record will be beaten, even with the greatly increased speed of the presen day liners.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

☞ NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $15 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

MR. R. L. BORDEN OPENS CAMPAIGN AT LONDON

Conservative Leader Gets Away to a Splendid Start—In Powerful and Convincing Summary of the Reciprocity Issue He Shows Three Thousand Auditors the Evil of Deserting Canadian Nationality for Doubtful Gain—Must Not Disrupt Imperial Ties

London, Aug. 16.—It was an alert, quickened apprehensive 3,000 that greeted R. L. Borden at the opening meeting of the general election campaign here last night. The reciprocity question filled the air. There was room for little else. London was eager to hear Mr. Borden and the message he gave left no mistaken impression.

Mr. Borden was convincing and at times warming. There was an absence of flambuoyant oratory, but a wealth of sound, earnest reasoning. There was no appeal to race prejudice or jingoism, but a successful entreaty to Canadians to preserve for themselves their fiscal freedom.

He assailed the Government condemning the attitude of Sir Wilfrid and his colleagues in acceding to President Taft's request. He contradicted the argument that reciprocity had been the hope of all parties in Canada for forty years. Reciprocity was a seduction and designed only to promote the interests of a political party in the United States.

He inveighed against secret diplomatic tariffs, and declared that the Canadian tariff policy should be worked out by Parliamentary control. "Then, and then only," he declared, "can we preserve and maintain the true fiscal independence and autonomy of the Canadian nation. And above that let us take no steps which may weaken or imperil the ties which unite us to our world-wide empire, dowered with the imperishable memories of a glorious past and crowned with the confidence and hope for a still more splendid future."

"Our strong determination," he declared, "is to preserve our freedom of action and thus to work out our destiny, which, affirmed here by our own voice and along our own lines, will most assuredly win the respect of our neighbors, who have given their own inspiring example." That the national appeal was stronger than the citation of figures regarding prices and profits, spurious speculations and the like, was manifested by the oft-recurring applause that greeted every reference to the development of a Canadian type.

"If we are to follow the laws of nature and geography between Canada and the United States, the whole trade would flow south to north, and from north to south. We have done everything possible by building canals and subsidizing railways to bring the trade from west to east and east to west so as to bring trade into British channels. All this we have done, recognizing the principle of the great advantage of forcing trade within the British Empire. There is no boundary line except a purely conventional one over the whole territory of North America. Their habits are the same as ours, and therefore we are induced to trade and cannot help it by the force of nature. But so far as legislation can influence trade, we have done everything possible to push our trade towards the British people as against the American people.

"There was a time when we wanted reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts and our offers were put aside. We have said good-bye to that trade, and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade.

"Does the Prime Minister also realize that twelve foreign nations with an aggregate population of three hundred millions and an enormous production of agricultural and animal products will also have access to the free Canadian market. Canada will receive no reciprocal advantages from these countries; and the United States producer will not be exposed to the same competition.

"If Canada can be neutral when Great Britain is attacked," he said, discussing the navy, "why cannot Britain be neutral when Canada is attacked?"

Wm. Gray, president of the London Conservative Association, was in the chair. He spoke briefly, directing attention to the dominant move before the country. Major Beattie spoke briefly.

A warm reception was accorded to Hon. Adam Beck. Mr. Beck did not trespass at length upon the time of the audience, but he felt he would not be doing his duty as a Conservative and a representative of the City of London if he did not come forward and lend his hand to help Mr. Borden in the fight against reciprocity. The Conservative leader was able to rise above party bias and deal with such questions on a statesmanlike basis.

LOST HIS HAND, BUT DON'T KNOW WHERE

NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 15.—After an all night search with lanterns the police failed to locate the missing hand of John Crop, the workman who was so mysteriously injured Saturday night.

Crop is at the Memorial Hospital, resting comfortably it is reported. His left hand was amputated four inches above the wrist. On regaining consciousness Crop appeared to be aware of the loss of his hand and he declares he is unable to account for the accident.

Dr. Frank H. Towne, who attended Crop, says to-day that he believes the man must have been in the way of a steam or trolley car, as the nature of the wound did not indicate that it was sustained in a machine where Crop was found wandering aimlessly about with his bleeding stump.

In the meantime the police are conducting a quiet but none the less rigid examination as to the movements of Crop Saturday night.

ARMED MOB TAKES TRAIN

DURANT, Okla., Aug. 15.—That his train had been captured and boarded by 75 armed negroes at Atoka last night was the statement made by Conductor J. R. McKee upon the arrival of his train here. He declared the negroes left the train at Caney, and that the blacks are organizing there. He sent telegrams telling of the seizure of the train.

When the messages were received 500 men armed themselves and met the train, but no negroes were on board.

A second murder of a white woman in this district in three days by a negro has inflamed the whites to such an extent that the outbreak of a long-threatened race war is feared.

Late yesterday a Mrs. Corder, wife of a farmer living ten miles south of here, was killed after being brutally beaten by a negro. The black escaped and an angry posse is pursuing him.

The trouble follows the attack and fatal shooting of Mrs. L. R. Campbell Saturday by John Lee a negro. He was killed and his body burned by a mob. Mrs. Campbell died yesterday.

BOXING

O'BRIEN FAILED TO COME BACK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien failed to come back at the Twentieth Century A. C. to-night. In the fifth round Samuel Langford reached his jaw just in front of the left ear with a tremendous left hand swing. O'Brien fell to his knees. Referee Charley White then stopped the battle. O'Brien easily outpointed the black, however, at times. O'Brien was floored twice with terrific punches.

ZAM-BUK CURES SUNBURN

Neglect of a sun-burn on face, arm or neck often leads to the after growth of skin which is freckled or coarse; and this is particularly distressing to ladies. Timely application of Zam-Buk and regular use of Zam-Buk Soap will prevent this. Zam-Buk is a herbal balm, which soothes and cools the burned skin, and assists nature to replace the damaged tissue with soft velvety skin. Zam-Buk Soap is especially made for tender skins.

Zam-Buk is also good for stings, scratches, heat sores, blisters on hands or feet, and all skin injuries. Applied to these it quickly stops the smarting and ensures quick healing. As it is free from animal fat, and mineral coloring matter, it is particularly suitable for the delicate skin of babies suffering from heat rashes, chafed places etc. Sold everywhere by druggists and store-keepers, Zam-Buk, 50c. box, Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet, or box of 3 for 70c.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE COUNTY SHERIFF.

A stirring, sensational tale of western life is "The County Sheriff," by Lem B. Parker, which comes to Griffin's Opera House on Tuesday, Aug 22nd under the management of O. E. Wee. "The County Sheriff" is a play made of new material, good plot and very dramatic situations. The Dakota's, the country roundabout and the life led in that locality, form an attractive setting for the action of the story. An elaborate scenic production, strong acting company, including Miss Georgia Frances, Evelyn Morrison, Kittie Melville, Frank Tyoe, Bert Melville, J. F. Mallory, Bert James, Maurice Jennings, Albert R. Richman and many others. Prices only 25c., 35c., 50c.

3 P. M. DESPATCHES

GENERAL STRIKE ON BRITISH RAILWAYS

It Was Directed to Take Effect Immediately by Orders from Headquarters

(Intelligencer Special)

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 17.—The country-wide strike on the railroads timed for eight o'clock this morning has been postponed, pending a conference of the union leaders with Board of Trade officials.

LONDON, Eng., Aug 17.—A general strike of the railroad employees throughout the United Kingdom has been ordered, taking effect immediately. The order was telegraphed broadcast at six o'clock.

TOGO INDISPOSED

(Intelligencer Special)

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—Admiral Togo has been forced to cancel engagements owing to an attack of acute indigestion.

ROOSEVELT A GRANDFATHER

(Intelligencer Special)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Col Roosevelt became a grandfather this morning by the birth of a daughter to Mrs. Theodore, junior.

A NIAGARA TRAGEDY ?

(Intelligencer Special)

NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 17.—An open suit case in an inaccessible place on a girder of the steel arch bridge is believed by the authorities to be mute evidence of a tragedy.

DEATH OF A JOCKEY

(Intelligencer Special)

HAMILTON, Aug. 17.—James Perkins, a jockey, died suddenly this morning at his boarding house after making a purchase of liquor. Some of the circumstances being peculiar, an inquest has been ordered.

JACK TARS TO ASSIST

(Intelligencer Special)

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 17.—The warship Antrim is in the harbor. Others are en route, and it is believed to be the Government's intention to have the crews unload provision laden vessels, thus avoiding famine.

GERMANY'S DEMANDS

(Intelligencer Special)

LONDON, Eng, Aug. 17.—Germany is said to be considering the landing of troops at Agadir, Morocco Berlin and Paris despatches indicate that the Moroccan negotiations are helplessly dead-locked because Germany's demands are exorbitant.

Rogers Suggests Spite.

Toronto, Aug. 1(.—Was the Hamilton Asylum report of William Crawford, provincial inspector of fire equipment for public buildings, pigeonholed? It is said that the inspector made recommendations, which, had they been carried out, would have prevented the loss of life that occurred.

Provincial Superintendent Rogers stated yesterday afternoon that he hadn't heard anything as to whether the fire inquest would be re-opened or not. Mr. Rogers expressed the opinion that there must be spite somewhere on the part of the Hamilton citizens, who believe that the inquest did not probe sufficiently deeply.

It is now developing that a good many people beyond the confines of Hamilton were not satisfied with the conduct of the investigation.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

GIVES HIS CONSENT

Mr. B. R. Hepburn, of Picton, has consented to allow his name to go before the Conservative convention at Picton on Saturday next as a candate for the nomination of the party for the House of Commons in Prince Edward County.

FREDERICK PECK DEAD

Frederick Peck, who was known to many in the city, died yesterday at Kingston. The remains were this morning brought to the city and taken to the Belleville cemetery for interment.

HE WOULD'N'T, BUT DID

Yesterday afternoon a party named Black, a stranger in the city, was passing E. B. Ruttan's blacksmith shop on the lower part of Front Street when he broke a pane of glass. Upon being requested to pay the damages he refused, but complied when a police officer made a demand.

MAYOR FINED DRUNKS

His Worship, Mayor Ackerman, this morning presided at the Police Court and disposed of two cases.

DRUNKS.

Andrew Russell pleaded guilty to being drunk and was allowed to go.

Herbert Collins, for the same offence was fined $2 and costs or in default 10 days in jail. The fine was paid.

A SHORT STAY

Messrs. Leonard and Ramsey of the C. P. R., whose short visit to Belleville was noted in yesterday's issue, made but a short stay, they having left by the flyer at 1.50 p. m. for the west. The purpose of their visit was not made known but it is safe to assume that it was in connection with the location in the city of the new Toronto-Ottawa line, as to which information is expected to be coming in a few days.

LOSER WAS LUCKY

A lady's hand satchel, which contained nearly $30 in money and some papers was picked up on the street yesterday and handed to the police Shortly afterward the lady owning the property called at the police station and claimed the lost article. She was naturally much pleased that the satchel had been found by an honest party.

SILLS MARTIN

At the residence of the Rev. Amos Campbell, Victoria Avenue, uncle of the groom, in the presence of a company of near relatives, Mr. German La Du Sills, one of the city aldermen was united in marriage to Miss Annie Augusta Martin, daughter of the late John Martin, merchant, of this city. After the honeymoon trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls, and other places they purpose settling in Belleville and engaging in business.

AUTO SMASHED WINDOW

Yesterday afternoon Master Earl Graham cranked his automobile, which was in their yard opposite Harn's grocery store on Bridge street. The reverse being on, the machine, instead of going ahead as he expected it would backed across the street at a fairly lively gait, and into the window of Mr. Harn's grocery store, breaking the plate glass window, when it stopped. No injury was sustained by the auto, but a younger child of Mr R. J. Graham's, who was in the car at the time was considerably shaken up.

In front of the store was a livery rig occupied by a Mr. R. Snider, of Toronto. The unexpected backward trip of Mr. Graham's car caused a run away and Mr. Snider was thrown out To-day he is nursing several sore spots.

COBOURG HORSE SHOW

At the Cobourg horse show Mr Harford Ashley won an award for standard bred stallion. At yesterday's show the awards to local exhibitors were:

Ladies' district saddle—1. Audrey Green, Fisher Wilmore, of Corbyville

Best lady rider—1, Miss Spador New York; 2, Miss Audrey Wilmot; 3, Miss Gwendolyn Wilmot, Belleville

Best performance over six jumps ladies riding—1, Gold Cup, Mrs. C Wilmot, Belleville, Miss Wilmot riding; 2, My Lady, Westmount Stables Montreal, Miss Edna Pringle, Cobourg, riding.

CANDIDATE WANTED

It is about as difficult for the Reciprocityites in West Hastings to secure a candidate to carry their draggled banner in a parliamentary contest as it was for Diogenes to find an honest man. Yesterday a small coterie of them, including three or four, from Trenton, met here on a still-hunt They talked the situation over but the result was "as you were." They could not find anyone who was willing to accept their party's nomination No doubt, however, they will try again.

MRS. HURLEY DEAD

Mrs. Hurley, wife of Jeremiah M Hurley, ex-M. P., passed away this afternoon at the family residence Queen Street. Deceased had been in failing health for some time and her demise was by no means unexpected Mrs. Hurley, who was about 70 years of age, was a daughter of the late Cornelius Donovan, of Tyendinaga where she was born. For a number of years the deceased resided in Thurlow but for the past few years had lived in the city. She was a lady who was well-known and highly respected and had a host of friends who will learn with regret of her demise. Mrs. Hurley was a member of St. Michael's church. In addition to the husband one son, Thomas and one daughter Miss Annie, both of this city survive

BORNE TO THE TOMB

The remains of the late Mr. Wm. A Hungerford, who died at Madoc on Monday morning, were brought to the city to-day for interment. The body accompanied by three sons of the deceased, and other relatives and friends, arrived here at 9.15 over the line of the Grand Junction railway Many friends of the deceased were at the station when the train arrived The remains were conveyed to St. Thomas' Church where the impressive burial services of the Anglican church were conducted by the Rev. C. J Young, B. A., of Madoc, assisted by the Rev. J. F. Fraser of this city Many were in the church during the service. The floral tributes were many and most beautiful in design Interment took place in the Belleville cemetery. The bearers were Messrs W. B. Northrup, ex-M. P., D. M Waters, J. W. Walker, A. McGinnis John Taylor and Dr. Clinton.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE COUNTY SHERIFF."

"The County Sheriff," an entirely new play this season, produced by O. E. Wee, is the offering at the Griffin Opera House on Tuesday, Aug. 22. This is one of the latest plays from the pen of Lem B. Parker, and is as bright, interesting, witty, quick, dramatic and delightful as anything he has heretofore written. The plot is original, holding one's interest to the very last. There are many amusing situations and interesting scenes. A very elaborate production is utilized, and everything that is essential to make the production a complete one is carried. Prices are only 25c., 35c., 50c.

Acoma, the Indian village of the southwest, is said to be the oldest settlement in the country. It was referred to by the Spanish 30 years before St. Augustine was founded.

AVONDALE.

Mr. and Mrs. Burttett and daughter, Wilhelmine, came in their auto from Detroit, and after visiting friends will start on their return trip this morning.

Mrs. George DeMille, Minneapolis is visiting at Bay Crest.

REPLICA OF CROWN JEWELS

The replica of the crown jewels to be placed on view in the New Woman's Building at the Canadian National Exhibition consists of the following: Imperial Crown, St. Edward's Crown Mary of Medena Circlet, Prince of Wales Coronet, Royal Sceptre, St. Edward's Staff, The Orb, The Lesser Orb. Of course they are not the real jewels but even an expert would be excused for thinking they are.

LATEST NEW HAVEN DOINGS

Former Pastor of Grand Avenue Baptist Church Occupies Its Pulpit Again

Before a congregation which completely filled the Grand Avenue Baptist Church, New Haven, Conn., last Sunday morning, Rev. Charles G. Smith, of Belleville, Canada, preached an eloquent sermon on the subject "A Vision of Christ." This was the second in the series of union services in which the Grand Avenue Congregational Church has united. Mr. Smith was until ten months ago pastor of the Grand Avenue Baptist Church, and his former parishioners, as well as friends in the Congregational Church, gave him a cordial greetinga t the close of the service. Mr. Smith is pastor of the only Baptist church in Belleville, and during his pastorate there has been a considerable gain in members under his ministrations. Mr. Smith leaves today for Northfield, where he has attended the Christian conferences for several years, and next Sunday he will perach for his friend, Rev. Dr Weeks, in the Highlend Baptist Church of Springfield. From Springfield he goes to Kansas City for two weeks, and then returning home. In Kansas City he will preach in Calvary Baptist Church, of 1,200 members. Rev. Dr. Munro, formerly pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of this city, is the pastor, and he is now preaching in New York. A week ago yesterday Mr. Smith preached in the Collegiate Baptist Church, New York, of which Rev. Dr. Haywood, formerly of Waterbury, is pastor. For the next two Sundays the union services here will be held in the Grand Avenue Congregational Church, and the preacher is Rev. H. C. Colburn, of Marion, Ind., for next Sunday.—New Haven Register.

Killed by a Convict.

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 16.—News has reached here of a tragedy in Lee County, Florida, Saturday night, resulting in the deaths of Mrs. Weeks, wife of the postmaster of a small Lee county town, and Willie Williams, an escaped convict and serious injury to a son of Mrs. Weeks.

Williams, who was serving a life sentence on a convict farm near the Weeks' home for the killing of two white men, six years ago, escaped from the convict farm, together with three other life term prisoners Stealing four horses, they rode to the Weeks' home, supposedly for the purpose of robbery. Thinking that it was her husband returning home, Mrs. Weeks went to the door. There she was confronted by Williams, who immediately opened fire, the woman being killed instantly.

Did you have American mutton for dinner? Lots of it is being sold here, and its sale in Belleville dates back to November last.

Misfortunes never come singly First the Canadian navy ran against a rock, and now the chief of the navy has run against Bourassa.—Ottawa Citizen.

The portrait of Sir Wilfrid Laurier which was published in the Globe on the 16th inst. has as a background what appears to be the Stars and Stripes. "Coming events cast their shadows before."

The Grits boast that they will contest every seat in Ontario. They must have an ample supply of 'grease' for their electoin machinery, otherwise there are many constituencies in which they would not enter into a shadows before?"

Another scandal has been hushed for the time being by the sudden dissolution of Parliament, namely, the granting of the contract for rebuilding the Quebec Bridge. That there was crooked work in this there is no doubt, and it has not tended to promote Canada's credit among the very class of people in Great Britain who above all should trust her.—Kingston Standard.

There is nothing funnier than the attempt to get the Canadian farmer to believe that he will make money by obtaining access to a market where prices are lower than in his own, unless it is the effort to persuade the Canadian workingman to forget that if he takes Protection away from the farmer, the said farmer will be little interested in helping him keep his Protection.—Montreal Star.

The Toronto Daily Globe is at the present moment very much interested in the political welfare of Conservatives who do not condemn Bourassa's and Monk's national views. Does it forget that it supported Mercier and Laurier when they advocated precisely the same principles, and in addition much worse doctrines, and repeated them in 1896. Take the beam out of your own eye, dear Globe, before you hunt for a speck in your neighbor's

Wm. E. Curtis, famous correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald talking in Ottawa was frank in his views about reciprocity: "What we want now is reciprocity. The argument is used in Canada that the reciprocity agreement will wean Canada away from Great Britain. That is what we want. We want all the trade we can get, and if this agreement doesn't go through we will lose trade We want you to buy from us instead of from England.

"There is no such a thing in New Zealand as graft, the politics of that country is absolutely clean. We know no other meaning of the word grafter but that of a hard-working, honest citizen, and the administration of affairs over there is entirely without corruptive practices." Such were the declarations of the Rev. R. S. Gray pastor of the First Baptist Cuhrch Christ Church, New Zealand, made to a Globe representative the other day. What a pity it is that the same cannot be said about Canada, which for the past ten or twelve years has established for itself a record of grafting, etc., that would put Tammany to the blush.

"This gentleman is a Liberal," said another to Mr. Wright. "Not this election," said the first speaker There are hundreds like this gentleman who if they dropped party would say the same thing. It is from such Liberals that the ballot box will be filled.

The Hon. Mr. Robiin, Premier of Manitoba, who has just arrived from a three months' trip to Europe, told a Montreal interviewer that the passage in Canada of the reciprocity pact could be nothing less than a calamity for the farmer of Manitoba as it would entirely destroy for him the best home market in Canala, that of the city of Winnipeg. That is the opinion of 90 per cent. of the Liberals of Canada and they would so vote did they not allow "party" to drown honest convictions. This fact is exemplified in the persons of Mr. Hartley Dewart and T. C. Robinette, both of whom were loquacious at first against, and now for reciprocity. Loss of power weighs more with such men that the good of their country.

LE DEVOIR'S COMMENTS

On the Meeting at St Hyacinthe on Sunday—Laurier Feeling is Dead

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—Le Devoir the official organ of the Nationalists yesterday had some comment to make concerning the meeting at St. Hyacinthe. That the frenzied outburst on the part of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries is calculated to do more harm to the cause of the Ministerialists than all the Nationalists have said or done, or may in the future say or do, is the view expressed in the editorial columns of that journal. The worst that the Nationalists could wish the Hon. Mr. Lemieux would be that he would give a repetition of Sunday's spectacle. That the old Laurier cry is dead so far as the producing of the old time enthusiasm is concerned, is the view expressed by the editor.

Says Le Devoir in part:—

"We will pass over the Lemieux-Lavergne incident, wherein we saw the Hon. Minister shaking his first at Mr. Bourassa on account of imaginary interruptions, thus breaking into his own speech by his own interruptions and stigmatizing his adversary as a bandit. At certain moments one would be inclined to believe that the Minister of Marine was making a deliberate attempt to provoke violence on the part of those present. In this he did not succeed, but in all justice one must admit that the most ill-fated speech for the Minister was the one which he delivered himself. No matter what Messrs. Bourassa and Lavergne might have said in the past, or may do in the future, they will never be able to do one-tenth of the damage done the cause of the ministerialists by the Minister of Marine Sunday In fact were we to entertain the slightest personal animosity towards the minister, we could hardly wish him worse than that he gave a repetition of Sunday's spectacle.

"All could easily see what a mediocre effect was caused on the crowd by the calling forth of the name and memory of Laurier. All had ample opportunity to judge that popular enthusiasm and spontaneity are on the side of the Nationalists. The Ministerialists, so long the master of crowds and public meetings, feel their power waning. The phenomenon of 1896 is repeating itself; there is nothing which so strongly resembles the Liberal crowds of fifteen years ago as the Nationalist crowds of to-day.

"Viewed from the platform, the scene was a heartrending one, when Mr. Lemieux, bringing into play all the arts of rhetoric, attempted to galvanize into new life the old Laurier sentiment. He brought to the task talents and ardor born of despair. He pictured the Prime Minister at the entry to the tomb, the victim of insults on the part of adversaries of all kinds He succeeded in rousing the applause of only a few friends, who had entrenched themselves on the roof of the armoury, or a few groups here and there, whose response to the old cry but served to throw into greater relief the general tone of the gathering

"We are not sufficiently well versed to say that there were not a great number of those present at the meeting who will support Laurier candidates on the 21st of September, but we can say that the old fervor and devotion to the person of Laurier such as was evident in other days gone by, and which rendered all criticism of the person of the Prime Minister almost impossible, are things of the past as far as the general public is concerned."

Berlin Is Endeavoring to Bring About a Reform

A "Men's Dress Reform Society" has been founded in Berlin, with the object of bringing masculine attire to a higher hygienic standard. The society protests against the "air-tight armor plating" of the starched shirt-front, the cast-iron rule of black frock coats for weddings and funerals alike, and the general system of dress which involves the wearing of many tight-fitting garments, each overlapping the other.

The society is greatly in favor of knee-breeches for every-day wear, in place of conventional trousers, which, its members declare, require great skill in cutting and are a source of considerable trouble to the wearer. Stiff collars and cuffs are also tabooed.

The society recognizes, however, that the fight is going to be a hard one, particularly as the leaders of fashion—high officials, society men, and others—are creatures of convention, and will not of their own accord go outside the beaten track. The first propaganda will, therefore, be made among men of independent standing—for instance, writers, artists, physicians and sportsmen. These circles will be carried along by force of development, and will thus make the reform style of dress sociably possible.

A PROFESSIONAL CROOK

Joseph Duffield Assumed Many Roles To Obtain Money

After adopting more roles than many a professional actor has done, including that of a public-house keeper, an American champion boxer and a ship's steward, in all of which he obtained money fraudulently, Joseph Duffield, a seaman, has been sentenced at the London sessions to fifteen months' hard labor. Detective-Sergeant George Weston, who arrested him, stated that he had been again and again sentenced to terms of hard labor, and once to penal servitude for fraud at Hull, Grimsby and York. Since he was last released from prison he had been daily living by fraud in various parts of London. He had visiting-cards printed, on which he set forth that he was the proprietor of a large public-house in the East End, and, calling on tradesmen and others, he gave various orders and commissions, and on some pretext obtained money.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

"It is gratifying to know that you approve of my conduct, sir,—but Miss Whiting has made many friends in the city, who, I feel, would have been delighted to chastise that blackmailer. Mr. Mansfield would have killed him gladly."

"Yet none of her friends could have whipped him so scientifically, I fear," laughed Mr. Whiting, and Marian added, "You should have seen the commotion that whipping raised all over the city. The guests here wanted to make him a hero, but the residents felt we were sadly lacking in conventionalities—or morals—for a few hours at least.

"We shall be very glad to see you at our home in Alabama," put in Frederick cordially.

"I cannot tell when that will be," was the quick answer. "I am looking for a runaway cousin, and the most rugged part of my journey is before me, I fear," and he related the purpose of his journey to the West.

"You have an interesting task on your hands," said Mr. Whiting. "I would advise you to take a guide along who is familiar with that part of the country."

"It is no easy matter to secure the kind of man I want," said Grant "but perhaps I can find a scout further North."

"It will take you a year to cover the territory that lies before you. The lumber camps are numerous, and extend far into the forests."

An anxious look came into Marian's eyes. She had anticipated that Alex would be with her before six months had elapsed. A year would seem a long time to wait. But she had confidence that he would hasten the time of his coming, and then——

Evening found the four in a box at the theatre. Marian, near her young friend, lavished him with attentions; the pretty sayings, the coquettish glance of the brown eyes, were all meant to draw out his affection, and make her remembered during their separation.

Nor did he forget the warm handclasp, the clinging pressure, the loving look into his eyes as they parted for the night.

At Alex's request Frederick Whiting shared his apartments. And thus already had the Easterner and the Southerners become the firmest of friends.

CHAPTER X.

The Parting—A Close Call—Off For The North.

Silently the young friends stood awaiting the incoming train. The final expressions of caution had been passed; the promises to meet again in the near future had been freely given, but the thought before another hour had passed each would be drawing miles and miles further apart from the other, had tongue-tied their speech. Presently Mr. Whiting and Frederick joined Marian and Alex and the four chatted lightly together As the southren express thundered into the depot, the two young people sauntered slowly towards the car steps and their hearts, now too full to attempt expression, they waited silently until the conductor signalled "All aboard." Marian placed her hand in Alex's then—not trying to hide the tears that blinded her eyes as they looked lovingly down into his.

"You will not forget to come—soon—Alex?" she pleaded.

"As soon as my mission is over you may expect me," he answered, gently pressing the hand that rested so confidingly in his. Twixt smiles and tears, like an April morning she smiled again into his upturned face, before disappearing from sight into the Pullman, and Grant turned to leave the station immediately.

At that moment a figure sprang from behind a post and the report of a pistol followed, startling the crowd in the depot. With rare presence of mind Grant stepped sideways, made two or three bounds forward and an instant later DeLaurie lay stretched at his feet. A scream rang through the car, as Marian, who had been trying to catch a last glimpse of Grant saw the act and feared he was seriously injured.

To reassure her, he faced the moving train and laughingly waved his hand to the white face at the window A crowd surrounded Grant and De Laurie, but the victor paid no attention to them. Snatching the revolver from his assailant's hand, he slipped it into his hip pocket, before grasping the wretch by the collar raising him to his feet and placing two well-dispatched kicks where he thought they would do the most good DeLaurie landed in a heap several feet away from him and the crowd looked on approvingly.

"Aye, mon, but yer no dead yet," said a familiar voice, and Greer elbowed his way to Alex's side. "It's na fault of his that ye are noo weltering' in yer ain bluid, this very minute," and drawing a pair of handcuffs from his pocket, the stocky Scotchman sprang towards DeLaurie who, however, taking advantage of the confusion, bolted through the throng and disappeared around a building. Greer gave chase but with slight hope of overtaking him, as the Frenchman, he knew, was fleet of foot.

Without glancing backwards Grant entered a cab and was driven rapidly to the St. Nicholas. Half an hour later a telegram was handed him with the word "urgent" underscored. He tore it open and read:

"Are you injured? Tell me the the truth. Wire me at —— station Marian."

Taking a blank from the waiting boy, he hastily pencilled the following reply: "Am uninjured; I leave the city at once. Alex." With a dollar in his hand for extra haste, the messenger boy dashed from the hotel, and now the thoroughly lonely Grant went at once to his apartments to pack his dressing-case for a trip that was to take him into the unknown northern wilds, of the adventures and dangers of which he had not the remotest conception.

We will not attempt to describe the many experiences of that memorable journey,—the thrilling deliverances from serious injury or possible death—and scores of incidents that will cleave to his memory to the end of his life. His one ambition now was to hunt down John Grant, so that he might speedily return to his sweetheart. By every means obtainable he located the principal lumbering firms visited camps, yards and offices, but without success. On and on went the search, carrying him through Oregon Washington Territory, Idaho, Wyoming and into the great state of Montana. Week after week passed, and still his untiring energy continued Here he was met with courtesy, there his courage was tested. Often the opposing influences and personal dangers seemed too great to be overcome but his perseverence and fact eventually carried him through triumphant In the midst of his travels and adventures, he found time to write a weekly letter home which kept his uncle in touch with his whereabouts. He also found time to dispatch a regular communication to the Free Press, and these breezy letters of his had become the keen delight of hundreds of readers.

New York Times Says the States Must Have Raw Material

The New York Times is very candid. It says:

"Reciprocity is the beginning of a policy that will powerfully protect the natural resources of our own country, to the conservation of which the nation has devoted years of study and is preparing to expend many millions of dollars. Our growth has been so rapid that we have only lately begun to understand its effects. A score of years ago we still looked upon these resources as practically boundless and their exploitation as the sure means of incalculable prosperity. Within ten years we, as a nation, have come to know that their limits are quite within comprehension and that our constantly and swiftly advancing demands are outgrowing the certain supply. The agreement with Canada offers us free access to resources comparable to our own before our tremendous growth encroached upon them. To refuse this would be as crass an act of folly as for the commander of a besieged garrison to decline convoys of provisions."

SIR JAMES WHITNEY
Who is lending his valuable support to Mr. Borden.

CANADIANS TALK OF RECIPROCITY

It Would Strike a Serious Blow at Canadian Industries Generally, They Declare

No subject in recent years has occupied the mind of the Canadian public to a greater extent than the proposed trade agreement with the United States. Representative men have deliberated on the question and, with certain sound, have stated their views against reciprocity. For instance:

Mr. T. I. Thompson, Owen Sound

"I'm afraid it will ruin shipping. It will simply mean the death of towns like Fort William."

Mr. H. B. Smith, Owen Sound

"It may be a good thing or it may be a bad thing for the country, but it's a mighty good thing to leave alone."

Mr. W. R. Chester, Owen Sound

"I am a Liberal, but I don't think reciprocity should be a party question, or used for party interests, I am against it."

Mr. Hugh Blain

"Our troubles now are few and far between, and in my opinion we should 'rather bear the ills we have than fly to others that we know not of.'"

Mr. James McLaughlin, Owen Sound

"I am disgusted with the matter, but the most crying shame of all is that reciprocity will strongly tend to sever our connections with the Mother Land."

Mr. George Sherk, Welland

"I don't think reciprocity will benefit the majority of people, and I believe it will mean that Laurier will get a walking-stick at the next election."

R. L. BORDEN
Leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Stewart, Peterborough

"If the proposed agreement is adopted at least 80 per cent. of the business now done at Peterborough will be transferred to the United States."

Mr. Fred Cole, Louth

"Reciprocity will hurt the fruit grower, and that is where I get my bread and butter. I think that it will also be a detriment to the country as a whole."

W. C. Bush, St. Catharines

"I am against reciprocity, for with the increasing cost of fruit growing we need some guarantee in increased profits rather than the prospects of decreased profits."

Mr. W. D. Matthews, Toronto

Mr. W. D. Matthews said he regarded reciprocity as a blow to the milling industry and believed it would have the effect of preventing its growth and development.

RICHARD BLAIN
The popular Conservative candidate in Peel.

Mr. W. H. Bunting, St. Catharines

"We have been made fools of by the Government. The American Government looks after the welfare of its people in this agreement. It seems strange that Ottawa cannot do the same."

Mr. Wm. G. McMillan

"Canada has made many sacrifices to attain the prosperity she is now enjoying, and it seems the utmost folly to make changes in the fiscal policy of the country while enjoying this present era of prosperity."

W. W. Playfair, J.P., Baldur, Man.

"We do not want reciprocity with the United States. Every person is prosperous here. Laurier should be statesman enough to dissolve the House and go to the country. Let the people decide this important question. No two men should be given any such power; they don't do any thing worse in Russia."

A self-made man nearly always looks the kind of a job he might be expected to turn out.

Our prices are low—exceptionally low. They are the lowest ever quoted on similar goods Now is the time to take advantage of the wonderful values placed before you and make dollar reach the limit of its purchasing power.

SUPERIOR QUALITY.

Although the prices marked are wonderfully low, nevertheless the goods have in no way been sacrifices. To make the prices we have bought in enormous quantities, and to keep our business hustling we have reduced our already low margin of profit.

EXCHANGE CHILDREN FOR VACATION TIME

Growing Custom in Europe Which Assist in Education of Youth.

Though only started five years ago, the system of exchanging children between families in Germany, France and England, has attained wonderful proportions. This year, in Berlin alone, 1500 children have enrolled themselves as applicants for reception as guests abroad. In the whole empire there are thousands of eager youngsters with the same ambition.

France and Germany, in spite of their traditional bitterness, are the greatest participators in this scheme, but the English, under the direction of Lord Weardale, are trying to extend their operations in the same direction. Curiously enough, however there is less activity in England in the pursuit of a foreign language than anywhere.

The working of the scheme entails no risks. Each country has a committee, which reports on the fitness of any family to receive a foreign guest. When a family is approved in this way it sends a little boy or girl at its own expense to a German or French family for the holidays, receiving in exchange a child from this family for the same period. In that way languages are made easier in acquirement and, incidentally, a better understanding among the nations is established.

A Well-Protected Wedding

Not long ago the daughter of the chief of police of a big Eastern city was married. The next day a woman who had expected an invitation to the wedding and had been disappointed remarked acidly:

"I understand it was one of the best policed affairs of the year."

Yearly Earnings of The Canadian Pacific

Montreal, Aug. 14.—At a meeting of the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. to-day dividends of 2 per cent. on the preference stock for the half-year and 2½ per cent. on the common stock for the quarter ending June 13 last were declared. The results for the fiscal year to June 13 last were:—Gross earnings from railway and steamship lines, $104,167,808; working expenses, $67,467,978; net earnings from railway and steamship lines, $36,699,830; net earnings of steamships in excess of amount included in monthly report, $1,118,350; deduct fixed charges, $10,011,071; surplus, $27,807,109; deduct amount transfersed to steamship replacement account, $1,000,000; deduct contribution to pension fund, $80,000 ;net revenue from railway and steamship lines available for dividend, $26,727,109.

After payment of all dividends declared for the year, the surplus from railway and steamship lines for the year carried forward is $11,873,240. Special income from interest on land sales and from other extraneous assets not included in above $6,602,205.

This is the road that the Hon. Edward Blake declared in Parliament would never earn enough to purchase the oil to lubricate the wheels, and another Liberal declared the ties on the eastern end would rot before the ties on the western end could be laid Grit false prophets, truly!

Serious Charges

At the political meeting held in St. Hyacinthe on Sunday, the 13th inst. Mr. Lavergne, M.P.P. for Bellechasse, a Liberal, but opposed to the Government, made the following serious charges against Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which, if true, should of themselves drive him from power. Mr. Lavergne said:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier had endeavored to induce him to leave the Nationalist party by offering his father the position of Chief Justice."

"Worse than that," he added, "I accuse publicly Laurier and Lemieux of trying to buy Judge Tourigny, of Chicoutimi county in the case of Simon Lapointe against Girard, M.P., in an election petition."

Mr. Lemieux retorted by calling Lavergne a "liar," a "bandit," a "fool," a "foul mouthed fellow," and demanded "immediate proof."

Lavergne's reply was: "I affirm that Tourigny went in the name of Laurier."

To which "a man on the platform," adds the report, exclaimed: "Mr. Lavergne was correct in his accusations."

To which Lavergne added: "Tomorrow in Le Devoir the whole affair will be published."

Mr. Lemieux, in his rage, so far forgot himself as to exclaim "he's a bandit and foul mouthed fellow, and to think his uncle was my messenger."

Well, Mr. Lemieux, suppose he had been your bootblack, what would that have to do with Laurier's attempts to bribe people, and how would it affect the charges made against him by Mr. Lavergne? Such references to family relations and their positions in life are beneath contempt.

Taxation And Food

A Grit journal which indulges a good deal in discussing trade matters of which it knows little and the beneficial effect which, it says, the adoption of the agreement between Fielding and Knox will have upon producers and consumers in Canada, asks, with no little gusto: "Did the removal of taxation ever increase the price of food?"

A moment's reflection should teach the questioner that that depends altogether upon circumstances. If the removal of the tax now imposed by the United States upon Canadian food products when entering that country will cause the exportation of Canada's food products to that country, where the reciprocitists contend a better price can be obtained, the markets in Canada will be depleted to that extent and just in proportion to the scarcity of food products in the Canadian market will prices advance. The merest tyro in trade must know that, hence, in such cases the removal of taxes would increase the price of food.

A specific case in point is that the farmers in the vicinity of Farnham, Quebec, last year sold a great quantity of cream to dairymen in the United States, who erected factories to manufacture it into butter. The consequence was that the price of butter in Farnham rose to such an extent that it became more profitable to manufacture at home. Consequently the export of cream from Farnham to the United States has ceased and the Yankee butter factories have been closed. Take the duty off cream and up goes the price of butter in Canada.

The attempt to prove that reciprocity is to benefit both producer and consumer displays ignorance or an attempt to deceive. If the producer secures better prices in the United States than are obtainable in Canada and he sends what he has to sell to that country, then the market in Canada becomes depleted, prices go up, and the consumer suffers. If, on the contrary, prices are lowered in Canada by the adoption of such a pact, then the producer suffers. It is dishonest to say that both producer and consumer are to be benefitted by the passage of the Fielding-Knox agreement.

We hesitate not to affirm that all parties benefit when farmers get good prices for all they have to sell, and citizens and laborers have plenty of work and remunerative wages. Sir Henry Joly put this point well when discussing the trade question upon one occasion in the House of Commons. He then declared, in reply to a free trade speech, that it was much better for the laborer who had plenty of work, at fair wages, that flour should be $5 a barrel, with $5 in his pocket to pay for it, than to have flour $3 a barrel, and no work and no $3 in his pocket to pay for it." Apply that to all these trade nostrums, and you learn the result.

The country is never so prosperous as when our farmers get good prices for all they produce, and consumers have plenty of work and good wages.

THE CONSERVATIVE PLATFORM

IS IT NOT WHAT IS WANTED?

The Liberal-Conservative party, through its leader, Mr. R. L. Borden, gives its pledge to carry out the following policy if returned to power:

"(1) A thorough reorganization of the method by which public expenditure is supervised. The increase in what is known as ordinary controlable expenditure from $21,500,000 in 1896, to nearly $74,000,000 in 1911, is proof of extravagance beyond any possible denial.

"(2) The granting of their natural resources to the Prairie Provinces.

"(3) The construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, and its operation by independent commission.

"(4) The control and operation by the State of the terminal elevators.

"(5) The necessary encouragement for establishing and carrying on the chilled meat industry.

"(6) The establishment of a permanent tariff commission.

"(7) The granting of substantial assistance towards the improvement of our public highways.

"(8) The extension of free rural mail delivery.

"(9) The extension of civil service reform.

"(10) The granting of liberal assistance to the provinces for the purpose of supplementing and extending the work of agricultural education and the improvement of agriculture.

"And, lastly, it pledges itself to a course of policy and administration which will maintain independent and unimpaired the control of our own affairs by the Parliament of Canada; a policy which, while affording no just cause of complaint to any foreign nation, will find its highest ideal in the autonomous development of Canada as a nation within the British Empire."

East Hastings

Our good natured and genial friend Nathaniel Vermilyea, Esq., of Thurlow, is again in for a fight in East Hastings, and of course, defeat. Voters tell us he is asking their support The answer should be "country" must be considered before "party" at this election. This should be the motto of every man who loves Canada.

Ottawa, Aug. 71.—A fire occurred here last night with losses estimated at $100,000.

The boys smoking cigarettes while tending a team of horses, set fire to the warehouses of Provost & Allard, wholesale grocers, and did $20,000 damage there. The flames then caught to Chevrier's Hotel on Murray street, which was completely gutted, and some of the shantymen therein had to be carried out by firemen, owing to being under the influence of drink. The fire scorched many nearby houses and between the fire and water cost some $100,000 damage ere it was over.

MINISTERS PRAISE

CATARRHOZONE

REV. D. K. SMITH, OF WHITE HEAD, N. S., WAS CURED OF CATARRH BY CATARRHOZONE.

The following statement coming from one of Nova Scotia's prominent churchmen, carries conviction of the fact that Catarrhozone is all right.

"For years I tried all the advertised remedies for Catarrh, but was unable to get relief until I used Catarrhozone. Before I had used the Inhaler half an hour my nostrils became free and clear so that I could breathe easily through them. In one day Catarrhozone had helped me immensely, stopped my coughing and hawking and cured a dull pain that was continually over my eyes. I have great pleasure in recommending Catarrhozone. I have proved it the best remedy for Catarrh and diseases of the throat lungs and bronchial tubes."

There is certainly no remedy so well spoken of by the clergy as Catarrhozone and this can be accounted for by the fact that it gives perfect satisfaction.

It is the only remedy that reaches all diseased parts and gives quick relief without bad after effects. Catarrhozone contains no cocaine or morphine. It is nature's own remedy soothing and healing, and pleases everybody that uses it.

Catarrhozone is a local and constitutional treatment. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops the headache, and Ferrozone Tablets that are included in the complete Catarrhozone outfit, never fail to drive impurities from the blood. This builds up and strengthens the system so that Catarrhal conditions cannot exist.

The speediest cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Bronchitis and Asthma is Catarrhozone. Two months' treatment, price $1.00; small size 50 cents, at all druggists.

Slays His Partner.

Dawson, Y.T., Aug. 17.—D. N. Allison just arrived here from Fort Macpherson, at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, reports that a prospector from Edmonton, and his partner were victims of a double tragedy, when one killed the other with his gun, then committed suicide.

An Indian found the bodies in a cabin at the mouth of the Sale River, 500 miles up Mackenzie from the mouth of Peel.

One of the prospectors left a note that he had killed his partner because he himself had been taken ill and his partner had refused to go for a doctor. Details, it is explained, will be received at Mounted Police headquarters, Regina, during September via the Hudson Bay steamer, which is now en route up the Mackenzie.

WILL ADJUDGE CLAIMS

International Court is to Sit Soon to Deal With Cases.

Sir Charles Fitzpatrick Will Probably Represent Canada on Tribunal to Settle Claims Affecting Treasuries of Greater Britain and the United States—Cayuga Indians Have the Principal Demand Against the U.S.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Under the treaty concluded last year between Great Britain and the United States with regard to the settlement of pecuniary claims affecting the national treasuries of Great Britain or her dominions and of the American Federal or State Governments, an international court will shortly be established to deal with the first schedule of claims filed for adjudication. The court will consist of three members, one being selected by each Government concerned, with a third member chosen by consent as chairman. It is understood that Canada's representative on the court named to consider claims affecting this country and the United States will be Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

The principal claim to be considered, in so far as the Canadian Government is concerned, is that of the Cayuga Indians, who during the war of independence were, it is claimed unlawfully dispossessed of their lands in the Mohawk Valley by the State of New York. The Indians settled in Brant County, Ontario, where they were given land by the crown, and became the wards of the Indian Department. Their claim for compensation from the State of New York is considerably over a century old, and has been pressed from time to time in a desultory sort of way for generations. Nobody now knows the exact amount of the claim in view of accumulated interest and enormously enhanced values of the lands from which they were dispossessed. The Dominion Government, acting for the Indians, will now attempt to secure some fair and legal settlement.

There are a score or so of other cases which have been agreed upon for hearing by the court at its first assembling, which will be some time this autumn. Later on another schedule of cases for submission will be drafted.

Home Rule For Scotland.

London, Aug. 17.—The desire for home rule in Scotland is assuming a more concrete form. As a first step Sir Henry James Dalziel, newspaper proprietor and member of Parliament for Kirkcaldy burghs, introduced in the House of Commons yesterday morning a bill to establish a Legislature in Scotland, to deal with purely Scottish affairs.

The Chinese aviator, Fung-You who spent a number of years in the United States, is, at the request of the viceroy, to establish a school of aviation.

A CAMPAIGN LIE

We are frequently told that things have changed since Sir John A. Macdonald favored the exact amount of reciprocity which is now being secured by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and opposed by Mr. Borden. In some respects they have.—Montreal Herald.

The foregoing statement is simply one of those reckless campaign lies for which the Grit party are notorious. Sir John A. Macdonald's proposal was confined absolutely to natural products. The Taft-Laurier pact embraces some twenty manufactured articles. Not only that, but it opens our market to over twenty nations with which Canada has commercial treaties, as well as to the United States. Next time that the Herald wants to fabricate, it would be wiser to publish a less easily detected falsehood. Better wear a longer coat or steal a shorter codfish.

Charge Maladministration.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—A sensation was created at the City Hall yesterday, when it was learned that two officials of the fire department had signed depositions which they were about to submit to the Board of Control, charging Chief Tremblay, head of the fire department, with a species of maladministration.

It is charged in the depositions that Chief Tremblay has used firemen of his department to make a motor for a boat he owns, and that firemen have been working at Mr. Tremblay's house at Valois, in the city's name.

The chief stated that while firemen had assisted him in moving and in building his boat, the work was done in spare time, and the Board of Control were aware of it.

Railway Rumors.

Winnipeg, Aug. 17.—A rumor, fanned by a New York despatch, has spread through the city that the Canadian Northern has either acquired control of the Minneapolis and St. Paul Railway, or will work in collusion with that company to secure terminals at Minneapolis and Chicago. Confirmation of the report cannot be secured.

Another despatch says that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway will invade western Canada via Winnipeg, within a short time.

A third story is to the effect that the Minneapolis and St. Louis will run up to the Canadian border to connect with the Canadian Northern, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Used Bent Wire for Key.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Robberies which have been baffling the police for some time were cleared up by the arrest of three boys, Alfred Gouin, aged 14; Hector Cyr, aged 13, and Lucien Champeau, aged 9, yesterday. For some time past articles have been missing from the store of M. Hamber, 1,141 Mount Royal East. The doors were never disturbed and the windows never broken, and still articles were disappearing. About $35 worth of goods were found in the possession of Cyr Tuesday night by detective Mercier. His two companions said that, armed with bent wire, they would open the shutters, and plying the same instrument, would draw the articles through a hole in the bottom of the window used for ventilation purposes.

Cyr put up a bold front in the dock and claimed he had nothing to do with it. The other two boys pleaded guilty and incriminated Cyr. They were both allowed out on suspended sentence, but Cyr was sent to the penitentiary for three years.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

WILL STRIKE TO-DAY

British Railwaymen Will Go Out All Over the Kingdom.

Entire Aldershot Command Is Being Requisitioned For Police Duty to Ensure the Running of the Trains —Government Will Protect Food Supply and Non-unionists Who Wish to Work.

London, Aug. 17.—Meetings, with a view to settling the controversy between the railway companies and their employes, were held yesterday and last night at the Board of Trade, but when they were adjourned late last night the situation remained as far from being solved as when they begun. The railway managers declared they had been promised protection in the running of their trains and would not yield to their men; the representatives of the Railway Men's Unions declared the strike would take place at the expiration of their ultimatum to-day.

At Aldershot the military authorities are taking every precaution to insure the working of the railways in the event a strike is called. Every soldier in the Aldershot command has been placed under orders for duty. Previously only the cavalry and infantry had been under orders, but yesterday the Royal Engineers, the Army Service Corps and the Field and Garrison Artillery were warned to have every man in their ranks ready to move off on a moment's notice.

If a strike is declared three regiments of cavalry and three batteries of Royal Horse Artillery will first be moved direct to London, to be followed at short intervals by an infantry battalion, field artillery, the royal engineers and the medical units of the command. Only the barracks' guard will be left at Aldershot.

All the soldiers will be armed with rifles and ball ammunition. They will be stationed along the railway lines north and south of London, while the cavalry will be employed at stations and also will patrol the lines so as to be able to get quickly to any point of danger. The trains will be worked by flag signals.

It is estimated that 25,000 men from Aldershot will be prepared to move in a few hours, trains to accommodate that number having been assembled there. Similar precautions also have been taken at all other military stations in England, Scotland and Wales, so that in case of need every available soldier will be on duty to insure the continuance of railway traffic.

Though the Government yesterday made an energetic attempt to avert the calamity of a general railway strike, the present indications are that one will materialise to-day, when the ultimatum of the employes expires. Conferences were held yesterday and last night at the Board of Trade with representatives of both sides of the dispute, by Sydney Buxton, President of the Board, but they did not actually result in a meeting between the contending parties. An adjournment of the conferences until to-day was arranged late last night, in order to enable Mr. Buxton to see the executives of the three railway men's unions, who are now en route to London from Liverpool. This fact alone leaves a glimmer of hope that the men's ultimatum may at the last moment be extended another day and provide an opportunity for further negotiations. This is the Government's earnest desire, but up to midnight there was no sign of any change in the plans for a strike.

It is understood that Mr. Buxton's conference with the members of the railway companies was largely taken up with the discussion of how far the Government was prepared to go in affording military protection to the railways in the event of a strike. In the House of Commons yesterday Winston Churchill, the Home Secretary, declared that non-unionists were entitled by law to work without molestation and that they would be protected in the exercise of that right. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, David Lloyd-George, also declared that the Government was determined to protect the railways and the food supply at all cost, and would not depart in the smallest degree from its determination to protect life and property.

Renewed Riots In Liverpool.

Liverpool, Aug. 17.—A renewal of rioting growing out of the strike of dockers and allied unionists occurred last night on the Scotland road division of the city. The police again had to make baton charges, and the soldiers also were called upon. Their presence, however, was sufficient to overawe the rioters, who dispersed.

Motor wagons, which were conveying print papers to the newspaper offices, were attacked, street car windows were smashed, and another attempt was made to release prisoners from the vans, in which they were being conveyed to Walton Jail. The police and soldiers, however, were present in force, the troops with their bayonets fixed, and the crowd was not so daring as on Tuesday night, and did not compel the militia to fire.

Last night the troops bivouacked in the streets of the city. They have been given orders not to fire over the heads of rioters in the future, as this endangers innocent parties, but that if it become necessary to shoot that they shall pick out the apparent ringleaders of the mob.

Coal and provisions are being brought into the city under military escort.

In many others of the great provincial towns business has been partially or completely dislocated by reason of strikes. Some trains out of Birmingham already have been cancelled, but, as comparatively few of the workers there are members of unions, a general tie-up is not anticipated.

Fredericton Nomination.

Fredericton, N.B., Aug. 17.—O. C. Crocket was nominated as candidate by a large Conservative convention here yesterday afternoon. A resolution against reciprocity was passed.

HIS MESSAGE TO TAFT

Mr. Borden Says Imperial Tie Will Not Be Broken.

Leader Calls Upon the Electors of Chatham to Tell This to the President of the United States In Casting Their Ballots on Sept. 21—Outlines His Policy Regarding the H. B. Railway—Gets Big Crowd.

Chatham, Aug. 17.—If Mr. Borden's meeting at London on Tuesday night was a success, the meeting here last night was more so. The Conservative leader was in splendid form. He spoke for an hour and a quarter to an eager, appreciative audience. There were frequent interruptions by applause, and Mr. Borden's many cogent arguments were quickly taken up. At the outset he devoted some time to replying to Hon. George P. Graham's criticisms at Simcoe, and was loudly applauded when outlining his policy to grant aid for the construction of highways.

Mr. Borden handled the reciprocity pact without ceremony, and appealed to the young men of Canada "to preserve the national type of citizenship."

"Will you not tell Mr. Taft on Sept. 21 that the tie which binds Canada to the Empire is stronger than ever before, and please God it will never be broken," he declared.

Mr. Borden made it clear that the policy of the Conservative party with regard to the Hudson Bay Railway was for Government ownership and operation. His opposition to the Transcontinental Railway Commission was that the appointees were not men familiar with or competent to undertake such a work. The tariff commission, he said, would have only an advisory, but no legislative power whatever. The commission would merely report to Parliament, which was directly responsible to the people.

Ward Stanworth, Conservative candidate for West Kent, was the first speaker. He was glad that the country had a great issue before it—something more than acts of maladministration and corruption on the part of the Government. The reciprocity proposals, said Mr. Stanworth, brought before the country the well-known national policy inaugurated by Sir John A. Macdonald. It was most appropriately named. It stood for the benefit of all classes. It had resulted in the establishment of the large number of industries at Chatham, which represented large investments of American capital. He welcomed their investment and deplored the proposal to allow Canadian raw materials to be converted into manufactures in the United States. H. W. French, candidate for East Kent, spoke briefly.

On the platform were George Sulman, M.P.P., Phil. Boyer, M.P.P.; J. E. Armstrong, ex-M.P.; H. W. French, Conservative candidate for East Kent; Mr. Ritchie, president of West Kent Conservative Association, was in the chair. Mr. Armstrong followed Mr. Borden briefly with a vigorous speech against the Government.

PREMIER HARD AT WORK.

He Holds Conferences With His Organizers In Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier spent the day here in organization work, holding conferences with Liberal leaders of this district. He left to-day for Three Rivers. With him will be Hon. Sydney Fisher. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Dr. Beland, Hon. Mackenzie King and others. The Premier announced that his itinerary had not been definitely settled, but that he would visit Quebec City after Three Rivers, and that the next two weeks would probably be spent in this province.

A deputation from the Liberals of Soulanges visited Mr. Lemieux yesterday and invited him to run in that division. No definite answer was given. The new Minister of Marine, however, will run again in Gaspe, and in some other division nearer the centre of the province.

The Socialists of St. Lawrence division will run a candidate against Messrs. Robert Bickerdike, Liberal, and G. F. Johnston, Conservative, in the person of Hugh Cotton, editor of Cotton's Weekly.

Two Nominations.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Two more Ottawa Valley nominations were added to the list yesterday. Thomas Low is again the Liberal candidate in South Renfrew, following a convention held at Eganville.

A report that the Opposition nomination in Labelle would go to Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist chief, did not survive the holding of the Conservative convention last night at Papineauville. The nomination went to Honore Achin, an advocate of Nominingue.

A Three-Cornered Fight.

Welland, Aug. 17.—William Monroe of Thorold was unanimously chosen as Conservative standard-bearer for this county. The large auditorium of the court house proved inadequate, close to four hundred persons being present, and all municipalities in the county being represented. The session lasted from 2 until 7 p.m.

In view of the attitude of the late Liberal member, Wm. German, M.P., in opposing reciprocity there was a feeling in some quarters that the Conservative party should not nominate a candidate. Hon. Frank Cochrane, organizer for the province, while not dictating to the convention, voiced the view that the party might well recognize Mr. German's services against the pact.

P.E.I. Nominations.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Aug. 17.—The Federal nominations in Prince Edward Island are complete. The Liberals of Prince at Summerside have selected J. W. Richardson. Other candidates are Dr. P. C. Murphy, Conservative, for Prince; A. J. Warburton and L. E. Prowse, Liberals, and S. A. McLean and Donald Nicholson, Conservatives, for Queen's; J. J. Hughes, Liberal, and A. L. Fraser, Conservative, for Kings.

West Huron Liberals.

Goderich, Aug. 17.—At the Liberal convention for West Huron held here yesterday afternoon, M. G. Cameron, mayor of Goderich, was nominated. Mr. Cameron is opposed by E. N. Lewis, the late member at Ottawa, and both are strong campaigners.

Mr. Fielding Chosen.

Halifax, Aug. 17.—Two Liberal nominations took place yesterday in Nova Scotia. In Shelburne, Hon. W. S. Fielding was nominated for Queen's-Shelburne.

The Lunenburg Liberal convention nominated the late member, J. D. Sherry of Petite Revere.

Gervais Accepts Judgeship.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Honore Gervais, ex-member for St. James' Division, after an interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday, stated that he had decided to accept the appointment to the Court of King's Bench, appeal side. The new justice will be sworn in at the beginning of next month and will enter upon his duties with the opening of the Criminal Assizes, Sept. 15.

This leaves the Liberal candidature in St. James open, and a convention will be held shortly to choose a candidate. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux is spoken of, as the Liberals of St. James Division are anxious to be represented in Parliament by a member of the Cabinet.

Rostand Near Death.

Biarritz, France, Aug. 17.—Edmond Rostand, the poet and dramatist, was the victim of a serious automobile accident near here yesterday, and lies in his villa at Cambo-Les-Bains today, surrounded by physicians who as yet have been unable to determine what the outcome of his injuries will be. He is suffering from serious contusions of the head and body, and it is feared he is injured internally.

Mr. Rostand was motoring from Cambo-Les-Bains to St. Jean de Luz, accompanied by his chauffeur and a mechanic, when his machine skidded on a curve in the road, leaped into the air, turned over and fell to the bottom of a 15-foot ditch, pinning the poet beneath it. Mr. Rostand is 43 years old.

Another Blythe Case.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—A beating which she says she received at the hands of her husband, has brought another woman close to death. Mrs. Thomas Lowther, 7 Somerset avenue, was found wandering in the street early yesterday morning, bleeding profusely from a great scalp wound at the base of the skull. She was taken to the Western Hospital, where her condition is considered serious.

She says that her husband came home drunk Tuesday night and beat her, striking her repeatedly with an iron instrument. The man was arrested, charged with drunkenness, and was remanded a week from the Police Court yesterday morning.

Circus Train Wrecked.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The Barnum and Bailey circus train en route for Montreal was in collision yesterday morning, the engine drawing the circus cars crashing into the van of a freight train that was ahead of it going down grade on the same track.

The collision occurred on the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks between the Angus shops and the Eastern Abattoir. In the impact the van was cut in two, and the wreckage scattered for many feet around. There were no fatalities. The circus train was delayed about an hour, but the engine was not seriously damaged, and was able to draw the train to its destination.

A Clean-Up In Chatham.

Chatham, Aug. 17.—Chatham's little red light belt seems to be in for a thorough cleaning out by the police and several women of the local under world are worrying to-day over the trouble that faces them. An incident of Tuesday night, when a young man named Truckle attempted suicide in one of the alleged resorts, started the renovation of the city.

Two Men Blown Up.

Dublin, Aug. 17.—Two men lost their lives and two others were injured, in an explosion which accurred Tuesday at Kynoch's explosive factory at Arklow, County Wicklow.

It is stated that two men were wheeling a bogey containing four boxes of high explosives when, on reaching the points on the rails opposite a mixing house, a loud explosion occurred.

Fragments of the bodies were picked up on the sandhills around. A mixing house in which two men were engaged was partly blown in and the inmates were injured. The cause of the explosion is at present unexplained.

Commander McDonald's Fate.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Hon. L. P. Brodeur, former Minister of Marine, by resigning from that office last week to take a supreme judgeship, has escaped and relegated to his successor, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the unpleasant duty of deciding what shall be the fate of Commander McDonald, of the Niobe, an investigation into the grounding of which has just been concluded at Halifax. The report of the enquiry has not yet been received at the Navy Department. Commander Roper, however, who was a member of the investigating board, will return to-day with the report.

Arrests Follow Lynching.

Coatesville, Pa., Aug. 17.—Three men, one of whom, the authorities assert, was a leader of the mob, were arrested here yesterday and charged with murder in connection with the burning of Zacharias S. Walker, who was dragged on his cot from the Coatesville Hospital on Sunday night and cremated. Those arrested were Joseph Schofield, master mechanic of the Conestoga Traction Co.; Norman Price, a millhand, and George Stoll, who was employed with Price in the iron mills.

Hedges For Railways.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Every railroad in Canada and the United States will replace its right-of-way fences with beautiful flowering hedges if plans of the Railway Gardening Association, which opened its fifth annual convention here on Tuesday, are carried out. R. W. Hutchinson, landscape gardener of the Pennsylvania lines, and known as the "Father of Railway Gardening," advocated the hedge, and his sentiment was endorsed by the convention.

This Little Crank In Your Kitchen

Saves 20% on Coal
It is a wonderful patent device, the Oxford Economizer, and is licensed for use only on
GURNEY-OXFORD STOVES and RANGES
This marvellous regulator keeps the oven at a given temperature. No heat is wasted—nothing goes up the flue but bad odors, steam and smoke. The fire is held for hours without attention—ready for immediate use—and all this labor, time and fuel saved by simply turning the crank.
With the Divided Oven Flue Strip you have even baking, because of the perfect distribution of heat, secured by this expert arrangement.
The Reversible Grate is provided with strong, interlocking teeth that reduce coals to ashes by a single turn. In appearance, in details of finish and design the Chancellor is an ornament as well as a necessity in any kitchen.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF
Cures Cholera Infantum
This complaint is chiefly confined to infants between the ages of six and twenty months, and occurs mostly in summer. Outward applications of the Relief to the region where the pain prevails, and doses from five to ten drops, diluted with honey and water, given inwardly, will procure beneficial results. The purging being checked and the pain alleviated, half a Regulating Pill, in molasses or preserves, may be given to produce a healthy evacuation and tone the bowels.

Why I Am A Canadian

By ARTHUR HAWKES

Did it ever occur to you that there are two classes of Canadians?—those who couldn't help being Canadians and those who could. I would be very proud to belong to the couldn't-help-it class. But I belong to the other, and I would like to tell you why. I am a curiosity in patriotism. There are tens of thousands like me, most of them unrecognized. I want to find them, so that they may be encouraged to find themselves.

ARTHUR HAWKES.

Patriotism? Yes, sir, Patriotism is "Home Sweet Home" on a grand scale. Listen:—

> "Breathes there a man with soul so dead
> Who never to himself hath said:
> This is my own, my native land!"

Listen again:—

> The centurion told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest, for this man is a Roman.
>
> Then the chief captain came and said unto him, Tell me, are thou a Roman? He said I am.
>
> And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, BUT I WAS FREE BORN.

There is a glory of the native born—the thrill that passes through your heart and down your spine when the sacramental element of your nativity makes its subtle, compelling appeal to your mind. I know what it is; but not in Canada. If you have it, cherish it; be exceeding glad when it comes to you. Pass it on.

To us who enjoy only the blessing of adoption, who have given our native land a second place in our affections, is there even a glory for us in Canada? Can you—the native born—tell what it is? You can't, because you haven't had our experience.

We need not envy you, the native born; you need not envy us, the British-born. We are meet for one another, to conspire to make Canada as great in reputation as she is great in extent. And so it becomes you to inquire why I am a Canadian, and to think well upon my two answers.

One.—Because you asked me to be a Canadian.

I hope to be quite humble in expanding this answer, because I've had worthy people come to me and say, "We have found that British people are not welcomed here," and because I want to speak the truth in love. Personally I have never felt the slightest sense of not being welcome in Canada. Many years ago I moved from the South to the North of England, and I felt ever so much more a stranger north of the Trent than I have ever felt north of the St. Lawrence. Very thankfully I testify that never since I landed at Quebec, twenty-six years ago, have I said a word against conditions in Canada. Never a word has been said to me personally that I could resent. But there are others.

I know a man who has become as keen a Canadian as I have, who, with his wife, began life in Ontario on a farm. They are good people, who do good to others and who are already better off than they ever hoped to be in England. They left the farm because they were continually subjected to nagging about their nationality. For the sins of others they were called "chirpers" and other names.

You asked us to come. The Government has spent millions and millions of dollars in inducing British-born people to forsake friends and homes and traditions and places consecrated by sacred dust, and help to build up Canada. The Dominion has become prosperous because the immigrant, the chirper, as well as the capitalist, has arrived. Never forget, brother, that he was besought to come by you, through such people as Lord Strathcona and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. These great men have looked for assets for Canada; for an impetus to your prosperity. Be gentle in your attitude to the people who come from the same land that your ancestors came from. Let patience have her perfect work in you, in them. Ask yourself how you would get along if you were dumped into a Yorkshire manufacturing town and sent to work in a mill, and expected to become a Yorkshireman in five or six days.

Two.—I am a Canadian because I know Canada.

They know not England who only England know. They know not Canada who only their province, know. The Englishman who finds himself, say, in Southern Saskatchewan, for a year or two, and who visits the Old Country, says, "In Canada they do this and that." He will describe an ox harness, for instance. He does not know that in Nova Scotia they strap a yoke tight to the oxen's horns; and they also shoe each ox with eight iron shoes. To him the little bit of Canada he has seen is the whole of Canada.

Will you forgive me if I state the simple truth that a great deal of Canadian pride is nourished on a little knowledge of Canada. We can't all know the country, because if everybody travelled all the time there would be a standstill to industries on which the country prospers. That means that there is something of a responsibility upon those who have seen much of the country to help the less fortunate to realise what a noble country it is, and what a wonderful future it may make its own.

It was by a fortune I never deserved, that I went through the mill of pioneering in the West between 1885 and 1891, and that, after fourteen years' absence I came back, journeyed for three months all over the country, and finally settled in Toronto; and that in six years I have travelled a hundred and forty thousand miles between Halifax and Victoria.

Of deliberate choice, then, I brought my family to Canada. They do not want to go back to the land of their birth. We do not speak of England as "home." This is our home. We want no other. Our settlement has been consecrated by the advent of a little Canadian-born girl, who began life sturdier in body than either of her sisters. She will be able to sing of Canada as her native land. I am glad of it. You see, we combine the British-born and the Native-born.

And behold it is good—very good.

BEATTIE WILL GET SPEEDY TRIAL

CHESTERFIELD COURTHOUSE, Va., August 14.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., a young Virginian of good birth and breeding, will be placed on trial for his life here next Monday in the little red brick court house built more than 160 years ago. A grand jury today returned a true bill against him for wife murder and if convicted in the first degree he may be sent to the electric chair. Counsel for the defence strove hard for postponement of the case but Judge Walter A. Watson of the Chesterfield circuit court held that the inerests of the commonwealth demanded a speedy trial and, accordingly set the case for one week from today.

Already held guilty by a coroner's jury of having shot his bride in a motor car on the night of July 18th, the indictment of Beattie today was purely perfunctory. Only four witnesses were heard but the jurors deliberated for two hours before they returned the broad indictment covering all degrees of homicide.

Neither Paul Beattie, cousin of the defendant, nor Beaulah Binford, for the love of whom the state will charge that Beattie killed his wife, appeared before the jury, although both were brought here from Richmond.

The Binford girl who is only 17 years old, was prettily dressed in a blue tailed suit and a big picture hat. She appeared unruffled by the stare of the curious, although she shielded her face from photographers with her fan. No one except attaches of the sheriff's office, was allowed to see her.

Father to Stand by him.

Not only was the defendant not present in court today but no member of his immedite family put in an appearance. His old father has said that he will stand by him to the end but he avoided the notoriety of attending today's proceedings. Thos. Owen, an uncle of Beattie's wife, was a grand jury witness and was the only relative from that side of the case.

The little courtroom holds normally only 50 persons but perhaps 150 crowded into it today, while others swarmed about the windows and doors. Perhaps to discourage further attendance by curiosity seekers, Judge Watson commanded all disinterested spectators to remain standing. He wilted many in this way and several of the less tenacious retired disgruntled.

H. M. Smith, jr. and Hill Carter, both well-known criminal lawyers, appeared in Beattie's behalf. Bath pleaded that the case be not started before the first Monday in September. L. O. Wendenburg and L. M. Gregery, for the prosecution, argued that the sentiment of the people demanded swift justice and won their point.

Judge Watson in his charge to the grand jury said:

"I charge that you diligently inquire at whose hands an innocent and defenceless woman came to her death and with reasonable certainty to identify the perpetrator, that we may place him on trial."

A heavy rainfall has practically extinguished a big forest fire which was threatening the village of Penobsquis, N.B.

In a tornado that swept over Minnesota Tuesday night at least two persons were killed. Isolated reports from the state tell of wrecked barns and outbuildings.

A delegation of Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg and other veterans are arranging to co-operate with the Ottawa ones in extending a welcome to the Duke of Connaught.

President-elect Cinncinatus Leconte of Hayti yesterday took the oath of office before Congress and a great assembly that included all the high officials of the new Government.

The Canadian artillery was officially received at Avonmouth, Eng., by Col. Renouf yesterday. The president of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce also extended a hearty reception.

Nine additional warrants for those known to have been implicated in the lynching of Zachariah S. Walker, the negro, Sunday night, were sworn out yesterday by the Chester County, Pa., authorities.

Wm. Smith, a Kingston autoist, had a narrow escape at Collins' Bay. While traveling at a high rate of speed he lost control of his machine and crashed into a fence. He escaped with a fractured shoulder.

Ald. Rickets of Wilkes-Barre yesterday discharged Wm. Novalous, who admitted spanking his wife with his razor strop because she was extravagant. Mrs. Novalous appeared none the worse for the spanking.

Funeral Prepaid.

London, Aug. 17.—The recent death of a woman who paid for her own funeral benefits twenty years ago was the subject of an inquest Tuesday at St. Luke's coroner's court, E.C.

It was stated that the deceased woman, Elizabeth M. Chappell, aged 77, an old pensioner, was very eccentric. Her favorite method of spending her time was in the various city churches. She never spent a moment out of a church that she could help.

Twenty years ago she paid for her own funeral. The undertakers at first thought she was only joking, but she insisted, and a legal contract to bury her was drawn up and signed. She always carried the contract about with her.

Tried to Suicide.

Chatham, Aug. 17.—Announcing that he was going to end his life, Frank Truckle, a young married man, who recently came to this city from Toronto, walked into the rear rooms of a house occupied by Mrs. Mary Bowers, on South Queen street, Tuesday night and tilted a bottle of carbolic acid to his lips. Truckle did not swallow any of the acid, but a portion of it ran on his cheek, burning it. He was arrested, charged with attempting suicide, and committed for trial.

TERRIBLE CASE OF LAW'S INJUSTICE

PITTSBURG, Aug. 16.—Andrew Toth, who was released from the western Penitentiary recently, after serving twenty years of a life sentence for a murder which, it subsequently was proved, he never committed, will leave here to-night for his old home in Australia.

Broken in health and now an old man unable to work, Toth goes to meet his aged wife, whom he has not seen for a quarter of a century.

He feels keenly the failure of the State Legislature to provide for him some recompense for the lost years of his life, and enforced punishment of a felon visited upon an innocent man.

Trouble's shadow is often blacker than trouble itself.

If a woman can't think of any other excuse she can have a headache.

There are times when it is better to be imposed upon than it is to fight.

BELLEVILLE WON GREAT GAME OF BALL AT CHURCH PICNIC

Peterborough T. A. S. Were Beaten by 3 to 2—Ontarios Defeated T. A. S by the Score of 14 to 3—Three Thousand People Attended St. Michael's Church Picnic—Games, Sports, Dancing, and Amusements Were Very Attractive—A Fine Programme was Given and All Enjoyed Themselves

The congregation of St. Michael's Church, and especially the energetic committee who had in hand the management of the affair, are to be congratulated upon the success of the annual picnic, which was held yesterday in Holton's Grove, West Belleville. The weather was ideal for the event and the fact that it was the weekly half holiday helped to swell the crowd. From an early hour in the morning until quite late in the afternoon vehicles of every description were conveying parties to the beautiful grove, which had been especially prepared for the occasion. It was estimated that upwards of 3,000 persons were upon the grounds. Of this number 2,500 paid admission Rev. Father Spratt, the Parish Priest, and Father Meehan, the Curate were exceptionally busy persons, being everywhere where needed. During the day and evening the commodious grounds were thronged by a happy crowd, and nothing whatever occurred to mar the pleasant proceedings. In addition to those present from the city a large crowd from Trenton and the country surrounding were in attendance, and all seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves The I.O.O.F. Band were present all day and discoursed a number of selections, which were thoroughly appreciated. The orchestra in connection with the organization was also present and furnished music for dancing, which was indulged in until a late hour in the evening. A large platform was provided for those who desired to trip the light fantastic, and many indulged in the pleasure In the evening the grounds were illuminated with electric lights.

About the grounds were several booths and these during the day, and also in the evening, were liberally patronized.

Dinner and supper were provided, and a large number availed themselves of the opportunity of sampling the good things provided by the ladies. About 800 partook of dinner and equally as large a number had tea. The management in this respect was all that could have been desired.

Baseball Matches.

In the morning the only event was a baseball match between the Ontario and the T.A.S. teams of the city. The former proved to be easy victors, winning by a score of 14 to 3. Mr. Patrick Logue was umpire and filled that position most acceptably. The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Ontarios—	T.A.S.—
Mills, c.	Champagne, c.
W. Gerow, p.	Staples, p.
Lavoie, 1b.	Hogan, 1b.
Ketcheson, 2b.	Symons, 2b.
C. Pitcher, 3b.	Kelleher, 3b.
Muir, s.s.	O'Connor, s.s.
Maiden, l.f.	Goyer, l.f.
E. Moore, c.f.	Doran, c.f.
H. Pitcher, r.f.	Barrett, r.f.

Much interest was manifested in the afternoon ball game between the Peterboro' and the Belleville teams Recently the local team at Peterboro defeated the latter team and the return match was expected to be a battle royal, and such it proved to be. It was one of the best games of ball played in Belleville this year. Both teams played snappy ball from the start to the finish of the game, and there was naturally great rejoicing when our boys won out. The score was 3 to 2 in favor of Belleville. Ashton, pitcher for the winners, and Quinlan, the opposing twirler, both pitched good ball and were given superb support by the fielders. Two umpires were pressed into service. Mr. Wm. Cochrane was umpire on balls and strikes, and Mr. Patrick Logue looked after the bases. When the ninth innings was reached the score was 2 to 1 in favor of Belleville. Peterboro, being first at bat, made one run in their half of the ninth, tying the score, and Belleville, not to be outdone, also scored a run after two men had been retired. "Shorty" Brown did the trick by making a safe hit, scoring L. Gerow, who had reached third base. The details of the game are as follows:

1st Innings.

Peterboro'—Murphy walked; and O'Hearne out at 1st; Murphy scored on wild ball; M. O'Brien struck out; Quinlan flew to Brown.—One run.

Peterboro'—Murphy made a two-base hit; O'Hearne sacrificed, Murphy to 3rd; M. O'Brien struck out; Murphy out trying to make home.—No runs.

Belleville—Coyne and Connell out at 1st; O'Neil struck out.—No runs.

7th Innings.

Peterboro'—Quinlan made a safe hit; Gonter flew to Coyne; McFadden sacrificed, Quinlan to 2nd, and the latter was out for not touching 3rd base on trying to make home on a bunt by O'Brien, who reached 1st.—No runs.

Belleville—L. Gerow flew to W. O'Brien; O'Connor made 1st on error of Quinlan; Morden flew to M. O'Brien; O'Connor scored on passed ball; Gerow struck out.—One run.

8th Innings.

Peterboro'—Sheehy walked, but was caught at 2nd; Cresswel walked; Murphy struck out; O'Hearne out at 1st.—No runs.

Belleville—Brown made a safe hit; Ashton reached 1st on an error of Quinlan; Coyne flew to O'Hearne; Connell made a safe hit; Ashton out at 2nd; O'Neil out at 1st.—No runs.

9th Innings.

Peterboro'—M. O'Brien made a two-bagger; Quinlan struck out; Gonter struck out; McFadden made a safe hit, scoring M. O'Brien; W. O'Brien struck out.—One run.

Belleville—L. Gerow reached 1st on an error of Quinlan; O'Connor made a safe hit; Morden struck out; W. Gerow flew to W. O'Brien; Brown made a safe hit, scoring L. Gerow.—One run.

THEY RODE FROM CITY TO TRENTON

C. N. O. R. Construction Train in West Belleville—Citizens Had a Ride

As was noted in The Intelligencer yesterday, track-laying on the line of the C. N. O. R. has been completed to the west bank of the Moira River and in a few days the laying of the steel frame work on the piers across the river will be gone on with. The construction train yesterday came inside of the city limits. As it was necessary to return to Trenton for some material, the train was run up that town. Messrs. A. M. Chapman County Clerk, and Charles Farley enjoyed a ride to Trenton and returned Mr. Chapman, in conversation with a representative of this journal, stated that he enjoyed the trip very much, and that the road bed appeared to be in excellent condition. After a brief stay in Trenton the train returned to the city.

The work of preparing the roadway in the eastern portion of the city is progressing favorably and the laying of ties and rails will not be commenced until the superstructure has been placed on the piers across the river.

LAVERGNE REITERATES CHICOUTIMI STORY

Affidavits Support the Charge That Efforts were Made to Quash Protest

QUEBEC, Aug. 16.— Following statements made by Mr. Armand Lavergne at the meeting at Ste. Hyacinthe on Sunday afternoon to the effect that Mr. Justice Tourigny had been approached by Mr. Simon Lapointe at the instance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Hon. Jacques Bureau, with a view of securing a settlement of the case in which Mr. Joseph Girard was concerned in the Chicoutimi-Saguenay election protest. L'Evenement this afternoon publishes an interview with Mr. Lavergne which is accompanied by what purport to be three affidavits dealing with his charge.

The first affidavit is that of Mr Joseph Albert Savard, advocate of Chicoutimi, who acted for the defence of Mr. Girard. He alleges that during the whole trial Judge Tourigny repeatedly and officiously offered advice as to the way in which the case should be conducted to the point of placing him, Mr. Savard, in embarrassing positions. After recording several such alleged instances, Mr. Savard continues:

"In August, 1909, I met Judge Tourigny at Tadousac. He took me aside and told me that the judgment would be delivered in about a month He said that it was then ready. He added that it would be better to settle the matter out of court."

The second affidavit is that of Mr J. H. Farlady, a newspaper man of Chicoutimi, who swears that during the trial of Tache vs. Lapointe, Judge Tourigny said to him that the case should be settled as there was no more excuse for it being brought to trial than there was for the contestation of Girard's election.

"You ought to find a ground of understanding," Judge Tourignay is reported to have said. "It would be easy to rach a solution of the difficulty if either side would make a slight compromise. If Dubuc—manager of the Chicoutimi Pulp Mills—will see them the difficulty will be settled. He has only to say a word. His influence is commanding in your locality."

"He has only to tell Lapointe to withdraw, and he will withdraw. If you need a mediator to arrange the affair I am ready to find a man for you. Mr. Jacques Bureau or Senator Choquette, I am sure, would be acceptable to both parties, and I am sure would be willing to act."

The third affidavit is most important. It is from A. Laberge, merchant of Bigotville. After telling the conversation that Mr. Laberge had with S Lapointe and Senator Choquette, he intimated that Senator Choquette would have said:

"I have just arrived from Athabasca, where I met Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Rodolphe Lemieux who have entrusted me to make overtures to you for the settlement of Mr. Girard's contestation. Mr. Girard is to-day at Murray Bay with Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux and they will both be in Quebec to-morrow for the completion of the arrangement if he can find a ground of understanding. If you consent to abandon the contestation of Mr. Girard's election the government will give you the following advantages —(1) A payment of $30,00 to the Chicoutimi Pulp Company; (2) A payment of several subsidies to the Ha Ha Bay Railway Company; (3) A quiet settlement of the Tache-Lapointe difficulty; (4) A payment of many other expenses and costs.

The Men of the Northern Zone

Oh, we are the men of the Northern Zone!
Shall a bit be placed in our mouth?
If ever a Northerner lost his throne,
Did the conqueror come from the South?
Nay, nay—and the answer blent
In chorus is southward sent:
"Since when has a Southerner's conquering steel
Hewed out in the North a throne?
Since when has a Southerner placed his heel
On the men of the Northern Zone?

Our hearts are as free as the rivers that flow
To the sea where the north star shines;
Our lives are as free as the breezes that blow
Thro' the crests of our native pines.
We never will bend the knee,
We'll always and aye be free.
For liberty reigns in the land of the leal,
Our brothers are round her throne;
A Southerner never shall place his heel
On the men of the Northern Zone.

DISGUISED AS AN INSPECTOR

Reporter Obtains Access to Pope's Sister's Home--Learns All About His Condition

ROME, Aug. 16.—The cool air of the early morning helped to freshen the Pope, who when he was visited by his physicians appeared to be no worse than yesterday. Prof. Marchiafava the consulting doctor at the Vatican explained that the Pontiff's restless condition during the night was due perhaps, to the fact that he had slept longer than usual yesterday afternoon Moreover, the restlessness might be described as impatience at an invalid life, which is really a symptom of convalescence.

An incident, amusing to some, but annoying to the sisters of the Pope is related to-day. The sisters, who have been besieged by newspaper men and photographers, have become unapproachable to those wishing information regarding the Pontiff's condition for public uses

Late yesterday a reporter, disguised as an inspector for the gas company entered their home, and after examining the meter and pipes humbly inquired about the Holy Father. The sisters, mistaking the man for a devout individual anxious for the Pontiff's health, answered candidly. A few hours later they were chagrined to see every word they had spoken published in the Giornale di Italia.

This morning a genuine clerk from the gas company's office, who had not read the paper, visited the home of the sisters in the regular performance of his routine duty. No sooner had he explained his mission than he was overwhelmed by a torrent of Venetian remonstrations.

The unhappy clerk retired hastily discomfited, and at a loss to know how he had given offence.

A kick against fate is often but an apology for laziness.

"LIFE'S LULLABY"

Man is a Hypocrite from Birth to Death.

Man comes into this world without his consent, and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings by the balance of his species. In his infancy he is an angel, in his boyhood he is a devil, in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his duties he is a damn fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he raises a small cheque he is a thief and then the law raises the devil with him, if he is a poor man he is a poor manager and he has no sense; if he is rich, he is dishonest but considerd smart; if he is in politics you place him as he is, an undesirable citizen; if he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church he is a sinner and damned; if he donates to foreign missions he does it for show; if he doesn't he is stingy and a tight wad. When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; when he goes out, they all want to kick him. If he dies young there was a great future before him. if he lives to a ripe old age he is simply in the way and living to save funeral expenses. This life is a funny road, but we all like to travel it just the same.

Rejected from the Pew.

The danger of judging too quickly by appearance is illustrated in a good story told to-day of the late Mrs. Ware ,widow of the Bishop of Barrow-in-Furness.

Two strangers entered a North Country church. They were directed to a luxurious pew occupied by a fashionably-dressed woman. The occupant became angry at the intrusion, and in blunt language insisted on them leaving the pew at once. The strangers did so. After the service someone approached the angry pew-owner and said, "Do you know who those ladies were who wanted to sit in your pew?" "No," she replied, "they were nobody in particular, I am sure." "Oh, well," was the crushing reply, "one was the wife of the Bishop of Carlisle, and the other, her daughter, the wife of the Bishop of Barrow-in-Furness."

Atwood Reaches Toledo.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 17.—Exactly 520 miles from his starting point, Harry N. Atwood, the Boston aviator, who is attempting to break the world's long distance aeroplane record by flying from St. Louis to New York, alighted in Toledo yesterday afternoon after completing the third day of his trip with a spectacular flight 2,000 above the city.

He covered the 130 miles from Elkhart, Ind., to Toledo, with only one stop and in an actual flying time of two hours and 56 minutes.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

BASE BALL

NAPS LET OUT "CY" YOUNG.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 16—The Cleveland Americans gave Denton T. (Cy) Young, the veteran pitcher and grand old man of baseball, his unconditional release.

"I am not through," said Young last night, "and there is a lot of good pitching in me yet. I think a number of big league clubs will want me. I will remain in Cleveland, working out until I sign up with another club."

SOME BASEBALL UNIFORMS.

"Baseball uniforms," says Jesse Burkett, the grand old veteran who has in recent years been managing the Worcester club, "should always be distinctive, and, in some manner, peculiar to their respective clubs. The law requiring all teams to wear white on their home fields was an excellent idea, but previous to the time of its adoption there were some strange mistakes and mishaps, owing to the confusion of uniforms.

"Back in 1885, the champion Chicago White Sox wore a dark blue suit with white stockings—same suit both at home and abroad. But each player was specially identified, and the scheme might not be a bad one to revive today—each wore a special cap, that was peculiarly his own and could be distinguished from the cap of any other athlete, while a brief description of the caps was set down on the official programme. One man had a plain red cap; another wore a white cap with a blue peak; another had a black cap with a red stripe and so on for the entire team.

"Up to the time of the statute requiring the home costume to be white, every club was costumed at will and some amusing errors resulted. Once, for example, the Giants were at Chicago and the New York uniform that year was black. At a critical point of the game, a Chicago batsman hit into deep right and the fielder throwing in, shot the ball at a Chicago coacher who had a black sweater. The coacher of course dodged and three runs came in.

"Even nowadays, absurd breaks, will happen, but they are seldom serious. The climax, however, came off in Worcester not long ago. Some undiluted jassack connected with the New Bedford team managed to equip the Whalers with white uniforms for both traveling and home games. Thus newly arrayed, the New Bedfords came over to play us, and the trouble which followed would turn the hair gray on a cigar Indian. Before the game had gone half an inning, both teams began to make breaks that seemed utterly childish and yet were wholly understandable. If you have been accustomed to throwing the ball to your pals in white uniform, you simply cannot help going up in the air when an extra suit of white is suddenly injected into your field of vision. In the very first round our shortstop grabbed up a grounder, and calmly threw it to the hostile baserunner as he tore hastily down to the initial cushion. The baserunner ducked and then sped on to third.

"We were at bat a few minutes later, and had a man on first. This time the ball was hit to the New Bedford shortstop, who dashed for second to make a force-play. He had to cover the bag himself as his second baseman had been playing away out. As he neared the base our runner came charging up from the opposite direction. 'Turn quick and make it a double play!' said the New Bedford shortstop in high tones thrusting the ball into the hands of the baserunner—and my man, mechanically stone-headedly, whirled and threw to first, the ball beating the batsman to the bag by seven feet.

"The riot that followed was something never to be forgotten and it was finally patched up by the New Bedford team borrowing the gray traveling jackets of my men, thus changing their appearance enough to avoid further disorder and trouble."

THE TURF

R. J. Mackenzie's colors were home first in two races at Hamilton, on Veneta Strome and Flying Footsteps. Sir John Johnson won the midsummer Handicap in fast time. Valhalla led for two miles in the steeplechase and then faded into third position in the run home. The two-year-old victory of Tactoes was the first success of the Belmont stable at the meeting.

At the Fort Erie Grand Circuit races two Canadian-breds won—Hal B. Jun. and Major Brino. The other winners were Baron Alcyone and Robert Milroi.

At Cleveland Nannah, Sir R. and Bracegirdle were winners. Vernon McKinney won the first heat of the Hotel Hartman stakes in 2.04 1-4 and was distanced in the second for running.

A Georgia woman who moved to Philadelphia found she could not be contented without the colored mammy who had been her servant for many years. She sent for old mammy, and the servant arrived in due season. It so happened that the Georgia woman had to leave town the very day mammy arrived. Before departing she had just time to explain to mammy the modern conveniences with which her apartment was furnished. The gas stove was the contrivance which interested the colored woman most. After the mistress of the household had lighted the oven, the broiler and the other burners and felt certain the old servant understood its operations, the mistress hurried for her train.

She was absent two weeks and one of her first questions to mammy was how she had worried along.

"De fines' ever," was the reply. "And dat air gas stove — oh my! Why, do you know, Miss Fo'ence, dat fire ain't gon out yit."

A REVIVAL

William A. Sunday, quondam professional revivalist, closed the evangelistic season of 1910-11 the other day with $70,507.77 to the good as a result of his year's work "winning souls to Christ."

This return for about ten months' work, more than the president of the United States has drawn for the same time, is evidence that from a monetary standpoint evangelistic work is more profitable than playing professional baseball. The Rev. Mr. Sunday recently refused an offer to go back to the "majors" once more. The inducement was but $500 a month.

Seven thousand a month looks better to Billy. Besides he thinks he can do more good in the world preaching than playing ball!

During the past season Billy Sunday broke all evangelistic records for money earned.

The Side He Would Choose.

The wit of the Duc de Morny, who was believed to be half-brother to Napoleon III, and his chief assistant in the coup d'etat of 1851, was only equalled by his political sagacity. According to his most recent biographer, Frederic Loliee, he seems to have been an opportunist of the perfect dye. "It is said," a lady remarked to him at a time of political excitement, "It is said that a clean sweep is to be made of the Chamber of Deputies. What will you do, Monsieur de Morny?" "Madame," said the maker of the Second Empire, "if the broom is to be used, I shall try to place myself on the side of the handle."

The Eternal Feminine.

"A woman never feels good unless she loves someone."

"The difference between being fond of a woman and being really fond of her is not as easily explained to the woman as to oneself."

"The penalty for a mistake is heavier than the penalty for a sin."

"With life, as with fiction, a woman is always eager to peep at the last chapters first, but a man generally prefers to take the chapters in their order."

BROKEN-DOWN NERVES

HOPELESS CONDITION CURED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MILFORD HAVEN, ONT., Aug. 20th, 1910

"I was a complete invalid, three years ago, with Stomach Trouble, Constipation and Broken-down Nerves. I could not sleep at night and my Doctor did me very little good. I was almost helpless until I began to take "Fruit-a-tives" in small doses. I have taken about three dozen boxes in all and, Thank God, to-day I am well and strong—able to do my own work—and have a baby fifteen months old, and six children in all.

I would not be without "Fruit-a-tives" in the house, and I can highly recommend them to anyone suffering as I did."

MRS. D. GUINEY.

Nervousness is not a disease in itself, but is the result of some of the vital organs becoming diseased. In Mrs. Guiney's case, her nervous condition was caused by a very weak stomach and torpid liver. "Fruit-a-tives" strengthened her stomach—helped digestion—made the liver active—and cured Constipation. Then her nerves became well.

If your nerves are "all unstrung", take "Fruit-a-tives". 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

SERIOUS BREAD RIOTS AT LIVERPOOL

Groceries Stormed—Labor Leaders Refuse to Submit Grievances to Royal Commission

(Intelligencer Special.)

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Aug. 18.—Serious bread riots occurred to-day, the mob storming the big grocery establishments and carrying away food. The soldiers have been unable to keep the power plants in operation, and many factories have been forced to close.

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 18.—It was announced at noon that the labor leaders, after a long conference, still refused to submit their grievances to a royal commission. London was further crippled to-day when the tube men struck. About one thousand men, long unemployed, responded to an appeal for special volunteer constables.

ZIONIST DECLARATION

(Intelligencer Special.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 18.—The Zionists have issued a "declaration" that Christ will reveal himself in Zion City before next year.

A HEAVYWEIGHT DEAD

(Intelligencer Special.)

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 18.—"Dolly Varden," a negress weighing 450 pounds, died this morning at an advanced age. For years she was with Barnum & Bailey.

SCARED, NOT HURT

(Intelligencer Special.)

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 18.—The crowd in the police court ducked this morning when a noise like a pistol shot rang out when the eight Italian Black Handers were remanded to jail for another week. The disturbance was caused by one prisoner in a rage shoving his fist through his black derby hat.

SENT TO PEN; WANTED HERE

MONTREAL, Aug. 17—Gordon McMartin, a youth of 16, was sent to the penitentiary for two yesar this morning by Judge Choquet for breaking into seventeen cars of the Grand Trunk Railway. Another charge hanging over him is for a theft of forty dollars from Jos. Adelard of Coteau Landing. He is also wanted in Belleville and St. Alban's for stealing clothes. At the time of his arrest the Chief of Police from St. Alban's was looking for him in this city on the latter charge.

McCARTHY vs BELLEVILLE

At Toronto, yesterday, before Chief Justice Falconbridge, motion by plaintiff for an order quashing by-law 1639 of the city of Belleville, granting aid to Marsh & Henthorn, Limited. By consent of parties, motion enlarged one week.

C. O. R. IMPROVEMENTS

The Central Ontario Railway has been active this summer in improving the roadbed from Picton to Maynooth. No less than 5,000 train loads of gravel have been put on. Mr. Joe Berry has superintended this work.—Trenton Courier.

EIGHT IN COOP

There are at present only eight inmates of the county jail, all being males. Of this number two will be discharged to-morrow. This number of inmates is exceptionally small for this county.

C. N. R. ACTIVITIES

Work on the C. N. R. is progressing well at Yarker and quite a number of men are busy. Seven cement piers will be put in the centre of the river. One contractor heard that the C. N. R. in the near future would build a direct line from Yarker to Kingston.

THE USUAL RESULT

Mr. Fred Gillen since Wednesday has no desire to separate dogs who are inclined to fight. He made an effort on that day to part two dogs which were fighting, when one of the canines turned upon him and bit him severely upon the left hand. The wound was cauterized and dressed by a physician and no serious results are anticipated.

CITY BALL LEAGUE

A meeting of the Executive of the city baseball league was called for last evening to consider a protest which had been entered against the game played on Saturday afternoon last between the Coleman Flats and Grand Trunk teams. Gerow and Connell, who left the Steel Company of Canada team, played with the G. T. R. team and the contention is that their acceptance of positions on the G. T. R. team had not been sanctioned by the Executive according to the constitution. Nothing definite was done, however, and an adjournment was made until Wednesday evening next.

DRUNKS WERE SOAKED

Ald. Clarke occupied the seat upon the police court bench this morning and disposed of the cases brought before him.

Drunks.

John Kelley and Thomas O'Hara were each fined $1 and costs for being intoxicated.

Thomas Cornell had to contribute $5 and costs for the same offence owing to the fact that it was not his first appearance.

COUNTY COURT CLERKS

A meeting of the County Court Clerks' Association, being composed of the County Court Clerks of the whole of the Province of Ontario, was held at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Wednesday last. A great number of matters of importance and interest to the members were discussed. Mr. John Williams, of the city of Belleville County Court Clerk of the County of Hastings, was elected President for the ensuing year, and Mr. J. A. V. Preston, of Orangeville, was elected Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Williams is to be congratulated on the honor lone him.

KICKED BY A HORSE

Master Oscar Pierce, a lad of 12 years, and son of Mr Frank Pierce Carrying Place Road, was kicked by a horse last Tuesday. Mrs. Pierce and Oscar were in the yard where two horses were loose and the horses feeling good, kicked suddenly, hitting the boy in the face It was at first supposed he had been killed outright However, his fathes carried him to Dr. Farncomb's residence where he appeared to show signs of life. The next day he recovered sufficiently to recognize his mother and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

POWER HOUSE AT TRENTON

"The development of power at No. 2 dam will soon become a reality. A visit to the power house and concentrator building is a revelation. We note the magnificent apparatus the Electric Co. have installed as they are certainly very fine. The different companies who have their separate contracts are rushing to completion of the various work they are connected with. The first unit will be ready for operation the 1st of September. The thirty-two ton transformers are in place in the transformer building and the most modern apparatus for protecting the equipment against lightning are being installed at the switching station, so that the company will be able to guarantee continuity of service —Trenton Courier.

WALTER STINSON KILLED

Walter Stinson, a former resident of Greenbush, Prince Edward county and well known in town, was killed last week near Boston. The particulars of the accident are taken from a Boston paper. "Walter S. Stinson a locomotive fireman on the New York New Haven and Hartford Railway was fatally injured on August 6th when his locomotive jumped a switch at Harwich. He was placed on a special locomotive which raced for the hospital at Boston, but the man died. The accident happened when the locomotive was entering the yard. It jumped a switch and half buried itself in the sand. The engineer shut off steam, and by jumping through the window escaped injury. Stinson, who was at work, stopped back to see what was the matter, just enough to be caught between the cab and the tender. He was pinioned and crushed."

ENDED HIS LIFE BY LEAP FROM DECK

Reginald Bignall, of London Committed Suicide From Sicilian

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—The Allan Line steamer Sicilian which arrived in port yesterday afternoon bings the tale of a suicide while at sea. Reginald Bignall, a Londoner, 40 years of age, on the 8th of August threw himself overboard and was drowned.

The deceased a bright kind of a fellow according to the passengers, told he was coming to Canada to work. On the morning of the tragedy he took his breakfast with his fellow passengers and talked and chatted and seemed to be in his usual mood. However he was missing from the dinner table.

A stewardess passing along the deck saw him deliberately throw himself overboard. A shout of alarm was immediately given, the steamer stopped and a boat was lowered. Every effort was made to recover the unfortunate fellow, Cammander Tanneck standing by for two hours in the attempt.

It was stated that at the time Bignall threw himself into the ocean, many sharks were around the vessel.

He left no word explaining his action and his baggage has not been touched.

BIRTH

LAZIER—At Edmonton, Alta., on Sunday, August 6th, 1911, to Mr and Mrs. T. C. Lazier, a daughter.

MOTHER AND BABES BLOWN FROM BEDS

Outrage Committed by Black Hand in Italian Quarter in New York City

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A mother and her new-born baby were literally blown from their bed in the beehive section of the seething east side early to-day. The outrage was committed by Italian Black Handers, enraged because a prospective victim had refused to pay tribute. Because of the dastardly crime, Commissioner Waldo and Inspector Hughes took personal charge of the detectives trying to find the dynamiters.

The woman was Mrs. Jennie Colarusso. Her baby was born just 21 hours before the attempt on his and his mother's lives. The exploding bomb threw them out of the bed onto the floor, where they were covered with plaster and falling debris. They were hurried to a hospital.

Fifty inmates of the house, which is at 813 First avenue, rushed to the streets in terror when the explosion took place. Antonio Colarusso, a retired wine and olive merchant, husband and father of the victims, told the police he had received letters signed by the Black Hand, demanding money.

DECOLETTE PARADE ON BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Aug 17.—"Alice" blue and "Helen" pink are the prevailing colors of pajamas and nighties used by the leading lights of stage land and society according to the firemen who fought a bad fire at 1510 and 1542 Broadway, diagonally opposite the fashionable Hotel Astor early today. Guests in that hotel, and in Rectors, the Arcadia, the Hotel Werner, and Bartholdi, received severe frights when a 250-gallon tank of gasoline exploded. Men and women in all stages of undress filled the corridors and windows while the more timid rushed to the street level. All were reassured and sent back to bed

Bernstein's theatric show store Wallace's cigar store, and Dell's candy shop in the burned building were demolished.

The centre of interest to the firemen and crowd was the Bartholdi, which adjoins the burned building. It houses 200 members of the theatrical profession and they made a hasty exit carrying dogs, parrots, make-up boxes and their outer clothing. It was the most decollete parade in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Show girls, ingenues, leading ladies and heavies were jammed on the curb and the police finally drove back the delighted spectators and herded the refugets into the Hotel Astor until the fire was out and they could get their clothes.

GAMBLING TRUST IS REVEALED

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Organized gambling, a trust in race track news is rapidly spreading over the United States, with its wires in every poolroom where bets are placed on running horses. The facts have come out through a quarrel between the two men back of it and a fight for control of the race news from the Butte track

Mont Tennes, known everywhere as the kingpin gambler of the Central West, tells how he eliminated Tim Murphy from his organization, his expose following some unkind words from Murphy. Charges of graft are handed about freely. The pair organized their race news bureau a couple of years ago with a $5,000 roll. Murphy took the eastern end and Tennes sent out his results from Chicago to poolrooms and saloons all over the west The game developed rapidly, with an increase of gambling on running races and Tennes had practically a monopoly of the field.

EXPLOSIVE LETTER WENT OFF IN P. O.

SOUTH WALES, Conn., Aug. 17.—Postal inspectors are searching for the sender of a letter which exploded in the electric stamping machine of the post office, yesterday, wrecking Frederick M. Miller, who was operating it. Fire followed the explosion but was subdued quickly. The explosion was caused by dynamite caps in the letter.

CURRENT COMMENT

Absent-minded beggar, our eloquent Prime Minister. He forgot to say a word about the Oliver charges at Simcoe.

Is the "bird in the hand" which Laurier wants the American eagle? Alas, many think so.—Toronto Telegram.

Laurier has reached the parting of the ways. His heart at one time in France, has gone "body and boots" over to the United States.—Ottawa Journal.

The Liberal condidate in St. Antoine division, Montreal, is an analyst. There will be barrels of trouble if he begins to use his talents on some of the actions of his political chief.

Here is another proof of the Dominion Government's antagonism to Ontario. Twelve leading English papers are to send representatives to tour Canada but Northern Ontario is left out. Will Mr. Oliver kindly explain why?—Kingston Standard.

Some of the Grit papers have been publishing as a despatch from Washington, a statement that a big corruption fund has been sent from the United States for use by the Conservatives in the elections. This story originated with Hearst's yellow journal 'Nuf sed.

At the last meeting of the Watertown Cheese Board, the largest in Northern New York, the highest price quoted was 11 3-4c. Compare this with 15 cents and 13 cents paid on the Canadian Boards, and then decide whether reciprocity in cheese would be a profitable step for the Canadian farmer. Not much.

The reciprocity fad got a body blow when R. L. Borden said this in his speech at London: "Twelve foreign nations with an aggregate population of three hundred millions, and an enormous production of agricultural and animal products will have access to the free Canadian market. Canada will receive no reciprocal advantage from these countries, and the United States producers will not be exposed to the same competition."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues are keeping up their effort to make reciprocity the one issue of the campaign. In connection with reciprocity they can talk of what their work will do. This detracts attention from what their work has done, and from such things as the National Transcontinental Railway botch, the Quebec bridge failure, the Intercolonial Railway waste scandal, the Sore house painting business, the burking of the investigation into that $69,000 election fund, obtained by Mr. Oliver in the United States, and the doubling of the burden of national taxation.—Montreal Gazette.

Do the following utterances of a Montreal broker explain the United States' desire for reciprocity: "This semi-panicky New York market," he said, "is one of the most eloquent arguments I know of against reciprocity. Without the evil influence of the United States conditions we would have been going along famously here but the American nervousness has already cast its spell over our market. Business in the States has been bad for months," he went on, "and unless the tariff wall is maintained between the two countries, we will be used as a slaughter market, and then our business will go too. Trade figures show that the United States exports are increasing rapidly. This means only one thing—the Americans are not selling their goods at home, they are dumping them in the foreign markets. The deluge will strike us if the barrier is not kept up."

Mr. Jas. G. Lindsay, C.E., of Belleville, was in town last week in an advisory capacity. Before commencing the construction of cement walks the Council thought it wise to get the opinion of an expert in the matter and Mr. Lindsay was called in. He advised the Council not to commence the work this fall, as they would only get nicely started when the cold weather would set in. In the meantime the necessary material for filling can be placed on the ground, and everything put in readiness for an early start in the spring. Mr. Lindsay was very much impressed with the water power here, and expressed the opinion that the future of the village depended upon its development.—Bancroft Times.

MRS. EVELYN THAW FILES A PETITION

Wants Share of Harry Thaw's $60,000 a Year Income—Asks for Commission

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 17.—Asking for a lunacy commission for Henry Kendall Thaw, now confined in the Matteawan hospital, a petition was filed in common pleas court here, today in behalf of Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, his wife. Judge L. L. David admitted the petition after some discussion as to whether a Pennsylvania court had jurisdiction. Attorney Francis Rawley who filed the petition, asked for a rule to show why the commission should not be appointed but this was refused as the attorney could not tell the court the names of the persons who have charge of Thaw's income in this county. A hearing will take place when the parties interested have been notified.

Mr. Rawley stated that Thaw's income is $60,000 a year and Mrs. Thaw, being without means, is entitled to a share of this amount.

FEDERAL ELECTION MAKES RAID ON ONTARIO HOUSE

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—Seven by-elections for the Ontario Legislature are in prospect, six of which will be occasioned by the candidature in this election of members of the local house for the House of Commons.

Six resignations should be in the hands of Hon. Thos. Crawford, Speaker of the Legislature very soon. The seats affected are: North Brant, J. M. Fisher; Centre Bruce, Col. Hugh Clark; Lennox, W. J. Paul; Ottawa, A. E. Fripp; North Wentworth, Gordon C. Wilson; South Bruce, R. E. Truax. All are Conservatives save Mr. Truax.

The seventh seat vacant is Victoria, which was rendered so by the death of S. J. Fox the sitting member.

DIED

HURLEY—Died at Belleville, on Thursday, Aug. 17th, 1911, Ellen Hurley, beloved wife of Jeremiah M. Hurley.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Queen Street, on Saturday, Aug. 19th, 1911, at 8.45 a.m. to St. Michael's Church. Interment at St. James' Cemetery.

RECIPROCITY IN THE FAIR WEST

Here is what a traveller told the Minneapolis News. In the interest of Canada it is to be hoped he is correct. "That the Canadian West from Vancouver to Winnipeg, farmers, laborers, shopkeepers and manufacturers alike, is opposed to the reciprocity pact with the United States and that the measure, if it passes Congress and the Dominion Parliament, will fail of ratification when put to put to popular vote north of the line, is the assertion made after months of travel over western Canada by John Culbert, pioneer and capitalist of Aberdeen, S. D.

"Their loyalty to the empire and their fear that the pact as an "entering wedge" will bring them too close to annexation by the United States is the general reason assigned for their antagonism by the Canadians.

Mr. Culbert has also travelled in the west this side of the border, and there also he found sentiment adverse to the treaty, he says.

WOMAN MAYOR WILL NOT QUIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—The National Suffrage Association yesterday got this statement from Ella Wilson, the Mayor of Hunnewell, Kan.:—

Hunnewell, Kan., Aug. 13, 1911.

The reports recently published in the New York papers about me and my attitude toward work in which I am engaged are unjust and absolutely false. They quote me as saying:—"Politics is not a woman's game." I have never made such a statement nor have I arrived at that conclusion As to my resigning, I have no intention of so doing; neither have I any desire for such action. I am in a fight for higher morals and a better city government, and I am confident that I shall be victorious. The men of Hunnewell who belong to the whiskey and gambling element are opposing me in every possible way, but I shall stick to my post and earnestly endeavor to accomplish some reforms that are greatly needed here.

INHERITED A FORTUNE

An Elderly Bachelor was Indignant at Small Wages Paid a Girl

Fraulein Wardyss, a poor girl employed as a saleswoman in a boot and shoe shop in a small town in Hungary, has just inherited a fortune of $130,000 under extraordinary circumstances. Herr Croney, an elderly bachelor, was among the customers at the shop, and expressed indignation at the small wages paid to her. Recently he entered the shop to make some small purchases, and said that he intended to make Fraulein Wardyss heiress to all his property. She laughed, as she believed him to be badly off, his clothes being shabby. Saying, "I really mean it," he unfastened his cuff, and laying it flat on the counter, drew out a fountain pen and wrote a will. He called two apprentices to sign it, and having placed it in his pocket, left the shop. A few minutes later Herr Croney, in making a violent effort to avoid a motor-car in the roadway, overstrained his heart and fell dead. Next day Fraulein Wardyss was informed that his estate of $130,000 was at her disposal.

KEEP CAPITAL AT HOME

Eugene Foss Does Not Want American Dollars to Go Into Canada

Governor Eugene Foss, of Massachusetts, said: "The proposed reciprocity agreement is certainly a step in the right direction. None of our industries will be injured; neither will the farmer suffer, and it should result in reducing the cost of some of the necessities of life. I confidently predict that the people will continue this demand until there is absolute free trade between the two countries.

"New factories in all lines will be established here, for with these conditions our capital will no longer seek Canada for the purpose of building up those factories which it is now forced to build in Canada by unnatural tariff conditions.

"Reciprocity will not only build up this section, but the whole country will receive a tremendous impetus for the next 100 years."

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

The rustic nature of these northern states and territories pleased him. In many ways they reminded him of sections of his own native state. The healthy climate, the general good-fellowship, the hospitable receptions with here and there a rebuff, kept his interest continually quickened. Occasionally he would come across a former resident of Vermont, and they would both enjoy a treat in the way of exchanging gossip regarding friends "back East." It was fortunate for the young man's progress that this part of the country was traversed during the summer months, else many important places would have been omitted, because of lack of conveyance; as it was an occasional night under the starry heavens or in a breezy cabin, was necessitated, but did not disturb his peace of mind.

How often did tender feelings swell his heart as he thought of the California experiences and Marian's sweet voice. He could still feel the soft pressure of her hands and listen to the remembered laughter in her dear voice. Times without number had he coined letters in his mind, but paper seemed unworthy to contain his thoughts to her. Then he would push forward energetically, that his search might the sooner end, leaving him free to go towards the sunny south and the girl he loved. He knew she was waiting his coming there, and that knowledge aided materially in strengthening his courage. Finally he stepped over the state border in Northern Dakota with its fertile fields, and its prosperous, intelligent inhabitants. Town after town was visited; firm after firm in the lumber trade interviewed; yards, camps and logging sections alike thoroughly inspected, but with no trace of the missing heir.

It was the first day of September when, tired, home-sick, and ready to throw down the hunt, he arrived at Grand Forks, fully decided to take a week's rest. A very pretty little town it was, with well-laid out streets and substantial buildings, showing the most modern ideas in architecture and comfort. It was just such a town as would attract a tired traveller and Alex deemed himself fortunate in having reached the picturesque spot to while away a short resting time. Several persons nodded pleasantly as they met him in the streets and one lady seemed about to speak, but as he passed her brusquely, she had not time to address him. A pleasant-faced gentleman stopped, and extending his hand, said in a welcoming voice "Glad to see you back Graham; we have missed you. Going to remain with us now?"

"I may," was the non-committal reply.

Well, come over and be neighborly John."

"Thank you. Regards to the folks," said Grant, and before the other could offer further questions or remarks, he was out of ear-shot.

"The most favorable sign since I have left home," he smiled to himself, as he hurried toward the town's centre. "If John has been here, then our resemblance to one another is deceiving some of these good people Those two girls over there now, know me, or rather 'the fellow that looks like me.' I shall get into difficulty if I don't look sharp. Still, there is a chance to obtain important information here, if I keep my bearings. If I assume John's identity for a while, they will never know the difference—and it will be jolly besides—that is, of they don't question me too closely on personal affairs of the heart."

"Well, John Graham! Are you really back?" cried a bright, eager voice. "We have all been wondering where you went to. Now give an account of yourself, Mr. Runaway," and she looked familiarly into Alex's face

"I've been away on business," he answered frankly, meeting the honest eyes squarely.

"I hope you are to remain here, now that you have returned?" continued the young lady.

"It is quite possible that I shall," he fenced adroitly.

"Oh, how nice! Be sure you give my regards to Alice," and with a merry nod and laugh, the mischievous miss turned to her companion who was waiting a short distance away.

"Another evidence that my worthy cousin has been here. But I wonder who 'Alice' is?"

Presently he found himself opposite a large three story frame building flaunting a mammoth sign, "GRAND FORKS LUMBER COMPANY."

For a moment he stood irresolute staring across at it. So many times he had been disappointed in just such signs, that now their facing him sternly awoke no concern in him. Everywhere the firms had heard nothing of the missing youth.

"It looks like a large concern," he argued tentatively, and I suppose there is no harm in trying. I should be almost disappointed if I found him here, I am growing so used to failure," he finished, smiling whimsically.

He crossed the street and approached a door upon which was painted the word "OFFICE," pushed it open without further hesitation and entered the building.

PART TWO.

CHAPTER XI.

THE YOUNG PIONEER—ONE OF MANY HORRORS.

It was during the early days of the great western influx, when scores of Easterners were breaking away from the old ruts of hand-to-mouth existence and seeking new homes in the far West, from whence came tales of fabulous wealth in precious metals and abundant crops,—when emigrants willingly faced the countless dangers experienced on the trail to better their condition, so great was their faith in the reported opportunities of the land toward the setting sun, that Billy Wheeler, a rugged, daring woodsman who, wearied of the cramped condition that had ever been his lot, strapped together his few belongings and started for the Black Hills regions then in feverish boom. Full of determination to "win out," he turned his back on the old home and associations and faced towards the West.

On, on he strode, over hills, and through vales, the dense forests as home with the freshly cut boughs for a bed the spreading branches for a covering and chippering squirrels for companions. Neither to the one side nor to the other did he stray, but kept to his course,—due west. Occasionally he would consult a pocket compass but never found it necessary to change his route. His stride was long and the speed unusually rapid for a pedestrian.

Fully six feet in height, broad of shoulder and symmetrical in build he looked what he was, a man of strength and endurance. His face was comely and benevolent in expression, but the evidence of firmness was defined in the square jaw. His well-shaped head was covered with a heavy growth of dark hair, and a stubby beard covered the entire lower portion of his face. His garb was that of a huntsman, and hanging from his belt at the waist were a hatchet, a sheath-knife, and a brace of revolvers. From either shoulder were slung powder-horn and bullet-pouch, while a small knapsack-like bundle rested easily across his back. Dangling in hunter fashion was a trusty rifle that had never missed fire, or failed to send its leaden messenger to the mark while in his steady hands. His left hand swung a grey slouch hat, the right fingers frequently combing back the long hair from his high, thoughtful brow.

TO INVADE CANADA

A General Plan to Go After Canadian Trade

Has "the boss" been eyeing you keenly of late, apparently weighing your capabilities and your value to the firm? If so he probably has slated you for a possible position as one of the army of Minneapolis salesmen that will invade Canada if the pending reciprocity treaty is adopted.

Though Minneapolis already has a large selling force in Western Canada, and though many firms will increase their forces only slightly, the smaller firms plan to branch out and go after the trade that would result in Minneapolis becoming a still greater wholesale market. No time is to be lost in having the reserve force all ready "to shoot" into the new trade territory to win laurels for themselves and dollars for Minneapolis and her enterprises.—Minneapolis Tribune.

IMPETUS TO THE STATES

Recirocity Would Be a Great Thing For Uncle Sam

The Philadelphia Press says: "As the President warns us, the present opportunity may never come again. He speaks by the card when he reminds us that the forces which are at work in England and Canada to keep the Dominion and the United States commercially apart would derive an impetus from the rejection of this agreement which would almost certainly effectually block any subsequent attempt to accomplish what it is sought to accomplish now. The duty of the Senate is clear. The majority of that body—a Republican majority—could commit no graver blunder, political or economic, than to refuse to respond to the call of the President and of the country to make the most of this opportunity."

OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

G. B. Nicholson Says Thousands of Canadians Would Be Thrown Out of Employment

"Previous to the passing of the Payne-Aldrich tariff in August, 1909," says Mr. M. C. Martin, Montreal, "we were shipping large quantities of hides to the United States, paying a duty of 15 per cent. The Payne-Aldrich treaty removed the duty entirely. We did not save anything through this removal, however. Somebody did, and as far as I can make out, that somebody was on the other side of the line. Prices did not go up until October, and then they merely followed the upward trend of the American market. The experiences of this trade market is a warning to the farmers and the remainder of Canada not to build too high on the expectations of increased prices should reciprocity become a reality."

Mr. G. B. Nicholson, Chapleau

"For more than thirty years we have gone ahead, following a policy of developing and maintaining our own resources without regard for the actions or policies of our neighbors, and who will say we have not been successful? Should the proposed agreement be ratified, possibly three-fourths of the Canadian farmers will receive slightly increased prices for their products, but the minority will lose more than the majority will gain, and at the same time every consumer will pay more for the necessities of life, and thousands of men engaged in the transportation business will be thrown out of employment by the diversion of traffic from east and west to north and south, and the transference of profitable terminal trade from Canadian to United States centres."

A. C. McCalla, of St. Catharines

"I am not an alarmist, but if the agreement goes through we fruitgrowers are going to be injured for some time to come. I am a Liberal and have always voted for the present Government. This matter, however, personally concerns me and all the men throughout the district. We have planted our orchards with an idea of our own Canadian Northwest market. To readjust them for American markets will take a great deal of time and mean considerable loss to us. Then if reciprocity is thrown out in two or three years and another readjustment has to be made, we will be in a nice fix. Again, this talk about growers getting increased prices through reciprocity is all nonsense. The only increase we are receiving is on tomatoes, and this took effect long before reciprocity was discussed at all. It was simply due to the fact that various firms realized that we would not bother with tomatoes unless the price was raised."

Only a wise man knows how little he actually knows of that which may be known.

ONE PERFORMANCE ONLY

He Dined With The Servants And He Entertained Them.

A well-known society entertainer had been engaged to give a performance at a country house. The hostess had "risen", and was of snobbish instincts. She left instructions that the entertainer was to dine with the servants. The butler, who knew better, apologized; but the entertainer was not easily disconcerted.

"Well, now, my good friends," said he, after he had dined well, "if we have all finished, and you are all agreeable, I will give you my little show."

The servants were delighted, and though there was no piano, the entertainer managed very well for half an hour without it. At ten o'clock a message came down asking Mr. Dash if he would kindly come into the drawing-room. He went, and found the company waiting.

"We are quite ready, Mr. Dash," said the hostess.

"Ready for what?" he demanded.

"Why, for your entertainment, to be sure," was the answer.

"But I have given it already," explained the entertainer; "and my engagement was for one performance only."

"Given it! Where? When?"

"Down-stairs; an hour ago."

"But this is nonsense," exclaimed the hostess.

"It seemed to me somewhat extraordinary," was the steady reply; "but it has always been my privilege to dine with the company I am asked to entertain. I took it you had arranged for a little treat for the servants."

Then he left to catch his train.

The $100 Loss

A writer in the Toronto World, commenting upon the statement made by Burns, of Toronto, a dealer in horses, which we reproduced a day or two ago, says:

"Mr. Maclean, in his conversation with Charley Burns about horses, could have brought out a still stronger point: not only will reciprocity cut down the value of any horse the Ontario farmer has to sell, but it also means that he will have to write down the value of any team he has by just $100. The day reciprocity passes every team in Ontario drops in value $100. And did you ever hear of the glandered horses of the States that will be sent in here in droves if the bar is let down?"

A Liberal's View of the St. Hyacinthe Meeting

In the account of the Bourassa-Lemieux St. Hyacinthe meeting by the correspondent of the Free Press, the Government organ in Ottawa, the following will be found, which, coming from a supporter of Laurier and his Cabinet, may be accepted as correct, indicative of a break in the hitherto solid phalanx of Laurierism in the Province of Quebec. The correspondent says:—

"There is no use in beating about the bush, Henri Bourassa was the hero of the day. He and not Hon. Rodolph Lemieux had the sympathy of the crowd. Bourassa was able to prove that he is able to make the naval question the feature of any meeting at which he is present, and, what is more to the point, able to hold it so. The meeting simply goes to show that the Nationalist propaganda has become dangerous to the Liberal cause in Quebec.

"It was with the greatest possible difficulty that Mr. Lemieux got a hearing at all; the crowd was overwhelmingly Bourassa in sentiment. It was a significant fact," says the correspondent, "that the name of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which is usually enough to awaken a tremendous ovation at a Quebec meeting, was passed by in silence a number of times in the course of the speeches."

It is well that the French Canadian solid compact which has existed in the past is about being dissolved. The country will profit by it.

Russell Election

There has been no little friction of late among Grit politicians in the County of Russell. The Hon. Mr. Murphy, the Secretary of State, had fallen into disfavor with the large French population in that county, and it was with no little scheming and finesse that the hon. gentleman secured the nomination. How it was done has not yet transpired. Up to the day of nomination, Mr. Geo. McLaurin, an opposition candidate, was loud in his denunciation of Murphy, and in his expressions of determination to contest the seat, with a certainty of success. The time arrived, his name was proposed, and to the surprise of every one, this same McLaurin withdrew in Murphy's favor. No one knows why. Probably the following paragraph will explain:

"It is said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in an effort to pour oil on the troubled waters, has taken a personal hand in the matter, and, through the medium of promises, has endeavored to set at peace the warring factions. Various delegations from the county have visited Ottawa lately, and it is learned upon good authority that Sir Wilfrid has even promised a high court judgeship to a Russell French-Canadian in the event of Mr. Murphy being returned."

The sooner we have a law placed upon the statute book making such promises a criminal offence, the better it will be for the morals of the people.

W. K. George, Ex-President of the Toronto Reform Association, Expresses Views on Reciprocity and the Coming Contest

It is known to those who have kept themselves abreast of passing events that Mr. George, an active member, liberal giver and hard worker in the Liberal ranks of Toronto for years, has in the past expressed strong and unanswerable opinions of the effect of the adoption of the Fielding-Knox tariff arrangement would have upon all calsses in Canada. It had been rumored that he had changed his views. This report he has set at rest through an interview had with him by a representative of the Toronto Telegram.

We reproduce the whole interview and commend Mr. George's views particularly to those of our Liberal readers who have not given the subject of our trade relations with the United States under the proposed reciprocity pact the consideration it deserves.

The Interview.

"Prospects look very bright for the defeat of reciprocity. I only wish we had more time for educative purposes. Every day we can spend in laying the true status of affairs before the people adds to the chances of defeating the pact."

The above words are those of Mr. W. K. George, ex-president of the Toronto Reform Association, ex-president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and hon. president of the Canadian National Exhibition.

Mr. George was one of the "noble eighteen" prominent Liberals who signed the manifesto against reciprocity, and when a Telegram reporter met him this morning, he said: "Well, Mr. George, have your changed your mind yet in regard to reciprocity?"

"No," was the emphatic reply. "I have not in any way changed my opinion in regard to the reciprocity agreement. I am, if anything, more emphatically opposed to it now than I was when I signed the manifesto against it in February last.

Reasons Against It.

"What are the chief reasons why you oppose it, now that you have had more time for deliberation?" asked the reporter.

"Many reasons," was the reply. "On the one hand the chief advocate in favor of the agreement in the United States, such as President Taft, Speaker Champ Clark, ex-Senator Beveridge and many others, have furnished us with an abundance of evidence, reiterated time and again, showing most clearly their conviction that this agreement is merely a preliminary step and is by no means the finality of their ambitions.

Annexation or ——

"Such ambitions are either openly for annexation, as preached by Speaker Clark, many of the senators and congressmen, as well as by hundreds of their leading newspapers, or, for seizing upon what President Taft considers the psychological moment when Canada is at what he terms the 'parting of the ways,' and thus leading her into an agreement which will effectually block any possibility of an inter-imperial trade agreement throughout the Empire, one which would build up every section of this great Empire, and would at the same time to a very large extent, shut out the United States from easy access to the Imperial markets. That this is what they are aiming at, he and others, such as James J. Hill, have stated both emphatically and clearly.

Yankee Ambitions.

"Surely we should not be blind to the ambitions which they have, and to the future entanglements into which this proposed agreement may lead us, especially when our present conditions of progress, prosperity and national development are so satisfactory."

"Do you think the Canadian farmers will benefit as much under reciprocity as some of them appear to think?" asked the reporter.

Visionary Benefits.

"It seems to me," answered Mr. George, "that the visionary character of the benefits to be derived by the Canadian farmers through this agreement is in itself a sufficient reason for its rejection when their present conditions are so satisfactory. Almost the entire plea for its adoption has been on account of the benefit that it would be to the farmer.

President Taft himself is on record as saying that cattle, sheep, horses, hogs, fruit, eggs, etc., are higher in price in Canada than in the United States. What has the Canadian farmer to gain by having them placed on the free list? As to wheat, as Mr. Taft pointed out, the price of wheat is fixed in Liverpool. It may interest some farmers to know that for ten days in succession I looked at the market prices of the Globe and saw that wheat was quoted five cents a bushel higher in Winnipeg than it was in Chicago.

Get Worst of It.

"Every day almost there is being demonstrated the visionary character of the promised benefits which are being offered to the Canadian farmer through this agreement, and, in view of the facts that are being adduced day after day in reference to the comparative prices of farm products in the chief centres of Canada and the United States, I cannot see how the Canadian farmer is going to get anything but the worst of it.

Misrepresentation.

"If anything were needed to convince me of the weakness of the position of the advocates of the pact," went on Mr. George, "it is evidenced by the fact that some of the chief organs supporting it here in Toronto are guilty of what certainly looks like a deliberate misrepresentation in order to try and bolster up their position."

Disgusted Liberals.

"And you really think it will be defeated?" queried the reporter.

"I most certainly do," was the emphatic answer. "Scores and scores of Liberals who never cast a Conservative vote before have told me that they will go against the Government this time."

"And how will it do; do you think it will affect Canadian industries?" asked the reported, as he rose to go.

Industries in Jeopardy.

"It will put the industrial life of Canada in jeopardy," said Mr. George. "That U. S. manufacturers believe that reciprocity is only the thin edge of the wedge is demonstrated by the fact that many United States industries, which were coming to Canada have cancelled their purchases of sites and stopped their activities. This shows that they expect further concessions."

"Are the noble eighteen still sound against reciprocity?" was the reporter's last word.

"So far as I know," said Mr. George, "and I think I would have heard of it if any of them had recanted."

A Good Omen—Liberals Dividing

The Liberal Government, of which Hon. Thomas Oliver, Minister of the Interior, is a member, to avoid an exposure of how he suddenly became wealthy, dissolved Parliament hurriedly in face of a direct promise that the enquiry institutet by the House of Commons should be continued during the then session, which was treacherously cut short to prevent the enquiry, but Mr. Oliver is having his own troubles.

The following telegram to the Globe explains the situation and attitude of the Liberals in a concise manner:

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 16.—This afternoon at a convention of the Liberals, called by P. E. Lessard, President of the Liberal District Association, but declared by President Talbot of the Provincial Association to be illegal, ex-Premier Rutherford was chosen as Liberal candidate for Edmonton constituency. The convention was attended by eighty people, most of whom are known as Cross Liberals. Mr. Rutherford accepted the nomination, claiming support because he had secured the location of the capital at Edmonton. The fight was one of the residents north of the Saskatchewan for their rights, he said. He dealt at length with the railway policy which the Government had pursued before it resigned from office. Mr. Cross also made a speech attacking Senator Talbot for denouncing the convention as a bogus one. He paid a tribute to Rutherford, and also made his first public attack on Oliver, who he claimed had retarded development in the northern part of the Province.

Messrs. Rutherford and Cross are men of strength in the Liberal ranks in Edmonton and district, the former having been Premier and the latter Attorney-General in the former Provincial Government of Alberta.

Mr. Oliver will have a "hard road to travel" in the coming contest, his defeat being not at all improbable.

The course of the Conservatives under these circumstances has yet to be determined.

In the interest of political morality it is to be lamented that Mr. Cross was prevented from telling what he knows, through the dissolution of Parliament, of the manner and reasons for the payment of some $60,000 or $70,000 to Oliver on the brink of the last election. It is said that Mr. Cross would, had he had an opportunity, have unraveled the whole conspiracy.

A Popular Interpreter.

The new member of the State Board of Control, addressed the students at the Deaf and Dumb School at Olathe the other day. The interpreter didn't treat Shukers as he did Henry J. Allen, a former member of the Board, when he made a speech. Henry rambled along in his usual entertaining fashion and frequently received applause.

"Well, I seemed to please the students all right," said he to the interpreter afterwards.

"Yes, they enjoyed it very much," replied the interpreter.

"But I wish you would explain why they frequently applauded at inopportune times," said Henry.

"That's easy," replied the interpreter. "You made one speech and I delivered them another."

It is said that writer's cramp more often affects the stomach than the wrist.

SAFETY ON INDIAN RAILWAYS.

Immunity From Accidents Compare Favourably With English Railways.

Immunity from accidents is the first thing that strikes the reader of the annual statistics of Indian railways just published. They give the number of passengers killed from causes beyond their own control as 0.01 per million of passengers travelling, or an average of 1 in 4,478.28 millions of miles travelled, reassuring figures enough for even the most timid. During 1910 forty people were killed by accidents to trains, rolling-stock, or the permanent way, while 292 were injured. Accidents due to other causes such as carelessness on the part of the travellers, trespassing, or the like, swelled the totals of killed and injured to 1,857 and 1,664 respectively. The proportion of killed and injured is striking, but it is rendered more so on looking at the figures which apply to the United Kingdom, where we find that last year there were totals of 1,036 killed and 28,384 injured over a mileage of 23,380. India, with a length of track 10,000 miles more than the United Kingdom can, therefore, legitimately boast of comparative freedom from accident.

Feminine Indorsement

She advanced to the paying teller's window, and, handing in a check for $50, stated that it was a birthday present from her husband and asked for payment. The teller informed her that she must first indorse it.

"I don't know what you mean," she said hesitatingly.

"Why, you see," he explained, "you must write your name on the back, so that when we return the check to your husband, he will know we have paid you the money."

"O, is that all?" she said, relieved. One minute elapsed.

Thus the indorsement: "Many thanks, dear, I've got the money. Your loving wife, Evelyn."

England in 1800.

The British census figures show that at the beginning of this century the population of England and Wales was under ninemillions, not very much greater than that of Canada today. In 110 years this population has been quadrupled; a very substantial increase when the smallness of the area is considered, and when account is taken of the large emigration to vaster and more sparsely settled regions.

PURPOSES OF COMPANY

Canada Bread Company, Limited, has acquired as going concerns the plants and the businesses of the Bredin Bread Company, Limited, of Toronto; Geo. Weston, (The Model Bakery) of Toronto; H. C. Tomlin (Toronto Bakery) of Toronto; Stuarts, Limited, of Montreal, and W. J. Boyd of Winnipeg. In the case of Boyd the real property is excluded, but a parcel of land in the City of Winnipeg, about two acres in extent, is substituted. The first three companies have been in operation for almost thirty years and the last two for close to twenty years. They have all grown from small beginnings till they are now among the largest in their respective fields in Canada. The combined output of the companies at present is, approximately, 600,000 loaves of bread per week. It is intended, by extensions to the present plants and the erection or acquisition of new plants, to forthwith increase the output of the Company to one million loaves per week. Modern plants will later be added in the other large cities. The sum of $1,000,000 cash is being placed in the treasury to provide for the erection of the proposed new plants and to supply ample working capital.

POSITION OF BONDS

For full particulars reference may be made to our prospectus which is accompanied by a letter from Mr. Mark Bredin, the Vice-President and General Manager of the Company. We draw attention to the following points:—

1. The present $1,250,000 of 6 per cent. First Mortgage Sinking Fund thirty-year gold bonds are secured by trust deeds to Guardian Trust Company, Limited, Toronto, constituting a first mortgage on all the property, real, personal, or mixed, now owned or hereafter acquired by the Company, as more fully described in said trust deeds. In the trust deeds it is specially stipulated that of the $1,000,000 cash being placed in the treasury, the sum of $500,000 shall be held by the Trustee, to be used only in the redemption of bonds or in investment in additional plants and real estate, thus increasing the fixed assets under the mortgage. A Sinking Fund of 1 per cent. is operative from August 1, 1911.

2. The assets of the companies already taken over stand in excess of all liabilities, and without any allowance for good will, trade-marks, etc., at $841,428.70. There has also been placed in the treasury $1,066,221.08 of cash which, besides furnishing funds for the the purchasing of construction of additional plants, will provide ample working capital.

3. The earnings of the present plants, as per certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., after allowing for depreciation, amounted, from April 30th, 1910 to April 30th, 1911, to $107,016.14, to which may be added $35,000, being interest at the rate of 3 1-2 per cent. on $1,000,000 cash in the treasury pending its employment on extensions. It is estimated that, with the economies to be effected, the earnings on these plants will shortly amount to $180,000 a year, or nearly two and one-half times the bond interest.

4. With the extensions that it is proposed to effect forthwith, the company by the end of its first fiscal years should be in a position to show earnings of $260,000 a year, equal to three and one-half times the interest requirements on the bond issue, and with all the additional plants that will be provided with the cash in the treasury, the earnings should steadily gain to over $530,000 a year, or more than seven times the bond interest requirements.

5. The company, with its plants situated in the larger cities of the different Provinces of Canada, will be in an exceptionally favorable position to benefit by the marked economies that will be possible in manufacturing, and more especially in distribution, and all the time will be turning out a more uniform product under the most sanitary conditions.

6. The practical men who have made the different companies particularly successful will be identified with the management and direction of the new company. Mr. Mark Bredin, who is probably one of the most successful bread manufacturers in Canada, will occupy the position of Vice-President and General Manager, while the services of the heads of four of the different companies taken over and of an efficient representative of the fifth have been assured to the company

CONTRADICTS PREMIER

Mr. Borden Says Laurier Did Not Contemplate Election.

At Big Meeting In Simcoe the Conservative Leader Says Government Voted Down His Motion to Refer Reciprocity to the People—Despite Gathering of Two Days Ago Mr. Borden Gets Great Ovation.

Simcoe, Aug. 18.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier didn't exhaust all the enthusiasm and all the political vitality of Norfolk County on Tuesday of this week. The Laurier traveling circus was much heralded. It came, it was seen, and it departed. Mr. Borden arrived here unostentatiously yesterday afternoon. He was received with open arms, and left, behind him a message that will not be quickly forgotten. In fact the meeting at Simcoe was nothing short of a triumph for the Conservative leader. The crowd, though less in actual count than that which met Sir Wilfrid, certainly showed keener appreciation of the speeches. From the time Mr. Borden entered the rink until the close of the meeting the air was charged with enthusiasm and interest, and if all Mr. Borden's meetings follow the order of Simcoe, the Conservative cause is on the high road to win.

Mr. Borden devoted himself to an arraignment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's argument on Tuesday. He said that the sudden dissolution of Parliament involved a breach of faith on the part of the Government in connection with the Oliver enquiry. "The action of the Government in this connection," declared Mr. Borden, "is absolutely without precedent in this country, and it ought to invite condemnation of the people of Canada upon a Government so lost to all sense of public decency as to take the course which I have described to you."

Charging the Prime Minister with misrepresentation in stating that it had always been the intention of the Government to submit reciprocity to the people, Mr. Borden gave the lie to the Premier's assertion, declaring that a motion to that effect, introduced by himself, had been voted down in Parliament at the instance of Sir Wilfrid in March last.

The trade agreement, he went on, would be deleterious to Canada, because the ultimate effect of reciprocity would be to have the Canadian tariff dictated at Washington, and Canada would be the mercy of every caprice and contingency of international politics.

Dealing with the result of the favored nation treaties, Mr. Borden scored the Government with the words, "The Prime Minister has promised to give you competition with the whole world in everything that you produce, and yet to maintain the same burden of taxation upon everything that you buy, and he calls that a great relief to the farmers."

Following Mr. Borden's remarks W. F. Maclean continued the assault upon reciprocity with a speech, in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was characterized as an Indian doctor, a medicine man peddling a political cure, well known as Taft pills.

S. H. Harding, president of the Norfolk Conservative Association, was in the chair. Alex. McCall, late member and Conservative candidate, spoke briefly. A. C. Pratt and H. P. Innes were the other speakers.

In Provencher, Man.

Winnipeg, Aug. 18.—Dr. Molloy was unanimously nominated here yesterday to contest Provencher for the Liberals. The Conservatives elect their candidate next week.

In Carleton.

Woodstock, N.B., Aug. 18.—Carleton County Conservative convention here last night nominated B. F. Smith to oppose Frank B. Carvell in the coming election. Mr. Smith was despatched by Carvell in the 1908 election by 151 majority.

In King's, N.S.

Halifax, Aug. 18.—The Liberal-Conservatives of King's County yesterday nominated A. De W. Foster of Wolfeville as their candidate, in opposition to Sir Frederick Borden. Mr. Foster took time to consider, and before the convention adjourned, announced that he would accept. The announcement was made that R. L. Borden would hold a meeting in Kentville Sept. 16.

Foster Again Chosen.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—George Eulas Foster is the Conservative candidate for North Toronto in the coming Dominion elections. Mr. Foster's was the one and only name presented to the delegates.

Mayor Geary presided and with him on the platform were: W. K. McNaught, M.P.P., Hon. J. S. Duff, E. B. Osler, Edmund Bristol, John Shaw, M.P.P.

Murphy Made Protest.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—Mgr. Gauthier, Archbishop of Ottawa, returned from Montfort, Que., yesterday and went immediately to the residence of Mgr. Stagni, Papal Nuncio. It is believed the conference was to discuss the activity of certain Roman Catholic clergy in opposition to Hon. Charles Murphy in Russell County. It is said on good authority that a strong protest has been made by the Secretary of State.

Blew Out Cylinder Head.

Boston, Aug. 18.—Delayed three days by the blowing out of her high pressure cylinder head, the Allan Line steamer Numidian, arrived at this port yesterday from Glasgow. The last 600 miles of the run was made at a reduced speed, owing to the accident The cylinder head blew out last Sunday.

Two Drown From Canoe.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 18.—Percy Simmonds, of the firm of James Simmonds & Co., wholesale hardware, Halifax and Dartmouth, and Miss Nellie Burton, of Dartmouth, were drowned Thursday night by the upsetting of their canoe on Second Dartmouth Lake.

CAN BE NO AGREEMENT

English Railwaymen's Secretary Says Men Will Strike.

Officers on Furlough Are Being Recalled to Their Regiments and London Squares Are Being Put In Readiness for Encampments—Strikers Call Out Men at London Power Houses.

London, Aug. 18.—James Henry Thomas, secretary of the western district of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, stated last night that there would be no truce between the unions and the railway managers, despite the efforts of Chancellor Lloyd-George, and that the strike would go on.

The society sent out 1,500 telegrams yesterday afternoon to various railway centres, ordering an immediate strike.

Officers and men who were on furlough have been recalled to their regiments by telegraph. The artillerymen have been taken from their gun drill, and are devoting their attention to their rifles, with a view of strike possibilities. The parks of London are being made ready for encampments. It is probable that bluejackets will be drafted to equip the electric power stations at Liverpool, and they will also be required to protect the ships in the harbors, upon which there have been many small fires, supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

The authorities regarded the action of the strikers in calling out the men from the power houses at Liverpool as one of the gravest features of the day. All the horses of the army have had their shoes sharpened in preparation for service in the streets.

How tenaciously the Government is clinging to hopes for a settlement of the dispute and is working to arrange one was displayed by David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a speech in the House of Commons last night which quickly sent abroad the impression that the situation had taken a strong turn for the better and that fears of an immediate strike might vanish.

Ramsay Macdonald, the Labor leader in the Lower House, was prepared to move a vote of censure against the Government for its use of the military in strikes and because of its general attitude in the present situation. Feeling in the House ran high.

Mr. Lloyd-George, however, arose and, addressing the members, intimated that the representatives of the unions had failed to understand the Government's offer to form a royal commission which should report what amendments were necessary to the agreement of 1907 between the railway managers and the men. He said it was not purposed to form an ordinary commission, but one composed of three members, one representing the railways and one the men, with the chairman a man well known for his impartiality and enjoying the general confidence of the community. The Government, he added, realized the importance of acting promptly lest the men should think it was trying to put off the whole question. He proposed that the commission get to work immediately and report without delay.

"I have not given up hope of arriving at some solution of the difficulty satisfactory to all parties," Mr. Lloyd-George said, "and I appeal to the press as well as to the House of Commons to support us. I hope the men will realize that it is intended to give them fair play and not to lure out of their hands the great weapon of striking."

If the royal commission were accepted, the Chancellor said, its members would be appointed Saturday and and its sitting would begin Monday. He emphasized the importance of exercising great patience and restraint in this critical moment and hoped it would be possible to conduct the negotiations without any exasperating intervention from any quarter.

Ramsay Macdonald, replying to the Chancellor, said there evidently had been a misunderstanding of the Government's proposal, and that he would not press his motion of censure. He appealed to the members of the House having influence with the railway directors, to persuade them to make it easier for the men to accept a truce.

Is Shah Assassinated?

Teheran, Aug. 18.—It is reported that Mohammed Ali Mirza, the former Shah of Persia, who recently returned from exile in Russia and started an uprising in an endeavor to regain his throne, has been assassinated.

The last previous news concerning Mohammed Ali Mirza was received here Tuesday and was to the effect that he was in full flight, after a crushing defeat of his forces by Government troops north of Firuzkuh, which is about 60 miles east of Teheran.

Killed By Fall of Bricks.

London, Ont., Aug. 18.—John Crosby, proprietor of Evelyn Brick and Tile Yards, was instantly killed on Wednesday afternoon during the heavy storm which passed over this district.

He was wheeling a load of tile out of one of the kilns when it was either struck by lightning or weakened by the high wind, and the arch collapsed, burying Mr. Crosby beneath tons of bricks.

Pet Dog's Fatal Caress.

Newark, N.J., Aug. 18.—Jacob Swenzer, president of the Woodbridge Automobile Co., is dead at his home in Woodbridge, N.J., of rabies, after a two days' illness. A pet dog, which licked his hand a month ago, went mad a few days later. Swenzer was formerly a well-known driver of racing automobiles.

Canadian Nationality In Double Harness

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

You cannot wisely consider Canadian nationality without keeping in the front of your mind the division of Canadians into those who couldn't help being Canadians and those who could—the native-born and the immigrant.

Don't be scared by the immigrant.

ARTHUR HAWKES.

it is bad for you and worse for him. And don't think you know all about the immigrant host and their country just because you hired a green Englishman from a city, who didn't know how to put a collar on a horse.

Perhaps you never saw a Doukhobor, or a Galician, or a Buckowinian, or a Ruthenian. Thousands of these people, scattered over the prairies are Canadian citizens just as much as you are, you lucky great-grandson or great-granddaughter of a United Empire Loyalist.

They will vote on Reciprocity two thousand miles from where you are. One of these days a full-blooded Doukhobor will sit in the House of Commons. I have an excellent friend in the Saskatchewan Legislature—a Ruthenian—who couldn't speak a word of English a few years ago. It isn't far, you know, from the Assembly to the Commons. The Chairman of the Licensing Commission of the Province of Saskatchewan is a German who came from the Fatherland to Minnesota, was naturalized and elected a senator, left Minnesota for Saskatchewan, and was naturalized again.

The largest place of public assembly in Port Arthur is owned by Icelanders. In Vancouver I could take you to a Chinese theatre where two performances daily are given. The Jap is almost as numerous as the Chinaman in the salmon fisheries of British Columbia. The Hindoo's turban has become a commonplace on the Pacific Coast.

Down in Nova Scotia travellers not infrequently hear people speak of going to Canada, when they mean another province in the confederation of which Nova Scotia has been a constituent for forty years. On the prairies you will find a foreign flag exalted, I had almost said worshipped, in uncounted homes. At Red Deer, in deference to foreign sentiment, they stopped singing songs in harmony with the flag that has these thousand years braved the battle and the breeze. Canadian nationality is marching in double harness, with these imported elements in the team.

I tell you Canada is infinitely more than an Ontario concession line, a little red school house and a Loyal Orange Lodge. What is to be done about the amazing medley of kindreds and tribes and tongues which I have hinted at, and for which the Bible Society prints the Scriptures in seventy different languages?

And, mind you, there is more than the differences of race and language between you and your fellow-citizen from the South of Europe who flourishes alongside the South Saskatchewan. He comes from a country you never saw to a country you have never seen, and he knows nothing of the distinctions of the country you inhabit. The prairie country and the mountains are apt to produce people different in their make-up from the dwellers in the east.

A high railway official who came east two years ago, had never seen apples growing on the trees. The non-English speaking people who have come to the country where he was born are twice as unfamiliar with the east as he was. It is something of a job in Canadian development to get all these people up there to live like you live, think like you think, and see things as you see them. And they are Canadians with full rights—citizens. Their children are the native-born, even as your children are. What do you think about it?

What ground can we line them up on so that they will stand where we stand, and be governed by the same well-springs of patriotism that move us? You perceive it must be broad ground on which to stand, and a big, high ideal at which to look. And don't forget this—the imagination of their children must be nurtured. How can anything be accomplished in face of the tremendous differences between them and us?

Somehow, soon, we have got to get all Canadian citizens thinking about the same thing. We have got to have a common ideal about our country—their country, speakers of broken English; owners, absolute owners of Canadian soil, that they are. They must be helped to become good Canadians.

But what is a good Canadian? Answer me this—What do you mean when you stand up and sing "God save the King"? The King is on the other side of the ocean, and you perhaps are a thousand miles from salt water. On the other side of the world people are singing "God save the King" exactly as you sing it. What have you to do with them? What have they to do with your Buckowinian fellow-citizen over on the Saskatchewan?

It is a mighty curious thing this Canadian nationality in the progress of which you have harnessed yourself with the crowd of aliens to your ideas who have come to the Dominion from all the corners of the earth. You are sure about your own Canadianism. But what about theirs? It is up to you; for you asked them to come in, you know.

Suppose you talk it over with those Scotch and English fellows of your acquaintance. And ask your Irish friend to talk about it.

FOR CONSTIPATION

A MEDICINE THAT DOES NOT COST ANYTHING UNLESS IT CURES.

The active medicinal ingredient of Rexall Orderlies, which is odorless tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit but instead, they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—J. S. McKeown.

It's a pity we can't see others as we see ourselves.

WESTERN FARMERS THINKING OF CROPS, NOT POLITICS

They Are Anxious About Rust—Wheat not Ripening—Harves Yield in the Middle and Northern Districts—Crops Comparaparatively Light in the Southern Regionn—Trip Along U.S. Border—Manitoba Very Strongly Against Reciprocity

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT TO THE TORONTO NEWS AND THE INTELLIGENCER.

ESTEVAN, Sask., Aug. 8.—Crops not politics, are in the minds of the West at the present moment, and will continue to be uppermost for the next ten days, until their full maturity is assured. A week ago, looking at the prairie country from Winnipeg, everything looked rosy. To-day it is seen that the grain has hardly ripened at all during the past six days, and there have been all kinds of rumors afloat about black rust. This plague has not yet amounted to anything however, and the approach of frost is the cause of gravest concern. Last year at this time harvesting operations were generally under way, but owing to the untimely rains and cool weather of the past three weeks the largest part of the Western crop has been set back fully two weeks behind the conditions of a year ago. The great need of the moment is sunshine and wind, cloudy nights, but no rain. If the weather will dispense its blessings in this form every day for two weeks, the West will reap the biggest crop in its history and Canada as a whole will be safely tided over a critical period.

The heaviest yields of wheat, oats barley and flax are indicated just now, in the middle and northern districts of the three prairie provinces. In the southern region, extending all the way from Emerson, Manitoba, to Souris, and down to Estevan, the crops are comparatively light, although they are infinitely superior to those garnered last season. Southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan while not having as heavy a growth as the districts farther north along the main line of the C. P. R., and the C. N. R., are much farther advanced, harvesting being already in progress in many sections. The lighter soil that lies south of the sand hills of Manitoba and along the Souris line, running down to Estevan, has reared the crops quickly, and recent rains have just been the exact requirement for the filling out and ripening of the wheat berry. Consequently I found the farmers and merchants at Souris, Cairnduff, and especially Estevan, very well satisfied indeed with the splendid condition of their grain, even in the face of a severe hail storm which passed over a narrow belt of country in the vicinity of the last named town early this week. It was in this southern district that the drought did such damage last year, leaving the farmers no more than an vaerage crop of six or seven bushels to the acre.

Being within six to fifteen miles of the United States for the greater part of yesterday and to-day, I was in a better position than at any time since leaving Winnipeg to get the American point of view of present conditions on both sides of the line. In the first place fully sixty per cent. of the population of the Estevan district is American, and from present indications the influx from the south will greatly increase the percentage during the coming year, even in view of the fact that the farmer from the United States is settling largely in the northern parts. Crops have been very bad in the northwestern, middle western and southwestern States this season and the people here anticipate a big rush of American settlers into Canada next spring. Already they are coming northward on tours of inspection. While on the train between Souris and Estevan, I met no less than three farmers from the States two from Iowa and one from North Dakota, who were returning to their homes from visits to Northern Saskatchewan.

Reciprocity in this district along the border line is an accepted fact already. The majority of the people are farmers, and as one man in Estevan described the feeling "You may expect to be pitchforked if you go amongst some of them south of here with any anti-reciprocity talk." And yet one wouldn't find in all the West a town whose people are so anxious to set up manufacturing industries as those of Estevan. Their desire, moreover, is well based. A mile south of the town are the hills and the valley of the Souris River and for miles east and west fathomless supplies of coal and rich clay extend. One large brick works is now utilizing the fine natural resources so close at hand, and are turning out bricks at the rate of a million and a half per month. They burn each month in their kilns some two thousand tons of coal. In the distance, as you drive through the valleys you can see the outcroppings of coal from the hills and here and there a shaft has been sunk, from which nearby settlers and citizens of Estevan procure fuel. This coal, if taken out in large quantities for wholesale use, can be mined at the absurdly low cost of 92 cents to $1 per ton. If nature had seen fit to leave the prairies barren of trees, she has most certainly provided for the abundant warmth of this southwestern district in another way. The people are proud of their natural asset and hope to see the day when Estevan will be the "Pittsburgh of Canada," as it is expressed in one of their advertisements. The 'ad.' does not add "controlled by Pittsburghers." The big brick works in operation here are directed by American capital, and in this way the community seems to be more or less thoroughly saturated with agricultural and manufacturing ideas imported from across the line.

Politics, as I said at the beginning are a secondary matter just now, but when you ask anyone about the prospective results of the election in the West, you are told that the farmer has the key to the situation in Saskatchewan and that all seven seats will be Liberal. Even so, back in Manitoba there is just as confident a feeling that at least nine out of ten seats in that Province will be Conservatice. So, all in all, thus far, the anti-reciprocity crowd is one seat up, and then the other Western Province, Alberta has its tale to tell.

SUCCESS OF BREAD ISSUE BRINGS CREDIT TO TORONTO

Indicates Growth of City as Financial and Issuing Centre—Success all the More Marked Because Issue was Made Under Most Unfavorable Market Conditions

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—(Special)—Toronto has every reason to be pleased with the success that is attending the issue being made by Messrs. Cawthra Mulock & Co., of the bonds of Canada Bread Company, Limited, because the favorable reception with which it is meeting indicates that Toronto must have made very considerable progress as a financial centre Many of the larger houses would have hesitated making an issue during the holiday season, but Mr. Mulock's courage and foresight seems to be bringing him the success he deserves. The favorable reception it has received is all the more notable because the issue is being brought out at a time when the market conditions both in Wall Street and in Toronto are most unfavorable.

The success would indicate that the new all-Canadian Bread Company will start out under most favorable circumstances inasmuch as it will have the hearty co-operation of shareholders throughout the country, who will be naturally anxious to be customers of their own concerns.

Mr. Mark Bredin, the vice-president of the company, when seen today, stated that it was the intention of the company to immediately proceed with the erection of modern bread plants in Montreal and Winnipeg, and he hinted that the company would devote particular attention to the Western field, with great probability of its having plants located later on in Regina, Calgary and Vancouver.

WANTS WOMEN TO SAY "DAMN"

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 17.—Miss Emma Hall, founder, owner and promoter of the "Suffragette Retreat," was at the Union Depot this morning

The retreat is a farm. It is within three miles of Whittier, Cal., and is guaranteed man-proof.

"I am just on the way to take possession," Miss Hall said. "This idea of mine is bound to be a success: don't you think so? You see, there are a lot of women who could really do things worth while, write books plays and the like, if they were only away from the patronage of men.

"I mean to take my farm into a suffragette city. Only women will be allowed on the place and they must do all the work. Every woman must work at least half the day. She will wear overalls, must have her hair cut short like mine and must furnish a bond of $1,000 when she enters that she will not leave in less than a year.

"We'll show the country there is no such thing as 'man's work,'" Miss Hall said, as she leaned back in her seat and smiled defiance. "The retreat, already is the bonded home of seven women. As soon as the work gets well under way there will be at least a hundred persons on the farm."

"What will be the distribution of work?" she was asked.

"The working plan will be changed every month. One woman will do all the milking, another the community scrubbing, and still another the necessary clerical work. A month later new lots will be drawn."

"Will women be strong enough to do the work in the fields?"

"This talk about workwomen is all rot," Miss Hall replied. "In two months every woman on the place will be able to cut wood, plow and swear I am going to suggest that they cultivate the use of the word 'damn.'

"I believe that some expletive while doing heavy work is almost necessary as a safety valve, and I do not propose to have the atmosphere and the local color ruined by such terms as 'fudge,' and 'Oh, sugar.'"

Miss Hall's former home was Ogden Utah. She is 31 years old.

DRINKS IN A PROHIBITION STATE

It is Easy to Get Liquor in any Part of the State of Maine

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—John A. Nicholls, Secretary of the Twentieth Century Pledge Signing Club and one of the leading Prohibitionists in the country, has just returned from an 18-day automobile tour of investigation through the larger cities and towns of Maine. He says:

"We found it an easy matter to obtain both beer and whisky in almost any quantity almost everywhere in Maine. While in Portland I heard that it was possible to get anything I wanted to drink at the hotel. After dinner I set out to investigate this report for myself. After mingling with the crowd in front of the hotel, I finally picked out three young men who looked as if they were thirsty and knew where to quench it. My surmise was correct. When the young men disappeared through the basement door I followed, and after pursuing a devious course through the dark cellar finally came to what had originally been used as a coal-bin. Now it was a full-fledged bar, with all the liquors in plain sight, along with ingredients for mixing drinks, etc.

"In Pittsford I enquired of the landlord of the hotel where we were stopping if I could obtain a cocktail before supper. He looked me over and with a wink said: 'Nix on the cocktail. However, follow me.'

"The hotel man with a key unlocked the door of the cabinet, and there on the shelf reposed a quart bottle of whisky and a glass. I was informed that for a quarter I could go as far as I liked. I declined, explaining that I could not drink plain whisky but wanted a cocktail. 'No fancy drinks here,' replied the landlord."

A BAD STOMACH

Mrs. S. Keast, of Clarksburg, Ont says: "A bad stomach trouble that had bothered me for years, baffled and puzzled skilled physicians, was nicely relieved by Mi-o-na. My food would not digest, but fermented in my stomach, forming a gas that gave me untold suffering and pain and also made me weak, nervous, irritable and unable to rest. Since using Mi-o-na I can go to bed at night and sleep, and wake up in the morning refreshed. I cannot speak too highly of Mi-o-na."

The dyspeptic, nervous or otherwise who does not give Mi-o-na a trial is losing an opportunity to regain health for Mi-o-na Tablets are guaranteed to cure dyspepsia and all stomach disturbances, such as vomiting of pregnancy, sea or car sickness and the stomach sickness after excessive indulgence. WEALTHY SOUTHERNER VICTIM OF SWINDLE

ALBANY, Aug. 17.—A pretty little woman who wears a short hobble skirt and says her name is Lucille Singer of Philadelphia and A. D. McCoy, who says he is from Trenton, N. J., are under arrest here; charged with having secured $1,800 from Marion Bass a wealthy turpentine operation, by working a "badger game" on him The authorities also are looking for Graham White, of Trenton, N. J. who, it is alleged, aided in robbing Bass.

The two men and the woman claimed to be vaudeville actors with a week's lay-off, and stopped here.

Bass fell in with the trio, and says he was fleeced of $300 in a game of cards. Then Bass accompanied the girl to a room in a leading hotel He says while he and the girl were drinking McCoy broke into the room gun in hand, claiming to be the girl's husband and threatening to shoot Bass says he feared he would be killed and prevailed upon the injured husband to accept $1,500.

McCoy, White and the girl tried to get away as soon as they got Bass' money. White succeeded, but McCoy and the girl were arrested. The Singer girl admits McCoy is not her husband. Bass is one of the wealthiest men in South Georgia, and is married

"DEAD" HUSBAND APPEARS BEFORE STARTLED WIFE

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—Mourned for dead and supposed to have been buried with all due ceremony, Timothy Sheehan startled his wife and sister when he calmly walked into his South Boston home. Sheehan was supposed to have died from heat prostration When he failed to return home from work on July 9, the police were notified and later his wife and relatives identified the body at the North Grove street morgue as his.

Last Saturday her husband appeared in the flesh. He explained that during the heated term he was arrested for drunkenness and sent to the house of correction under an assumed name.

BOGUS OFFICER BREAKS JAIL

Worked Swindles by Posing as American Major and French General

BERLIN, Aug., 17—Max Schimank a military confidence man, who has done extensive business in the swindling line, both in Germany and the United States, by using the uniform of a major of the American Army, has escaped for the second time in three months from the jail at Heilbronn Although he was hampered with a chain and heavy ball fastened to his legs, he managed to get out of prison He was clad only in pajamas, which were used in the jail.

The bogus major, who escaped from the jail the first time in April, had been lodged in jail, charged with occupying the Schloss Stettinfield, near Heilbronn without anybody's permission. He had posed then as Count de Passy, and claimed to be a general in the French army.

On being exposed he was brought to jail to await trial but the jail could not hold him. He filed the bars of his cell and escaped in an automobile which was waiting on the outside. He left a letter for the Crown prosecutor in which he apologized for his abrupt departure, but said he was compelled to leave because of an urgent business engagment.

Schimank stated he had covered himself with glory in the Philippines where he was a general in the American army.

A short while after his escape he was recaptured and again put in jail but he boasted then that it would not be long before he would again go away. This he has done.

The police, after his first escape lost all trace of the bogus major, but an innkeeper's daughter, who recognized Schimank from a newspaper picture notified the police, who arrested him.

FORGET LOOKS FOR BIG RISE IF PACT IS BEATEN

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—"If anti-reciprocity wins on September 21st," said Mr. Rodolphe Forget to-day, "I look to see a 10 to 20 point rise in Canadian stocks. I believe we will see Dominion Steel redeem itself and sell over 70, with a corresponding rise in other securities.

"To make our country prosperous," he said, "we must first see that the farmer is well looked after. If the protection on the things he grows is taken away, American products of the farm will come in here and swamp him. He needs the protection that he is getting now and the protection that the Conservatives will continue to give him. Let us therefore be assured that the farmer is all right, and we can go ahead with our constructive schemes for the advancement of the country. Prosperity will be certain, and hence I look for a 10 to 20 point rise in the market if reciprocity is beaten.

"There are thousands of investors in this country. Let them do their duty on election day and bury reciprocity so deep that it will never be heard of again."

GIRL STOKER JUMPS IN SEA WITH LOVER

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The oriental freighter Indravelli was tied up at her pier here this morning after a fast trip from the far east. The most unusual incident of her trip occurred during a week's stop at Singapore, where John Tickle, a Lancashire man, discovered that one of the stokers who had been with the ship for several months, was a young woman in disguise. The girl who was sixteen years old, told the officers that she was engaged to marry one of the other stokers and had shipped as one of the crew in order to be near him.

As the chief engineer was leading the girl to the captain's quarters she sinuously eluded his hold and climbed the ladder, followed by her lover. Reaching the deck the pair hurled themselves together over the rail into the harbor, landing among some sampans and other native craft. Neither were seen again. Whether both were drowned, or one or both rescued by the sampans, the ship's officers will never know.

Vetoed Wool Tariff Bill.

Washington, Aug. 18.—President Taft yesterday carried out his threat to veto the wool tariff bill. In a special message to the House of Representatives he characterized the measure as a blend of an avowed tariff for revenue and anti-protection measure with a professed protection bill.

In explanation of his course President Taft said the bill was not in harmony of the platform on which he was elected. Furthermore, he declared that the American people are "deeply impressed with the conviction" that the interest of the consuming public can be properly guarded only by revising the tariff one schedule at a time, and then upon "accurate and scientifically acquired information."

WILL KILL THE EXCURSION BUSINESS

Canadian Vessels Not Allowed to Take Passengers from U. S. Ports

DETROIT, Aug. 17.—The United States Department of Commerce and Labor to-day issued a circular letter to all collectors of customs on the great lakes calling attention to the law which forbids Canadian excursion vessels from tarnsporting passengers from American ports to Canadian ports or from Canadian to American ports and back.

The law provides a penalty of $200 to be paid by the steamship company for each passenger so carried. The matter was called to the attention of the department by the collector at Rochester, N. Y. Enforcement of the law will break up a flourishing excursion business now carried on by Canadian steamship companies on the lakes.

Excursions To Western Canada

The Grand Trunk Railway System announce that on Tuesdays, June 13th and 27th, July 11th and 25th, August 8th and 22nd, September 5th and 19th 1911, Homeseekers' excursions will be run from all stations in Ontario, and Quebec to Western Canada, via Chicago or Duluth or via Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, at reduced round trip fares.

The well-known double-track line of the Grand Trunk from the far East to Chicago appeals to the traveller and with the superior train service that is offered by this line, including the famous "International Limited" from Montreal daily at 9.00 a. m., and which is the finest and fastest train in Canada, many passengers will be attracted this way. The route via Chicago is a most interesting one taking passengers through the principal cities and towns in Canada and in the States of Michigan and Indiana. In addition to this a choice of seven lines between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis is offered.

Owing to the great number of Canadians who reside in Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and other cities enroute, there is no doubt that the Grand Trunk will find many patrons who will take advatnage of the opportunity thus afforded them for a brief visit at the stations with their friends.

Canadian citizens are exempt from so-called Immigration Examination and there is no detention at any point

Baggage is carried through the United States in bond without requiring any special attention on the part of the passenger. Inspection is not necessary at any of the points at the Border.

Another feature that will appeal to the homeseeker is the comfortable transfer at points like Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth into freshly ventilated clean cars, avoiding the necessity of travelling a long distance in the same car.

In addition to the above routes the sale of tickets is also authorized via Sarnia, and the Northern Navigation Company's magnificent Steamers on Lake Huron and Lake Superior.

For further particulars apply to any agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System, or write to Mr. J. Quinlan, District Passenger Agent, Bonaventure Station, Montreal, or Mr. A. E. Duff District Passenger Agent, Union Station, Toronto.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, In Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE TURF

Ticket of Leave made a new record for the steeplechase course, with 168 pounds up and proved himself the best jumper now in training. Hampton Court made a record of 1.38 2-5 for a mile on the grass course. Monsieur X. was bid up after winning a selling race and Forehead changed owners in the same way. Jockey Steele rode two winners.

Revelation won the King George stake at Fort Erie, and the Muda Guy and Ernest took the other events. The 2.06 pace was declared off.

JACK JOHNSON GOES INTO TRAINING.

PARIS, Aug. 16.—It was announced today that Jack Johnson will go into training in this city the first of the month to keep several engagements recently made for him. Incidentally he will continue his theatrical work by appearing at Calvin Brown's Magic City, twice daily. With an eye to keeping himself before the Paris public, which is more than friendly to Negro fighters, Jack has caused to be announced that a good part of his training will consist of road work along the Bois de Bologne and the avenues of the vicinity. He will train for three weeks here.

AN N. S. LIBERAL ON RECIPROCITY

MR. ERNST SEES POSSIBILITY OF DANGER.

"There is risk for the welfare of our fishing industry in the event of the enactment of the proposed reciprocity agreement with the United States and I think it would be better to leave matters as they are rather than take chances with such a treaty, even if we do obtain an entrance into Porto Rico."

It was in this way that Mr. Ernst a Liberal and the head of the big fish firm of J. Ernst & Son, spoke to the Halifax Herald representative.

"I can see the great possibility of loss to labor in Lunenburg under certain conditions if the reciprocity treaty should go into effect. It may injuriously affect the fish drying and packing industry in Nova Scotia.

"If the fish are taken green from the vessel by the Americans, in case of a shortage in their own catch or for other reasons, there will be less to handle by our own people in Lunenburg county, and the returns from labor on it will be lost.

THE MEN WOULD SURELY SUFFER.

"Should this happen—the taking to any extent of our fish green ex-vessel to United States ports—the men ashore in Lunenburg and other fishing ports, the men who do not fish, but who depend upon the labor in the drying and packing the fish would have nothing to do, and would suffer.

"Hundreds of men are employed during the drying season, and their earnings in that way mean much The men are paid thirty cents a quintal for their work in drying and packing the fish. If the labor on this is lost to our people, as it might be under reciprocity, it would be a serious thing. You can figure it out for yourself.

"Taking the catch in Lunenburg at one million quintals, it means $300,000 as the amount paid for labor upon it. To lose this or any portion of it would be a bad thing all round, and particularly bad to the men directly affected."

The Halifax Herald adds: It is worthy of note that the men referred to by Mr. Ernst as earning a livelihood on the drying and packing for them by which to replace the fisheries themselves. There is nothing for them by which to replace the business they are directly engaged in.

A prominent Liberal of Quebec remarked to the writer the other day—"On general principles it is now time for a change. It is not conducive to good government that any political party should administer public affairs for too long a period.

"The pith and vigor of a party are pretty well eaten out in ten or fifteen years of continuous administration and in proportion as the inward strength deteriorates the outward ills accumulate

The Dominion Government of to-day is a government of broken pledges given with solemn assurance, broken with cynical boldness and indifference—littering the long pathway from July 1896 to the present.

Think of it, Voter, and act! The debt, which was to have been reduced has been increased from $258,497,432 to $340,041,852; a taxation of $27,739,285 which was to have been decreased by millions, has been increased to $89,835,232, or 230 per cent Expenditures denounced as outrageous when standing at $42,000,000, have reached the enormous total of $121,470,420, and are still rushing upwards

In defending Messrs. Fielding and Paterson, the Premier declared that the first overtures had come from Washington.

Now the Buffalo Commercial asserts that "reciprocity is not a design of the United States. It originated in the Dominion."

If the plot were hatched in Canada so much the greater disgrace for the Canadians who were responsible for it

DR. MARY WALKER WOULD SELL DIGIT

Offers It to Advertiser if She Will Erect a Consumptive Ward

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Reginald Waldorf, of Philadelphia, who advertised for a living right index finger, can buy the desired member, if she likes, from one who has a world-wide reputation. Dr. Mary Walker, the woman who wears trousers, and who has done a hundred other things to bring her name before the public.

Dr. Walker now lives in Oswego, N Y. Yesterday she sent the following letter to Mrs. Waldorf:

Oswego, N.Y., Aug. 14, 1911

Mrs. Reginald Waldorf.—I have just read that you desire to purchase a irght index finger. Will you give me enough to erect a consumptive word on my estate here? I have saved hopeless cases, and because I declare consumption is not contagious money is not forthcoming to erect a ward.

I finish this letter not using my index finger. (Signed),

MARY E. WALKER, M. D.,

Surgeon in War of 1861—65.

P. S.—If return ticket is sent will come immediately, so you can decide if my finger is desired by yourself.

DR. WALKER.

Dr. Walker has been trying for some time to locate Mrs. Waldorf. She sent letters to Philadelphia and Los Angeles addressed to the woman who signed the advertisement, which appeared in a Chicago paper, but each time her letter was returned. On Tuesday she sent the letter, which has been travelling back and forth across the continent, to a newspaper in this city.

Mrs. Waldorf desires a finger to replace one she lost in an accident. She is reported to be independently rich and capable of paying almost any price for a finger, provided it suits her. She thinks the finger can be grafted on her own hand, and that eventually she will again have a perfect one.

Dr. Walker is eighty-one years old She figured prominently in the Civil War as a surgeon. She was one of the first woman suffrage workers in the country. She is anxious to erect a hospital for consumptives, and in a not she says she would cacrifice much more than her index finger if possible to realize her dream.

STRANGLES CHILDREN

Then Bruce County Woman Takes Own Life.

Mrs. Thomas Pettigrew of Lion's Head Is Found Dead by Neighbors In Her Home and Her Ten and Twelve Year Old Children Are Found Strangled In Their Bed — Woman Had Been Ill For Some Years.

Lion's Head, Ont., Aug. 18.—The body of Mrs. Thomas Pettigrew was found hanging dead in the kitchen of her home here by neighbors yesterday morning, and in a bed upstairs were the bodies of her two children strangled to death.

The children were a boy and a girl, James and Hazel, aged 10 and 12 years. From the condition of the house it is evident that they were able to put up some sort of a struggle for their lives, but the frantic woman finally overcame them, and by tieing pieces of thin rope around their necks they were strangled to death.

After undressing them and placing them side by side in bed, the woman then tied a piece of rope to the bottom of the bed in another room. The end of it was put through a stovepipe hole in the floor. Coming downstairs the woman then tied the loose end around her throat, mounted a table, and jumped off.

The deed is thought to have been the result of insanity brought on by years of illness. Her husband, a carpenter, was away from home at distant work. Cries were heard from the house about midnight.

Noticing no life about the place, the door was broken down.

Trouble's shadow is often blacker than trouble itself.

Half-Way on His Flight.

Cleveland, Aug. 18.—With another gain to his credit of 123 miles, H. N. Atwood arrived in Cleveland yesterday afternoon on his aeroplane flight from St. Louis to New York. He covered the 123 miles between Toledo and Cleveland in an actual flying time of two hours and twenty minutes.

"Just an easy canter," said Atwood as he stepped from his machine in a park in the Lake Shore City. "I almost went to sleep with the monotony of it. In five days New York will see me hop over its tallest skyscrapers and glide into the sand at Coney Island."

The Bostonian is pleased with his progress. He has now traveled 643 miles from his starting point in St. Louis. He has till 622 miles to fly to reach his destination in New York. He therefore has gone just 10 1-2 miles more than half of the 1,265-mile trip, which he says will show the possibility of a future ocean-to-ocean flight. His total time actually in the air since he left St. Louis last Monday is 13 hours and 15 minutes.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

NO COURT

Police Court business was a blank to-day, not even a drunk's name appearing on the callendar.

COBOURG HORSE SHOW

At the Cobourg horse show yesterday Mr. Fisher Wilmore, of Foxboyville, captured 3rd prize in the saddle horse event.

FINE SAMPLE OF GRAIN

Mrs. Jacques, whose home is at Briar Crest, Sask., to-day left at this office samples of wheat, barley and oats which were grown in that western province. They were fine samples of an abundant harvest.

LITTLE BOY HURT

Little "Jack" Deacon, son of W. B. Deacon had a nasty fall yesterday from Smith's milk wagon. One of the wheels passed aver him. The physician in attendance says he is not hurt internally but will be laid up for a few days, his limbs being considerably bruised.

AMERICAN VISITORS IN CITY

The handsome steam yacht Key Lock the Third, of Rochester, N.Y., arrived in the harbor this morning, having on board a large excursion party. The visitors, after remaining in the city for a few hours, left this afternoon enroute for Charlotte, N.Y. Islands.

DISTINGUISHED FISHING PARTY

Senator Payne, of Oklahoma, and the Hon. H. H. Cook, of Nebraska, with their families, are in the city registered at Hotel Quinte. The parties came here to enjoy a few days' fishing, having heard that the Bay of Quinte was a famous fishing resort. Arrangements have been made to take the distinguished visitors to various points on the bay where bass and maskinonge make their usual abode.

UNITED STATES BARS EXCURSION SHIPS FROM LAKE PORTS

DETROIT, MICH., Aug. 18.—The United States Department of Commerce and Labor to-day issued a circular letter to all Collectors of Customs on the Great Lakes calling attention to the law which forbids Canadian excursion vessels from transporting passengers from United States to Canadian ports or from Canadian to United States ports and back. The law provides a penalty of $200 to be paid by the steamship company for each passenger so carried.

The matter was called to the attention of the Department by the Collector at Rochester, N.Y. The enforcement of the law will break into the flourishing excursion business now carried on by Canadian steamship companies on the lakes.

CHEESE REACH A A HIGH PRICE

At the Cheese Board to-day 1,540 boxes of cheese, all white, were offered for sale. The bidding started at 12 7-8c. and closed at 13 1-16c. and 13 1-8c., which is the highest price obtained for cheese on the board here for years.

RECIPROCITY FROM THE U. S. POINT OF VIEW

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberals who are supporting him are endeavoring by all means in their power to reassure Canadians on the annexation aspect of the reciprocity agreement. On the other hand it is interesting to have the opinions of Canadians and Americans, who, as residents of the Republic, can at least speak authoritively of the views animating the leaders and the people of the United States. Only today a letter was received in Guelph from a gentleman residing on Fulton ave., Rochester, in which he exposes the real intent with which the Americans are viewing reciprocity. Here is what he says:

"As we see it there is political as well as an economic significance embodied in the proposed agreement and we notice by the conservtive press of Canada that you recognize the fact.

"We feel sure, that after your people have heard the sentiments of the leading citizens of the United States, concerning the annexation of Canada by closer trade relations; and have been shown, how, spurred on by the the great financial powers, the Union has grown with unparalled rapdity from an insignificant beginning to the greatest power on earth by seizing, usually in violation of all law and justice, any territory within striking distance, to satisfy the greed of the merchant and the lust for the national greatness, and especially by her commercial policy, the Union has absorbed and dominates in a most autocratic manner all the once independent countries on the continent except Canada, rendering them Republics in name only; your people will perceive the duplicity of the American Government and the peril to which the Liberal party is subjecting your political autonomy."

STOLE A WATCH

At Stirling and Was Arrested at Port Hope

A Port Hope lad, fifteen years of age, was arrested here last night by Chief Bond, charged with stealing a watch from a farmer near Stirling. He had been in charge of the Childrens Aid Society at Belleville, and had been sent out by that Institution to work on a farm near Stirling. He admits the theft of the watch and states that he sold it to a farmer in the neighborhood. An officer from Stirling came up this afternoon and returned with the boy.—Port Hope Guide.

SPORTS AT CHILDRENS PLAYGROUND

Owing to the inclement weather yesterday afternoon the games that were scheduled to take place among the children at the play grounds on Bridge Street East were postponed until this afternoon. Games of various kinds were indulged in by the children, who were present in large numbers. At the conclusion of the sports the children were provided with dainty refreshments.

PRICES OF FARM PRODUCE HIGH

There was a good attendance upon the market this morning and much produce was offered for sale. This, however, did not have a tendency to lower prices, which, as usual, were high.

Butter was a rather scarce article and sold readily at 28c. and 30c. per pound. Ine one or two instances 32c. was obtained.

While fresh eggs were quite plentiful, 18c. and 19c. per dozen were the ruling prices. They were bought in basket lots at the former price.

Dressed chickens commanded good prices. Broilers sold at from 60c. to 80c. per pair and chickens at 90c. to $1.50 according to size and quality.

A scarce vegetable is potatoes, and the prospects are not bright for much of a crop in this district. They were sold for 45c. and 50c. per peck, which is a record price for this season of the year. Other vegetables are quite plentiful.

During the past week the hog market has advanced in price, as high as $7.25 being paid for live porkers and $10 per hundred for dressed pork.

Ii grain prices there is no change to note.

Our quotations are as follows:—
Fall Wheat—75c. to 80c.
Spring wheat—95 to $1.00.

MRS. MYRTLE REED TAKES POISON AND BLAMES HUSBAND

Famous Authoress Says "Model Husband" Drove Her to Fatal Draught

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Myrtle Reed McCullough, author of "Lavender and Old Lace," "Love Letters of a Musician," "Love Affairs of Literary Men," and many other books, was found dead in her home last night, and reports to the police indicated that death was caused by an overdose of sleeping powders taken with suicidal intent.

Mrs. McCullough's body was found by Miss Anna Larsen, her maid, to whom she left a note and a cheque for $1,000. That death was intentional was indicated by the following note, which the writer left on her maid's dresser:

"Dear Anna—I am leaving you a cheque for $1,000 for your true and faithful service during four years. If my husband had been as good and kind to me and as considerate as you, I would not be going where I am.

(Signed) MRS. MAC."

The reference to her husband in the note was a surprise to friends of Mrs. McCullough. "Paradise Flat," as her home is known, had long been a favorite gathering place for a select circle of the writer's acquaintances She gave many unique entertainments. Among these was a "Model Husband Contest," which took place last year. Each woman guest "entered" her husband for the honor of being designated the "Finest Husband in the World." The men paraded, sewed buttons and deported themselves at their best, and their wives extolled their virtues in written essays. On that occasion, largely through the eloquent praises of his wife, Mr. McCullough received first prize as the "model husband." Mrs. McCullough undressed in her usual manner before taking the fatal dose. The maid aroused the neighbors and called two doctors, but it was too late. The authorities were not notified of the death until three hours after it had occurred.

There was a pretty romance connected with her marriage to Mr. McCullough, a romance that some said was cleverly described in her story, "A Spinner of the Sun," published about the time of her marriage in 1906.

Miss Reed, as she then was, was in her girlhood days one of the editors of "The Voice," published by the pupils at the West Division High School. James Sidney McCullough was editor of a college paper in Toronto, Ont.

"The Voice," was on his exchange list. He admired the writings of Miss Reed, and a correspondence between the two that continued for a number of years was opened. In 1896 Miss Reed and Mr. McCullough who had by that time made Chicago his home, slipped away quietly to Grand Haven, Mich., and were married.

MILK POISONED BY NOXIOUS WEEDS

WIARTON, Aug. 18.—Joseph Roger Forbes, son of William Forbes, a farmer, living in Amabel Township, about eight miles from here, died yesterday as a result of milk poisoning from using butter and milk from cows that had been poisoned by eating noxious weeds. His mother and brother are at present lying very ill from the same cause.

CURRENT COMMENT

Defeat Laurier and the pact will die, a natural death.

Reciprocity means the wasting of our natural resources.

Uncle Sam offers Canada the rind of the reciprocity melon.

The Yankees want to flood our market and drown our nationality.

Reciprocity was framed in the United States for the benefit of the United States.

Uncle Sam has taken Canada's measure and has the shackles all ready to put on.

Walkerville, Ont., still maintains its place as the most lightly taxed town in Canada, the rate for the year being fixed at 13 mills. Last year's rate was 11 6-10 mills.

According to the report of the Commissioners just issued, up to March last, the Transcontinental Railway had cost the country $95,406,697. How much graft was there in that amount?

The Globe sneers at a "British-born" meeting, at which it says only 59 were present. And not so long ago the organ gave a column and a half on its front page to a farmers' meeting, at which only 19 were present.

The Liberals and the Grain Growers have coalesced in Manitoba. The avowed policy of the Grain Growers is "Down with Protection." There is bound to be an influential wedge in the next Parliament which will agree with President Taft in desiring "free trade" in everything.—Montreal Star

The Hamilton Herald, a pro-reciprocity paper, says;—With the exception of breakfast foodsa and hair restorers it is difficult to recall anything upon which such enconiums have been showered as are being bestowed on the reciprocity pact in the Liberal press these days."

"Eighteen so-called Liberals in Toronto," is the way Mr. Hugh Guthrie at Guelph, referred to the patriots who, in February last, signed the celebrated manifesto against reciprocity And some of the so-called Liberals had fought the battles of Liberalism and borne the heat and burden of the day before Mr. Guthrie was born.

The Milwaukee News informs us that in the event of war between Germany and Britain, and Canada was attacked, the Monroe doctrine would not apply, and we would be left to our fate, so far as the United States is concerned. That is sad, if true, but relieves us of the obligation of placing the Canadian fleet at their disposal when the anticipated Japanese invasion takes place.

Mr. J. R. Booth, one of the most prominent and extensive of the Ottawa Valley lumber and wood pulp manufacturers, is reported to have declared hiffself in opposition to the United States reciprocity agreement. Many other men prominent in the business have taken a like stand. If this sort of thing keeps up even the politicians will be turning against the Government policy, that is if there are any honest Grit politicians in existence.

Why is not the vacant portfolio of Minister of Justice filled? The Marine and Fisheries post was filled at once. Who is to get the Justice Department? Has Sir Wilfrid some outsider in view, as is his practice in filling his Cabinet. An immediate appointment might help the lucky one in a contest. Or is Sir Wilfrid keeping it open to prevent friction among the claimants?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is now on a big stumping tour in Ontario. He should have his Ontario singers with him to keep the boys in good humor. Would it not be well for the Globe to revive that old campaign rouser under which Liberal forces of old used to march to victory? The following would sound well in Laurier's ears:

"The traitor's hand is on thy throat,
On-tay-ree-oh! On-tay-ree-oh!
Strike down the Frenchman with thy vote,
On-tay-ree-oh! On-tay-ree-oh!"

Reciprocity as adopted by Congress makes wheat free, but leaves a duty of 50 cents a barrel on our flour.

Why?

Because it enables the United States miller to secure Canadian wheat and manufacture it south of the border, thus providing work for American railways and workmen, and by-products for the building up of the American live stock industry and the enrichment of American farms. Is it possible that any of our hard-headed and sensible farmers do not realize this fact?

Consider the pulpwood clauses of the compact, and what do they disclose; simply that the United States proposes to force the carting of our pulpwood across the line to be there converted into pulp and paper at United States mills by United States labor to the great benefit of United States industrial centres. The worst of it is that the Canadian Government is acting with Washington to coerce the individual Canadian Provinces into the abandonment of their conservation policies. If possible Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and British Columbia are to be squeezed into lifting their embargoes upon the export of crude pulp wood.

All children are visited every eight months in their foster homes.

DON'T BE DECEIVED

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE IS THE ONLY ORIGINAL REMEDY.

Just because you happen to see or hear the statement somewhere that another preparation will kill the dandruff germ, stop falling hair and is just as good as Herpicide, don't be fooled and allow yourself to be swindled out of your money.

You want Newbro's Herpicide, the remedy that has been tried, has stood the test of time and now has more satisfied users than all other similar preparations combined. An attempt to sell you something else is merely another effort to profit from the good name established by the only genuine dandruff germ destroyer.

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and prevents falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly It may be claimed that other remedies will do the same things, but Herpicide really does them. Its years of success prove this.

Send 1c. in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

All druggists sell Newbro's Herpicide. Applications may be obtained at good barber shops. J. S. McKeown is special agent for Belleville. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed.

Struck an Iceberg.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—In connection with the report from Boston that the steamer Saturnia had struck an iceberg, the Robert Reford Co., Limited, agents of the Donaldson Line have received a marconigram from the steamship Saturnia that she ran into a ledge of an iceberg 184 miles east of Belle Isle. Damage was slight, and she proceeded on her voyage to Glasgow.

A later message says that all was going well. The steamer is due in Glasgow on Sunday night or Monday morning.

An Awful Place.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—The month of August so far has set a record for the number of accidental and violent deaths in Montreal and vicinity. Up to this time, over eighty cases of this kind have already been reported to the morgue.

"EVEN IN YOUTH NEVER STRONG"

Now the Rich, Happy Possessor of Good Health, Which was Restored by DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS.

"Even when I was young, I was not robust and healthy like other girls. I suffered from headaches and had sort of blue feelings that deprived me of the joyful spirits and pleasures other girls seemed to get. After I married I found I could not throw off worries like other women, and those dull feelings of despondency and weariness made me very unhappy. There was no cause to feel so, and my doctor said my liver was sluggish and this accounted for my poor color, my tiredness languor and despair. The pills the doctor gave me were too purgative made me weaker because they were too active for my constitution. Dozens of my friends recommended Dr Hamilton's Pills, and they were so mild and helpful. Well, I never used a pill that acted so quietly as Dr Hamilton's. They were so comfortable to use I was afraid they might not help, but in a week I knew they had been actively engaged in cleaning up my system. They did the work of a tonic and blood medicine combined. I improved to a marvellous degree with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I now maintain the most perfect kind of health by using them just once or twice a week."

It is Mrs. E. V. Edlanger, the wife of Capt. Erlanger, well known at Gloucester, who relates the above experience. She proved what you, and all others, men and women, can prove—that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are best for restoring health and best for keeping the system in perfect running order. Don't be misled into using anything but Dr. Hamilton's Pills, sold in yellow boxes, 25c., at all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont

Rev. Father Morrisey

Father Morriscy's "No. 11" Cures Stomach Troubles.

When your stomach is working right you never know it is there. But when it feels as heavy as lead—when you have Heartburn, Belching of Wind, Sourness, a gnawing hunger, with distress after eating—when you feel irritable and depressed — then you may know that the digestive fluids in the stomach are not sufficient to digest what you eat.

Father Morriscy's "No. 11" Tablets supply these fluids in concentrated form. Each tablet, dissolved in the stomach, will digest 1¾ pounds of food, which is more than an average meal.

Read what Father Morriscy's treatment did for Mr. Gosline, of Salmon Lake. He writes Nov. 30, 1908:

"I was troubled with indigestion, so severe that I really thought I had cancer of the stomach. I took much doctors' remedies, till I was forced to seek another resource, and this was the Rev. Father Morriscy. His treatments worked miracles, until I have been entirely cured, so that now I do not look to the quality of the diet but to the quantity."

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

"They said I was foolish to start on such a wild-goose chase," he muttered, as he tramped onward. "Perhaps I am, but I would be a greater fool to stick to the old farm, and follow trapping half the time to make the two ends meet. Bill Wheeler was created for something better than to serve others, all his life. If there is gold in the Black Hills, I'll have my share of it, or know the reason why. It is worth trying for, anyway, and when Bill Wheeler tries he never fails. I'll win out, or my bones will bleach in the desert."

He quickened his pace, and for an hour made increased progress. Then seeing a flock of geese flying over his head, he unslung his rifle, and a moment later, a large, juicy gander fell dead at his feet. It was a remarkable shot, but nothing unusual for the expert marksman, who always depended upon his gun for his food supply.

"That means it is time to dine," he observed casually, stooping to pick up the fine fowl, and entering the wood, along the outskirts of which he had been walking, he built a fire, and was soon enjoying a delicious, savory meal.

"That will stand me for the balance of the day," he said, tossing the cleanly picked carcass from him; then drinking freely from a nearby brook and replenishing the water bottle which hung at his side, he continued his journey with renewed vigor, finally encamping for the night on a mossy knoll, to be awakened at dawn by the song of a happy bird. He quickened his progress materially by adding a powerful horse to his equipments, and before a week had passed he was far on towards the completion of his journey.

"We must be more than half way to the Black Hills, he remarked to the beast, as they swung along. But he was farther west than he had guessed for in three days he had reached the rolling prairies of Southern Dakota across which he must wend his way before the Black Hills could be reached.

"It's strange I haven't seen a redskin yet; and they told me these plains were full of them," he mused "I suppose there is time enough for them to show themselves, though without me troublin' myself. We may yet become better acquainted than is for my good. Now—it—can't be—possible—that——"

A hand shaded his keen eyes as he reined in his horse to a standstill. In the distance, towards the right, was what looked to the ordinary vision but a speck, but what, to the trained eye of the huntsman, appeared to be an object.

"An emigrant wagon: one horse standing, one down. Somebody is in trouble. Come, Billy, we must help them." but before the words had left his lips the report of a rifle split the air, followed by an unearthly yell, and he knew that the little company had been attacked by Indians.

Billy Wheeler was no coward, but his cool judgment prevented a rush to certain death, as present circumstances indicated. Cautiously he made his way towards the scene of attack, hoping to be of some service to the wayfarers. A nearer view disclosed a band of twenty-five or thirty Indians while the defenders consisted of but two men and three women.

"It is but another of the prairie horrors," he muttered. "The red devils hate the encroachment of white men and are retaliating with deadly results. These emigrants will never realize their ambition, Heaven pity them. They will be wiped out, poor creatures. But are you going to sit here and see them women butchered Bill Wheeler? Never, sir."

Giving the horse a free rein, he flew like the wind toward the massacre. He had covered perhaps half the distance, when an Indian pony carrying a brave dashed from his fellows, and hanging from the redskin's arm was the form of a woman. He had secured her as his prize and was making away with her, before his right should be disputed. Following, galloping, a moment later, came another pony and brave, bearing a similar burden. As the first pony careened towards Wheeler, he unslung his rifle and waited. He knew what the kidnapping meant to the women, and determined to thwart at least one captor's purpose.

"I'll give your carcass to the fowls of the air, you reptile," he snarled and as the distance between them lessened, he took deliberate aim. A sharp report, a piercing yell, and dropping his captive, the Indian fell from his pony, shot through the heart

There was no time to lose. With all possible speed Wheeler galloped to where the woman lay, and grasping her in his strong arms lifted her to the saddle, sprang on behind and sped away toward the south. The other Indians, forgetful of all but their ghastly work, did not hear the report of their brother's cries as they mingled with their own yells. Nor had they seen the fearless rescuer who was now flying on and on, and who soon reached a friendly grove, through which he dashed, and fording a shallow stream on the opposite side, was soon out of immediate danger.

"You will be safer with me than with them reptiles," he said gently as he drew rein after having wandered down stream a mile or so. "I would have rescued the other captive had it been possible, but the Indian carried her north, while we came in a southerly direction. The third woman and the two men are dead. I saw the red demons tomahawk them."

"Poor mother, father and brother Edward," she sobbed. "Oh, it is terrible. They came upon us before we were aware of their presence. Only one shot was fired by father. He killed an Indian, but was almost immediately tomahawked by a great brute and then I felt myself lifted and carried away. Poor Letitia, she too was made a captive. But I fear her fate will be worse than death."

"Were you intending to settle in the West?"

"Yes. Father took a tract of land in northern Dakota, on the upper river; we were on our way to settle it."

"Did he buy it, or was it a Government grant?"

"He had bought it, and the deeds were in his possession. It was mostly woodland; he intended following his regular business of lumbering, as he knew there would be a great demand for building timber. He was out here a year ago and made a selection, including a survey of the land, coming to Illinois for the family. We had seen no Indians, and were hoping for a safe journey, when we were so unexpectedly attacked."

"Then we must return and secure those deeds," said Wheeler calmly "While regretting your terrible affliction, we must not forget that you are now alone in the world and must make the best of circumstances. Timber land will realize handsomely on the investment in a year or two as it is on the rise in the Dakotas. How many acres were there in the tract?"

"Two thousand."

Wheeler gave a prolonged whistle "I will go back at once, and if the bodies and wagon have not been burned, I am almost sure to find them I will bring back whatever else is available, too, if I think it would be of use to you at present."

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS IN SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST, 20th, 1911.

Jeremiah Cast into Prison. Jer xxxvii.

Golden Text—Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely for my sake Matt. v:11.

(1) Verses 1-2—When sin is working wreck and ruin, how do you explain that men keep on in their disobedience to God, as Zedekiah did?

(2) How did Zedekiah become king of Judah?

(3) What, if any, relation was Zedekiah to the king of Babylon. (See 2 Kings xxiv:17).

(4) What makes people disregard one whom they believe to be a true prophet, as many of the Jews did Jeremiah?

(5) Verses 3-4—Jerusalem was now besieged by a powerful army, and Zedekiah in fear sent to ask Jeremiah to pray to God for them; was there merit or demerit in this request from such a man? Why?

(6) Does God answer the prayers of the wicked for the success of their projects, or the prayers of good people in their behalf?

(7) How should a man be treated who is constantly pointing out national sins, and forcasting their disastrous consequences? Is he a traitor or a

(8) Verses 5-10—Zedekiah, in spite of his oath to the King of Babylon had rebelled against him, and made a league with the king of Egypt; what did God say through Jeremiah should be the result?

(9) What is the demerit of the sin to break the oath or betray the trust?

(10) What reason is there to believe that there comes a time in the life of the individual, when his fate is sealed and his doom is certain?

(11) Verse 11—The Chaldean King of Babylon raised the siege of Jerusalem so that Pharoh' army of relief returned to Jerusalem, possibly driven back by the Chaldeans. This gave Jerusalem a short respite. What should the wicked do while God withholds his judgments?

(12) Verses 12-14—What was the probable object of Jeremiah in leaving Jerusalem, now he had an opportunity?

(13) Was there any ground at all for accusing Jerimiah of being a traitor? (See chap. 38.)

(14) Which is generally worse, a "lie out of whole cloth" or one based upon facts perverted?

(15) Verses 15-16—Why, in view of God' Almighty power does He permit His servants to suffer for their faithfulness?

(16) Verse 17—Likely by this time the Chaldean army had re-invested the city and then Zedekiah, the king gets Jeremiah out of prison to consult him. Is it a usual thing for bad men when in prosperity to reject good people, and when in adversity consult them, or ask their prayers? (Give your reasons.

(17) Jeremiah told the King the blunt truth. Why should we always do that with sinners?

(18) Verses 18-21—Does a good man ever get where he may not suffer cold, hunger, or either bodily discomfort, or when he does not desire bodily comforts as do other men? (This question is one that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

"Renegades," Who?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the polite Premier of Canada, opened his campaign in the County of Norfolk, Ontario on the 16th inst., and immortalized himself by denouncing the present Conservative leaders as "renegades," because they dare to differ from him upon the question of reciprocity. Does not a charge of that kind, falling from the lips of Sir Wilfrid, who has violated and falsified every principle he ever advocated, prove an utter recklessness of character Those who have known him and have watched his career of late, will not be surprised at any statement he may make. Either failure in memory or an utter disregard for what he says has become a characteristic in his public career.

Who Invented and Developed Bourassa?

Pertinently asks the Toronto World and answers the question itself. It says:

"Mr. Bourassa, Mr. Lavergne and their followers, who call themselves Nationalists, were all raised in the Liberal camp. Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Lavergne were two young men especially trained and developed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Politically they are nearer to him than almost anybody else in the Province of Quebec, and if they have parted from home and started a new movement of their own and a movement against Sir Wilfrid, that is their affair.

"What the public should appreciate and what the public will see in this situation is that the Nationalist movement in the Province of Quebec is an outcrop of Liberalism and of Laurierism and if any responsibility for their actions must be placed on anybody, that responsibility must be laid at the door of the Liberal party."

The World might have truthfully added that the extreme views now proclaimed and advocated by Bourassa and Lavergne are but reechoing the opinions advocated by Laurier and his followers in 1896, when Quebec was captured. Why should they whine and complain now, if Bourassa and Lavergne refuse to follow them in their treachery to their people? Either they were dishonest now or were then.

Beans

The Toronto Globe has of late, in its advocacy of the Fielding-Knox trade pact, been floundering in statements purporting to be based upon figures which, when analyzed, prove that the Globe writer 'does not know beans," certainly so far as they refer to that article of food in the Canadian market. A few figures will show how fallacious the statement of the Globe is, that reciprocity will enhance the price to the producer. The imports and exports of beans into and from Canada for the years 1901 and 1910 are as follows.

	Import from all countries		Export to all countries
Year	Bus.	Value	Bus.	Value
1901 ..	10,643	$20,917	310,416	$418,161
1910 ..	107,226	175,191	17,429	33,658

What do these figures prove? Simply this, that the imports into Canada increased 96,583 bushels, while exports from Canada decreased 292,987 bushels, and that Canada is now consuming more beans than she produces, hence she has no beans to export profitably to any country.

Here are more figures to show how deceptive the statement is, in that reciprocity opens a profitable market outside of Canada for beans grown in Canada. The trade returns show that our trade in beans with the United States and Japan was—

1901—Value of imports from the United States, $19,105.

1911—Value of imports from the United States, $72,537.

Increase in importations from the United States, $54,432.

Canadian trade in beans with Japan.

1901—The quantity imported into Canada from Japan was 1314 bushels, valued at $982.

1911—The quantity imported into Canada from Japan was 9901 bushels, valued at $12,392.

Exports to Japan, none.

If the trade in beans has in the past, under a high protective tariff, been what the figures show them to have been, what may the Canadian farmer expect under free trade? Nothing but a total collapse in prices. Look at the facts. On the 17th of July, 1911, Canada entered into a treaty with Japan, under which Japanese products on importation into Canada will be entitled to favored nation treatment; therefore if the reciprocity agreement goes into effect, beans from Japan will be entitled to free entry. The same treatment as granted to the United States and Japan, will also be granted to Great Britain, Australia, British East Indies, British West Indies, Hong Kong, Newfoundland, Austria-Hungary, and Switzerland. In 1910 beans were imported into Canada from each of these countries.

In 1910 the value of importations of beans into Great Britain amounted to nearly $2,500,000. Amongst the countries that exported beans to Great Britain will be found British India, New Zealand, Austria-Hungary, Russia, etc., all of which are entitled to favored nation treatment from Canada. In 1905 Canada exported to Great Britain beans valued at $49,826. In 1910 her exports of beans to Great Britain dwindled down to $205. In 1906 United States shipped to Great Britain beans valued at $48,586, while in 1909 the value of her exports of beans to Great Britain amounted to $62,726.

The home market is the best friend of the Canadian bean grower. Under reciprocity it would be thrown open to all favored nations without compensating advantages.

With these facts and figures staring the Globe writers in the face, its readers must marvel at its statements when dealing with questions affecting trade, knowing as it must know, that they prove incontestably the falsity of the deductions drawn from them.

Plain Question

A few days ago the following article was published in a number of Grit newspapers in this province:

Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, who fought reciprocity in the U. S. Senate, recently quoted some figures which had been given him by George McLean, of Sarles, N. D., showing prices paid by the latter for Canadian and American wheat last fall. He buys Canadian wheat in bond, importing it duty free to be ground for export. The prices on the American side were paid at Sarles, three miles from the border, and those in Canada at various points within ten miles of the line.

The respective prices paid were as follows:—

	American Wheat	Canadian Wheat
October 3, 1910..	$ 97	$ 85
October 5, 1910	98	84
October 7, 1910	1.00	85
October 11, 1910	99	85
October 12, 1910	98	83
October 15, 1910	96	83
October 17, 1910	96	81
October 20, 1910	93	81
October 25, 1910	91	81
October 29, 1910	92	79
November 1, 1910 ..	89	77
November 2, 1910 ...	90	75
November 3, 1910 ...	89	77
November 4, 1910 ...	88	75
November 8, 1910 ...	89	77
November 14, 1910 ...	91	79
November 20, 1910 ...	92	80
November 26, 1910 ...	91	80
December 2, 1910	91	77

It will take a great stream of talk to argue figures like these out of the mind of the western farmer.

To the statement contained in the above we answer with the following statement and question which The Intelligencer published a week ago, and to which no answer has as yet been vouchsafed:

Twenty-five thousand farmers are said to have gone from Nebraska and Iowa, as well as from Northern Dakota, which lies along our borders, to Canada, taking with them more than twenty million dollars, and from other states hundreds of thousands of farmers have migrated into Canada, taking with them many millions of dollars worth of stock, implements and household effects. Why is it that these skilled farmers, who have had the "market of ninety millions" open to them, and many of whom are alleged to get higher prices at home for their wheat than they could get in Canada, are leaving their own country, changing their allegiance and undergoing the hardships inseparable from founding new homes in a strange country?

Will the supporters of the Taft-Laurier compact please answer without circumlocution this plain question.

WOMAN'S WORLD

FASHIONS ETIQUETTE RECEIPTS CHIT-CHAT

FOR THE DRESSING TABLE.

Ivory of the real and expensive kind and of the many imitation brands, has enjoyed marked favor of late for toilet use. Every article for the dresser, and sometimes odd pieces for other parts of the roof, is made up in this creamy substance. Some women are content to leave the smooth white surface unmarked, but for those who like the individuality of monogram or name on all their personal belongings the new way of impressing the letters in the colors most favored of the owner will make a strong appeal.

Another material that is well liked for the dresser is cut glass. Of course this is more limited in its uses than ivory, but all the useful little jars and boxes and bottles and trays may be in this exquisite medium. A set of perfume bottles, powder jar and pin-tray, is shown in a heavy glass, cut in the new checker-board pattern. A jewel casket is of particularly heavy cut glass and has a rim of silver all the way around.

NEW FASHION INDICATIONS.

The divided skirt fashion, which had a speedy death, has left its influence in the slashed skirt, which is however, not likely to have any real vogue here. In England, and on this side the tailors are getting around the slashed skirt problem in divers ways. Sometimes the slash is suggested by a line of buttons and buttonholes. Sometimes the skirt is really cut, and a plaiting of silk or satin is set underneath. The most popular device seems to be the slot seam which extends all the way down the skirt, or from a point just below the knee, this imitation slash being emphasized by a trimming of braid or buttons.

Every woman is interested in the skirt width question, and most women will be glad to see that the new coat and skirt suits have reasonably wide skirts, measuring at least two and a half yards at the bottom. This does not mean that the skirt flares out the least bit. Everything is still straight and severe, and the bottom of the skirt neither flares out nor tapers in after the manner fancide last season. There is a hint of more closely fitting effects in tailored coats, though as yet this tendency manifests itself only in a semi-fitted back, the front and sides of the coat carrying out the narrow straight silhouette of the skirt.

Except in the case of severely mannish suits, which are always ordered by some women, no matter what the passing fashion or fancy may be, coats are arther jaunty and feminine in style and are gay with silk facings strappings, and rows of buttons.

Sleeves are long on the strictly tailored type of suit. Collars and revers are exaggerated in size, and often there are deep cuffs and pocket flaps which repeat the style of the collar.

The new tailorde coats open a little higher in front, as is practical in the case of garments that will be worn in cold weather and in the front opening is sometimes arranged a tremendous jobat, which reaches across to the left shoulder and is pinned there with a lang bar-pin.

Serge and cheviot seem favored materials for everyday suits, but more dressy models are built of beautiful silky broadcloth and the rich, silk serge that falls in such handsome folds. Dark blue and black promise to be popular again, but there are also some indications of a revival of brown.

SUFFRAGISTS ON THE ALERT.

That the Woman Suffragists are a force now to be reckoned with is now acknowledged by some of the leading London papers. In the election at Bethnal Green a few days ago the seat was retained by a Liperal, Mr. Masterman, but his majority was cut down to one-quarter of the figure by which it was held by his predecessor. The "Daily News," a Liberal paper speaks of the concentration of powerful suffragist forces as among the factors making the difference, and the "Daily Chronicle" says that, among other things, the Woman's Franchise bill counted for a good deal in the result.

The cause for the woman suffragists going into the field in opposition to Mr. Masterman, a member of the Government who had declared himself in favor of woman suffrage, is not at first apparent. It lies in the fact that Mr. Masterman has declared his intention of taking a course of action in Parliament, which, its supporters feel would be fatal to the prospects of the Woman Suffrage Bill. The object of all woman suffrage societies is to sweep away the degrading disability of sex, by which a woman—simply because she is a woman—is at present debarred from exercising the parliamentary franchise. The bill which they have drafted to secure this end would give the vote to about one and a quarter million women. But in order to meet the criticism of members of the Liberal party this bill has been redrafted by a committee of members of Parliament, known as the Conciliation Committee, and in its present form would enfranchise about one million women. This bill commands a large majority in the House of Commons, and, but for one contingency, is certain to become law next year.

The one possibility of defeat lies in altering the bill in its committee stage that it will be thrown out on third reading. The 'wrecking' plan is to introduce an amendment to 'widen' the bill by making it opearte to enfranchise, not one million women, but seven millions. Though there may be different opinions as to the desirability of this larger extension of the electorate, there cannot be two opinions among well-informed people as to the prospect of getting such a proposal carried in the present Parliament. The only effect such a widening of the bill could have would be to postpone indefinitely its passage into law. Under these circumstances any one who declares his intention of trying to widen the Woman Suffrage Bill is regarded by the suffragists as an enemy to be fought none the less vigorously because he poses in the guise of a friend.

A DAILY COOKERY RECIPE.

Peach Banana Ice Cream—Mash three thoroughly ripe bananas and four or five good, choice, mellow peaches, peeled and with pits removed to a smooth pulp. Sweeten with one half pint of granulated sugar and let stand a few minutes before adding the cream. Then add about one-half pint of rich cream and about two-thirds of a quart of rich milk. Flavor slightly with vanilla, mix all thoroughly and freeze as usual.

CATARRH

THE MOTHER OF CONSUMPTION

How this dread Disease May Be Prevented and Cured—the Opinions of People who have been cured by

CATARRHOZONE

Catarrh is often spoken of as the mother of consumption, because, when unchecked it extends from its place of beginning to the bronchial tubes then deeper and deeper, till finally it becomes consumption of the lungs.

The safest and best remedy for any form of Catarrh is Catarrhozone. It is inhaled to all parts of the breathing organs, kills the disease, and drives it completely out of the system.

Mrs. Mary J. Whitney, of Clay St. Topeka, Kansas, was cured of Nasal Catarrh after twenty years' suffering by Catarrhozone. She says:

"I owe to Catarrhozone an immense debt of gratitude. It cured me of Nasal Catarrh of the most disagreeable kind after doctors without number had pronounced my case incurable My breath is pure and my respiration regular, and I do not cough any more since using Catarrhozone. It has cured me perfectly."

Another case of Chronic Catarrh that was cured quickly by Catarrhozone, is that of Mr. G. I. Luce, of 1,700 Navasota Street, Austin, Tex Mr. Luce says:

"I tried for four years to get rid of Nasal Catarrh; used salt douches, atomizers, tablets, stomach medicines etc., but they didn't do me much good

"Then I tried Catarrhozone, and received relief in a few hours. It cured in a week, so that I never had a recurrence of my former trouble."

Miss Winer, who resides on May Street, in Hartford, Conn., was cured of throat trouble by Catarrhozone and speaks of her recovery in the following words:—

"Repeated colds finally resulted in a Catarrhal condition from which I suffeerd more or less every spring and fall. Catarrhozone was the only remedy that relieved and cured me. I recommend it."

No treatment is so good for Catarrhal affections and Bronchitis as Catarrhozone. Its success is quite unequalled in the history of medicine It will cure you quickly and surely and is well worth a trial. Two months' treatment, guaranteed to cure, price $1.00; small size, 50 cents. At all druggists.

OUR BANNOCKBURN

(By Rev. John May.)

Air—'Scots Wha Hae..'

Britons, sound in heart and head!
Men "Sir John" so often led!
Halt! beware that downy bed
Reciprocity!

On a trap door it is set
O'er a dungeon black as jet,
Flee the snare! or—weep regret
Everlastingly!

Who would shun the hidden rocks
Let him smit with ballot box
Taft, and Laurier, and Knox,
Uncompunctiously!

Who would swap a silken flag
For a spangled cotton rag,
Wreck an Empire on a snag—
Let him madman be!

Now the cheese is in the trap;
Now the mouse, poor silly chap,
Thinks for sure he has 'a snap'—
Get a snap, will he?

Farmer! for a cent on wheat
Would you knock her off her feet?
Put your mother on the street
Wailing woefully?

Would you sell her as a slave
To the lords of yonder cave
Despots of the Trust conclave
Chains and slavery?

Can you do it? God forbid!
Shun the bait; the hook is hid—
Generous gift, this Pact—the lid
Covering vacancy!

No! The thing will never do,
Benefitting (?) but a few—
Cutting Canada in two!
Sleeker gorge to be!

Now the axe is raised to chop
Down the Maple, empire prop!
Voter! bid the woodman stop
Vandal forestry!

Canada bespits the phrase—
Taft's "the parting of the ways,"
Eye fixed on the ancient "blaze,"
On the Maple tree!

Mothers, sisters, hold your breath!
Is it life? or is it death?
Hark to what the ballot saith—
"Britons shall be free!"

Now's the day to cast your vote!
Take this Reptile by the throat!
Strangle it, and hand the boat
Over to R. B.!

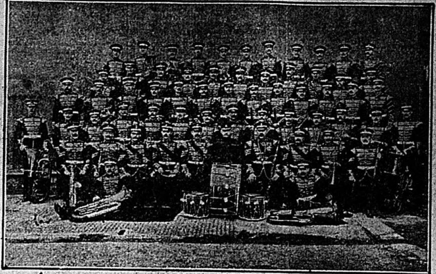
LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS



BAND OF THE GOLDSTREAM GUARDS

The famous band of the Goldstream Guards crosses the ocean to play a two weeks engagement at the Canadian National Exhibition. STRIKE GROWS ACUTE

Nearly a Quarter Million Men Are Out In England.

Employes of London Underground May Now Walk Out—220,000 Railwaymen Are Idle and Special Constables Are Being Sworn In—Liberal Ministers Seem Helpless to Stem the Tide.

London, Aug. 19.—Scores of thousands of railway employes throughout the United Kingdom are on strike today and traffic everywhere is badly disorganized.

The leaders of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants declare that 220,000 men, or nearly half the total of employes of the railways of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, have answered their call to stop work. On the other hand, the managers of the railways say these figures are greatly exaggerated.

There is no method by which verification of either assertion is possible, but the fact is patent that the railway service all over the country is completely demoralized, even a limited passenger service being impossible. Never before have the Ministers of a British Government made such earnest efforts to ward off a great labor war; yet last night they had been unable to stay a movement that promises to entail inconvenience, possibly misery, to millions of people.

One of the gravest features of the situation in London is a threatened strike by the employes of the underground railways. Hundreds of thousands of persons use the tubes to get to and from their business and their stoppage would greatly increase the suffering and demoralization which is being caused by the strike on the steam railways.

Thus far, according to the officials of the underground companies, only 500 of their employes have struck. This is but a small percentage of the men employed in the tubes, but their defection already has curtailed the service and only a few trains are running. The underground strikers held a mass meeting last night and passed a resolution not to return to work until satisfactory terms have been arranged through their executives, or until all the other railway men who have struck are restored to their positions under Government guarantee.

London has the appearances of an armed camp, for on all sides are to be seen soldiers, rifles in hand and leaden bullets in their belts, while from the dome of St. Paul's the engineers are keeping in communication with the general staff by heliographic signals in the daytime and by electric flashes at night.

Undeterred by the failure of their negotiations on Thursday to effect a settlement of the dispute between the railway managers and their men, the whole of yesterday again was spent by Premier Asquith, David Lloyd-George, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Sidney Buxton, President of the Board of Trade, in fruitless conferences with the leaders on both sides of the controversy.

The battleship Warrior arrived at Douglas, Isle of Man, yesterday afternoon to provision the hungry islanders, whose regular communication with Liverpool has been cut off.

Reports from Wales say that some 20,000 or 30,000 additional colliers will be idle by to-night.

Thousands of holiday makers are stranded at the seaside and country resorts without money and unable to obtain transportation home.

The Liverpool street station, where some 80,000 commuters arrive and depart daily, was the most congested point of London probably, yesterday. Last evening the platforms were packed with thousands awaiting a chance to get to their suburban homes. A large majority did not reach their homes before morning.

Major Roche, who, having been ordered from Ireland to rejoin his regiment at Aldershot, on arriving at Fishguard found the train stalled by strikers. He promptly mobilized a party of soldiers who were returning by boat from a furlough, borrowed rifles from the local territorials, drove off the strikers at the point of the bayonet and got his train through.

The international combine of steamship companies has no hope of getting away any ships from Liverpool this week. The best it expects to accomplish to-day is to sail the steamer Philadelphia out of Southampton and the steamer Minneapolis out of London. These vessels, however, were fully booked up long ago, and consequently their sailing will not help to diminish the number of stranded Americans in England.

The steamship combine is advancing the dates of sailings of its boats as far as possible to try to get the Americans home.

Riot In Birmingham.

Birmingham, Eng., Aug. 19.—Again last night there was a sharp conflict when several wagons loaded with meat were being driven from the depot to the wholesale market under an escort of police and soldiers. The mob attacked the cavalcade and was driven off and dispersed, but not until there had been a free use of truncheons by the police.

Police Guard Stations.

Swansea, Wales, Aug. 19.—Railway traffic here is at a standstill. The four stations are closed and the police are guarding them. Many factories are shutting down owing to a lack of fuel.

Dockers' Strike Settled.

London, Aug. 19—The strike of dockmen, coal porters and carmen, which began here August 1 and resulted in a dislocation of trade, almost famine conditions and rioting for nearly two weeks, was finally settled last night. The strike was called off August 11 under the promise that the differences between the men and the shipowners should be arbitrated.

The chief points of the agreement reached are that the men may be engaged for work outside the dock premises, and that any differences which may arise shall be referred to John Burns or an arbitrator, appointed by the President of the Local Government Board.

WILKIE INQUEST ADJOURNED.

Witnesses Tell of Slayer's Brutality to His Wife.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—So uncertain was the evidence given by witnesses at the inquest yesterday afternoon on the body of Mrs. Ellen Wilkie, that the enquiry was adjourned until Wednesday, Aug. 23, to enable the crown to get the facts straightened out.

Mrs. Wilkie died at 254 Claremont street on Mnoday night, and it is alleged that death was caused by her husband, who is facing a charge of murder.

Wilkie and Frank Perry, who is included in the charge of murder were present in the court room.

Mrs. Mary Jane Bryant, who lives on the first floor of the house in Claremont street, was the first witness. She told of seeing Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie fighting. Mrs. Wilkie was on the floor in the passage and Wilkie was beating her with his fist, on the side of the head, while Mrs. Wilkie was grasping her husband's leg. Witness succeeded in separating them and then Mrs. Wilkie fainted.

In continuing, the witness was unable to give a clear account of what happened, and as she complained that she was "all unstrung," the coroner excused her for the time being.

Cecilia Bryant, daughter of the previous witness, described several fights which occurred during the evening, between the Wilkies, but as, in repetition, she gave contradictory accounts of the incidents, the coroner decided to adjourn the case.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Crop bulletins from almost 200 districts of the west, claim an average yield of 25 bushels to the acre.

Frederic Wise, a lamp-tender employed on the C.P.R., was killed yesterday by the fast C.P.R. express No. 21 at London, Ont.

A barn owned by H. G. Keenan, and used by A. E. Mason, contractor, at Welland, for his teams, was burned yesterday. Four horses were taken out, but four were burned to death.

Extra pay in the naval service is to be eliminated as far as possible, on the ground that "a more generous scale of pay is provided in the naval service of Canada than in the imperial navy.

Order-in-Council has been passed increasing the pay of surveyors of block-out lines from $10 to $12 per day, "in view of the importance of the work and the hardships which these surveyors have to bear."

Detective Frank Fraser of St. Paul, Minn., was fatally shot in Minneapolis while arresting a well-known bandit. Fraser was a son of the late Duncan Fraser of the eighth concession of Cornwall Township, Out.

The combination of pre-election festivities in Hull and pay-day at the Booth Mills had a rather novel effect on Wednesday night. Owing to so many of the employes not being sober enough to operate with safety the sawmill had to closed down.

Youth Shanghaied.

New York, Aug. 19.—A dramatic tale of the sea was told in Police Court here yesterday by George Allen, aged 16, of Sioux City, Iowa, who was charged with being a vagrant. Allen claimed that after his arrival in New York six weeks ago he was asked by a foreigner, whom he met casually, to take a ride in a launch. With thirty-nine other men, most of whom were Italians, he said the launch sailed down the bay and put all hands on board a steamer bound for Porto Rico.

When they attempted to enter the launch again, he claims, they were driven below at the point of a revolver. For the next six weeks, he says, they had to work the vessel to and from Porto Rico, after which he was sent ashore penniless. He also claims that all of his clothing had been stolen while he was on the boat.

Allen was released in the custody of an agent of the Children's Society.

George Will Found.

Kingston, Aug. 19.—Although the report is denied by lawyers interested in the case, it is reported that the will of the late Joseph George was found in his old home, which is being overhauled. It is stated that plumbers found the will stuffed in some of the pipes. The will could not be found when George died, a year ago, and the grave was opened in search of it. Recently a case was fought out in the high court over the will, the estate involving the sum of $40,000, which was divided between his wife, Albert Cottenden of Toronto, his son, and other relatives.

Atwood's Flight Continues.

Swanville, Pa., Aug. 19.—What he called one jump brought Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, from Cleveland, Ohio, to Swanville, Pa., yesterday afternoon and landed him 84 miles nearer his destination in his picturesque aeroplane flight from St. Louis to New York. Atwood was to have gone on to Erie but a lack of gasolnie forced him to land here eleven miles west of Erie. He came down without accident and glided into a cornfield in the twilight, his biplane being moored beneath the trees on the lake shore.

Dangerous to Navigation.

Kingston, Aug. 19—Mariners are complaining that the light at Nine-Mile Point, at the head of Simcoe Island, is out of order, and that navigation is very dangerous at that point. The Marine Department will be asked to look after it.

LUNATIC IS CAPTURED

Officers Laid in Ambush to Catch Osias Beaudin.

Desperate Character Who Has Been at Liberty For the Past Year Since His Escape From the Asylum Is Caught at Last—Officers Waylay Him Near His Home In the Woods and Handcuff Him.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—At large for the last twelve months, after having escaped from the asylum, Osias Beaudin, charged with having poisoned cattle belonging to Pierce Bourette, at the Caughnawaga Reserve, was arrested Thursday night at St. Annes de Dundee by High Constable St. Mars and Deputy Constable Cyr. The accused will be brought before the court of sessions Thursday for trial.

Beaudin, who was condemned to two years in the penitentiary, on the charge of having attempted to murder Chief Jocks, of the Indian reserve, in 1893, is declared by the police to be a desperate character.

When he was arrested for having tried to cut the chief's head open with an axe, he resisted strenuously, and it took three men to subdue him and prevent him killing those charged with taking him into custody.

The second time he was arrested on a charge of having poisoned his neighbor's cattle.

Thursday night, about 9.30, in order to prevent any bloodshed, the officers waited for the accused in the woods near his home at the side of the path where they knew he would pass, and they succeeded in putting the handcuffs on him before he could offer any resistance.

Had Revolver In Satchel.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—But for the timely intervention of Staff Inspector Geo. Kennedy yesterday morning, Morality Officer Thomas Bloodworth might have met death at the hands of a woman frenzied by the fancied retention of money which her husband has ceased to contribute for her support.

The woman, Mrs. W. D. Joyner, has called several times at the morality department office, demanding the money, only to be told that its payment had been discontinued. She left in a rage Thursday, threatening vengeance upon Bloodworth. She called again yesterday morning.

While she was talking to Bloodworth she opened her handbag and Staff Inspector Kennedy saw a revolver inside. He took it away from her and placed the woman under arrest so that doctors might decide whether she is sane. She was arraigned in the Police Court upon a charge of carrying concealed weapons and remanded a week.

What We Can Teach The Americans

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Can you teach your grandmother to suck eggs? Sometimes; for grandmothers aren't always clever.

"I'm very sorry, Mr. Bisfit," said an eminent judge to a lawyer who had argued with him instead of arguing before him, "but I can't teach you any law."

ARTHUR HAWKES.

"That is so, my lord," dryly replied the lawyer, and sat down.

The Americans are more willing to be taught than we suppose. They have more to learn then they suppose. Not many of them think they can learn anything from Canada or Canadians. To them the idea of learning from us is about as sensible as the idea of an elephant teaching a gress-hopper to hop.

A while ago a party of United States editors was travelling to Winnipeg from Chicago. The talk turned to Canadian affairs and presently to elections. Said one from Kansas:

"But they don't have elections in Canada. Their public officials are appointed from England, aren't they?"

The Kansas editor's idea was a little too typical. His countrymen regarded us, I was going to say, as a poor relation, but we were scarcely in that class. The notion was pretty well expressed six months ago by the Washington Star, which said, "The native Canadian . . . is merely a dispised colonist, a species of political outcast, like the man without a country."

This kind of talk represents a traditional habit of despising the state of Canada, and of expecting that the country would come to the United States like a pile of filings to a magnet. Our neighbors could not understand how any white people could want to remain outside their political fence. At first when we declined to join them they were amused, then they were amazed. Then they were displeased, and they put up a tariff wall that was intended to starve us into a political marriage with them.

That was when Canada of the St. Lawrence valley had no winter access to Europe except through American ports; and when only a few men of the long vision saw a prosperous, populated Canada; the acknowledged leader of the younger commonwealths of the British Empire.

They thought we must come in. I have often been asked, in the United States, before the present revival of Reciprocity was put on the boards, whether I didn't think Canada was bound to come into the Union.

And now that Reciprocity has come to serve the very policy for which the United States denied it in the years ago—I mean the aggrandizement of the United States—it is taken for granted by our neighbors that union is bound to follow. The new phrase among the foreign diplomats at Washington is truthfully reported to be, "From the Pole to Panama."

Now, what is the answer of our Neverlooks to this dominant temper in the United States? It is that if they want union, we don't. The fool that rocks the boat always forgets that there is a great deal more water than boat. The little fellow who is told that he must choose whether he will travel his own way, or with the big fellow who personally did all he could to thwart his business ambitions; and who chooses the big fellow in the belief that he is serving his own permanent interests—well; it doesn't seem much use telling him he is at the parting of the ways.

The American says, "Train with me. Come my way. Never mind the plans you have been making for yourself."

What will you reply? Can you teach him anything? You can. If you were Canada's spokesman this is about what you would say:

"Permit me to offer you the lesson you taught me. When I was a national infant I thought I needed your help, and that without it I could not attain the stature of a man. I wanted to sell my goods to you. You turned your back on me. You did it many times. You showed me how to rely on myself and my kinsmen across the seas. I did not know what I could do till I tried.

"The last time I sent my representative to you he came back with the story of your own hardness, and with the news of the sure foundation on which my prosperity could rest. His name was Laurier, and he informed you, he informed the rest of the world, that I had turned my back on the hopes that had centred in you; and had turned my face to British business, and was building railways to make secure and permanent that same business.

"The difference between what I thought I needed, a long time ago, and what I now know I can do without, is the difference between a poor, timid farmer looking for a loan and that same farmer turned bank director.

"I admire you. Your business ability is marvellous. You have a perfect genius for obtaining control.

"I have discovered that linked with the mere buying and selling across a counter, and with the hauling of wheat in a box-car, there are deep and strong tides of national life. You don't hesitate to tell me you want to control my trade. I don't intend to have it controlled. You had your chance when I was young and green. I've got a country that hasn't all the advantages of climate and variety of resources that yours has. But it is one of a world-wide cluster of countries that have the greatest possible part to play in the world's history. It reaches out to the Old World from its Eastern courts. It touches all the wealth of Asia and the Islands of the Sea, from its shores on the Pacific. I have an asset in the Old Land that you have forfeited. I have a stake in the Orient that you cannot hope to emulate. I have a destiny, which a course, unfettered by entanglements with you, will help to make glorious. You tell me that I am at the parting ways. So let it be. You go your way; I'll go mine."

And the American will learn a whole lot when you talk to him like that.

AMUSEMENTS FOR THE YOUNG

The moving picture show, along with many desirable and commendable features, has brought forth the perplexing problem of what standard should be adopted in regard to the character of pictures which should be permitted to be exhibited in these theatres, and the companies engaged in their production have shown themselves surprisingly willing to submit the pictures to any individual or committee that would be vested with authority to pass upon them.

On account of their cheapness these exhibitions have been patronized largely by children, and there is a widespread feeling of uneasiness on this account. Sometimes the vaudeville performers who take part at these picture shows pander to a low taste, and suggestive jokes and songs are indulged in. These are all a part of the problem which affects the theatre proper, and should be treated in the same way.

If the adult population will have theatrical performances that are, to say the least, vulgar, the children should be protected from contamination, and the most practical way to accomplish this would be to prohibit the attendance at theatres and motion picture exhibitions of children under sixteen years of age, unless accompanied by parent or guardian.

It is gratifying to know tha the Ontario Legislature has now agreed upon legislation that will largely correct the evils complained of.

VILLAGE AMUSEMENTS.

There is a great lack of rational amusement and recreation in the country. Every small town or village should have a social centre building and a good playground. To give young people in the country some variety in life and relief from the monotony of existence, it is extremely important that more attention should be given to the social side of their natures. Too often the boys hang around the country hotel as their only resort, and form drinking habits from the simple and natural desire for sociability. The girls do not do this but they are equally in need of the joys of existence. The village playground, and above all a director, giving all his or her time to the work of recreation, would to some extent meet the social need. A social centre building, with club rooms and hall for concerts, dances, etc., would exercise a healthy, pleasure-giving influence that would offset to some extent the deplorable exodus to the cities. If municipal councils and philanthropists would take this project up they would be doing the highest kind of service for the community.

FLEECED $140,000 IN ROULETTE GAME

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The story of an Atlantic City gambling game in which an unnamed "steel king" lost $140,000 in one lump, is told by Mrs. Anna Betts in connection with her suit here against her husband Louis L. Betts, for a separation and $25,000 a year alimony. The statement is made by friends of Mrs Betts that the man who lost the $140,000 is assisting the district attorney of Atlantic City in efforts to eliminate gambling from the resort. This man charges that he was robbed of the $140,000 by electrical device which manipulated a roulette wheel

RESULTS OF EXPERIMENTS WITH AUTUMN-SOWN CROPS

Four hundred and forty farmers throughout Ontario conducted experiments with autumn sown crops during the past year. Reports have been received from 33 counties of the province. The average results of the carefully conducted co-operative experiments with autumn sown crops are presented here in concise form.

Winter Wheat—Five varieties of winter wheat were distributed last autumn to those farmers who wished to test some of the leading varieties on their farms. The average yields per acre of straw and of grain are as follows: Imperial Amber, 1.5 tons, 26.1 bus.; Crimean Red, 1.4 tons, 24.7 bus.; No. 5 Red, 1.3 tons, 23.9 bus.; American Banner, 1.2 tons, 23.8 bus.; Tasmania Red, 1.2 tons, 21.8 bus.

It will be seen that the Imperial Amber has given good results throughout Ontario as well as at the Agricultural College. The Crimean Red, which stands second in the co-operative experiments, has been grown at the College for nine years and is one of the highest yielders. It possesses wheat of excellent quality but the straw is somewhat weak. The American Banner is a wheat which resembles very closely the Dawson's Golden Chaff variety in method of growth and quality of grain.

Winter Rye—Two varieties of winter rye were distributed in the autumn of 910. The results show that the Mammoth White variety came at the head of the list of yield of grain with an average of 24.8 bushels per acre. In experiments throughout Ontario for the last five years, the Mammoth White has surpassed the Common rye by an annual average of about four bushels per acre.

Fertilisers with Winter Wheat—In the co-operative experiments with different fertilisers applied in the autumn to winter wheat, the average yields of grain per acre for seven years is as follows: Mixed Fertilizer, 23.7 bushels; Nitrate of Soda, 23.3 bushels; Muriate of Potash, 21.9 bushels per acre, and Superphosphate, 21.4 bushels. On similar land, Cow Manure, at the rate of 0 tons per acre gave an average yield of 25.9 bushels per acre, and the land which received neither fertilizers nor manure gave an average of 18.6 bushels per acre. The Mixed Fertilzer consisted of one-third of the quantity of each of the other three fertilizers mentioned. The usual cost of the fertilizers, as used in this experiment, is between $4 and $5 per acre.

Winter Emmer and Winter Barley—A comparative test of Winter Emmer and Winter Barley was tried throughout Ontario during the past year. The Winter Emmer gave a yield of 3,410 pounds and the Winter Barley of 3,010 pounds per acre. Neither of these grains has as yet become extensively grown as a farm crop in Ontario.

Distribution of Material for Experiments in 1911, will continue as long as the supply lasts, and will be distributed free of charge in the order in which the applications are received from Ontario farmers wishing to experiment and to report results of any one of the following tests: 1. three varieties of winter wheat; 2. two varieties of winter rye; 3. five fertilizers with winter wheat; 4. autumn and spring applications of nitrate of soda and common salt with winter wheat; 5. winter emmer and winter barley; 6. hairy vetches and winter rye as fodder crops. The size of each plot is to be one rod wide by two rods long. Material for numbers 3 and 4 will be sent by express and that for the others by mail.

SIX HORSE TEAMS

Champions of America will be at the C. N. E. this year

A big competition in six-horse lorry teams is promised for this year's Canadian National Exhibition. The famous Morris team of Chicago, which claims the championship of America, will be here and it is understood that Graham Bros., of Claremont, and The Shedden Co., of Toronto, will be among the other entries. As there has always been an idea that Canadian teams could be produced to beat the Chicago champions, the competition should be exceedingly interesting.

Better results follow from the use of Miller's Compound Iron Pills than from any others. Fo rsale by D. M. Waters.

No, Alonzo, the cigarette habit doesn't always cause weak minds. In a great many cases it merely indicates them.

SENTIMENT IN SASKATCHEWAN IS HOSTILE TO RECIPROCITY

Conservatives at Moose Jaw Nominated a Very Strong Candidate —Mr. Borden's Speeches Had a Marked Influence—Many Liberals are Opposed to the Pact—Factories are Springing up and the People Want Protection

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT TO THE TORONTO NEWS AND THE INTELLIGENCER.

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Aug. 10.—Travelling northward into Saskatchewan one not only finds a more luxuriant growth of wheat, oats, and flax than along the border line, but there also appears a different variety of political opinion. The nearer one gets to the site of the Hudson Bay Railway the more qualified and divided is the support of the reciprocity agreement amongst farmers and townspeople. It was a most significant omen that today in Moose Jaw the largest Conservative convention ever held in this district selected as a candidate for the coming election Mr. S. K. Rothwell a farmer, who was chosen out of eight nominees. The majority of the delegates were farmers, and it is felt about Moose Jaw that Mr. Rothwell who is one of the largest and most successful farmers in the district, will surely defeat Mr. Knowles, the present member, even though the latter has a majority to his credit of over 1000, from the last election.

There has been some earnest and effective educational work done in Saskatchewan in the last six weeks and Mr. Borden's visit and speeches are mentioned by everyone as having had a marked leavening influence on public opinion throughout the Province. To-day, men from Maple Creek, Swift Current, and many other smaller points along the two hundred odd miles of line, which comprises the Western extension of this immense constituency, came to Moose Jaw with convincing reports of the strong anti-reciprocity feeling. Mr. Joseph Wylie of Maple Creek, known throughout this country as "Dreadnought" Joe because of his strongly expressed opposition in the local Parliament to the Dominion Government's naval policy has just completed a three weeks' tour through Saskatchewan on registration business, and his words to me were:—"I tried to find strong arguments and feeling for reciprocity while I was out in the country and instead I found the preponderance of sentiment opposed to any free trade measure with the States." Dr. James Swantson of Gull Lake, who in his wide practice has made it a point to sound the people's idea of reciprocity wherever he goes, says: "There are few in our district who really want to have anything to do with the United States, and a large number of those who express themselves this way are known as Liberals." Both Mr. Wylie and Dr. Swanston are farmers too, by the way. Mr. Wylie, especially, is one of the oldest settlers in Saskatchewan, having been a rancher and farmer near Maple Creek for over 30 years.

In Moose Jaw, which has now a population of 17,000, and which has been marked as a strong Liberal centre, a powerful Conservative element is arising, rather, in other words, an insurgent force. The agitation for reciprocity has identified the Opposition party, but the rapid development of city interests has been responsible for its creation. Sixteen factories and 30 wholesale houses are established here, and being the headquarters of the C. P. R. for the Central west, over 500 train men have their residences in the city. All the business interests concerned in these many industrial plants, do not want free trade in any degree with the United States, and this feeling naturally extends to the army of employees living here.

Moreover the possibilities for future industrial development which this city is ready to vouch for at any time must be sacrificed to a considerable degree under any system of free trade. Take the flax industry for instance. There is no flax mill in Moose Jaw and yet, more flax is grown and handled in the Moose Jaw district than at any other part of America. Under present conditions it would be only a matter of a year or so before a flax mill would be started, but with the proposal for absolute free trade in flax, Moose Jaw's ambition for a factory is knocked end-wise.

The farmer within a radius of fifty miles of Moose Jaw, is situated in one of the best agricultural districts in the West, and the wealth of grain which greets one's gaze on every side is an ample vindication of the most glowing advertisement the real estate man can frame. Crop conditions have been splendid during these last two days and a golden tinge is beginning to creep over the waving expanses of grain. The new moon appeared last night, and a warm day followed, and the weather-wise now predict a mild and favorable period for the harvesters. Frost is the only thing that can hurt the West now, and if it withholds its stinging breath for ten days longer the farmer living between Weyburn and Moose Jaw will realize fully thirty bushels of wheat to the acre. They say here that the same condition applies to all the district north as far as the C. N. R.

Flax forms an unusually large proportion of the Western crop this year and especially is this true of the Moose Jaw district. Mr. Vicq., manager of the Union Bank told me today that the acreage devoted to flax this season was fully two hundred per cent greater than in 1910. There are two reasons for this marked increase. In the first place, flax is the poor man's crop. It is generally sown right on top of the freshly overturned sod, and with lots of rain will flourish abundantly. Last fall, owing to the comparatively small Western crop of all kinds of grain, a great deal of new land was broken and flax was the initial crop. Secondly, the high prices offered for flax all year have been an additional inducement, and fortunately for the flax there has been plenty of rain, so that altogether the largest yield in the history of the country is expected.]

The handling of the crop, if harvest time arrives wtihout any serious disgressions on the part of the weather, will be greatly facilitated by the promptness with which the country will get to work. ery little delay should be experienced in harvesting. Two thousand men arrived in Moose Jaw early in the week and found nothing to do. They have been hired temporarily by the C. P. R. but as soon as the grain is ready to cut, thousands of hands con be turned immediately to the harvest. By this time netx week work begins, and it will be hard then for the politicians to get a hearing. There will be practically nothing to do after next wee but to wait for the verdict of September 21st, and if the expression of many farmers and business men at Moose Jaw mean anything more than the seat at Qu'Appelle will be redeemed for the anti-reciprocity cause. The difference in the estimates between here and Estevan varies directly as one advances northward into the better farming district. Down south it is said that the Conservatives might hold the one seat they already possess in Saskatchewan. Here they believe confidently that Liberal forces will lose ground, and that out of the ten Federal seats in the Province, at least three will be Conservative, one of them, of course, being for Mr. Rothwell, the farmer candidate from Moose Jaw.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE COUNTY SHERIFF."

The most interesting story of real western life that has been put into play form, entitled "The County Sheriff," a new play this season, by Lem B. Parker, will be presented at the Griffin Opera House on Tuesday, Aug. 22nd. It is delightful in its humor and stirring in its adventure, while its romance cannot fail to draw sympathy from the coldest audience. The cast is an exceptionally clever one, including Georgia Frances, Evelyn Morrison, Bert Melville, Maurice Jenkins, Jack F. Mallory, Frank L. Ayce, Kittie Melville, Albert R. Richman and others. Prices will be 25c., 35c., 50c.

OBSEQUIES OF LATE MRS J. M. HURLEY

A large number of citizens were this morning in attendance at the obsequies of the late Mrs. J. M. Hurley. At 9 o'clock the cortege left the family residence on Queen Street and proceeded to St. Michael's Church, where a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Meehan. During the solemn service Mr. Vincent Doyle sang with much effect a solo entitled "Face to Face." Interment took place at St. James' Cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. F. Dolan, J. W. McNabb, D. R. Leavens, J. Copeland, J. Williams and J. S. McGurn.

DWELLING ON CHURCH STREET BURNED

Inmates Had Narrow Escape from Cremation—Children Thrown from Window to Save Lives

Between the hours of two and three o'clock this morning a rough cast house situated on Church Street, owned and occupied by Mr. Robert Mackie and his family, was badly gutted by fire. The blaze originated in the kitchen and the flames had gained such headway when discovered that Mrs. Mackie and three children, who were all the inmates at home at the time, had a narrow escape from cremation. It was impossible to descend the stairs, owing to fire and smoke, and Mrs. Mackie, after throwing the children out of an upstairs window, dropped herself to the ground. Fortunately all escaped with slight injuries. The fire brigade was not long in reaching the scene after an alarm was sounded, and soon had streams at play. The building and contents were, however, badly damaged. The loss, which will amount to several hundred dollars, is partially covered by insurance in the Royal Insurance Company. It is thought the fire originated about the stove, in the kitchen.

MORE THAN EVER
Increased Capacity for Mentral Labor Since Leaving Off Tea and Coffee

Many former tea and coffee drinkers who have mental work to perform day after day, have found a better capacity and greater endurance by using Postum instead of tea or coffee. An Illinois woman writes.

"I had drank coffee for about twenty years, and finally had what the doctor called 'coffee heart.' I was nervous and extremely despondent; had little mental or physical strength left, had kidney trouble and constipation.

"The first noticeable benefit derived from the change from coffee to Postum was the natural action of the kidneys and bowels. In two weeks my heart action was greatly improved and my nerves steady.

"Then I became less despondent, and the desire to be active again showed proof of renewed physical and mental strength.

"I am steadily gaining in physical strength and brain power. I formerly did mental work and had to give it up on account of coffee, but since using Postum I am doing hard mental labor with less fatigue than ever before."

Cause and Cure of Headache

The cause of headache as you know, is the stoppage of the circulation resulting in pressure on the delicate nerves of the head. In time nature will start the blood going again, but meanwhile we suffer and are unfit for duty.

Assisted by two ZUTOO Tablets, which by the way are as harmless as the soda they contain, nature will remove the pressure and stop the headache in twenty minutes. Why continue to suffer? Why be unfit?

It is really remarkable how many people now use ZUTOO to cure their headaches. Do you? If not, why not?

BERNARD R. HEPBURN FOR PRINCE EDWARD

Unanimously Chosen as the Conservative Candidate for the Adjoining County

(Intelligencer Special.)

PICTON, Aug. 19.—At a large and enthusiastic gathering of the Liberal Conservatives of Prince Edward County, held here to-day, Mr. Bernard R. Hepburn was unanimously selected as the standard bearer in the approaching election. This afternoon a mass meeting was held and addresses made by Messrs. T. S. Crothers, K.C., ex-M.P., R. R. Gamey, M.P.P., and the candidate.

When you are offered something for nothing you should accept it—if you can afford to pay double its value.

If the average man has any virtues he feels like apologising for them.

BOXING

A goodly crowd of spectators last evening gathered at the C.O.F. Hall on Front Street to witness a twelve-round bout between Kid Meyers, of this city, and Tommy Daly, of Toronto. It was anticipated that the bout between these two well-known boxers would be good, and in this respect there was no disappointment. Both appeared eager for the fray, were in good condition, and at times mixed it up lively. The results was that each of the twelve rounds was well contested, to the delight of the spectators. Kid Meyers exhibited a degree of cleverness which his many friends presents were not slow to appreciate, and proved to be formidable in his class of boxers. Daly, who is one of Toronto's well-known boxers, is certainly well up in the game and is a clever boxer. It was without doubt one of the best bouts ever seen in this city. There was no decision other than that of the individual spectator.

Before the event of the evening a four-round bout between two young Bellevillians caused considerable merriment for the spectators.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Ex-Mayor T. J. Gorman, of Outremont, One of the Victims

PLUNGED OFF BRIDGE

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—Two persons were killed and two others badly injured at Rosemere, 20 miles from Montreal, last night, when an automobile, carrying the four passengers skidded off the wooden bridge and plunged into the waters of the River Jesu.

The dead are Mr. Joseph Gorman an ex-mayor of the municipality of Outremont, and a woman whose name could not be ascertained last night. The two persons injured were Mrs. Joseph Egan, of Montreal, and a woman whose name it was also impossible to learn last night.

The accident occurred at 11.30 o'clock last night, when, after a run through the country, the automobile was being driven back over a bridge from Rosemere to St. Rose on the other side of the river. The car was proceeding at a fair rate of speed when, just past the shore, it skidded suddenly and plunged over the side into the river below. At the point where the accident occurred the bridge is only about eight feet over the river and the water is only a few feet deep. In leaving the bridge the car turned a somesault and the occupants of the front seat, the two persons killed, had no chance or time to jump clear. They were pinned down in the water by the weight of the car.

Persons in the vicinity, who had witnessed the accident, at once went to their assistance and they were with some difficulty extricated from the ruins of the car. Dr. Asselin, of St. Rose, and Dr. Archambault, of Ste. Therese, were summoned, and worked over them for some time, but neither Mr. Gorman nor the woman who was occupying a seat beside him recovered consciousness.

In the case of Mr. Egan and the second woman, both of whom were on the rear seat of the car, the injuries received in the way of cuts and bruises were painful, but not serious.

The bodies were taken to Ste. Therese, and will be brought back to Montreal this morning.

Mr. Gorman was a man of about fifty-five years of age. He was unmarried and lived with two sisters in Outremont. He was prominent in municipal affairs of Outremont, and besides being a councillor for a number of years, filled a term as mayor a few years ago. He was known as one of the largest market gardeners of the province and made a specialty of melon growing.

EVERY GENERAL STORE-KEEPER NEEDS "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

INKERMAN, ONT. Sept. 23rd, 1910.

"I am in the General Store business and have been a resident of Inkerman for thirty-seven years. Since I started this store four years ago, I have found your remedy "Fruit-a-tives" the most satisfactory one I have sold. Many of my customers have used "Fruit-a-tives" with the most beneficial results and I know of two cases that have been completely cured of Dyspepsia.

I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" on every possible occasion and would say that if every general store keeper, who stocks medicine, would keep "Fruit-a-tives" prominently displayed, he would increase his business many fold"

ALEX. LARUE.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy in the world made of fruit and the only remedy that will positively cure Constipation, Indigestion, Pain in the Back, Headaches, Rheumatism and all Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited Ottawa.

CAUGHT ON SHORE WITH CHINAMEN

Windsor Man Arrested Charged with Attempt to Smuggle

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 18.—Fred O'Neill, aged 20, a resident of this city, is locked up in Detroit and will probably have to answer to the United States Federal Grand Jury on a charge of Chinese smuggling. O'Neill was captured early this morning in an attempt to bring three Celestials across the border via the small boat route. He had rented the boat, with a companion, whose name the police do not know, and asked for a craft large enough to hold four persons.

Two hours afterwards O'Neill was caught as he was about to land his cargo, which consisted of three Chinamen, on the shores of Belle Isle, which is in American waters. The capture was made by boatmen on the island. They had a lively fight before O'Neill agreed to give up. The other men escaped in the confusion. The Chinamen are locked up with O'Neill.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A large attendance of the Board of Directors were present last night to hear Mr. H. C. Hunt's account of his impressions of the scores of Association buildings which he incidentally visited as he travelled the various states the past season.

Mr F. S. Sheppard who been a very successful secretary for twenty five years and of late a member of the Indiana state committee in charge of the Building Campaign has recently been called as Field Secretary of our Provincial Committee in succession to Mr. J. W. Hopkins who has recently accepted the secretaryship of Toronto's new $350,000 central building.

Mr. Percy Gifford, who during the past year has been physical director at Fort William, is in the city on his holidays. Percy has been taking the Couchiching Course also. Next year he goes to Revelstoke, B. C., as Physical Director.

Next week the roofers and steam fitters start on the building. All the boilers and heaters are on the premises.

An interesting experiment in the boiler room has been worked out successfully. The boiler pit is some distance below the the sewer level. Into this pit blasted out of the rock there runs from a spring about 200 barrels of water each week. This pit had to be placed at this depth in order to most economically heat the water of the swimming pool.

Engineer L. E. Allen was interviewed He claimed to be able to solve the problem by constructing a pit with cement and concrete and hydrated lime such as would prevent water getting in. Many were pessimistic. The work has been successfully accomplished, much to the credit of Mr. Allen who found the conditions very difficult owing to the spring of water. By keeping men at the pumps till the walls and floor set, he kept the pressure off and made the walls and floor impervious to water.

Quick as a lightning flash pain disappears when you take Merrill's Wizard Lightning. Clean to use externally, hot but pleasant internally. All druggists, 25c. or postpaid by The Merrill Medical Co., Merrill Building, Toronto, Ont.

CONSULTATION OF DOCTORS

ONE SECRET OF OUR SUCCESS. Every case submitted to us receives the personal attention of our Medical Staff, who consider the symptoms, complications and chronicity, and then decide as to the disease and curability. Specific remedies are then prescribed for the case and are compounded by our own chemist in our own Laboratory. Such appropriate treatment cannot fail to cure, as specific medicines are selected to cure the symptoms that trouble you. We have no cure-all medicines like most specialists use who send the same medicines to all patients alike and cure none. We have treated patients throughout Canada for over twenty years and can refer to any bank as to our responsibility.

STRIKE SITUATION IN ENGLAND GETTING EASIER

Assissant Secretary of Railway Men Makes Threats of Another Strike

(Intelligencer Special)

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 21.—W. H. Thomas, the assistant secretary of the Railway Men's Federation, charges that the companies are not keeping faith regarding taking back strikers, and threatens a renewal of a general strike if the letter and spirit of Saturday's agreement is not lived up to. It is believed that pressure by the Government, however, will force the companies to carry out the terms of the settlement. Many men refuse to return to work, but all over the country men are returning in thousands.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL

(Intelligencer Special)

LYONS, N.Y., Aug. 21.—John Morgan, a burglar, and John Springle, a murderer, dug a hole through the wall of Niagara County jail and escaped last night. No trace of the convicts has been found.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

MR BORDEN AT NAPANEE

Mr. Borden will address a meeting at Napanee on Saturday, August the 26th. It is expected that a number of Mr. Borden's admirers in this city will attend.

DEATH OF A CHILD

Queena Knott, two months' old daughter of Mrs. J. Knott, residing on South George Street, died on Saturday evening. The little one had been ill for some days.

ROW ON MILL STREET

Saturday night the police answered a call to George Vanmeer's house on Mill Street, where it was reported trouble was occurring. Vanmeer alleged that Simon and Miles Lucas had assaulted him and had raised a disturbance in the house and broken some dishes. No arrests were made, as Vanmeer did not seem inclined to prosecute.

FIFTEENTH RUN FOR FIREMEN

For the fifteenth time the fire brigade was, shortly after 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, called out to again combat the fire in the sawdust and marsh adjoining Holton's mill. A fresh southwest wind caused the fire to break out afresh. This fire has been burning for six weeks.

C. N. O. R. BALLAST TRAIN IN CITY

On Saturday afternoon a ballast train containing a number of cars laden with ballast arrived in the city on the line of the C.N.O.R. The ballast is obtained at Jones' Creek and was deposited on the west side of the river near the approach to the railway bridge. At this point the roadbed has to be raised considerably before the superstructure can be placed upon the piers in the river bed.

DEATH OF ESTIMABLE LADY

The citizens of Belleville will deeply regret to learn that at an early hour on Sunday morning Miss Agnes Ritchie passed away at the residence of her brother, Mr. Thomas Ritchie, corner of Bridge and John Streets. Deceased had been ill for some time and her demise was by no means unexpected. Miss Ritchie was born in Ottawa, but had resided in this city the greater portion of her life. She was an estimable lady beloved by all who knew her. Deceased was a member of the John Street Presbyterian Church and took an active interest in church and philanthropic enterprises.

IN FULL OPERATION

The Rolling Mills, which have been partly in operation for the past week, will start the entire plant tomorrow.

HAWKES MEETING

Be sure and attend the meeting in the City Hall to-morow, Tuesday evening. Mr. Hawkes will speak on Reciprocity and other political questions.

BOY SCOUTS MEETING

An important meeting of Belleville Scouts is called for to-morrow, Tuesday morning, in the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 10 o'clock. Every Scout is expected to be present.

PROVINCIAL APPOINTMENT

Alderman R. W. Adams, of this city, is now a member of the Board of License Commissioners of West Hastings, in the stead of the late John W. London.

ORDERED TO LEAVE CITY

Aldermen Chown and Vermilyea this morning presided over the police court proceedings. A drunk named Wm. Harrison was fined $5 and costs and was also given time to leave the city, which he did.

THURLOW LADY PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Hannah Hendricks wife of James B. Hendricks, died this morning at the family residence, Park Street, College Hill. Deceased, who was 57 years of age, was born in Marmora and had resided here the past 25 years. Mrs. Hendrick was a member of the Methodist Church and a lady who had many friends. Surviving is the husband and a family of three sons and one daughter. The sons are: Robert, of Rochester; David R., of New York, and James A., of Buffalo. The daughter is Mrs. H. Huff, of Arizona.

POPULAR YOUNG MAN DEAD

Joseph McGuiness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McGuiness, residing on Mill Street, died this morning. Deceased, who was in his 2th year, had been ill for some time from lung trouble. He was born in Deseronto, and had resided in this city for some time, being by occupation a barber. Joseph was a popular young man and had many friends in this city who will regret to learn of his demise. He was a member of St. Michael's Church. In addition to the parents, other members of the family survive.

MISUSED BY ENGINEER

Oiler on Steamer Kingston in Hotel Dieu

An oiler belonging to the steamer Kingston has found that it does not pay to dispute the orders of his boss, the chief engineer. As a result of being too slow in obeying orders this particular unfortunate person is badly used up and is in the Hotel Dieu, getting his bruised skin pieced together.

As far as can be learned, at 2.30 o'clock Thursday morning, as the steamer Kingston was on its way to this port, the engineer called this man to get up and get to work. The man refused to get up so early, saying that it was long before his time. It is alleged that the engineer pulled him out of his bunk and struck him at last turning the hose on him. When Kingston was reached, the unlucky oiler was put ashore and discharger. He was even refused his wages.

It is understood that court proceedings will follow as the fellow claims he was grossly misused. He is not in a serious condition, and will be out in a few day. The affair caused quite a stir in marine circles. —Kingston Whig.

IN WIFE'S GOWN

Doctor Tried to Decoy Friend of His Wife

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 19.—Dressed in his wife's swellest gown and with her most beautiful picture hat on his head, Dr. S. B. Harrell, one of Atlanta's leading physicians, took a cab and started out to decoy W. H. Marx a business man whom the doctor thought was paying too much attention to Mrs. Harrell. Incidentally Dr. Harrell carried along a loaded shotgun.

He was driven to the office of Marx, and sent word to the latter that a lady wished to see him. Marx came out hurriedly, recognized the picture hat and tried to enter the cab. The shotgun was thrust into his face by Dr. Harrell, who tried to pull the trigger. He had forgotten, however, to cock the weapon, and this saved Marx's life.

Capt. Teidt, formerly of the United States army, happened to be near the cab, and interfered just as Dr. Harrell had the gun in working order, and prevented a tragedy.

Dr. Harrell says he engaged a room just across from Marx's office and by the aid of a field glass saw things happen in the office which led him to seek Marx's life.

DIED

RITCHIE—In Belleville, on Sunday, August 20th, 1911, Agnes Ritchie. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. Thomas Ritchie, corner of Bridge and John Streets, to-morrow, Tuesday, at 3 o'clock. Service at the house. Interment at Belleville Cemetery.

DEAD SET ON R. L. BORDEN

But Decent People in Halifax Are Disgusted

HALIFAX, Aug. 19.—Absolute disgust is expressed by all classes of the community at the methods that are being adopted by the Government, particularly Hon. George P. Graham, to defeat Mr. R. L. Borden, the Opposition leader, in Halifax. Workmen are being drafted into the constituency wholesale and bids are being called for huge Government works, particularly railway development.

It is estimated by the Government party that enough votes will be drawn into Halifax before the election to wipe out Mr. Borden's majority.

However, there is a reaction, and the decent people of both parties are showing such disgust that Mr. Borden will get votes he never got before. The reaction is great enough to ensure his election by a big majority.

Another element in his favor is that the public have got it into their heads that the Conservatives will win the election, and the waverers will vote with the winners. Hon. A. K. McLean, his opponent, is also in bad odor, for more or less personal reasons.

A dead set has been made against Mr. Borden by the spending departments of the Government. Over a million and a half dollars of public money is being turned into the constituency for railway extension and other objects. The appropriations were put through last session of Parliament. Contractors are now in Halifax arranging matters.

A WEST BELLEVILLE CITIZEN HAS GRIEVANCE

Belleville, Aug. 19, 1911.

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Sir,—May I crave your indulgence and ask you to kindly publish in your great family journal the grievance we in West Belleville have to labor under. I refer to the deplorable state of the walks we are compelled to use in this part of the town, particularly on west Moira and Frank Streets. These walks have not been fit or safe for pedestrians for at least two years. Boards lying loose and tilted half on edge; spikes sticking up in some cases two inches high, to trip one and tear one's boots. A lady had the side torn completely out of a new pair of boots one evening lately. The only way one can walk at all after dark is to step about six inchts high to miss the spikes and lumps in boards. The repair men are continually pounding down the spikes and driving in new ones, but only into old rotten stringers that won't hold them a week.

I understand that the property owners on Moira (and a few men own most of the vacant lots there) petitioned the Council against having a cement walk built on that street. Now, Mr. Editor, is this fair that those people who never use those awful board walks, should compel the people living in this end of the town to risk their limbs and lives in this way? I think not. But I do think it is up to the Council to give us a decent walk or at least a safe one, and that right away.

FORMER BELLEVILLIAN OCCUPIES A CITY PULPIP

Rev. J. F. Dingman, of Mount Forest, a former resident of Belleville, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist Church yesterday and preached to large congregations.

The Rev. gentleman took for his subject in the morning "The Epistle of Christ," and in the evening "Christ and Him Crucified," which left a deep impression upon the audience.

Mr. Dingman is visiting the city and will again occupy the pulpit on Sunday next.

During the services Mrs. Dingman rendered two beautiful solos, which showed the splendid voice she possesses.

ALL READY TO FLY TO POLE

Englishman Will Attempt to Reach Southern Axis

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Lieut. Watkins, who is to accompany Dr. Douglas Mawson's expedition in quest of the South Pole and who is to attempt a final dash to the Pole by monoplane, has just packed up his machine and shipped it aboard the P. & O. steamship China for Australia.

Lieut. Watkins is a well-known aviator at Brookslands, who learned to fly on a Howard-Wright biplane, but the machine on which he is to try to fly to the pole is British made, the work of Messrs. Vickers & Co. The R. E. P., as it is called, has made several speed records and it is the only type of machine which came through the circuit of Europe without having to undergo repairs or renewals. Its wings have square cut corners, the body resembles a slender skiff and toward the rear extremity carries a vertical plane for purposes of stability.

The primary plan of the expedition is not to use the monoplane only for the dash to the South Pole but to use it for reconnoitreing the ice hummocks and barriers encountered. It is therefore so constructed that it can become a motor sleigh or aeroplane by turns. The only motor sleigh which has been previously made to meet with the same kind of conditions is one which is in possession of a Russian Grand Duke, who employs it for traversing the steppes.

The monoplane is the first which has been constructed to pull loads or go over the ground in an emergency. Its frame is made entirely of steel tubes, and it carries a 90-kilometre 60-horse power R. E. P. motor, with fuel enough for 6 hours. This kind of motor was used by Mons. Gilbert in the circuit of Europe and remained unchanged during the flight. The machine is 45 ft wide by 37 long.

When the monoplane is to become a motorsleigh it is fitted with considerably longer slides, which are painted with phosphor-bronze, for the prevention of rust. The motor would act in the same manner as in an aeroplane, but with the diminished power needed. The wings then detach and slide into a cradle within the body, overlapping the edges of the body so that the appearance of the machine becomes almost like that of a moth with folded wings. The tail piece is also taken off and a steering skate fastened below the tail in the place of the present steerage part.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE COUNTY SHERIFF."

Dramatic scenes, thrilling incidents, strenuous events following one another in rapid succession; pathos, revenge and passion; a strong love, bubbling humor and a powerful plot that one follow with breathless interest from beginning to end—such is "The County Sheriff," O. E. Wee's latest production, to be seen at the Griffin Opera House, on Tuesday, August 22nd, a new play, entirely rewritten by Lem B. Parker, with a strong company, beautiful scenery and a number of pleasing specialties may be expected. Plan at Doyle's. Prices 25c., 35c., 50c.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT TOOK PLACE NEAR COBOURG

Pedestrian Struck by a Machine Driven by a Well Known Resident of The City—Injuries Sustained Proved Fatal

On Friday night last Alderman Anderson, of this city, was motoring from Toronto to his home here, when, near the town of Cobourg, an accident occurred which unfortunately has had fatal results. It appears that Ald. Anderson was endeavoring to evade a vehicle which was stopped on the road, and in doing so struck a man who was walking along the highway at that point. The victim who at the time was not thought to have been seriously injured, was conveyed to the Cobourg hospital, where, we are creditably informed, he passed away at 7 o'clock last evening. The party was a middle-aged man named Richardson, residing near Cobourg.

The victim of the accident was said to be under the influence of liquor and had a bottle upon his person. Ald. Anderson states that the man deliberately walked in front of the machine and that he (Ald. Anderson) ran it into the ditch and up against the fence. He feels confident that he was not to blame for the accident. The victim sustained a broken leg and other injuries.

DRANK 5 GALLONS OF WATER; IS DYING

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—Having created a high water mark in the consumption of iced water by drinking five gallons in two hours to quench an intense thrist, caused by the excessive heat, Alex. Matusio, 36 years old of 1102 Delaney st., employed in the kitchen of a restaurant at Broad st. and South Penn sq., is now in the Jefferson Hospital in a dying condition from thermic fever, brought on largely, the physicians say, by the water he drank.

Matusio, who is a large, muscular man was early affected by humid conditions, but being a temperance advocate refused to take small quantites of iced brandy offered to relieve his thirst. Instead he seized a measure holding nearly a gallon of water and drained the contents. Surprise gave way to horror as the other employes saw the man empty measure after measure of the water. As he raised the sixth gallon to his lips he staggered and fell unconcious to the floor. Physicans at the hospital stated that a gallon of water under ordinary circumstances was a mans capacity and the consumption of such a quantity was to them an unheard of performance.

CLASPING THE FLAG

Bourassa Causes Dramatic Scene in Lachine

(Intelligencer Special)

MONTREAL, Aug. 19.—There was a dramatic scene at Lachine last night when Bourassa, clasping a Union Jack which waved above his head, declared that French Canadians had fought for that flag, and saved Canada to Great Britain, and that they would do it again if it was ever attacked.

The sentiment was received with tremendous applause.

Bourassa declared that the presence of French Canadians was the greatest safeguard against annexation and there was loud applause when he declared that if ever Canada was attacked, even by France, French Canadians would stand together with their English-speaking fellow countrymen to defend it.

U. S. FARMERS AND "LARGER MARKET"

(Washington Post.)

"Farmers in Ohio favor reciprocity," said the Rev. R. E. Artlepp, a Lutheran minister, from Greenville, Ohio.

"The proposition was not well understood in the beginning, and many farmers were frightened. They have come to see it will not harm them, but will enlarge a market for the increasing surplus. President Taft is popular in his state, and there is no question he will receive next year a similar endersement to that given him three years ago."

Dr. Artlepp is a wealthy landowner and has several grain elevators at different points in Ohio. He says the farmers are prospering and that they will have the best crops this season that they have had in several years. He has been pastor of his church for sixteen years and is looking forward to a life tenure.

RECIPROCITY A DEAD ISSUE.

Morning Post Thinks Liberal Revival of It Will Fail.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Commenting on the Canadian elections, the Morning Post says if Laurier and his associates had adhered to the National Policy inherited from their predecessors in power, there is no reason to believe they would have been in danger of defeat, but they suddenly decided to raise the half-forgotten issue of Americanism v. Imperialism, which the majority of Canadians regarded as not only dead, but damned as a result of the election of 1891.

We refuse to entertain the theory that reciprocity partakes of the nature of a forlorn hope being attempted to enlist the support of American settlers in the west as compensation for the fatal loss of influence in the east. The unwillingness of the Laurier administration to postpone the general election until the measure of redistribution had been passed is a significant feature of the general situation, clearly proving that the makers of the reciprocity agreement don't really hope to "stampede the west."

CURRENT COMMENT

Boost Borden and Canadianism.

Taftism, Laurierism, Reciprocityism.

'Twill be Laurier and Reciprocity also ran.

The American eagle doesn't lay golden eggs for us.

Laurier will be the Bryan in this Canadian contest—as an "also ran."

Borden, Canadianism and the Maple Leaf forever.

Keep your eye on Burney Hepburn in Prince Edward. He will make currie out of the Dr.

A Chicago clergyman has introduced vaudeville and brass bands in the hope of drawing a crowd. That might rightly be called a holy show

Reciprocity is the material with which Uncle Sam hopes to stake out his claim to the whole North American Continent,

Laurier at Three Rivers advised his hearers to "BET ON THE OLD COCK"—meaning himself. People hereabouts have no money to lose on Laurier Old Cock.

One of the party organs argues that lemons and onions will be cheaper under reciprocity, in an effort to show that the cost of living will be lower. Most people require more substantial fare.

Had Canada a population as large as the States, reciprocity might work equally. Do not permit Canada to be the dumping ground for the over production of the Yankees.

"I tell you," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "that what concerns the Opposition to-day is the defeat of Laurier that is the only policy they have." Sufficient! Canada for Canadians and Nix on Reciprocity.

The wide belief that automobiles are obtained on mortgaged houses receives a setback from the story of the theft of a touring car from a Washington salesroom by a stranger who first filled the gasoline tank and then put on an extra tire—all in the sight of the police.

AN ORIENTAL REBUKE

Must Have a Waterfall to Wash Out a Graft Proposal.

Inscriptions upon Oriental ware vases, jars, fans, and textiles are often examined with an amused but baffled curiosity. What can they mean? It is certain that they mean something Even on the cheap halfpenny fans there are curious and grotesque faces which could not have been painted for their beauty. Only the initiated can read their story, and even among the Japanese themselves probably these specimens of pictorial rebus require classical knowledge for their interpretation. History and fable and myth must be understood and a Japanese who can understand must be equal in imagination to a commentator of Shakspeare. A recent traveller in Japan gives the story of one of these riddles. It is as good as any Egyptian hieroglyph. A Japanese of historic renown is represented as washing his ear in a water-fall. No basin would answer and no placid stream suffice. He must have the full force of a cataract to cleanse the ear into which an improper proposal had been spoken. At a pool below the fall a cow is drinking, but her owner, standing near her, glowers with anger at the ear-washer who is contaminating the stream. If individually people took to cleansing their ears from scandal and other unpleasant inpourings, no "waterworks" would suffice. Lady Macbeth's query would be in order—"Will all great Neptune's ocean do it?"

W. R. HEARST IN CANADIAN POLITICS

President Taft's valued friend and close ally in the reciprocity propaganda Mr. Wm. Randolph Hearst, is again to the fore through the kindly co-operation of certain fellow-journalists in Canada. Mr. Hearst, it will be remembered, has been dubbed, by presidential warrant, the "evangelist" of reciprocity, just as he has been unofficially known as the inciter of international discord, the evangilist of sedition and the apostle of industrial discontent ever since his newspapers and his methods became one of the grave social problems of the United States. An evangilist who does not evangilize is an unworthy servant, and a professional newspaper agitator who does not stir up an agitation of sorts, is unworthy of being an ally and co-partner in such a promising and profitable enterprise as the promotion of reciprocity. Wm. Randolph Hearst is not the kind of a man to suffer such impeachment, especially when his preachings are guaranteed acceptance as gospel by the reciprocity press of Canada. It is sohething of a new experence for Mr. Hearst to have any of his preachings accepted as gospel by anyone anywhere, not even excepting his own habitual readers. So there is little cause for wonder that on this occasion, he has fairly outdone himself.

Under the conviciing and unsensational heading, "Boodle Fund to Corrupt Voters of Canada," the New York American, yellowest and most characteristically virulent of all the Hearst papers, published on Monday an alleged dispatch from Washington, written in its own best vein and painting in the yellowest and most lurid colors on its palette, the details of a scheme which it alleged its reporters had unearthed on "the best authority," for the corruption of the entire electorate of Canada by a "boodle" fund raised from the Lumber, the Paper and the Beef Trusts. The publication of such an item in any of the Hearst papers is not in itself, sufficent to attract attention even from the jaded millions who daily seek for excitement rather than for facts in their columns. What makes it significant is that the Reciprocity organs of this country seized on it with avidity, displayed it in their biggest type, published it as "Special Washington Correspondence." Not even the typical Hearstian adjectives were modified. The plot is described as a "dastardly" one, and its object is given as the disruption of the friendly relations between Canada and the United States. The propaganda is to be based on the "distortion" of statements, "absolute forgery of utterances," and has for its object the "corruption of the Canadian electorate." As far as possible, Mr. Hearst, in conformity with his usual custom, bolstered up the obvious lack of facts or figures which would give an appearance of verisimilitude to his narrative with an assumption of fine indignation and a torrent of hysterical protests—all of which were faithfully copied and enthusiastically reproduced by Canadian papers whom he or his official allies, have succeeded in "evangelizing," to use President Taft's graphic phrase.

The Hindus have a god whom they worship, on occasion, because he is regarded as the father of lies and panics. We have hitherto not adapted this peculiar phase of an old religion to our requirements. With Wm. R. Hearst as its High Priest, however, and an eager swarm of home-grown neophytes waiting to spread the gospel far and wide through Canada, it need not be long before Mr. Hearst is the embodiment of Mushoot on this continent, to the glory of President Taft, the endless profit of the United States and the general advancement of North-American standards of truth and morality.—Montreal Star.

Optimism the Keynote.

Winnipeg, Aug. 18.—Weather continues warm with good ripening breezes all over the prairie west and the crop is coming along nicely. On light lands the binder is at work and reports from many points show that farmers are making a start on early fields, while much of the barley is already in shock. Next week will be a critical period, as the thermometer usually takes a downward dip about August 20, but with the splendid conditions prevailing optimism is the keynote of the situation. Both Brandon and Indian Head experimental farms say conditions are just right for ripening a high grade crop.

Earthquake Reported.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—The Toronto Observatory reports an earthquake disturbance, commencing at two minutes after six Wednesday night and lasting two and a half hours. The maximum disturbance was at 6.45. The estimated distance of the earthquake from Toronto is 5,400 miles.

How Money Wastes in Circulation.

Money, both gold and silver, wear out at a startling rate. It is reckoned that there is usually a hundred million pounds in gold coin in England, a very large proportion of which is locked in the strong rooms of banks. Yet of that which is in active circulation the wastage is so great that during every twelve month seventy thousand pounds ($350,000 worth of gold and silver are rubbed off into fine dust.

An English Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair.

In England the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing rats, which is due entirely to this new discovery.

It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day.

The Americans are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure Dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant hair dressing. D. M. Waters, your druggist, is the first to import this preparation into Belleville and a large generous bottle can be purchased for 50c.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

He slipped the bundle from his back, unfolded a rough blanket, and, spreading it within a clump of thick bushes, bade her rest until his return, which would be, he said, with the least possible delay. Wheeler was not blinded to the comely appearance and lady-like bearing of the woman whom he had rescued; nor did the great courage with which she met the terrible ordeal, escape his notice. Yet, true to his manly principles, he thought of his duty to her as a friend, in her great hour of need; and he did not hesitate to undertake a precarious return to the scene of the massacre, as it was for her future welfare. A perplexing question rose to his mind as he galloped back to where the bodies of the victims lay. He was alone in the prairies with a strange young woman, with no habitations in sight, no food, and surrounded by murderous Indians. Surely it was anything but a desirable situation. Still he lost no time in idle speculation, but knew he must figure out the best plan of strategy systematically; a plan that in his estimation would prove most beneficial to his suddenly acquired protegee. His own interests could be seen to at a later date, he reasoned.

Sarah Jones, for that was the rescued woman's name, could not have fallen into more generous hands. Her benefactor was an honorable man, kind and capable; he could do for her that which would put her in an easy financial way, as he had a good general idea of the boom that was just beginning in the region of her late father's possessions. For him to decide was to act; to act was to be invariably successful. In this case there was no chance for failure, should he succeed in finding the deeds and proving the daughters' identity. With keen, watchful eyes, he approached the scene of butchery and found the bodies lying where they had fallen; their pockets were emptied, but the clothing was otherwise undisturbed. The wagons had been ransacked and articles of importance taken; but in a small receptacle under the seat, securely tied, were the deeds and eight hundred dollars in money.

"This is fortunate," he remarked with not a little satisfaction. "It is lucky for the girl the wagon wasn't fired. And here are some canned meats, tea and sugar. This is almost equal to the Swiss Family Robinson's stroke of luck," he chuckled. Then he found a bag and putting into it such things as would be most needful, laid it upon the horse's back.

A shovel lay near, under the wagon. "I'll bury the poor creatures as decently as circumstances will permit," he said, and immediately set about digging a grave for the three bodies. This was a comparatively easy task, as the earth was pliable and in a couple of hours all that was mortal of the once active forms was hidden beneath the sod. Then, standing beside the new-made grave he uncovered his head, and with face raised heavenward, said fervently "God of heaven, help me to do my duty to the one that is left."

Three hours from the time he left her,—hours that seemed days to the poor girl, Wheeler returned, reported what he had done, and placed the documents in her hands.

"But what am I to do with them?" she questioned helplessly.

"If you will permit me to act for you I will handle the property to the best advantage, and account for every transaction."

"You are very kind, Mr.———"

"My name is Wheeler—William Wheeler. I am from Vermont, and was on my way to the Black Hill regions."

"My father was Thomas Jones, of ———, Illinois," she explained. "But is it not possible for me to get back to my old home, Mr. Wheeler? I see no reason for my staying in these regions. If the land can be disposed of, and you wish to take it in hand I will appoint you my agent, with full power to act; and you may remit to me, taking from the proceeds your commission."

"But there are many miles to travel before we can reach civilization Miss Jones," he replied. "Our first move must be north. But you are hungry," and taking from the bag a frying-pan, a tin teapot and a couple of tin cups, he set about preparing a meal for two. Nor would he permit her to assist in making ready the meal. "I am a good cook," he laughed, "and know just what to do."

In a remarkably short time he had a most relishable lunch ready for serving, consisting of warmed meat, toasted crackers and several other savory dishes, that would have done credit to a cook of even greater experience.

As they concluded the meal Wheeler drew from his pocket the great roll of bills and a box of silver coin. "The Indians were considerate enough to leave this for you," he said, placing the money in her hands.

"Oh, that was in the box under the seat, with the deed and description of the land," she cried, her pretty blue eyes brightening. "How kind you are." Then her eyes filled with tears. "I dare not think what would have become of me but for your brave rescue."

"We won't think of that now, Miss Jones," said Wheeler, rising from the log upon which they had been seated, and adjusting the enlarged pack to the horse-saddle. "We must reach some place of habitation as soon as possible, and then make plans for the future." He lifted her into the saddle and turned the horse's head towards the north, keeping up a pleasant conversation as he walked beside her.

Three days later they reached a small settlement in southern Dakota and a week following saw them at Grand Forks, then a struggling village. Here all plans for future operations were completed, ample proof furnished of the rightful heir to the Jones property, and in three months a saw-mill had been erected—an enterprise calling for their combined capital—and Sarah Jones became Mrs. William Wheeler, willingly.

After this wise and in this place was the foundation of the great Wheeler fortune laid; here the love of a devoted couple grew deeper and deeper with the advancing years, and the influence of their noble lives went out to influence scores of other settlers. From this tragic beginning started the wealthy Grand Forks Lumber Company, with its branches now spread out and appearing in the thriving towns of Fargo, Jamestown and Bismarck, with its adjacent woodlands, reaching to the river, down which millions of feet of lumber floated yearly, into the company's yards.

NEW WARSHIPS.

Russia Will Enlarge Her Black Sea Fleet.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.—The Cabinet yesterday awarded the contracts for the construction of two battleships to be added to the Black Sea fleet to the Ivanoff Shipbuilding Co., which is a combine of six Russian metallurgical machine works. The work will be done under the direction of the English firm of John Brown & Co. Each ship will cost $9,771,035, to which will be added an expense of $4,347,146 for the armor and guns of each vessel.

The contract for a third battleship was awarded to private works at Nikolaev, under the technical direction of Vickers, Sons & Maxim. The cost will be $6,575,000.

The battleships will be of 22,000 tons and carry 13 12-inch guns. Their coal bunkers will be smaller than usual as their radius of action will be confined to Turkish waters.

Six submarines to cost $800,000 will be built by Baltic firms. The contracts for nine torpedo boat destroyers were given, four to the Nikolaev Works and the others to Baltic firms. The destroyers will have a displacement of 1,050 tons and a speed of 35 knots an hour. They will cost $1,000,000 each. The keels of the battleships will be laid at Nikolaev next October and the plans call for their completion in four years. The Cabinet will submit to the Duma a bill appropriating an extra expenditure of $5,500,000 for the battleship program.

Would Boycott Chinese.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—The International Typographical Union in convention here, passed a resolution yesterday expressing as the sense of the convention that all members of the union should refuse to patronize Chinese laundries, restaurants and other establishments. Local unions are ordered to assess fines for violation. This resolution was introduced by Delegate G. M. Sheldon of Lowell, Mass.

A proposal by Delegate Maxwell of Topeka, Kas., to take $100,000 from the old age pension fund, which is now $400,000, and use it for the erection of a permanent administration building in Indianapolis, was referred to the national executive council to be voted at the next general election.

IN HOME RIDING.

Sir Wilfrid Repeats Arguments of Three Rivers Meeting.

Quebec, Aug. 19.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier addressed the electors of his own division in Quebec East last evening, where he was escorted by a large number of party friends to the Jacques Cartier Market Square, where he addressed a crowd estimated at between 10,000 and 15,000 people.

Sir Wilfrid was accompanied on the stand by Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec, and A. Taschereau, Minister of Public Works; Hon. J. C. Kaine, Hon. Mr. Devlin, A. G. Carrier, M.P., Levis; C. Blovin, M.P., Levis; D. Caron, M.P.; Eugene Leclere, M.P.P., Quebec Centre, and many other members of both the federal and local Parliaments.

When Sir Wilfrid advanced to the front of the platform behind which was the motto: "Hommage de Quebec a Sir Wilfrid Laurier," he received another reception. In introducing the Dominion Premier, Mr. Letorneau said that they had assembled to meet the greatest statesman which Canada had ever produced.

Sir Wilfrid, in many respects, duplicated the speech which he had made on the previous afternoon in Three Rivers.

Touching reciprocity, he said the United States was one of the greatest nations in the world. Canada was one of the youngest. All governments had recognized the benefits to be gained by the Dominion through reciprocity, and under the new arrangement all classes would prosper. The working man as well as the capitalist were looked after by the Liberal Government, and the Opposition had proved obstructionists and had forced them to come before the masters of the situation, the electors.

Turning to the naval question, Sir Wilfrid said there were parties trying to overturn the Government on this issue. Much had been made of this by the Nationalists. Who were the Nationalists? A new party? Scratch a Nationalist and you find a Castor; Scratch a Castor and you find a Tory.

Will Oppose Fielding.

Halifax, Aug. 19.—F. B. McCurdy of Halifax was nominated by the Liberal-Conservatives of Queen's-Shelburne at a convention held in Liverpool yesterday, to oppose Hon. W. S. Fielding. Mr. McCurdy is one of the successful young men of Nova Scotia. He is a stock broker, capitalist and organizer, and he has considerable interest in the riding which he is to contest with the Minister of Finance.

Mr. Fielding won the constituency by a majority of only about 130 when A. B. Morine of Toronto was defeated by him in 1908, and political observers are predicting on this occasion he will be given the fight of his life, with the odds favoring McCurdy.

Baron Hereford Dead.

London, Aug. 19.—Baron James of Hereford, died suddenly of heart disease at Epsom yesterday. He had been in serious ill-health for some time. He was born in 1828 and was attorney-general to King Edward, when he was Prince of Wales.

DEATH OF FENIAN RECALLS OUTRAGE.

oe Casey, Center of a Gun Powder Plot, Passes Away in Paris.

Irishmen all over the world have eard of the Clerkenwell explosion hat formed the climax of the Fenian outrages of 1867 in London. The tory is recalled by the death in Paris f Joe Casey, who was a star actor n the terrible drama.

He and a fellow-Fenian named Burke were locked up in Clerkenwell prison, but the Fenians determined to liberate them. A barrel of gunpowder was placed against the wall of the all by Michael Barrett, aided by Casey's two brothers, Pat and Andrew.

They planned to blow a hole in the wall at the time the prisoners were exercising and then help the pair to escape in the confusion. But the authorities smelled trouble and shifted the exercise to an inner yard.

Bang went the powder just before [illegible] in the afternoon, killing six bystanders outright and fatally injuring 11 others, while no less than 102 lost eyes or limbs. It cost $100,000 to repair the surrounding property.

A few weeks later Michael Barrett was denounced by another prisoner named Mullany, arrested and hanged. The Caseys got clear away to France under the name of Potter. Joe Casey and Burke were acquitted at their trial, and Joe joined his brothers in the French capital. They all fought for France in the seige of Paris in 1870 and Joe became almost as Parisian as a Frenchman.

Had Two Appendices.

Cambridge Springs, Pa., Aug. 18.—Joseph Link of Jefferson is believed to be the only patient ever operated upon who had two separate and distinct appendices.

An operation here disclosed the fact. The man has a good chance for recovery.

Lock-Out Settled.

Christiania, Norway, Aug. 18.—The lock-out declared by Norwegian mine owners on July 8, following a dispute over wages and conditions of employment, was settled through the mediation of the Government.

The Home Comings

The "Coming Home" every few years from the United States of our Canadian boys to renew former associations and visit youthful haunts, reminds us, as a contemporary tersely puts it, that most of these exiles were compelled to leave Canada in their youth by lack of opportunity. Our industrial fabric was not yet reared. The dawn of prosperity had not reddened the sky. Our public men were in too close touch with Washington. Many thought our destiny was continentalism. We stood before the tariff wall which our Southern neighbors so considerately erected, and "hammered at the bars." Canada was a struggling community, a straggling line of timid people. The Canadian Pacific Railroad was called a vast folly. Liberals doubted the possibility of it earning grease for the wheels of its rolling stock. Hope was low, and optimists were scarce.

"The exodus was a natural development. Is it any wonder that the young men of nearly every Canadian town and city flocked across the border? They found comfortable homes and a chance to work. Many found the road to affluence. Many of them renounced their King and Country and became naturalized American citizens. As the years passed they became infected with the national short sightedness so common about them. Their children were taught biased, even false, history in spread-eagle schools. They drank, consciously or unconsciously, of the American hemlock which paralyzes the judgment and swells the head."

Ministerialists who are now agitating the adoption of the proposed reciprocity treaty and denouncing its opponents when pointing out the utterances of United States statesmen that reciprocity means and will lead to annexation, exclaim that "attachment to the British Crown should weigh far above and beyond pocket book considerations." Unfortunately for the Ministerialists, the theory is not borne out by practice. Is it not a fact that Laurier himself, when seeking a closer trade alliance with the United States, preferred the Yankee dollar to the English shilling, and with it would go that attachment to the British Crown, of which he now prattles. Is it not reasonable to suppose that his teaching will prevail in any reciprocal arrangement with the United States which would divert our trade north and south and put us in closer touch with the Republic and would inevitably weaken the bonds uniting us to the Empire and lessen our appreciation of the high privilege of British citizenship. This is one striking lesson from the old boys' reunions.

Mistatements

The Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier, K.C.M.G. and C.B., Premier, etc., has in his desperate throes of anguish, fearing what is in store for him in the near future, forgotten not only the politeness of his race, but that truthfulness so essential in a public man.

When referring to his opponent, he finds no milder terms than "renegades." His colleagues double discount him in that respect. Some of them indulge in such remarks as "liar," "traitor," etc.

Not content with strong language, Sir Wilfrid draws largely upon his imagination to such an extent as to shock even the more cautious of his followers. Referring to the reciprocpact, and his attempts to push it through Parliament without giving the people, who are to be affected by it, an opportunity to consider its provisions, he had the cool audacity to tell the people in Norfolk, "that it "had always been the intention of "the government to submit reciprocity to the people."

Is it any wonder that so flagrant a statement, which the records of Parliament show to be not merely a prevarication, but a direct falsehood, that Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition, should, in self defence, be compelled to reply in a manner and in language not at all his wont? Mr. Borden hesitated not to "declare "that the statement of Sir Wilfrid "Laurier lacked the essential element "of truth and that he is prepared to "meet the Prime Minister on any "platform and prove that he refused "to submit the reciprocity proposals "to this people." That, in fact, Sir Wilfrid knew, when making the statement, that it was not true, and hence Mr. Borden gave the lie to the Premier's assertion by pointing out that a motion to that effect, introduced by himself, had been voted down in Parliament at the instance of Sir Wilfrid in March last, and that he, Sir Wilfrid, had voted against the motion himself; yet presuming, it must be inferred, upon the ignorance of his hearers, he ventured the statement. This is not the kind of reputation a Premier should establish for himself.

Unfortunately, when men are in desperate positions, they are too apt to resort to desperate means in the hope of extricating themselves.

After dealing with the many scandals which had been brought to light, and proven, yet condoned, by the Government, Mr. Borden boldly declared that "if they were acting as "private and not public trustees "they would not be sitting in the "House of Commons, but within the "four walls of a penitentiary."

Strong language, but true, too true!

The Globe And British Born

The Toronto Globe has discovered a veritable mare's nest, and announces the wonderful discovery in double leaded black letters.

Well, what is it? Simply this, and nothing more.

The Hon. Frank Cochrane has sent out a circular informing members of the Conservative party that "Mr. "Hawkes has been employed to write "articles for the party and to speak "at one meeting per day during the "remainder of the campaign."

The Globe criticises this action on the part of Mr. Cochrane as "purely political," and therefore inferentially a high crime and misdemeanor. Hard pushed must the organ be when it has to resort to such childish twaddle. We venture the opinion that the Liberal-Yankee-Reciprocities have scores of men out in the interest not of the country, but of those who are attempting at the present moment to place Canada, commercially, under the heel of Brother Jonathan.

That is not the point, however, that worries the Globe. Mr. Hawkes is appealing to the "British-born" to resist and defeat, if possible, a policy which, if carried out, will be detrimental to the Empire as a whole.

The fact that a Britisher is taking the stump to prevent, so far as possible, the disintegration of the Empire is sufficient to bring down upon his head the condemnation of the Laurierites led by the Globe, whose secret policy is party before country.

Mr. Hawkes speaks in the City Hall to-morrow night. Go and hear him, and judge for yourself the reasons which he will advance in favor of the rejection of the trade pact into which the Government has entered and committed itself.

Laurier in 1896

1896 was a memorable year in Grit history. It was in that year that the Conservatives appealed to the people a divided and disunited party. The result was that with fair but false promises the Liberal party, led by the then plain Wilfrid Laurier, succeeded in securing power.

Among the many promises made, and pledges given by Mr. Laurier, the following, which is on record, was repeatedly uttered:

"If every cent collected though the operations of the protective policy went into the treasury it could be borne, but for every $1 that goes into the public coffers $2 or $3 go into the pockets of the protected manufacturer. 'I,' said Mr. Laurier, 'object to this. (Cheers.) I say that not a cent should be collected beyond what is required to meet the country's necessities. We will tax for revenue but not one cent for protection. Taxation is an evil that nothing but the requirements of the government can justify. When we are in power—and I don't want to sell the skin of the bear until the bear is hot, yet I think the Tory bear is about to be skinned—we will relieve the people of protection, which is a fraud, a delusion and a robbery. For it is robbery to take money from one man and give it to another."

How has this pledge been carried out? By collecting millions every year more than is required "to meet the country's necessities," not, however, more than is required to meet the extravagances and grafting claims which are annually expended in filling the pockets of Government hangers on.

Sudden Conversion

The Halifax Chronicle, Dominion Government organ in Nova Scotia, reported a speech made by the Hon. A. K. Maclean, until lately Attorney General of that Province, on the question of trade relations between Canada and the United States, in which he is reported in a politically friendly paper to have said:—

"Now, in the United States you find every condition that ordinarily tends to farm occupation.

"We there find large and constant immigration, rapid railway construction, enormous railway and industrial development, rapidly accumulating wealth and a large and growing market for agricultural produce.

Yet what is its history?

"Let me give a few statistics.

"On the 1st of January, 1909, there were 16,000 square miles of abandoned farms chiefly in New England, New York and Middle Central States.

"There are in the United States 10,000,000 acres of abandoned farms, fifteen times the size of Rhode Island, four times the size of Connecticut and twice the size of Massachusetts, enough, it is said, to set up 70,000 farmers.

"Btween 1880 and 1900, 14,000 farms were abandoned in New York, twenty rural districts showed a decrease in population and 400,000 people left the country for the city."

The political lash having been applied, we now have this same A. K. Maclean a candidate for Halifax in opposition to Mr. Borden for Parliamentary honors upon the reciprocity question.

What's the price? Has a judgeship been promised? If not, what is it?

Sudden confessions of this character with a Grit Government, usually cost something. What is it?

PROMISING OUTLOOK.

"The enthusiastic co-operation of Conservative leaders and the rank and file from the Aatlantic to the Pacific is remarkable. In every Province there is the same united opposition shown towards the reciprocity measure, and as the days pass the strength of our party's cause the country over is vastly increased. The reception which reciprocity has met in country and urban constituencies has done anything but restore confidence in the heart of the Liberal party. We have the utmost faith in the ultimate result at the polls if the people of Canada become thoroughly acquainted with the trade agreement and realize its bearing upon the future of this country."— George H. Perley, Chief Conservative Whip.

FISHER MEETING AT OTTERVILLE A FAILURE

Tide Turned the Other Way When Cheers Were Called Upon for Sir. Wilfrid Laurier

Prospects in the West are looking well A friend from the West writes as follows:

"On Thursday, Aug. 10th, Hon. Sidney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, came down to South Oxford and held a meeting which was designed to stem the fast increasing flow of anti-reciprocity feeling in the riding. The meeting was decidedly not a success from a Liberal standpoint. By actual count there were 151 persons in the hall and not a few of them were Conservatives, attracted thither to ascertain what sort of arguments the Minister was putting up in favor of the pact and to combat them if necessary. When it is stated there were delegations present from Woodstock, Ingersoll and Tillsonburg, it is evident that Otterville and district did not extend a very enthusiastic welcome to the Minister of Agriculture. In the audience were several ladies.

"At the close of the meeting the chairman held up a large portrait of Sir Wilfrid before the admiring crowd, at the same time calling for three cheers for the chieftain. Only fifteen stood up and endeavored to lead a feeble cheer. Was it because, just a few minutes before the Hon. Sidney Fisher had told them that Sir John A. Macdonald had gone to the country in 1891 on the reciprocity question? Did that take their breath away?"

When you are offered something for nothing you should accept it—if you can afford to pay double its value.

AN INDEPENDENT PAPER'S VIEWS

In the speeches of both leaders of the historic Canadian political parties at the opening of the election campaign this week, there seemed to be a tendency to talk back history. This was the defect of the otherwise felicitious address of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He made much of the fact that for forty years the Conservative party had advocated reciprocity, and only of recent years repudiated with new-born vigor. Now, it does not matter one iota to the voter of the twentieth century what the Grits have advocated in the past or what the Tories have advocated in the past. The question that every voter must decide for himsel is whether reciprocity would be a beneficial thing in the present stage of Canada's development. In most discussions of the former reciprocity treaty of 1854-66, there seems to be a curious lack of historical perspective, and a failure to observe the external causes which brought it about and made it beneficial. When in the early fifties England adopted the free trade policy of Richard Cobden, it meant temporay ruin, especially for the agricultural interests of Canada, and that great and wise Governor, Lord Elgin, saw the necessity of obtaining wider markets for our products. He obtained at Washington an agreement (not it is said without generous expenditures for champagne) which was beneficial to Canada. As it turned out it was beneficial as well to the United States, for within five years the war between the North and the South broke out, and owing to its long duration, the United States was obliged to pay high prices, not only for Canadian fighters but for Canadian horses, hay and all forms of produce. With a very large percentage of her agriculturists withdrawn from their natural pursuits, it would have been necessary for Columbia to pull down her traiff wall in any event. When in 1866 the treaty was abrogated there was an equally good economic reason why the United States should abandon reciprocity. Her soldiers had gone back to the land to resume their former labors, and a protective measure to stimulate agriculture was good policy. No doubt the idea of punishing Canada for her active sympathy with the South during the internecine struggle just closed was a contributory cause of the step taken, but business reasons counted as well.

To give the Canadian farmers the idea that they can hope to obtain such prosperity as they did when war prices prevailed is to deceive them. There are external causes operating for or against reciprocity at the present juncture, and both at Ottawa and Washington it serves the purpose of drawing the herring across the trail to divert the public mind from administrative scandals.

The Prime Minister's admission that another agreement is contemplated is a curious one in view of the fact Liberal organs have insisted strongly on the fact that only natural products are to be dealt with. A further agreement must of necessity deal with manufactured products and, leaving Imperial issues out of consideration altogether, Canada is not prepared to face the trade disturbance attendant on any such step

MANUFACTURES AT C. N. E.

Display this year will be More Brillant Than Ever Before.

With a complete re-arrangement of the exhibits in the Manufactures Building and an expenditure by individual exhibitors of many thousands of dollars on their displays, the Manufactures' Building at the Canadian National Exhibition this year promises to completely outshine its splendid appearance of other years. As usual every inch of space has been taken for months in advance.

The Annex is also filled to overflowing while the Machinery Hall, always one of the most interesting buildings on the grounds, will be filled with the latest labor and power-saving machinery in operation. Many of these exhibits come from Europe, and cost thousands of dollars to install.

All told there are acres of manufacturers' exhibiting. It is in this particular more than any other that the Canadian National is without a rival among the exhibitions of America.

ALL FOR EDUCATION

Entire Building for Exhibits of this Nature at C. N. E.

An entire building will be occupied by the educational exhibits at the Canadian National Exhibition this year and there will be many new and interesting features. The Royal College art exhibits which caused so much comment at the Brussels Exposition have been secured from England. A public health exhibit by the Provincial Board of Health of Ontario will be another feature. This exhibit will consist of public health equipment of every kind and will include also a varied assortment of appartus relating to the prevention of disease. Demonstration of technical work will also be much in evidence, while the exhibits from the schools will be away ahead of other years.

TRADE TREATY IS A DANGER

Uncle Sam's Motto is Still the Same, "All for Uncle Sam"—Keep Canada for Canadians

Here are the warnings of several prominent Canadians against the Reciprocity Agreement:

Hon. A. B. Morine

"Uncle Sam's motto is still the same, 'All for Uncle Sam.' The farmers are in a most prosperous condition in Ontario, and it is almost impossible to arrange a loan on Ontario farm property, for the farmers do not need it."

SAM SHARPE
The energetic Conservative candidate, North Ontario.

Sir William Van Horne

"To my amazement and distress and shame I now see the magnificent work of a generation traded away for a vague idea or a childish sentiment—the splendid commercial and industrial position we have reached and our proud independence bartered for a few wormy plums."

Mr. W. A. Shepard, Borden, Sask.

"Although the farmers might get a slightly better price for their wheat they would lose in the end, because, if we send our grain to the mills of Minneapolis and St. Paul, it emphatically means they can re-ship at their own price and farmers will be unable to get feed for their horses."

Mr. L. E. Flick, Georgetown

"I heartily sympathize with the small book paper mills. There are a lot of these mills making a low grade of paper such as would be effected by the tariff revisions and they would all have to go out of business or get into the better grades. It would be a hard blow to them."

Mr. John Middleton, Sr., Clinton

"My belief is that Canadian materials shoud be turned into manufactured products in our own country, thus giving employment to our own men, building up our cities and towns, and making a greater Canada. To do justice to our country this question should be decided by the people."

Mr. J. Stough, Welland

"I want to see this country alive and growing. We can sell all our produce in England if we want to get more for it than we do here. I can remember when Welland was a muddy little hole. That was in the time of free trade."

Mayor Geary

"To my mind the adoption of the agreement for reciprocity can have but one result, and that is the drawing closer together of these two countries and consequent separation in trade and ultimately in sentiment between the mother land and ourselves. This is a result which every true Canadian-British subject would greatly deplore. We are called on to protest in every possible way against allowing American sentiment to creep into Canada to the consequent destruction even in the slightest degree of our affection and loyalty to the old land."

Mr. D. C. Cameron, Winnipeg

"Though I might be personally benefitted through my timber limits by the tariff agreement, as a Canadian I am opposed to it. I think Winnipeg would eventually lose by free trade, because it would divert traffic to the south. The change would be gradual, and that city would not perhaps feel its effect for two or three years."

Mr. F. G. Stewart, Grantham

"I have been all through Michigan, and have found that the growers there can produce grapes more easily than here. They also ha dfine natural facilities for growing peaches, pears, plums and apples. The northwestern market which we have striven for was hard to get, and now with reciprocity it would be ruined."

Mr. H. L. Frost, Hamilton

"Reciprocity may be helpful to some and detrimental to others, but to Canada as a whole it does not seem to me desirable. Besides being larger United States industries have such a decided freight advantage that Canada cannot compete in either market. As a former United States manufacturer now located in Canada I strongly oppose reciprocity."

Judge Doherty

"The secret of the reciprocity agreement is that the Republican party of the United States is endangered and is endeavoring to rush the agreement through because they are afraid of the crack of Taft's whip. With the thousands and thousands of Americans pouring into Canada, good citizens though they are, they naturally love the land of their birth, and reciprocal trade relations would soon end in political union."

Every woman imagines she would have a stylish figure if she could only afford to dress as she would like to.

President Taft Says the By-Products From Canadian Cereals Will Help the American Farmer

With regard to importations of natural products from Canada President Taft said in a recent speech: "The only real importation of agricultural products that we may expect from Canada of any considerable amount will consist of wheat, barley, rye and oats. The world price of these four cereals is fixed abroad, where the surplus from the producing countries is disposed of, and is little affected by the place from which the supply is derived. Canadian wheat nets perhaps ten cents less a bushel to the producer than wheat grown in the Dakotas or in Minnesota, due to the fact that the cost of exporting that wheat and warehousing it and transporting it to Liverpool is considerably greater than the cost to the Dakota farmer of disposing of his wheat to the millers of Minneapolis or sending it abroad. If, now, the duty is to be taken off wheat and the Canadian wheat can come to the millers of Minneapolis and other places, it can and will be made into flour, because the capacity of the American mills is thirty-three per cent. greater than is needed to mill the wheat of this country. Canadian wheat can be imported and ground into flour without materially reducing the demand for or price of American wheat, and the surplus will be sent abroad as flour. The price of Canadian wheat will doubtless be increased a few cents by access to the market nearer at hand, but the access to the market nearer at hand will not reduce the price of his wheat to the American farmer. A very material benefit to all the farmers of the country, especially the stock and cattle raisers and the dairy farmers, will be the by-products of bran and shorts from the flour mills likely to follow the free export of wheat from Canada to those mills. These by-products are now so scarce that many farmers are unable to procure them. What is true of wheat is true of the other cereals."

A DARING PROPOSAL

Why Canada Should Reject the Approaches from the United States

In knocking down tariff walls and entering into the arena of competition on equal terms with the rest of the world, young Canada would be doing a very daring thing. With her own home market safeguarded, it is all very well for her to attempt to place her surplus products in competition with the products of European countries, but when, as has been shown frequently before, she will have to fight to hold her own market, it will be a very different proposition. Already a surprising amount of foreign produce is imported into the country despite existing tariff protection. With more of this coming in, the Canadian farmer will find prices for domestic produce declining. There will not be the same profit in selling at home, nor can he make up for the loss in the foreign markets, for there he will be subjected to an even more severe competition.

It will take some years for wages to adjust themselves to the new conditions, for the rate of wages in Canada depends more on the supply of laborers than on the cost of living. The farmers of the West will not find it any easier to get labor when prices drop than when they are high, and for a time at least they will have to pay prevailing prices for their help. This will leave them open to the competition of the farmers of all these other agricultural countries where wages are much lower.

HOW A TARIFF HELPS

Instances of How Protection Worked to the Advantage of Labor

In the eighties Gresson and other French kid leather manufacturers were sending to the United States $5,000,000 worth of shoe leather, charging for it 60 cents per foot. A protective duty of 20 per cent. was put on. Gresson kid did not go to 72 cents per foot. It dropped to 45 cents, and then to 40 cents, 35 cents and 30 cents. Thousands of men from France and elsewhere were put to work in the kid factories of the United States. Was Protection worth while? J. G. Cleghorn, of England, manufactured linings for coats and employed in his factories 3,000 men and women. The United States put on a protective tariff and the Cleghorn factories were shut up. Three thousand were given employment in United States shops, making coat linings. Mr. Cleghorn's comment to a United States inquirer was: "You have the wise statesmen to keep your people employed." Then there is the case of men's gloves. The largest English manufacturer of gloves lost 80 per cent. of his business with the United States when a duty was put on this item. What was the result? Before the tariff was enacted these gloves sold for $1.25 a pair. Afterwards the price was $1 for the same glove. Pearl buttons were imported into the United States in immense quantities. A protective tariff was put on and the banks of the Mississippi hummed with the industry of many pearl button factories. The whole industry was transported to the United States and the shells which lay for generations valueless were turned into articles of commerce. And the price dropped below what it was before the tariff was put on. Canada is entering upon her industrial career. Such lessons as these from the United States are illuminating.

WHY HIT THE WEST?

Western Factories Have Been Developing, Why Snuff Them Out?

The enormous development in manufacturing west of the Lakes in the past three years was emphasized by a leading business man of Winnipeg when speaking in Ottawa last January. He said: "Not only Winnipeg, but practically every other town and city in the West is rapidly developing manufacturing industries. Brandon has a number of important manufactories; Medicine Hat has established an American clay product factory which is being successfully conducted. Rolling mills are building at Medicine Hat by the American people who built the rolling mills at Winnipeg, now in successful operation. Calgary has large cement works, flour mills, and so on. And all these towns and cities are straining every nerve to build up manufacturing industries to assist in taking care of the population which is unemployed during the winter. Manufactories will naturally go where the market is, for close proximity to the market overcomes many other obstacles. It is true, we are somewhat remote from the sources of our material; but that is largely compensated for by having a market at our doors and being in close touch with our customers. It is our opinion and, I believe, the opinion of the West, certainly of the manufacturing industries, that any lowering or interference with the Tariff would be a serious blow to us and what we have been endeavoring to accomplish. Speaking particularly for the Western manufacturers, I hope that nothing of that kind will be done. The country now is not suffering. Any honest, able-bodied man in the West can get employment at the highest wages, I believe, in the civilized world. The revenues of the country are buoyant and its credit is high; the machine is in good operation."

TOWARDS CONTINENTALISM

What a Chicago Paper Says of Reciprocity

That Reciprocity with the United States would imperil Imperil unity and would compel Canada to adapt itself to American continental ends, rather than to British Imperial ends, is according to The Chicago Tribune, one of the most important newspapers in the United States, a reasonable supposition. To quote its own words: "The British tariff commission contends that American and Canadian Reciprocity would imperil Imperial unity. It is alleged that it would do so by diverting Canadian trade from British into American channels. It would compel the Dominion to adapt itself to American continental ends rather than British Imperial ends. These are reasonable apprehensions, which furnish a good argument for the confirmation of the Reciprocity agreement. No senator should be so interested in Imperial unity as to vote against the Reciprocity Bill so as not to imperil it. No senator should be willing to vote against a measure calculated to expand American at the expense of British trade, by making Canada a still better market for American products."

KEEP CANADA FOR CANADIANS

Our home market we have. It has grown and is rapidly growing. We can keep it for our own people. It is upon the development of the home market that the future of the Canadian farmer depends, and that development lies in the encouragement of home industries, instead of inviting outsiders to compete with them.

AN HISTORIC CHURCH

The Deptford Edifice Has Been Condemned as Unsafe

The historic church of St. Nicholas Deptford, has been condemned as unsafe by the London County Council under the "Dangerous Structures Act," and an appeal is made for $25,000 for restoration. The history of the church is bound up with the Spanish Armada and its defeat. It was in this parish that Sir John Hawkins lived and devoted his energies to fitting out the ships of war. In this church the Admirals of the Fleet met to worship before setting out to meet the foe. Here Evelyn and Pepys (the diarists), and Sir Francis Drake were constant worshippers. In this parish Evelyn discovered Grinling Gibbons (the world-renowned wood-carver), and some of his greatest work is still to be seen in the old church, including his magnificent representation of Ezekiel's vision, "The Valley of Dry Bones."

The church is rich with associations in the history of the British Empire. It is the Westminster Abbey of the British Navy. Within its walls Peter Pett, the inventor of the frigate, the predecessor of the modern cruiser, lies buried Many of the greatest naval heroes find their resting-place there. William Hawkins, brother of Sir John Hawkins; Edward Fenton, the notable Elizabethan explorer, who commanded the Admiral's flagship in the fight with Spain; Frobisher, and many of Devon's naval notabilities are also buried there. Also within its churchyard rests Kit Marlowe, the celebrated dramatist and contemporary of Shakespeare. Under its shadow, Peter the Great, the Emperor of Russia, learned the art of shipbuilding.

Feminine Indorsement

She advanced to the paying teller's window, and, handing in a check for $50, stated that it was a birthday present from her husband and asked for payment. The teller informed her that she must first indorse it.

"I don't know what you mean," she said hesitatingly.

"Why, you see," he explained, "you [illegible] write your name on the back, so that when we return the check to your husband, he will know we have paid you the money."

"O, is that all?" she said, relieved. One minute elapsed.

Thus the indorsement: "Many thanks, dear, I've got the money. Your loving wife, Evelyn."

England in 1803.

The British census figures show that at the beginning of this century the population of England and Wales was under ninemillions, not very much greater than that of Canada today. In [illegible] years this population has been quadrupled; a very substantial increase when the smallness of the area is considered, and when account is taken of the large emigration to vaster and more sparsely settled regions.

What The Americans Can Teach Us

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Next to being born a Canadian, I rather think I would like to be born in the United States. It is a wonderful country. It carries a wonderful people. They are an example to us in many things; a warning in others. Wherever they are admirable they are often excessive—it is a natural defect of possessing immense productive territory, vast populations, and a rather short political past. They can teach us very very much that we ought to know. Take four of their splendid characteristics:

ARTHUR HAWKES.

One. Their love of country.

Heavens! How they boast; how they wave their flag. They insist on carrying it,—flaunting it, if you like—in every foreign country; and they get touchy as a bear with a sore head if you show your flag on their soil. They believe in their country; in its institutions. The flag is the symbol of all their strength, ambition, glory. There is a reason.

Millions of people have come from all the ends of the earth to the United States. They know little or nothing of the liberty and opportunity of which the States are full. They come to better their conditions; to place their children where they can grow into prosperous citizens. The flag has been made the emblem of all their hopes. It flies from every schoolhouse. The sight of it engenders a flood of patriotism in the native-born and the alien-born.

The American can teach us here. Our flag has flown a thousand years. His is a product of the day before yesterday. We have a tremendous variety of alien blood and alien speech in our midst. We impress too little upon them the magnificence of the things the flag has stood for and stands for, and will stand for. We are apt to forget that in patriotism.

Those who come to us have to be born again. If ever there was a country in which patriotism should burn with a vehement flame, it is Canada. Look to it.

Two. Their willingness to adapt themselves to changed circumstances.

Tradition is splendid, within limits. "As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be" is not an infallible political principle, for this is a progressive world.

There is danger, too, of falling into the habit of the fellow who said, "These are my sentiments; if you don't like 'em I'll change 'em." The wise man often changes his mind, the fool never; but the wise man does not change merely to suit somebody else.

The American is pre-eminent in the world for his readiness to change his method of regarding questions of trade and of politics. He thought he could freeze Canada to himself by a high tariff. It didn't work, so he tries Reciprocity—which we asked for long, long ago.

If we go back to it we show that we don't adapt ourselves to changing conditions. We have outgrown our notions of commercial dependence on the American. We must not be cajoled into going back forty years for our ideas. Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaps backwards over 1907, 1903, 1901 and 1897—years in which he emphatically repudiated reciprocity. He is like a venerable man who goes out to meet an old sweetheart and expects to find her young and blooming as she was forty years ago.

Three. Their unbounded faith in the future.

Sir Wilfrid has had his spells of this splendid quality. He once said, "The Twentieth Century belongs to Canada." In conformity with this he said, "The best and most effective way to maintain friendship with our American neighbors is to be absolutely independent of them." Last winter President Taft said, "Canada is at the parting of the ways." Canada is expected to make reply, "Thy way, not mine, O Taft."

On the reciprocity question Sir Wilfrid spoke again, only four years ago he declared to the Imperial Conference, "There was a time when we wanted Reciprocity with the United States . . . We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

The future was to be as the past had been—a development of commerce, of social and national sentiment, east and west, and not predominantly north and south. We expressed our confidence in the future. Nothing was to draw us into the seductive embraces of the United States. We began a new transcontinental railway that will cost three times as much as was intended as a proof of our distinctiveness from the big neighbor. And then we began to play his game. From turning our back upon him we began to turn our back upon ourselves. When you become afraid of your Future, good-bye to your Future.

Four. Their determination to Hoe their own Row.

I never heard of a man who chose hoeing as a holiday occupation. I never liked it when I was on the farm. But you can't have a garden without plentiful use of this familiar companion of the backache. It's the hoe that puts potatoes and beets, carrots and beans, and all the vegetable luxuries on the table.

What was the hoe in the national development of the United States?

It was protection of young industries. The United States decided to make the most of their own resources by helping industrial expansion with a tariff. They became the greatest manufacturing country in the world. They have done it by hoeing their own row.

Canada took a leaf out of their book. She could not have had her big industrial cities any other way. Her home market would have been a negligible quantity if she had been content to be merely a getter of raw material for somebody else.

The Americans want her raw material. Let her learn of them and make the most of her own raw material. It will be wise learning.

FORTIFYING SAMOAN TUNNEL

Italy and Switzerland fortify Simplon Tunnel.

Both Italy and Switzerland are taking measures to fortify the entrances of the Simplon Tunnel, while in the tunnel itself engineers are engaged in constructing mines and strengthening those already in place, in order to be able to blow it up at a moment's notice in the event of war. Near the middle of the tunnel, a few yards from the Swiss frontier, Italian engineers have put in place a double iron door that can resist the rush of an express train travelling at the rate of sixty miles an hour. This iron door is worked by electricity from Iselle, the station at the Italian end of the tunnel, and under ordinary conditions it is hidden in the rocky side of the tunnel. The door is carefully tested once a week. The mines are connected with Brigue and Iselle by electric devices, so that, by the mere pressure of a button, the Simplon Tunnel could be destroyed in a second.

In The Name of Charity.

Nearly all the giddy youth of the neighborhood attended the charity bazaar, and one by one they drifted to a stall where a tiny, shapely, scented, gray kid glove reposed on a satin cushion. Attached to the cushion was a notice written in a delicate feminine hand, which ran:

"The owner of this glove will, at 7:30 this evening, be pleased to kiss any person who purchases a twenty-five cent ticket beforehand."

Tickets were purchased by the score, and at 7:30 a long row of sheepish, not to say doggish, young bloods, assembled outside the stall.

Then, punctual to the moment, old Tom Porson, the local pork-butcher, who weighs two hundred and twenty pounds, and is almost as beautiful as a side of bacon, stepped to the front of the stall.

"Now, young gents," he said, in his best "Buy, buy, buy," tones, "this 'ere glove belongs to me. I bought it this morning. Now, I'm ready for you. Come on! Don't be bashful! One at a time!"

But nobody came on.

Pullman Etiquette.

That our system of railroad travel is not perfect is alleged by "An Englishman" in a recent article. "When you travel in England you are master of your time and your baggage," writes this author. Here, the baggage travels several hours behind its owner. But "a Pullman car at night is the most uncivilized thing on the American continent, and one of the most indecent. It quite fascinates my blushes. I sit enthralled as the darky porter strews my seat with other people's belongings, holds a pillow-case in his teeth and squeezes the pillow into it, and hurl sheets and mattresses about, and pulls at chains and sliding-doors and levers and curtains. Personally I have never mastered either the art of the etiquette of a Pullman car. I never know where to put my shoes, and I feel I shall never learn how to take off my trousers while sitting in them.

R. E. Knowles Knew His Congregation

A few weeks ago William Jennings Bryan was lecturing in Galt the home of Robt. E. Knowles, the well known preacher and author. Mr. Bryan was entertained at Knox Manse while in Galt. The attendance at the lecture proved disappointingly small, and the discerning lecturer laid this at the door of the rather large admission fee. As is well known, Galt is the Scotchest town in Canada.

After regaining the manse, a few friends being present, Mr. Bryan turned to his host and asked him why, in his opinion, the audience was so small.

"The thing that spoiled it," replied Mr. Knowles, "was the same thing that disorganized the Democratic party."

"What was that?" enquired the statesman.

"It was the silver question," replied the novelist.

Newspapers in Salonica.

In Salonica, Turkey, there are fifteen newspapers and nine weekly or monthly reviews published, with a total circulation of about 40,000. The newspapers are mostly small two sheet affairs, badly printed on cheap paper. The reading of the newspapers, however, has increased greatly in the last two years and will increase still more when more liberty is given to the press.

Salonica is the meeting-place of the East and West. Nearly all religious in the world have representatives there, and every day of the week is a Sunday to one or other of these religious organizations.

Not So Particular.

—At a dance recently a young gentleman somewhat inferior in social position to most of those present approached an alderman's daughter — "mightily superior" sort — and rather diffidently asked for the favor of a dance.

The girl looked him stonily in the face for a moment, then turned away with the remark:

"I'm sorry but I'm — well, rather particular as to whom I dance with."

"Ah, indeed!" was the quiet retort, "then we differ in that respect. I'm not a bit particular. That was why I asked you!"

Then he left her.

The Envy of her Neighbors

is the woman whose kitchen shines with a handsome, roomy range—whose face beams with the satisfaction afforded by a perfect cooking equipment.

For every woman wants a good stove. Whether she does her own cooking or not, she eats the meals that are prepared on it, and feels a pride in having the best. GURNEY - OXFORD satisfies that pride; justifies the neighbor's envy. Gurney-Oxford stoves and ranges carry every known feature of convenience, economy and control with some new points of excellence that are exclusive.

GURNEY-OXFORD

First of all is the lever that holds. No danger of the fire going out between meals. The Oxford Economizer will hold the heat at a low ebb till you want it; then turn the handle, and your stove is hot in a jiffy. Besides this saving of time and worry it saves in fuel to the actual extent of one ton in six.

THE DIVIDED FLUE STRIP is the envy of all women who bake. It guides the heat equally along sides, back and front of the oven.

Let us demonstrate these and other strong advantages of the Gurney-Oxford line. We have stoves for every purpose, every fuel, and a variety of prices.

THE SPIDER'S SECRET

Great Scientist Says It Would Take Four Million Completed Threads To Make a Silk Thread The Size of a Hair.

For a long time the web of the spider was supposed to be a simple strand of wavy silk, but later it was found that such was far from being the case.

Under the microscope we can get at the secret of the spinning very nicely. We see that there are either four or six teats on the spider near the lower part of the abdomen, almost exactly similar to the teats of a cow. From these issue four or six strands as the case may be, but these strands themselves are not simple, but are composed of at least a thousand fibers each, for it has been proven that in each teat there is a sieve of at least a thousand holes through which the silky matter is strained. Thus we see that fine as is a spider's web it is yet composed of from four to six thousand fibers. Leuwenhoeck states that it would take at least four million of the completed threads to make a thread as strong as a silk thread of the size of a hair.

However, there are some tropical spiders that spin threads known to be very strong; so strong, in fact, as to be able to catch and hold humming birds.

As to the color of the thread, our ordinary spiders spin one of a uniform gray color; but in the riotous tropics there are found spiders that spin vari-colored webs. One particularly produces red, yellow, and black threads which it binds together with a pleasing color effect.

In the thread of the spider lies dormant a great industry once it is properly studied. Numerous attempts have been made to utilize the threads for cloth to make clothes, etc. All have been so far doomed to failure — anyhow, as a financial proposition. It is related that Louis XIV had a dress made from spiders' web, but which was so fragile that he became disgusted with it. The entomologist D'Orbigny had made for himself a pair of trousers from the webs of tropical spiders which lasted for a long time.

It would seem that even if the web was too fragile to make the fabric entirely from, it could be mixed with silk or something equally strong and produce a new and gorgeous material for our present-day goddesses.

A Contest of Wits.

"Goethe was so often intruded upon by the curious in his house in Weimar that one day, made impatient by the determination of an unknown Englishman to force an entrance, he suddenly ordered his servant to show him in. The Englishman entered. Goethe planted himself erect in the centre of the room, his arms crossed, his eyes on the ceiling, motionless like a statue. Surprised for the moment the stranger soon comprehended the situation, and, without being in the least disconcerted, he put on his glasses, walked slowly around Goethe, inspected him from head to foot, and went out."

The Indian.

That the Indian marries more often for love than the white man; that the only difference between so-called civilized men and the so-called uncivilized is a difference in their explanations; that Indian women as a whole are better treated than the white women, and that the wife of a college professor has a harder time than an Indian squaw; that no woman reaches the pinacle of her art until she has married and borne a child; that to be an Indian maid is infinitely better than to be a wage slave in the inferno of commercialism — these and other things are the ideas of Mrs. Henry Hunter Austin who has spent a number of years amongst the Indian Reserves in Canada.

Nursery Medicine Box

On every nursery wall, out of reach of the little folk, yet readily accessible to the nurse, should hang a wooden box containing the requisites for attending to such simple accidents as may occasionally befall her charges, surmounted by a printed card of directions, of the kind to be produced at most chemists or large stationers.

In addition to a pair of bright, blunt-pointed scissors, a supply of safety and ordinary pins, and two or three needles threaded with white cotton, knotted at the end, and run into a strip of chamois leather to keep them from getting rusty, the contents should comprise some good sticking-plaster for cuts, calendula lotion, Pomade-Divine, or the more homely application of vinegar and brown paper for bruises, linseed oil and lime water shaken together in equal parts for burns and scalds, a bottle of diluted ammonia or a common blue-bag for stings, a small tin of mustard, which, once opened, should be relegated to household use, and a new one purchased for medical purposes, a packet of cottonwood, or a roll of lint, and a few bandages of one-inch and one and a half-inch girths, these later items wrapped closely in paper to protect them from dust.

How China was Isolated.

From the beginning until the nineteenth century China was as isolated from the world at large as if located in Mars. On the north were the barren plains of Mongola and the sandy waste of the Gobi Desert, beyond which stretched the interminable and uninhabited forests of Siberia; on the west the impassable mountains — the Roof of the World; on the south swamps, jungle, and the Indian Ocean; and on the east the Pacific, an impassable barrier.

Thus carefully guarded by nature from the outside world, with a country of many waterways, a climate similar to that of America from Maine to Florida, a rich and varied soil, lending itself kindly to cultivation, with all natural resources in the greatest abundance (iron, coal, gold, silver, copper), it was possible for China to work out her own civilization, laws, governments, literature, economic life. But even under these conditions there was a natural ebb and flow in her national vitality, and dynasties changed, and twice the country has been conquered. The only possible point of attack in the years past has been from the north, the country of cold, deserts, and scanty vegetation.

Fried Onions in War.

During the American invasion of Porto Rico, in the course of the war with Spain, General Tasker H. Bliss, with his troops, was stationed near a village held by an overwhelming force of Spaniards. Orders were to keep his "eye peeled" and, if he heard anything suspicious, to fall back about eight miles. Instead of this, his men turned in one day and captured the village, chasing the Spaniards out. The next day the commander of the American forces came along to find Bliss sitting in front of the home of the chief man of the village. The commander asked him why he had attacked the Spanish force, when he knew that he was outnumbered.

Bliss. "You see, my men have been hungry for some days, and the wind blew toward them from the village, and some squaw was frying onions over there. And so——"

Our Future.

"All men become something incredible to themselves; for they are unwound like a cocoon, and know not which way the thread doth run."

Relations.

"Relations have a wonderful natural gift of being rude to each other and taking undue liberties with each others' purses, time, and temperament.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

STEAMER BROKE LOCK

Welland Canal Is Badly Damaged by the Keywest.

Head and Lower Gate of Lock Twenty-One Are Carried Away, Both Sides of Canal Damaged, and G.T.R. Tunnel Blocked by Boat—Captain Did All He Could to Avoid Trouble But Has to Pay Costs.

St. Catharines, Aug. 21.—The steamer Keywest early yesterday morning carried away both the head and one of the lower gates of lock 21, closing navigation through the waterway, blocking the Grand Trunk Railway tunnel, and seriously damaging banks both sides of canal. The steamer will be held for full payment of damages, including new gates, which in all will run well on into thousands of dollars. The accident occurred between twelve and one o'clock. Captain Esford was in command, but Second Mate Lapointe was doing the canaling.

It is asserted that the boat was being pushed in order to reach Port Colborne before six o'clock, and thus escape spending Sunday in the canal. The captain, however, who was on deck when the mishap took place, says the steamer was not going unusually fast, although she took a sudden forward list just as she entered the lock. The mate signalled the reverse, which Engineer Watson says was given. Although ropes were thrown and snubbed, the steamer rammed the head gates, which immediately gave way, carrying the steamer and one of the lower gates down to lock 20. The captain dropped anchor when he saw what was happening, but the force was too great to be withstood. The steamer suffered several minor damages.

Captain Esford appears to have done everything possible to avoid an accident after he saw what was imminent, but without success. While not actually asserting that the accident could have been avoided, he claims the snubbing posts at the lock are too close to the head gates for all round safety. He has sailed for years and never before experienced serious mishap.

Chief Engineer Weller and his staff accomplished repair of the damage to the lock in record time. The journey had to be made through twenty locks before any effective work could be done, yet navigation re-opened at the usual Sunday night hour, nine o'clock, as if nothing unusual had happened. This was the first serious break in the Welland Canal this year.

A PASSENGER RECORD.

Aeroplanist Carries Man For Three Hours, Forty-Two Minutes.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—W. G. Beatty, in a Wright biplane, beat the world's record for duration while carrying a passenger at the international aviation meet here yesterday. Beatty and his passenger were in the air at the opening gun at 3.26 o'clock and remained up until 7.08.22 1-5, a total of three hours and 42 minutes and 22 1-5 seconds. The former record was made by Amerigo, at Mulhausen, Germany, Dec. 11, 1910, when he carried a passenger 3 hours, 19 minutes, 37 seconds. While official announcements for the contest were received with doubt here after it had been learned that O. A. Brindley, officially announced as having flown to a height of 11,726 feet, instead had risen only 5,768, there was little doubt that the Beatty figures were approximately correct. Beatty's performance was watched and timed by thousands of spectators, and his record is not subject to the mistakes possible in so intricate an instrument as is used in recording height.

Yesterday's events were enlivened by a number of spectacular escapes, in none of which, it is said, was the aviator in great danger. The hydroaeroplane, driven by C. C. Witmer and cruising above over the lake, approached dangerously near the yacht marine. It scared the passengers, but passed overhead without injuring anyone.

Motor Jumps Bank.

Port Robinson, Aug. 21.—An automobile party from Welland, consisting of William Phillips, William Reed and Race Garner, while approaching the Chippawa Creek bridge here at 12.20 yesterday afternoon, met a rig on the bridge, the horse of which became frightened, and William Reed, who was driving the car, stopped, and in backing out of the way, was unable on account of the brake failing to work, to stop. The rear wheels getting over the brink of the steep embankment, the car tumbled down and turned completely over. Garner and Phillips escaped uninjured, but Reed, the driver, fared less fortunately, being seriously injured. He was taken from under the wreck and removed to the residence of J. B. Hyslop near by, and his injuries attended to. Reed later on was taken to the Welland Hospital in an ambulance. It is feared he is injured internally. The auto was badly wrecked.

The Premier's Plans.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—During the coming week Sir Wilfrid Laurier will make Montreal his headquarters, going out every day to various ridings in the neighborhood of Montreal where meetings will be held. On Monday he goes to St. Julienne in Montcalm County. During the week he speaks at Joliette, Farnham and a number of places throughout the eastern townships.

Winnipeg Electric Comes.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—The Winnipeg Railway Electric Co. on Saturday announced its rate on commercial lighting to meet the schedule of the municipal power plant issued recently by the railway. The rates are in effect duplicates of those offered by the city, excepting in the matter of discounts to small users, where the city has the advantage.

SETTLEMENT REACHED

Lloyd-George Succeeds in Averting English Strike.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer After Days of Heroic Efforts Brings Leaders to Basis of Agreement With a Partial Victory For the Men—Joint Committee Will Investigate Whole Affair.

London, Aug. 21.—A great wave of relief swept over the country Saturday night, when, after 11 o'clock, the announcement was made from the Board of Trade offices that the railway strike had been settled and that the men would return to work immediately.

Telegrams were quickly despatched to all important railroad towns bearing the information, and crossed in transit messages to London describing strike riots in Llanelly and smaller towns in the kingdom.

Most of the credit for the settlement appears to rest upon the shoulders of David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who, in his statements to Parliament and in interviews with the managers and the men, worked for conciliation, when all others of the interested parties seemed to have given it up.

A joint committee of five members, composed of two representatives of the railway companies, two of the men and a non-partisan chairman, will be appointed Tuesday to investigate the workings of the Conciliation Act of 1907, which the men claim is the root of all their grievances. This device overcomes the men's objection to a royal commission, which they contend always has been in practice a synonym for delay.

So far as technical advantage in the compromise goes, it appears to be in the men's favor, particularly as the managers' consent to meet their representatives. The official statement concerning the agreement says the managers consented to this scheme in view of certain representations made them by the Government, including a promise of legislation to permit of an increase in railway rates. The men claim a victory for unionism on the point of recognition of unions, which was one of the most vital principles at stake.

Messages were sent to 1,800 branches of the labor unions Saturday night, saying:

"The joint committee has settled the strike. It is a victory for trade unionism. All men must return to work immediately."

As a result of the settlement the soldiers who had been scattered at strategical railways points about the country will be withdrawn as fast as arrangements for transporting them can be made.

There is no doubt that Saturday's affair at Llanelly, Wales, where troops fired on a mob, killing two men and wounding two others, had much influence in ending the strike, as it depends on the working classes for its power. The shooting of citizens by soldiers occurs less often in the United Kingdom than in any other European country, and is particularly repugnant to all classes.

The settlement was reached at a conference between David Lloyd-George, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the executives of the men's societies.

Premier Asquith returned to London Saturday afternoon from the country, where he had expected to stay over Sunday, and his secretary made constant trips to the conference at the Board of Trade and headquarters of the railway magnates.

At the conclusion of the conference the official statement was issued:

"The action on representations made to the railway companies by the Government, they Saturday empowered Mr. Claughton and Sir Guy Granet, general manager of the Midland Railway, to confer on their behalf with representatives selected by the joint executives of the trades unions and railway employes, with a view to discussing with them the suggested terms of settlement drafted by the Board of Trade."

There were present at the conference G. H. Claughton, director of the L.N.W. Railway, and Sir Guy Granet, on behalf of the companies; James H. Thomas, M.P., and Messrs. Bellamy, Williams, Fox, Lowth and Charlton, on behalf of the men, and Mr. Lloyd-George, Sir H. L. Smith and G. K. Oskwith, on behalf of the Board of Trade. Ramsay Macdonald, M.P., also was present during the conference.

The railroad men throughout the kingdom are returning to work and it is hoped within a few days to have the great transit systems working under normal conditions.

Following the announcement Saturday night that the railway managers and their employes had agreed to permit a commission to settle their difficulties came the reassuring news that there was great hope of ending the dockers' strike at Liverpool and that the workers there shortly would resume their duties.

No rioting as a result of labor troubles were reported yesterday except at Dublin, where the police and constables came into collision with a mob, which was in sympathy with striking newsboys who were endeavoring to prevent the distribution of newspapers. Numerous persons had their heads cracked in the melee and several shops were looted.

The railway workers held meetings throughout the country yesterday to celebrate what they claimed to be a victory over the railway companies. With the exception of the 4,000 men of the Northeastern Railway Co., which was not a party to the strike settlement agreement, and 3,000 Manchester men, all the unions passed resolutions in favor of a resumption of work. The Northeastern Company's employes demand an eight-hour day and a two-shilling weekly advance in wages, with a minimum weekly wage of 22 shillings, about $5.50.

HOLDS A GREAT RALLY

Mr. Borden Speaks at Harriston to Big Crowd.

Visitors From Six Counties Fill Rink to Overflowing and Many Fighting Speeches Are Delivered—Hon. f. B. Lucas Assists Conservative Leader—Conference of Two Hours Is Held at Stratford.

Harriston, Ont., Aug. 21.—The Conservative leader was given a rousing welcome here on Saturday evening. Three thousand people crowded into the rink for the meeting. They came from six counties, Wellington (where Harriston is situated), Huron, Bruce, Perth, Dufferin, and Grey.

Special trains brought them in from Orangeville in one direction and from Wingham in the other, while the regular brought a large contingent from Drayton district. They knew how to cheer and they gave abundant evidence of it.

On his way up to Harriston on Saturday the Conservative leader spent two hours at Stratford, in the riding of South Perth, where G. H. McIntyre, ex-M.P., is the Liberal candidate. While at Stratford Mr. Borden held an informal reception at the Conservative rooms, when he met about two hundred of the local Conservatives. After his arrival at Harriston he made a tour of inspection of the chief industries of the town.

The meeting opened with a battery of appeals from the Conservative candidates and the local members. The first was W. C. Chambers, the standard-bearer for West Wellington for the Ontario Legislature. James Rowman, federal candidate in East Huron, brought a message of confidence and H. B. Murphy gave a sanguine report of the campaign in North Perth.

Vigorous fighting addresses were also made by two members of the Legislature, C. R. McKeown of Dufferin and A. H. Musgrave of North Huron. All struck vigorously the note of national menace in this agreement and all were heartily applauded. The chairman of the meeting was Anson Spotton, mayor of Harriston, and a prominent figure in the business community.

Mr. Borden's voice was somewhat stronger than in Woodstock, but it was still necessary for him to guard it carefully, and Hon. I. B. Lucas came up from Toronto by the evening train to join forces with the Conservative leader.

Mr. Borden opened his speech by recalling the strange circumstances under which Parliament was dissolved. He pointed out how a pledge had been given that Parliament would be in session for another meeting of the Oliver committee, that pledge being given in the presence of Mr. Oliver himself, and then dissolution was brought on suddenly before that meeting of the committee could be held.

"The decent standards of the public life of this country," declared Mr. Borden, "are not consistent with such conduct."

PRESTON TO RUN.

Brantford Liberals Chose Him to Fill Harris' Place.

Brantford, Aug. 21.—Mr. T. H. Preston, editor of the Expositor, was unanimously chosen Saturday as Liberal candidate for Brantford.

The convention at which Mr. Harris had declined the renomination, and Messrs. J. J. Hurley and L. F. Heyd were tendered the candidature, was adjourned from the previous week. In the meantime Mr. Preston was approached by representative men of the party. Saturday's adjourned gathering could have filled comfortably the largest public hall in the town. The Reform Clubroom and the hall outside were crowded when President J. A. Messecar called the meeting to order, and said the convention was open again for nominations.

The only name, proposed by Mr. John Muir, a prominent manufacturer, and Mr. C. W. Gurney, a well-known farmer, was that of Mr. Preston, and the unanimous invitation was given to him amid loud cheering.

Mr. Preston, in thanking the delegates, said he would have liked Mr. Harris to accept the nomination. He was so thoroughly in sympathy with the Laurier Government, except on the one question of reciprocity, that it would have amounted to Mr. Haris sinking his own views after the voice of the people had been made plain. The Liberal party was broad and strong enough to contain men of independent opinion like the ex-member.

Labor Party to Run Man.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—J. E. Leonard announced on Saturday night that he had decided to accept the Conservative nomination for Laval in opposition to C. A. Wilson, the late member, who is again to contest the seat in the Liberal interests.

The Labor party at a meeting held yesterday decided to run a candidate in St. Mary's division as well as in Maissonneuve and other divisions. The name of the nominee has not yet been announced.

Mr. Monk announced yesterday that he would tour the district between now and election time. Besides helping out the Nationalist movement throughout the provinces his itinerary includes sixteen meetings in his own constituency.

To Retain Dr. Rutherford.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—As a result of a conference between Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, and Dr. Rutherland, Veterinary-General and Live Stock Commisioner, Dr. Rutherland will remain in his present position until the first of October. Dr. Rutherford handed the Government his resignation some time ago to take effect on the last day of August. It is rumored that arrangements are being made whereby Dr. Rutherford will be retained permanently by the Government.

CANON CAYLEY DEAD.

Well-Known Episcopal Clergyman Dies In Muskoka.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Rev. Canon John D'Arcy Cayley, rector of the Church of St. George the Martyr, Toronto, died in Muskoka yesterday from the effects of ptomaine poisoning, from which he suffered an attack some months ago, and rallied only to have a relapse, which proved fatal.

Canon Cayley was born in 1837, the son of Hon. William Cayley. He received his early education under Dr. Palmer of Guelph, after which he went to Upper Canada College. He graduated from Trinity College, Toronto, in 1858, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Strachan in 1860. After ordination he went to England, where he spent the next three years. He was ordained priest in 1861 by the Bishop of Chichester, and accepted the curacy in the village of Cowfold, Sussex. There he remained two years, marrying a Miss Cartwright of Brighton in 1861.

In 1862 Canon Cayley returned to Canada, and was rector of All Saint's Whitby, from 1863 to 1874, when he became rector of St. George's, Toronto, where he remained until his death. He was Canon of St. Alban's Cathedral and also perceptor, and a member of the corporation of Trinity College.

Canon Cayley is survived by one son, Rev. E. C. Cayley, of St. Simon's and three daughters, Mary Augusta, Cecil Maud and Mrs. Rosher, who is now in England.

Special mention was made of the death of the canon in St. George's Church yesterday evening.

WILL DISCOVERED.

Last Testament of Joseph George Will Cause a Sensation.

Kingston, Aug. 21.—Sensational developments are expected in connection with the finding of the will of the late Joseph George. All depends on whether there will be opposition to probate of the will, in view of the fact that the estate has been ordered to be divided under the intestate law, the widow getting one-half, and the balance going to deceased's next-of-kin. H. Sullivan and G. H. Williamson, the witnesses, have identified the will. It has not been presented to the courts, but will be very shortly.

"Who put the will in the house where it was found by the plumbers?" This is the question. The discovery of the will means that the widow will only receive $4,000, instead of $12,000 or $14,000, which she would have received had her husband died intestate. Albert Cottenden of Toronto, an admitted son of the deceased, will receive about $25,000. He has declared all along that his father left him the bulk of the money.

The will shows that an attempt was made by some person to change the amount willed to the widow from four to forty thousand dollars by adding the letters "ty." It was most glaring, and as this word would be spelled wrongly, and was not initialed as required by law.

RIOTS IN WALES.

Ten Men Are Killed In Disturbance In Llanelly.

Llanelly, Wales, Aug. 21.—Four rioters were shot down by the troops on Saturday afternoon, two being instantly killed, and the other two mortally wounded.

Another mob find a car of explosives and set fire to it. Several deaths occurred bringing the total list of fatalities up, it is reported, to ten.

This part of Wales has been the scene of exceptional violence since the railway strike was declared. There has been a succession of conflicts with the police.

Saturday a mob attempted to stop an incoming train, and the police were unable to disperse the angry men. The Riot Act was read by a magistrate, but it had no effect. The strikers continued their attack on the train and mounted the locomotive. A military officer discharged his revolver in the air, but still the mob refused to quite.

Finally the troops, who had been station in the vicinity to protect the depot and other railroad property, were ordered to shoot. They fired three volleys. At this the mob broke and fled, leaving four men stretched on the ground. Two were dead when picked up, and the others were dying.

Three-Fourths Done.

Lyons, N.Y., Aug. 21.—Nine hundred and thirty miles from his starting point, Harry N. Atwood, the young Boston aviator, who is fast approaching the world's long distance record in his flight from St. Louis to New York, landed in a field in Lyons yesterday afternoon, after flying 104 miles from Buffalo without a stop.

Atwood is now 335 miles from New York, or almost three-fourths of his 1,265-mile flight. By to-morrow night he hopes to reach Albany and on Wednesday in a one-day flight down the Hudson River, he expects to break the world's record for distance when he lands at Sheepshead Bay race track. For the 930 miles so far covered he has been in the air 19 hours 58 minutes. He had expected to reach Syracuse last night, but gasoline was running short.

Rogers Enters Fight.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—It is reported here that Hon. Robert Rogers will probably take the Conservative nomination in Provencher, Man., against Dr. Molloy. Provencher was about the one seat in Manitoba which the Liberals had set aside as absolutely safe, but with Bob Rogers in the running their calculations would have to be considerably revised.

Daring Horse Thief.

Cornwall, Aug. 21.—A daring horse-thief carried off a team of horses from the barns of P. N. Tait, Mille Roches, Friday morning. He was seen by a neighbor riding one of the animals and leading the other and riding fast. It is thought that the animals were ferried across the river to American soil, but so far they have not been recovered.

Bishop Fallon yesterday laid the corner-stone of St. Martin's Church in South London, Ont.

A. M. Beauparlant, former member for St. Hyacinthe, is dead. He was recently operated on for appendicitis.

Conductor W. Smith of the London Street Railway, is in a serious condition from an assault by an unknown man.

The Opal Sewing Machine and Bicyle Works at Russelheim, Germany, were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at between $1,000,000 and $1,250,000.

A well-to-do Armenian named Pavel died at Hamilton from a broken back. In his ante-mortem statement he accused Michael Zima of throwing him over a stair-railing.

Fire yesterday destroyed the store and storehouse of Poupore & McDonald in Chapleau and the residence of Miss D. Kelly. The origin is unknown. The loss runs to $15,500.

At the office of the general manager of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. the information was given out that 2,500 employes of that road will be laid off during next week, possibly on Monday.

Hon. G. P. Graham announced at Brockville that an agreement had been reached with the Grand Trunk to reinstate all the strikers recommended for such action by Judge Barron.

George Riddle was drowned Saturday night in the Welland Canal at Welland. The body was recovered shortly afterwards. He was a resident of Montreal, and deck hand on the steamer Yorkton, which is unloading her cargo.

More Harvesters Wanted.

Duluth, Aug. 21.—There is a pressing need for harvesters in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Canadian farmers from all over the west are complaining of a shortage of labor in handling the bumper crop, which is now ready for cutting.

The experts who have looked over the Canadian wheat country have estimated a total of 127,000,000 bushels for the three provinces, a record crop.

During the last week the railroads have sent 2,000 men into Manitoba, where cutting has already begun, and the Canadian Northern men here estimate that 30,000 more will be needed before a sufficient force is on hand to handle the immense crop.

Of these, it is thought that 20,000 can be enlisted from eastern Canada, leaving 10,000 to be secured from along the American border.

Crop Doing Well.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—Two more days of perfect crop weather have given impetus to the belief that even in the latest districts grain will be ready to cut before there is any danger of frost. Rain has been recorded in slight quantities at three or four points, but nothing in the nature of a general downpour has occurred.

In Saskatchewan and Alberta, where the crops are latest, grain is reported to be filling rapidly. In Northern Alberta, the yield promises well, samples from several districts received Saturday showing exceptionally well developed shoots. Between three and four thousand more harvesters have arrived from the east and south. Cutting is general in Manitoba and the men have all been placed. Threshing of rye is reported in some districts.

If the average man has any virtues he feels like apologizing for them.

Only a wise man knows how little he actually knows of that which may be known.

TWO ONE SIDED BALL GAMES PLAYED IN THE CITY LEAGUE

Rolling Mills Whitewashed the T. A. S.—Coleman Flats Defeatsd the Ontarios in a Seven Innings Contest by a Score of 18 to 11—Rooters not Enthusiastic

On Saturday afternoon two City League baseball matches were played as scheduled, but neither game created much interest to the goodly number of spectators who assembled to witness the games. Beth games were too much one sided to arouse enthusiasm. Mr. Wm. Cochrane was umpire on balls and strikes and Mr. Eddie O'Flynn looked after the base runners. At times the latter certainly had his hands full.

FIRST GAME.

The first game was between the Steel Company of Canada and the T. A.S. teams. The former team administered a ccat of whitewash to their opponents, the score being 13 to 0 in favor of the iron players. Smith, who played for the winning team, had good control of the ball, striking out a number of the T.A.S. team who came to bat. Staples pitched part cf the game for the losing team and was relieved by F. Goyer, who did fairly well, but was none too well supported by the fielders. The line-up of the teams was as follows:

S.C.C.—	T.A.S.—
Symons, 2b.	Dcran, r.f.
Carter, 3b.	O'Connor, ss.
Phelp, 1b.	Staples, p.
Goyer, ss.	Hogan, 1b.

SECOND GAME.

It was anticipated that the second game would be close, but it proved tc be a slugging match. The contesting teams were the Coleman Flats and the Ontarios. In the first part of the game the Ontarios had a lead, but in the 5th and 6th innings the Coleman Flat players batted the ball all over the ground, scoring 11 runs in the two innings, thus taking a decided lead. Draycott pitched good ball for the winning team. C. Pitcher was the twirler for the Ontarios, but later in the game was relieved by A. Moore. The final score was 17 to 11 in favor of the Coleman Flats. The game was called at the end of the 7th innings.

The play by innings was as follows:

ORIGINALITY IN THE INDIVIDUAL

Competition Too Keen for Ordinary Business Methods.

Competition gets keener every year, and this means that the difficulty of the customer in selecting a firm to do business with becomes proportionately greater. His custom in the end must eventually go to the house which, by originality and difference from its competitors, simplifies this selection for him. The rapid and brilliant success of many of our great businesses to-day may all be attributed to this originality as the first cause.

If this is true with regard to a business it is equally so with regard to the individual. The man who differs from his fellows is the man who is noticed and, if his originality is backed by other good qualities, can not but come to the front. Merit usually tells, of course, but my point is that merit is best recognised when it is advertised, as it were, by originality.

Sabbath Description.

Bishop John L. Nuelsen, in an address in Omaha, said of intolerance: "These intolerant people make me think of young Parson Brownslow. Parson Brownslow, one Sunday morning, was passing a pond when two young skaters went through the ice. The parson, a good swimmer, plunged into the cold, black water promptly, and after a deal of diving and floundering and struggling, he managed to rescue the two boys. He laid their limp forms on the bank side by side and then he began to work their arms vigorously, so as to restore animation, when a deep, reproachful voice cried from the road: "Parson!" He looked up and beheld the frowning visage of Deacon Jones. "Parson," said the deacon, "six days shalt thou labor!"

MR. SINCLAIR WRITES TO THE INTELLIGENCER

Belleville, Aug. 21, 1911.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer:

Sir,—I have been interested in reading in The Intelligencer, from the pen of Mr. Arthur Hawkes, "Why I Am a Canadian," and while I myself belong to the class that cannot help being a Canadian, because I was born here, at the same time I congratulate Mr. Hawkes upon the wisdom of his choice, in that he is a Canadian by choice, for to what other country in God's wide world could he have gone and enjoyed the same freedom and blessings as in Canada.

I also notice that, under the heading, "British Rally," Mr. Hawkes is billed to address a public meeting in our City Hall on Tuesday evening, Aug. 22nd, and as I take it every true Canadian is also a true Britisher, then the citizens of Belleville should be interested in Mr. Hawkes' appearance here.

Under the heading, "The British Born Appeal," one of the leading Toronto papers of Saturday's issue has this to say regarding the speaker of Tuesday evening's meeting:

"It is time the British-born of Canada knew the purpose of the agitation which is being conducted by Mr. Arthur Hawkes during the present election campaign. If doubt remains in any mind as to the character of the organization being purely political it will be dispelled by the following reproduction of a circular letter bearing the signatures of the Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines in the Ontario Government, to the editor of an Ontario newspaper. The letter, intended for one of the faithful, is sent out from the Conservative head quarters in Toronto, announcing that Mr. Hawkes has been employed to write articles for the party and to speak at one meeting per day during the remainder of the compaign."

"The following is a fac-simile of Mr. Cochrane's letter:

The Dominion
Liberal Conservative Association for Ontario.
Toronto, Aug. 16, 1911.

The Editor:

Dear Sir,—I am glad to tell you that we are fortunate enough to have the aid of the pen of Mr. Arthur Hawkes in the Election Campaign, and I am sure you will be glad to use the signed articles by him that will come to you.

Mr. Hawkes has written ten National Specials under most attractive titles, and, under his non-de-plume of John V. Dome, twenty-six pithy articles of about 350 words each, under the general heading, "Points About the Deal." Mr. Hawkes will address at least one meeting a day for the rest of the campaign, and has also promised to write a series of new stories, entitled "Through Ontario with the British Born," which will be placed freely at your disposal. I thought you would like to know we shall be very glad to see this amunition as widely used as possible.

Yours faithfully,
F. COCHRANE."

Now, sir, while I hope to have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Hawkes myself and wish for him a full house, it is only fair to his hearers that they should know under what auspices he is carrying on his work. I think I may say, without fear of contradiction, that no one particular sect, nationality or political party in Belleville is possessed with all the loyalty that binds this particular part of Canada to the mother land, but we, as native born Englishmen, Scotchmen and Irishmen, together with their Canadian born descendents, as one people, glory in our British connection.

Respectfully yours,
D. V. SINCLAIR.

Note.—We have briefly called attention in another column to the subject referred to by Mr. Sinclair, and leave further consideration of the point to Mr. Hawkes, should he deem it worthy of notice.

Mr. Sinclair is to be complimented in omitting the name of the Toronto journal from which he quotes. In this he displayed that caution and discretion so characteristic of his countrymen, knowing it would add weight or credit to its utterances. Wise David, never in your utterances in the future upon any public question give The Globe as your authority, particularly when addressing an honest and intelligent audience.

The social scale is not always life's most reliable weighing machine.

A fellow never suffers from ennui till he gets tired of doing nothing.

In society it is much easier to do the proper thing than the right thing

HAIR HEALTH

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

We asure you that if your hair is beginning to unnaturally fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded if it does not do as we claim. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store.—The Rexall Store. J. S. McKeown.

TORONTO COAL DEALERS SAY FREIGHT RATES MAY MAKE FUEL TAKE ANOTHER JUMP

Anthracite—
  Nut coal, $7.25.
  Stove Coal, $7.00.
  Pea Coal, $6.00.
Semi-anthracite—
  Nut Coal, $6.50.
  Stove Coal, $6.50.
  Pea Coal, $5.50.
Bituminous—
  Cannel Coal, $7.50.
  Massilon Coal, $6.50.
  Steam Lump Coal, $4.50.
  Peohontas Coal, $6.50.
  Smokeless Coal, $4.75.
  Soft Screenings, $3.50.
  Hard Screenings, $2.75.

The above are the present coal prices in Toronto. As has happened every year, it has gone up again in price, making it 50c. a ton higher than it was last June. On July 1st last it went up 25c. a ton, and on August 15th it took its second jump of 25c.

It is the usual thing for coal to be 50c. a ton dearer in the fall than in the spring, but the question now is whether in view of the advanced freight rates of 10c. a ton, which the railways intend to impose, will coal this winter be higher than it was last year?

R. R. HEPBURN IS NOMINATED AT LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC CONVENTION

Picton, Ont. Aug. 20.—Never were the Liberal-Conservaeives of Prince Edward Country more confident than yesterday when the nomination went to B. R. Hepburn, general manager of the Ontario and Quebec Navigation Company. The nomination in this county is under the delegate system. Every polling subdivision in the county was represented and the choice being practically unanimous from the beginning, showed how solid the feeling is throughout the county. The coming fight is looked forward to as the keenest in ears and the opinion seems to be strong that Mr. Hepburn stands the bigger chance of winning.

There was a monster meeting filling the Boulter Rink this afternoon, when T. S. Crothers, West Elgin and R. R. Gamey were speakers. Mr. Hepburn's first appearance before a body of electors brought forth a storm of enthusiasm and he received a great ovation. Harry Dempsey presided. Mr. Crothers gave a careful and instructive address on the reciprocity pact. He dwelt on the early history pertaining to the reciprocity negoticiations. He said that Sir John Macdonald had at one time been an advocate of reciprocity, but that Canada had not got what she had sought and learned to live without United States favors and prospered. It was absurd to suppose that we needed reciprocity now.

"You would not think of offering now a nursing bottle to a full grown man just because he had cried for it when a baby," was the apt way Mr. Crothers termed the application. He did not consider that the Canadian farmer stood to gain and he cited instances against it. Finally Mr. Crothers said: "This is not a question of the price of beans or turnips as the Globe would have us believe. This is a problem that effects the national independence of Canada as an Empire unit. This is the decision we are called upon to make the 21st. of September. I have no fear that the loyal old county of Prince Edward will vote for any severance of its British ties."

R. R. Gamey outlined the reciprocity issue and several local speakers, including R. A. Norman gave short addresses. This is Mr. Hepburn's first step down the political bright way. He has never so much as tinkered in municipal politics. As general manager of the Ontario and Quebec Navigation Co. he has become widely known, has big interests and is exceedingly popular.

For the first time on the Picton market an influence bearing on the reciprocity issue was made manifest this morning. A fuit merchant arrived on the Caspain from Rochester, bringing in an auto wagon full of plums. These he retailed for 30 cents per basket, the rate of 60 cents a peck. He told a reporter that these plums cost him to lay down here, duty and all expenses paid about 15 cents per basket. He was thus making 100 per cent. On the other hand, local plums retailed at 75 cents a peck and growers here say they could not afford to meet the cheap-priced fruit.

THE CANADIAN MINT.

One of the Most Interesting Institutions in the Dominion.

The place where money is made or what is perhaps more accurate where it is created has always appealed as most seemingly mysterious things do to the general reader. In Canada the Mint is located in Ottawa. Here are made our gold and silver coins — the real money of the country. The paper medium of exchange is in the hands of the engraving firms and one does not see any trace of it in the Sussex Street establishment.

The Mint is open to visitors after certain formalities have been complied with. The [illegible] of these, with every thing connected with the institution is [illegible].

Unless the workman arrives exactly on time he finds himself locked out. It is necessary for him to telephone in and get a written order, before he is allowed to enter. Prior to the worker beginning his day he must change his clothes, put them in a locker which is locked and donn special garments supplied by the Mint. The employees are not permitted to leave for dinner, therefore each department has a kitchen of its own, which supplies the midday meal to the staff. The metal to be used for the day's work is weighed out in the morning and no employee of the Mint is allowed to leave the building till the weight of the coins made and the material left over tally exactly with the weight of gold and silver handed out in the morning. Aside from all this, each member of the staff is locked in his or her department and is not permitted, even in case of illness to leave without a written permit. Thus, in the Mint chances for dishonesty are reduced to a minimum.

The concluding process of weighing and automatically packing the coins into packages requires the most finely adjusted machinery of all.

In this department is a scale so delicate that it had to be mounted on a concrete pier, sunk in the ground down to bedrock.

This machine automatically weighs the coins, throwing them into three different compartments, to the centre go the perfect ones, those under or overweight are deflected to the other two.

A Rising Financier.

The old man was perched upon a high stool, figuring up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush

"Say, pop," exclaimed the young man, "if I can buy a $300 horse for $150 will you take a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?"

"What kind of a hoss, my son?" enquired the father cautiously.

"Bay, four years old, fifteen hands high, weighs a thousand pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world," and he reached down into the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?"

"A hundred and forty-nine fifty."

The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk.

"What!" he exclaimed.

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar."

Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

"My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading hosses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business."

Cranks and Climate.

Under the title, "An Englishman in America," a writer in the New Age has been writing about things American. His point of view is not always accurate, but he says some interesting things. Among others, in a recent screed on New Thought in America, he condemns many of their "isms," attributing them to "superficial thinking." He says:

There are more "cranks in America than there are in the whole of Europe combined. This is not my opinion; it is a simple fact of arithmetic known to all visitors to America who have given this interesting question any serious consideration. America is the home of the cynic and the sentimentalist, the materialist and the metaphysician, the philosopher and the fanatic. Extremes meet here in society as in the climate. I am convinced that the climate has much to do with all these outbreaks of strange and impossible "isms." The atmosphere being highly electric, imaginative brains become overcharged with thought and an outlet is needed. Mere impressions and whims are mistaken for truth, and the victim begins to write or to preach, to form some small groups and then societies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system.

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

CY YOUNG.

In releasing Denton Tecumseh (Cy) Young Cleveland parts with the only pitcher that has won 500 games. In fact Christy Mathewson is the only one who has won over 250 games and days as a winning pitcher seem to be on the wane, writes Henry P. Edwards. In fact while baseball will go on to the end of time, it is doubtful if there ever will be another Cy Young, a man who can pitch big league baseball for 22 years, or until he is 45 years or over of age.

In parting with Cy Young the Naps have also severed their connections with the one of the two pitchers who in the later day history of the game pitched a 9-inning game without allowing a member of the opposing club to reach first base. And the game in question was pitched against the Athletics, one of the strongest and best batting teams in the country at the time. In addition Cy pitched one other no-hit game.

In his 22 years of big league work Young has failed but four times to win more than half of his games. And twice when he failed to break even he did succeed in finishing the season with a better mark than was owned by the Boston club of which he was a member at the time. Consequently it can be said that Cy had but two bad years as a pitcher., 1910, when he won 7 and lost 10 games and this year, when he has 3 victries and 4 defeats to his record. Getting right down to the inside facts, however, his 1910 record was a great deal better than the figures show for he was handicapped by bad catching and had a very bad team behind him the first part of he season. When the Naps were strengthened toward the latter part of the season and Land and Smith were added to the catching staff Cy was a consistent winner.

This year Cy has been handicapped by illness, which kept him out of the game until June. Even then with his late start, which caused him to get in condition twice within a few months, he has won 3 games and lost 4.

Cy first pitched for Guide Rock, Neb. but his initial professional experience was gained at Canton where he distinguished himself by blanking McKeesport without a hit. This showed he acquired the no-hit habit early in his career. It was his work at Canton that caused him to be tipped off to Hawley then the owner of the Cleveland Nationals. Mr. Hawley decided to give him a trial and his first Cleveland game was against the Chicago with Anson in command. Cy won 8 to 1 and was a star from then on. In fact, he was Pat Tebeau's mainstay in the box during the remainder of the club's stay in the then National or until 1899. He all but pitched into the championship in 1892 and did not fail to capture the Temple cup one year as a member of the Tebeau outfit.

When the old Spiders were transferred to St. Louis, Cy went along but he never liked St. Louis, claiming the climate did not agree with him and when the opportunity came to join the American league he did and his fortune was cast in with Boston under Jimmy Collins. With Young and Dinneen, now umpiring, as the principal pitchers, Boston won two pennants.

SLUGGISH LIVER RUINED BUSINESS MAN'S HEALTH

Story of a Merchant Who Almost Lost His Business and His Health Through Neglecting Early Symptoms of Disease.

"My life for years has been of sedentary character," writes T. B. Titchfield, head of a well-known firm in Buckingham. "Nine hours every day I spent at office work and took exercise only on Sunday. I disregarded the symptoms of ill health, which were all too apparent to my family. I grew thin, then pale, and before long I was jaundiced—eyes and skin were yellow, my strength and nerve energy were lowered, and I was quite unfitted for business. In the morning a lightness in the head, particularly when I bent over, made me very worried about my health. Most of the laxative medicines I found weakening, and knowing that I had to be at business every day I neglected myself rather than risk further weakness. Of course I grew worse, but by a happy chance I began to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I was forcibly struck by the fact that they neither caused griping nor nausea, and it seemed incredible that pills could tone, cleanse and regulate the system without causing any unpleasant after effects. Dr. Hamilton's Pills acted with me just as gently as nature—they gave me new life to my liver, strengthened my stomach, and won me back to perfect good health. My skin is clear, dizziness has disappeared and my appetite, strength, spirits are perfect."

Refuse anything offered you instead of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are sure to cure. Sold in 25c. boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

FRENCH ARMY AND NAVY MANOEUVERS HAVE BEEN ABANDONED CAUSING DEPRESSING EFFECT

(Intelligencer Special.)

PARIS, France, Aug. 22.—The admission by the War Office that the regular army and navy manoeuvres have been abandoned has had a most depressing effect. It is generally taken to mean that Germany has raised impossible demands for territorial concessions in Africa.

SKULL FRACTURED

(Intelligencer Special.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—Charley Johnson, a brother of Jack Johnson, the pugilist, had his skull fractured in a fight with an unknown white man last night.

BOTH ARMS CHEWED OFF

(Intelligencer Special.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—Gus Fillmer, a demented man, tried to climb into the lion's den at East Park Zoo this morning and had both arms chewed off. He was alive when rescued.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

BRITISH RALLY

Do not fail to hear Mr. Arthur Hawkes at the City Hall to-night. All are welcome.

INQUEST TO BE RESUMED

The inquest on the remains of Mr. George Richardson, the victim of the automobile accident near Cobourg on Friday night last, will be resumed at the town of Cobourg to-morrow afternoon.

STILL ANOTHER CALL

The fire brigade was called out again this morning to extinguish a blaze which broke out in the saw dust and marsh surrounding Holten's mill.

THE LAST SAD RITES

The funeral of the late Joseph McGuiness took place from the family residence, Mill Street. Services were held at St. Michael's Church, conducted by the Rev. Father Meehan. Interment took place in the R. C. cemetery at Marysville.

FOWL THIEVES AT WORK

Mr. D. Barrage, who resides on the south part of Front Street, is mourning the loss of a number of chickens which were stolen from him last night. The fowls were of a valuable breed.

AN EXPENSIVE THROW

Last evening some boys were standing in front of R. Fenn & Son's store, corner of Moira and North Front streets, when a lad named Snider threw a stone at them. The missile did not strike any of the boys but crashed through a plate glass window, valued at about $40. It proved to be a rather expensive throw.

MUST HAVE WRITTEN CLEARANCE

Owners and masters of the yachts at the St. Lawrence river ports have been notified by Alexandria Bay customs officials that from now on the yachts will have to clear and enter by written form when going to and from foreign ports, principally Canadian. Heretofore a verbal report was all that was required.

PRESENTATION

On Monday evening last the members of St. Andrew's Church choir presented Miss Queena Smith with a beautiful solid gold wishbone pin, accompanied by an address.

Miss Smith wishes to thank the choir for their kind remembrance and from her heart regrets deeply having to depart from their midst. But even in a far city and among new friends, St. Andrew's will never be forgotten and will always hold a warm, affectionate place in her heart. The members of the choir and church having always shown a true christian spirit, their kindnesses will long live in the happiest and brightest of her memories.

OBSEQUIES OF THE LATE MISS RITCHIE

Many citizens were this afternoon in attendance at the obsequies of the late Miss Agnes Ritchie. An impressive service was conducted at the residence of Mr. Thomas Ritchie by the Rev. A. H. Drumm, pastor of John Street Presbyterian Church, of which deceased was a member. Many beautiful floral designs were placed upon the casket by friends and employees of the Ritchie Company. Interment took place at Belleville cemetery. The bearers were employees of the Ritchie Company, namely Messrs. J. Buchanan, H. Post, S. McGuire, E. P. Frederick, C. C. Dickens and H. Bryant.

A VOICE FROM DEMERARA

Mr. L. A .D. Davis, of Georgetown, Demerara, who spent a few months in this city a short time ago during which his two sons graduated at the Ontario Business College, has shown by a letter written to his friend in Belleville, Mr. Shearing, that he takes a deep interest in the welfare of Canada. That he fully appreciates our position politically, as well as socially, is shown by his views on the future of Canada under the administration of affairs by the present Dominion rulers. The letter gives evidence of what is thought of Sir Wilfrid in other parts of the Empire. The following is an extract from the letter:

Georgetown, Demerara,
July 27, 1911.

My Dear Mr. Shearing,—Your welcome letter of 11th inst. reached me yesterday, from which I was glad to learn that you are so well. Sir Wilfrid seems determined to do his best to cut Canada off from the Empire. He did not show up at all well at the Conference in spite of his usual array of words, which seem to mean nothing regarding Canada's loyalty to the Throne. I am afraid that if Canadian loyalty was only on a par with his own that Canada would soon cease to be a part of the Empire. I know the gentleman only by repute, and what I have read of him, and so far as that goes I can come to no other conclusion than that he is neither loyal nor honest. I see that he is back to run the reciprocity car for all he is worth. The break in the proceedings appears to have done some good. It was a wise move on the part of the Opposition in forcing him to attend the Conference, as it has given people a chance to look around, and the West appears to have wakened up in the meantime to the understanding of the real issues represented by the reciprocity movement.

I have read in the paper that the C.P.R. is desirous of embarking in business here. It is said that they have offered nearly three millions for one of our business concerns. It is also rumored that the Bank of Canada wants to acquire our local bank. Should they come off, it will, in a way, be a good thing for the colony. The wheat crop seems to be going ahead; the markets are there for it. That is the aim of the U. S., to get hold of Canadian wheat for their own benefit. With kind regards
Yours faithfully,
L. A. D. DAVIS.

BRIDE OF THREE WEEKS DISAPPEARS FROM HOME

AYLMER, Aug. 21.—A sensation was caused at Aylmer by the disappearance of Mrs. Ferdinand Cusson, junior, formerly Miss Leda Leon, who was married only three weeks ago and has not been seen since Wednesday last. Grave fears are expressed as to her probable fate.

The young woman, according to her father, is not yet seventeen years of age, and it is thought by some that disappointment in the first stages of her married life may have caused her to take her life. According to her father, Mr. Joseph Leon, Mrs. Cusson complained to him last week that her husband had been cruel to her, and gave this explanation for an attack of bleeding at the nose.

Mrs. Cusson boarded with her husband at the home of Mr. John Ayott, in Aylmer, and the kindly interest of Aylmer people had been aroused by the apparently happy culmination of a romance which had existed between her and her husband since they were youngsters playing together. But only a short time ago there were rumors that all was not going smoothly with the young married couple, and this rumor was confirmed when Mrs. Cusson's disappearance aroused the anxiety of her relatives and friends.

Mr. Leon, the father, is very anxious as to his daughter's fate.

MRS. HOWE'S CIGARETTE CAUSES HER DEATH

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Ola Howe, 20 years old fell asleep on her bed while holding a cigarette. The bed clothing caught fire and Mrs. Howe received burns that resulted in her death a few hours later.

As Prince Edward of Wales is only receiving 42c. per day, we think the rumor of his engagement until he gets a raise is not true.

VERY DANGEROUS TO BE ALIVE

Health Hints in English Papers Bar All Kinds of Food and Drink

LONDON, Aug. 21.—All the English papers, because of the hot wave, are full of health hints now, and after reading the injunctions of the doctors one is ready to indorse the statement of an English newspaper writer that it "is really dangerous to be alive."

Readers are told that tea is a poisonous alkaloid which produces chronic dyspepsia and also acts as an irritant on the nervous system. Coffee, it appears, is even more deadly, while alcohol is said to be a poison in narcotic form, no matter in what way it is taken.

Shall we indulge in cool, sweet milk? Nay, nay, brother. Aesculapius declares that milk is full of countless bacteria, and fruit, owing to the system of handling it, is swarming with germs.

Starch, we are told, is the fountain and source of all illness; sugar causes gout, diabetes and rheumatism; meat charges the body with various well defined poisons; fish produces leprous troubles; shell fish are a fruitful source of ptomaine poisoning; cooked vegetables produce gastritis; uncooked vegetables and salads have the same tendency; eggs are indigestible, while spices and condiments are condemned as simply irritant poisons.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Myrtle Reed McCullough, the author and poet, who killed herself, left an estate valued at $200,000, according to friends. This sum will revert to eight Chicago charitable institutions.

A friend of Mrs. McCullough said that the author's will provided that the estate shall be held in trust during the lifetime of McCullough, his two sisters, and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram V. Reed, father and mother of the dead writer. Each is to be paid a monthly income and at their death the entire fortune is to be divided equally among the institutions named in the will.

SPENDID MEETING AT MASSASSAGA

A meeting in the interest of Mr. Hepburn, the Opposition candidate in the County of Prince Edward, was held on the 21st inst. at Massassaga Point, which, we are informed, was one of the largest ever held in that locality and the most enthusiastic.

Mr. S. Barber was called to the chair, and spoke briefly, pointing out from a farmer's standpoint how injuriously the reciprocity agreement between Canada and the United States would, if it became law, effect every agricultural industry in the country.

He was followed by Mr. H. Norman, M.P.P., the candidate, Mr. R. B. Hepburn, Mr. Mikel and Mr. Dempsey, President of the Liberal Conservative Association of Prince Edward, all of whom spoke forcibly and argumentatively, against not only the treaty, but the maladministration and corruption that has characterized the Government during its eristence.

The electors are alive to their country's interest, showing a determination to rescue the county from Gritism.

NEW HOTEL FOR KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, Aug. 21.—A party of Boston capitalists were here looking for a site for a new hotel. They got in touch with a prominent citizen, who showed them likely sites, and it is possible that there will be somethng doing in the hotel line before long.

CURRENT COMMENT

Laurier and Canada's 8,000,000 market for the Yankees. Borden and Canada for Canadians.

The Globe's awful disclosure of the alleged Cochrane-Hawkes plot goes off with an explosion about as earsplitting as a powderless squib.

Will some mind-reader explain why President Taft is a bigoted opponent of every sort of tariff reduction, except Canadian Reciprocity?—Montreal Star.

We hear a good deal about the wider market which Canadians would obtain under reciprocity, but not much about the wider market obtained by the United States producers.

"There was a touch of pathos in the leader's voice," says a report of the Laurier meeting at Quebec. There ought to be, since he is arranging for the interment of the Canadian future.—Toronto Telegram.

Sir Wilfy Laurier's stories of how he has endangered his health in his efforts to make the French and English-speaking races one, read like the explanation of the boy who was trying to put apples back on the trees.

The census is a cold-blooded affair. It shatters high hopes, chills the flood of oratory, obstructs the booster, and applies the test of stern facts to rosy estimates. The City of Ottawa finds that she is twenty thousand smaller than was supposed. Toronto has done well but it within the 400,000 mark. Winnipeg is 140,000, when her sanguine people claimed 200,000. Other cities, including Belleville, yet await the verdict.

The protectionist convictions of the United States are like the Rock of Gibraltar. The free trade spasms of the American people are like the tides that rise and fall at the base of that rock.

Free trade sentiment in the United States is higher sometimes than at other times. America's protectionist convictions are a Gibraltar that is always there, and will be there when Taft's experiment with reciprocity is forgotten.—Toronto Telegram.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE COUNTY SHERIFF."

Canandiague, Oct. 22.—Sheriff Geo L. Van Voorhees had a busy day today. All forenoon the Sheriff was tracked by a member of the "County Sheriff" Company, who this evening gave at the opera house an exposition of the drama as it is known in the wild west. It appears that Sheriff Van Voorhees has been given numerous letters that were sent to the post office directed in care of "The County Sheriff." He has been at a loss to locate the prisoners in the county jail, to whom the mail belonged, when today his efforts were nipped in the bud by the appearance at the jail of some actors who demanded their mail. They got it and enjoyed a laugh at the expense of, and with Ontario's County Sheriff.—Rochester, N.Y., Democrat and Chronicle.

The "County Sheriff" will be seen at Griffin's to-night.

A pane of glass stops a draft of air, and a draught of Merrill's Wizard Lightning stops any pain inside or out in five minutes. All druggists. Price 25c., or postpaid by The Merrill Medical Co., Merrill Building, Toronto, Ont.

ROYAL WOMEN TO COMMAND TROOPS

Many German Regiments to Appear at Coming Parades Led by Honorary Colonel's, Who are Queens or Duchesses

BERLIN, Aug. 21.—The three "Kaiser Parades" of the second and eleventh corps of guards in Germany which will take place in August and September this year, will be remarkable for the large number of "lady" colonels who will appear in full uniform at the head of their regiments. The Empress herself will ride at the head of her regiment of Fusiliers before her husband and Commander-in-chief at Altona, and at Stettin she will again lead the 82nd Cuirassiers, of both of which regiments she is the honorary colonel.

Another crowned queen, Victoria of Sweden, will probably appear in her uniform as colonel of the 34th Fusiliers, and at the same parade Princess Eitel Friedrich will ride at the head of the 12th dragoons before her imperial father-in-law. The Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin will also appear in uniform as chief of the Frankfurt Grenadier regiment.

Other royal and ducal ladies who will probably be seen in uniform during the parades are the Grand Duchess Louise of Baden, the Crown Princess of Greece and Princess Augusta Wilhelm of Prussia, while the Czarina will probably command her second regiment of dragoon guards by means of the telegraph wire.

WEALTHY MEN FLEEING WITH GOLD FROM PORTUGAL

BADAJOZ, Aug. 21.—More people have fled from Portugal within the last few days than in all the time since the monarchy was overturned, and the present republic established there. The flights are due to fear of the Carbonarios, the secret society which engineered the revolution, and is still politically supreme throughout Portugal.

Angered by recent activity on the monarchists' part ,the members of this organization have been perpetrating a series of the most brutal outrages upon large numbers of people, either known to be or suspected of being monarchist sympathizers. The refugees are mostly people of wealth, and the amount of money they are smuggling out of the country is so large as to threaten serious national financial embarrassment.

Play is the wark we do that isn't compulsory.

Oscar Hammerstein Instals Plant on Theatre for Convenience of Voyagers

LONDON, Aug. 21.—It is now Oscar Hammerstein, M.P. No, he has not entered Parliament—he is simply a Master of Publicity. Everything that the one-time American impresario does is duly chronicled by the English newspapers.

Mr. Hammerstein's latest is the installation of a wireless plant on the top of his new London opera house, by means of which it will be possible for those who go down to and come back from the sea in ships to engage seats at the opera house while still on the ocean blue.

Mr. Hammerstein is determined to give England music. "If they will not accept grand opera from me," said the only one, "they will have to hear my music anyhow. I have purchased a street piano as a warning to England that if grand opera does not appeal to them I will emulate the example of Lord Chicken—that's close enough—and make them listen."

NEW DRILL HALL FOR THE CAPITAL

Ottawa is to have a handsome new drill shed. The Government has decided upon this in a hurry. It will cost upwards of $600,000.

A year ago the Government refused to do anything when the subject was mooted by the local military.

The scene is now changed, however. The militia are sore, and the Government has an election to face in a few weeks.

The Halifax drill shed cost in the neighborhood of half a million dollars. Toronto's cost more. Ottawa's will be on the scale of Toronto's.

The architects are now working on the plans.

HELPS THE FARMER DOES THE TARIFF

The Duty on Flax Nearly Wiped Out Imports But Multiplied the Exports

A prominent paint manufacturer of Montreal, speaking in Winnipeg in September, 1906, said: "Our flaxseed is shut out of the American market on account of a duty of 25 cents per bushel. Why do not our Canadian farmers ask our Government to place a duty on flax grown in Canada to give them the home market which they are justly entitled to? There is from a million and a half to two million bushels of flaxseed consumed in Canada annually by our Canadian linseed oil crushers, and why should a million bushels or more of foreign seed be used instead of buying 'Grown in Canada' flaxseed, and grown right here in the West, the best that can be produced?.

"I wish to point out to the intelligent farmers of the West that the American farmers find flax more profitable to grow than wheat, and I hope that, when revision of the tariff takes place, there will be a duty placed on flaxseed for the benefit of the farmer and that all flaxseed used in Canada will be 'Grown in Canada.'"

Up to 1907 flaxseed entered Canada free of duty and the figures, imports and exports, for the two years immediately preceding show that we were an importing country:—

Fiscal Year.	Imp'ts, Bush.	Exp'ts, Bush.	(Can.) Value.
1905	176,887	314	$479

*(After deducting exports of foreign).

At the close of 1907 flaxseed was protected by a duty of 10 cents a bushel, and during the following three years, as will be observed from the figures, our imports dwindled down to practically nothing, while our exports jumped from nothing up into the millions:—

Fiscal Year.	Imp'ts, Bush.	Exp'ts, Bush.	(Can.) Value.
*1908	495,154	10,997	$15,098
*1909	288,468	492,779	$855,908
1910	4,344	1,997,648	$2,642,476

*(After deducting exports of foreign).

And yet it is still alleged on behalf of the farmers that a tariff on their products can be of little value to them.

AFTER OUR RESOURCES

President Taft Explains How He Expects to Get Canadian Pulp Wood

That reciprocity will save the natural resources of the United States at the expense of Canada's is set forth by President Taft in an article contributed by him to Leslie's Weekly. He states that as one of the objects of the Agreement and proceeds to discuss the paper and pulp issue as follows: "In order to induce the Canadian provinces, over whom the Dominion can exercise no control, to lift the restrictions upon the exportation of their pulp wood, it is provided in the agreement that when paper is made in Canada from wood grown on land not under export restrictions, the paper may come into the United States free; and it is hoped that the difference of $5.75 between the duty on paper from restricted wood and no duty on paper made from unrestricted wood will induce the provinces to lift their restrictions. It seems to me that this is treating the paper manufacturers of the United States fairly. It is a provision calculated to secure to them a source of supply where they can get their wood at five dollars less a ton than in this country, with the disadvantage of a small competition of paper made in Canada from Canadian wood upon which there is no restriction."

Holding Up the Mirror

Mrs. Ramsay (Manchester) made a singular confession at the annual council meeting of the Women's Federation, at Manchester. "Our meetings are generally composed of people who have the appearance of age and general frumpiness," she said "I am one of them, and so I know."

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

In the midst of her contented life, Mrs. Wheeler never forgot the sister so ruthlessly torn from her, and repeated efforts were made to locate her, if alive, but without success.

"If I could but know that she was happy or even dead, I think I would be satisfied," she told her husband. "But to imagine her the slave of a brutal Indian is unbearable."

In an inner drawer of her secretary, jealously guarded, were a gold locket and chain. Within the locket were two pictures—one of herself and the other of her sister Letitia. It was worn about Mrs. Wheeler's neck when she, with her father, brother and sister, had started on their fated journey, and a duplicate locket was worn by the lost sister. "It is all that remains of my dear ones," she would plaintively say to her sympathetic friends.

CHAPTER XII.

A Remarkable Coincidence.

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 27, 18—
William Wheeler, Esq., Grand Forks, N.D.

My Dear Sir,—Kindly forward to me at your earliest convenience the following board lumber, viz.:

Five carloads Northwestern White Oak.

Five carloads Northwestern Pine.

Three carloads Walnut.

Also ten carloads Red Cedar R. R. Sleepers.

The three former to be in the rough, and A1 lumber suited for interior finish. The latter, regulation length, and of best quality. Will remit check on receipt of invoice and lumber.

Yours truly,
ROBERT GRANT.

For a few moments Mr. Wheeler pondered the order with interest. It was so characteristic of the sender—without a superfluous word—yet all that a strictly business transaction called for. But it meant prompt attention.

"I don't suppose Robert Grant would add another word if his life depended upon it," commented the lumberman, pressing an electric button on the wall at the side of his desk. "One thing is sure, he will never die from overwork in letter writing. He has the art of brevity boiled down to a science. But he is safe, which is more essential. I wonder how he thought to send me this order. It is the first time I have heard from him in five or six years. The Vermont lumber woods must have given out, or he is buying ahead to beat out some competitor. In any event he will win out; I never knew him to experience defeat in a business venture."

At that moment the yard foreman appeared, and Mr. Wheeler handed him the order.

"What has happened to Grant, that he has favored us again?" remarked the workman, looking the order over. "He has been giving us the go-by for five years or more."

"He is either laying in a stock for some special purpose, or has contracts which call for that particular kind of wood. As to the railroad sleepers, he is president of the Central Vermont, and consequently has a monopoly. But you will need to rush the order, as Grant is a stickler for promptness."

"We have but ten cars in the yard at present, and it is hard telling when we can get hold of more, there are so many out that are not due to return for two or three weeks. But I think there are several at Fargo and Bismarck. If you will telephone for them at once, we may be able to fill and get the order off in a couple of weeks."

"I will attend to it at once, Ralston. In the meantime start Duffy with a gang, and load the oak first, following with the pine, which can be shipped as soon as the cars are filled. My son Thomas is at the Red River mill now. I will telegraph him to get the sleepers ready, and he can ship them from there. Have we walnut enough on hand to fill Grant's order?"

"Just about. But we are running shy on that wood, as the demand for the past year has been very heavy."

"That reminds me; I received word from Bismarck to-day to go light on walnut, as it is giving out all around. But we must fill this order at all hazards, and as quickly as possible. Put Duffy and his men on the oak first thing in the morning."

"Duffy has the trapping fever again and I am not sure that I can hold him. He gave his annual notice last Saturday, and expects to start for the woods next Monday. He is like a fish out of water when away from the trails after the season opens."

"I wish that fellow would settle down," answered Mr. Wheeler. "He is one of the best men we have, if he would only give up these periodic tramps. But I realize something of the fascination, for I once followed the same occupation, in the woods of Vermont. If he is determined to go, of course we can't hold him; but you may ask him, as a special favor for me, to postpone his trip until we can get this order of Grant's out of the way."

The foreman had returned to the yard, and Mr. Wheeler was busy with his correspondence, when a clerk entered from the outer office.

"A young gentleman to see you," and he laid a card upon the desk.

"Alexander Grant, Burlington, Vt." half meditated the lumberman, as he inspected the neat pasteboard. "This is quite a coincidence; I have just handed Ralston an order from Robert Grant of the same place—the first we have received in several years. I wonder if the young man was sent out here to hurry the order. But that is hardly possible, the distance is so great."

"I think he is in search of some one, as he asked if John Grant is employed here."

"You may show him in."

As the visitor entered, Mr. Wheeler gave a start, rose from his chair, and advanced with outstretched hand.

"John, how are you? I am glad you have come back. We have missed you greatly."

"I am sorry to disappoint you Mr. Wheeler," replied the young man, taking the proffered hand, "but I fear the identity is no nearer than that of cousin. I am looking for John Grant, son of Robert Grant, of Burlington, Vt. But I have been informed that no such person is or has been employed here."

A look of disappointment came over the lumberman's face. Then, scanning the visitor's countenance, he asked:

"Are you related to Robert Grant?"

"I am his nephew."

"I am very glad to meet you, young man. Your uncle has long been a close friend of mine, and until lately one of my heaviest buyers. Only to-day I received an order from him, which I was pleased to get, for old time's sake, if nothing more."

(To be continued.)

A FRIEND OF LABOR

The Tariff is a Practical Friend of the Working Man

As the result of some investigations conducted by The Monetary Times (Toronto), it is known that at the present time at least 200 United States manufacturing companies are operating branch factories in Canada, representing an aggregate investment of $226,000,000. For this influx of capital, with all the benefits accruing to the Dominion therefrom, we must thank a tariff which made it worth while for those who hoped to sell us goods to come to this side of the line to manufacture. Had that tariff not been a protective one, those United States manufacturers would probably have enlarged their home factories to take care of Canadian business instead of building on this side, in which case we would now be using goods made from United States material with United States labor, instead of goods made from Canadian material with Canadian labor.

That our neighbors look upon this movement as a distinct loss to be remedied by Reciprocity with Canada is shown in the following extract from a speech recently delivered by Senator Beveridge, of Indiana:—

"There must be reciprocity with Canada. Our tariff with the rest of the world does not apply to our northern neighbor. That policy already has driven American manufacturers across the Canadian borders, built vast plants with American capital on Canadian soil, employing Canadian workingmen to supply trade. That capital should be kept at home to employ American workingmen to supply Canadian demand. We should admit Canadian wood pulp and Canadian paper free in return for Canada's admitting our agricultural implements, our engines, pumps, and other machinery free. We should freely admit Canadian lumber to American planing mills in return for Canada's freely admitting other American manufactured products to Canadian markets."

In this connection it is worthy of mention that certain wealthy United States concerns that recently acquired sites in Canada with a view to the immediate erection of extensive shops have suspended operations pending the outcome of the present negotiations, presumably in hopes that our tariff on the goods they manufacture will be so reduced as to make such a move on their part unnecessary.

FARM WAGES

Higher in Canada than in Other Agricultural Countries

The average wages paid on the farms of the following countries over periods as nearly co-incident as possible are as follows:—

Canada	$24.60	a week.
United States	24.00	"
Argentina	15.40	"
Russia	12.88	"
Hungary	12.32	"
Roumania	12.32	"
Bulgaria and Servia	12.32	"
Sweden	19.60	"
Denmark	19.04	"

All these figures are naturally approximate, but for the purposes of nearly accurate as necessary. Wages vary from month to month. In harvest time they are higher than in springtime and in springtime they are much higher than in winter. Moreover, a difference is made where the farmers include board in the contract. But generally speaking the above table indicates the difference between the cost of labor to the Canadian farmer and what it costs his competitors in the other great agricultural countries of the world.

THE POINT OF INTEREST

Gallant Youth:—"Not particularly; but I would like to know if he still has it."

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—There was a fair enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat, but owing to the sharp advance in prices in Winnipeg all the bids were away out of line at the close. The local market for oats continues strong and prices here scored another advance of ½c under a good demand and small offerings. A fair business was done in spring wheat flour for export account, and the country demand was good at fair prices. Demand for bran and shorts is good. Cheese and butter are fairly active and firm. Eggs steady. Provisions in good demand and firm.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 110 cars, consisting of 2053 cattle, 489 hogs, 1018 sheep and lambs, 43 calves and 20 horses.

Exporters.

E. L. Woodward bought 154 export cattle, 1250 lbs. each, at $6.05 average price, or $6 to $6.20 of a range in prices.

Butchers.

Prime cattle of export weights were bought for butchers' purposes at $5.90 to $6.20, which was as high as for exporters. Choice butchers' weights sold at $5.70 to $5.85; loads of medium to good, $5.40 to $5.65; common, $5 to $5.35; cows, $3.50 to $5.25; bulls, $4 to $5.

Milkers and Springers.

A limited supply of milkers and springers sold at $45 to $70 each.

Veal Calves.

Veal calves were in demand at from $3 to $7.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Ewes sold at $3.50 to $4.35 per cwt.; lambs sold at $6.25 to $7.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

The hog market was higher, selects fed and watered selling at $8.10 per cwt.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Aug. 19, were 2550 cattle, 2200 sheep and lambs, 2425 hogs and 400 calves. The offerings on the market this morning were 1000 cattle, 1500 sheep and lambs, 825 hogs and 1200 calves. A feature of the trade was the stronger feeling in the market for cattle and prices since this day week show an advance of 15c to 25c per hundred pounds. The gathering of buyers was large, including some from Quebec, and as the weather now is more favorable for keeping stock the demand was good, notwithstanding the fact that some of the large packing concerns bought the bulk of their supplies in the Toronto market at the latter end of last week at much better prices than they could have purchased here to-day. The trade thruout was fairly active and sales of choice steers were made at $6.15 to $6.25; good at $5.75 to $6; fairly good at $5.25 to $5.50; fair, $4.75 to $5; common, $4.25 to $4.50 per 100 pounds.

The market for live hogs was firm, owing to the small supplies that were offered, for which the demand was good, and an active trade was done with sales of selected lots at $7.85 to $8 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. There was a good demand for small meats, and the market was active with a firm undertone. Sales of lambs were made at 6¼c to 6½c, and sheep at 4½c to 5c per pound. Calves were scarce, and in demand at prices ranging from $3 to $10 each as to size.

FLOUR FROM THE MILL direct to us is naturally cleaner than if it had been subjected to many handlings. Cleanliness, however, is not its only virtue. It makes better, and goes farther than any other flour we know. If you make good bread now, try our flour and make better. You'll save a little, too, because you can make the same sized loaf with less flour.

Pneumonia Serum Found by Savant

The germ of pneumonia is vanquished, according to Dr. Preston Kyes of the University of Chicago, who has published the results of a series of experiment in the Journal of the American Medical association. Chickens were inoculated with germs from a human victim of pneumonia, and serums prepared. The results obtained were surprising. Dr. Kyes tabulated his experiments, showing that mice, poisoned with pneumonia germs and then treated with the serum, showed immediate improvement, and in proportion as the serum was injected with greater frequency, recovered.

Painted Him Red.

Chatham, Ont., Aug. 22.—A well-known young man from Chatham was set upon recently by a number of farmers' sons, while returning from visiting a country girl down the river. His clothes were stripped from him and he was painted from head to foot with red ochre, a paint used for coloring brick. No informations have yet been laid against the men who attacked him, and an effort is being made to hush the affair up.

Explosion Kills Four.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 21.—Four men were killed, four were fatally injured and nine others suffered fractured arms and legs in an explosion on Friday night, which wrecked the moulding building at the Illinois Steel Co.'s plant, and imprisoned 100 men.

The accident occurred when a ladle of several tons of molten metal upset on a wet floor.

HELPS THE FARMER DOES THE TARIFF

The Duty on Flax Nearly Wiped Out Imports But Multiplied the Exports

A prominent paint manufacturer of Montreal, speaking in Winnipeg in September, 1906, said: "Our flaxseed is shut out of the American market on account of a duty of 25 cents per bushel. Why do not our Canadian farmers ask our Government to place a duty on flax grown in Canada to give them the home market which they are justly entitled to? There is from a million and a half to two million bushels of flaxseed consumed in Canada annually by our Canadian linseed oil crushers, and why should a million bushels or more of foreign seed be used instead of buying 'Grown in Canada' flaxseed, and grown right here in the West, the best that can be produced?

"I wish to point out to the intelligent farmers of the West that the American farmers find flax more profitable to grow than wheat, and I hope that, when revision of the tariff takes place, there will be a duty placed on flaxseed for the benefit of the farmer and that all flaxseed used in Canada will be 'Grown in Canada.'"

Up to 1907 flaxseed entered Canada free of duty and the figures, imports and exports, for the two years immediately preceding show that we were an importing country:—

Fiscal Year.	Imp'ts. Bush.	Exp'ts. Bush.	(Can.) Value.
1905	176,887	214	$479
*1906	711,138	2,324	$3,323

*(After deducting exports of foreign).

At the close of 1907 flaxseed was protected by a duty of 10 cents a bushel, and during the following three years, as will be observed from the figures, our imports dwindled down to practically nothing, while our exports jumped from nothing up into the millions:—

Fiscal Year.	Imp'ts. Bush.	Exp'ts. Bush.	(Can.) Value.
*1908	495,154	10,997	$15,093
*1909	288,468	693,779	$856,908
1910	4,344	1,997,663	$2,642,476

*(After deducting exports of foreign).

And yet it is still alleged on behalf of the farmers that a tariff on their products can be of little value to them.

AFTER OUR RESOURCES

President Taft Explains How He Expects to Get Canadian Pulp Wood

That reciprocity will save the natural resources of the United States at the expense of Canada's is set forth by President Taft in an article contributed by him to Leslie's Weekly. He states that as one of the objects of the Agreement and proceeds to discuss the paper and pulp issue as follows: "In order to induce the Canadian provinces, over whom the Dominion can exercise no control, to lift the restrictions upon the exportation of their pulp wood, it is provided in the agreement that when paper is made in Canada from wood grown on land not under export restrictions, the paper may come into the United States free; and it is hoped that the difference of $5.75 between the duty on paper from restricted wood and no duty on paper made from unrestricted wood will induce the provinces to lift their restrictions. It seems to me that this is treating the paper manufacturers of the United States fairly. It is a provision calculated to secure to them a source of supply where they can get their wood at five dollars less a ton than in this country, with the disadvantage of a small competition of paper made in Canada from Canadian wood upon which there is no restriction."

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

In the midst of her contented life, Mrs. Wheeler never forgot the sister so ruthlessly torn from her, and repeated efforts were made to locate her, if alive, but without success.

"If I could but know that she was happy or even dead, I think I would be satisfied," she told her husband. "But to imagine her the slave of a brutal Indian is unbearable."

In an inner drawer of her secretary, jealously guarded, were a gold locket and chain. Within the locket were two pictures—one of herself and the other of her sister Letitia. It was worn about Mrs. Wheeler's neck when she, with her father, brother and sister, had started on their fated journey, and a duplicate locket was worn by the lost sister. "It is all that remains of my dear ones," she would plaintively say to her sympathetic friends.

CHAPTER XII.

A Remarkable Coincidence.

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 27, 18—
William Wheeler, Esq., Grand Forks, N.D.

My Dear Sir,—Kindly forward to me at your earliest convenience the following board lumber, viz.:

Five carloads Northwestern White Oak.

Five carloads Northwestern Pine.

Three carloads Walnut.

Also ten carloads Red Cedar R. R. Sleepers.

The three former to be in the rough, and A1 lumber suited for interior finish. The latter, regulation length, and of best quality. Will remit check on receipt of invoice and lumber.

Yours truly,
ROBERT GRANT.

For a few moments Mr. Wheeler pondered the order with interest. It was so characteristic of the sender—without a superfluous word—yet all that a strictly business transaction called for. But it meant prompt attention.

"I don't suppose Robert Grant would add another word if his life depended upon it," commented the lumberman, pressing an electric button on the wall at the side of his desk. "One thing is sure, he will never die from overwork in letter writing. He has the art of brevity boiled down to a science. But he is safe, which is more essential. I wonder how he thought to send me this order. It is the first time I have heard from him in five or six years. The Vermont lumber woods must have given out, or he is buying ahead to beat out some competitor. In any event he will win out; I never knew him to experience defeat in a business venture."

At that moment the yard foreman appeared, and Mr. Wheeler handed him the order.

"What has happened to Grant, that he has favored us again?" remarked the workman, looking the order over. "He has been giving us the go-by for five years or more."

"He is either laying in a stock for some special purpose, or has contracts which call for that particular kind of wood. As to the railroad sleepers, he is president of the Central Vermont, and consequently has a monopoly. But you will need to rush the order, as Grant is a stickler for promptness."

"We have but ten cars in the yard at present, and it is hard telling when we can get hold of more, there are so many out that are not due to return for two or three weeks. But I think there are several at Fargo and Bismarck. If you will telephone for them at once, we may be able to fill and get the order off in a couple of weeks."

"I will attend to it at once, Ralston. In the meantime start Duffy with a gang, and load the oak first, following with the pine, which can be shipped as soon as the cars are filled. My son Thomas is at the Red River mill now. I will telegraph him to get the sleepers ready, and he can ship them from there. Have we walnut enough on hand to fill Grant's order?"

"Just about. But we are running shy on that wood, as the demand for the past year has been very heavy."

"That reminds me; I received word from Bismarck to-day to go light on walnut, as it is giving out all around. But we must fill this order at all hazards, and as quickly as possible. Put Duffy and his men on the oak first thing in the morning."

"Duffy has the trapping fever again and I am not sure that I can hold him. He gave his annual notice last Saturday, and expects to start for the woods next Monday. He is like a fish out of water when away from the trails after the season opens."

"I wish that fellow would settle down," answered Mr. Wheeler. "He is one of the best men we have, if he would only give up these periodic tramps. But I realize something of the fascination, for I once followed the same occupation, in the woods of Vermont. If he is determined to go, of course we can't hold him; but you may ask him, as a special favor for me, to postpone his trip until we can get this order of Grant's out of the way."

The foreman had returned to the yard, and Mr. Wheeler was busy with his correspondence, when a clerk entered from the outer office.

"A young gentleman to see you," and he laid a card upon the desk.

"Alexander Grant, Burlington, Vt." half meditated the lumberman, as he inspected the neat pasteboard. "This is quite a coincidence; I have just handed Ralston an order from Robert Grant of the same place—the first we have received in several years. I wonder if the young man was sent out here to hurry the order. But that is hardly possible, the distance is so great."

"I think he is in search of some one, as he asked if John Grant is employed here."

"You may show him in."

As the visitor entered, Mr. Wheeler gave a start, rose from his chair, and advanced with outstretched hand.

"John, how are you? I am glad you have come back. We have missed you greatly."

"I am sorry to disappoint you Mr. Wheeler," replied the young man, taking the proffered hand, "but I fear the identity is no nearer than that of cousin. I am looking for John Grant, son of Robert Grant, of Burlington, Vt. But I have been informed that no such person is or has been employed here."

A look of disappointment came over the lumberman's face. Then, scanning the visitor's countenance, he asked:

"Are you related to Robert Grant?"

"I am his nephew."

"I am very glad to meet you, young man. Your uncle has long been a close friend of mine, and until lately one of my heaviest buyers. Only to-day I received an order from him, which I was pleased to get, for old time's sake, if nothing more."

(To be continued.)

A FRIEND OF LABOR

The Tariff is a Practical Friend of the Working Man.

As the result of some investigations conducted by The Monetary Times (Toronto), it is known that at the present time at least 200 United States manufacturing companies are operating branch factories in Canada, representing an aggregate investment of $226,000,000. For this influx of capital, with all the benefits accruing to the Dominion therefrom, we must thank a tariff which made it worth while for those who hoped to sell us goods to come to this side of the line to manufacture. Had that tariff not been a protective one, those United States manufacturers would probably have enlarged their home factories to take care of Canadian business instead of building on this side, in which case we would now be using goods made from United States material with United States labor, instead of goods made from Canadian material with Canadian labor.

That our neighbors look upon this movement as a distinct loss to be remedied by Reciprocity with Canada is shown in the following extract from a speech recently delivered by Senator Beveridge, of Indiana:—

"There must be reciprocity with Canada. Our tariff with the rest of the world does not apply to our northern neighbor. That policy already has driven American manufacturers across the Canadian borders, built vast plants with American capital on Canadian soil, employing Canadian workingmen to supply trade. That capital should be kept at home to employ American workingmen to supply Canadian demand. We should admit Canadian wood pulp and Canadian paper free in return for Canada's admitting our agricultural implements, our engines, pumps, and other machinery free. We should freely admit Canadian lumber to American planing mills in return for Canada's freely admitting other American manufactured products to Canadian markets."

In this connection it is worthy of mention that certain wealthy United States concerns that recently acquired sites in Canada with a view to the immediate erection of extensive shops have suspended operations pending the outcome of the present negotiations, presumably in hopes that our tariff on the goods they manufacture will be so reduced as to make such a move on their part unnecessary.

FARM WAGES

Higher in Canada than in Other Agricultural Countries

The average wages paid on the farms of the following countries over periods as nearly co-incident as possible are as follows:—

Canada	$24.60	a week.
United States	24.00	"
Argentina	15.40	"
Russia	12.88	"
Hungary	12.32	"
Roumania	12.22	"
Bulgaria and Servia	12.22	"
Sweden	12.60	"
Denmark	19.04	"

All these figures are naturally approximate, but for the purposes of nearly accurate as necessary. Wages vary from month to month. In harvest time they are higher than in springtime and in springtime they are much higher than in winter. Moreover, a difference is made where the farmers include board in the contract. But generally speaking the above table indicates the difference between the cost of labor to the Canadian farmer and what it costs his competitors in the other great agricultural countries of the world.

THE POINT OF INTEREST

Fair Girl:—"My father made his fortune when he was a young man. Would you like to know how he did it?"

Gallant Youth:—"Not particularly; but I would like to know if he still has it."

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—There was a fair enquiry from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat, but owing to the sharp advance in prices in Winnipeg all the bids were away out of line at the close. The local market for oats continues strong and prices here scored another advance of ½c under a good demand and small offerings. A fair business was done in spring wheat flour for export account, and the country demand was good at fair prices. Demand for bran and shorts is good. Cheese and butter are fairly active and firm. Eggs steady. Provisions in good demand and firm.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 110 cars, consisting of 2053 cattle, 489 hogs, 1018 sheep and lambs, 43 calves and 29 horses.

Exporters.

E. L. Woodward bought 154 export cattle, 1250 lbs. each, at $6.05 average price, or $6 to $6.20 of a range in prices.

Butchers.

Prime cattle of export weights were bought for butchers' purposes at $5.90 to $6.20, which was as high as for exporters. Choice butchers' weights sold at $5.70 to $5.85; loads of medium to good, $5.40 to $5.65; common, $5 to $5.25; cows, $2.50 to $5.25; bulls, $4 to $5.

Milkers and Springers.

A limited supply of milkers and springers sold at $45 to $70 each.

Veal Calves.

Veal calves were in demand at from $3 to $7.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Ewes sold at $3.50 to $4.25 per cwt.; lambs sold at $6.25 to $7.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

The hog market was higher, selects fed and watered selling at $8.10 per cwt.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 21.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Aug. 19, were 2550 cattle, 2300 sheep and lambs, 2425 hogs and 900 calves. The offerings on the market this morning were 1000 cattle, 1500 sheep and lambs, 825 hogs and 1300 calves. A feature of the trade was the stronger feeling in the market for cattle and prices since this day week show an advance of 25c to 35c per hundred pounds. The gathering of buyers was large, including some from Quebec, and as the weather now is more favorable for keeping stock the demand was good, notwithstanding the fact that some of the large packing concerns bought the bulk of their supplies in the Toronto market at the latter end of last week at much better prices than they could have purchased here to-day. The trade thruout was fairly active and sales of choice steers were made at $6.15 to $6.25; good at $5.75 to $6; fairly good at $5.25 to $5.50; fair, $4.75 to $5; common, $4.25 to $4.50 per 100 pounds.

The market for live hogs was firm, owing to the small supplies that were offered, for which the demand was good, and an active trade was done with sales of selected lots at $7.85 to $8 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. There was a good demand for small meats, and the market was active with a firm undertone. Sales of lambs were made at 6¼c to 6½c, and sheep at 4½c to 5c per pound. Calves were scarce, and in demand at prices ranging from $3 to $10 each as to size.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Aug. 21.—Cattle—Receipts 2275 head; market active and steady; prime steers, $7.15 to $7.25; butcher grades, $5 to $7; cows, $3.50 to $5.25.

Calves—Receipts 1300 head; market active and steady; cull to choice, $5 to $9.25.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts 11,000 head; market fairly active, lambs 25c lower; sheep steady; choice lambs, $6.40 to $6.50; cull to fair, $5.50 to $6; yearlings, $4.50 to $5; sheep, $2 to $4.

Hogs—Receipts 10,200; market active, 10c to 15c higher; Yorkers, $8.20 to $8.30; stags, $5.50 to $6; pigs, $8; mixed, $8.25 to $8.30; heavy, $8.15 to $8.25; roughs, $6.75 to $7.10.

Pneumonia Serum Found by Savant

The germ of pneumonia is vanquished, according to Dr. Preston Kyes of the University of Chicago, who has published the results of a series of experiment in the Journal of the American Medical association. Chickens were inoculated with germs from a human victim of pneumonia, and serums prepared. The results obtained were surprising. Dr. Kyes tabulated his experiments, showing that mice, poisoned with pneumonia germs and then treated with the serum, showed immediate improvement, and in proportion as the serum was injected with greater frequency, recovered.

Painted Him Red.

Chatham, Ont., Aug. 22.—A well-known young man from Chatham was set upon recently by a number of farmers' sons while returning from visiting a country girl down the river. His clothes were stripped from him and he was painted from head to foot with red ochre, a paint used for coloring brick. No informations have yet been laid against the men who attacked him, and an effort is being made to hush the affair up.

Explosion Kills Four.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 21.—Four men were killed, four were fatally injured and nine others suffered fractured arms and legs in an explosion on Friday night, which wrecked the moulding building at the Illinois Steel Co.'s plant, and imprisoned 100 men.

The accident occurred when a ladle of several tons of molten metal upset on a wet floor.

Prince Edward--Dr. Currie's Candidature

The election campaign in the County of Prince Edward was commenced by a public meeting held at Roblin's Mills on the 17th inst., at which speeches were made by Dr. Currie, ex-M.P., and others.

The report of the speeches there made is so meagre that it is not possible to form fully an opinion of the value and merits of the arguments, if there were any, advanced in favor of the reciprocity pact. There are, however, one or two utterances by the speakers which justify a passing notice. For instance, the report says "Dr. Currie dealt with the favored nations treaties," in what way the general reader is not informed. It was stated that at a former meeting held by Mr. Currie he denied any such concession, under the treaty, were given to foreign powers. If this be true, he was just as wise upon this point as were some of the Cabinet upon provisions contained in other treaties. When the effect of the French treaty upon foreign countries trading with Canada was called to the attention of the Senate, the Hon. R. Scott denied that there were any such provisions in the treaty. Nor could the truth be extracted from Mr. Fielding as to the effect of his treaty upon favored nations except by a process of vigilent cross-examination. Is it any wonder, then, that Mr. Currie should know nothing about it?

Mr. Currie, however, did attempt, in his speech, to fasten upon Mr. W. B. Northrup the advocacy of reciprocity by quoting a portion of a speech made by that gentleman in the House of Commons. If his other reasoning upon any subject were as pointless and meaningless as this one, the audience being, we must presume, an intelligent one, must have grinned at the man's simplicity, or felt indignant at his presuming upon their ignorance and want of knowledge of the meaning of the English language. Yet this quotation from Mr. Northrup's speech was printed in the Grit report in large capital letters, to bring out prominently proof of his favoring the Fielding-Patterson treaty between the United States and Canada. For the information of our readers we reproduce the extract. It is as follows:

"Perhaps I am not altogether in accord with some of my friends on my own side with regard to these reciprocity negotiations, but I quite agree with the hon. gentleman (Mr. McGivern) who moved the address in reply to the speech, that if the Americans wish to make propositions it would be the height of folly on our part not to consider any proposition they would make. I think it would be discourteous. I think the Government would deserve to be reprimanded by the people of Canada if propositions having been made by the U. S. for improved trade relations, the Canadian Government should decline to entertain them."

Dr. Currie is a professional gentleman and presumably an educated one, or he could not have secured his diploma to enable him to practice. Will any one who reads the above, having any knowledge of the English language, have the effrontery to affirm that there is one word in Mr. Northrup's language to justify the statement that he gave an opinion in favor of the "pact?" Mr. Northrup did declare that it would be "discourteous" to the United States, on the part of the Canadian Government, not to listen to or consider any proposition made to it by the United States, but did that imply an approval of the proposition made or any proposition that might be made? No one but a dolt would say it did. It might just as well be said that if a man courteously listened and considered a proposition from one man to another to sell a horse, that he agreed to buy it at the price asked for the animal by the seller. We suggest that the Dr. take that extract from Mr. Northrup's speech into his dissecting room and engage the services of the High School teacher of Picton to assist him in dissecting it, in order to ascertain in what way the language can be construed into an approval of the pact. The result would be exceedingly interesting, and worthy of a new edition of the English grammar.

The Dr. became facetious when he informed the audience that "he had been told by Conservatives that he was the representative of the old Conservative doctrine; therefore, he was becoming doubtful whether or not he represented any party." If he has any doubt upon this point we can suggest to him a way in which he can ease his mind. Let him refer to the votes and proceedings of the House of Commons, and he will find Dr. Currie's vote in favor of the Government, even to the quashing of any and every motion that was proposed to inquire into the charges of grafting, stealing and speculation. No, No! Dr., there is no question as to where you stand, not politically perhaps, but as a party man, ready to smother up any crime which, if exposed, would in any way effect your leaders or any of their hangers-on. Furnish the electors of Prince Edward with a record of your votes and they can judge for themselves as to which party you belong. The present election, you know, was sprung upon the people for the purpose of preventing the truth of the charge against Mr. Oliver being brought to light, which, with all the others, are attempted to be buried in the cry of reciprocity.

Dr. Currie ventued into the realm of agricultural statistics, and informed his audience that since 1896 agricultural production in the United States had decreased year by year." Is this statement true? United States statistical returns show that in 1910 that country exported, of its surplus of wheat, between 90,000,000 and 100,000,000 bushels, being between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 bushels more than was exported in the year previous. Notwithstanding 77 per cent. of its consuming population, which the Dr. says have left the farms and gone into the industrial portions of the United States. The Dr. warned his hearers against placing too much credence in figures presented to them. Let us add, particularly when laid before them by a novice like Dr. Currie.

One more point and we are done with the Dr. at present. He referred to a speech delivered by Mr. Borden in London, in which Mr. Borden denounced the pact as "an iniquitous arrangement" upon which statement this astute Prince Edward political shining light comments. He says:

"The outlines of this treaty were announced in the Speech from the Throne last November. Mr. Borden had considered the proposals in his speech delivered at that time. He had not spoken one word in condemnation."

Quite true, Dr., the treaty was "announced in the Speech from the Throne last November," but no one except the Ministers who negotiated the treaty knew what its contents were. How, then, could Mr. Borden condemn or approve its provisions? Is the Dr. so bound up in party that he approves any and all propositions laid before Parliament without knowing what they contain? Such, we incline to think, are his politics. All the Government has to do to secure the approval and support of such members as he of Prince Edward is to announce an intention to propose a measure, and they swallow it without a thought as to how it will affect the country. If that is the kind of representative Prince Edward wants, they will secure him by electing Dr. Currie.

There are a statement or two reported to have been indulged in by our genial friend, David Sinclair, of this city, who oratorically shined at the meeting, which may deserve a notice when convenient. In the meantime let us express our full concurrence in his statement that when farmers flourish all benefit. This idea, no doubt, he gleaned from The Intelligencer, when it pointed out that flour at $5 a bbl. with $5 to pay for it was better for all consumers than flour at $3 a barrel and no $3 in one's pocket to pay for it.

David, read more and study more, and there will be hopes for you yet.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

ST. JOHN'S, N. B., Aug. 20.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle today addressed large audiences of Bible students. Many students of his books and of his widely published sermons came from neighboring cities to hear him. He spoke twice. We report one of his addresses from God's words to Adam, after he had sinned and sought to hide herself from his Maker—"Where art thou?" (Genesis iii, 9).

The speaker declared that fear is one of the greatest maladies to which humanity is subject and he quoted the apostle's words, "Fear hath torment." Although people differ greatly in their mental makeup, the pastor believed that fear is common to all mankind in some form or other. The only exceptions he admitted are the saints of God, who have turned from sin and given their all to the Lord as followers of Jesus. These gradually come to understand their Maker and to have confidence in His loving provisions for them all in all their affairs. As love comes into their hearts fear departs. Thus again the Scriptures declare, "Perfect love casteth out fear."

Although no human being is perfect, for all have sinned and come short of the glorious standard, none are totally depraved. An element of the divine character still remains in all. All have some realization of right and wrong, and some appreciation of responsibility to do right right and avoid wrong. Whenever sin is committed, with it naturally and properly goes some appreciation of divine displeasure, of unworthiness of divine love and favor. In such hearts there is necessity of a restlessness, because humanity is so constituted as to crave the supervision and love of an all-wise and all-powerful Creator.

The Scriptures clearly inform us that although mother Eve was deceived by the serpent, father Adam was not. The serpent represented to mother Eve that God was striving to keep His creatures in ignorance and recommended disobedience as the road to knowlege and happiness. Mother Eve unacquainted with her Creator, was deceived into disobedience to His command.

Father Adam, not deceived understood perfectly that the wrong course would not bring happiness, but the death penalty. His deliberately wilful sin was evidently prompted by love for his wife. He put his wife in the place of his Creator and sacrificed his life that he might share the death penalty with Eve.

The guilty pair realized their unworthiness of further divine favor—their unworthiness to the holy fellowship of their Creator they previously enjoyed. They hid from God. So said Pastor Russell, it is with all sinners. They endeavor to hid from God—to forget him This includes a repugnance for His Word which somehow they feel can obtain or contains no message of mercy to them.

Adam was not a murderer and even if his crime might be called theft it was small—only an apple. Had he been imperfect, as are His children today, His penalty might seem unjust. We are to remember, however, that he was perfect and the real crime was disobedience. God's voice calling to the sinner should be harkened to, for although He speaks in tones of justice, He tells also of "Love divine all love excelling." It assures us that the Creator has not forgotten us nor entirely cast us off for the commission of our sins.

Such of our race as are in the right condition of heart hearken to the voice of God and retrace their steps, seeking to return to divine favor under the call of this gospel age—to become joint-heirs with Jesus Christ, their Lord and Redeemer, as members of His bride. By these the great disaster of sin and its death penalty may be overlooked, as a special blessing which will permit them to attain, through faithful following in the footsteps of Jesus, the glory, honor and immorality promised the "elect."

But a very large class fail entirely to hear God's voice. Many of them have gotten into heathenish darkness and doubt. Others hear very imperfectly and think the Lord is merely breathing out threatenings against them. None of these can be blessed at the present time. But the Bible informs us that God is not content to let any sinner go without hearing His voice of mercy. Hence he has provided that those who, for any reason, cannot hear his blessed voice and be blessed by the high calling of this age, must hear ultimately.

Accordingly, the Bible tells us of the glorious arrangement by God through which so great blessings are about to come to the whole world. The blessing that is for the world is the restitution of human perfection and to an earthly Eden everlasting will be offered to the obedient, and wilful rejectors will be utterly destroyed (Acts iii, 19-23).

Surely neither Jew nor Gentile can object to the divine arrangement by which so great blessings are about to come to the whole world. The blessing that is for the world is restitution to human perfection—to all that was lost in Adam the restitution, blessings of Messiah's reign will embrace not only humanity, but also all of their interests, including the earth which will become Paradise restored.

How ashamed will all men be when the "time of restitution," mentioned by St. Peter Acts iii, 19-23) shall be ushered in! How astounded all will be at the goodness of God and His faithfulness in respect to all His promises! How the eyes of all humanity will look back to the days of Jesus in the flesh, when he appeared amongst men to lay a foundation for his glorious message, His Messianic Kingdom by offering Himself in sacrifice for the sins of all the people that thereby He might purge from sin all who ever will come to the Father through Him and will thus have the right to restore the willing and obedient to full perfection and to destroy the rebellious in the second death!

Ah, then all will know Him as having been sent of God. They will know Him as the now highly-exalted One, far above men and angels, rewarded with the very highest reward which Jehovah could give to His Beloved Son, in whom He was well pleased and by whose stripes all shall be healed.

Pastor Russell closed with an appeal to those who now have the hearing ear, that they receive not the grace of God in vain to become joint-heirs with Jesus in the Messianic Kingdom, the blessings of which are to be world wide.

ACCURATE BUT IRRITATING

The English Language Spoken by D'Orsay Not Understood By The Bartenders.

Lawrence D'Orsay, the English actor, who has an accent as English as they make 'em, does not like American bartenders in general, and for the bartenders in St. Louis he entertains a particular aversion.

"I went into a bar in St. Louis, deah boy," he said on one occasion, "and I ordered a bottle of beer. The bartendah, don't you know, did not hand me the beer. He dashed it down on the bar and slid it along for about ten or twelve feet, don't you know It stopped right in front of me. I looked at him with a stony stare, as was quite propah but he paid no attention to me.

"Then I gave him a quartah. He threw on the bar a coin, which rolled on the floor. Again I stared at him, as if to insult him, but he paid no attention to me whatevah — none whatevah. So I called a small black boy, and I said to him:

"'You will find a coin on the floor, and you can have it for your trouble.'

"Then I said to the bartendah:

"'If you will come from behind that bar, I will kick into your some knowledge of what is polite and propah on the part of a bartendah.'

"But he would not come from behind the bar. Then I gave him the numbah of my room, and told him I would be glad to see him there at any time and give him the kick which he deserved. But he never came to the room.

"So, you see, deah boy, your American bartendahs are impolite, and they won't be kicked. What is a gentleman to do?"

The Charm of Woman

Presumably the advance of woman's rights" is playing the devil with the stereotyped form of compliment addressed to feminine graces. One learns that girls are commencing to jib at hearing pretty things about their hair and their eyes. "When a man tells you you are as beautiful as the morning, when you are only nice looking with a sunburnt neck, either he believes it and then he's a fool, or he doesn't believe it, and then he's a liar." Dear, dear — what a charming prospect opens up before the young man doomed to carry on his lovemaking upon George Washington principles! The tip-tilted nose of poetry will become a snub, and the cream and white complexion a mere messy compound of rouge and whiting. It is quite in accordance with the tenets of strict veracity to tell a girl she is "as beautiful as the morning." The only danger lies in under-stating the case. A sharp girl acquaintance of mine twigged this very readily. "As beautiful as the morning, am I?" asked she. "Yes, but what sort of a morning?"

Laurier and a leap in the dark.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM SASKATCHEWAN

Opponets to Reciprocity are Gaining Strength in the West

(Special Correspondent to The Toronto News and The Intelligencer.)

Regina, Sask., Aug. 12.—The forces opposed to reciprocity in Saskatchewan are gaining strength and will continue to do so during the next month. When the vote is taken on September 21, the returns will show, from present indications, gains for the Conservative party instead of losses. This city, Government-ridden and all as it is, is the commanding centre of the anti-reciprocity forces, and the nucleus of one of the strongest wing of Conservatism is esconced here. So active and earnest has been the work of its leaders that the Conservatives of Saskatchewan have the unique distinction of being organized and ready for the fray before any other Province in the Dominion. Strong men have responded quickly to the call for fighters against reciprocity with the United States, and the result is that before the middle of next week, ten standard bearers will be in the field ahead of their Liberal opponents. Eight candidates are now at work, and on Monday and Tuesday, Prince Albert and North Battleford will choose the remaining two Conservative candidates to contest their respective ridings. Never before, in spite of the general impression to the contrary in many eastern quarters, was the Conservative party in as good fighting condition as it is at the present time, nor was there ever such a prospect of its gaining ground as in the coming election.

Mr. F. W. G. Haultain, leader of the Conservative party in the Legislative Assembly, despite any reports made hitherto, will go into the field to support Mr. Borden. He has promised this to Dr. Cowan, the Conservative candidate for Regina, and about August 25, Mr. Haultain will appear in Qu-Appelle district to speak for Mr. R. S. Lake, M.P. The cause against reciprocity is not dead in the central and northern parts of the Province, and the enthusiastic Conservative conventions of the past week throughout Saskatchewan have given indisputable evidence of a spirit and animosity which will be a very formidable factor in this campaign. If there are English radicals in the West, there are also Englisch Imperialists of the Joe Wylie type, whose influence just now will over weigh that of their less stable fellow countrymen. The foreigner, too, such as the Ruthenian and other classes from Central Europe, is more kindly disposed towards the National Policy in Canada than he is towards the popular arguments that are being advanced out here in favor of free trade with the United States. The poor immigrant from Europe has come in large numbers to the Canadian West during the past ten years, he has found a home and an estate in this country as compared with the condition of serfdom which he left behind him. The foreign element in the West has tasted of prosperity under purely Canadian auspices, and at heart these citizens, wherever they understand the trade issue, are enemies of the proposed agreement with the United States. This was the feeling as I found it, through casual conversation with numbers of settlers from different parts of the west, who were in attendance at the Dominion Exposition during the last two days.

Regina, it may be observed, just here, to-day saw the close of its first large industrial exhibition. The fact that it has been a great success, has turned many a western mind toward a phase of national development that was never seriously considered before. This exhibition has made this city a place of greater importance to the farmer of the surrounding district because the farmer up till now has never had the same chance of seeing just what the city can produce. To the citizens of Regina this big fair has been a stimulus to further extension along industrial lines; he, more thoroughly than the farmer, sees now that the future of this vast prairie country lies in the building up of cities and towns, not in the exploitation of wheat lands alone.

The fight against reciprocity in the Province of Saskatchewan is being waged by young men. The candidates in most cases are young men, who have had their training in the older provinces and who have entered the arena against free trade with the United States, because they believe that with such a policy in vogue, it will not belong before the West would lose her Canadian identity. Americanization, implies the process of national transformation, which is in the mind of many a Westerner, when he thinks of reciprocity. Three young Nova Scotians in particular have entered the contest, under the leadership of Mr. Borden, with no other impulse than patriotism. They are Mr. Harvey Herne for Humboldt; Mr. J. C. Livingston for MacKenzie, and Mr. Donald MacLean for Saskatoon, all originally from Sydney, Cape Breton. The other Conservative candidates in Saskatchewan are C. C. Smith, of Carnduff, for Estevan district; Dr. Cowan for Regina; S. K. Rothwell for Moosejaw; James Nixon for Salt Coats, and R. S. Lake for Qu'Appelle. Mr. James McKay for Prince Albert and Mr. Howell for North Battleford have still to be nominated. With these men fighting solidly, shoulder to shoulder, all recognized as strong citizens and leaders in their respective constituencies, Saskatchewan has never presented

Fools the Calendar.

Don't look older than you are. It is just as easy to look younger. While lack of hair or poor hair is not always an indication of age, it is frequently accepted as such.

A person well advanced in years possessing a good head of hair is always spoken of as "well preserved."

Everyone can retain beautiful, luxuriant hair if they make the effort. In almost every instance poor hair or the loss of hair may be traced to the activity of the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide kills this germ and puts the scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. With the destruction of the dandruff germ the hair no longer drops out. The itching of the scalp stops almost at once.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy for which there are many substitutes, preparations claimed to be "just as good." You don't have to accept a substitute. Insist upon having genuine Herpicide.

For sale by all druggists. Applications obtained at good barber shops. One dollar size bottles are always guaranteed. Send 10c. in postage to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for sample and book. J. S. McKeown, special agent.

That Clever German!

A German gentleman wanted to take a day's drive through the country. He applied to a stable for the horse and carriage. The owner, not knowing the German, was slow to give him the team. Finally the German pulled out a roll of banknotes and said: "I will buy your horse and rig, providing you will buy them back at the same price when I return this evening." The dealer, not wishing to offend a probable future customer, consented. When in the evening the German presented himself and expressed his pleasure at the ride, the dealer, according to agreement, paid him back his money, and the customer started to take his leave.

"I beg your pardon, sir!" exclaimed the dealer: "but you have forgotten to pay for the hire, you know."

"Pay for the hire? Why, my dear sir," coolly replied the German, "I fail to see that. If you will exercise your memory a trifle you will agree that I have been driving my own horse and carriage all day, and now you have bought them back they are yours. Good-day, sir!"

And he left the astonished dealer to reflect.

Waiting For It.

Having a pressing engagement with a good client, an oil merchant was obliged to leave his office in sole charge of a charwoman.

"Now, my good woman," he said, indicating the telephone, "when you hear the bell ring attached to that little box, just go to the tube and shout, "Halloa! Who are you?' and wait for a reply."

The merchant had been gone about half an hour when the telephone-bell rang furiously. The woman rushed to the tube, shouted out the necessary query, and put the receiver to her ear.

"I'm Dobson, from Dublin," came the answer. "Got a lot of oil for you, and wish to send it on at once. Be ready to receive it."

Presently the merchant returned, and to his amazement, saw the charwoman holding an empty bucket under the telephone-tube.

"What on earth are you doing with that pail?" he asked.

"Well, sir," she replied, "as soon as you was gone a man shouted through the tube that he was sending a large supply of oil, and asked someone to receive it, so I'm a-holdin' this bucket, a-waitin' for it to run through'."

THE FLEA.

How to Knock the Gizzards Out of Him.

Fleas are wingless flies, and they are supposed to have lost their wings through long disuse, living as they do among the hair, wool or clothing of other animals. As in all other flies, the mouth is formed for sucking, and has no teeth. How does a flea bite? The feet are furnished with long double claws, sharper than needles, and mounted in such a way as to be just right for digging. When his fleaship desires a feast he selects a spot on the bare skin, sits down on his haunches like a dog digging for a rat, and deliberately burrows a hole into his victim. Having penetrated to the vein, he drops his proboscis into the cavity and sucks up the precious blood, much after the fashion of an elephant drinking from a trough.

While digging, the claws are manipulated so rapidly as to feel to the victim like one continuous push of a tooth.

Besides losing their wings their bodies have become flattened transversely from living in close quarters, and they have become possessed of exceedingly stiff bristles or hairs, all pointing backward, so that in struggling every movement pushes them forward. That is why it is so difficult to catch them even when there is no room for them to jump. "When you put your finger on him, he isn't there."

When a house become infested with fleas the family dog or cat should be washed every other day with carbolic soap to kill the adult fleas, and if the animals are allowed to run about the house, they will in a few days attract all the fleas to themselves, where they can be destroyed as above indicated. If dogs or cats are not available as traps, gasoline should be applied after a thorough cleaning of the invested quarters. Pour the gasoline into cracks in the floor and along the baseboards, etc., taking care not to pour it near a fire. Gasoline will kill both larvae and adults as soon as it touches them.

Russian Up-to-date.

A special despatch from St. Petersburg gives the following account of the meeting between the Czar and the newly-appointed Ambassador to the Court of Russia: —

The Ambassador (with a courtly bow): "Howdidoski?"

H. I. M. the Czar (most graciously extending his hand): "Fineski. And youski?"

The Ambassador (seizing the hand warmly): "Greatski!"

H. I. M. the Czar (waving his hand towards the Imperial sideboard): "Havanipski?"

The Ambassador (a pleased smile wreathing his face): "Don'tcareifidoski."

H. I. M. the Czar (inspecting the supply): "What'llitbeski?"

The Ambassador (contentedly): "Sameoldthingski."

H. I. M. the Czar (inquiringly): "What'sthatski? Danvilliski?"

The Ambassador (shaking his head): "Nitski. Scotchwhiski."

When Is a Man Old.

Very amusing replies have been elicited as the result of a competition promoted by a Madrid newspaper on the subject, "Until what age can a man be called young?"

The readers of the journal were the judges, and 28,256 votes were given to the competitor who sent in this reply, which won the prize: —

"A man is young so long as he can make women jealous."

Another competitor thought that a man was old when he could no longer stoop down and tie a beautiful woman contended that all men were young until they thought of marriage.

"The man is old," wrote another competitor, "when a young woman kisses him with cold lips"; and it was the opinion of a newly-married man that a man began to age a week after marriage.

THE CANADIAN MINT.

One of the Most Interesting Institutions in the Dominion.

The place where money is made or what is perhaps more accurate where it is created has always appealed as most seemingly mysterious things do to the general reader. In Canada the Mint is located in Ottawa Here are made our gold and silver coins — the real money of the country. The paper medium of exchange is in the hands of the engraving firms and one does not see any trace of it in the Sussex Street establishment.

The Mint is open to visitors after certain formalities have been complied with. The essence of these, with every thing connected with the institution is punctuality.

MISERABLE WITH STOMACH TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" BRINGS THE HAPPINESS OF HEALTH

"Fruit-a-tives" cures Stomach Troubles because it cures the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin.

Indigestion etc. is not usually the fault of the stomach itself. The bowels are irregular—the kidneys are weak or strained—the skin is inactive—and consequently the blood is impure. It is the impure blood that really makes bad digestion.

"Fruit-a-tives" purifies the blood by making all the vital organs active and healthy—which in turn relieves the stomach. Take "Fruit-a-tives" if you want to get rid of all Stomach Troubles and faults of Digestion.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Pants and Propriety

The group of statuary before Pennsylvania's $13,000,000 palace of graft at Harrisburg, after having been "draped" to suit the Pennsylvania purists, has been again unveiled. Stone "pants" have been bolted to the statues whose nakedness particularly offended the good folks of the Keystone state. Now they call it the "Pantsylvania group."

The episode has nearly broken the heart of the sculptor, Barnard, and has brought chagrin and shame to all who are seriously interested in the advancement of American art, but the average person can afford to take it for its fun value.

The Best Position.

Prior to the commencement of a boys' cricket match there were several candidates on the fielding side for the position of long-field.

"Harris had it last week and the week before," complained two or three of the boys to their captain. "It's about time someone else had a turn."

The discussion seemed likely to end in a free fight when the local curate came on the scene and endeavoured to pour oil on the troubled waters.

"You surprise me, boys," he said. "Harris has done especially well in that position, hasn't he?"

"He has so," agreed the malcontents. "If he's had to climb Biggins's wall after the ball once, he's had to a dozen times."

"Well?" queried the revernd gentleman.

"That's why we want a chance," snapped a podgy youngster; "Old Biggins's gooseberries are ripe and his bulldog's dead!"

A Summer Night Hint

When the summer days are blistering hot, and comfort in sleep is discovered not, don't sit up and blame the weatherman; but follow this cool sprinkling plan:

When getting ready for bed, annex a basin of water and one whisk broom. Carefully sprinkle the top sheet, just as you would do it for ironing, then get right into the bed between the sheets. In this way you will get delightfully cool, and should be able to get to sleep in a few minutes.

Commend me to men for the foibles supposed to belong exclusively to our sex! Wherever you have two or three gathered together there is vanity, curiosity and uncharitableness in the midst of them.

ASTHMA CURED

Mrs. Farndel, of Clementsport, N.S., suffered all her life from asthma, but was permanently cured by Catarrhozone after all other means failed.

Mrs. Ferndel's recovery afford overwhelming proof of what Catarrhozone will do. Nothing except Catarrhozone was of the slightest benefit, but when given a fair trial it cured.

Now perhaps you need something for your cold, or bronchitis or Asthma? Why not try Catarrhozone? Thousands have been cured by inhaling it a few minutes now and again, and certainly it wouldn't do you any harm to profit by their experience.

Mrs. Farndel gives the following statement of her case for the benefit of others who are suffering from asthma, and hopes that many will follow her example and use Catarrhozone.

"I am now in my eigthieth year, and cannot recall the time when I was free from the Asthma. I had always a choking cough, feverishness, spasms, difficulty in breathing, headache and nausea. My druggist advised Catarrhozone one day, and I bought a large outfit. It gave relief in five minutes and helped me very much in one day.

"I inhaled Catarrhozone ten minutes every hour, and by the time two bottles were used I was completely cured. I am as free now from Asthma as if I never had it. My perfect recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. I prize my Catarrhozone Inhaler next to life itself.

(Signed) MRS. T. FARNDEL."

This is a proof positive that Catarrhozone is a sure and speedy cure for the worst kind of Asthma. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results, and your money will be refunded if it fails. All you need is a trial of this grand preparation to be quite satisfied and convinced that it is the best. Your druggist recommends and sells it. Price $1.00, small size 50 cents.

The Brains of John Bull's Junior Partner

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

There are all sorts of funny readings abroad about the firm of John Bull Unlimited, and especially about the Old Fellow himself. He seldom takes a good look at himself, and until lately he hasn't cared a gramme what other people thought of him.

John Bull has regarded himself as a good-natured soul who is taking care of a few bits of land scattered around the globe in the interests of civilization generally—a sort of political philanthropist. The other fellows in the international field don't regard him in that light. They think he is a grasping old codger who, instead of being satisfied with control of nearly all the strategic strongholds of land and sea power, puts up an awful howl as soon as anybody else looks around for a second-rate coaling station, or a bit of rock from which his traders may saunter into a hitherto undiscovered market.

What these people are most puzzled about is the way this old John Bull keeps the affections of his children, who have become his partners. "Why," they say, "he used to declare that they would soon leave him, and here they are closer than ever to the Old Gentleman with the side whiskers and the peculiar pants."

Just so. The way the British Empire keeps together is a regular Chinese puzzle to all sorts of clever statesmen. They can't make it out at Washington. Sometimes we can't quite make it out ourselves—this loose, strong, splendid partnership that girdles the world and has none of the ordinary forces of imperial compulsion about it. The Dominion is one of the junior partners.

"Junior Partner" hasn't a very cock-a-whoop sound. It is a bigger name than it looks. Mr. Sifton, in a memorable speech against Reciprocity in the House of Commons put the fact more picturesquely: "The Rising Hope of the British Empire." You know firms with the junior partners become the Pillars of Reliance. The John Bull Unlimited is one of them.

Canada is a miracle within the Empire, as the Empire is a miracle among the nations of the earth. The impossible has been achieved. They used to say that you could not allow an overseas Dominion of the Crown to have responsible government in exactly the same way as the United Kingdom. They said that a Colonial Governor should not be compelled to accept the advice of his Ministers when they had a majority of the popular House. But these things are done and the Imperial bond is closer and warmer than it has ever been.

All this means that the obligation upon Canadian statesmanship is more subtle and tremendous than it has ever been. We have established a Department of External Affairs to handle our peculiar three-cornered relationships, but this Department is not specially charged with the duty of keeping our internal population well informed about the niceties of our external relations.

You cannot expect a farmer in the Saskatchewan valley to be well informed about the possibilities of trouble that may lie within our connection with India, Australia and South Africa. He is the great statesman who, knowing all the intricacies of statecraft, which he cannot publish, can guide the great body of public opinion aright on the big, underlying principles which dominate national action.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship—I mean statesmanship; not the erection of a post-office here, of a bridge there, and the handing out of a job somewhere else—must be directed to making clear the two-fold, fundamental basis of our national progress—the development of Canadian commerce in Canadian channels, and the extending of the right idea of Canadian national prestige, in its relation to international and inter-Imperial affairs.

Here is something to cling to—that the English-speaking peoples are the great potentiality in the modern world. They are broadly divided into the Empire and the Republic. In the re-adjustment of influence that is taking place within the Empire Canada is rapidly advancing towards the first place.

Canada has the advantage of being alongside of the United States. From being neglected by Downing Street and regarded by the United States as a very poor relation to be acknowledged by a cup of cold water and a few kind words, she is regarded with almost jealous anxiety by the United Kingdom and the United States. The remarkable spectacle has been seen of the President of the United States going up and down his country beseeching the people to make a deal with Canada which would secure commercial union with and give to the United States control of the wheat trade between Canada and Europe.

The position of Canada between the United States and Great Britain is the position of the boy in the middle of the see-saw who sends the parties at the end of the plank up and down as he wills.

Canada was growing along splendidly from this point of view. The only transcontinental railway of America was ours as a means of expanding our trade in our own way. The Government undertook a second transcontinental, and is heavily aiding a third.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship were required for the fulfilment of the national policies, which were undertaken with so much care and foresight. We needed time to consolidate our forces and to bring into national sentiment the aliens to our genius. Instead we are invited to reverse our method for one which the shrewd, experienced leaders of the Republic are sure will deflect the lifeblood of commerce into their arteries, and make our future commercially subsidiary to theirs.

They have warned us. It is time we warned ourselves.

TRYING TO BREAK A RECORD.

Will Use Aeroplanes, Racing Automobiles, Private Racing Yachts, Special Trains and the Fastest Boats.

In an endeavor to lower the world's record for a round-the-world trip Andre Jager Schmit, son of the vice-president of the French Conseil l'Etat, will leave Paris shortly.

Schmit will use aeroplanes, racing automobiles, private racing yachts, special trains, transcontinental expresses and the fastest liners of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The present record is held by an American newspaper man who made the trip in something like 40 days. Schmit expects to do it in 38 days or less.

The Frenchman will journey via Moscow, Vladivostok, Tsuruga, Yokohama, San Francisco (or Vancouver), Chicago, New York, Queenstown (or Liverpool), London to Paris by aeroplane. Where regular fast trains are not to be had special trains or racing autos will be used. In case he touches at Queenstown, Ireland, a racing yacht will take him off the boat and on to Cherbourg, France.

CANADA'S NAVY

How to Tell a Naval Officer's Rank.

Two stripes indicate a lieutenant, an engineer-lieutenant, a surgon, or a paymaster — always having regard to the gold circle on the uppermost stripe for the lieutenant, or the purple, red, or white cloth between the stripes, and no circle, for the other branches. Three stripes, of which the middle one is only half the thickness of the other two, indicate a senior lieutenant or senior engineer, a staff-surgon, or a staff-paymaster; while three stripes all of the same thickness denote a commander, a fleet-surgeon, or a fleet-paymaster.

A captain has four stripes. Officers of admiral's rank have always one broad gold stripe nearest the cuff, and from one to four thinner gold stripes above it. Thus, a rear-admiral has the broad stripe and one stripe above it; a vice-admiral has two above, an admiral has three, while an admiral of the fleet — of whom there are only five on the active list, one of whom is King George—has four. An admiral always wears aiguillettes, as do the officers on his staff, such as his flag-lieutenant or his secretary.

Midshipmen have no stripes, as they are not commissioned officers; but they have a small square of white cloth on the front of the collars of their coats.

Jonah on the Run.

A few months ago a Methodist preacher delivered a discourse on "Jonah" at La Center, Ky., in which he is reported to have said: "When Jonah left that fish he hit the ground a-runnin' and started full tilt for Nineveh. One of the sisters looked out of her window and saw a cloud of dust down the road, and after looking intently, said to her husband: 'I believe in my soul, yonder comes Brother Jonah.' She went to the door and hollered, 'Good mornin'.'

"'Good mornin',' answered Jonah, without turning his head.

"'Where you goin' so fast, Brother Jonah?'

"'Goin' to Nineveh,' he replied.

"'Well, stop and take dinner with us.'

"'Ain't got time. Three days late now.'

"'Oh, come in and get your dinner, Brother Jonah. We've got fish for dinner.'

"'Don't talk to me about fish,' said Brother Jonah.

"'Well, come in and have a drink of water.'

"'Don't talk to me about water' — and on he went a-clipping toward Nineveh."

Are You Bashful?

Bashful people invariably sit with their toes turned in. Why this should be it is undoubtedly difficult to explain, but there is no doubt about the fact. If the bashfulness runs to great embarrassment, one foot, with the toes still turned in, seeks the consoling influence of the other and poises itself on the ankle of the other foot. If the bashfulness and embarrassment are noticed when the individual is standing, one foot is sure to be placed behind the other and to be lifted up at frequent intervals, while as the embarrassment increases the raised foot rubs up and down the calf of the leg which supports the body.

MISERABLE WITH STOMACH TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" BRINGS THE HAPPINESS OF HEALTH

"Fruit-a-tives" cures Stomach Troubles because it cures the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin.

Indigestion etc. is not usually the fault of the stomach itself. The bowels are irregular—the kidneys are weak or strained—the skin is inactive—and consequently the blood is impure. It is the impure blood that really makes bad digestion

"Fruit-a-tives" purifies the blood by making all the vital organs active and healthy—which in turn relieves the stomach. Take "Fruit-a-tives" if you want to get rid of all Stomach Troubles and faults of Digestion.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Pants and Propriety

The group of statuary before Pennsylvania's $13,000,000 palace of graft at Harrisburg, after having been "draped" to suit the Pennsylvania purists, has been again unveiled. Stone "pants" have been bolted to the statues whose nakedness particularly offended the good folks of the Keystone state. Now they call it the "Pantsylvania group."

The episode has nearly broken the heart of the sculptor, Barnard, and has brought chagrin and shame to all who are seriously interested in the advancement of American art, but the average person can afford to take it for its fun value.

The Best Position.

Prior to the commencement of a boys' cricket-match there were several candidates on the fielding side for the position of long-field.

"Harris had it last week and the week before," complained two or three of the boys to their captain. "It's about time someone else had a turn."

The discussion seemed likely to end in a free fight when the local curate came on the scene and endeavoured to pour oil on the troubled waters.

"You surprise me, boys," he said. "Harris has done especially well in that position, hasn't he?"

"He has so," agreed the malcontents. "If he's had to climb Biggins's wall after the ball once, he's had to a dozen times."

"Well?" queried the revernd gentleman.

"That's why we want a chance," snapped a podgy youngster; "Old Biggins's gooseberries are ripe and his bulldog's dead!"

A Summer Night Hint

When the summer days are blistering hot, and comfort in sleep is discovered not, don't sit up and blame the weatherman; but follow this cool sprinkling plan:

When getting ready for bed, annex a basin of water and one whisk broom. Carefully sprinkle the top sheet, just as you would do it for ironing, then get right into the bed between the sheets. In this way you will get delightfully cool, and should be able to get to sleep in a few minutes.

Commend me to men for the foibles supposed to belong exclusively to our sex! Wherever you have two or three gathered together there is vanity, curiosity and uncharitableness in the midst of them.

ASTHMA CURED

Mrs. Farndel, of Clementsport, N.S., suffered all her life from asthma, but was permanently cured by Catarrhozone after all other means failed.

Mrs. Ferndel's recovery afford overwhelming proof of what Catarrhozone will do. Nothing except Catarrhozone was of the slightest benefit, but when given a fair trial it cured.

Now perhaps you need something for your cold, or bronchitis or Asthma? Why not try Catarrhozone? Thousands have been cured by inhaling it a few minutes now and again, and certainly it wouldn't do you any harm to profit by their experience.

Mrs. Farndel gives the following statement of her case for the benefit of others who are suffering from asthma, and hopes that many will follow her example and use Catarrhozone.

"I am now in my eigthieth year, and cannot recall the time when I was free from the Asthma. I had always a choking cough, feverishness, spasms, difficulty in breathing, headache and nausea. My druggist advised Catarrhozone one day, and I bought a large outfit. It gave relief in five minutes and helped me very much in one day.

"I inhaled Catarrhozone ten minutes every hour, and by the time two bottles were used I was completely cured. I am as free now from Asthma as if I never had it. My perfect recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. I prize my Catarrhozone Inhaler next to life itself.

(Signed) MRS. T. FARNDEL."

This is a proof positive that Catarrhozone is a sure and speedy cure for the worst kind of Asthma. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results, and your money will be refunded if it fails. All you need is a trial of this grand preparation to be quite satisfied and convinced that it is the best. Your druggist recommends and sells it. Price $1.00, small size 50 cents.

The Brains of John Bull's Junior Partner

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

There are all sorts of funny readings abroad about the firm of John Bull Unlimited, and especially about the Old Fellow himself. He seldom takes a good look at himself, and until lately he hasn't cared a gramme what other people thought of him.

John Bull has regarded himself as a good-natured soul who is taking care of a few bits of land scattered around the globe in the interests of civilization generally—a sort of political philanthropist. The other fellows in the international field don't regard him in that light. They think he is a grasping old codger who, instead of being satisfied with control of nearly all the strategic strongholds of land and sea power, puts up an awful howl as soon as anybody else looks around for a second-rate coaling station, or a bit of rock from which his traders may saunter into a hitherto undiscovered market.

What these people are most puzzled about is the way this old John Bull keeps the affections of his children, who have become his partners. "Why," they say, "he used to declare that they would soon leave him, and here they are closer than ever to the Old Gentleman with the side whiskers and the peculiar pants."

Just so. The way the British Empire keeps together is a regular Chinese puzzle to all sorts of clever statesmen. They can't make it out at Washington. Sometimes we can't quite make it out ourselves—this loose, strong, splendid partnership that girdles the world and has none of the ordinary forces of Imperial compulsion about it. The Dominion is one of the junior partners.

"Junior Partner" hasn't a very cock-a-whoop sound. It is a bigger name than it looks. Mr. Sifton, in a memorable speech against Reciprocity in the House of Commons put the fact more picturesquely: "The Rising Hope of the British Empire." You know firms with the junior partners become the Pillars of Reliance. The John Bull Unlimited is one of them.

Canada is a miracle within the Empire, as the Empire is a miracle among the nations of the earth. The impossible has been achieved. They used to say that you could not allow an overseas Dominion of the Crown to have responsible government in exactly the same way as the United Kingdom. They said that a Colonial Governor should not be compelled to accept the advice of his Ministers when they had a majority of the popular House. But these things are done and the Imperial bond is closer and warmer than it has ever been.

All this means that the obligation upon Canadian statesmanship is more subtle and tremendous than it has ever been. We have established a Department of External Affairs to handle our peculiar three-cornered relationships, but this Department is not specially charged with the duty of keeping our internal population well informed about the niceties of our external relations.

You cannot expect a farmer in the Saskatchewan valley to be well informed about the possibilities of trouble that may lie within our connection with India, Australia and South Africa. He is the great statesman who, knowing all the intricacies of statecraft, which he cannot publish, can guide the great body of public opinion aright on the big, underlying principles which dominate national action.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship—I mean statesmanship; not the erection of a post-office here, of a bridge there, and the handing out of a job somewhere else—must be directed to making clear the two-fold, fundamental basis of our national progress—the development of Canadian commerce in Canadian channels, and the extending of the right idea of Canadian national prestige, in its relation to international and inter-Imperial affairs.

Here is something to cling to—that the English-speaking peoples are the great potentiality in the modern world. They are broadly divided into the Empire and the Republic. In the re-adjustment of influence that is taking place within the Empire Canada is rapidly advancing towards the first place.

Canada has the advantage of being alongside of the United States. From being neglected by Downing Street and regarded by the United States as a very poor relation to be acknowledged by a cup of cold water and a few kind words, she is regarded with almost jealous anxiety by the United Kingdom and the United States. The remarkable spectacle has been seen of the President of the United States going up and down his country beseeching the people to make a deal with Canada which would secure commercial union with and give to the United States control of the wheat trade between Canada and Europe.

The position of Canada between the United States and Great Britain is the position of the boy in the middle of the see-saw who sends the parties at the end of the plank up and down as he wills.

Canada was growing along splendidly from this point of view. The only transcontinental railway of America was ours as a means of expanding our trade in our own way. The Government undertook a second transcontinental, and is heavily aiding a third.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship were required for the fulfilment of the national policies, which were undertaken with so much care and foresight. We needed time to consolidate our forces and to bring into national sentiment the aliens to our genius. Instead we are invited to reverse our method for one which the shrewd, experienced leaders of the Republic are sure will deflect the lifeblood of commerce into their arteries, and make our future commercially subsidiary to theirs.

They have warned us. It is time we warned ourselves.

TRYING TO BREAK A RECORD.

Will Use Aeroplanes, Racing Automobiles, Private Racing Yachts, Special Trains and the Fastest Boats.

In an endeavor to lower the world's record for a round-the-world trip Andre Jager Schmit, son of the vice-president of the French Conseil l'Etat, will leave Paris shortly.

Schmit will use aeroplanes, racing automobiles, private racing yachts, special trains, transcontinental expresses and the fastest liners of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The present record is held by an American newspaper man who made the trip in something like 40 days. Schmit expects to do it in 38 days or less.

The Frenchman will journey via Moscow, Vladivostok, Tsuruga, Yokohama, San Francisco (or Vancouver), Chicago, New York, Queenstown (or Liverpool), London to Paris by aeroplane. Where regular fast trains are not to be had special trains or racing autos will be used. In case he touches at Queenstown, Ireland, a racing yacht will take him off the boat and on to Cherbourg, France.

CANADA'S NAVY

How to Tell a Naval Officer's Rank.

Two stripes indicate a lieutenant, an ngineer-lieutenant, a surgon, or a aymaster — always having regard to he gold circle on the uppermost tripe for the lieutenant, or the purle, red, or white cloth between the tripes, and no circle, for the other ranches Three stripes, of which the niddle one is only half the thickness f the other two, indicate a senior ieutenant or senior engineer, a staffurgon, or a staff-paymaster; while hree stripes all of the same thickess denote a commander, a fleeturgeon, or a fleet-paymaster.

A captain has four stripes. Officers of admiral's rank have always ne broad gold stripe nearest the uff, and from one to four thinner old stripes above it. Thus, a rear-dmiral has the broad stripe and one tripe above it; a vice-admiral has wo above, an admiral has three, while an admiral of the fleet — of hom there are only five on the acve list, one of whom is King George—has four. An admiral always wears aiguillettes, as do the officers on his staff, such as his flag-lieutenant or his secretary.

Midshipmen have no stripes, as they are not commissioned officers; but they have a small square of white cloth on the front of the collars of their coats.

Jonah on the Run.

A few months ago a Methodist preacher delivered a discourse on "Jonah" at La Center, Ky., in which he is reported to have said: "When Jonah left that fish he hit the ground a-runnin' and started full tilt for Nineveh. One of the sisters looked out of her window and saw a cloud of dust down the road, and after looking intently, said to her husband: 'I believe in my soul, yonder comes Brother Jonah.' She went to the door and hollered, 'Good mornin'.'

"'Good mornin',' answered Jonah, without turning his head.

"'Where you goin' so fast, Brother Jonah?'

"'Goin' to Nineveh,' he replied.

"'Well, stop and take dinner with us.'

"'Ain't got time. Three days late now.'

"'Oh, come in and get your dinner, Brother Jonah. We've got fish for dinner.'

"'Don't talk to me about fish,' said Brother Jonah.

"'Well, come in and have a drink of water.'

"'Don't talk to me about water' — and on he went a-clipping toward Nineveh."

Are You Bashful?

Bashful people invariably sit with their toes turned in. Why this should be it is undoubtedly difficult to explain, but there is no doubt about the fact If the bashfulness runs to great embarrassment, one foot, with the toes still turned in, seeks the consoling influence of the other and poises itself on the ankle of the other foot If the bashfulness and embarrassment are noticed when the individual is standing, one foot is sure o be placed behind the other and to e lifted up at frequent intervals, while as the embarrassment increases he raised foot rubs up and down the alf of the leg which supports the body

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

AFRAID OF THE STATES

That Was Why Laurier Made Ignoble Pact, Says Borden.

Premier Was Afraid of the Dislocation of Business if the Republic Imposed the Maximum Duty on Canadian Goods — Conservative Leader Gets a Big Reception In Mackenzie Kings' Riding.

Berlin, Aug. 22.—Between twenty-five hundred and three thousand people heard R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, here last night. The meeting was eagerly anticipated in view of the vigorous campaign which Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is conducting through the riding of Waterloo, and the more immediate fact that he received the nomination at Waterloo yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Borden's meeting was noisy; there were many interruptions and much moving about. It was late before the Conservative leader took the platform, and the shuffling of feet made it difficult for his voice, already suffering from strain, to carry.

The meeting itself was thoroughly satisfactory. The interruptions were concerned chiefly with local issues, but the main arguments of the Conservative leader were followed closely and his points applauded.

Hon. J. J. Foy concluded the meeting.

Mr. Borden admitted that in 1866 and for some years afterwards, Canada desired reciprocity with the United States. But that was the nineteenth century; this was the twentieth century, the century of Canada (Cheers).

In 1903, when the bill to provide for the National Transcontinental Railway was before the House, Sir Wilfrid Laurier had asserted that Canada could only prosper by being absolutely independent of the United States. Contrast that with the present situation. He likened the sentiment surrounding reciprocity to the spiritual comfort which a character in Scripture derived from repeating over to himself the word "Mesopotamia."

True, he went on, reciprocity would obtain with a country like the British West Indies, which did not grow what Canada had to export, and only exported what Canada could not produce.

The immediate cause for the reciprocity pact was that the Dominion Government got down on their knees before the United States, because they were afraid of the enormous dislocation of business if the United States impose the maximum duty. I do not think they were right in doing that. I am free to admit that our Government had the support of the business interests of Canada, and it would have been better to have fought that issue out then and there, and to determine whether or not we were a free people in Canada so far as the control of our tariff is concerned, or whether we would submit to interference of that kind.

Leaders' Plans.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Both the political leaders are now turning their attention to the Maritime Provinces.

R. L. Borden closes his Ontario tour in Brockville next Monday. His itinerary for the eastern provinces was announced to-day. Beginning with a meeting in Montreal on Tuesday, Aug. 29, from Montreal the Conservative leader goes down to the eastern townships, holding two and three meetings a day. Wednesday, the 30th, he speaks at Farnham, Granby and Waterloo. Thursday at Richmond and Sherbrooke. Friday at Cookshire and Lake Megantic.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will complete his Quebec tour this week, and will leave on Saturday for the Maritime Provinces, where he will remain a week, after which he will go to Toronto.

The Liberal convention Wednesday night will select the candidate for St. James' division, Montreal. There is some talk that Hon. Rodolph Lemieux may run, as there is a feeling in Liberal circles that a Minister should seek election in a metropolitan division. In that event a picturesque fight will be certain if Mr. Henri Bourassa could be induced to oppose him.

To Contest South Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Four hundred enthusiasts gathered at the Labor Temple last night and nominated Controller J. J. Ward as the Liberal candidate for South Toronto in the coming Dominion elections. J. E. Atkinson of The Star, moved the nomination, J. P. Magann seconded it, and the crowd "hollered" for the close of the nominations. This was done immediately, and the speech-making commenced, followed by lots of assurances and predictions that J. J. Ward would be the next representative from South Toronto in the Federal Parliament.

Mayor Bleau In Provencher.

St. Boniface, Man., Aug. 22.—The convention of Provencher Conservatives, held here yesterday afternoon, chose Mayor J. A. F. Bleau as the candidate to oppose Dr. J. B. Molloy.

King For Waterloo.

Waterloo, Aug. 22.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King was nominated yesterday afternoon by a gathering of delegates that crowded the Town Hall, and the four hundred delegates gave the young Minister a big ovation.

The afternoon's list of nominations began and ended with the name of the Minister of Labor. It was presented by Mr. Wm. Snider, president of the Waterloo Manufacturing Co., and the Millers & Manufacturers' Fire Insurance Co. Mr. J. W. Hartleib, a well-known farmer and stock-breeder of Wellesley Township, was the seconder.

Hon. Mr. Fisher Chosen.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, was yesterday afternoon, by unanimous vote, chosen again as the Liberal standard-bearer in Brome county.

The convention was held at Knowlton. Mr. Fisher will be opposed by Major G. H. Baker, a young lawyer from Montreal.

GETTING BACK TO WORK

English Labor Troubles Are Adjusting Themselves.

Determination of Companies to Make Permanent the Promotions of Men Who Did Not Strike Causes Small Sectional Disorders—King George Sends His Personal Thanks to Mr. Lloyd-George.

London, Aug. 22.—The strife in the industrial world of the United Kingdom gradually is abating. With a truce in effect on all railway lines except the London and Northwestern, the Board of Trade was occupied all yesterday in an endeavor to reach an amicable arrangement between the employes of this line and the managers, and also in trying to settle the strike of the short sea traders. It was announced last night that both these controversies are now in line for early adjustment.

There is still much friction on some of the railroads over the impatience of strikers returning to work, to be accorded full reinstatement to their old positions, which have been given to men who remained loyal to the companies when the walk-out was declared. As a result there were several instances of disorder yesterday in various parts of the kingdom, and decisions by small bodies of men to remain on strike.

Work on the London docks was in full swing yesterday for the first time in three weeks, but it will be some time before the congestion of the port, due to the dock and transfer men's strike, is relieved.

King George telegraphed his congratulations to Premier Asquith, David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Sydney Buxton, president of the Board of Trade, on the settlement of the railway strike. The King's message to Mr. Lloyd-George said:

"I am glad to hear that it was largely due to your energy and skill that the settlement was brought about. I heartily congratulate you and feel that the whole country will be most grateful to you for averting a most disastrous calamity. It has caused me the greatest possible anxiety."

The representatives of the railway employes yesterday complained that the companies were not carrying out the terms of the agreement under which the strike was called off, referring particularly to clause two, which provides for the reinstatement of strikers without prejudice. As a consequence a long conference was held at the Board of Trade and a protest of the men investigated. At its conclusion the announcement was made that a satisfactory solution of the difficulty had been reached.

To Head Off Powers.

Pekin, China, Aug. 22.—The transfer of Prince Su, chief of the Naval Department, to the board of dependencies is taken to mean that China will attempt to develop Mongolia and Thibet, as well as Manchuria and convert them into provinces, with the object of saving them from ultimate foreign domination. The prince visited Mongolia in 1906 and made an investigation of its industrial and commercial conditions.

China is planning to allow the office of Dalai Lama of Thibet to lapse by not authorizing the appointment of a successor, and so to control Thibet without a religious intermediary, but the rapid and effective fulfilment of this program is not to be expected.

Jury Blames Waters.

Hamilton, Aug. 22.—That the deceased came to his death by being struck by an automobile driven by W. J. Waters, and that the speed of the auto was excessive, was in effect the verdict of Coroner Anderson's jury, which last night enquired into the death of William Boyce, who died in the City Hospital on Aug. 15, from injuries received the previous day in a motor accident at the corner of Main street and Sanford avenue.

Crown Attorney Washington could not say last night whether or not the crown will take any furhter action in the case. George S. Kerr, representing the Boyce family, and John W. Gauld, acting for Mr. Waters, were present at the inquest last night.

Shot Wild Cat.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Constable Trudeau, 1,415 St. Denis street, leaning out of his window yesterday morning saw two exceptionally large feline creatures occupying a branch of one of his trees. Taking a shot, he brought one down, the other escaping. On inspection the dead animal was found to have been a wild cat. It is thought that the pair escaped from the Barnum and Bailey circus.

Oil Refinery Burned.

West Toronto, Aug. 22.—About five o'clock on Saturday evening fire broke out in the oil refinery and ice house at Gunn's abbatoir, corner of St. Clair avenue and Albany road. About $10,000 damage was done to the building and about $5,000 damage to the refrigerator cars belonging to the Grand Trunk and C.P.R., which were on the siding loaded with beef at the time.

Loses an Arm.

Cornwall, Aug. 22.—Early yesterday morning, John Burgess, an employe of the Dundas Cotton Mill, while attending to his duties, had his arm drawn into a picker. The limb was so crushed that it had to be amputated.

Struck Gas Well.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 22.—Jacob Snyder, contractor, yesterday struck a valuable gas well on the Dell farm, near here. He was drilling a 200-foot well at the time.

Cholera at Constantinople.

Constantinople, Aug. 22.—There were forty-one new cases of cholera and thirty-four deaths here on Sunday.

PREMIER AT ST. JULIENNE.

He Addresses French-Canadians on Reciprocity Issue.

Ste. Julienne, Que., Aug. 22.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier carried his campaign into the rural districts of the province yesterday, addressing typical gatherings of French-Canadian farmers here yesterday afternoon. Several hundred people were present, many driving into the village from distant farms.

It is in the rural districts that the Nationalists are reputed to have made the greatest headway, but the Premier paid little attention to Messrs. Monk, Bourassa and Lavergne in his address, and did not indulge in the fierce replies to these opponents that have characterized his addresses in some of the larger centres of population. He was, however, particularly emphatic in stating that the claims of the Nationalists that the navy would soon result in conscription were ridiculous and false.

On the reciprocity issue he made the usual appeal—the higher prices that the farmers would receive for their products once the market of ninety million was open to them.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who has quite recovered from the throat affection which has been troubling him, also spoke.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor Bertrand. A feature of the meeting was the presence of D. A. Lafortune, K.C., who two years ago carried Montcalm County, in which this village is situated, as an independent Liberal, although Omer Lapierre opposed him, endorsed the Government. Mr. Lafortune has again been nominated to contest the county, and yesterday the Premier endorsed his candidature, while Mr. Lapierre, the defeated candidate, in a brief speech, also exhorted the electors to give their support to Mr. Lafortune.

Johnstone Benefit Meet.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—A wind that reached 30 miles an hour at times prevented all but a few aviators from trying to get into the air at the benefit performance for the widow of St. Croix Johnstone yesterday. It had been announced that all the rules of the International Aviation Meet would be declared off and that the fliers would be at liberty to risk their necks in any aerial feats they chose, and as a consequence it was expected that the exhibition would be more spectacular than any during the meet.

The wind proved too gusty and for several hours no one attempted to fly. Then Lincoln Beachey arose, circled the field, descended and declared the wind was too strong for safe flying. An hour later Beachey, Gill, C. P. Rodgers and James Ward gave short exhibition flights.

Got Up and Hanged Himself.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Aug. 22.—Harvey Wilton, aged 23, an employe of the Frost & Wood Co., was found dead in his room, having hanged himself to his bedpost by means of an elaborate arrangement of straps.

He was sitting on the verandah of his boarding-house in conversation with a friend, when he arose suddenly and went to his room. Some hours later he was called, but gave no response. The chief of police was summoned and, breaking into his room, found the body.

There is said to have been a woman in the case.

Don't Need Convention.

Winchester Springs, Ont., Aug. 22.—Andrew Broder, member in the late Parliament, will again be the Conservative candidate in Dundas.

The Conservative association of the riding held its annual meeting here yesterday, and so popular is Mr. Broder in the party that a convention was not deemed necessary.

Sir James Whitney was present, and he was also named as the party's choice for the Provincial House.

The Ontario Premier and Mr. Broder delivered addresses in accepting the nomination of their old constituencies.

"Pushed" a Barber's Face.

London, Eng., Aug. 22.—Sir David Bruce, who served in the South African war, and who is an authority on sleeping sickness, was at Abergele Denbirgshire, on Saturday fined half a crown for assaulting a barber.

Sir David was being shaved in a barber's shop, when the barber cut his cheek. He said that he slapped the barber's face, considering it the best form of chastisement and that it would do him good.

Denies Steel Merger.

Bethlehem, Pa., Aug. 22.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Co., last night denied the report that his company would be merged with the Lackawanna Steel Co. and the Republic Iron & Steel Co. to fight the United States Steel Corporation. He said that no such step was contemplated. "We are solely interested in the development of our own company," he said.

Cotton Tariff Bill Passed.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The cotton tariff revision bill was passed by the House late yesterday. The bill was signed by Vice-President Sherman and Speaker Clarke and sent to President Taft, who will veto it.

The Senate adjourned until noon today, and Congress, after hearing the President's veto message, will finally adjourn at 3 p.m.

Heat Affects the Pope.

Rome, Aug. 22.—There was another heat wave here yesterday, and in consequence the Pope, who was reported to be convalescent from his recent attack of gout and heart weakness, suffered a slight relapse.

He was weakened to such an extent that he was unable to go into the Vatican gardens, as he had intended.

Reciprocity With Argentina.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Representative J. M. Curley of Massachusetts, yesterday introduced a resolution requesting the President to direct the Department of State to enter into negotiations with the Argentine Republic to secure an agreement looking to the admission free of duty of all food products between the two countries.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Dr. James Beaudet, Conservative nominee for Megantic, has retired.

Montreal City Council appointed Mr. Dagger of Toronto to inquire into telephone rates.

The delay in negotiations between France and Germany in relation to Morocco is causing considerable uneasiness in Paris.

A Rio Janeiro paper confirms the recent announcement that Brazil has engaged German naval officers to command ships of her navy.

There have been persistent rumors that new interests have obtained control of The Halifax Chronicle, and that this may have an important bearing on the election campaign.

Riots, growing out of the strike of newsboys, were renewed in Dublin yesterday. The contents of several newspaper wagons were burned and there was some stone-throwing.

A cigar stump carelessly thrown away by a smoker is believed to have been the cause of a serious fire at Mountain Grove, near Sharbot Lake, early yesterday morning. The loss was $8,000.

Because Ernest Joufret married three times and attempted to enter into the bonds of matrimony the fourth time, he was sent to jail in Toronto yesterday to be examined by the city physicians.

Samuel Fowler of the editorial staff of The Kingston Standard died after a few days' illness from a stroke of apoplexy, aged 63 years. Deceased was a son of the late John Fowler of Cobourg, in his day an eminent railway contractor.

The body of the world's largest woman was laid to rest Sunday in Toronto. Borne in a casket specially constructed, being 3 feet 6 inches wide, 3 feet 6 inches deep and 6 feet long, the remains of Mrs. Letitia Campbell, known professionally as Dolly Varden were taken to Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

One Was Drowned.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—While crossing the railway bridge at Terrebone on Sunday night, two boys met with a terrible accident, which resulted in the death of the younger, Joseph Martin, aged 11 years, and serious injury to his older brother, Emile Martin, 13 years.

The boys were half way across the bridge when they saw the lights of a locomotive approaching. Losing his head completely, the younger brother plunged into the river and was drowned. The older one crowded himself against the rails at one side of the track and was struck by the passing train. Help soon arrived, and Dr. Rochette of Terrebone, attended the wounds of the injured boy, who was reported yesterday morning as likely to recover. The younger boy's body was found yesterday.

Will Buy Cochrane Bonds.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—To enable the Town of Cochrane to pay the interest and sinking fund of the debenture debt toward building a new jail, public school, etc., the Provincial Government has agreed to buy the bonds of the town for the sum of $21,000.

Cochrane is taking up the work of erecting public buildings to replace those destroyed by the recent fire. The financial load entailed is a heavy one, and will seriously tax the energies of the people of that town.

In connection with this matter, a deputation, composed of the mayor of Cochrane, two of the aldermen, the president of the Toronto Board of Trade, and Mr. Home Smith, recently waited upon the Ontario Government and asked it to help the town out with its financial arrangements.

Roosevelt Out of It.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 22.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt in a letter to Alex. P. Moore, editor of The Pittsburg Leader, made public yesterday, says:

"I must ask not only you, but every friend of mine I have to see to it that no movement whatever is made to bring me forward for the nomination in 1912. I should esteem it a genuine calamity if such an attempt were undertaken."

The Leader has been advocating the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for President in 1912.

Revolt Failed In Equador.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Aug. 22.—The garrison at Chone, in the Province of Manabi, yesterday repulsed an attack by 50 armed supporters of Gen. Flavio Altaro. One of the rebels was killed and two others were wounded.

Detailed news from Quito announces that the city has returned to its normal quiet, following a week of panic and rebellion, which began when the supporters of President Alfaro sought to proclaim a dictatorship. Public opinion failed to support the movement.

Fought Lion With Knife.

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 22.—Juan Morales, a Spanish farmer, living seven miles out of town, with a jack-knife, killed a mountain lion, which had killed one of his children, bound up his right arm, lacerated and crushed in the fight, and walked into town, where surgeons say he must sacrifice his arm.

Morales' three-year-old boy, thinking the lion was a dog, had called it into the house and started to pet it.

Ferry Passenger Drowned.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 22.—In a futile attempt to rescue Henry Rother, 25 years of age, who fell overboard and was drowned, the steamer Favorite, with 300 passengers on board, ran aground in Niagara River early yesterday.

There was considerable excitement when the boat grounded. The passengers were brought ashore in rowboats.

Rev. Guinness Rogers Dead.

London, Aug. 22.—The Rev. Guinness Rogers, former minister of Clapham Congregational Church, and well known as an author of religious books, died here yesterday. He was born December 29, 1822.

CYCLONE ON PRAIRIES

Storm in West Sends Wheat Up Two Points.

Wind Sweeps a Strip of Country Two Hundred Yards In Width Through a Corner of Saskatchewan and Manitoba and Enters U. S.—Barns Are Blown Down and Seven Are Killed.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—The extent of the damage suffered by Sunday's storm cannot be gauged. That it was sufficient to send the wheat market soaring two points is patent; but the volume of actual harm caused is beyond conjecture. The city is flooded with reports and rumors, which are unreliable, as is shown by the fact that correspondents in the same districts do not agree as to the effect of the storm.

One thing is known definitely, and that a cyclone two hundred yards in width swept through a big stretch of Saskatchewan, the southern corner of Manitoba, and entered into the northern States. The tornado apparently gained momentum as it swept forward; in Dakota it killed seven, overthrew grain fields and swept buildings off their foundations.

Apparently in Saskatchewan hail and heavy winds robbed a few sections of a good percentage of grain, but it is not believed that the damage was really a warrant for the big advance in local prices here yesterday.

Four buildings are totally wrecked. When the barn of Donald Colquhoun, near Gainsboro', Sask., was blown down, two men were in it, and one is so seriously injured that he is not expected to recover, while the other is quite badly injured.

The other buildings on the farm were damaged and the machinery rendered useless, while the crops were destroyed.

J. S. Shillington's barns, hay and crops are totally ruined.

A neighbor named Brown suffered a like loss, and a boy was hurt from the flying timbers of one of the barns.

John W. Stevenson lost his barn, granary, machinery and crops.

John Cares suffered as severely as Stevenson.

The houses of all were damaged, though none were blown down.

Togo Interested In Hydro.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 22.—Admiral Togo left here aboard the private car "Canada" last night, after spending two days within hearing of the mighty cataract. He said before leaving that he was much impressed with the beauty of the falls and the wonderful power development. He was much interested in the Hydro-Electric scheme. He left Toronto for the west on the Canadian Pacific transcontinental express at 10.20 last night. He spent the entire day with Japanese Consul-General to Canada Nakamura, who accompanied him to Toronto.

Barn Burned.

Chatham, Aug. 22.—The barn, shed, implements, 500 bushels of newly-threshed wheat and the season's crop of other grain and hay on the farm of William Sturgis, 4th concession of Dover, were totally destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. A threshing machine belonging to J. Glover, which was in the barn at the time, was also burned up. There was insurance on the threshing machine and the barn, but none on the grain. The fire was caused by a spark from the threshing machine.

DR. ACKERILL ON RECIPROCITY

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir,—Reading a report in the "Ontario" of a political meeting at Ameliasburg a night or two ago, I was particularly impressed with two statements therein, viz.: one by Mr. Jas. Anderson, who is reported to have said if reciprocity passed he would make $800 more off his farm yearly; and the other statement by Mr. D. V. Sinclair asserting that the County of Prince Edward would make, at the lowest possible estimate, $600,000 per year more.

These two gents are most certainly two most wonderful seers, more wonderful, I think than those old prophets of biblical times and modern prophets such as these have the old wiseacres of ancient times beaten to a frazzle, as I will prove.

Well, these wonderful prophets got on my mind to such an extent that I caught the fever, too, and began to see visions and dream dreams till I could also see what reciprocity was going to do for the poor veterinary. I could see, or at least like these wonderful prophets I could imagine I could see, good, kind-hearted, open handed, generous Uncle Sam sending me over a lot of his sick and lame and used up horses to doctor up so I could increase my income some hundreds annually, and I retired to my bed that evening in a very happy frame of mind, indeed, to dream dreams of future prosperity and happiness coupled with motor cars and such like.

When I awoke bright and early next morning, alas, my visions were gone, my brain had cooled off and had settled down to a normal and a reasonable state during my sleep, and the lovely, cool, pure morning air, so refreshing and invigorating, blowing into the window on my face and brow, dispelled all trace of my hallucinations of the evening previous, and as I lay there pondering I began to wonder what explanation these two prophets would give relative to the statement made by them that good, kind, generous Uncle Sammy was going to hand over such enormous sums of hard cash to each and every Canadian farmer each year. I could see plainly he was not going to do this without receiving good value in return. I pondered on the fact that cheese has just sold in Hastings County for over 13c. per pound and I could not understand how our farmer could pull anything out of Sam by accepting his price of about 13c. after paying freight and commission to the commission merchant out of the proceeds. No doubt these two great and mighty seers, with their prophetic vision, can figure it out all right, and no doubt when we ask them to they will show us how easy and simple it is for them with their superior wisdom and knowledge and understanding.

Now, Mr. Editor, the question in my mind is simply this, viz.: Is the Yankee yeoman, with his 90 million market any better off than ours, and further, is he as well off? I think not, and the reason I think so is because this year we are getting 600,000 emigrants, and as we are only a small nation numerically of eight million souls, it is taxing our farmers and gardeners to their limit to feed them, and that is the cause of the steady increase in the cost of all food stuffs. Now, Uncle Sammy, "who is as shrewd as they make them," sees all this and wants to have a finger in the pie. He wants and is dying for a chance to feed these 600,000 immigrants, and my humble opinion is that reciprocity would be a boom to the Canadian consumer so far as it would reduce the cost of living to the consumer, for, under reciprocity, we would get the products of the large, very large, and numerous farms and ranches of the Western States, and meat of all kinds, butter, eggs, poultry, vegetables and fruit would be cheaper here and our farmers would be the sufferers, and the Yankee farmer and rancher the gainer.

It is an old saying, and a common everyday one "that the farmer is never satisfied." Well, the farmer is all O.K. and no different but just the same as all other men, for all men are alike under similar circumstances and environments, but if reciprocity passes it will be the greediness or never satisfied spirit of the farmer perverting his judgment and blinding his reason and common sense that will carry it through, and once it comes into effect he will very soon realize and know to his chagrin and his sorrow that he, and he alone, is the one it is hitting, and hitting hard. It is ever thus, when any class of men are doing well and do not know it, or are not thankful, they, like the dog and his shadow, instead of leaving well enough alone and being satisfied and thankful, they drop what they have to grab for more, and we all know the result. When our farmers bring a load of produce to market and get the prices they are getting and are still not satisfied, what kind of hearts can they have, for unless they are hopelessly selfish they must wonder how the working man and the poor struggling widow and orphan are going to get the bare necessities of life.

Our farmers, that is our farmers who are carrying on mixed farming, are not increasing in numbers, while our population is increasing by leaps and bounds, and no man to-day has the outlook and the prospect the farmer has, who has the job of feeding them. Oh, yes! Uncle Sammy sees all this, and he is dying for a look-in for his farmers and gardeners, and also to get his hands on our tremendous natural resources and wealth, as he is also casting greedy eyes towards Mexico, a country richly timberd with immense forests of the finest hardwoods in the world, for he is at present also trying to get reciprocity in natural products with Mexico as well as Canada. "Wise old guy, Sammy," but nit! When he was prosperous, and we were poor, oh! so poor, did he give us a look-in? No, not a nibble, not a crust; but did his best, his level best, to crush us,—to starve us into annexation, but our fathers had grit and backbone, and are we, their sons, going to be chumps unworthy of such sires? And again, the gall, the nerve, the cheek of Sam, to ask any favors of us so long as he keeps his tariff wall up twice as high as ours, namely 70 per cent., and ours only 35 per cent.; the gall, the nerve; if he wants our stuff, why don't he lower his breakwater first?

Fellow Canadians, what are we thinking of? Can't we see the gold brick he is handing us is simply gilded? Can we be as foxy and as long headed as he, and not duffers and a laughing stock to Uncle Sam and his people. That banner hung up at a political meeting at Chatham last week voices my sentiments to a knock-down, and here is what it said: "Keep out the American hog," and no doubt it referred to both varieties.

Yours till I bust,
D. H. ACKERILL, V.S.
Belleville, Aug. 21, 1911.

HOW KINGSTON DEFEATED THE G. T. R. BALL TEAM

The Kingston Whig has the following account of the baseball match played in that city between the G. T. R. team of this city and the C.L.C. team of Kingston.

The spectators watched with patience the first game, but they were eager to see the second game where the C.L.C.'s were matched against the Grand Trunks of Belleville. Belleville would not win the silverware if they were playing in Kingston city league, that is a sure thing. People were expecting great things from the visiting team, but they did not see them, for at the conclusion of a nine innings game the C.L.C.'s had almost shut them out, the score standing 5 to 1.

Outside of Ashton, the pitcher, the Belleville team is not as good at either batting or fielding as the Athletics, tailenders of the Kingston League. The local boys got ten hits off the Belleville pitcher, one of them a three-base smash, and two double hits, while the iron-eaters of Belleville got away with only one hit off Brooks. The Belleville team as batters are no good. Even Ashton did not get a hit, while Brooks struck him out twice in the three times he was at bat and the other time he went out on a fly to short stop.

Lucas and Esford, the first two men up, each touched Ashton for a single, and Lucas converted his hit into a run before the ball was returned. A scoreless game was played from then until the sixth innings, when Dickson took advantage of a low one which Ashton dropped over the pan in a tantalizing manner, and "Herb" touched it for three bags. Ewart, the next man, went out on a fly, while Dice swatted the ball far enough to walk over two sacks. This hit scored Dickson, while Dorey's hit followed and scored the second baseman. While Dorey was making for home one of the fielders lost his head and made a wild throw. Dorey pulled off a two-base hit in the eighth and was scored by Saunders' sacrifice hit. Grand Trunks tallied their only run in the ninth with two men down, Gerow, the right fielder, scoring on an overthrow.

Umpire—Frederick Lumb.

Of the return game here to-morrow The Standard, of Kingston, makes these comments:

A large number of fans are going up to Belleville on Wednesday to cheer the Locos. in their fight against the Grand Trunks. Considerable money will change hands, according to present indications.

The C.L.C.'s play a return game with the Grand Trunks in Belleville next Wednesday, and also give an exhibition in Round Island Park on Thursday. Then they play the Athletics on Saturday. On account of these little practices on the side they expect to be able to trim the Athletics on Saturday.

PRESENTATION TO DEPARTING MEMBER

The members of Tyendinaga Ladies Orange Lodge Eastern Star No. 94 and members of L.O.L. No. 295 met in the Orange Hall at Myre Hall on Aug. 14 to do honor to one of their members by presenting him with a gold watch, chain and locket.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. and Bro. Robert Sullivan, P.C.M. was appointed to preside as the chairman. Bro. Archibald Collins was called to the altar, when the W. M., Mrs. W. B. Colden, read the address and Financial Secretary Sister Mrs. W. Alford presented him with a gold watch, chain and locket. The address was as follows:

Myre Hall, Aug. 14, 1911.

To Mr. Arch. Collins:

Dear Brother,—We, the members of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association Eastern Star Lodge No. 94 and the members of the Loyal Orange Lodge No. 295, Myre Hall, having learned with regret that you had sold your farm at Halston and moved to Belleville, and knowing of your long and earnest attachment and devoted usefulness and the active interest you have always taken in matters pertaining to the welfare of the orders, and your hearty co-operation with all the members in their efforts to build up and maintain the high standard of our orders, along with your pleasant yet unassuming disposition, has endeared you to the hearts of all those with whom you have been so long associated. It would be an unpardonable omission on the part of both lodges should we allow this opportunity to pass without showing to you in some form our appreciation of you. Therefore, it is my pleasant duty to ask you in the name of both lodges to accept this watch as a token of our esteem and as an assurance of our unfeigned respect.

May the blessing of Almighty God be with you is the earnest wish of all the members of No. 94 and No. 295.

Signed by Sisters Mrs. E. C. Carter and Mrs. W. B. Colden, on behalf of the Ladies' Orange Lodge No. 94; by Bros. E. C. Carter, W. B. Colden, R. Howe, W.M., on behalf of the members of the Loyal Orange Lodge No. 295, Myre Hall.

Bro. Collins was taken by surprise and made a suitable reply, thanking the members for the handsome gift.

Lunch was provided by the ladies of the lodge, and a programme was provided of songs, and speeches by Bro. Chas. Sargent and Bro. S. Howe, Murney Wilson, Miss Lena Howe and others, after which the meeting broke up by singing God Save the King.

Makes Hair Grow

D. M. Waters has an invigorator that will grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by D. M. Waters under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop Falling Hair and Itching scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle.

THIS LIBERAL

Cannot Stand Reciprocity—Will Vote and Speak Against it

MORRISBURG, Ont., Aug. 21.—Dr. T. F. Chamberlain, a well-known and life-long Liberal of this place, has announced that he is not in accord with the policy of the Laurier Government. He declares that he is prepared and intends to speak publicly in a number of constituencies in Ontario and Quebec during the present campaign in opposition to the Government candidates, when he will explain fully his reasons for opposing the Government.

The significance of this announcement will at once be recognized. Dr. Chamberlain has for years been an active Liberal, having been a candidate for Parliamentary honors in Dundas County in the Liberal interest, and having been long known as the Liberal war horse of Eastern Ontario.

The doctor is an effective speaker and having a practical knowledge of the interest of the farming community will be able to present a strong case to them against the Governments' policy. His decision to come out openly against the Government has created quite a sensation down here, and indicates the presence of a strong undercurrent of feeling among Liberals against reciprocity.

Dr. Chamberlain was Inspector of Public Institutions for the Province of Ontario for a number of years during the Liberal regime.

BURIED AT SUNSET WITHOUT A MINISTER

Band Played Sacred Music as Body of Mrs. Mafino was Placed in Grave

TORONTO, Aug. 21.—One of the strangest funerals ever held in Toronto was when, without a minister, Mrs. William Mafino, an Italian woman, was buried in Mount Hope as the sun was setting last Friday evening.

Mrs. Mafino was born in Naples, Italy. Her husband is a contractor living at 48 Dundee street, and, although he is a Protestant, she always remained a Catholic. Mrs. Mafino had a family of five boys, the youngest of which is three months old, while the eldest is only six years. Last Tuesday the lamp upset and the burns she received caused her death on Wednesday. In making funeral arrangements with Mr. A. W. Miles, undertaker, on account of some old superstition of sunny Italy, Mr. Mafino requested that no minister should be in attendance, but that a band should furnish sacred music and that his wife should be buried as the sun was sinking.

At a cost of $3 a band was secured, and as the Dead March in Saul was being rendered, the funeral procession wended its way along Dundee Dufferin and Dupont Streets and to Avenue road.

At Mount Hope strains of a sacred Italian melody broke the stillness of the approaching night as the casket was lowered.

You Breathe It

By the simple act of breathing, we inhale life and death. You breathe air crowded with disease germs. These lodge in the membrane and at once commence their deadly work. In a night you develop a cold and before long you are in the grip of Canada's deadliest enemy—Catarrh.

You also breathe Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) and by so doing breathe in life—Hyomei is medicated and vaporized air. In its journey through the breathing organs it arrests and kills catarrh and cold germs, soothes the inflamed membrane and commences the work of healing. Ask druggist J. V. Doyle what he knows about Hyomei. You will find that he not only sells it, but guarantees it. A complete outfit will cost you $1.00 from your druggist or postpaid from the R. T. Booth Co., Limited, Fort Erie, Ont. You will find it invaluable for coughs, colds, catarrh and all kindred diseases. Money refunded if it fails.

An expert is a man who can get his own price for guessing at things.

BROKER SHOT BY HIS ACTRESS-MISTRESS

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Thos. A. Fullum, who made a fortune on the Long Island race tracks, and is now a real estate broker, was shot yesterday at his home at Patchogue by a woman who has been known for several years as Mrs. Fullum but whom, he declared after the shooting to be Abbie Hyatt, a show girl, to whom he had never been married.

The shooting, according to its victim, and other witnesses followed a celebration of the woman's birthday, although the bullet struck close to Fullum's heart it ricochetted off one of his ribs and he will undoubtedly recover unless fever complications set in.

Miss Hyatt or "Mrs. Fullum," as she is known in New York, hurried away from Long Island immediately after Fullum had made a statemnet to the police that he had inflicted the wound himself.

Fullum was once married to an actress known as "Little Bessie Fennel," but a divorce separated them 8 years ago. Then he took up with Abbie Hyatt, then in the chorus of "Little Johnnie Jones."

RECIPROCITEE.

I've allus voted Liberal, and stuck right to our crowd,
An' swollered all our scandals, when the Tories hollered loud;
But I'll be danged if I can stand this "reciprocitee,"
It's just like saying to the "Yanks," "Now take what you can see."

My old friend Alan Aylsworth has left the sinkin' ship,
An' quite a lot of other chaps have also "took the tip,"
Manly German up in Welland, an' Lloyd Harris up in Brant,
Sed plainly to Sir Wilfrid: "To swaller this we can't."

It's the biggest kind of humbug to fool the farmer chap,
An' give the "Yanks" another chance to put us on their map,
The Yankee farmer experts grain, an' lambs, an' garden stuff,
An' to tell us that's our market is the "biggest kind of bluff."

So this time I'll vote for Borden to keep the Yankee products out,
An' the night the votes are counted you'll hear the people shout:
"This country's fer Canad'uns! No Yankees need apply!
We win the fight, fer we were right; Sir Wilfrid, dear, 'Good-by.'"

FORESTRY IN JAPAN.

Authorities Believe in Conservation—Been planting for 1200 years.

Japan has longer than any other country practiced technical forestry. With extraordinary skill and absolute success the authorities have for 1,200 years planted and cared for the forest trees. "The results," writes a correspondent, "have been really wonderful, for through the extremely sedulous management and the knowledge of skill by degrees attained the financial gains have been very large, indeed. Not a twig is ever wasted. The trees are regarded as almost sacred property, and not a particle of any one of them is regarded as rubbish, so close is the utilization. Thinning and all departments of arboreal culture are very carefully conducted. At the end of 13 years from planting a wood lot is thinned by experts, and then every five years the process is repeated for 120 years, the average period of the cultivation of a set of trees.

A MAN OF MANY POSES.

Antonio Coral a model of 30 years Standing is a Great Traveller.

Next time you're in Paris — or London — or Rome — you may see a small, swarthy man in a black-braided velvet suit and a VERY broad sombrero.

If he has high cheek bones, long, bushy black hair, piercing black eyes and wears an enormous carved coral ring on each finger of his left hand you may identify him at once as Antonio Corsi, the world's best known model.

You're just as apt to meet him in Montreal — or Toronto — or Vancouver — for he travels everywhere that art whispers — if the financial tones are loud enough to equal his skill and fame.

Almost every artist of note during the past 30 years has employed Coral. The majority of art school students in Europe and America have sketched him.

Coral is an Italian by birth. He has posed in a dozen lands, for royalty and commoner, as deity and devil, saint and sinner, indian and courtier. Among his best known poses are those for the Sargent and Abbey pictures in the Boston public library. He posed for 11 of the 16 Sargent "prophets," including the famous "Hosea." The difficult arrangement of Hosea's drapery required the completion of the figure in one pose, said to be the longest on record, lasting three hours and 20 minutes. Sixty-eight of the Abbey figures were posed by Coral, including all those of Sir Galahad, except for the features and the color of the hair.

WEDS TO GET LEGACY

Son of Erie Pa. Man Finds Bride In Less than 30 Days

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 21.—Complying with the terms of his father's will which provided that he must be married within 30 days from the death of his father in order to inherit a fourth share of an estate valued at $200,000, Frank McCoy was married last night to Miss Eileen Pfenning two days before the expiration of the time limit.

McCoy's father died about a month ago in Erie, Penn., and he was advised by telegraph of the conditions of his father's will. He immediately advertised for a wife and was flooded with applications from all parts of the United States. McCoy exhibits telegrams from attorneys in Erie to substantiate his statements regarding the legacy.

FIRST WIFE GUEST OF SECOND WIFE AT HUSBAND'S HOME

PITTSBURG, Kan., Aug. 21—"I love him and cannot stay away from him even if Louisa is also his wife," declared Mrs. Ann Catherine Sharp, first wife of Peter C. Sharp of this city, who returned here yesterday from New Orleans where she went following a quarrel with Sharp's second and younger wife Louisa. The first Mrs. Sharp is today a guest again at the Sharp home.

"She can stay as long as she wants to now," said Mrs. Louisa Sharp last night, "but I am to be boss."

Sharp and his first wife, Ann Catherine were parted in the great Chicago fire. Nine years ago he came to Pittsburg and married his second wife.

Ann Catherine located them through the pension bureau. She came here but found him married. As she had been legally dead many years, she had no standing in court. Sharp, however, took her into his home for several weeks, the two women living in the same house, the first as a guest. Quarrels caused Ann Catherine to go to New Orleans to live with a son over a month ago.

WORRY DROVE WOMAN TO HYDROPHOBIA

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—By five years worry over a dog bite Mrs. Amanda Irwin became so thoroughly convinced that she was a victim of hydrophobia that she is in Bellevue Hospital today with almost every symptom of the disease. When her blood was examined the physicians could not find a trace of the rabies' virus and the doctors agree that it is an extreme case auto-suggestion.

Mrs. Irwin was bitten five years ago by a dog believed to have had the rabies. She worried considerably and several months ago when a neighbor's child died from rabies she became alarmed and talked of nothing but rabies. Yesterday she startled the neighbors by screaming and barking like a dog. Kicking and snarling she was removed to the hospital. Three men had to be called to get her in a straight jacket and before they succeeded she twice had bitten the arms of one of them. The doctors declare she may lose her mind completely.

TOOK ONLY HALF AN HOUR TO SHOOT $2,500 WORTH OF IVORY.

W. Buckley, the great English elephant shot, in talking of his favorite game says:

"There are three curious things about the elephant.

"First, although he is the biggest animal in the world, he is the hardest to see, for he is the same color as the forest.

"Second, for all his vast area there is little more than a square foot of him that is vulnerable to a bullet.

"Third, all elephants are "left handed," as is proved by the fact that the left tusk is always shorter, being worn away with work.

"My biggest bag of elephants in one day was ten, but the most profitable was a day when I shot eight, and their tusks weighed 766 pounds. It took me half an hour to shoot them, and the ivory was worth $2,500. Of course that was an exceptionally good day.

"The tusks of the biggest elephant weighed 282 pounds —the right tusk 147 pounds, the left 135 pounds.

"The elephant is a very blind animal. From tests carried out he cannot see further than 170 yards, but he can scent a man for half a mile, and can distinguish between a white man and a black man. When he charges he always makes for the white man."

It saves trouble to be conventional, for you are not always explaining things. Most of the startling items we read in the newspapers are serious lapses from conventionality and good manners.

Don't let any one tell you there's any life for a woman in this world apart from a man. There's not. And don't let any one try to convince you there is any life for a man without a woman by his side. There's not.

Human Voice the Sweetest Music.

The sweetest music is not in the oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life, tones of tenderness, truth or courage. The oratorio has already lost its relation to the morning, to the sun, and the earth, but that persuading voice is in tune with these.

BATTLES IN THE AIR.

Flying Machines Will Be Great Factors in Future Wars

There is no doubt now that in the next great war there will be fighting in the air as well as on land and sea.

The warfare of the air will have something of the individuality of ancient warfare. The modern sea fight is a conflict of huge and costly machines rather than of men. Victory depends more upon the skill of the men in the shipyard than upon the prowess of the men on the ship.

In the air fight individual prowess and skill will count for almost as much if not quite as much as in the old days of hand to hand conflicts between the crews of small sailing ships. The flying machine can carry only a few men. It is not costly; probably a thousand machines could be built and equipped for war at considerably less cost than one Dreadnought. Much will depend upon whether the guns of the great warship on the water can reach its small and cheap rival in the air.

Perhaps the first battle in the air took place the other day, when a well-known French aviator was attacked by an eagle and escaped with some difficulty. However, before this happened Hubert Latham had startled French sportsmen by shooting wild ducks from his monoplane, the Antoinette. Latham had taken his gun with him for the purpose of shooting from above at a game preserve, but sighting a flock of ducks about a mile over the ocean, he turned his flying machine seaward and started in pursuit. The following description of the hunt is given by a scientific writer: "The ducks flew their best, the flock dividing the two parts. Latham, however, was able to outfly them, to fly all around them in fact, and succeeded in bringing down one of the birds. The remarkable part of this feat is that the airship had to be guided without hands for the moment necessary to aim and fire. It is claimed that the Antoinette is the only airship which can be left without control of the aviator's hands for that purpose."

We may yet have to make laws to protect the birds against the airmen.

WISE IN THE FACE OF DEATH

Walter I. Smith was in a town in his district one night when a mob gathered about the jail for the purpose of lynching two colored men. Mr. Smith heard of what was going on, and mounting the jail steps, he made an impassioned plea to the mob to disperse and not bring discredit on the name of their town through lawlessness. His plea was effective and the negroes were spared.

A few weeks after that he revisited the town. At that time there was a movement to build an asylum for the blind. In opening his speech, which was the beginning of his joint debate with a Democratic orator, Mr. Smith said that the purpose to build the asylum was so wise and so humane that the Republicans of the county invited the Democrats to join with them in raising enough money to make the project feasible.

"I distrust Mr. Smith's remarks about the asylum," said the Democratic fulminator in answering Smith's speech. "He makes political capital out of everything. We Democrats might give our money for that building and wake up to find that the Republicans claimed all the credit for it.

"Why, look what Mr. Smith said in making his speech to save the lives of the two colored men from that mob a few weeks ago. His remarks were eloquent. They were great. They carried his point. But here is how he wound up:

"'Shoot — shoot, if you will, this bald head of mine; but save, oh, save those two black votes for the Republican party!'"

An Unconscious Joke.

"Mr. Lloyd George was once speaking at a Liberal meeting of the unfulfilled prophecies and promises of a certain statesman, and quite accidentally he stretched his arm right over the head of Sir Jeremiah Colman, one of the local pillars of Liberalism, who was sitting close to him on the platform. "We have had enough of those political Jeremiahs," he cried out. The audience rose to the joke, and laughed and clapped vociferously. And, perhaps for the first time in his life, the valiant Welshman stood completely nonplussed, for it was not until the meeting was over that he found out where the humour had come in."

The Dropped Aitch.

"A man who has once murdered the Queen's English always feels as if he'd got the body under the sofa. It's like homicidal mania; the poor wretch may be cured, but he lives in terror of an attack returning. He knows it doesn't matter what he is or what he does; he may live like a saint or write like an archangel; but one aitch omitted from his conversation will wreck him at the last."

A Black Man's Statue.

"In the beautiful city of Buenos Ayres is perhaps the only statue in the world erected by white men to a negro. This is the statue of Falucho, a negro soldier who refused to haul down the Argentine flag at the bidding of the Spanish soldiery, during the first Argentine revolution, and was shot down by the Spanish."

Miniature Aeroplanes.

The production of miniature or model aeroplanes has now been carried to the point of furnishing them with actual motors not much larger than the palm of the hand and capable of driving the toy machines at high speed. One of these miniature aeroplanes which has a length of seven feet, a wing span of eight feet, and which weighs but 7 1-2 pounds, including its motor and gasoline, is driven by a gasoline engine whose dimensions are no more than six inches, by four inches, by two inches.

JOHNSON-WELLS FIGHT

(Intelligencer Special)

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 23.—The betting on the Johnson-Wells fight now stands at five to one in favor of Johnson, a drop from twenty to one. This has been caused by Wells' great showing in his early training. Johnson refuses to train seriously and carries much surplus flesh.

DEATH OF A BANK MANAGER

Word has been received in the city announcing the death of Mr. Frederick G. Williamson, which occurred early this morning at Huntsville. His demise was by no means unexpected, as he had been ill for some months. Deceased, who was 28 years of age, was well known in this city, where he made many friend when connected with the Dominion Bank. He was moved from here to take the position of manager of the Dominion Bank at Hespeler,, which position he held until illness compelled him to retire. Deceased was a bright and affable person beloved by all who knew him. Mr. Williamson five years ago married Miss Sussie O'Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F E O'Flynn, of this city The remains will be brought here for interment.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Griffin Opera House last evening the strong and significant drama, "The County Sheriff," was presented to a large and appreciative audience. It is an attractive play in four acts that not only furnished the entertainment incident to an interesting story well told, but was diffusive of moral benefit to the community. It was not a play that preaches but one that tends to confirm to the mind of every spectator the conviction that true success consists of doing right. All who took part performed their parts well.

CHARGES MAY DEVELOP

May be the Outcome of Coming George Will Case

KINGSTON, Aug. 22.—It is possible that a serious charge against some of the parties interested will develop from the George will case to be heard next fall. The plaintiffs in the case are busy gathering evidence. The fact that the will was found in a very conspicuous slit in the wall of the bedroom of the late Mr. George the day following that on which a search was made for it, is very suspicious. A photograph of the room and the crevice in which the will was found, has been taken.

CENTRAL PRISON FOR VAGRANT

The police this morning answered a call near the G.T.R. station and arrested David Jones, whom, it was alleged, was terrorizing some ladies by making demands for something to eat, and if this wish was not complied with, used insulting language. Jones was brought up before Aldermen Lott and Bogle and pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy. As his record is not a creditable one, he was given six months in the Central Prison.

PRESENTATION AT THE ARMOURIES

Col.-Sergt. E. B. Westover, of the 15th Regiment, was presented with a military walking cane by the Sergeants of the regiment last evening on the eve of his departure for the West. Col.-Sergt. Westover was a very popular and enterprising soldier, and was considered one of the crack shots of the regiment.

During the evening short addresses were made by his comrades, and also by the commanding officer, who regretted the regiment's loss of such a valued non-commissioned officer.

DRUNKS FINED AND PAY PENALTY

Aldermen Bogle and Lott this morning occupied seats upon the bench at the police court and disposed of the cases brought before them.

Drunk and Disorderly.

Frank Corcoran, to the above charge, pleaded guilty, but as it was proved to be not so serious an offence as at first supposed a fine of $1 and costs was imposed.

A Nominal Fine.

Leon Lipto, a Finlander, was fined $1 and costs for being drunk. It was alleged he drew a knife on Gilbert Seams, sen., but the knife was an ordinary pocket knife, and was not opened by the foreigner.

AN APPEAL MADE TO CANADA'S BRITISH BORN

The Reciprocity Pact Denounced by Hawkes Because it Would be Detrimental to Canada

A large and enthusiastic audience gathered in the City Hall last evening to hear Mr. Arthur Hawkes, of Toronto, give an address entitled "An Appeal to Canada's British Born."

The chair was occupied by the Rev. R. C. Blagrave, who said he felt honored at being requested to take the chair at the meeting. First and last he was a Canadian. It was regretful that reciprocity had become party politics. By conviction he was against reciprocity. He did not say this to enhance any party. Reciprocity was too great a subject to be tied up to party politics. Partyism in politics was so great that we often become blinded as to the country's best interest. The country in his opinion should not be divided upon such an important subject as reciprocity. We require more honest men and more tolerant men; we want strong men, British men who are true to their King. In politics we want frankness and honest men. Our country stands in a critical condition at the present time, and as a clergyman he had no excuse to offer in referring to such a matter as reciprocity which should not be considered politically. His remarks were cordially received.

Mr. Hawkes, upon rising to speak, received a hearty welcome, and at once entered upon his subject.

Mr. Hawkes' Address.

He expressed himself as greatly pleased to see such a large audience, and said he hoped that after the meeting they would go away with a better conception of their place in Canadian affairs than they had before.

"It has been said that I am setting the British-born against the native-born, but I want to tell you that he who says that is a first-class fictionist and after I have explained things you will be in a position to judge for yourselves whether they are fictionists or not.

"I would count it a great fortune had I been born on the soil of this fair country, even as the native-born counts it his great fortune, but it is not his fortune any more than those who have made it their home.

"It is left to us to look for compensating advantages, and they are not difficult to find.

"I have heard the word 'immigrant' largely used by the native-born when referring to the British-born, but I would say to them that Canada has been made by the immigrant, and not only Canada, but the whole empire. (Applause). You native-born, what is your greatest boast in regard to your birth? It is that you are descendants of Britishers who came here years ago—you bask in the glory of the old United Empire loyalists who forsook all and came here—that is your boast.

"Then there is another side of the question. The immigrant came, because your government sent for him, yes, embassadors were sent to ask us to come. The government has spent millions and millions of dollars in inducing British-born people to forsake feiends and homes and tradition and places consecrated by sacred dust, and help to build up Canada. The Dominion has become prosperous because the immigrant, the chirper, as well as the capitalist, has arrived. Never forget, brother, that he was besought to come by you, through such people as Lord Strathcona and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. These great men have looked for assets for Canada;

CONSERVATIVES GATHER AT REDNERSVILLE

A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting in Mr, Hepburns Behalf—Able and Patriotic Addresses Delivered

The meeting held at Rednerville last evening in the interest of Mr. B. R. Hepburn, the Conservative candidate in Prince Edward County, showed, as have all previous meetings, what a popular man Mr. Hepburn is, and indicated as well the strong opposition that exists to the proposed scheme of reciprocity. It was stated at the meeting that scores of men in Prince Edward County will do as the Hon. Clifford Sifton and many other prominent men of the Liberal party throughout Canada have announced their intention of doing, work and vote against the pact. Mr. Herman Weese presided at the meeting, which was addressed by J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., E. M. Young, the candidate, Mr. Hepburn, Harry Dempsey and R. A. Norman, MP.P. There never before was such enthusiasm in the Conservative party in Prince Edward County as that which is manifested for the present candidate and for the policy which he represents. Prince Edward may safely be placed among the constituencies that will be behind the coming Prime Minister, Mr. R. L. Borden.

NO APPEALS FOR COURT

PROMINENT DAIRYMAN PASSES AWAY

Mr. James Whitton, who resided at Wellman's Corners, Rawdon Township, died this morning after an extended illness. Deceased, who was about 65 years of age, was one of the most prominent dairymen, not only of Hastings County, but in eastern Ontario. Nearly all his life Mr. Whitton had resided in this county. For a number of years he was identified with the dairy business, having been in early life a cheesemaker. He was for years identified with Plum Grove cheese factory. In later years he was a buyer for well-known cheese exporters, namely, Warrington, Watkins and Jas. Alexander Co. For 20 years Mr. Whitton was a director of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association and occupied other positions in that important association. The deceased had one of the finest dairy herds in this section of the country. He was a member of the Masonic, Orange and A.O.U.W. societies. In religion Mr. Whitton was an Anglican and in politics a Conservative. Deceased was at one time Reeve of Rawdon Township. A wife, four sons and one daughter, who survive, will receive the sincere sympathy of a host of friends, in which The Intelligencer joins.

A WELCOME HOME

On Monday evening the congregation of Centenary Church spent a pleasant evening, when over fifty of the neighbors and friends, met to welcome home Mr. Robt. Hart and bride (Miss Ethel Goldsmith.)

About three weeks ago they had been surprised to hear Miss Goldsmith had been transformed into Mrs. Hart. They had not expected it so soon and now thought this an excellent opportunity to turn the tables.

After a short programme of songs, and many short eulogistic speeches, the chairman, William Vandewaters, called on Mrs. David Thrasher, who read a short address expressing, on behalf of the community, their heart felt appreciation of Mrs. Hart's past services in the church, and asked her to accept a handsome silver colonial tea service as a visible token of their love and esteem. Mrs. Milton Vandewaters presented the tray and tea service. After feeling replies by the bride and groom refreshments were partaken of, the company then dispersing, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hart a long happy and useful life.

CURRENT COMMENT

It's the fruit for Uncle Sam, the core for Jack Canuck.

The full dinner pail for Uncle Sam is the Liberal policy.

Uncle Sam offers Canada the rind of the reciprocity melon.

Reciprocity should not only be nipped in the bud, but pulled out by the roots.

The velvety paw of reciprocity has concealed in it the sharp claws of annexation.

Put your money on Canadian Nationality and Imperial Unity for first and second place. Continentalism will be distanced.

On the whole the coming election looks not only like a Conservative sweep generally ,but one that will gather up most of the Cabinet in the sweeping process.

The numbers of deaths that have occurred from the insane desire to rush through space at artificial speed ought to be sufficient to deter those with any common sense, particularly automobile drivers. Just take it easy.

An "Appeal to the British Born" by Mr. Arthur Hawkes is being severely condemned by the reciprocity newspapers. The Old Cock's chickens are evidently afraid of Hawkes.

Why not just hand Taft a signed blank cheque ,the amount to be filled in at Washington, like this:

Bank of Canadian Resources,
Ottawa.

Pay to the order of Uncle Sam Washington, U. S. A., the sum of $................ (not to exceed the sum of the national future of Canada). .

AFTER OUR RESOURCES

President Taft Explains How He Expects to Get Canadian Pulp Wood

That reciprocity will save the natural resources of the United States at the expense of Canada's is set forth by President Taft in an article contributed by him to Leslie's Weekly. He states that as one of the objects of the Agreement and proceeds to discuss the paper and pulp issue as follows: "In order to induce the Canadian provinces, over whom the Dominion can exercise no control, to lift the restrictions upon the exportation of their pulp wood, it is provided in the agreement that when paper is made in Canada from wood grown on land not under export restrictions, the paper may come into the United States free; and it is hoped that the difference of $5.75 between the duty on paper from restricted wood and no duty on paper made from unrestricted wood will induce the provinces to lift their restrictions. It seems to me that this is treating the paper manufacturers of the United States fairly. It is a provision calculated to secure to them a source of supply where they can get their wood at five dollars less a ton than in this country, with the disadvantage of a small competition of paper made in Canada from Canadian wood upon which there is no restriction."

EAST HASTINGS LIBERALS SELECT A CANDIDATE

P. P. Clarke of St. Ola, Consents to Enter Forlorn Race for Grits

The Liberals of East Hastings met at the village of Tweed yesterday for the purpose of nominating a candidate to oppose Mr. W. B. Northrup, K.C., the popular Conservative ex-member of that riding. The meeting was fairly well attended and was presided over by Mr. Wm. Cross, President of the Association.

The first business considered was the election of officer, which resulted as follows:

President—Dennis Hanley.
Secretary—James Clare.
Treasurer—Wm. Cross.

Vice-Presidents were selected from the various municipalities in the riding.

When nominations of a candidate were called for, the following names were proposed: Messrs. P. P. Clarke, N. Vermilyea, J. Dale, Thos. McCann, Wm. Cross, E. J. Butler and J. K. McCargar

Upon a vote being taken Mr. Clarke received the largest number of votes and he was made the unanimous choice.

In accepting the nomination Mr. Clarke made an address, speaking in favor of reciprocity. Brief addresses were also given by the other nominees.

The candidate is an ex-Warden of the county, and is at present Reeve of Limerick Township.

The meeting endorsed the reciprocity pact and closed with cheers for the candidate, Sir Wilfrid, Hon. A. G. McKay and the King.

MONEYLESS IN EUROPE

Many American Students Eager to Borrow Enough to Get Home

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 21.—Europe is full of penniless American college men anxious to borrow enough money to get home, according to Frank P. Bagnall, son of A. C. Bagnall, Principal of East School, Lakewood, who has just returned from a European tour which cost him exactly $80 in cash.

Bagall made the trip in company with Carlton Small, son of a Jamestown N. Y., minister, who like himself, is a student at Adelbert College here. In the early part of July they started out with only $25 in their pockets and visited London, Paris ad other European points for 26 days and then returned to America. They worked their way over the ocean both going and coming, earned a little money after arriving and borrowed the remainder of the sum required to pay their expenses from friends they met in Paris.

"We met American College men doing Europe like ourselves wherever we went," said Bagnall. "Almost invariably they were 'brok' and wanted to borrow money to get home."

Bagnall and Small had 6 cents apiece when they arrived in Paris.

Parasities in Business.

Every class of business accumulates a parasitic growth of traditions and customs as it grows older. Banking, for instance, has its customs or etiquette, which, in the case of the older banks hide-bound by this "professional etiquette," effectively prevents anything like a rapid expansion of business. Many other classes of business, again, are only just now waking up to the possibilities of advertising and finding out how much they have lost in past years by not using this force.

MOTOR BOATING

Motor boat races will be held at Thousand Island Park this week under the auspices of the Park Yacht Club. Severals of the speediest boats in the Islands will compete. Among these it was announced today, will be the guess-not, the boat that defeated Skit II., the Gold Challenge Cup winner, in the Gananoque races last week.

CLEAN FACE, STARVES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Park Row newsies put Hyman Wolbert, 15, of Boston out of business because he insisted on coming around with his face washed and his shoes shined. He almost starved to death.

Better results follow from the use of Miller's Compound Iron Pills than from any others. Fo rsale by D. M Waters.

FOR ECZEMA

A Treatment That Is Guaranteed to Give Relief.

Eczema is parasitic in nature. It is said to be a contageous disease. Until the parasite or germ hidden in the skin is completely destroyed and removed, eczema cannot be cured. Fully one-third of all skin disease is in the form of eczema. It affects persons of all ages and classes. It is very prevalent among people between the ages of 20 and 40.

We unhesitatingly guarantee to return every cent paid us for Rexall Eczema Ointment in every case where it fails to give entire satisfaction. It possesses remarkable cleassing, antiseptic, healing asd curative power. Its great value is very pronounced in the treatment of eczema, whether of the dry, scaly sort or of the weeping type, where there is a constant flow of ill-smelling excretion or of the other intermediary forms, such as ringworm, acne, pimples, blotches and discolorations.

Rexall Eczema Ointment is very useful in treating ulcers, sores, wounds, insect bites, nettle rash and hives. It is particularly recommended for the treatment of children who are tormented with itching, burning and disfiguring skin disease. We urge you to try a box at our risk. Your money waits you if you are not satisfied with the treatment. Two sizes, 5c. and $1.00. Remember, you can only obtain Rexall Eczema Ointment in this town at our store—The Rexall Store. J. S. Will All the Races Gathering in Canada Be Melted in One People?

Will all the races and nationalities gathering in Canada from all around the world be melted into one people, harmonious physically and mentally?

Mayor Taylor, of Vancouver, in an address in Vancouver, asserts that they will, and says that the public schools in Manitoba will be the melting pots.

"In our schools," he said, the children have the same teachers, the same books, the same songs, and I have always said that the schools would make us all a unit.

"For my part, it seems to me now that the children of all nationalities in the schools come out with a different kind of face to their forefathers. The noses of some of them are a little shorter and of others a little longer, and the high cheek bones go down a little in others, and an Canadian face is even now coming out of the public schools, because the mind, you know, does affect the body, without any doubt whatever, and in that way also we are getting a sort of uniform mind.

"Surely we are not getting a uniform face without there being a uniform mind with it, and in that way we will become one people. A great many people have misgivings about that. I may say that I have none."

The "New Woman" League is about to inaugurate an energetic campaign against kissing the baby. Cudding will still be allowed out all osculation is tabooed. Especially are father and grandfather exhorted to spare their kisses, as whiskers, mustaches, —even the fashionable French kind —and unoffensive looking "stubbles" are declared by health authorities to be favorite taunts of disease-germs.

—The late Lord Young of the Scottish bench was responsible for enlivening many a dull case. One of the remarks that fell from his lips was the reply to a counsel who urged on behalf of a plaintiff of very bibulour appearance: "My client, my lord, is a most remarkable man, and holds a very responsible position; he is manager of some water works."

After a long look the judge answered: "Yes, he looks like a man who could be trusted with any amount of water."

Disillusioned

"Do you know anything about flirting."

"No," he replied. "I thought I did, but when I tried it the girl married me."

BELLEVILLE VERY SORE.

Belleville fans who accompanied the team to the city, Saturday, to see the exhibition game with the C. L. C.'s were a very sore bunch when the game was over. According to reports they left some of their money behind them, as a result of the score. However, they are confident that their team will make good in Belleville when the local boys go up there. If the umpire who looks after the game in Belleville, Wednesday, is straight the C. L. C.'s can win for they have a superior team.—Kingston Whig.

HAVE YOU A BAD SORE?

If so, remember these facts—Zam-Buk is by far the most widely used balm in Canada! Why has it become so popular? Because it heals sores, cures skin diseases, and does what is claimed for it. Why not let it heal your sore?

Remember that Zam-Buk is altogether diffrent to the ordinary ointments. Most of these consist of animal fats. Zam-Buk contains no trace of any animal fat, or any mineral matter. It is absolutely herbal.

Remember that Zam-Buk is at the same time healing, soothing, and antiseptic. Kills poison instantly and all harmful germs. It is suitable alike for recent injuries and diseases and chronic sores, ulcers, etc. Test how diffrent and superior Zam-Buk really is. All druggists and stores at 50c. box. Use also Zam-Buk Soap. Best for baby's bath. 25c. tablet.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Cures and Prevents SEA SICKNESS

Take the Relief as a preventive and remedy. It is a pure diffusive stimulant and this is what is chiefly needed. The Pills may be given also, to promote free discharges by the natural channel. On account of the marvelous and unparalleled effect of the Relief in stopping pain and inflammation, it is invaluable in railway and steamboat accidents. Never travel without it, as accidents are continually happening.

Ask for Radway's and take no Subtitutes.

TUNNEL UNDER CHANNEL

Would Facilitate the Exchange of Goods Between Britain and the Continent

Nothing more epoch-making could happen to Great Britain than the construction of a tunnel under the English Channel. It would play a vast role in the development of Africa, and people would be week-ending in Algeria, if not at the Cape. But its principal and immediate advantage would be the arrival in bulk of the goods from the Continent and vice-versa. Flowers and fruits from the South of France could arrive in Covent Garden from their refrigerating vans as fresh as when they were gathered, whilst pottery and cottons from England's manufacturing centres could be distributed with rapidity, without breakages and intermediate handlings, to the various continental markets.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

"Very likely my cousin knows you by name and reputation, as he was head clerk in the Vermont office; but lumbering is not my line of business."

"Do you resemble the cousin referred to?"

"We are alike as twins."

"And you say his name was John?"

"Yes, sir."

"Your cousin has worked here. He was with us up to six months ago. He first applied for work as an ordinary man, and I sent him to Jamestown, where office hands were short; but owing to an unusual knowledge of the business, he was transferred to Fargo as head clerk under my eldest son. From there he was changed to this office, where he was of reagt value to us. I never felt more keenly the loss of an assistant. He did nearly all my private work, until I became really neglectful of my business, such was my confidence in him. I have often thought he sprung from some thing higher, but we never suspected he was the son of my old friend, as he went under the name of John Graham. For some reason he decided to leave us, and although I offered to add fifty dollars a month to his salary, we couldn't hold him."

"Money was no object to him; he is the only heir to an immense fortune. Have you any idea where he went?"

"He failed to enlighten us; but I learned that he bought a ticket for Duluth."

"I am very thankful for so much information," said Alex. "Duluth is on my route."

"Did Robert Grant send you in search of John?"

"Yes, sir; and I have travelled from Vermont to California and this far back. You have given me the first clue to his whereabouts."

"My opinion is that he has not gone very far; that is, more than a day's travel," suggested Mr. Wheeler.

"I believe he is somewhere within these northwestern regions. The fact that he has worked here within six months is most encouraging, as it is more than likely that he is alive. Was he in good health at the time he left your employ?"

"Yes, he was quite robust. I never knew him to be ill a day. But how does it happen that he is away from home when he is needed so much in his father's business? Any trouble?"

"Simply a misunderstanding that can be readily adjusted if they can be brought together. Uncle Robert is, or has been, stern and sometimes tyrannical toward his subordinates, while John is just the opposite, and disposed to bestow privileges. They finally clashed, and rather than submit to what John considered a gross injustice, he resigned his position as head clerk and left the city. Uncle Robert has seen his terror, repented, accorded the rights John advocated, and sent me out to find him. It is costing some money, but Robert Grant can bear the expense without feeling it."

"I should say so. He must be worth over two million," said Mr. Wheeler, thoughtfully. "But I admire John's stand. He is the soul of honor, and has a great heart."

"My cousin is true to the core, and would even suffer an injustice rather than see a fellow-being wronged. He must be found, Mr. Wheeler, or Uncle Robert will die of grief. He now sees the need of John, not only in business, but socially. I dare not return without him."

"I want you to find him; and to expedite the search I will try to arrange for a first-class guide and woodsman to accompany you. I have a man in the yard who is a professional trapper and huntsman; he is arranging to leave for the woods the first of next week. He is a veritable bushwhacker, and knows every logging camp and lumber yard between here and Michigan. I will try and induce Duffy to take up your search, as he is a safe man, and will guard you against many a mishap. The case is particularly interesting to me on account of my long acquaintance and friendship with your uncle, as well as a deep regard for the son."

"I appreciate your offer, Mr. Wheeler, and will gladly accept the services of an experienced woodsman. I have been seriously handicapped from the beginning of my search on account of ignorance of the forest trails."

Mr. Wheeler sent a young man for the prospective assistant, and a few moments later Duffy, a tall, raw-boned man of about forty, entered the private office. He was particularly loose-jointed in his walk, with a silent, sliding step characteristic of the huntsman; a brown beard finished the sunburned face—a face, by the way, unusually attractive, not because of its rugged beauty, but on account of the quiet, unpretentious expression of its depth of character. It was a face to inspire confidence, yet, as later developments manifested, dangerously stern when aroused to defensive action. A feeling of intense pleasure took possession of young Grant as he looked up into the bronzed face and noted the kind, yet keen eyes. He at once decided that this experienced woodsman should be engaged at any price within reason, and awaited anxiously the result of the interview with the lumberman.

"How would you like an extended vacation on full pay, Dennis?" asked Mr. Wheeler, kindly, at the same time pointing to a chair. "This young gentleman is searching for a cousin, and I wish to assist him as far as possible. We have reason to believe that he is somewhere in the lumbering districts, and I have decided you are the man to guide him. It may take a month, it may require more time; but I will make it an object for you to see him through."

"I've been calculating on looking after my traps for the next three months, and gave Ralston my notice to leave Saturday night," he said in a quiet voice. "But seeing it's for you, and in a good cause, and we will be in the woods anyhow, it don't make much difference. The trail is the trail to me this time of the year whether it's trappin' game or huntin' up lost folks. You've been powerful good to me, Mr. Wheeler, and as I hain't never had no chance to show my real feelings, you can count on Den Duffy to see this job through. When do we start?"

"Mr. Grant will be a guest at my house for a week," replied Mr. Wheeler, much pleased with Duffy's willingness to take up the hunt. "You can make all arrangements with him there."

"But I can scarcely afford the time, Mr. Wheeler," said Alex. "Your information has so buoyed me up that I am anxious to be moving. I am sure Mr. Duffy and I will get on admirably. His knowledge of the woods will more than double the speed I have been making."

(To be continued.)

NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS

THIRD LINE BREEZES.

We are sorry that the statement on Aug. 10th saying that Mr. S. C. Emerson and son had sold their farm appeared in these columns, but we published the statement in good faith, as we got it from our correspondent.

PARHAM.

The baseball team at Mountain Grove had a very successful social on last Friday night.

The new English minister who was to come here found a better parish in Niagara Diocese. All the people wish that Mr. Forster, who is very popular, would come and live in the parsonage.

Baseball is very popular just now. A match was played on Saturday afternoon between the local team and Verona, the latter meeting a severe defeat. The score was 14 to 3.

FOURTH LINE.

The harvesting is nearly over and the busy hum of the threshing machine is heard.

Miss Myrtle Phillips, of Stratford, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Daniel Phillips.

Miss Lottie Keech of Napanee, who was visiting her aunt, Mrs. S. aWlker, has returned home and Miss Etta Walker accompanied her.

Miss Evelyn and Miss Hazel Caverly, of Stirling, are visiting at Mr. C. Vanallen's.

Mr. Francis Purdy left for the west last week.

Miss S. Ross and Miss G. Benmore spent one day last week with Mrs. Walker.

Mr. D. Ransome, of Ohio, is visiting in this vicinity.

Miss F. Phillips, Miss M. Phillips and Miss K. Marshall were visiting on the Fifth lately.

Miss Blanche Leslie, who was visiting in Foxboro, has returned home.

Master Wilfred Ross, of Belleville, is visiting his aunt, Miss Ross.

Miss Stella Way's health is speedily improving.

Miss Winnie Leslie is visiting in Bannockburn.

Many people from this line attended the excursion to Peterboro' and all report a good time.

CORBYVILLE.

Mrs. J. Pound and son, Roy, who have been visiting friend at Gilmour, have returned home.

WEW YORK, Aug. 19.—By five years worry over a dog bite Mrs. Amanda Irwin became so thoroughly convinced that she was a victim of hydrophobia that she is in Bellevue Hospital today with almost every sympton of the disease. When her blood was examined the physicians could not find a trace of the rabies virus and the doctors agree that it is an extreme case auto-suggestion.

Mrs. Irwin was bitten five years ago by a dog believed to have had the rabies. She worried considerably and several months ago when a neighbor's child died from rabies she became alarmed and talked of nothing but rabies. Yesterday she startled the nighbors by screaming and barking like a dog. Kicking and snarling she was removed to the hospital. Three men had to be called to get her in astraight jacket and before they succeeded she twice had bitten the arms of one of them. The doctors declare she may lose her mind completely.

MELVILLE.

Mrs. Herb Morton, of Belleville, is visiting friends in this place.

Mrs. Trimble, of Toronto, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. Osborne, Lakeside.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Sanford, Mrs. Ketchum, Mr. and Mrs. Brice Ketchum and Mr. Robt. Ownes, who have been camping here for several weeks, left for their home in Rochester on Friday last.

Mr. Mont Stapleton, of Chicago, and Mr. S. Thorn, of Toronto, were guests of Mr. F. H. Jones last week.

Miss Louella Demille, of Demorestville, is the guest of Miss Jessie Eaton.

Miss Ruth Vincent, of Belleville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. Zuefelt.

Miss Mildred Eaton is visiting friends in Rochester.

Miss Hansford, Miss Thompson and Mr. Earnest Lawrence, all of Toronto, spent several days in this place last week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Carley.

Miss Ethel French returned to Toronto on Saturday.

Miss Ada Kinnear, of Picton, visited friends in this place recently.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Weeks visited friends in Trenton over Sunday.

THE COCKROACH

How To Massacre Him!

Cockroaches are so different from the regular pattern of insect that they are little short of freaks, yet the 13 rings of the larvae are all present. The tibia, the next to the last join of the leg, is provided with teeth to aid in holding its prey; hence the name raportis, or graspers. A few cockroaches will clear the house of bedbugs as effectually as a weasel would clear it of rats. It is presumed, however, that housekeepers don't need or wish to harbor cockroaches for that purpose, and would like a few pointers on roach extermination, something quicker than pulling their heads off.

There are two convenient and effectual methods of freeing the house of roaches. Roaches are great gluttons, will eat almost anything, and are easy to reach with poison. Spread phosphorus paste on bits of soft bread and lay it near their haunts. Another exterminator is chocolate and borax finely powdered and thoroughly mixed and dusted into the crevices. The roaches are fond of chocolate, and the borax adheres to the chocolate. This must adhere to the chocolate. This mixture has the double advantage of being cheap and non-poisonous to man.

Assisting the Judge.

A case was being tried in the West of England and at its termination the judge adressed the jury, and they retired for consultation. Hour after hour passed and no verdict was brought in.

The judge's dinner hour arrived and he became hungry and impatient.

Upon enquiry he learned that one obstinate juryman was holding out against eleven. This was more than he could endure, so he ordered the twelve men to be brought before him. He told them that in his address to them he had so plainly stated the case and the law that the verdict ought to be unanimous, and the man who permitted his individual opinion to weigh against the judgment of eleven men of wisdom was unfit and disqualified ever again to act in the capacity of jurymen.

At the end of this excited harangue a little squaky voice came from one of the jury. It said:

"Will Your Lordship allow me to say a word?"

Permission being given, the owner of the voice added:

"May it please Your Lordship, I am the only man on your side!"

The Bread Would Burn.

The error into which King Alfred fell in that famous instance when he let the cakes left in his care burn, is not going to be repeated by the telegraph operator of whom Arthur W. North tells in 'Camp and Camino in Lower California.'

'I learned at this point that for the first 500 miles before me I would require more change than I had on hand, and would pass through no place where cheques could be cashed. Moreover, my drafts were used up.

'In this dilemma I wired for money. After four days of exasperating delays, I received this satisfying message from the obliging operator of the wireless office:

"Operators on other coast may be have two messages for some one, but his bread in oven — wife she away — and might burn if he leave it long. After lunch he transmit message."

Absent-minded beggar, our eloquent Prime Minister. He forgot to say a word about the Oliver charges at Simcoe.

WISCONSIN TO TRY STATE INSURANCE.

Annuities and Policies from $100 to $3000.—No Paid Agents.

The signing of the Wisconsin life insurance bill by Governor McGovern commits Wisconsin to state insurance. Beginning in 1913 the state will conduct a life and annuity insurance business on its own hook.

The bill provides for the establishment of an insurance department under the management of the state insurance commissioner, to be conducted along the lines of the ordinary mutual insurance corporation. Annuities are to range from $100 to $300 and life policies from $500 to $3000.

The business will all be done through the insurance commissioner's office. There will be no paid agents. The aim is to give insurance at lowest possible rate.

A Change of Tune

It is not many months ago that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in one of his speeches, said:

"Canada to-day is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians, beginning with myself, would have given many things to obtain the American market, but thank Heaven, those days are passed and over."

Nor was it long ago that Sir Wilfrid declared:—

"There was a time when we were wanting reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts and our offers were put aside and negatived. We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

Nor are all the people yet dead who heard Sir Wilfrid in impassioned and ringing tones cry:

"But I have found that the best and most effective way to maintain friendship with our American neighbors is to be absolutely independent of them."

Any comment on these quotations from Sir Wilfrid's speeches of a year or two ago is quite superfluous. What has brought about such a remarkable and sudden change on a matter of such vital consequence to the future of this country? Will Sir Wilfrid kindly explain? No, he won't! An explanation is impossible. But all Canadians can still echo his pious sentiment: "Thank heaven those days (when we favored reciprocity) are past and over."

Anti-Reciprocity Liberals

(Montreal Star.)

A Liberal anti-reciprocity candidate is just as good a man to vote for as a Conservative anti-reciprocity candidate.

This is not a party fight. Reciprocity—as our Liberal friends are always insisting— is not a party question. There was a time when the Conservatives were reciprocitarians. There was a "standing offer" of a measure of reciprocity in the National Policy itself —that bulwark of Canadian integrity.

The apologists for reciprocity are, of course, making a dishonest and misleading use of this latter fact just now. They ignore the entire change in conditions, wrought largely by this very National Policy. They talk as if the Canada of 1911 were the Canada of 1854 or of 1878.

Still that is quite mild for party unscrupulousness and virulence. We do not expect the PAID PRESS to be honest within six weeks of polling day.

But what we want to say is that this is not a party election, but a reciprocity election. It is not a question of putting Sir Wilfrid Laurier out and Mr. R. L. Borden in.

IT IS A QUESTION OF FOILING THE FIRST MOVE IN A GREAT AMERICAN CONSPIRACY FOR THE CONQUEST OF CANADA.

Thousands of Liberals are going to vote against reciprocity.

Still they remain Liberals. They are just as good Liberals, in fact, as they ever were, or as there are in the country. They are ardent admirers of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and agree with him on his general policy. BUT THEY HAVE TOO MUCH, PERSONALLY, AT STAKE TO PERMIT HIM AT THE BACK OF MR. FIELDING TO MAKE THE ERROR OF HIS CAREER, AND BRING RUIN UPON THE NATION BECAUSE OF HIS FATAL FASCINATION FOR A POLICY WHICH WAS A GOOD POLICY WHEN HE WAS FORMING HIS POLITICAL CONVICTIONS AS A YOUNG MAN.

Some of these patriotic Liberals have been early in the field; and they are well-known. Many of them are leaders in finance, in commerce, in industry. They are men with a stake in the country. Thousands of others, however, are making no noise about their proposed act of renunciation and sacrifice—for it is a sacrifice when a life-long Liberal finds he must vote for a candidate with the Tory colors in his button-hole.

They are realizing the paramount position of this reciprocity issue in the West. In one constituency the Conservative candidate has announced himself in favor of reciprocity. In other constituencies the Liberals have coalesced with the Grain Growers or have decided to support Grain Grower candidates out and out. They know what they are voting on out there; and they are not permitting party ties to trammel them. They can attend to "party" next year or next election whenever it comes; but reciprocity must be got or dropped this year. And the Grain Growers, who mistakenly want it, and who want just as badly to wipe out the last vestige of protection, are ruthlessly rushing after it in this campaign, utterly without reference to party or other political issues.

Obviously the Liberals in the East should be as wise as the Grain Growers in the West. They should be as free from party glamor or hereditary prejudice. If they look the situation fairly in face, they know that they, at all events, do not want reciprocity. And if the Grain Growers of the West have the sturdy independence which enables them to "sink party" at such a crisis, why should the Liberals of the East be less plucky, less shrewd, less patriotic?

We have made it clear that we think of the case of Mr. German, of Welland. He is a Liberal who stood out from his party in the House of Commons, and opposed this vicious proposal. He should be able to count on the support of every anti-reciprocity man in his county; and especially should this be true if the official Liberals—as is rumored—run a straight party candidate against him. Party should disappear at such a national crisis as the present.

Of course, we must take no chances on being deceived. We must be sure that the candidate for whom we vote, be he Liberal or Conservative, will actually stand up in Parliament and vote against reciprocity, no matter what the Government or how many Governments he smashes.

WHERE A LIBERAL CANDIDATE ASKS TO BE ACCEPTED AS AN ANTI-RECIPROCITY CHAMPION, HE MUST DO SO WITH THE GREATEST PUBLICITY ON RECORD, AND UNDER CONDITIONS WHICH RENDER IT ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE FOR HIM TO RECANT.

We say this because whisperers are already at work assuring opponents of reciprocity that this or that Liberal candidate is "all right" on this question. We must beware of secret professions to catch votes. A candidate who will not stand with us in the full light of day before election, will not be very dependable after election.

WONDERFUL BILL.

Attractions at C. N. E. this year are Novel and Numerous.

The Canadian National Exhibition of 1911 fairly bristles with special attractions. The Coronation Procession, an exact reproduction of the London pageant features the bill, but it is a close competitor in the Festival of Empire with its hundreds of troops in all the varied uniforms of the service and its twelve military bands to furnish the necessary music. The acquatic events, too, are important, comprising two international yacht races, an eight-oared race between the all-conquering Argonauts of Toronto and a picked crew the crack New York clubs, a single America, and Scholes, winner of the winner of the Diamond Sculls at Henley, war canoe races, and motor boat races.

Add to these the acres of exhibits, the macchinery in motion, the horse races and athletics, the vaudeville and fire works, and the thousand and one other attractions of the Big Fair, and it must be admitted that two weeks' solid enjoyment have been arranged for the hundreds of thousands of visitors.

At the annual asparagus show in Evesham, England, the prize bundle of 120 heads of asparagus, weighing 21 pounds 9 ounces, was auctioned off to a Covent Garden, London, purchaser for the extraordinary price of $48.67.

WILL CARRY FURTHER THAN MAN CAN SEE.

New Gun With Range of 15 Miles to be Mounted in Battleship Turrets.

A gun that will carry its projectile clear out of sight is the style that is to be placed in the turrets of the new battleship of the New York type. One of these guns has been made at the Washington factory and a dozen others are to follow as rapidly as the great lathes can turn them out. The gun has been tried out at the proving ground and has shown that it is without doubt the most powerful naval weapon in the world. With a muzzle velocity of 2400 feet a second, the shell will have range of about 14 or 15 miles; consequently, it will land far beyond the horizon at extreme elevations. It might hit a ship that the gunners could not see; a friend or an enemy, perhaps. Hence, the ordonance officers will be unusually careful when ships mounting these great guns go out for target practice.

WHAT BECOMES OF OLD BOOTS!

What becomes of old boots and shoes has hitherto been almost as puzzling a problem as what becomes of all the pins. The solution, however, is given in a trade journal. "Old boots and shoes of leather," the journal says, "are cut up into small pieces, and then are put for two days into chloride of sulfur, the effect of which is to make the leather very hard and brittle. When this is fully effected the material is withdrawn from the action of the chloride of sulfur, washed with water, dried and ground to powder. It is then mixed with some substance that will cause it to adhere together, such as shellac or other resinous material, or even a good glue, and a thick solution of strong gum. It is afterward pressed into moulds to form combs, buttons and a variety of other useful articles.

"Prussiate of potash is also made out of old leather heated with pearlash and old iron hoops in a large pot. The nitrogen and carbon form cyanogen, and then unite with the iron and potassium. The soluble portions are dissolved out, and the resulting salt, added to one of iron, produces the well-known Prussian blue, either for dyeing purposes or for use as a pigment."

FEED THE BRUTE

Are Man's Affections Ruled By His Stomach? Preacher Says "Yes"

Brides must learn to bake if they expect to make their husbands happy, says Rev. John L. Belford, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of the Nativity of Brooklyn, who explains his views this way:

"When a young man vows to love and cherish for better or for worse he never dreams that she will forget the salt in cooking or bake bread that will be soggy in the center and armor plated on the outside.

"It is all right to let looks and dancing and clever talking have a share in the attractions that lead a man to the jewelry store for a ring, but he finds her beauty is somewhat changed without the usual makeup, that dancing is a poor substitute for lunch, and, as for talking, there will come a time when he will set a premimum on an hour of perfect quiet."

German Deal Over Persia.

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Matin says that Germany and Russia are about to sign an accord over Persia, in which Germany will abandon political interests in the northern half of Persia, and abstain from asking for railroad and telegraph concessions. Russia, the paper says, by the compact will agree to unite in the future the Russian railroads in Persia with the German Bagdad Railroad, and also extend the open door in Persia to German commerce and industry. The Matin adds that the accord will not affect the triple alliance.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

ONE

THE HOME MARKET

The Loss of Reciprocity in 1866 Resulted in the Creation of Profitable Industries for Canada

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It is true that both political parties in Canada formerly desired a measure of Reciprocity with the United States. But that was when trade generally was small and depressed, and before proof had been given that, on the line of antagonism to Canadian prosperity, laid down by the United States, Canada could flourish as an exporter of farm and forest products and be essentially independent of the United States.

There was a Reciprocity Treaty between the two countries from 1854 to 1866, which advanced the price of Canadian farm produce. But the Crimean War in the first half and the United States Civil War in the second half of the Reciprocity period raised prices everywhere. The Canadian farmer came to depend upon the United States for his market.

He received a severe lesson when Reciprocity was withdrawn. But, instead of being ruined, he found a more stable market in Great Britain, which has persisted to this day. Instead of sending his crops across the border he fed them on the farm, retained and improved the fertility of the soil, and by selling dairy produce and cattle became more permanently prosperous than was possible under a delusively profitable market across the line.

In time the National Policy expanded the farmer's home market. The gold he received for his produce, instead of going out of the country to purchase goods, was kept in Canada for those who had begun to make things that formerly had been imported, and who bought things of him that otherwise would have gone abroad. This meant better prices for the producer, as it also meant greater earning and spending power in the manufacturing towns.

This change was slow, as men count time; but swift in the reckoning of nations. It was accompanied by a conspicuous disadvantage—young Canadians left Canada by the thousands for the United States, where Canada was regarded as a poor relation.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

TWO

OLD CONDITIONS HAVE PASSED

The Four Reasons Which Produced Continentalists Have Died Natural Deaths

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The drain of population from Canada to the United States was the fundamental reason for such organizations as the Continental Association, of which the late Goldwin Smith was president. Mr. Smith, in a letter accepting the presidency, gave four reasons for the propaganda of the Association:—

1. The population was standing still.
2. The backward condition of the manufacturing industries and the inferiority of their production.
3. The condition of agriculture, our farmers barely making a living, while tenant farmers were considered clever to make ends even meet.
4. The exodus of young Canadian manhood to the United States.

There were two factors in Canadian development which the Continentalists of that day did not appreciate, and which inevitably produced a third, which wrought considerable harm to the country.

In the first place the Continentalists did not see that the exodus to the United States would not continue indefinitely, because the unoccupied lands of the Republic would fill up, and Canada's turn would come. In the second place they did not really believe that Canada was a country of practically unlimited producing power.

These two things together inevitably prevented the Continentalists from having a great vision of the future of Canada. They thought she would always be commercially dependent on the United States. They saw no future in which Canada could be the lynch-pin of an Empire more spacious and more splendid than the United States could ever be. They said "Go to, let us make the most of our neighbor." They did not know how to say "Go to, let us make the most of ourselves."

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

THREE

SAID "GOOD-BYE RECIPROCITY"

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Justification of the Defeat He Sustained in 1891

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The starting of industries, the building of a railway across an empty continent, left Canada in a condition of strain. The lack of faith, of which the Continental cry was a model expression, meant a lack of works. Few of the millions of people who desired to forsake the Old World learned of Canada. The population continued stationary. Progress was painfully slow.

But, in due time, the movement of people into Canada began. It was presently accompanied by a movement of capital, until, at last, everybody saw that the hour of Canada had come. The final proof of it was vouchsafed when the exodus from Canada to the United States was more than balanced by an exodus from the United States to Canada.

Right up to the time that Canada became known to the people of Europe there was a hankering after Reciprocity. In 1891 a general election was fought on the question, and the advanced Reciprocitarians were beaten. The issue was destined to keep away from the ballot-box for more than twenty years.

The Liberal party, in pursuance of a platform written in 1893, asked Washington for Reciprocity in 1897, and was repelled. The immigration tide then began to flow, and is flowing still. At that very time the instinct which had turned aside from the Reciprocity advocated in 1891 re-asserted itself—this time in the unfamiliar guise of a Liberal Government—and in 1898 the offer of Reciprocity which had stood for many years on the Canadian Statute Book was repealed. The repeal was happily endorsed at the Imperial Conference in London by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who said:

"There was a time when we were wanting reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts were put aside. We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

FOUR

MONEY IN THE BANKS

And Great Increases in Trade Have Made Canada a Brighter Britain

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's repudiations of Reciprocity with the United States beginning in 1898 and continuing until 1907, was endorsed by Liberals and Conservatives alike. The country was behind him. The future was before him.

Remember the difference between the Canada of that day and the Canada which Sir Wilfrid vainly thinks has turned back, with hungry eyes to the policy he so patriotically abandoned.

At the time of the joyful abandonment of the idea that the United States could be the main prop and stay of Canadian prosperity the Canadian people had $236,161,062 in the banks. To-day they have $925,000,000 in the banks. Then their trade beyond their own borders was $304,475,736 a year. Now it is $649,000,000.

Then the flow of British capital was so small that no returns were available. Last year $185,000,000 came from Britain to Canada, exclusive of individual amounts for investments, and the money brought by 112,000 people who came from Britain to Brighter Britain.

The magnificent point of this situation is that the turning away from the United States (which for thirty years had treated Canada as a commercial factor with good-natured contempt), and the new-found belief that Canada could march along the road to nationhood without regard to the business goodwill of the United States; were followed by an expansion of business that the firmest believer in her destiny would not have dared to prophesy in the days when Reciprocity was an Article of Faith and a veritable Promise of Hope to so many people.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

FIVE

THE FARMER RECEIVES MORE

Prices For Which He Sells Have Increased More Rapidly than the Cost of What He Buys

By JOHN V. BORNE.

"The wise man often changes his mind; the fool never"—a way of saying that the political wisdom of to-day is the political foolishness of to-morrow. Nothing is more valuable than the teachings of history. Nothing is more futile than piling up proofs that many years experience have changed the point of view of a man or a party of men.

It is nothing to show that Sir John Macdonald was serious or merely astute in advocating Reciprocity, forty, thirty, twenty years ago. He is not with us now. We have conditions to which his utterances do not apply. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's position is different. He was an advocate of Reciprocity. On his experience he renounced it. The commercial conditions which caused him to renounce it —the prosperity of Canada without it—have become greatly accentuated in every particular.

The farmer particularly has flourished. The Dominion Government reports show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, like this:—

Grain and fodder, including thirteen selected standard commodities, 49.9 per cent.

Cattle and cattle products, hogs and hog products, sheep and sheep products, fowl and turkeys, 48.6 per cent.

Dairy products, 33 per cent.

And that the price of goods the farmer has to buy have not risen to an equal extent, as this list shows:—

Woollen goods	23.3	per cent.
Cotton goods	25	"
Boots and shoes	25	"
Metals and implements	2.4	"
Imported goods—decrease	4	"

The staple lines, which represent over 90 per cent. of the farmer's expenditure have only increased 14.3 per cent., while the goods he sells have increased 35.7 per cent.

Agriculture is the basic industry of Canada. If its prosperity grows in greater ratio than that of other industries, it is in the doubly happy position of flourishing itself and enabling others to flourish.

This has happened with a home market that is nothing like as big as it will be. Canada has only really begun her manufacturing career, if she is permitted to retain her fiscal independence.

Dog's Eye Grafted on Man's.

That a person totally blind from ophthalmia, even from birth, can be made to see by having a portion of a dog's eye grafted on his own was the startling communication made by Dr. Borsch, an American oculist, in a paper read before the meeting of the French Ophthalmological Society recently.

Dr. Borsch explained that as a result of blindness from ophthalmia, as also from some other causes, the cornea, which is the transparent membrane in front of the eye, becomes opaque, and in such a case the only chance of restoring sight is to replace the defective cornea by a healthy one.

To perform this feat Dr. Borsch first operates on a dog and lays back from its eye the conjunctiva or skin of the eyeball surrounding the cornea. He removes a portion of the latter and places it aside in blood serum. He then performs the same operation on the patient's eye, removing part of the front of the eye of the same size as the cornea taken from the animal.

The dog's cornea is now placed in position on the human eye and secured with stitches of the finest possible silk, the surrounding skin, which had been laid back, being brought into place over the edge of the cornea and also sewn.

The new graft unites with the eye in a few days, aided by a temporary glass cover to keep it in shape and injections of serum to stimulate vitality.

Pat had been to the races, and had lost all his cash on "dead certs" which had not "come off." Feeling excessively thirsty, he called upon his native wit to help him, and walked into a hostelry, where he entered into conversation with a gentleman, and inquired his age.

"My age is thirty-seven," answered the stranger. "What's yours?"

"Bedad, ye're a gintleman," replied Pat. "Oi'll just be afther havin' a drop of the cratur."

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been infected for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became enthused. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. A New League Been Organized To Abate Public Smoking.

The "Non-Smokers' Protective League" has been organized with the avowed purpose of abating public smoking as a nuisance.

Of course the bare announcement of the organization of such a league is the cue for all smokers to break into dirisive laughter. The smoking fraternity simply assumes that smoking is here to stay and that the unfortunate non-smoking public must either learn to smoke or grin and bear the fumes of tobacco.

It is true of course, that the smoking public is considerably in the minority, counting men, women and children, and that the folks who smoke in public places do so because they dare to, not because they have any logical right to, but even when cheerfully admitting these truths, the average smoker will keep the even tenor of his way. "What are you going to do about it?" is his only defense, if indeed he thinks it worth while to offer any defense.

This attitude is a manifestation of a peculiar sort of insolence, that, for want of a better term, may be called "insolence nicotina." All smokers have it. Even the most gentle and considerate of them have it. Even those who still go through the form of prefacing their smoking by asking others if smoke annoys them, assume that no non-smoker will be so ungentlemanly as to tell the truth even if smoke does annoy him dreadfully.

It is this calm assumption that the non-smoker has no right at all in the common air that particularly annoys that individual. Smoke is unpleasant, of course, to many non-smokers, but not so unpleasant that they won't choose to bear it rather than make others uncomfortable and anyway by denying them the indulgence of their little vice. But when the smoking world calmly exhales its smoke in his face without giving a thought as to whether he likes it or not, he begins to wonder just where patience ceases to be a virtue.

And we dare say that the Non-Smokers' league will accomplish something if the smoking public doesn't curb this insolence and begin to think once in a while of the comfort of those who don't smoke but live in the same world with folks who do.

MEXICO FOR THE MEXICANS.

Under New Government English Language to be Eliminated

One cause of the recent uprising in Mexico was found in the extent to which the resources of the country had been exploited by foreigners for the benefit of the foreigners. Under the new government an attempt is apparently to be made to secure a larger share of the profits from these resources for the Mexican people. Among other things railways, which have heretofore been operated largely by men from the United States and Canada, are, if present intentions are carried out, to be operated by natives. As part of this movement a convention of railway men from all parts of Mexico has been called to meet in the City of Mexico next month to devise the most effective plan to abolish the foreign languages on the railroads." When it is remembered that on account of the employment of so many American locomotive engineers and conductors on the National lines and other roads, train orders are given in English, this movement has an ominous look. It is further declared that "the convention will have a political side, and railway men will select their presidential candidate and support him in a body."

Won the Bet.

They were sitting in the smoking room of the hotel, and the conversation was about endurance as shown by men of the past and present. During a lull in the conversation a young commercial traveller said:—

"Any man, if he has the will-power, can endure pain or fatigue: I know I can."

There was silence for a moment, and an older man replied:—

"I'll wager a dinner you can't hold your foot — boot on — in a bucket of hot water as long as I can."

The offer was taken, and two buckets of hot water were brought in, as well as a kettle of boiling water to raise the temperature to the point of endurance. In went a foot of each contestant. Soon the young man's face began to pale, but the other called for more boiling water.

"What on earth is your leg made of, sir?" said the former, suddenly taking his foot from the bucket.

"Cork, sir — cork!" was the cool answer, and the other left that he had indeed lost.

He Knew It.

Manager: "That young woman whom I placed at this counter a year ago already knows more about the business than you do, and I find that I shall have to put her at the head of the department, though I fear it will be rather unpleasant for you to be under her orders."

Clerk: "Oh, no; I am getting used to that. We were married last month."

One Hundred Years Hence.

A somewhat unusual case will shortly engage the attention of the courts. Last year the Republic of Nicaragua sold the entire kinematograph rights in its wars to a well-know New York firm. This firm is now suing the Republic for heavy damages because in a recent Revolution, it is alleged the Government forces, in direct contravention of the agreement, began a battle before the kinematograph apparatus was ready."

Police Rather Than Soldiers.

It has been revealed in the British Parliament how the English avoid the stigma of sending troops to quell rioters. Learning that 500 London policemen had been despatched to Hull to fight off seamen strikers there Keir Hardie asked the Prime Minister by what right such a thing was done, and further asked why the London taxpayers ought to pay the salaries of policemen doing duty in another part of the Kingdom. The answer was a confession. It was to the effect that throughout the British isles there is a mutual exchange of policemen. Whenever there is a strike on the city affected calls upon one of its neighbors for aid. The Government encourages this and defrays part of the expense. It looks better to send policemen than to send soldiers.

Lord Aberdeen's Snore.

Lord Aberdeen, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and a former Governor-General of Canada, is one of the three or four richest Peers in Great Britain. But he lives unostentatiously and when travelling between London and his Scotch estate he always takes a single berth in an ordinary sleeper. One morning, just as the train was rolling into York, a stranger leaned across a seat back and enquired of Lord Aberdeen:

"May I ask whethre you are Lord Aberdeen?"

"Yes, I am Lord Aberdeen," was the answer.

"You're one of the wealthiest men in England, aren't you?"

"Why," smiled the Peer, I am pretty well off."

"Well, your Lordship," said the stranger, "Permit me to inform you that I slept next to you last night, and, if I had your money and your snore, I'd take a whole car when I wanted to travel at night."

Mohammedanism in the Sudan.

Dr. Karl Kumm, an adventurous missionary explorer, who has lately returned to Johannesburg after a journey across the Sudan from the Niger to the Nile, has created some sensation by a series of lectures on the inroads which Islam is making in the Sudan. He says that a considerable number of Mohammedan students are being sent into the Sudan from Cairo to Islamize the people, who are regarded as the best negro fighting population in the world.

Illustrating his contention that but little is generally known of Sudan affairs Dr. Kumm mentioned the recent liberation of 200,000 slaves in one district alone as the result of the intrusion of European Powers, stating that it was an event which had hitherto not been published.

Dr. Kumm declared that unless counteracting Christianizing influence were forthcoming all over the Sudan Islam must become a great menace to southern as well as to northern Africa.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

BLOW FOR RECIPROCITY

Hon. Clifford Sifton Shows Up Fielding-Paterson Pact.

In Memorable Speech Delivered at Ingersoll, the Chairman of the Conservation Commission Exposes the Class Legislation That Has Been Forced Upon the Farmer—Quotes President Taft on Pulp Issue.

Ingersoll, Aug. 23.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, former Minister of the Interior, now chairman of the Conservation Commission of Canada, dealt a smashing blow to the reciprocity cause in a speech delivered before an audience of fifteen hundred people here last night in the interest of Donald Sutherland, Conservative candidate for the South Riding of Oxford County. It was a speech that will be remembered long by those who heard it. Not for flambuoyant oratory or Jingoistic sentiments, but for the cool dispassioned arguments of a man who spoke from knowledge, from experience, from convictions.

It did not take Mr. Sifton long to expose the inequalities of the reciprocity agreement. He at once characterized it as class legislation and showed the farmers how in recent years the average price of farm products had increased 35 per cent. and the price of what the farmer wanted to buy 11 per cent. He made it clear that the Canadian commission went to Washington under protest from many Liberals as well as himself.

"The United States treated Canada for forty years with a sort of indifferent contempt," he declared. "And," he added, "in view of the progress of the negotiations, that Canada discriminated against the United States, was absurd. At the time of the Albany conference, Mr. Sifton asserted there was a string to the outcome and that was an understanding that the Canadian Government should be willing to take up the reciprocity question at an early date.

"The Canadian Government was coerced into making this reciprocity agreement," he affirmed. The Liberal members had the alternative to accept reciprocity as the tariff policy of the party or dissolve their allegiance to that party.

Mr. Sifton quoted from an article by President Taft in Leslie's Weekly on the subject of "Pulpwood," which pointed out that the Canadian provinces controlled their own lands and to promote the pulp industry had placed an export duty on pulpwood. The article went on to say that the duty on crown lands pulp had been retained, "in order to induce the Canadian provinces over which the Dominion can exercise no control to lift the reduction on the exportation of their pulpwood."

"What do you think of that?" asked Mr. Sifton vehemently.

"What do you think of the Government of Canada entering into a combination with the Government of the United States to make a contract for the purpose of forcing the hands of the provinces of Ontario and Quebec and compelling them to let the United States have our forests whether they will or not. That is the position."

"There is not an intelligent man in Canada who does not know that the Province of Ontario is right. There is no justification, there can be no justification for the agreement and I trust when the facts are known there will be many men in Canada who will have the loyalty and determination to cast their party alliance and destroy this iniquitous act.

A large number of Liberals were in the audience.

The platform was filled with prominent Conservatives from all parts of western Ontario and a large deputation came over from West Oxford. Dr. J. B. Coleridge, Ingersoll, was in the chair.

Endangers British Food?

London, Aug. 23.—The Evening Globe, referring to reciprocity, says: The Imperial Government has deliberately assisted in a conspiracy to give the United States something like a corner in transatlantic wheat. When the Americans have firmly established themselves in Canada, and are passing Canadian wheat through Minneapolis mills, the English market will be at their mercy. Our workers are grumbling at the rise of food prices. Even now when the independence of the Canadian source of supply is operative in keeping prices down, but if the great American trusts succeed in making this source subordinate to their own interests the British food supply will be seriously threatened.

Fatal Auto Wreck.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 23.—In a triple collision of automobiles in Park Heights avenue last Monday night, F. Holmes Hack, jr., well known in Baltimore society, was killed. Six other persons were slightly injured.

Hack's car was running at a high rate of speed, when it collided with another auto, turning upside down. Hack was instantly killed. Thirty minutes later a third automobile ran into the second car, and also turned turtle.

Threw Himself Under Train.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—George Richey of Pittsburg, Pa., said to be a member of a wealthy family there, threw himself in front of a Nickel Plate flyer at Hammond, Ind., and was cut to pieces Monday night.

Richey tried three times within the space of a few hours to be run over by a fast train. Twice engineers saw him lying across the rails and avoided killing him by stopping. He let a number of freight trains go by him.

Woman Killed by Auto.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 23.—Miss Gertrude Davis died yesterday from injuries received by being run down by an automobile at a street crossing at Plymouth Monday night. Andrew Raub, a wealthy mine owner, was also struck, and is in a critical condition. The auto driver is under arrest.

GETS CIVIC WELCOME

Mr. Borden Cheered by 3,000 People at Owen Sound.

Georgian Bay Town Sets New Record in Greeting to Campaign Party—Leader Gets an Ovation and Warns People of North Grey of the Dangers of the Proposed Pact—Audience Is Enthusiastic.

Owen Sound, Aug. 23.—Owen Sound set a new fashion for the tour of the Conservative leader. For the first time since the campaign began, a special civic reception was held. At Berlin an address of welcome was made by the mayor at the evening meeting, but here the civic reception was distinct and was tendered on Mr. Borden's arrival.

Mr. Borden was met at the station by the mayor and by the Conservatives of the town. A procession was at once formed and proceeded to the market square. Here Mayor Lemon read the address of welcome, which was entirely non-partisan, though very cordial. Mr. Borden in reply expressed his sincere appreciation of the welcome.

The meeting in the evening was held in the capacious roller rink, where three thousand people gave Mr. Borden a spontaneous and enthusiastic reception, which lasted while he walked up the aisle and took his seat.

James McLaughlan, Mr. Borden's host while here, was in the chair and on the platform were Dr. Sproule, ex-M.P. for East Grey; W. S. Middlebro, ex-M.P. for North Grey; George M. Boyd, ex-M.P.P. for North Grey, and Mayor Lemon. The civic welcome was not the only unusual feature of the reception here. Another unusual element was the presence on the platform of a considerable number of ladies.

W. S. Middlebro, the candidate, began by expressing his pleasure at being on the platform with "our next Premier." He closed with a warning as to President Taft's object in seeking the agreement in order that Canada might be drawn into the United States.

The chairman, as president of the Conservative Association of North Grey, read an address of welcome to the Conservative leader, and then Mr. Borden opened his address.

Mr. Borden in the course of his address told his audience that he had come to warn the people of North Grey of the national danger involved in the reciprocity agreement. "You cannot," he said, "build up a nation on material prosperity alone, you must be touched and quickened by a sense of responsibility in this country and in this Empire. For the last forty years we have been trying to build up a great nation within this British Empire. President Taft says we are at the parting of the ways. We know the path of Canadian unity and British connection. President Taft says there is another path. I ask you that on Sept. 21 you send a message to President Taft and to Sir Wilfrid Laurier that you intend to continue in the old path of Canadian unity and British connection."

To Abandon Delhi Durbar.

New York, Aug. 23.—A London cable to The American says:—

In Parliamentary circles it is now considered probable that the Delhi Durbar will not be postponed, but will be altogether abandoned. The proposed coronation of the King in India was from the first intensely unpopular with the Indian Government, which dreaded the enormous expense involved, and also felt uneasy concerning the safety of the monarch. George, however, insisted and the Government could not well discourage him.

But the King himself has now suggested the abandonment of the affair in view of the drought famine and terible ravages of the plague. Moreover, with the working classes of Great Britain seething with discontent, the King feels that the pomp and expense of a Durbar would be altogether out of place.

"Vagrant" Had $7,000.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—A man, apparently eighty years old, decrepit and ragged, who has been wandering around the streets for several days, was taken to the Chicago avenue police station, where $7,000 was found on his person.

While walking past the prisoner's cell, a deputy noticed the old man shuffling a roll of bills, which he could not reach around with both hands. After a while he began throwing the bills through the bars, as though dealing a pack of cards.

A search of his clothing brought forth more than $3,000 in bills, and bank books showing deposits of $3,800.

He mumbled in Norwegian that he had come from Canada, and said his name was Torsten Isaacson Asgaard.

Going West.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Officials at the Union Station had a busy time yesterday in handling an unexpected rush of homeseekers for the northwest. They had prepared to handle about 400, but by two o'clock 700 had gathered seeking reservation in the cars.

The party was made up of men, women and children from Western and Northern Ontario districts. It required two special C.P.R. trains to accommodate the party. To-day it is expected that about 4,000 harvesters will leave the Union Station for the west.

Young Woman Takes Poison.

Hamilton, Aug. 23.—Mildred Hanrahan, a young woman who resides at 110 Market street, was found dying in Dundurn Park by one of the keepers early yesterday, with an empty carbolic acid bottle beside her.

A note addressed to her mother was found pinned on her clothing. An ambulance rushed the girl to the hospital but the doctors have little hopes of saving her life.

ASSAILS LLOYD-GEORGE

Keir Hardie Says He Discriminated Against Men.

Chancellor of the Exchequer, Replying to Socialist Leader, Rebukes Him Sharply For Inflammatory Speech at a Time When Fires of Labor Troubles Are Still Smouldering—Statements False.

London, Aug. 23.—There was a lively passage between James Kier Hardie, the Socialist leader, and David Lloyd-George, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, during yesterday's session of the House of Commons. Mr. Hardie accused the Government of taking the side of the railway directors in the strike and said if the Government had brought the same pressure to bear on the directors as it had on the men there would have been no strike. He declared vehemently that the men who had been shot down by troops during the strike "were murdered in the interest of the capitalistic system." As a protest against the conduct of the Government he moved as an amendment to the motion for adjournment that the House of Commons adjourn to August 29 instead of October 24.

Mr. Lloyd-George replied that the great conflagration had been put out but that there were still smouldering fires here and there about the country, which at any moment might burst into flame. He declared he knew nothing which was more likely to bring about such a disaster and perhaps cause the men to fling away what their leaders had claimed was a triumph for them than "such grossly inaccurate statements" as had been made by Mr. Hardie.

The Chancellor said there was "not a syllable of truth" in the allegations of Mr. Hardie that the Government had sided with the railway directors. He asserted that it was due to pressure brought to bear by the Government on the directors that induced them to meet the representatives of the men face to face. The Government, he added, had used its whole power to see that justice was done both parties to the dispute.

Nearing the End.

Fort Plain, N.Y., Aug. 23.—Another remarkable spin through the air on his aeroplane flight from St. Louis to New York brought Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, from Belle Isle, five miles west of Syracuse, to Fort Plain, late yesterday afternoon, and landed him 95 miles nearer his destination.

He is now 1,065 miles from his starting place and exactly 200 miles from his proposed alighting point in New York.

His actual flying time yesterday was two hours and ten minutes, and was made without a stop.

"The air was as dead calm as a pool," said Atwood. "Most of the time I kept my hands in my pockets or read a timetable."

Atwood believes he possibly may make New York to-day, but more probably to-morrow, because, on account of the rough and wooded country from Albany down the Hudson River he may be compelled to descend in difficult places or effect landings in the water.

Message Round World.

New York, Aug. 23.—In order to ascertain the speed at which a commercial message could be sent around the world by cable, The New York Times filed a despatch, reading: "This message sent around world," in the telegraph room, on the seventeenth floor of The Times Building, exactly at 7, and the reply was received by the same operator at 7.16.30 p.m.

The time occupied in the journey of 28,613 land miles, including sixteen relays, gave an average speed of twenty-nine miles a second.

When the Pacific cable was opened eleven years ago a special message was flashed around the world in 9 1-2 minutes. The Times' message, however, was handled without previous preparation.

White Frost In West.

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—While the Dominion Government's meteorological readings for the past 24 hours show no traces of actual frost, special despatches from western points show that a white frost has fallen at four or five points. It was in no case very severe, and most of the cutting was already finished in the districts visited. Official reports have been issued from the office of agriculture for Saskatchewan stating that the damage done Sunday and Monday night will not seriously affect the general yield. Five thousand harvesters arrived last night and this morning. Harvesting will be general in Southern Manitoba by the end of the week.

Excursion Steamer Burned.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 23.—More than 250 women and children excursionists were imperilled when the Tourist, a new passenger boat on the Calumet River, was burned to the water's edge while running from Hammond to Riverdale, Ind. The boat was beached to save the passengers.

Fire broke out in the hold of the boat, near the engine rooms, while the craft was in midstream. Flames pouring out of the portholes precipitated a panic among the passengers, who fled to the upper deck. Many jumped overboard into shallow water and waded ashore.

Perjury In Camorra Trial.

Viterbo, Italy, Aug. 23.—After much contradictory testimony had been given at the Camorro trial yesterday, the King's prosecutor announced that all witnesses suspected of perjury and of bearing false witness would be prosecuted when the murder trial was concluded.

Judge Faraone yesterday testified that he was satisfied from private information, that Lucia Anastasi, one of the states witnesses, was confident of the carabineers. Capt. Fabroni denied that this was true.

PREMIER AT ST. EUSTACHE.

Three Thousand People Hear Him Lash Bourassa.

St. Eustache, Que., Aug. 23.—In the shadow of a church, bullet-scarred by the English in the rebellion of 1837, Sir Wilfrid Laurier held one of the best meetings of his Quebec campaign yesterday afternoon in the village of St. Eustache. Sir Wilfrid spoke with a fire and vigor, astonishing many old men who had cheered him to victory during his first appearance in the district in 1896.

Reciprocity was but lightly touched upon, but Sir Wilfrid took occasion to dissect the naval law, obviously to offset the vigorous campaign waged by Mr. Bourassa in this district against this plank of the Liberal platform. The Premier replied to the attacks of Mr. Bristol of Toronto Centre. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux was in fighting form, and attacked the Nationalists without mercy.

There were about 3,000 at the meeting. Preparations were elaborate, the town being decorated, and Sir Wilfrid was met by twenty-five mounted youths and a band.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier remarked that it was his second appearance before the electorate of St. Eustache, the first occasion having been in 1896. He pointed out that when the Liberal Government had replaced the Conservative Administration ruin had not overwhelmed the manufacturers, as the prophets of the day had promised. The most partisan of Conservatives, he said, must admit that the country had never enjoyed such prosperity as to-day. He quoted statistics on natural products, showing what Canada would save by the removal of the tariff duties.

With stinging phrases Sir Wilfrid characterized Bourassa as a falsifier and deceiver. Mr. Bourassa had tried to persuade the people that conscription would follow the navy. In this he lied and knew that he lied. Mr. Bourassa did not know his own mind on the question of reciprocity, but Mr. Bourassa could be quoted to show that he had once, and that not very long ago, been an advocate of reciprocity with the United States.

The Premier also referred to Clifford Sifton, saying that he differed with that gentleman only on the reciprocity question. He said he was amply avenged for Sifton's turning against him by seeing him forced to occupy the same bed as Bourassa and watching the pains which both took to lie as far apart as possible.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The damage to the Niobe is more serious than was at first reported.

Franco-German negotiations on the Moroccan dispute are giving rise to war rumors.

Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece, "La Giacondo," has disappeared from the Louvre, Paris.

Mrs. Allen Karn died at London from injuries received in jumping off a moving street car.

Burney Goodall of Beamsville has been arrested on a charge of sending threatening letters to Miss Annie Black.

John D. Rockefeller has given another $1,000,000 to the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, according to an unconfirmed report.

It may now be said that Pope Pius is entirely convalescent. Doctors Marchiafava and Petacci have ceased their visits to the pontiff.

Bids for the construction of the new navy are still being considered at Ottawa, and it is not likely that the contract will be awarded for some time.

There are persistent rumors that Archbishop Bruchesi is to receive a cardinality at the next consistory or earlier if necessitated by the pontiff's illness.

J. E. Baudet has been forced to retire as Conservative candidate owing to severe illness, and L. H. Huard, a prominent local merchant, has been chosen to contest Megantic County.

New Terminal Assured.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—C.P.R. officials yesterday confirmed the report of the building of a new terminal near Western Junction, ten miles out of this city.

The official report reads: "The Canadian Pacific Railway has started work on another huge undertaking in connection with their Montreal transportation facilities. Out near Western Junction the company is building a new terminal headquarters, which consists of a large twenty-four stall engine house, a machine shop, a turntable, a coaling plant, a stores building, a rooming and lodging house capable of accommodating one hundred men, and a car shunting and storage yard of two thousand cars capacity. Eventually the new terminal will have a capacity of four thousand cars.

Canada's Possibilities.

New York, Aug. 23.—Frank Coffee, one of the wealthiest men in Sydney, Australia, arrived in New York Monday, and among the first places he visited was Park Row, where, thirty years ago, he was a compositor, "sticking type." Since going to Australia, Coffee has made a fortune of more than a million dollars in publishing enterprises.

Coffee, who is making a business trip around the world, said yesterday:

"New York is a wonder beyond description, and my adopted country, Australia, is another marvel, but Canada, which I have just visited, has possibilities undreamed of. Vast fortunes will be made there every year."

Death of Popular Teacher.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 23.—Word was received here yesterday of the death at her parents' home in Thornhill of Miss Marie Harrison, teacher of the junior fourth class in Simcoe street school here. Heart failure caused her death while on her vacation at her old home.

Arrested at the Bridge.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 23.—John Thompson, wanted in Windsor for robbing a Chinese restaurant of $80, was sent back for trial by the provincial police last night, having been arrested at the bridge.

ANOTHER MOTOR DEATH.

Toronto Workman Is Killed by Car Passing Through Subway.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—While returning from his work at the Swansea Pumping Station, Samuel Horton was struck by the lamp of a motor car, owned by Frank Burrows, 68 Roncesvalles avenue, at Ellis avenue subway, on the Lake Shore road, at 11.30 Monday evening, and so seriously injured that he died at the Western Hospital, where he was taken in the car which struck him, a few hours later.

Horton was an engineer at the pumping station. He had been riding his bicycle, but was walking through the subway, and just as the car was within a few feet of him, he stepped to the middle of the road to pick something up, and had not time to reach the side of the road again before the motor struck him.

Beside the owner of the car, who was driving, two men named Watson and Stewart, were in the motor. Immediately after the accident, the three men did their utmost to save Horton's life by hurrying him to the nearest hospital and placing a special physician in charge of him. It is said that the car had no light at the time.

In the Police Court yesterday Burrows was charged with manslaughter and remanded, without bail.

Queer Freak of Lightning.

Mansfield Centre, Conn., Aug. 23.—A bolt of lightning threw itself into the hip pocket of Joseph Barrow, a farmer, as he was sitting in the kitchen of his home here Monday night.

The bolt came into the house via the stovepipe, and was attracted to Barrow's hip pocket by the presence there of an iron monkey wrench and a big jack-knife. It passed down his leg, burning him severely, and then careened over the floor, upsetting a tub of water and splitting a huge chopping block.

In Barrow's pocket, the end of the wrench and the blade of the knife were fused into a solid piece of steel.

Their Dreams Shattered.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug 23.—Armed with cap pistols, a plentiful supply of nickel novels and $11 in cash, Albert Van Tossel and Albert Stinchombe, both fourteen, had their dreams of being real bandits shattered when Chief Kimmins sent them back to their homes in London, Ont., yesterday. They were arrested when attempting to enter the States.

Body Found In Niagara River.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 23.—With his clothes neatly piled on the shore, the nude body of James Murray, painter, was found in the lower Niagara River late yesterday. The body had been in the water only a few hours. The authorities will investigate the cause of his death.

Physicians See Human "Aura"

Twelve physicians and six nuns who looked through the Kilner glass at the undraped bodies of four female models at Mercy hospital, saw the human body enveloped by an "aura".

The experiments, under the direction of Dr. Patrick S. O'Donnell, followed the lines taken by Dr. Walter Kilner, of London. The instrument used was made of two pieces of oblong glass glued together, with a solution between. Women were used as subjects because the female is believed to have the stronger aura.

The observers saw faint, nebulous lights emanating from the subjects, like a "brush" discharge of electricity.

Dr. O'Donnell considers the scientific demonstration of the aura, so long maintained by theosophists, as equalling in importance the discovery of the X-ray or of radium.

AN APPEAL MADE TO CANADA'S BRITISH BORN

for an impetus to your prosperity. Be gentle in your attitude to the people who come from the same land that your ancestors came from. Let patience have her perfect work in you, in them. Ask yourself how you would get along if you were dumped into a Yorkshire manufacturing town and sent to work in a mill, and expected to become a Yorkshireman in five or six days.

"We chose Canada for our habitation, and we chose mighty well."

"Yes, and we're going to keep it," said a voice in the rear.

"The question has been asked, why do I make my appeal only to the Ruthenians, Galacians or Doukho-Ruthesians, Galacians or Doukhobors? Because the British-born are the only ones who have full rights of Canadian citizenship the moment they set foot on Canada's soil. (Applause.)

"Instead of having to wait three years and take out naturalization papers, he can vote after being in the country only three months, and if that privilege of voting is great, the responsibility of casting it right, is greater.

"Appeals are being made to the British-born that, because they are Liberal in the old land they should be the same here. But conditions are so different," continued Mr. Hawkes. "An example was the House of Lords in which there had been a little unpleasantness—a little—when they had been shorn of their power of veto by the Liberals. In Canada there was a corresponding chamber in the Senate. While the Conservative Government was in power in Canada the Liberals complained of the unfairness of appointing all Conservative members to the Senate, and pledged themselves to reform, but they were different from the old country Liberals and there had been no reform.

"There is too much talking of thirty years ago in this campaign," argued Mr. Hawkes. "It's about time our statesmen woke up to that." Mr. Hawkes referred to the Liberal pilgrimage to Washington to get reciprocity and quoted the opinions of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, expressed in 1903 and 1907. Talking particularly of the agreement, he said: "President Taft is mother and father of this agreement. Fielding and Paterson are its nurses. Why did the big fellow come to us for an agreement? Some said it was valuable because it would lead to commercial and social union. Our distinction lies in being able to be different from the republic. The agreement will give Taft greater control over grain shipments to Europe. That is what they want to control—the channels of British trade."

Mr. Hawkes, in referring to reciprocity and what it would ultimately lead to, read the following extract taken from the Minneapolis Journal:

"The path of reciprocity leads to practical, if not political union with Canada. The other path leads to a closer relation between Canada and Great Britain. It means the carrying out of a dream of British Imperial Federation, bound together no less by trade than by sentiment, with Canada taking the place of the United States as chief purveyor of food products and manufactured articles to Great Britain.

"To-day Great Britain is our best customer, and Canada is our third best customer. But our foreign trade wanes, and that of Canada grows. If we push Canada into England's arms, the trade arrangements between the two will tend more and more to shut us out.

"How long will our trade with these two customers last if reciprocity fails? Our Canadian trade must fall off, as the East and West channels of her commerce are scoured by use. And Canada will more and more supply English needs in our stead."

The Cochrane letter was referred to by the speaker, also the editorial which appeared in The Globe newspaper. He replied to The Globe's attack for two reasons, first, because assicated with his name was that of one of the most honest and straightforward ministers of the crown, Hon. Frank Cochrane; and, secondly, to explain how that came about.

"It is true I am writing ten special articles for the press on the reciprocity question, but for the writing of those articles, Mr. Cochrane is no more responsible than the man writing for The Globe.

"The accusation that I am employed by the Conservatives to write for the newspapers is totally untrue, and if it were true, the fact that the articles are signed by me is sufficient proof that they are conducted in the light of day.

"That paragon of political piety makes a front page of what it thinks a feature, accusing Mr. Cochrane of despicable conduct, and advises my fellow-countrymen not to be taken in by a fakir like myself, but, it is a singular fact that neither The Globe, nor any other paper, has given any answer to this appeal."

Before concluding his address Mr. Hawkes paid some attention to the attack made upon him in last night's Ontario. He said he was not ashamed of what he had written or spoken and those who read his articles or heard him could judge for themselves. He was not stirring up strife, but a racial appeal had been made by the Hon. Mr. King at a recent meeting he addressed in Berlin. He made a racial appeal to the Germans of that town. He (the speaker) said he never read a more racial appeal than the Hon. Mr. King made. The hon. gentleman intimated that the Conservatives and he (the speaker) desired to have British dreadnaughts to be used against the German. Before we call men names and judge them falsely we should at first hear what they have to say. In concluding, Mr. Hawkes said: "I leave the matter with the jury (meaning the audience) to decide." (Loud applause.)

At the close a number present signified their intention of joining the Canada-British Association.

BACK-WEARY MEN

The Helping Hand of Dr. Hamilton's Pills Will Cure in a Few Weeks.

"Foundry work compels men to work is the winter in very cold shops," writes Tunis T. Bolter, a well-known mechanic in Hamilton. "I contracted a very severe cold a few months ago which settled in my back and kidneys. I suffered constant pain, and in bending over my work and in heavy lifting, the pain at times was excruciating. My digestion got all out of order, doubtless because the kidneys didn't work right. My wife had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills as a family medicine and I took her advice and started them also. To my great delight a few doses helped me so much it was proof I was using a true remedy. Natural action of the kidneys was brought about, burning and aching ceased, and the backlameness gradually disappeared. I no longer fear my work. I feel strong and robust, and with such a remedy as Dr. Hamilton's Pills at hand I will probably never again be sick. I advise every working man to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

No other medicine will regulate the system and maintain health like Dr. Hamilton's Pills—beware of the dealer who tries to induce you to take something else on which he makes more profit. Sold in yellow bixes 25c. Prepared by The Catarrhozone Co, Kingston, Ontario.

SIR. GEORGE ROSS ON RECIPROCITY

Sir Geo. W. Ross, former Liberal Premier of Ontario, made it quite plain where he stands on reciprocity when he spoke as follows before the Canadian Club of Toronto:

"I am in favor of preferential tariff because I think it will prevent entangling alliances with the United States. cans has not been satisfactory. I have ans has not been satisfactory. I have not forgotten the reasons why the reciprocity treaty, negotiated by Lord Elgin in 1854, was so summarily repealed in 1866. Neither is my judgment closed to the hostile character of the Dingley Tariff Bill, by which the American market was practically closed against the Canadians manufacturers and farmers.

"In my judgment the commerce of Canada should never be placed at the mercy of the United States Congress or of any other competing nation. We have adapted our trasportation system now to British trade. To enter into a reciprocity treaty with the United States would be dependent upon the humor of our American neighbors and would be to discount all this expenditure. Does it not appear the proper thing, partly because of our Imperial relations and partly because of the extent of the British market, that we should direct our energies towards meeting its requirements rather than towards framing a treaty with a nation, who has treatd us with undoubted harshness in commercial matters, and on whose commercial good-will we cannot depend. I prefer to estblish channels of trade with Great Britian, which I believe will be permanent. Where your treasure is there will be your heart be also. All we have to do is to enter in and possess it with Britian's assistance. In the United States we would be under a bond and I decline myself to assume or to accept any policy that will place the trade of Canada at the mercy of Congress or at the mercy of a rival nation."

A Tacoma man, using a bicycle as a shield, managed to negotiate an escape from a wild-cat. If one doesn't have a flying machine handy a bicycle for one who wishes to beat it from the presence of a wildcat is a great improvement over the bare feet.

"WE MAY AS WELL GET USED TO IT"

Indiana Paper Say That Annexation is Coming

(La Grange Standard, Indiana.)

The National Editorial Association, which recognized and changed its name to National Press Association at Detroit last week and thrust upon it an unexpected notoriety. Gov. Chas. Osborn was invited to welcome the association to Michigan, and when he came down from Lansing for that purpose, being a newspaper man himself and a judge of news values, he raised an unpromising session into a plane of interest by a few enthusiastic words to the effect that whether reciprocity be wise or unwise, he would like to see the star-spangled banner float over the free and the brave from the north pole to the isthmus of Panama.

Which joyous Americanism was followed in a few minutes by the frank statement from a Denver delegate that he had no use for Taft reciprocity at all, but he did want to love our Canadian neighbors as ourselves by extending to them the privileges of States in the American Union. Hence, when a bewhiskered judge from Toronto came to bat, oratorically, he profusely declared he mustn't say anything, but he would say there was nothing so irritating to a Canadian as talk of annexation to the United States. How would you like us to talk of annexing you? he asked. Then he boasted that Canada was drawing thousands of settlers from the United States and sixty millions of dollars with those settlers every year and he hoped to make good subjects out of them. As aresult of this malay, when the editors started out on their tour of the lakes and St. Lawrence river towns it was with some misapprehension about the manner of their reception.

It is a trifle ridiculous the way some of the excessively English Canadians talk about their country. We all remember from school-day reading of history that Canada was originally the realm of the French. England took the country away from France by force of arms, during the time that our colonial ancestors were dubs and English subjects as the poor present-day Canadians yet are. Canada could never have been taken from France without the help of the Virginians and New Yorkers and New Englanders. Neither these colonists, nor we, their heirs, administrators, devisees and assigns, have had any compensation for that job, except the military training received by George Washington and afew others, which enabled us to lick the British armies in 1776 and 1793.

It would be simply an instance of the justice that works out sooner or later in the history of nations for the United States to annex Canada. We will have it to do sometime, and the English Canadians might as well get used to the system. It will not be very difficult to persuade the French Canadians.

12,000 MILES FOR A HUSBAND

Mrs. Van Rooy Relents when She Overtakes Erring Spouse in Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—Travelling 12,000 miles to intercept her husband, who had deserted her, having him arrested in Montreal three hours after taking the warrant out, and leaving the court house agreeing to forgive and forget and live life anew, is the startling story of Mrs. Hemicus Van Rooy, of Antwerp. As soon as she saw her runaway husband she relented and withdrew the charge of desertion and is now willing to pardon.

About four months ago Hemicus Van Rooy left Antwerp and his wife, taking with him another woman, whose husband had been buried on the morning of their departure, and set sail for America, where he found employment for a few weeks and finally landed in Montreal, where he has been for about three months, living at 181 Cadieux street with the woman in the case.

Yesterday after a long search from Antwerp to New York, then to Boston and Chicago, the wife made her appearance at the Detective Bureau, and Chief Carpenter, after hearing her story, put Detectives Gorman and Lepage on the case and in the short space of three hours, was able to place the man and actually present him to his wife at detective headquarters. When informed that his wife was in the city, he said: "No, no, she is not here," and when confronted with her in the flesh he was dumfounded.

The woman is refined and well educated in her own tongue, but does not speak English or French. When she appeared before Chief Carpenter to make out the warrant for her husband she had only the letter of introduction, which was given to her at Antwerp, and was in French, a language she did not understand, but managed to find the husband after a long, hard journey of thousands of miles.

When leaving the court this morning the couple were for going to Paterson, N.J., but later decided that Montreal was good enough, as the husband is working and doing well. He is a blacksmith by profession.

A sequel to the runaway is brewing already. The woman who has been living with Rooy, is going to bring action to recover her jewellery which she claims Rooy has in his possession. Rooy denied the charge claiming it belongs to his wife.

There may be an aviation race in progress all around the universe, as four comets are now within range of the telescopic eye.

How Children of the Ignorant Are Robbed of Oatmeal

A canvass made among the intelligent shows that seven homes in eight serve oatmeal. Among the ignorant another canvass shows that not one home in twelve serves oats. The children grow up incapable because bodies and brains are starved.

Nature stores in oats more energy food, more brain food, more nerve food than in any other grain that grows. That's why children crave oatmeal. There is nothing to take its place.

This is a food on which it doesn't pay to be careless. There is a very wide difference in oat foods—a difference in richness and food value. Don't serve the common kind.

Only the richest, plumpest grains are used in Quaker Oats. They are selected by 62 siftings. Only ten pounds are obtained from a bushel. The result is a food rich in all the oat elements—the utmost in oatmeal. Yet the cost to you is but one-half cent per dish.

CANADIANS STAND TO LOSE BY OPENING OF U. S. MARKETS

But in a still larger sense Canadians would stand to lose from the opening of the American markets, and that is very clearly put by Senator Beveridge in a speech recently delivered on reciprocity. He says: "There must be reciprocity with Canada. Our tariff with the rest of the world does not apply to our northern neighbor. That policy already has driven American manufacturers over the Canadian borders, built vast plants with American capital on Canadian soil (do you notice the Senator weeping?) (laughter) employing Canadian workmen to supply trade. That capital should be kept at home to employ American workmen to supply Canadian demand." (Applause.)

Here we have another statement—this time from a distinguished Senator—as to the effect of our present commercial relations with the United States, which President Taft is so anxious to improve. Senator Beveridge says, "The American tariff has driven American manufacturers over the Canadian border, built vast plants with American capital on Canadian soil, and so on." Well suppose it has—we are told that American capital to the extent of $225,00,000, has been invested in Canada—is that a condition that we should seek to change? If the American change it of their own motion, we cannot help it, but surely we should not encourage negotiations which would prevent the investment of capital from any quarter in Canada. If there is anything we need it is capital for our industries and farms, and mines and factories. But notice another observation of the distinguished Senator. He says, "That capital should be kept at home to employ American workmen to supply Canadian demand." Well let me tell Senator Beveridge that some time ago we allowed American workmen to supply Canadian demand, but if he hopes this will ever happen again I very much mistake the Canadian sentiment of to-day.—Sir Geo. W. Ross to the Toronto Board of Trade, Nov. 3rd, 1910.

"COME ON, HARRY" CRIED BIRD.

Parrot Saved Lives of 20 Persons in a Burning House.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A talented green parrot gave an alarm of fire in a ten-storey Madison ave. apartment house early today and saved the lives of 20 persons who would otherwise have been suffocated by the dense smoke which filled the upper floors of the building.

The parrot owned by Henry W. Dearborn, secretary of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Association, noticed the smoke shortly after midnight and roused its master by calling repeatedly, "Come, on, Harry, come on! Come on!" The fire was in the apartment above. Mr. Dearborn awakened his family and ran with the parrot's cage under his arm to the street where he met a policeman. The bluecoat manned the elevator and rushed through the upper floors of the building, rousing all the occupants.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

A MATTER OF ETIQUETTE

Judge Ruled that Wife Justified in Opening her Husband's Correspondence.

An Austrian judge has ruled that a wife was justified in breaking the law by opening her husband's correspondence, because the letter she opened proved the correctness of her suspicions. In other words, according to this dispenser of justice, the end justified the means. Unfortunately, we are left in doubt as to what would have been the pronouncement had the letter in question proved the suspicion to be unfounded, and yet information on this point would be of far wider interest and importance. In that case, however, it is not probable that the husband would have made the charge against his better half. Altogether an exceptional proceeding, as we began by saying, and yet it is likely to be widely welcomed and quoted as a precedent for a prevalent habit.

Many wives, indeed, will deny that the habit needs any legal sanction. In all good faith they hold that it is a right bestowed upon them on marriage: that a husband's letters or rather their contents, are part of the worldly goods with which he endows his spouse on their wedding day.

It is, after all, not a question of law or of right, but of private agreement mostly tacit — at least after more or less argument. The habit is generally established in the golden days of the honeymoon, when the two are one and would have no secrets from each other; when the bridegroom is fondly anxious to let his bride read all that he does not tell her. Sometimes the habit is not established until later in life, when the sons leave home to stand on their own feet at college, or to try the strength of their young wings in the world without. But what there can be of undiminishing interest to a wife in her husband's general correspondence is a puzzle that no man can solves. How many husbands by the way, would have enough curiosity to avail themselves of the privilege of reading their wives' correspondence, or even to ask for it? They are generally quite content with the snatches from it read to them across the breakfast table.

Chinese Puzzles.

Members of the latest Hague peace tribunal are wondering yet whether one of the delegates from China was having fun with them or really wanted to know when he asked these questions:

"I have listened to your discussion as to what constitutes a state of war. Will you learned gentlemen kindly tell me whether you consider a state of war exists when the armies of several foreign countries are landed in another country, march to the capital of that country, climb its walls, enter all its sacred places, and not only kill its inhabitants, but loot its palaces and temples?"

While the delegates were considering this question he asked: "What is the situation when one country declares war on another country and the other country won't fight?"

The Bishop Couldn't Swear.

An Eastern bishop decided to take up golf, and as he wished to begin his practice where he was unknown he sought a public links instead of one of the many clubs which would have been joyously opened to him. He provided himself with an outfit and a book of rules, hired a caddie at the links, and proceeded to set up his ball for the first stroke. After the usual feinting and limbering process he gave a mighty lunge at the ball and went wildly over the top of it leaving it reposing on the tee in imperturbable celluloid majesty. "Tut! tut! tut!" exclaimed the bishop, in mild, clerical dismay. "Tut! tut! tut!" Then he tried again, with yet more earnest and vigorous swings, and that time he ploughed a hole in the ground ten inches away from the ball. "Tut! tut! tut!" he reiterated. "Tut! tut! tut!" "Say, mister," warned the caddie nonchalantly, without shifting his gum, "you'll never loin to play golf wid dem woids."

PROFESSIONALS BARRED

Students of Cambridge Must Not Take Part With Actresses in Theatricals

In an order issued lately the proctors at Cambridge university have forbidden undergraduates to take part in amateur theatricals with professional actresses. It has long been the custom of the Oxford Amateur Theatrical society to engage the services of professionals for feminine parts. Two years ago Cambridge adopted a similar course and have followed it ever since, but hereafter they will have to abandon it. From now on the dramatic club will have to find some pretty-faced, bright-cheeked undergraduates for the feminine roles. The order is resented, but the proctors are inexorable.

NO HATPINS NEEDED.

Hatpins are not required for several of the new types of toques. Instead, the drapery trimming of the toques is wound rather tightly around the head and lower part of the toque body in a manner which reminds one of the cloths women wind around their heads as a dust protector when cleaning house. The free end of the drapery is fastened by means of hooks and eyes after being wound.

Gaining Experience.

Before one of the present Bishops was elevated to his see a prominent part of his work was that in connection with the missions, in which ambulance lessons were held and the members taught to render "first-aid." One day an elderly woman asked him if he could persuade her husband to join the ambulance classes, to keep him out of the public-house.

The reverend gentleman said he would try, and after some trouble he succeeded in persuading the "hubby" in question to join the ambulance class

Some weeks after the clergyman met the woman, and asked her how her husband liked the classes.

"Oh, he's that keen on it, yer don't know, sir. Why, when there's no class to go to he stays at home and bandages the cat!"

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—Business in grain over the cable was very quiet owing to the fact that the prices bid were generally out of line. The local demand for oats is fairly good and sales of round lots of No. 2 Canada white were made at 43½c and 44½c ex-store. The offerings from the west are light and buyers find it difficult to make purchases for futures shipment. American corn is weaker, but the demand is fair at the decline, and sales of No. 3 yellow to arrive were made at 69½c. A fairly active trade continues to be done in spring wheat flour for local and country account, and there is also a steady demand from European sources. The demand for bran and shorts is good, but supplies are very small. The trade in dairy produce is good and provisions are fairly active.

AFTER MEDICAL FAKERS

New York Court Hears of Some Peculiar Remedies

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Efforts of the New York County Medical Society to rid the city of illegal medical practice brought two accused persons up for arraignment in the west side court. Adele Marie Rique, "Counsellor and Speaker of the Advanced New Thought Cult," after producing a $500 bill as a guarantee for later appearance smiled benignly at Magistrate House and handed over to him considerable literature, including an invitation for him to join the "circle of universal freedom, university for soul cultivation, mental and material salvation," of this city. Before the magistrate had appreciated the situation, Miss Rique had tripped out of the court room.

A police matron testified that she had sought Miss Rique for a cure for pains "in the back" and that part of the cure prescribed was a repitition of the formula. "God and Myself, Myself and God; God and Myself," three times and then swing the arms around in a circle. The formula was to be repeated daily and promptly at noon. A coure in this and similar treatment was offered at $25 a month.

H. Duringinger who said he was a graduate of the "Palmer School of Chiro-Practice," of Devenport, Iowa, and who said he could cure typhoid fever and infantile paralysis by manipulation of the spinal vertbrae, was also held in $500 bail for later hearing.

A QUIET WEDDING

On Tuesday evening a quiet wedding occurred in the city when Mr. James Barry and Miss Clara Johnson, both of this city, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. F. Fraser, acting rector of St. Thomas Church. Mrs. B. McGuire acted as bridesmaid while Mr. B. McGuire did honors for the groom. The bride was attired in a dress of blue silk and wore an appropriate hat. The bridesmaid wore a dress of silk mauve, with hat to match. Among the gifts the bride received was a tea service from the staff of the Hotel Quinte and a tea set from Mrs. Jenkins. Mr. and Mrs Barry leave on Saturday for Haileybury, Ont., where they will reside.

BUG ALIVE DEEP IN ROCK

Second One Taken from Apparently Solid Formation in Mine

SALT LAKE, Utah, Aug. 23.—Entomologists here have found something that has stumped them, and they are likely to call on their brethren elsewhere to help them out. It is a bug that has been taken from an apparently solid piece of rock blasted out more than 200 feet beneath the surface.

The find was made by W. J. Wostenholme, General Manager of the Shamrock Gold Mining and Milling Company at Marysvale, recently. He was going over the dump looking at the broken ore that had come up from the mine in order to pick out some specimens he wanted to use. He broke open what appeared to be a solid piece of rock, first cracking it with a hammer. When he separated it he found in a little cavity a bug about a quarter of an inch long. It was not very lively, but it was alive. He examined the rock to see if there was any fissure that could let in air to the insect, but there was no evidence of any.

Mr. Wostenholme was particularly interested because about a year ago George F. Dalton, the President of the company, while hunting speciments, came across a similar bug in a similar little hole in what appeaerd to be solid rock. This had been taken from hard quartzite that had been blasted out 100 feet below the surface. Mr. Dalton consulted some experts in such things, but they could not tell him what he had found. As a matter of curiosity he put the bug in a sealed bottle, and it lived for months without any visible means of sustenance.

The entomologists here are very much interested in this new find, and it is expected that a full description of the bug will be sent to various authorities on the subject in the hope that some one of them may be able to tell what it is and something of the phenomena surrounding its life under such remarkable conditions.

THE APPEAL TO THE BRITISH-BORN.

The appeal made by the Canada-British Association to the Britishers resident in Ontario is receiving great support. BRITISH JOURNALISTS TOURING CANADA

At the Invitation of the Government, Twelve Prominent Newspaper Men from Old Land Will Write up Canada—Visited the City and Vicinity

Twelve British newspapodmen, members of the British Press Association, and representing some of the principal British newspapers, who as guests of the Dominion Government, will spend the next two months, touring Canada and writing their impressions for their papers, arrived in this city last evening in a special G. T. R. car.

The party which is in charge of Mr. Obed Smith Canadian Superintendent of Immigration at Liverpool is made up of Messrs. Wm. Alexander of the Aberdeen Free Press; R. H. H. Baird, of the Belfast Evening Telegraph; J. F. Chapter, of the Westminister Gazette; J. P. Coral, of the Scotsman; W. J. Hudson, Western Mail; Chas. Lucas, Tid-Bits; Thos. Noles, of the Irish Post; H. C. Patten, representing several Norfolk papers; John Roberts, North Wales Times; Edgar Rowan, London Chronicle; Wilfred Rutherford Financial News, London; and C. W. Starmer, Sheffield Independent.

A number of prominent citizens went up to the station to see the party and invite them down to the city but they did not leave the car. Today the journalists were distributed in various parts of the county and also Prince Edward county, where they visited a number of cheese factories and farms they were desirous of seeing.

The purpose of the tour which will close on the first of October will be to acquaint the newspaper men with every opportunity to see Canada as it is, and the opportunities which it offers to the emigrating portion of Great Britain and Ireland. Each of the newspaper men making the tour will write a series of articles for his paper during the tour. In this way the immigration Department of the Interior feel that the British people will be given a perfect opportunity to become acquainted with Canada as a possible home.

CHICAGO CANADIAN CLUB

President Robertson, of the Belleville Club of Chicago, has for some time had in mind the formation of a great central organization to be known as the Canadian Club of Chicago, or some other appropriate name. His idea is to bring together Canadians from all over the Dominion, resident in Chicago or elsewhere. The club is to be national in all that the word implies, and there is room in Chicago for just such an organization. During the past few months the different Canadian city clubs located in Chicago have been visited by Mr. Robertson and Thos. F. Lynch, secretary of the Belleville Club, and the plans for the great central body partly outlined. In each instance hearty co-operation has been promised and so at the September meeting of the Belleville Club of Chicago, Mr. Robertson will have the question put before the club, with the intention of having the club appoint a special committee to invite the other Canadian organizations to send representatives to a central meeting at which plans for the formation of such a club will be discussed.

So far as this paper has been able to find out, this is the first time that the idea of a great organization, having in mind the banding together of all Canadians, irrespective of what section of Canada they come from, or what part of the continent they are now living in, has ever been broached and to Mr. Robertson is due the credit for the origination of this plan. There are a great many thousands of Canadians in Chicago; there are other thousands who, at times during the year, visit Chicago on business, and there is no good reason why one of the largest and best clubs in America should not be formed here.

A Canadian National Club in Chicago will be of vast benefit, not only to Canadians in Chicago, but to Canada itself, and there is no doubt that ere many months have passed away, an organization will have been floated, which will be the forerunner of a national chain of Canadian clubs, reaching from the Atlantic to the Pacific.—Chicago Belleville Club News.

Fashionable Dressmaking

CURRENT COMMENT

Another long letter has been received from Mr. David Sinclair on the question of reciprocity. Of its merits we cannot just now speak, not having had time to wade through it. It will have to bide its turn. When nothing else is before us it may have attention.

The national policy will build up Canada and reciprocity will tear it down.

Fielding says the pact can be cancelled at any time. Now is the time.

Reciprocity means cheaper living in the United States and dearer in Canada.

Now that the elections are at hand the Grand Trunk strikers are being promised their old positions.

Automobile bromide: "I think I'll just wait a few years longer until you can buy 'em as cheap as a horse and buggy."

"The Land Slide"

On September 21st, 1911, there will be a great (Ross Government) landslide. The thunder will roll, the lightning will flash, and the Laurier Government will all go to smash.—Com. D.J.F.

The Globe's despatch from Belleville, telling of P. P. Clarke's nomination in East Hastings, is headed in large type: "Man to Redeem East Hastings." This must have been a mistake of the typesetter; it should have read: "Man Wanted to Redeem East Hastings." Like cooks and housemaids, men to "redeem East Hastings" and to defeat popular Billy Northrup, are hard to find.

Drink on empty stomachs is what the Montreal Witness blames for the riots in Liverpool. There is no denying that it has been known to do strange things.—Hamilton Herald.

And what has made the empty stomachs in England? The Free Trade which exists there.—Brockville Times.

And will do the same thing in Canada if reciprocity (commercial union) ever gets in working order.

What's all this? Bourassa in Quebec and Mackenzie King in Ontario. Bourassa is trying to inflame the French-Canadians against the government's naval policy because it is too Imperialistic, and King is trying to inflame the Germans of Berlin against Borden's naval policy because it is an "Imperialistic jingo policy." The government can hardly blame Mr. Bourassa when its youngest minister raises the race cry.—Ottawa Journal.

The best way to bring the price of meat down is to quit eating so much of it. Not only would this course benefit the pocketbook, but it would also give the stomach a much-needed rest.

The coroner's reports shows 3,483 deaths from violence last year in New York City. They occurred chiefly in localities where the population is congested. New York has one block on the east side which contains 63,000 persons.

It is not many months ago that Sir Wilfrid Laurier in one of his speeches said:—

"Canada to-day is not in favor of reciprocity. There was a time when Canadians, beginning with myself, would have given many things to obtain the American market, but thank Heaven, those days are passed and over."

Nor was it long ago that Sir Wilfrid declared:—

"There was a time when we were wanting reciprocity with the United States, but our efforts and our offers were put aside and negatived. We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

Nor are all the people yet dead who heard Sir Wilfrid in impassioned and ringing tones cry:—

"But I have found that the best and most effective way to maintain friendship with our American neighbors is to be absolutely independent of them."

COLDSTREAMS GUARDS BAND

Just Why It Is Given First Place Among Military Bands.

The Bands of the Brigade of Guards are admittedly the finest military bands in the world—even the Germans will tell you so, and of the Guards Bands who have visited Canada, none have been so enthusiastically received everywhere as the Band of the Coldstream Guards which comes to the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, this year. This is probably because to the general excellence of the band Dr. McKenzie Rogan adds an ability to inspire his audience with patriotic thrills. The following description of the scene in Massey Hall, Toronto, when the Coldstreams last played there is taken from the Mail and Empire. It illustrates the point:—

"A ponderous bass of unparalled sweetness, a wood wind perfect in its ensemble, and a full toned brass entirely free from harshness—this in a few words describes the band of the Coldstream Guards. Last night Massey Hall was crowded to the roof and although Toronto audiences are not given to demonstration, the entire audience rose while the Band played "Soldiers of the Queen" and sang with a right good will. "Rule Brittania" followed, and as the stirring old chords resounded the singing broke out again and the people "Never, never, nevered" until the roof trembled with the volume of sound. Everyone was alike, from the dress-suited, white-shirted aristocrat in the orchestra to the proletriat in the top of the gallery. Then too, it was played by the Band of a regiment whose blood has been shed on many a hundred hard-fought fields and which today stands unquestionably in the van of British bands."

Absent-minded beggar, our eloquent Prime Minister. He forgot to say a word about the Oliver charges at Simcoe.

Keep Healthy and Vigorous

Loss of appetite, lack of energy, quickness to tire are not, as you think, a natural result of hot weather, but are really symptoms of a disordered physical condition. They show to a trained mind that the organs of the body, from many causes, are not properly performing their respective duties—the stomach may easily digest some kinds of foods and reject others—the kidneys, or liver, may be slightly or greatly out of order—and any one, or all of these conditions, may be responsible for a debilitated system.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

taken as directed will quickly put every organ in the body in perfect working condition. The stomach, heart, liver and kidneys will adjust themselves and work in harmony to your better health, and the hot weather will not inconvenience you physically or mentally.

All liquor dealers, or direct, $1.25 a large bottle. Be sure you get the genuine; substitutes and imitations are injurious. Medical booklet, containing rare common-sense rules for health and testimonials, also doctor's advice, sent free to anyone who writes. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

OH! YOU BAY OF QUINTE

The editor of this great family journal, together with our special chronicler of old-time sports in Belleville, made a pilgrimage down into Indiana early this month, to dwadle for a few days along the shores of a very beautiful and well-known inland lake. We went fully equipped, with all the paraphernalia to be found in the kit of every experienced fisherman, and we had in mind plans, that had not as their base the good and welfare of all and sundry fish, which might populate the waters of the above referred to lake. As we boarded the train our mind ran quickly back to other fishing trips in other days, and we made note of the difference in the manner of starting out. As the train pulled out of the depot and we settled back in our seat to enjoy the trip, to the fishing grounds, we casually sized up the outside of our fishing kit, and in doing so we quickly contrasted its appearance with that of the old hickory pole we cut, down in Foley's grove, a quarter century and more ago, and we smiled. We didn't know, just at the time, who we smiled, but we do now.

In due time we reached the lake, and in more due time we were on the lake, and snugly esconced in a fishing boat, with all our apparatus ready, with full directions as to where the "last" lot had been caught, and with anticipation setting our nerves humming like a frosted telegraph wire. We reached the spot and got busy. We got very busy; in fact we were so busy we did not notice the time slip by, until in the distance we heard the faint notes of the dinner gong—and we had caught no fish.

We worked between meals and swimming hours. We worked faithfully and honestly. We worked with a vim worthy of any cause, but we got no fish at any time. We did, however, have an enjoyable holiday.

As we journeyed back to Chicago, some days later, our attention in the train was again directed at our fishing kit, and then we knew what made us smile when we were starting out. We were thinking of the days of long ago, when we used to go out in the backyard, dig a can of worms, sling our old hickory pole across our shoulder, set our cow breakfast firmly on our uncombed head and set out for the Grand Junction dock—and fish. And we never came back without them, either. It was great sport in the old days—especially if one hooked an eel. Nowadays one goes fishing with all sorts of fancy tackle and modern appliances, and one rarely secures anything but fish stories. In the other days we were not very flossy on tackle, but we were certainly long on the fish. That's why we smiled; and that's why we say, Oh, you Bay of Quinte!—Chicago Belleville Club News.

HAULED UP A CASKET

Peculiar Find of a Crew of Liverpool Fishermen

A remarkable recovery from the sea has been made by fishermen at Liverpool. Captain Evans and crew, after trawling for five miles, hauled up an earthenware casket, securely fastened and bound with copper wire, to which a slab of lead was attached. On the lid the following words were written in lead pencil: "John Henry Wood. Cremated 4th June, 1911." When the casket was opened, "Wood, Manchester," was discovered imprinted on a piece of lead used as a seal for copper wires. The contents were cinders of human bones. The process of cremation had not been thorough, as some of the bones could be clearly recognized.

WHAT SHOWERS DO

Many folks complain when showers are frequent, but few seem to know the good that these same showers do. To begin with, rain purifies the air, beating down the minute particles of dust with which it is usually laden, and driving away many millions of germs. Rain is a great fertilizer, as it contains a large quantity of carbonic acid, which it collects from the air, and further absorbs many chemical substances from decaying vegetation lying on the surface of the earth.

Price of Handkerchiefs

Edged with gold, and worn usually in the hat, handkerchiefs cost from 10 cents to 25 cents in the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

English Sturgeons

In accordance with an old statute, every sturgeon caught off the shores of England belongs by right to the King.

more seriously than they did at first, and some of them had acknowledged that they were making experiments with trimethylamine and ammonia, the gases which are supposed to effect the "cures."

NEGLECTED HIS DUTIES

Grounds on Which a Frenchman Obtained a Divorce

A petition for divorce, arising out of his wife's neglect of household duties, was granted to M. Louis Dorizon at the Palace of Justice, Paris. The judgment of the court said that M. Dorizon did not omit to point out to his wife the imprudence of her compromising conduct in neglecting her duties as mistress of the house, but that, nevertheless, when he arrived at meal times, the servants had not received instructions for the ordering of the food. These disorders caused him frequent suffering. Mme. Dorizon led a life of pleasure, and her acts were not those of a woman of her position. In spite of M. Dorizon's reprovals, she persisted in receiving people whom he had forbidden her to visit. These transgressions of her duties constituted a grave injury. Mme. Dorizon was entrusted with the care of her son, aged thirteen months, until he reaches the age of four years, when he will be sent to his father.

Old Age Pensioners

The death is announced at Great Yarmouth at the age of ninety-five of Robert Fryer, who became an old-age pensioner at the same time as his son when the Act came into operation.

Crushed by His Invention

Mr. Archibald Dyer, a motor engineer, of Belvedere Road, Lowestoft, was fatally crushed whilst working at a press, of which he was the designer.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission.

"It is necessary that you should rest, my boy," was the decisive answer. "I see that you are thoroughly tired. You will need all your reserve strength to follow Duffy. My wife and daughter will be delighted to entertain you. Eastern society is somewhat scarce in this region, you know."

"It's a hard route we have before us," said Duffy, addressing his new master. "A week's rest won't do you no harm. We'll talk it over and get our bearings. I know the woods middlin' well, but it won't do no harm to have an understanding."

"You may tell Ralston that I have concluded to let you off," said Mr. Wheeler, at the end of the interview. "But say nothing of the search in which you are to take part. I wish it to be kept a secret."

"Den Duffy knows how to hold a secret," and rising, he left the office, apparently well pleased with the project in hand.

The lumberman pressed a button, and a few moments later a swift-stepping horse, attached to a business buggy, appeared at the door.

"I can't understand John's going from us, and most of all, his continued silence," said young Gran't host as they drove toward's the town's suburbs. "He should at least let us know where he is."

"I can readily understand his motive," replied Grant. "John is determined to give his father a life-long lesson. None of us have heard from him since he left home. He probably learned that you were an intimate friend of Uncle Robert, and feared some inquiry might be made about him." Then Alex. explained the trouble in detail, placing his cousin in a true light, and upholding the justice of his stand.

"Robert Grant was wrong—dead wrong," was the energetic reply. "I am surprised that he should take such a course, and with his own son of all others. I admire the boy's grit. It has raised him one hundred per cent. in my estimation. I don't mind telling you that he is engaged to my daughter. She is nearly heartbroken over his neglecting to write. I was willing he should have her even as a dependent upon his salary, for my estimation of his manly qualities was very high. I had intended when they married, to take him into the firm, but your information has put me all at sea. I had not counted on his being the son of my old friend, who could buy me out twice over."

"I can understand the cause of his delay in writing, and will satisfactorily explain it to your daughter," said Alex, as they turned from the highway into a beautiful park-like place. "And I will also make John account for his ungallant conduct when I find him."

"I wish you would put her mind at rest, Grant, for the poor girl, is not at all herself," said Mr. Wheeler, throwing the reins to an attendant as they stopped at the doorstep of an artistically built residence, and grasping Alex's baggage he sprang nimbly from the wagon and ascended the stone steps. "Come right in, my boy. This is to be your home for a week and as much longer as you wish to stay. Step into the reception room while I find my wife and Alice" and he motioned to a door at the right of the hallway.

As he entered the room, a glad voice cried, "Oh, John, John. You have come at last," and a vision of loveliness rushed to him, a pair of soft arms were thrown about his neck; and two passionate kisses were pressed to his lips. "Why did you stay away so long, dear?" asked a sweet voice. "Did you not know I was waiting for you? Oh, John," and she drew him closer in a loving embrace.

For a moment only did Alex allow her to hold him, then in a low, doubtful voice he said, "I wish I were John for your sake, but I am only his cousin."

"And you are not my John?" she cried, instantly releasing him and stepping backward. "Oh, are you not John Graham?"

"I am Alex Grant, John Grant's cousin, and I—but the words were unfinished, for the girl had turned deathly pale, staggered and would have fallen but for his catching her in his arms. He carried her gently to a reclining chair and had placed her in it, when Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler entered the room. As he turned his face towards them Mrs. Wheeler gave a start, then looked searchingly into his face. The resemblance was perfect and she could scarcely convince herself that the stranger was not he who had become so dear to them.

"Mr. Grant, my wife. This is John's cousin, Sarah," said Mr. Wheeler. Mechanically she extended her hand, but could not speak. Alex understood the strain on her heart and his sympathy was sincere and deep. Mrs. Wheeler was a well-preserved woman of about fifty-four. She was quite tall, rather stout, but well-proportioned; the expression of her still youthful face was, like that of her husband, one of unusual benevolence. The blue eyes were full of love, and as young Grant looked into them he knew he had met a staunch friend.

"It was a terrible shock to the poor girl," he said.

"Alice has been unable to account for her fiancee's silence and now this further disappointment has quite overcome her," said Mrs. Wheeler. "But come; I am sure all will be explained and I am so glad that you, perhaps, can help in that."

At that moment the young lady recovered consciousness and was at once assisted to her room by her mother.

"John Graham—or Grant must be found," said the lumberman, in a decided voice, laying his hand on Alex's shoulder.

"By the grace of God and with all my energies, he shall be," was the fervent response.

When they retired that night, at a late hour, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler had been made familiar with the circumstances of John's disappearance from home; nor could they do other than praise the manly course he had pursued. They now understood his silence and felt that with the assistance of Duffy's great experience and knowledge of the forest trails he would soon be found and returned to his sorrowing friends.

BRONCHITIS

Catarrhozone cures Bronchitis of three years standing after four doctors Failed.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

"I feel it my duty," writes Mrs. Boyd, of Leonardville, N.B., "to let you know that I have been cured of Bronchitis of three months' standing by Catarrhozone.

"With the least change in temperature, or exposure to inclement weather, I was attacked with bronchial discomfort, wheezing in the chest, hoarseness, sore throat, partial loss of voice, and stuffiness of the head. I consulted four doctors and was treated by them all without any benefit.

"Catarrhozone was strongly recommended to me by several persons whom it had benefited, and I was induced to give it a good trial.

"It quickly relieved my difficult breathing, so I got the complete outfit, hard rubber inhaler, etc., and I began systematically the Catarrhozone treatment.

"In a few days the huskiness and hoarseness disappeared, and my voice became stronger. The running of the nose, and stuffiness of the head feverishness, difficult breathing were all done away with before I had been using Catarrhozone very long.

"About six weeks' treatment was sufficient to do more for me than four doctors failed to do in three years' time. It cured me and I don't believe there is another such a remedy on earth. Its action is speedy, pleasant and permanent."

Catarrhozone is a new, scientific treatment, and is guaranteed to cure Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Cold, etc., or money refunded. It contains nothing injurious, and can be used by the infant as well as by the adult.

It is both a local and a constitutional remedy. The Inhaler supplies abundance of medicated air, which spreads through all the air passages, killing germ life, and healing sore spots as it goes.

The impurities in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone tablets, which strengthen and build up the system to such a healthy condition that disease simply can't exist.

Catarrhozone is recommended by doctors and druggists for all respiratory diseases. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. Complete outfit costs $1.00; trial size, 50c. At druggists.

TO SELL BLEAK HOUSE

The Dwelling at Broadstairs Once Occupied by Dickens

The historic house at Broadstairs where Charles Dickens lived was offered at auction at Messrs. Knight, Frank and Rutley's rooms, when, after a number of bids, which nearly reached the reserve price, the property was withdrawn at $30,000. The house, which is the property of Mr. Thomas Barry, will be reoffered at Broadstairs, when there will also be offered for sale the interesting furniture and contents of the house, including Frith's well-known picture "Dolly Varden," which was painted for Charles Dickens, and a replica of which is in the South Kensington Museum. According to the catalogue, before Dickens lived at Bleak House, Wilkie Collins was in residence there. At that time it was known as Fort House, and was renamed Bleak House by Dickens. Here he wrote some of his most famous works, and it is believed that "David Copperfield" was almost entirely written in the small study which faces the sea. Outside this study is a panel painting by Miss Dickens, and various articles of furniture once belonging to the great novelist are still there.

Over 120,000 tons of pebbles are annually picked up on the Normandy beaches. Most of them are sent abroad.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the offering this morning were 600 cattle, 1,150 sheep and lambs, 1,200 hogs and 250 calves. A steady feeling prevailed in the market for cattle and prices showed no further change owing to the fact that the demand was good from local butchers and supplies were not in excess of the requirements.

A fairly active trade was done with sales of choice steers at 6¼c; good at 5¾c to 6c; fairly good, at 5¼c to 5½c; fair, at 4¾c to 5c, and common at 4½c per lb. Cows brought from 4c to 5¼c, and bulls at from 3c to 4½c per lb., as to quality.

Owing to the increased supplies of sheep and lambs coming forward a weaker feeling developed in the market and prices declined ¼c to ½c per lb., but at this reduction the demand was good, and an active trade was done. Lambs sold at 6c, and sheep at 4c per lb.

The demand for calves was good, and sales were made at prices ranging from $3 to $10 each, as to size and quality.

The market for hogs was weaker, and prices ruled lower on account of the larger offerings. The demand was fair with sales of selected lots at $7.50 and mixed and heavy lots at from $6 to $7.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes

This gentleman for daring to express his views to the people of Canada upon the question of reciprocity, as might have been expected, brought down upon him the wrath of the Toronto Globe. Mr. Hawkes wrote a reply and sent it to The Globe. Here is the Globes' reply:

"The Globe published on Monday morning a fair and sufficient report of Mr. Arthur Hawkes' reply in his Hamilton speech to the editorial reference to his connection with Hon. Frank Cochrane and the Tory plan of campaign that appeared in these columns on Saturday. Mr. Hawkes is not the issue in this campaign, and The Globe has no apology to make for failure to print the two and a half columns of "justification" of Mr. Hawkes' position that appeared over his signature in an evening paper yesterday."

This is characteristic. The Globe never publishes anything which would give its readers correct and truthful information.

Large Market And Small

Liberal orators throughout the country are now endeavoring to persuade the people of this country that with the opening of the great American markets to the farmers of Ontario the Agricultural community of this country will be greatly benefited They are endeavoring to delude the farmer into the belief that larger markets mean higher prices for agricultural products and to induce the farmer to vote for reciprocity in the belief that he will be benefited in pocket thereby.

Before the present treaty was negotiated the United States Government employed a small army of experts to examine carefullly into the conditions of their various markets and to gather statistics bearing on every conceivable point so as to show Congress clearly how the United States farmer or producer would be effected. These facts and figures were before the American Negotiators when our Canadian representatives went to Washington. Our statesmen had no such facts or figures before them. They entered into the negotiations blindfold. After the negotiations were ended the President sent his message advocating the passing of a reciprocity treaty to Congress. Attached to that message were a number of tables of facts and figures showing among other things, a comparison of the prices obtained for agricultural products in the market at Buffalo with those in Toronto and of those in Ogdensburg, New York with those in Prescott, Ont. These figures, let us remember, were obtained to show how the people of the United States would be affected. We can rely upon it, therefore, that the figures are absolutely correct and not misleading. These figures show that in Toronto and Prescott the prices for beef, cattle, sheep, hogs, dairy produce and poultry are higher than in Buffalo and Ogdensburg.

President Taft, in a recent address, told the farmers of the United States not to be alarmed as they would sell Canadians more agricultural products than we would sell them. In the face of these facts how can the farmer of Ontario benefit by throwing open his home market with its higher prices to competitors in exchange for the larger market of the United States with its smaller prices

In the United States at the present time the price of horses, for instance, is $50 per head less than in Canada. Every farmer owns from four to ten horses, which, at $50 per head, will mean a net loss to him on horses alone from $200 to $500. How long will it take him to make up the loss on his horses, his cattle, his sheep and his hogs from the higher prices it is claimed he may possibly get from the sales of a few apples, a little hay, or one or two other products, too trifling to mention in the American market?

In what respect do the Liberal leaders, who are holding out the inducement that a larger and uncertain market means larger income for the farmer differ from the fake company promoters who hold out glittering inducements of large returns on an investment to induce one to part with his money and then pay the first few dividends out of capital? Is there any difference? There can be none if by the change the farmer stands to gain even a little in income, but stands to lose a goodly part of his hard-earned capital through the reduction in value of his horses, cattle, sheep and hogs.

MUTINY OF A CREW

Twenty-Six Chinamen Attacked the Officers of a Scottish Vessel

A sensational story of mutiny on the high seas is told by Captain G. J. Perks, of the steamer Skeines, belonging to the Clyde Shipping Company, Glasgow. While the vessel was on its way from New York to Adelaide the Chinese crew of twenty-six mutinied attacked one third engineer, and threatened to kill the first engineer. The ship's coal was so wilfully wasted that the captain decided to put in at Mauritius, 820 miles away. From that moment the engineers deemed it unsafe to enter the stokehold, and decided for mutual protection to keep two men always on the watch. Captain Perks was four days without sleep, being afraid that the Chinese might fire the cargo, consisting of forty-two thousand cases of naptha and benzine. When Mauritius was reached the Chinese were put ashore and natives engaged in their place. On searching the men's quarters concealed weapons of various kinds were found, including a revolver and fifty cartridges.

ARCHDUKE OF AUSTRIA

Though Declared Dead, He Is Said to Be Waiting to Claim the Throne

An echo from the past has again stirred into light the rumor that the Archduke of Austria, Jean Salvator, who left the land of his birth under disgrace and suspicion, would return to claim the throne. When the Archduke left his native land he took the name of John Orth, and after a lapse of a decade, had been reported many times as dead. Recently his death was officially declared.

The Princess de Saxe, however, a favorite cousin of the Archduke's, is the instigator of a rumor that has caused a stir in Austrian political circles, the more especially since the aged Emperor Franz Joseph is rapidly nearing his grave. She expresses a belief in the Archduke's safe and his inevitable reappearance when the present tenant of the Austrian throne is dead. To give credence to the rumor the Princess recites a letter received from the Archduke after he had twice been reported dead in which he says: "I go away because the Emperor wishes. But I will retrnu when Franz Joseph is dead. I will come back to Vienna, for Austria will need me. Adieu, my cousin, I will surely return." Princess Louis anxiously awaits the reappearance of her cousin.

BERLIN WOMEN POLICE

Part of Their Work Will be the Care of Infants

A body of women police has been mustered in Berlin. One section will devote their attention to ordinary police work, and to the other portion will be entrusted the care of infants. It is essential that the guardians of the children possess a knowledge of medicine. The women constables will be armed with revolvers, so that they will be able to protect themselves if necessary when entering houses in the lower quarters of the city where they have a suspicion that children are being ill treated. Thirty women will be engaged at the start.

BOY HAS TWO STOMACHS

A Wonderful Patient in a Hospital in Rome

Considerable interest is being taken in a fourteen-year-old lad now lying in a Rome hospital, who was found to have two stomachs—an upper and a lower one. The discovery was made as the result of an operation, for the boy had never enjoyed good health from birth. Doctors could not understand the case at all, for the periodical swellings pointed to the existence of a tumor, which vanished suddenly from time to time.

The boy is fast recovering from the effects of the removal of one of the stomachs, which led into each other.

Many eminent surgeons have visited the wonderful patient.

BAD TEETH AND DISEASE

Dr. Erskine Young, of Liverpool, contended at the British Medical Conference that bad teeth contributed to anaemia, tuberculosis, appendicitis and enteric. What better dentifrice, asked Dr. Young, could there be than chloride and charcoal.

PROTECTION AGAINST AIRSHIPS

Lloyds' Will Insure Against Damage From Aeroplanes

In view of the rapid advance of aviation and the likelihood of aerial accidents, Lloyds, always ready to issue policies against mishaps of every description, are now accepting risks of damage to property caused by aeroplanes. Should an aviator sailing over a house accidently or otherwise drop a wrench through the roof of the conservatory, the underwriters will make good the damage, or if an aeroplane takes a plunge into the chicken-run belonging to some suburban dweller and cause havoc among the feathered creatures, compensation will be readily forthcoming. The premium is based on the rateable value of the property, and the minimum premium is a dollar and a quarter on any house assessed up to $300. For this premium Lloyds undertake to pay $500 in the event of damage to the house and its contents, or the grounds, through the sudden descent of an aeroplane or airship. The rate quoted does not apply to houses within a mile of flying grounds.

PRINCE AUGUST WILHELM OF PRUSSIA

As a result of an automobile accident in which Prince August of Prussia's auto and a swiftly-moving taxi-cab played stellar roles, the Prince finds himself without his fine stable of touring cars. The order of confiscation was his father's. The Kaiser had forbidden his son to drive rapidly through the streets of Berlin, but the Prince forgetting for the moment the paternal and imperial command, "let her out" a notch, with the result that his indiscretion came to the ears of the Kaiser, who refused to permit him to use his cars.

FRANCS FOR BABIES

With a view to encouraging thrift M. Chaumet, the Under Secretary of State to the Post Office, has issued a circular to the directors of departments, from which it appears that various municipalities intend to put a franc in the savings bank in the name of every child as soon as it is born. By way of assisting the communes in their laudable efforts to encourage the habit of saving among children the Post Office Savings Bank will accept the deposits made in the names of newly-born babies. There is a stipulation that the children cannot withdraw the deposits made by the parishes until they have reached their majority, or get married.

"LET LAURIER FINISH HIS WORK"

The Grand Trunk Pacific Scheme Is a Direct Result of the Abandonment of Reciprocity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Always when a country adopts a new and definite line of policy, some special, tremendous work is undertaken, which embodies that policy and becomes its monument. That is as inevitable as that day should follow night. It may be undertaken by members of the community, whose efforts may coalesce in several enterprises, or the Government itself may launch some scheme in the name of the country.

Canada furnishes two outstanding examples of this. The logical outcome of Confederation was an ocean-to-ocean Canada. The logical necessity of an ocean-to-ocean Canada was an ocean-to-ocean railway. The Canadian Pacific had to be. It was first undertaken by the Government, and was then committed to private hands, with Government assistance.

When the abandonment of the Reciprocity idea was so quickly succeeded by a marvelous expansion of business, and, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier said, "We now put all our hopes upon the British trade," the policy of fiscal independence had its sequel in a vast engine designed to establish that independence—the National Transcontinental Railway—which is to be operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, to which the backing of the public treasury was liberally given.

The general election of 1904 was fought on the wisdom of the Grand Trunk Pacific and National Transcontinental bargain, which was the Government's method of carrying to its logical end the repeal of the Reciprocity offer, and of implementing the Premier's announcement to the Imperial Conference, that Canada was devoted to East-and-West trade.

The election was won by the Government, and the railway was begun. In 1908 the Government went to the country again—not on the wisdom of the bargain, but on the necessity of completing the job. "Let Laurier finish his work," was the victorious slogan.

The work is not finished. Another in competition with it has been begun.

SEVEN

BEWARE THE COMPETITOR

Sir Wilfrid Said, "Heaven Grant That It Be Not Already Too Late"

By JOHN V. BORNE.

A great deal has been said for and against the contention that in making a reciprocity agreement without consulting the people the Dominion Government reversed its established policy.

Those who say the Liberal party was always committed to Reciprocity, forget that the transcontinental railway policy was based on the abandonment of reciprocity, and that the general election of 1904, won by the Government, was the strongest endorsement of the abandonment of Reciprocity the country could give; for it authorized the Government to spend large sums of money to make new channels of East and West trade, which Reciprocity would have rendered unnecessary.

Listen to the Prime Minister justifying the great scheme:—

> A railway to extend from the shores of the Atlantic Ocean to the shores of the Pacific Ocean, and to be, every inch of it, on Canadian soil, is a national as a well as a commercial necessity. That such a road must be built, that it is, in the language which I have used, a national and a commercial necessity, that it is a corollary of our status as a nation, that it is a requisite of our commercial develoment, is a proposition to which, up to this moment, I have heard no dissent.
>
> We consider that it is the duty of all those who sit within these walls by the will of the people, to provide immediate means whereby the products of those new settlers may find an exit to the ocean at the least possible cost, and whereby, likewise, a market may be found in this new region for those who toil in the forests, in the fields, in the mines, in the shops of the old Provinces. Such is our duty; it is immediate and imperative. It is not for tomorrow, but of this day, of this hour, and of this minute. Heaven grant that it be not already too late; heaven grant that whilst we tarry and dispute the trade of Canada is not deviated to other channels, and that an ever vigilant competitor does not take to himself the trade that properly belongs to those who acknowledge Canada as their native or their adopted land.

CANADA'S INDEPENDENCE

The Finance Minister Would Have Built a Third Transcontinental to Emphasize It

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Though the Prime Minister always speaks for the Government, great importance attaches to the declarations of their Ministers; and, where big expenditures are concerned, especially to the Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding.

In turning from the United States Mr. Fielding was as thoroughgoing as his chief. He told the House of Commons:—

> It is desirable that we should give our American brethren to understand that Canada is resolved to work out her independence in these things, that the present proposal will promote this object, and that even if still another railway should be necessary we shall be prepared to construct it. The attitude that the Government has taken upon this subject . . . has already attracted much attention across the border, and there is a much keener appreciation of Canada's independence than ever before.

You will at once be struck by the clearness of the allusion to the desirability of achieving independence of the United States. Why should there be this persistent appearance of the United States in the speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding, insisting upon the building of a railway that was not to approach the United States border line? There was no proposal to build the line north and south instead of east and west.

It could only be because some condition that formerly affected the relations of Canada with the United States had undergone a change. What was it? You may search the records of the times in vain for the slightest proof that there had been any question between the two countries which could be a factor in Canada's embarkation on a vast commercial enterprise, except one—and that was the question of reciprocity.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier had led the Liberals who in 1891 desired unrestricted reciprocity. Mr. Fielding when Premier of Nova Scotia had kept an open door for his Province's withdrawal from Confederation, because it was thought better to trade with the United States than with the rest of Canada. Especially to them, therefore, the new transcontinental railway scheme was a confirmation of the abandonment of the reciprocal idea; and their assertion of the Fiscal Independence of Canada was consequently all the more definite and clearcut.

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE

Means Just About the Same as "Let Laurier Finish His Work"

By JOHN V. BORNE.

In reality there is not much difference between "Let Laurier Finish His Work" and "Let well enough alone." Mr. Fielding has sneered at "Let well enough alone." He has read into it the meaning that Canada should be content with the commercial progress already made.

"Let Laurier Finish His Work" meant "Let the Government complete the project which is intended to enlarge and consolidate trade between the provinces and trade with Great Britain."

"Let well enough alone" means "Let us not turn aside from the development of Canada on the lines that have proved our ability to be independent of the United States; and which are the best guarantee that our expenditure of $200,000,000 on a railway that is to strengthen this independence will not be prejudiced."

How important is the work by which Sir Wilfrid Laurier wishes to be judged—the work which arose directly out of the abandonment of reciprocity—may be judged by the Minister of Railways' statement on March 10th, 1911, as to the cost of the National Transcontinental, which is being built from Moncton, New Brunswick, to Winnipeg—1,804 miles:—

Cost of work done to December 31st, 1910	$94,580,500
Estimated cost of work required to complete	50,759,200
	$145,339,700

The figures, which do not include interest charges during construction, work out at $80,565 per mile. At the end of January, 1911, the total percentage of work done on all contracts was 67.62 per cent.—roughly, two-thirds.

These figures do not include a cent of the Government's obligations for the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert.

THE EVER-VIGILANT COMPETITOR

How the Government Spends Millions to Keep Him Out and Then Brings Him In

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Yearly interest, at four per cent., on the cost of the National Transcontinental Railway will be $3,200 per mile, roughly, five and three-quarter million dollars a year.

Having been in business thirty years the Canadian Pacific Railway, after meeting operating expenses, has to find $901 per mile for fixed charges, before it can pay dividends. On an average of 65 per cent. of its earnings are absorbed by operating expenses. If the National Transcontinental can begin with an equally good proportion of earnings to expenses, it will need to earn, in order to pay its fixed charges, $16,000,000 a year, in an empty country, which is being opened up entirely to enlarge east and west trade and trade with Great Britain. This is exclusive of the earnings of the Grand Trunk Pacific beyond Winnipeg.

There are two dominant reasons why the Government's predictions about its great railway should be realized, both of which make the earning capacity of the railway a matter of extraordinary importance to the Canadian people.

The first is that the people must pay the interest on the cost, whether the railway earns it or not, and therefore, every taxpayer has a direct responsibility for making the line profitable.

The second is that, if the Transcontinental cannot make both ends meet out of earnings, and the public treasury has to be drawn on, Canadian credit will be seriously prejudiced, because, for the first time in the Twentieth Century (which Sir Wilfrid Laurier proclaimed to be Canada's Century) a great new transportation undertaking in the Dominion will fail to be self-supporting, with obvious effect on the further supply of capital for Canadian development.

The Prime Minister was afraid the National Transcontinental might be too late against the "ever-vigilant competitor to the south." Reciprocity gives the competitor a three years' start of the Transcontinental Railway which was to defeat him.

WHO FINDS THE MONEY ?

British Investors Send Hundreds of Millions of Dollars to Canadian Enterprises

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It is not well to insist that the British investor in Canadian enterprises is governed by political sentiment, or that there is some implied obligation on the borrower to do more than earn and pay the interest on his borrowings.

But there is sentiment in business, all the same; and it has had a good deal to do with the expansion of modern Canada.

See how it works in immigration, without which our lands and other natural resources availed us little, and the absence of which had much to do with the old-time desire for Reciprocity. In 1910, over a hundred thousand people came to Canada from the British Islands. A poll of them would show that one of the chief reasons why they are here is that this is a British country.

The connection between the immigration of British people and the immigration of British money is clear. Money follows people, as trade follows the flag. People will not continue to come if their friends send bad accounts of how they are getting along. Money will not continue to come if the earning power of that which has been sent is weakened, and especially if there is a failure in the undertaking which the Government said is part of the fundamental commercial policy of the nation, and if that failure is even partially attributable to the substitution of a foreign country for the inter-Imperial trade on which the Prime Minister has declared "We set our hopes."

Consider the investment of British money that has been going on since, and as an effect, of that declaration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The British Trade Commissioner for Canada, Mr. Richard Grigg, in a report issued April 1st, 1911, states that in the five years ending 1909, British investors sent $605,453,852 to Canada, irrespective of the millions brought by settlers and private individuals. Examine the wide-spread distribution of these investments:—

Canadian Bank Shares	$1,125,000
Investment with Loan and Mortgage companies	5,719,774
British Insurance Companies' Investments	9,731,742
Municipal Bonds sold privately	10,000,000
Industrial Investments	22,500,000
Land and Timber Investments	19,000,000
Mining Investments	56,315,500
Public Flotations in London (Gov., Railway, etc.)	481,061,836
Total	$605,453,852

TURNED RIGHT ABOUT FACE

The Conversion of the American People from Enemies to Friends of Reciprocity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Nothing more remarkable in international trade has ever been seen than the complete change in regard to reciprocity that has occurred in Canada and in the United States.

Canada used to ask for reciprocity, and when she did not get it, she went her way rejoicing, and the Prime Minister said, "We have turned our backs upon it."

The United States grew accustomed to answering Canadian seekers after reciprocity with cold water and a few civil words, and continued to believe that Canada, being only a country of woods and wastes and waters, would surely seek the shelter of the United States.

But, presently, the woods and wastes and waters changed their aspect, and began to show all sorts of money-making possibilities. There had been an immigration from Canada to the United States. Gradually it dawned upon discerning people that the incoming Canadians were fewer and fewer, and that manufacturers were beginning to talk about their branch plants in Canada. And, in a little while, good farmers began to go north on trips that led them to sell their farms and take carloads of stock and implements away up to the Saskatchewan country.

It set people thinking. Canada was a real country and not a wilderness of snow-covered rock. There was another pebble on the beach after all. And, strangely enough, while the United States had been expanding industrially, Canadians had also been building factories and keeping them going, because they had taken a leaf out of the book that had been written against them at Washington—they had copied the tariff, and had, in effect, imposed a residential qualification for leading places in the market.

It did not seem right, and Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, reflected faithfully the mind of his observant countrymen about this thing:—

> There must be reciprocity with Canada. Our tariff with the rest of the world does not apply to our northern neighbor. That policy has already driven American manufactures across the Canadian borders, built vast plants with American capital on Canadian soil, employing Canadian workingmen to supply trade. That capital should be kept at home to employ American workingmen to supply Canadian demand.

MONEY FOR NECKLACES

Despite hard times, there still seems to be money in some quarters. In London a week ago a necklace of 85 pearls of pinkish orient was sold for $20,000, and another of 57 round pearls realized $5,750.

BLOW AIMED BY CONGRESS

Against Canada's Dealings With Britain Caused President Taft to Approach Ottawa

By JOHN V. BORNE.

A few years ago Canada began to look like a promised land to the people across the border. Men began to say that the statesmanship which first gave and then took away Reciprocity, and then aggravated the taking away, was not statesmanship at all—it was dog-gone foolishness. Nothing like this had ever been said about the United States statesmanship—in the United States. A call arose for access to Canada, by offering Canada access to the United States, by a return to the Reciprocal idea formally abjured by Canada.

In fulness of time this new song reached Washington, and a President who was in sore distress because his people hated a tariff bill which he had described as the best ever, and complained, like the children of Israel, that it was getting harder and harder to live, and that they must be relieved of the afflictions of the trusts and combines.

The President turned to Reciprocity with Canada as a means of relieving everybody. It would relieve the President of the worsening incubus of the Payne-Aldrich Tariff Bill, would relieve the consumer of his sense of oppression, and it would relieve Canada of the natural resources whose enormous value was beginning to be appreciated in the United States.

There was another reason. Congress had planned a blow at Canada which it left the President to deliver, and which he did not want to deliver. Canada had made a family preferential trading arrangement with Great Britain, which had operated for thirteen years as an equalizer of the advantage enjoyed by the United States manufacturers on account of their close proximity to the Canadian market. As a blow against British Preference on this continent, Congress devised a maximum tariff which the President must enforce, whenever it appeared that any country gave to its allies something it did not give to the United States.

The President felt obliged to inflict this punishment on Canada unless Canada would help save his face, by a few trifling concessions. Canada sent Mr. Fielding to Albany, and the President's face was saved.

He asked for more.

TO HELP PRESIDENT TAFT

Canadian Representatives Saved His Whole Body, Instead of Face Only, as Expected

By JOHN V. BORNE.

In the fall of 1910, two emissaries went to Ottawa from Washington and conferred with the Dominion Government with a view to making a Reciprocity Agreement. When the year had turned, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Paterson paid a return visit and made the agreement in Washington without coming back to Ottawa to consult their colleagues.

In Canada a preponderance of opinion had declared against any substantial concession to United States sentiment. For instance, Senator Sir George W. Ross, the Liberal ex-Premier of Ontario, in a very able speech, contended that Canada did not need a reciprocity treaty, and declared that any proposals should be made "as openly as if they were submitted to Parliament."

The utmost expected was a few unimportant changes, sufficient to save the President's face once more. The agreement was disclosed simultaneously at Ottawa and Washington. To everybody's surprise, it was seen that not merely the President's face, but his whole body had been saved. A prospect had been opened up to the United States which put the Payne-Aldrich Bill into the shade, and turned public contemplation towards the natural resources of Canada.

How clearly this was so is evident from President Taft's message to Congress. The President, of course, used extremely diplomatic language, but he could not help showing the ultimate object of the Agreement from his point of view. Take some of his sentences:—

> If we can enlarge our supply of natural resources, and especially of food products and the necessities of life, without substantial injury to any of our producing and manufacturing classes, we should take steps to do so now. Ought we not, then, to arrange a commercial agreement with Canada, if we can, by which we shall have direct access to her great supply of natural products without an obstructing or prohibitory tariff. The Dominion has an active, aggressive and intelligent people. They are coming to the parting of the ways. Should we not now, therefore, before their policy has become too crystallized and fixed for change, greatly increase the natural resources available to our people?
>
> By giving our people access to Canadian forests we shall reduce the consumption of our own.

SENT A PAWNTICKET

"What's the matter, Jack? You look broken up."

"I am. You know I came three hundred miles to see Miss Hardcastle. Well, I called on her last night, and by mistake sent up a pawn-ticket instead of my card."

THE DEDUCTIVE METHOD

"The professor says that music owes a great deal to Rossini."

"What's Rossini?"

"That's probably Italian for 'rosin.'"

Things worth while are more apt to come your way if you go after them.

DRINKING A GOLD MINE

Whisky is a Great Factor in the Ups-and-Downs of Mining.

In a Western town a stranger recently stood in the hotel parlour and gazed absently out into the street. It was a gloomy day, and as he looked a small funeral procession passed the window. Involuntarily his eyes followed it, and a man sitting near him noticed the movement. "No much of a send-off," he remarked, sociably, "but you will go a long way before you see a better temperance sermon than those two or three carriages."

"How is that?" asked the other, dropping into the next chair to listen.

"You know the —— Mine?" asked the resident, naming one of the most famous mines properties in the neighbourhood. The listener nodded.

"Well," he continued, "before that mine ever came into existence the man you've just seen on his way to the cemetery was a poor miner prospecting in the same region. He'd been at it some years, always believing there was something to be got out if he could only locate it, but never finding anything. They were hard-luck years, but one day he found a nugget — no little two-for-a-penny nugget, but the kind of thing that sets men crazy."

"You mean," exclaimed the stranger, in no little surprise, "that the man who opened up that mine has gone through his fortune until only that was left to him?" He nodded towards the poor little funeral train now vanishing round a distant corner.

"He never had any fortune," said the other, "except that nugget. There it was, the thing he'd worked for and the proof that he had a fortune right under his feet. And the man had to 'celebrate!'

"He filled himself with whisky, sir, and went all over the camp showing his nugget. When he'd recovered his senses every available claim had been staked out, and there wasn't a thing left for him but day wages working for the men who had been sober enough to take advantage of his condition."

The man from the East whistled.

"And that's the end of him?"

"That's the end of what might have been one of the richest men in the country. Whisky put him to sleep, and when he woke up the nap had cost him the leading interest in a mining property that has since cleaned up over forty million dollars."

$2,300 FOR ONE FOX SKIN.

More Than Once a Black Fox Skin Has Paid a Farm Mortgage.

The pelt of the pure black fox is the highest priced fur on the market. The sum of $2,300 has been paid a breeder of black foxes in Prince Edward Island for one medium sized, flawless skin of exceptional beauty and lustre. The average prices per pelt, according to color and quality, run from 300 to $500.

The business of domesticating and breeding foxes has been carried on in this island for about twenty years; it is now past the experimental stages and promises to develop into a paying industry. In more than one instance the proceeds of the sale of a pure back fox skin has paid off a farm mortgage.

The black fox is very rare. Its pelt is marketed at London, where the available supply is offered at auction four times a year. At the sale in January 1910, 171 pelts, varying from the silver tinged to the pure black, were offered; this year the number at the midwinter sale was only 64.

The fox reaches full growth in from eight to nine months. The fur it at its best in the months of December, January and February, when the animal is from 2 to 3 years old. The highest degree of care must be exercised in taking off the skin. A drop of blood or the smallest break or defect ruins the fur for commercial purposes. To kill the fox it is smothered or chloroformed while confined in its hut or in a hollow log.

A young Spanish gentleman who recently arrived in the metropolis to be trained in the London office of his father's firm, has formed a very flattering opinion of the tradesmen. One day he was requiring a rubber catch for his umbrella, and entered a Bond Street shop for one.

The shopkeeper was very polite, put on the rubber ring, and rolled up the umbrella neatly. "And what am I to pay?" asked the young Spaniard. "Oh, we make no charge for that!" was the reply.

A day or two later, and again in Bond Street, a button had come off one of his boots, so he promptly went into a shop and had a new button fixed. For this the shopman also refused payment.

If I Were Farming Again

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

A rather inconsequent slogan was concocted in a Montreal newspaper office the other day and telegraphed all over the country as the battle-cry of the Liberal party in this election. It is "Let the farmer have his turn."

When clever politicians conspire to make a slogan they generally make a mistake. The cleverer the politicians the bigger the mistake.

The slogan doesn't really hit off the situation, except from the point of view of those who, like Sir Wilfrid have decided that they want Free Trade as it is in England. Sir Wilfrid's speeches in the West last year frequently contained this doctrine if you are for unconditional free trade it is no use trying to make out you are for the National Policy. So you mustn't talk about letting the farmer have his turn—as if he were not capable of taking care of himself. To have free trade as it is in England means that wages would have to come to the English level, and the power of wages to buy grain produce would be correspondingly weakened.

Half the controversy that troubles the world arises not because people give different answers to the same question, but because they ask different questions, and they approach public affairs from different points of view. In this Reciprocity business one man sees only a few schedules. Another discerns a change in the temper of the national life.

Many people tell us that the farmer thinks of nothing but price. I believe they are mistaken, important as the price is. I am very chary of talking to farmers about their relationship to a commercial-political question, because, having left the farm, I leave lecturing to farmers to those who know nothing about farming except what they see in the papers and observe from train or automobile. The best I can do is to size up the situation as I believe I would if I were farming again, remembering the long days of toil, the short nights of rest, the aching limbs and hardened hands, that used to belong to one's daily rustle with the earth.

The farmer who takes wide interest in public questions is the man above all others who should be able to grasp the great forces that originate and govern political action, because he is detached from many petty things that afflict city people, and because his closeness to nature helps him to discern the processes of national change and growth which are always behind political action. In politics—not the fussy little manoeuvreings between rivals for office that we sometimes dignify by the name—it is dead true that whatsoever a country sows that will it also reap.

Another consideration that would influence me, I think, as a farmer having to decide my attitude towards a vital national question would be the knowledge that most likely some, if not most, of my children would leave the farm, and that I should be ambitious for them to achieve the best possible result in other walks of life, and I should remember that nearly all the best services of the nation have been performed by rubes who were raised on the farm.

I would have a peculiar interest in the development and dignity of my province and of my country, from a patriotic point of view. I should know that in the building up of Canada the climactic factor has played a vital part. Just as the far north of Canada is the backyard of the southern portions of the Dominion, so, unless there has been something to check the flow of trade south across the boundary line, instead of there being big cities in Canada manufacturing for the farmers, and buying his produce at good prices, our industrial centres, without which no country can be really prosperous, would have been in the United States.

I should inquire how the United States had become such a great manufacturing country, and should read carefully what Mr. James Wilson, the Scotsman who is Secretary of the Agriculture of the United States, has said:—

> The American farmer brought about the building of the American factory because he wanted a home market. The home market is the best to be found anywhere, because our peole live well and are all able to buy the best farm produce, that is, all who are willing to work. It may be said, without much exaggeration, that the American farmer is responbible for the upbuilding of the factory. He has voted steadily for half a century to give protection to the extent of the difference in cost of production between this country and any country that desires to sell in our markets. Was that right or wrong? Was it wise for the farmers to do that? There was no market at home. They wanted a market as near the factory as they could bring it.

Having read that I would dig into the Dominion Government reports, which show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, like this:—

> Grain and fodder, including thirteen selected standard commodities, 49.9 per cent. Cattle and cattle products, hogs and hog products, sheep and sheep products, fowl and turkeys, 48.6 per cent. Dairy products, 33 per cent.

And that the price of goods the farmer has to buy have not risen to an equal extent, as this list shows:—

> Woollen goods, 23.3 per cent.; cotton goods, 25 per cent.; boots and shoes, 25 per cent.; metals and implements, 2.4 per cent.; imported goods—decrease, 4 per cent.

The staple lines, which represent over 90 per cent. of the farmer's expenditure, have only increased 14.3 per cent., while the goods he sells have increased 35.7 per cent.

WOULD ASSIST UNITED STATES

Why American Editors Welcome Reciprocity—Some of Them See Annexation in It

Here is what the editors of some American publications have to say about the proposed reciprocity agreement:

Annexation Anyway

The New York Tribune has remarked that if reciprocity cannot be brought about before annexation, annexation may be brought about before reciprocity.

Benefit to the States

The Boston Herald, speaking of Canada, said: "As her forest lands are cleared, her prairies brought under the plow and her mines opened, she will need machinery, and quantities of it. The benefit to United States manufacturers is obvious."

A. R. GOODEVE

Conservative candidate in Kootenay.

Take the Canadian Market

The Hardware Association of the New England States has endorsed the reciprocity project. Members declare that it will be beneficial to them chiefly in the sale of cutlery, and that it will be enlarged ultimately so as to give the entire trade advantages in the Canadian market.

One More State

Speaking of the effect of the Knox-Fielding pact, The Oriental Review, which is published in New York, says: "This great Republic has morally added to its union one more state, without fighting for it, and without any future need of 'knocking it' into proper shape!"

Would Knock Imperialism

The St. Paul Dispatch supports J. J. Hill's view. "If the Canadian reciprocity agreement," it says, "is ratified on both sides the Imperial Federation idea will be sadly discouraged and the granting of the preference in favor of the products of the dependencies would be impossible, as such a scheme would amount to nothing with Canada eliminated."

F. D. MONK

Conservative candidate in Jacques Cartier.

Afraid of Imperialism

Mr. J. J. Hill said: "I know of my own knowledge, that England has been mothering this Imperial Federation plan for some time with an especial eye for its speedy adoption in Canada. Why is the uncle of the King, the Duke of Connaught, coming to Canada as Governor-General next spring? Why are English customs and ideas more strongly urged upon the people? Solely for the purpose of leading up to the adoption of Imperial Federation. And mark my words, if the United States turns down the reciprocity treaty with Canada, it (Canada) will fly to the embrace of Imperial Federation with outstretched arms."

Mr. W. K. George

"I am quite willing to admit as true all the promises of prosperity made by those in favor of reciprocity, and yet I am as bitterly opposed to it as ever, because of the effect it will have on the Canadian national spirit. This spirit is more than materialism. The East and West in Canada are geographically separate and distinct, and it is necessary to keep them welded together by the bonds of trade. On the other hand, in the United States, State merged gradually in State, and it is hard to tell where the East ended and the West begins. Should the proposed agreement go into effect, I am confident that the dream of the late Professor Goldwin Smith, namely, the annexation of Canada to the United States, will be realized."

It's easier to set a good example than to hatch it out.

THE KING ON MANNERS

What His Majesty Said When He Was Duke of York

An interesting conversation with the King, when he was Duke of York, on the subject of manners, was retailed by the Bishop of Worcester during a speech-day celebration at Wolverley School, Worcester.

"I was about to address some public-school boys," said the Bishop, "when the Duke of York remarked, 'Why do you not ask that at public schools manners should be taught?' I asked why I should especially emphasize manners, and the Duke of York replied: 'Because, as you know, I mix among all sorts and conditions of men, and it has been a positive distress to me to see how often, when abroad, Englishmen lose in the race with Frenchmen, Italians and Germans, because of the Englishman's want of manners. Foreigners know when to bow, to shake hands, to converse, to stand up or sit down in the presence of their superiors, while the Englishman is wanting in these manners. When vacancies have to be filled up those are the points which very often tell, and that is where the Englishman does not shine.'"

THE COUNTESS OF WARWICK

Despite a fabulous sum offered for their preservation, the Countess of Warwick, intimate friend and advisor to the late King Edward, has burned over seven hundred letters written to her by that monarch. This action on the part of the Countess puts forever at rest the rumor of a startling book of memoirs. The letters were well nigh priceless, and it is said that one publisher offered her $200,000 for them.

CLEVER HOTEL THIEF

Disguised as a Ghostly Visitor, He Entered Bed-Rooms

An amazing spectre recently made its appearance in a small hotel in the centre of Berlin. A merchant from East Prussia was awakened about two in the morning by a noise in his room, and was horrified to see standing motionless before his bed a tall white figure with a pale face, from which two dark eyes were shining. Switching on the electric light, the merchant saw the long robes of the ghostly visitor slowly disappearing through the door. Next morning he found his pocket-book lying on the floor and the banknotes which it had contained scattered all around. It was then he knew that the apparition was a clever hotel thief who had been disturbed by his sudden awakening.

TRAINING OF THE PRINCE

He Will Rough It on the War Ship With Boys of His Own Age

Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, heir to the throne of England, as midshipman on the Hindustan, gets a little less than $3 per week, and must work from seven to six. This is the second stage in the prescribed course of training for the future ruler of the United Kingdom. Here he will mess in the gun-room of the old battleship with boys of his own age; will prepare himself for the examinations he will have to pass, in company with his mates, for a higher position in the navy, and will learn the strict discipline that has been so thoroughly inculcated in the present King. Whether or not the Prince will take to the rigors of the sea with the same delight that characterized his father's naval training is a matter of conjecture. He has, while on land, displayed a love for rough and ready sport that has been the delight of King George, and has endeared him to the British people.

BIRDS LOST IN THE AIR

Men may be lost in trackless forests, boys become ignorant of their whereabouts in large woods, and whole expeditions go astray in the desert; so it is not a very surprising thing that birds may be, and actually are, frequently "lost" in the air.

The bird, storm-driven, loses its bearings, and over and over again cases have been known of birds floating aimlessly about in the air, weak and hopelessly bewildered. Instinct prompts them to keep flying as long as they are above water, but when lost in mid-ocean they are at length bound to be overcome by exhaustion and lack of nourishment. A liner bound for New York once came across a huge white owl, which dropped on to it in a terribly weak condition, though the crew managed to nurse it back to health.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Cures Cholera Infantum

This complaint is chiefly confined to infants between the ages of six and twenty months, and occurs mostly in summer. Outward applications of the Relief to the region where the pain prevails, and doses from five to ten drops, diluted with honey and water, given inwardly, will procure beneficial results. The purging being checked and the pain alleviated, half a Regulating Pill, in molasses or preserves, may be given to produce a healthy evacuation and tone the bowels.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

FOUNDERS IN A STORM

Barge Albatross Is Lost and Tug Is Missing.

Captain Dean of Former Vessel and His Passengers and Crew Arrive In Byng Inlet and Tell Tale of Privation In Open Boat—Tug C. C. Martin May Have Gone Down With Crew of Ten Persons.

Byng Inlet, Aug. 24.—The barge Albatross of Midland, Captain Dean, foundered in the Georgian Bay, off French River, on Monday night, and it is feared that the tug C. C. Martin of Midland, Capt. Vent, which had the barge in tow, has gone to the bottom also. The tug carried, besides the captain and his wife, a crew of eight. What gives ground for the apprehension that the Martin has become a prey to the waves, is the story brought by those on board the barge, who reached Byng Inlet safe yesterday morning after enduring the hardships of a night and a day adrift on the bay in small boats during one of the worst gales that ever blew.

The shipwrecked party include Capt. Dean, his wife, his niece, Mrs. Alex. Buckanan of Moose Jaw, her two children, a two-year-old girl and a two-months-old baby boy; Miss Clementine Labelle, another niece, of Ottawa, and one sailor named Joseph St. Peter. They were brought up the river by Capt. Louis Lamondie, lighthouse-keeper, whose wharf they were able to make Tuesday night in an exhausted condition, and at whose hands they received all possible care. They had not had a bite to eat for thirty-six hours. The thirteen-foot yawls in which they had been buffeted about in a raging sea were more than half-full of water, and the condition of the party was most pitiable.

The story of the shipwreck in brief is that the barge sprang a leak and was fast sinking, when all on board managed to pile into the small yawl before the vessel sank. She was in tow of the tug as she settled, and this circumstance leads Capt. Dean to believe that in foundering she drew the tug down with her.

"I could not get the tug to notice our signals," the captain says, "otherwise she might have altered her course ad pulled us out of the trough, in which our timbers were being pounded in. She did not know, I fear, the sinking state of the barge in time to cut adrift and save herself."

Bees Invade Grocery.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—A curious incident occurred here yesterday when a swarm of several thousand bees, supposed to belong to the experimental farm, attacked a grocery store owned by Geo. Hopper, in the centre of the city, a couple of miles from the farm, and took possession.

Several children were stung, and business had to be suspended while the bees sampled everything sweet in the place. Rev. G. Watt Smith, of the First Congregational Church, who is himself an apiarist, finally succeeded in luring the visitors into a large box, solving the problem for the storekeeper.

Burglars at Chesterville.

Chesterville, Ont., Aug. 24—Burglars during the night looted four stores, getting away with upwards of $800.

From the jewelry store of W. Lauchien alone one hundred rings, twenty watches, and other jewelry, amounting to almost $400, was taken.

In the store of Sauler and Casselman they smashed all cash registers, and fitted themselves out with clothing. Razors and knives were also taken in large quantities.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann are in the city to meet once more the representatives of the city, with regard to the proposed purchase of the street railway by the city. What is expected to be the final conference will take place to-day.

OVATION FOR LEADER

Toronto Gives R. L. Borden Biggest Welcome Up to Date.

Massey Hall Is Crowded to Hear Conservative Chieftain and W. T. White Discuss the Reciprocity Issue From National and Economic Standpoints—Reply to Globe's Attack on Hon. Mr. Foster.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Massey Hall has been the scene of many notable gatherings, but none ever exceeded in power or enthusiasm that which greeted R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, last night. It was a great meeting. It was a great triumph. Mr. Borden shared honors with W. T. White and the very frankness of the latter's remarks won for him a friend in every seat. Mr. White's speech was a gospel, spoken for Canadians of the present and future. In simple terse language he made his case and drove home his points, and not content with that he clinched every one. His open avowal, "In my opinion this is not a question of party politics," produced a round of cheers.

"It is a great economic and national issue in which all minor political differences are absorbed and merged," said Mr. White. "It is a question above parties and above individuals." Reciprocity was not a simple question, it was a difficult and complex question. To talk of larger markets on the one hand and reduced cost of living on the other was not sufficient. A man who had a dollar in his pocket and had to pay thirty cents for his dinner was better off than the man who had no money and had to pay twenty-five cents for his dinner. "The United States produces more than the United States consumes; it has an exporting population."

"Canada," Mr. White went on, "was in an infinitely better position than the United States. He pointed to the three transcontinental railways, the like of which no other country had. The bank deposits per capita were ahead of any other nation. "You get your money from the money centre of the world—and there is only one money centre of the world—that is London and not New York."

Citing out the pitfalls incident to reciprocity Mr. White referred to the series of panics which were continually occurring in the United States. The cause was fundamental, he declared; it was constitutional. "The constitution of the United States was an anachronism, with presidential elections every four years and other elections every two years. These have a disturbing effect on business." No wonder they looked to reciprocity to get rid of these evils. Pointing to the National Transcontinental Railway, Mr. White said the country was spending $170,000,000 upon the construction of the road. "What do you think of a proposal when a road is in the construction stage that we should enter into an agreement that will have the effect of diverting the wheat traffic to the south, although this road is built to carry it?

"By implication the agreement to which the Canadian Government is a party censures the policy of the provincial governments in imposing an export duty upon pulpwood in order to insure its manufacture here." (Hear, hear.)

Then Mr. Borden rose to speak. The entire audience sprang to its feet. The Conservative leader received a tremendous ovation. Cheer followed cheer, hands, handkerchiefs and hats were waved. For one, two, three, four minutes the enthusiasm continued, and after subsiding, the acclaim broke out again.

He dealt with reciprocity from the national, rather than the economic standpoint, and directed the attention of his hearers to the effect on imperial connection.

Before concluding, Mr. Borden made a passing reference to the position of Hon. Geo. E. Foster, which has been assailed by Liberal newspapers. In a few sentences Mr. Borden said the electors of North Toronto were entitled to choose their own candidate to represent them in Parliament. There was no czar within the Conservative party, and those who were associated with Mr. Foster in the former Conservative administration testified of him as having a scrupulous regard for his public duties and unswerving in his devotion to the country. "And when sitting upon the Treasury benches of Canada, we will be the servants of the people and not dictators to the people of Canada."

A Jamaican Museum.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 24.—A commercial museum will be established at Jamaica for the purpose of bringing the resources of the island more prominently to the notice of foreign markets.

More Haitien exiles, some of them unfriendly to President Leconte, are arriving here. One of them, who is an adherent of former President Simon, was obliged to wrap himself in a Spanish flag to escape the violence of a mob that threatened him as he was about to leave Haiti.

Fatal Hotel Fire.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 24.—One person is dead, two fatally hurt, and the Chancellor Hotel is damaged to the amount of $50,000 as the result of a fire which started on the seventh floor of the hotel here yesterday and spread so rapidly that for a time it was believed the entire business section was endangered. Joseph Hall, a colored boy, was killed and Mrs. Ball, also colored, and Roy Dews, aged 12, were fatally hurt by falling walls. Search is being made in the ruins for other bodies.

Lost 250 Chickens.

Kingston, Aug. 24.—P. D. Lyman, a well-known poultry fancier, reports that he has lost 250 chickens this summer through "growing light," one of the most fatal diseases among pigeons and chickens. The disease appears to be caused by varying extremes of weather.

CONSTABLE ON STAND.

Policeman Tells Story of Wilkie Tragedy at Inquest.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Coroner Graham resumed the inquest into the death of Mrs. Ellen Wilkie, who died after an alleged assault by her husband, yesterday afternoon, at which time the evidence of Constable Smith and Miss Lillie Reynolds, daughter of deceased, was taken.

The constable said that on hearing cries of murder he rushed into the house and found Wilkie standing at the foot of the stairs with his hand on Mrs. Wilkie's throat. He separated them and Wilkie proceeded to the back yard. Meanwhile his wife requested the constable to take charge of her husband and offered to go to the station and lay a charge of assault against him. She put on her coat and then said she could not go then. A moment later she dropped to the floor and died almost immediately.

Miss Reynolds said she arrived home shortly after 6 o'clock on the night of the tragedy and found her mother and stepfather in the back yard. Presently the mother came into the house and Wilkie went away on his bicycle.

About 11.20 the stepfather came back. At this time the woman was sitting on the front doorsteps. Her husband told her to go inside, and on refusing to do so he proceeded to drag her in by the hair. A row ensued, and shortly afterward the Italian, Perry, came in. Mrs. Wilkie tried to defend herself by striking at her husband, but missed him and struck the Italian. Perry struck her back, and then Wilkie seized her by the throat.

At this point the woman cried out, and Policeman Smith entered and separated the combatants.

The hearing was adjourned.

HAMILTON'S LIBRARY.

Corner-stone of Carnegie Gift Is Laid at Big Function.

Hamilton, Aug. 24.—Lieutenant-Governor Gibson before a fair-sized crowd yesterday afternoon laid the corner-stone of the Hamilton new public library building, which, when completed, will cost close to $200,000. Of this sum, $100,000 has been contributed by Andrew Carnegie and the balance will be raised by the public library board.

The Lieutenant-Governor in his remraks referred to the question of the distribution of wealth, which he admitted was very unequally distributed. It would be difficult to collect from each person his equal share of wealth required for the establishment of such institutions as the public library, the corner-stone of which he laid yesterday. His honor added that he hoped that some method more utopian than that prevailing to-day for distributing wealth would be eventually discovered.

Other speakers of the occasion were John Milne, chairman of the public library board; Judge Hardy, chairman of the Brantford public library board; John M. Brown, trustee, and H. B. Whitton, trustee, and the father of the public library in this city.

The library, when completed, will be known simply as the Hamilton public library, and Mr. Carnegie's name will not be officially connected with the institution. A memorial bust of the city's benefactor will, however, be erected in the buil[illegible]

Thaw's Money Ties Him Up.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 24.—Harry Thaw, through counsel, yesterday filed an answer to a petition of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in which he will oppose the appointment of a committee to take charge of his person and estate.

Thaw's answer will set forth that he is not insane, but is capable of transacting his own business, and, in fact, is transacting [illegible] business.

"I have just come from Matteawan," said Attorney W. A. Stone yesterday. "I confered with Thaw for two hours regarding the petition of Evelyn Thaw. There is no doubt that Thaw would have been discharged from Matteawan some time ago had it not been for the fact that officials there hesitate to give him a certificate fearing that it would be said that his money had influenced them.

"I talked with Thaw for two hours on various subjects, and if I am capable of judging of a man's mental condition, he is perfectly sane and rational."

Mail by Fast Freight.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Arrangements have been perfec[illegible] by the Postoffice Department whereby second-class mail matter, consisting of magazines and periodicals, heretofore transported in railway mail cars, will be carried by fast freight, beginning Sept. 1. The order was issued yesterday.

The publishers are to be permitted to print on the wrapper of each copy or bundle of their publications, as a part of the address, instructions as to the date on which delivery is to be made.

Publishers have assured the Postmaster-General that they generally will be satisfied with the arrangement, and assurances have also been received from the railways that the mail can be delivered promptly. The expense of transporting and delivering will be far less than at present.

Shau[illegible]y's Denial.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy yesterday gave for publication a statement in connection with the published reports that he, with other C.P.R. officials, will campaign the northwest of Canada in opposition to the proposal. Sir Thomas dictated the following:

"Accomp[illegible]ed by three or four members [illegible] Board of Directors, I am leavi[illegible]morrow on the annual inspection [illegible] over the lines between Montreal and the Pacific coast. Fully occupied as we shall be with other matters, I regret exceedingly that we shall have no time to give to politics."

Died Suddenly.

Brantford, Aug. 24.—Dr. Almon A. Babcock, for 14 years a prominent dentist of this city, died suddenly here yesterday from epilepsy, to which he was subject. A widow and two children survive.

SIFTON'S ARGUMENTS.

Former Minister at Tillsonburg Tells of Coercion.

Tillsonburg, Aug. 24.—Hon. Clifford Sifton addressed a large audience here last night in opposition to the reciprocity pact.

Reviewing Canada's past tariff conditions Mr. Sifton said that the principle of protection brought about by the national policy had not been destroyed by the 1897 tariff revision. Its continuance through such a lengthy period was the basis of the general prosperity of which, he believed, the farmer was getting his full share. The building up of an industrial population furnished the farmers' great home market. The conditions under which reciprocity was negotiated were reviewed.

"Great friendliness is claimed for the United States," said Mr. Sifton, "but I say the Government of Canada was coerced into this arrangement, and that Government showed no friendliness in its actions a year ago when the imposition of the maximum tariff was threatened, because of an alleged discrimination made by Canada against the United States, that is, on the face of it, an absurdity.

Following the general lines of his Ingersoll speech, Mr. Sifton reviewed in order the arguments advanced for the trade agreements First, Sir Wilfrid's plea that former Canadian statesmen favored reciprocity; second, Hon. Mr. King's plea that the consumer will secure lower prices; and, third, the general argument that the Canadian farmers will secure higher prices.

LANCTOT FORGOTTEN.

Sir Wilfrid at Sorel Dodges Shipyards Episode.

Sorel, Aug. 24.—Three thousand people heard Sir Wilfrid Laurier discuss reciprocity, the navy bill and the Nationalists at the mass meeting of Liberals here yesterday afternoon.

Sir Wilfrid has suffered little from the past few strenuous days, speaking with fire and force, especially when he referred to Messrs. Bourassa and Monk. The Premier heartily endorsed the candidature of Arthur Cardin, who was chosen by the Liberal convention here in place of Adelard Lanctot, the late M.P. Mr. Lanctot was in town, but did not attend the meeting

In discussing reciprocity, the Premier laid much stress on the markets which would be opened to the farmers, quoting prices for hay and vegetables in Montreal and in American cities, to show that, with the duty removed, the farmers would profit by selling to the latter. Referring to the Opposition, he ridiculed the hybrid alliance, which, he said, had but one thought, that being to beat Laurier.

On the navy question, he spoke at length, emphasizing the fact that service would be entirely voluntary and had always been intended to be so.

Men Sent Ultimatum.

London, Aug. 24.—Hopes that the labor troubles at Liverpool would be settled quickly have again been disappointed. Tom Mann and other strike leaders arrived in London yesterday from Liverpool, and held a conference with representatives of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, as a result of which an ultimatum was sent to Premier Asquith, Sidney Buxton, President of the Board of Trade, and the Lord Mayor of Liverpool, practically demanding the reinstatement of the Liverpool tramway men by noon to-day. In the meantime the situation is so acute that George R. Askwith, comptroller-general of the labor committee of the Board of Trade, has gone to Liverpool to try and arrange matters.

Mann declares that it is the intention of the leaders to bring about a national strike unless the corporation yields.

Good Crop Weather.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—Weather bulletins from widely diverse points in the western provinces substantiate the forecasts of Tuesday night in so far that ideal weather for grain-ripening and harvesting obtains. Warmth is once more general, and the depression which followed in the wake of Sunday's storm is largely dispelled. A fairly accurate estimate of the damage caused by the week-end storm is now obtainable and it appears damage was very largely confined to the immediate path of the windstorm. In this route cutting had been mostly completed and the resulting loss by storm is not more than five per cent.

Beer Was Too Strong.

Brantford, Aug. 24.—Max Harris, a local foreigner, was fined $100 and costs here yesterday for a breach of the License Act, in selling lagerine made at Waterloo, which contained 2.62 per cent. of alcohol, instead of 2.50, the legal requirement. Magistrate Livingston said he had no course left but to impose the fine. An effort will be made to have it remitted, ten days being granted.

Charged With Shooting.

Brantford, Aug. 24.—William Winegardner, a Hatchley man, is in jail here, charged with shooting his son-in-law, Thomas Rowe, with intent to kill. Rowe ran away with Winegardner's daughter, and on the return of the couple the alleged shooting took place. In the prisoner's possession were found a revolver and several rounds of cartridges.

Never Saw the Will.

Kingston, Aug. 24.—In a statement to the lawyer looking after her interests, Mrs. Abbie George, widow of the late Joseph George, says that she never saw the will of her husband, which has just been found under sensational circumstances. She not only never saw the will, but never heard of it being in existence.

His Neck Was Broken.

Cornwall, Aug. 24.—John Lawrence, the 11-year-old son of Elias Lawrence, who lives near Spencerville, was found dead the other day in a pasture, with a heavy gate on top of him. It is supposed that the boy climbed on the gate and that the hinges gave way. His neck was broken.

KNOCK FOR CLIFFORD

D.R.A. Marksmen Object to His Shooting Position.

He Replies Rather Sharply to Objection Taken to an Attitude Which Lord Kitchener Approved — Members at Luncheon Uphold Him—Col. Sherwood Is President For the Coming Year.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—There was not quite as large an attendance as usual at the president's luncheon at the D.R.A. building. Col. Burland of Montreal presided.

In responding to the toast to the King's Prize winner, Private W. J. Clifford took the opportunity of defending his position in shooting which had been condemned at the meeting the night before. I am afraid that you are going to steal this position from me. I certainly could not do the same again in any other position. An organized bunch got in at last night's meeting and condemned my position. I feel as if I had not won the King's Prize at all, but had stolen it, in the light of last night's action."

"No! No!" came from the listeners.

"Of course, I realize that the contortions that some of the competitors go through is unsportsmanlike, and I think if there was a regulation which would compel the competitor to grip the rifle with his left hand, it would mend matters. Lord Kitchener commended my position, and I think it is pretty queer that the riflemen here go up against it like that."

Lieut.-Col. Helmer did not think that any reflection on or criticism of Clifford was meant the night before. He thought that Cilfford's position should be satisfactory. He said that if the rules changed, however, to allow that position, but debar using the sling with both hands, it would be much better. Too many men, he said, take the recoil on the sling or on the ground. Private Clifford takes the recoil on the shoulder. The meeting seemed unanimous in the opinion that Clifford's position should be allowed.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Lt.-Col. Sherwood, C.M.G., Ottawa; first vice-president, Lt.-Col. Davidson, 8th R. R., Quebec; second vice-president, Major McRobbie, St. John, N.B.; third vice-president, Major Hayes, London; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Frank Beard, Ottawa; auditor, Capt. Bell, 43rd Regiment.

The members of the council were left to be selected by the executive with the exception that Lt.-Col. Ross' name was added to the Ontario list.

At Tuesday night's meeting of competitors it had been decided, by a majority vote, to ask council to prohibit vote, to ask the council to prohibit marksmen from letting the butt of the rifle rest on the ground while shooting. This is the position that Private Clifford, who won the King's Prize, uses, and is also used by many other members of the D.R.A. There was a big vote on the question, and the room was about equally divided. However, the chairman ruled that the majority was in favor of doing away with this position. It was also decided to do away with the figure target entirely.

A feature of the meeting so far has been the success attending the sailors of H.M.C.S. Niobe and the cadets.

After the chairman, Lt.-Col Tilton, had congratulated Pte Clifford on his Bisley success, Col.-Sergt. Perry, 8th D. C. O. R., Vancouver, who won the King's Prize some years ago, explained that he was Canadian-born, although papers had represented Clifford as the first native to win the prize.

KINGSTON C. L. C. TEAM DEFEATED LOCAL PLAYERS

A Large Crowd of Spectators Witness Defeat of G. T. R. Baseball Team

In the presence of a large number of spectators the Canadian Locomotive Company baseball team, of Kingston, yesterday afternoon defeated the G.T.R. team of this city by a score of 8 to 3 runs. On Saturday last the same teams met at Kingston and the Limestone City players defeated our boys by a score of 5 to 1. It was anticipated that the home team would win here, but such proved not to be the case. It was, however, a good game of ball. The visitors were naturally much elated over their second victory. Both teams at times played snappy ball, and while the Belleville pitchers had more strike-outs to their credit, the Kingston players made more hits. Smith pitched six and part of the seventh innings for the G.T.R., when he was relieved by Ashton, who finished the game. At the end of the 5th inning the G.T.R. team was leading by one run, but in the next two succeeding innings the C.L.C. team made five runs, which won the game

In detail the game was as follows:

1st Innings.

C.L.C.—Esford made a safe hit; Lucas flew to Connell; Dixon made a safe hit; Esford scored on error of O'Neil; Ewart flew to Ashton; Dice made a safe hit, scoring Dixon; Dorey flew to Gerow.—Two runs.

G.T.R.—O'Connor out at 1st; W. Gerow struck out; Coyne out at 1st. —No runs.

2nd Innings.

C.L.C.—Saunders made a safe hit; Laird made a safe hit; Saunders out for interfering with batted ball; Brooks struck out; Esford out at 1st. Laird dying at 3rd.—No runs.

G.T.R.—O'Neil made safe hit and reached 2nd on overthrow; Brown made 1st on wild throw, O'Neil scoring; Connell out at 1st; L. Gerow made a two-bagger, scoring Brown; Ashton out at 1st; L. Gerow out trying to make home.—Two runs.

3rd Innings.

C.L.C.—Lucas struck out; Dixon flew to Brown; Ewart out at 1st.—No runs.

G.T.R.—Smith out at 1st; O'Connor struck out; W. Gerow flew to Ewart.—No runs.

4th Innings.

C.L.C.—Dice out at 1st; Dorey out for stepping out at batting box; Saunders struck out.—No runs.

G.T.R.—Coyne made 1st on error of Laird; O'Neil struck out; Brown hit by batted ball; Connell made a safe hit; Coyne out trying to make 3rd.—No runs.

5th Innings.

C.L.C.—Laird made 1st; Brooks struck out; Esford struck out; Lucas struck out.—No runs.

G.T.R.—L. Gerow out at 1st; Ashton base on balls, stole 2nd and made home on an overthrow to 3rd; Smith flew out to Ewart; O'Connor flew to Laird.—One run.

6th Innings.

C.L.C.—Dixon made a two-bagger; Ewart made a two-bagger, scoring Dixon; Dice struck out; Dorey out by being hit by a batted ball; Saunders made safe hit, scoring Ewart; Laird out at 1st.—Two runs.

G.T.R.—W. Gerow flew to Saunders; Coyne out at 1st; O'Neil flew to Dorey.—No runs.

7th Innings.

C.L.C.—Brooks struck out; Esford made a safe hit; Lucas made 1st on error of O'Neil; Dixon made a two-bagger, scoring Esford; Ewart made a safe hit, scoring Lucas and Dixon; Ewart out at 3rd; Dice struck out.—Three runs.

G.T.R.—Brown out at 1st; Connell struck out; L. Gerow walked; Ashton flew to Brooks.—No runs.

8th Innings.

C.L.C.—Dorey reached 1st on error of Connell and out trying to steal 2nd; Saunders out at 1st; Laird struck out.—No runs.

G.T.R.—Smith walked; O'Connor flew to Dice; W. Gerow out at 1st; Coyne out at 1st.—No runs.

9th Innings.

C.L.C.—Brooks made 2nd on error of Smith; Esford struck out; Lucas out at 1st; Brooks scored; Dixon out at 1st.—One run.

G.T.R.—O'Neil made a safe hit; Brown made 1st base and stole 2nd; O'Neil out stealing 3rd; Connell walked; L. Gerow flew to Esford; Ashton struck out.—No runs.

Smith had 8 strike-outs to his credit, Ashton 3 and Brooks 5.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:—

C.L.C.—	G.T.R.—
Esford, rf.	O'Connor, ss.
Lucas, lf.	W. Gerow, 1b.

ARREST'S PRISONERS' LAWYER

Opposing Counsel and Judge Accuse Him of Attempted Bribery

KINGSTON, N.Y., Aug. 23.—Four men accused of being pickpockets who have been operating on Hudson River steamers and trains, were sentenced to six months in the Albany Penitentiary yesterday, but a more serious charge—that of attempting to bribe both Judge and opposing counsel—was lodged against the man who appeared as their attorney.

When the two prisoners were arraigned, Mr. Amos Van Etten, who appeared as attorney for the New York Central Railroad, told the court that this man, who gave his name as Theodore Schwake and said he was a New York lawyer, had offered him an automobile if he would withdraw the complaint. Recorder Groves ordered Schwake's arrest. The Recorder said that while he was talking with the attorney the latter slipped $20 into his desk. Schwake was held in $5,000 bail.

A Tacoma man, using a bicycle as a shield, managed to negotiate an escape from a wild-cat. If one doesn't have a flying machine handy a bicycle for one who wishes to beat it from the presence of a wildcat is a great improvement over the bare feet.

DECORATED GRAVES OF DECEASED BRETHREN

An Impressive Service at Belleville Cemetery—Appropriate Oration by Bro. R. Meek P. G. P. of Kingston

The members of Mizpah Lodge I. O.O.F. yesterday afternoon commemorated an event which has been in vogue for some time by this society, namely, decorating the graves of deceased brothers who are buried in God's acre on the shores of the Bay of Quinte. There was a good turnout of the members and citizens generally. Headed by the I.O.O.F. band, the brethren marched to the wharf and proceeded to the cemetery, where the beautiful and impressive ceremony took place. After flowers had been deposited upon the graves those present assembled in a vacant plot in the cemetery and listened to an appropriate oration by Bro. R. Meek, P.G.P., of Kingston, the subject of which was "The Origin, Nature and Teaching of Memorial Day." He said:—

The practice of decorating the graves began in the 60's with a visit to the battlefield at Gettysburg by Abraham Lincoln, who delivered an address which has since become a classic. The design was to dedicate the battlefield, where so many were buried, and in doing so many were Lincoln said: "The world will little know, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, to dedicate ourselves to the unfinished work which they have thus far so nobly advanced. From these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they gave the last measure of devotion, and hereby resolve that they did not die in vain." A Memorial Day followed on the 3th of May, as observed by the Grand Army of the Republic all over the United States, with fitting and impressive ceremonies.

It was in 1886, or twenty-two years afterwards, that a motion was made in the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the United States, and to the effect that the Independent Order of Odd Fellows should have its Memorial Day on which there should be visits to the cemeteries, on which flowers should be placed upon the graves with appropriate ceremony, and on which the virtues of the dead should be recalled. The idea was not at first adopted, but later the Sovereign Grand Lodge gave it effect, and ever since there has been a growing interest in this anniversary. At first it was fixed for the 19th of October, the anniversary of Wildey's death, and afterwards in June, or at such a date as the order locally might deem expedient or suitable.

Reference was made to the long record of the dead in 1910. It included in the Sovereign Grand Lodge the names of Past Grand Sires Durham and Carleton; in the Grand Lodge of Ontario, that of Grand Secretary King; and in the Grand Encampment of Ontario, that of Grand Treasurer Beltz. All these were distinguished men, distinguished in the order for their zeal and devotion, and all of them left memories which will be kept green for many a day.

There were also in Ontario last year, as indicated by the report of the Grand Lodge, 330 deaths, all of them good and true men, and all of them leaving unfinished work which others must take up and carry on, for the Independent Order of Odd Fellows is bound to prevail, is bound to grow in usefulness and in power, for it was not born for a day but for all time, yea,

"Until the sun grows cold,
And the stars grow old,
And the leaves of the Judgment
Book unfold."

Coming nearer home, he said he had no doubt he was in the presence of persons who recently lost near and dear ones, who were still weeping over the death of friends, whose graves were perhaps lately made, and on which there were still faded flowers, the tributes of affection, the emblems of purity, of immortality and the life to come. It may be said that this decoration of graves involves a waste of time, of affection, and of money, that every one is not perfect, that every one is not worthy of the good things that may be said of him. He is a poor fellow, indeed, who has not something good in him, and so all the members of the order are buried, not to forgetfulness, because the teachings of the order were very emphatic on two points: (1) That the Odd Fellows were not only to give decent sepulchure to the dead, but to bury all the imperfections beneath the sod that laid upon their bosom, and the members have constantly kept before them the counsel:—

"Honor to our Courts invite us,
Worthy subjects let us prove,
Strong the chain that here unites us,
Linked with friendship, love and truth;
In our hearts enshrined and cherished,
May these feelings ever bloom,
Failing not when life has perished,
Living still beyond the tomb."

The speaker closed with a reference to the custom of the early Romans, who preserved in the halls of their homes the emblems of distinguished men, the masks and clothing of each, preserved as the individuals appeared in life, with the armor, badges and insignia of office and the testimonials of his advancement. Whenever by death a member was removed there was a procession formed. The clothing and armor were fitted on the servants, and the procession was that of a funeral train of the ancestors marching as living mourners. As the members of the family looked upon this assemblage it was intended to awaken their emulation and renew their vows of respect for the virtues of the deceased. The idea is that on Memorial Day the Odd Fellows are to review in their minds those who have passed away, in order that in the contemplation of their virtues the living may be stimulated to do better things, and to perpetuate, as it is destined they should do, the power and usefulness of the order.

"I COULD NOT LIVE"

WITHOUT "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

Writes The Treasurer Of Caledonia Township

PENAGHVALE, ONT., Jan. 29th, 1910.

For thirty-five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation.

No matter what remedy or physician I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure.

About two years ago, I read the testimonial of Hon. John Costigan regarding "Fruit-a-tives" and I decided to give this fruit medicine a trial. I have used "Fruit-a-tives" ever since. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for "Fruit-a-tives", I am satisfied that I could not live." JAMES PROUDFOOT.

The liver controls the bowels by giving up enough bile to make the bowels move. The only possible way to cure constipation is to make the liver active and healthy and thus store up sufficient bile to move the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" acts directly on the liver—ensures an abundance of bile—and causes the bowels to move regularly and naturally. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CONSUMPTION CURE

Dr. Bryant Uses Gases from Putrefied Flesh for the Purpose

Interest increases in the claim by Mr. Bryant, of Thornton, Bradford that gases arising from maggots and putrefied flesh are a cure for consumption, and during the past week he has received about four hundred letters from consumptives in England and Scotland. He has also been visited by many people suffering from this terrible complaint, especially from districts in Lancashire, who desire to remain and subject themselves to the treatment. Most of these, however, have to be sent home again, as he has already on his hands as many patients as he can accommodate. So numerous indeed are these, that they have to sit in the room where the gases are produced in their turns. In every case, Mr. Bryant claims, the patients are making substantial progress towards recovery. It has been suggested that the gases should be bottled and sent to consumptive people so that they might be inhaled at their homes, but for the time being, Mr. Bryant is taking no steps in that direction, and the erection of larger premises at Thornton is also delayed, pending the investigation of Dr. Kaye, the medical officer of the West Riding of Yorkshire, who has been requested by Mr. John Burns to report on the discovery. This investigation will take place ere long, and Mr. Bryant awaits the report with the utmost confidence. It may be mentioned that a gentleman who has taken a keen interest in the discovery has drawn the attention of the King to it, and he has written to the National Society for the Prevention of Consumption. Mr. Bryant, in the course of a conversation, stated that the members of the medical profession were now taking his claims

SPLENDID CONSERVATIVE MEETING

Held at Roblin's Mills Last Night In Mr. B. R. Hepburn's Interest

The enterprising village of Roblin's Mills witnessed a demonstration of enthusiasm at the meeting held last night in the interest of Mr. B. R. Hepburn, the Conservative candidate in Prince Edward County, such, it was stated, as the people there never experienced before. At eight o'clock the fine, capacious Town Hall was filled to the doors by the electors and their wives and daughters. Mr. Harry Dempsey, Reeve of Ameliasburg, presided and made an excellent address on the fruit question, and showed how it would be detrimentally effected by the pact. He gave a hearty invitation to Dr. Currie, the Liberal candidate, or anyone on his behalf, to discuss, in the freest way, the subject of reciprocity. The speakers that followed also expressed their desire for the fullest possible discussion of the subject, but in the audience of over two hundred, in an agricultural section, not a voice was raised on behalf of reciprocity.

Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., was the first speaker The proposition which he laid down was that the proximity of the United States to Canada had been of no advantage to the Dominion, that Canada's present unbounded prosperity existed because we had kept apart and had built up a Canadian nation on independent lines Hard times and business depression were again appearing after an interval of only four years, throughout the States. If Canada were financially entangled by treaty or agreement, we too would be experiencing the unfortunate conditions that exist south of the line. Canada's prosperity and her nationhood can be dated from the time that the hostile McKinley Bill was passed by the United States Senate with the deliberate purpose, the declared intention of injuring the Dominion.

Mr. Ed. M. Young was the next speaker. He took up the question of prices and demonstrated from official sources in Canada and the States that for most of the products of the farm, the Canadian farmer obtained higher prices in his home market than did the farmer on the other side, and, consequently, to run the risk of injuring, possibly destroying, his home market would be folly beyond comprehension.

Mr. Hepburn got a great reception when he rose to speak. The audience stood up and cheered him time and time again. He said he was a very happy man, and the reason was that his canvass had proved so successful and that he was surrounded by men who were giving up their time, and devoting their abilities to aid him to achieve the victory that he felt was coming. He pledged himself to support Mr. R. L. Borden in his effort to prevent this country from being dominated by or entangled with Washington, and he further pledged himself to leave nothing undone to further the farming, mercantile, manufacturing and transportation interests of the County of Prince Edward.

Mr. R. A. Norman, M.P.P., was the last speaker. He reviewed the history of Canada since Sir John Macdonald established the protective tariff, and showed from official sources, and proved from the condition, that any man may see for himself, the abounding prosperity that exists in the Dominion, and the safe future in store for us, if we keep apart from the United States.

Cheers for Mr. Borden, Mr. Hepburn and the King brought to a close at 11.30 a meeting that set the pace in this campaign for the old county, and will be long remembered by those who had the good fortune to be present.

THE ROD AND GUN.

No better number for a delightful holiday month has been issued than Rod and Gun in Canada for August published by W. J. Taylor, L'td. Woodstock, Ont. In the opening story, "From the log of a Nautical Tramp," the holiday spirit prevails and is prevalent through the following two papers—Luxurious Trout Fishing, and Up the Magnetawan a River of Dams. In addition there is an abundance of other material, articles and stories dealing with fishing, deer, moose and bear hunting while other phases of outdoor life receive recognition and treatment in a manner that must appeal to all sportsmen. This is particularly the case with the little paper on the subject of wounded game and a pioneer's stories while the conclusions of the Commission of enquiries into the fisheries of Alberta and Saskatchewan must interest anglers all over the Dominion. The paper on a New Use for the Red Fox may not only create a new interest in fox hunting but also lead to an extension of the fox farms which have proved such a success in Prince Edward Island and in Middlesex county Ontario. Altogether it is a number which no sportsman should miss.

Warm waves are much more tolerable when liberally punctured with thunderstorms.

FARMER JONES AND HIS CITY PARTNER

The Folly of Living High on the Goose That Laid the Golden Eggs—Might Lose All

"When a man has learned to walk and has trusted his legs for a couple of score years, it is no time for him to be experimentin' with fancy crutches or flyin' machines."

Farmer Jones, in homely but practical style, thus went on record as to the course his country, Canada, should pursue. He remembered the hardships of pioneer days when there was no railroad or town at his door, and when there was no such modern conveniences as the telephone.

"The other day," said Farmer Jones, "I looked over an old newspaper containin' the Toronto markets for July, 1880. What did I see? Butter, 15 cents a pound; eggs, 12 cents a dozen; dressed hogs, $6.50 to $7 per hundred; chickens, per pair, 30 to 40 cents; hay, $7 to $13 a ton; straw, $4.50 to $6 a ton."

"Queer difference now," soliloquised his thin friend, sitting on a keg.

"Ain't there?" exclaimed Jones, picking up a Toronto paper. "Listen: Butter, 25 cents a pound; eggs, 25 cents a dozen; dressed hogs, $9.75 to $10.25 per hundred; chickens, dressed, 16 to 18 cents per pound, spring, 30 to 35 cents; hay, $16 to $20 per ton; straw, $6 to $8 per ton loose, $13 to $14 per ton bundled."

"Jee-rusalem," said the thin man, "It makes me sick to think of the good old times."

"I see they're paying from 12 to 14 cents a box for raspberries, from 16 to 17 cents a box for thimble-berries; $1 to $1.25 for tomatoes and cucumbers, and $6 a barrel for new potatoes," read Jones. "Do you remember when raspberries and thimble-berries grew so thick in the woods that the people in the villages could go out and pick all they wanted for nothing. Now the woods are gone, the villages are cities, and the berry-pickers are working all day in factories and paying us to grow their berries and vegetables for them."

"It's odd," said the other, "plumb odd."

"There's reasons for it," replied Farmer Jones, "many reasons. More people, more arms to work, more mouths to feed, growth of factories, development of trade, but there is one big reason—tariff."

"I don't know what to think about that critter," said the thin man. "Some yell things about him in my left ear and others yell different things in my right."

"Stop your ears and use your brains," advised Jones. "Those old prices paid for our goods were the prices of the period before the National Policy, which all governments, Grit and Tory, have been wise enough to continue. Here's my position. I judge the tariff by its results. I'm not workin' as hard to-day as I was thirty years ago. I couldn't, I'm not as economical. I couldn't be. Yet, thirty years ago I was scratchin' like a hen on a hot griddle to get three slim meals a day and a hard bed at night, and to pay the interest on a mortgage. Now I work about eight hours a day, own my land, have money in the bank, eat the best food, wear as good clothes as town people, go to the city when I like, and take an annual vacation just like the preachers. I've a piano, and a spare driver. Two of my sons are at college, and my eldest daughter is studying music in one of the city conservatories. What's made the difference? Markets. In the old days we had none. Most of the people in the country were farmers, and we did not want one another's stuff. Britain was too far away when we had no fast liners and cold storage, and the United States shut their door in our faces. We had to sink or swim, and we splashed a bit, but we floated. When we got a tariff our towns and cities began to boom. Factories attracted laborers who had to have food and clothing. They had no time to grow their own vegetables or go to the woods to pick berries. In the old days we labored like Turks to grow stuff which spoiled on our hands. To-day we can't raise enough. The cities and towns of Canada are cryin' for our goods. The British Isles are roarin' for our fruit, meat and dairy produce. Prices are being paid that would have lifted the hair off my old father's head.

"Wipe out the great manufacturing centres and where are we? Back to the good old days when our eggs sold at 12 cents a dozen. I suppose we might have a tariff fixed in Canada that would be entirely in favor of us farmers and would skin the city and town people out of their eye teeth. That looks to me like living high on the goose that laid the golden eggs. In a short time we'd have neither eggs nor goose."

"Nor down to feather our nests," interrupted the thin man.

"What we farmers want is a square deal," went on the other. "This tariff of ours should be like a genial sun in the sky, givin' light and heat to the whole country without scorchin' anyone. I want a tariff which lets us all live. Don't I appear to be livin'? Look at my farm."

"Why are the farmers shoutin' for tariff reductions and practically asking for free trade?" asked the thin man. "Why are these big deputations of farmers going dow nto Ottawa scarin' the government and opposition, too?"

Farmer Jones sat silent a moment before replying.

"There are various kinds of intoxication," he said finally. "But they all have one thing in common. They make their victims act foolish. The farmers of Canada at present are drunk with prosperity. They're makin' a rough house at Ottawa to show how strong they are. But when they begin to get the bills for broken glass and smashed furniture, when the mischief is done, it will be the cold gray dawn of the morning after for them."

After seven years of trial Germany has dismissed its military hounds from the service. The dogs of war at present consist of machine guns which do some very effective barking when turned loose.

CHOIR LOFT COLLAPSED,

Twenty Five Killed, Six Injured—Panic Followed

(Intelligencer Special.)

POSEN, Germany, Aug. 25.—Twenty-five were killed and six injured when the choir loft of the church at Biniew collapsed to-day. A panic followed the crash, and scores were hurt in the scramble for safety.

SUICIDED OVER GRAVE

(Intelligencer Special.)

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Aug. 25.—Thomas Roche, aged 45, suicided to-day by shooting himself over the grave of Father Reilly, a former parish priest, to whom Roche was greatly devoted.

CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS

FATAL ACCIDENTS

(Intelligencer Special.)

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Aug. 25.—There has been three fatal accidents in this vicinity within twelve hours. A new Grand Trunk brakemen, whose home is in Mimico, was found dead beside his train at Merritton this morning. He had not been run over, and no one saw him fall.

William Missen, an English laborer, was accidentally electrocuted at Jencke's machine factory.

George Hodginson's body has been taken from the raceway at Marritton. He fell in last night while going to a dance.

ZWICK'S ISLAND

At a meeting of the Belleville City Council on August 2, Alderman W. H. Panter gave notice of motion to put a stop to vandalism and mutilation of Zwick's Island. He advocates using the island for a filtering plant and as a playground, park and breathing spot for the children, present and future, of Belleville. Alderman Panter has always been active in the matter of park building, and the splendid area along the west band of the Moira, from the lower bridge to the old Ashery site, will stand as a permanent monument to his efforts in this direction. On Alderman Panter's giving notice of his proposed motion, another one of the city fathers said: "A beauty spot was not needed in Belleville. Sentiment should not rule," and other long-winded and short-sighted remarks. Oh, very well, alderman, without any sentiment, the name of Panter will be remembered and revered on account of his sentiment and humane efforts when those of opponents of his park ideas are long lost and forgotten. Keep at it, Alderman Panter. Save Zwick's Island!

The G. T. R. baseball team of this city yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a large number of spectators, defeated the Wellington baseball team at the latter place. Ashton and Brown were the battery for the winnig team. The score was 10 to 4 in favor of the G. T. R.

MANY IN ATTENDENCE AT OBSEQUIES

That the late Frederick G. Williamson had many friends was evidenced this afternoon when the funeral took place. At the residence of Mr. F. E. O'Flynn on Bridge Street, at two o'clock, an impressive service was held conducted by the Rev. Dr. Bishop, pastor of Bridge Street Church. The floral tributes were not only numerous but beautiful in design. Interment took place at Belleville cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. Sanford Burrows, B. L. Hyman, A. P. Allen, W. Hudson, W. D. M. Shorey and Ilsey.

ESTIMABLE YOUNG LADY PASSES AWAY

Many were the expressions of regret voiced when it became known about the city that death had claimed as a victim Miss Ada A. Panter. Her illness was of such a short duration that her most intimate friends were not aware of the fact. On Tuesday she was apparently in her usual health, and on Wednesday was taken ill. The immediate cause of death was heart trouble. Deceased was the eldest daughter of Mr. John Panter and was born in this city, where she had resided all her life. Miss Panter was a most amiable young lady, esteemed by a large circle of friend, who sincerely regret her demise. Deceased was a member of the Anglican Church, Surviving is the father, three brothers and one sister. The brothers are Alderman Panter and Fred, of this city, Charles of Cobalt, The sister is Miss Eva, at home. To the bereaved family will be extended the sincere sympathy of a host of friends, in which The Intelligencer joins.

LED TRIPLE LIFE AND WEDDING DAY SLIPPED MEMORY

Salesman Down-town, Doctor, "Good Fellow," Bible Class Teacher and Minister

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—
"The wedding breakfast it was set,
The guests were summoned from afar,—"

But the bridegroom came not and the guests were told that the wedding was indefinitely postponed.

The bridegroom was "Charles A. Askroyd-Osborne, M.D., M.R.C.S.." according to his own statements, and the wedding was to have been in Christ Church Cathedral on Monday morning. The very fine wedding breakfast was ordered at the Windsor Hotel. The bride lived on Sherbrooke street west. This morning she awaited his coming. Unlike the hero of Vesta Victoria's song which tunefully celebrated a like occurrence it is said that he even failed to send a note.

Had Many Personalities.

The groom could scarcely be said to have had a double personality. It was more a tripe or quadruple life. that he is said to have lived in different districts. Down town he was a salesman,a good salesman, one that could sell anything from a clinical thermometer to a silk hat. To certain of his acquaintances he was known as a good sport, a spender and a high liver. At the Y.M.C.A., it is believed, he had a very different reputation. He was connected with a Bible study class and took no small interest in the work. He stated that he had been a clergyman in England.

As Doctor Won Girl.

A little further uptown, he again changed. This time he was a professional man still, but what he did not know of materia medica was little, and he discoursed learnedly on the ills of the body. It was in this character that he wooed and won the afir nineteen-year-old girl, whose home is on Sherbrooke street west.

As to his down-town reputation, let the elevator boy of the St. Nicholas building, where Mr. Osborne had his office, speak:

"He was a good sport and he was a friend of mine. An' the girls that he used to have come up and see him, believe me, they were some queens. That little girl he was engaged to was a peach. He used to come out and slip me a dollar, and say, Here, boy, call up May, that was her name, and after I got her on the line he used to talk to her. He was a friend of mine.

"Why didn't he call her up himself?" "I dunno. Too lazy I guess.

Bought an Auto, Too.

"He was going to buy an automobile, and I think he did buy one. A fellow came in here one day and said that he was Osborne's chauffeur. He told me that the auto wasn't paid for and that he was going to keep it until it was. That was a stall, though, I think.

"He was here packin' up until after six on Friday night. He got everything out. And when he went away, he shook hands with me, and says, 'Good-bye, Jimmie, I'll see you on Monday.' But he didn't come back. I guess there's nothing doing now."

Osborne sailed per S.S. Virginian for Liverpool.

THREE BROTHERS WERE ARRESTED

Charged With Assaulting and Occasioning Bodly Harm to a Neighbor—Trial Postponed

Three brothers, Edward, George and John Titterson, who reside in the Township of Thurlow, near Zion's Hill, were arrested at an early hour this morning and brought to the city. The charge preferred against them is assaulting and occasioning grievous bodily harm upon Edward Nolan. The latter resides near the Titterson residence, and it is alleged the brothers on different occasions within the past few days have attacked the complainant. This morning the accused were brought up before Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., who is a J.P., but as the Crown was not prepared to proceed with the case, it was enlarged until Thursday next. In the meantime the parties charged are out on bail. Mr. Anderson represented the Crown and Mr. Carnew appeared on behalf of the accused.

BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA RAISES DIVIDEND

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—The Bank of Nova Scotia to-day increased its dividend from 13 to 14 per cent., which is the largest dividend paid by any Canadian bank. The dividend was increased to 13 per cent. a little over a year ago. The bank's paid-up capital is $3,000,000, and the reserve fund $5,695,000. For the last few years the bank has been earning over 20 per cent. on its capital.

DEATHS.

PANTER—Died at Belleville, on Friday, August 25th, 1911, Ada Annie Panter, eldest daughter of Mr. John Panter.

The funeral will take place from her father's residence, Murney Street, on Monday, Aug. 28th, at 3 p.m. Interment at Belleville Cemetery. a25d2t

TRAINS WILL RUN WITHIN A MONTH

Toronto-Trenton Division of C. N. R. Getting Into Shape

OFFICIALS INSPECT LINE

Ballasting Between Brighton and Trenton is to be Completed

A party of officials of the Canadian Northern Railway went over the Toronto-Trenton division of the projected Toronto to Ottawa line yesterday, making a final inspection of this division, which has a mileage of 105 miles, preparatory to inspection by the Chief Engineer of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners.

At the conclusion of the trip the announcement was made by the construction officials that the Trenton division would be ready for Government inspection and the operation of scheduled trains within a month.

Between Toronto and Cobourg the road is in splendid condition, the official's train yesterday making forty miles an hour, with no more vibraton than a well-beaten road. The stations are all erected, and the people along the line are awaiting eagerly the establishment of a passenger and freight service.

Between Toronto and Port Hope there are a large number of steel bridges, all of considerable size, many of them over 400 feet long, and varying in height from 60 to 100 feet. The viaduct work at Cobourg and at the point of intersection of the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Railways between Brighton and Trenton involved a great deal of work, and the former viaduct is not yet completed

THREATEN A PASTOR WHO DENIES CHRIST

Baptist Preacher, Rev Otto Bamber Arouses Anger of People of Louisiana in a Sermon

KENTWOOD, La., Aug. 22.—Threats are being made here to run out of Louisana the Rev. Otto Bamber, who publicly denied the divinty of Christ. The preacher is a native of Hammond, La., but for several years has spent most of his time in issippi. He is one of the best known Baptist preachers in the country circuits of the t two states, and many conversions are credited as a result of his various revival meetings held.

The sermon here came as a distinct shock, as it was alien to anything that could have been expected from the Rev. Mr. Bamber's former utterances. He spoke from a text in the Bible, but in his subsequent address stated quite clearly that he did not believe in the inspiration of the Scriptures, saying they were merely a collection of remarkable historical and imaginative writings carefully grouped.

His theory of Christ indicated that he believed Him to been a remarkable healer, making use of some strange form of suggestion or hypnotism, but he declared he did not think Christ was divine, and asserted that "many of His so-called supernatural works can be traced to perfectly reasonable an natural sources."

Following the sermon an indignation meeting was held and various acts of rebuke proposed. These ran the whole gamut from physical violence to a formal protest, signed by the other ministers of the parish. Steps were taken to protect the Rev. Mr. Bamber, but it seems they will not be required, as he is said to have asserted that he is preparing to leave Louisiana.

AUTO'S HARD RUN TO SAVE LIFE

(Los Angeles Correspondence San Francisco Chronicle.)

In a terrific race with death early one morning recently William Horner, a local chauffeur, drove his auto 108 miles over rough roads, perilous grades, creeks and turns to save the life of Mrs. A. A. Janes, wife of the chief despatcher of the Southern Pacific, who lay dying in the San Joaquin Hospital at Bakersfield for want of a few drops of normal saline serum.

Horner reached Fairmont, 70 miles south of Bakersfield, in three hours and there was met by Janes with another auto, which carried the precious fluid to the bedside of his dying wife.

Reports from the hospital are that the patient is out of danger.

CURRENT COMMENT

Better British born than Yankee by adoption.

This is preserving time. Let Canada preserve her nationality.

Sir Wilfrid hikes to Quebec for sympathy when he receives a black eye in Ontario.

If Canada embarks in the reciprocity hulk it won't be long before she is flying the flag of distress.

The crumbs from our Washington master's table, that's what Taft offers Canada.

The honorable reciprocity plank in Sir John A. Macdonald's platform was sound, whereas the Laurier imitation is rotten.

You can't expect to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear and the American pact is composed of the latter material.

Throw open the doors to the Yankee mob and there'll be a lynching party, with Canadianism as the victim.

Already there is talk of a successor to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Fielding won't do, but Hon. George Graham appears to be the choice and is talked of. It seems to be a foregone conclusion that this is Laurier's last performance.—Kingston Standard.

While President Taft and his friends, including his "Canadian friends," are pushing annexation northward over Canada by means under the guise of trade "Reciprocity," there are others in the United States advocating the extension of annexation southward, over Mexico, by means of conquest.

Mr. Sinclair's letter will appear tomorrow. Our columns are occupied with much more important matter to-day. We suggest to our loquacious friend that in future, if he requires space in our columns, he must confine himself to the subject which he desires to bring under the notice of the public. Sarcasm and supposed wit are not arguments.

Canadians are now importing large quantities of potatoes from the United States because of a shortage in the Canadian crop. But our crop also is short. Not a pleasing prospect for householders.—Buffalo Express.

Don't worry. The Canadian crop in Quebec is good; the New Brunswick crop was never better. Ontario will soon be served with potatoes with an entire Canuck flavor.

The note of victory for Mr. Borden and his party is in the air. The feeling in Ontario grows every day with other portions of the Dominion that not alone is this the time to give the straight answer to the overtures of Presiden Taft, but as well that this is the time when the country shall enter upon an era of good government with Robert L. Borden, safe and sane Canadian, at the head of affairs.

At Ste. Julienne Sir Wilfrid Laurier offered the voters a grant for a railway and Mr. Lafortune, the Liberal candidate, pledged himself to get them a post office, if they would vote for the Liberal Government and reciprocity with the United States. There are many things in connection with the campaign to suggest that the ministers and their friends have their doubts if not their fears as to what the result will be. A good government and a good cause should not have to offer premiums to get themselves accepted.—Montreal Gazette.

THE HUMAN BODY HAS ITS HALO

Dr. Kilner Says This Spiritual Cloud, Though Invisible, is a Reality

Is your halo on straight? No? You don't know? Then go to Dr. Walter J. Kilner, let him place you in a dim mystical light and look at you through the curious glass cell of his filled with a weird blue liquid, and he can tell you in a minute all about your halo.

Don't laugh. It is a cold, solemn, scientific fact. Dr. Kilner, a reputable physician, formerly in charge of the electrical department of St. Thomas's Hospital in London, has discovered the human aura and has written a heavy scientific treatise about it.

It exists. Every human being has his halo, or nimbus, or phantom, or aura, or whatever you choose to call it—a spiritual cloud that surrounds the body, that is invisible to the ordinary eye, but that, under circumstances, can be seen.

Dr. Kilner describes how he sees the aura. First, the patient is stripped naked, for such course material things as clothes, mind you, will impede this subtle, spiritual essence. Then he is placed in a dim light, about eight feet from a window covered with black serge. Behind the patient is a black or white screen—usually a black one.

Then the observer takes his position. He must have just enough light to be able to see the patient after his eyes have become accustomed to the darkness. Having ascertained that he can barely make out the outlines of the patient, the observer seizes a small glass cell filled with a mysterious, deep blue liquid, and he looks through this liquid at a fairly bright light for half a minute. At the end of that time some alteration will have taken place in his eyes. The observer now stands in front of the patient and looks through another cell of the same kind, but with a much paler tint.

The observer looks through this paler cell at the patient for several seconds. Gradually a faint cloud is observed to envelope the patient. To well-trained eyes the cloud is for the most part bluish in tint. This cloud completely surrounds the body to a distance varying according to the health and peculiarities of the patient. After death it vanishes entirely.

In cases of disease the outline of the cloud curves in, as though it were shrunken in the neighborhood of the diseased parts. Epileptics and those persons afflicted with hysterics have the halo developed more on one side of the body than on the other.

Dr. Kilner believes that diagnosis by halo will become a very important part of medical practice in the future. All the doctor will have to do will be to look at the patient's halo to find out where he is sick.

Not only does the human aura's shape and intensity change with the health of the body, but its color varies also. Dr. Kilner has not gone so far yet as to determine what the various colors indicate. He leaves that to the future. But sometimes he sees blue and grey in the aura and sometimes yellow or green. He has, however, noticed that in cases where a colored patch is seen in the aura, it is usually found to be over some tender or painful part of the body.

The aura, as described by the doctor, is of a three-fold nature. First there comes a dark space next to the skin and fitting it like a glove. This Dr. Kilner calls the "etheric double." At the outer edge of this comes the second aura, which is not luminous, nor can it be seen by rays ordinarily visible to the eye. When the operator's eye has been trained or stimulated by looking through the blue "spectraurine" fluid, it is seen as gently striated or granular.

Outside of this comes the third aura or nimbus. It is faint, entirely structureless, "capable of being illuminated, but not luminous," says the doctor.

Dr. Kilner has not yet succeeded in taking any photographs of these aurae. He has decided that their vibrations "lie outside of the ordinary visible spectrum."

LIVINC THE SIMPLE LIFE

The Queen of Italy With Her Children is in the Northern Mountains

The beautiful Italian Queen is spending her summer in the wonderful mountains of Northern Italy. Here, in the hills, Helena lives the simple life with her children, who accompany her on all her walks. Queen Helena's domestic virtues are well known. Lately she has been trying to arouse among ladies of the Roman aristocracy a little enthusiasm for the nursing profession, which she holds to be woman's special mission. Just before she left for the mountains she visited Rome's largest hospital, the Policlinica, situated just outside the city gate, known as the Porta Pia. Here, in company with the Duchess of Ascoli, she went through the various wards and gave kind and cheering messages to many of the patients. Finally, the Queen asked to see the new nursing-school attached to the hospital, and showed the deepest interest in the students and their work. It is likely that the Queen's energetic action will lead to the founding of a home for trained nurses under the auspices of a committee of society women—a long-felt want in the Italian capital.

German Educational Reform

German education is going through an era of reform at high pressure. The first decade of the present century brought the opening of public schools to girls, whereby they were enabled to rise to the highest academic training. This extension of education was attended by several internal reforms, which pay due regard to the exigencies and changed aspects of modern life.

PROTECTION NEEDED

A Reduction in Duty Practically Wiped Out the Fine Leather Industry

That a protective tariff is necessary to the industrial welfare of Canada and the lack of sufficient protection has been the cause of numerous business disasters within recent years may be proved by many examples. One of the most conspicuous of these, however, is the collapse of several flourishing branches of the Canadian leather industry since the Albany treaty of March, 1910, when Hon. Mr. Fielding, representing Canada, agreed with the United States on a reduction of 2½ per cent. in the duty on upper and fine leathers, the duty formerly standing at 17½ per cent. This reduction was all the more remarkable in that there was absolutely no vestige of agitation for it in Canada. Not only did the Canadian users of these leathers not ask for the reduction, but they have since expressed strongly against it on the ground that it would wipe out the Canadian manufacturers of these fine and upper leathers, thus forcing them to buy from the American trust, which, of course, means ultimately much higher prices. The manufacturers of these leathers were not consulted in any way whatever before the reduction, and in the absence of any discussion of this item it struck them as a bolt from the blue. It is evident that the pressure resulting in the lower duty was exerted by the American tanners.

As a result of that sacrifice of Capital and Labor in Canada, importations of fine leather have increased over 100 per cent. in the last year as the direct result of the lower tariff which has allowed the over supply of American leather goods to be dumped into the Canadian market. At least six flourishing Canadian industries, in the aggregate employing upwards of 500 skilled mechanics, were forced to close the departments of their factories given up to the manufacture of upper and fine leathers because they could not possibly compete with the wealthier and more powerful establishments in the United States.

In the fiscal year 1910 the imports of calf kid or goat, lamb and sheepskins, dressed, waxed or glazed, into Canada from the United States amounted to 195,054 pounds, valued at $184,493, while in the fiscal year 1911, with the lower duty the imports amounted to 404,821 pounds, valued at $341,832, or an increase of over 100 per cent.

Surely an example such as this should sober the reckless agitator for free trade. Surely it points a moral: Reasonable and stable tariff protection for Canadian industries.

GUN FIRED BY THE SUN

Parisian Cannon was Almost as Reliable as a Clock

The old gun at the Palais Royal, Paris, which is fired, we are told, by the heat of the sun's rays at noon by means of a lens, has, for the first time in many years, gone off exactly at noon. The heat of the sun, it is explained, was such that the moment its rays, when exactly over the meridian, touched the glass, the gun went off. People who were in the garden with watches in their hands to count the minutes, were astonished. One old man said that it was the first time in his life that he had witnessed such a thing. The sun, he said, usually takes from five to ten minutes at least, and sometimes more, to set the gun off. Few people, as a rule, pay attention to the old gun at the Palais Royal for this very reason. While the heat continued the gun was almost as reliable as a railway clock.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

Miss Wheeler did not appear again during the evening, as she was too weakened from the shock to face the unconscious cause of it again. Thrilled with a new hope for success and thankful for the friends so providentially given him, Alex Grant, for the first time in many a night, found himself between the snowy sheets of a downy bed and scarce had his head touched the pillow when he was fast asleep.

CHAPTER XIII.

Alice Wheeler.

In response to a light, nervous tap upon the library door, Alex Grant called cordially, "Come in."

It was a beautiful picture that met his eyes as he rose to greet the visitor. With one hand upon the doorknob, cheeks flushed, breath slightly quickened, her deep blue eyes fixed intently upon his handsome face, Alice Wheeler stood studying the features of her parents' guest.

She was a remarkably pretty girl of about twenty-two, slightly above the average hight, superbly formed, with exquisitely molded features, of reddish complexion, and light-brown hair. There was a combination of cheerfulness, stability and unfathomable love written upon her countenance, which not only commanded attention and respect, but immediately drew out one's better nature. She was a creditable product of the West, the pride of a devoted father, the loving companion of her mother, and the idol of all the attendants. Alex did not wonder that John had fallen in love with his employer's beautiful daughter. Since the parting at San Francisco he had met with no one to be compared with this gem of the Dakotas.

As he stood beside the table at which he had been writing, a deep blush came to his face as his eyes met hers.

"I wish to apologize for my demonstration of yesterday, Mr. Grant," she said in a low, trembling voice. "The thought of what you must think of my act continues to humiliate me beyond expression."

"Then please bid your humiliation depart," replied Grant, smiling, as he took her hand. "Under the circumstances your greeting was quite right. I resemble my cousin closely, I know."

"You are the very image of John, and when you entered I supposed, of course, it was he. But oh, Mr. Grant, the shock was terrible. I never fainted before,' she said as she took a chair facing him.

"I can readily understand your feelings, Miss Wheeler, and deeply regret your disappointment. You are not the only one who feels John's absence. For over sixteen months I have been searching for him, travelling from Vermont to California, and am now making my return trip through the Northwest. I received from your father the first encouraging news of him. He has so thoroughly hidden himself from all of us that he is as one dead. His father is nearly distracted, and the rest of us are perplexed."

"But why does he not write? Surely he must know how we all worry about him?"

"His reasons are obvious. He found that your father was an intimate acquaintance of his father, and fearing discovery, left. But if John knew how thoroughly his father's will power had been subdued he would not hesitate to make his whereabouts known, or return home and take his proper place in Robert Grant's immense business."

"I do not quite understand you. Who is Robert Grant?"

"Robert Grant is a wealthy lumber merchant of Burlington, Vt., and one of your father's most extensive customers. He is also my uncle, and the father of John Grant, who has been masquerading as John Graham. John knows if he wrote to you, your father, having discovered his identity, would acquaint my uncle with his runaway son's whereabouts, which is not my cousin's wish at present."

"Then Graham is not my John's true name?"

"His name is John Grant, and his father is worth nearly, if not quite, two million."

"But what did he run away for?"

"First, to teach his father a needful lesson; second, to find a suitable wife," laughed Alex, and bowing profoundly.

"Please be explicit, Mr. Grant. This is an important question to me. If John Graham—or Grant, as you are pleased to call him, is not what he represents, much as I love him, he shall be cast off," said the young lady, seriously. "To me honor is honor, and the man I marry must be above reproach. He won my love as a clerk in my father's office, with only his salary to depend upon. To me he has ever been a king among men. Though retiring in his nature, he had innumerable opportunities to select a sweetheart, and I was his preference. True, I never inquired into his past; his handsome, honest countenance and gentlemanly conduct were a sufficient guarantee of his integrity. He never volunteered information regarding himself, other than that his father lived in the East and his mother was dead. I trusted him. I loved him; my whole life is still bound up in him. Shortly before going away he asked me to be his wife, and I promised. He said he would be absent for a time, but would return. Now you represent him as a runaway, a fugitive from justice, as it were, going from place to place to avoid recognition. What am I to think?" and great tears rolled down her cheeks as she sat looking pleadingly into Alex's face.

"Just keep on thinking him the best and handsomest fellow on earth. (I take that remark of yours as a personal compliment, for we are alike as two peas.) Don't budge a hair's breadth in your opinion of him. He'd run the gauntlet of a thousand Apaches to get back to you, for John Grant's love, once given, will last forever. I know him of old. We were kids together, school boys together, and young men together. We were inseparable. They called us the Grant twins. The only difference between us was that he believed in peace and I advocated war. We were distinguished only by our attitudes—when I was punching some unfortunate, as though my reputation depended upon it, and he was acting as peacemaker. I have licked more fellows for Jack's sake than you have fingers and toes. I've always been willing to give up the ghost for that cousin of mine, and I'll never rest till I find him."

"You don't look very dangerous," said Alice, laughing through her tears at his reference to their boyhood escapades. Alex had set out to draw the sorrowing girl into a more cheerful frame of mind, and was succeeding admirably. "But what made him leave home, Mr. Grant,"

KITCHENER AND EGYPT

An Incident of His Services in Reorganizing the Egyptian Army

Lord Kitchener's return to Egypt recalls many incidents to those who knew him in his younger days, before he succeeded to the Sirdarship. His great services in connection with the reorganization of the Egyptian Army are almost forgotten to-day, but the words of Field-Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, V.C., the first Sirdar, may be recalled. It is some years now since the incident happened. Sir Evelyn was asked at dinner one night how it had come about that such a smart and intelligent force had been got together in such a comparatively short space of time.

"Well, it was like this," replied the veteran soldier. "I did a bit; Frank Grenfell (now Field-Marshall Lord Grenfell) did a bit; and Kitchener did a deuce of a lot."

There is considerable friendship between these three soldiers. They were photographed together once, in company with the present Sirdar, Sir Reginald Wingate. An enlarged copy was presented to the Kedive, and it now occupies a prominent position in the Royal Palace in Cairo.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 24.—There was a fair enquiry from foreign buyers for both old and new crop of Manitoba spring wheat, but as the prices bid showed no advance, business was impossible. A fair trade continues to be done in oats, and prices are fairly maintained. American No. 2 yellow corn was offered in round lots to arrive at 69c afloat and car-lots ex-store sold at 70c. There was no change in flour, prices being steady under a good demand. Feed flour came in for attention to-day, and sales of round lots were made at $1.50 per bag. The demand for shorts is heavy, which are scarce and strong. The trade in butter, cheese and provisions is good.

Dressed hogs (abattoir), $10.25 to $10.50 per cwt.

Beef—Plate, half bbls., 100 lbs., $7.50; barrels, 200 lbs., $14.50; tierces, 300 lbs., $21.50.

Pork—Heavy Canada short cut mess, barrels, 35 to 45 pieces, $23; half barrels, $11.75; Canada short cut and back pork, 45 to 55 pieces, barrels, $22.50; Canada clear pork, barrels, 30 to 35 pieces, $20.50; bean pork, small pieces but fat, barrels, $16.50.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 43½c to 44c, car lots ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 43½c to 44½c; No. 3 C. W., 42½c to 43c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.40; seconds, $4.90; winter wheat patents, $4.50 to $4.75; strong bakers', $4.70; straight rollers, $4 to $4.10; in bags, $1.85 to $2.

Rolled oats, per barrel, $4.75; bag of 90 lbs., $2.25.

Corn—American No. 3 yellow, 70c; millfeed, bran, Ontario, $22 to $23; Manitoba, $21 to $22; middlings, Ontario, $25 to $26; shorts, Manitoba, $24; mouillie, $25 to $31.

Eggs—Selected, 22c to 24c; fresh, 17½c to 18c; No. 1 stock, 18½c to 20c.

Cheese—Westerns, 12⅞c to 13⅛c; easterns, 12⅝c to 12⅞c.

Butter—Choicest, 24⅛c to 24½c; seconds, 23c to 24c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—The railways reported 78 carloads of live stock at the City Yards on Thursday, comprising 774 cattle, 2223 hogs, 1464 sheep and lambs, 157 calves and 19 horses.

Butchers.

Geo. Rowntree bought on Wednesday and Thursday 515 cattle for butchers' purposes, as follows: Butchers' steers and heifers, $5.25 to $5.85 per cwt.; cattle of export weights, $5.90 to $6.40; cows, $3 to $5.25; bulls, $3 to $5; canners, $1 to $2.

Feeders and Stockers.

Trade for feeders and stockers was dull. Feeders, 800 to 1000 lbs., are worth from $4.50 to $5.10; stockers, 500 to 800 lbs., sold from $2.50 to $4.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Trade in milkers and springers has been active all week. Prices ranged from $45 to $70, and one at $80, and another at $90.

Veal Calves.

Receipts were moderate with prices steady at $2.50 to $7.75.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, ewes, sold at $3.40 to $3.75 for heavy, and $3.85 to $4.40 for light, and $1 to $3.25 for rams; lambs sold $5 to $6.25 per cwt.

Hogs.

Prices unchanged at $8.10 for hogs fed and watered, and $7.80 f.o.b. cars.

A Test Case.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—Judgment was rendered yesterday by Judge Leet in the case of Jules Gratton, a local labor leader, accused of intimidating workmen and preventing others from seeking employment during the progress of the carpenters' strike.

Gratton was condemned to five days in jail.

The judgment of the court is important as being a test case in which the whole business interests of the city are concerned as well as the labor unions who are following the matter.

Charlemagne Rodier, representing the accused, appealed the case, and Judge Leet will withhold the sentence till Tuesday pending appeal proceedings.

"Fact vs. Sophistry."

Reasons Why The United States Wants Reciprocity

The New York American, one of the commercial journals in the United States, that exercises great influence in financial circles, advocates the adoption of the reciprocity agreement which the Canadian voter is now asked to approve. To those interested in the growth of the United States the facts given are unanswerable; but to Canadians no better possible reasons could be given why the agreement should not be rejected. We commend the facts and figures given by this U. S. journal to every one who is interested in the welfare of Canada.

The New York American says:

The farmers of the U. S. have no reason to oppose reciprocity with Canada, but every reason in interest to advocate it. The combined trusts are making desperate efforts to deceive the farmer, as they have deceived him before. They have bamboozled some of the farmer newspapers and bought others to advocate their selfish policy. They argue to the farmer that by reason of the present Canadian tariff he gets more than the fair market price for his products. This is false. The Canadian tariff operates against the Canadian farmer. It is the object of reciprocity to give both farmer products an even chance in both countries. Let us see the facts:

Five Years' Trade:

In five years ending June 30, in goods of all kinds—

We sold in Canada	$880,417,376
Canada sold to us	393,913,673
Difference in our favor	$492,503,703

These figures show that Canada is a good country for us to trade with. Any country which buys from us more than it sells to us is a good country to trade with. No tariff wall should stand between us and such a country.

Government Statistics:

Government statistics show the American farmer that for five years ending June 30.

Horses:
We sold in Canada (horses)..	$14,172,075
Canada sold to us (horses)	2,549,201
Difference in our favor .	$11,622,874
Cattle:
We sold in Canada (cattle)	1,578,179
Canada sold to us (cattle)	1,193,796
Difference in our favor .	$ 384,383
Meat and Dairy:
We sold in Canada	$17,011,017
Canada sold to us	904,191
Difference in our favor .	$16,106,826
Breadstuffs:
We sold in Canada	$31,596,556
Canada sold to us	6,679,884
Difference in our favor .	$24,916,672

Total:

Of these items, which are standard among farmers, we sold to Canada $54,030,755 more than Canada sold to us.

Upon these articles, says The American, we had to pay the Canadian tariff. But for this Canadian tariff our balance in these items would have been still larger. Reciprocity would relieve us from that hindrance to our trade. How, then, could reciprocity hurt the farmer?

From a United States standpoint a stronger and more convincing argument could not be advanced. How does it affect Canada? Simply, that the 99,000,000 producers in the United States will, under free trade in what they produce and have to sell, flood the Canadian market with their surplus to the direct injury and loss of the farmer.

Men who consider country before party cannot but see and realize what all this means, and should act accordingly.

AFTER BIG GAME MET HIS DEATH

A Cow Elephant Caught Longden on Her Tusks and Tossed Him Furiously

Full details of the death of M. Gerald Longden are given by the East African Standard, which is printed at Mombasa, and has just reached England. M. Longden was one of the most daring and experienced elephant hunters. He made a big game shooting expedition with his wife into the wilds of the Belgian Congo, and it was there that he perished. Mrs. Longden was not with him on the fatal day, but was in camp some distance away, when news reached her through natives that something terrible had happened to him. She instantly set out to his aid, accompanied only by natives, and reached him at the height of one of the fearful tropical storms common in the Congo. She found him lying in the bush in excruciating agony, without tent or covering. It was extremely difficult for her to ascertain what had occurred, as he had only natives with him. But their story was that he was firing at a bull elephant, when he was charged from behind by a cow elephant which he had not seen. The animal caught him on her tusks and tossed him furiously. The tusks pierced his back and passed right through his body. It was in this plight that he was found. Mrs. Longden, with heroic courage, rendered all the loving aid that was possible. Then followed a terrible forced march of twenty-four hours back to camp, the agonizing suspense of which was prolonged by the native bearers losing their way in the dark. Runners were sent on in advance to obtain medical assistance, but on the third day, before further help could reach him, M. Longden died, conscious to the end and enduring his sufferings with unflinching fortitude. Mrs. Longden, grief-stricken and shaken in health, made her way to Nairobi, and is now returning to Europe.

HAULED UP A CASKET

Peculiar Find of a Crew of Liverpool Fishermen

A remarkable recovery from the sea has been made by fishermen at Liverpool. Captain Evans and crew, after trawling for five miles, hauled up an earthenware casket, securely fastened and bound with copper wire, to which a slab of lead was attached. On the lid the following words were written in lead pencil: "John Henry Wood. Cremated 9th June, 1911." When the casket was opened, "Wood, Manchester," was discovered imprinted on a piece of lead used as a seal for copper wires. The contents were cinders of human bones. The process of cremation had not been thorough, as some of the bones could be clearly recognized.

DEPRESSION WIDESPREAD AND UNEMPLOYMENT THE ORDER OF THE DAY IN UNITED STATES

By C. L. Sibley.

A recent trip through the manufacturing States south of the international boundary, made for the purpose of ascertaining the economic conditions of the United States as compared with those in Canada, has convinced me that the United States is in far greater need of Canada as a market for its surplus products than Canada is in need of the United States.

The difference in the status of the working man in the two countries, and in the industrial outlook generall, is startling. Here in Canada, so steady has been our prosperity for so long a period, that we have forgotten the real meaning of business depression—the grinding economies which it entails and the hardships and suffering which it means for the masses of workers and their wives asd children.

We unthinkingly assume that because we are doing so well, the great Republic to the South must be doing equally well, and we imagine that the outlook of the average man in the United States towards reciprocity must be much the same as the outlook of the average man in Canada.

After visiting many cities in the United States, and conversing with all sorts and conditions of people, the fact has been forced upon me that the point of view from which the United States approaches this question is radically different from that of the Dominion of Canada.

Even the greatest apologists for the reciprocity pact in Canada do not go farther than to say that their hope is that the pact, if carried through, will afford us an alternative market for our agricultural and forest products.

We are not in particular need of that market now, they admit, but some day our production will be so large that we will probably want it, and then it will be very convenient to find it has already been assured to us.

What about the people of the United States? Their hopes as to the future of reciprocity far transcend the mere idea of an exchange of natural products. They frankly state that they want to get into the Canadian market with all their manufactures, and that the present reciprociy pact is but the entering wedge with which they will pry open that market for the free entry of all goods of American manufacture.

America is desperately in need of this great and growing market of Canada. Unlike Canada, her industries are not prospering and progressing with great and wonderful strides. Unlike Canada, her people are not working full time and earning good wages.

I visited representative cities in the States of New York, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, and New England, and everywhere I found industries struggling under a great cloud of depression, factories working short time, and hundreds and thousands of men out of work. The American farmers have lost by this depression and are looking to Canada for a market for what they can raise.

This condition of things we hear very little about in Canada. There is in the United States a conspiracy of silence about it on the part of the newspapers, just, as, at the behest of President Taft, there was a conspired silence in the American press about the real motives of the United States in forcing the reciprocity pact on the Canadian Government.

On the part of supporters of reciprocity in Canada, it is the fashion to laugh and pooh-pooh when annexation is mentioned in connection with reciprocity, but I found that everybody in the United States looks on the reciprocity pact as the beginning of the annexation for business purposes of the Dominion of Canada. Let there be no misapprehension on this point. It is the ambition of the American people to dominate the whole of the North American continent commercially and industrially.

One of the newspapers in Detroit only a couple of weeks ago, in lauding the reciprocity agreement, declared that it would ultimately extend the sphere of American business interests by 100 per cent. This is annexation—business annexation in a real sense—and, as Mr. Borden says if Canada places itself under the commercial control of the United States, its political independence, if retained, will be a shadow and not a substantial reality.

Going first to Buffalo, N.Y., the terminus of the Great Lakes waterway on the American side, and the seat of many great industries, I found an astonishing change from conditions in Canada.

In any industrial city in Canada you will find the factories all working full time or overtime, extensions being made in every direction, and a happy and prosperous working population.

How different it is in Buffalo, just over the international boundary within sight of prosperous Canada!

There the transportation interests are experiencing one of the worst seasons they have ever known. So great is the depression, so restricted the volume of freight that is moving, that whole fleets of vessels were tied up in and around Buffalo. Inside the breakwater, I counted a row of ten of the largest steel freighters that ply the Great Lakes at their moorings—a melancholy fleet of out-of-works that had not once had their steam up this season. Along the waterways near Buffalo—at Tonawanda and other places—were many other idle vessels, all doing nothing.

The other great industries of the city besides that of transportation were feeling the depression acutely. The fact that the railways and all other large organizations had shut down tightly on all structural work had hit the steel and iron industries of the city badly and both at Buffalo and its neighboring community of Tonawanda furnaces had been shut down and men laid off.

I found hundreds of men out of work in Buffalo, especially among the shipping classes, and men at the head of the missions who work among the waterfront population declared that they had never known so much distress in summer. They were dispensing relief to men on the verge of starvation just as they do in winter.

Is it any wonder, with conditions like this, that Buffalo wants reciprocity?

One of the points of view of Buffalo people regarding reciprocity is given in an interview with Mr. A. D. Goodwin, manager of the Duluth Milling Company, published in the Buffalo Commercial. Said Mr. Goodwin:

"I have no doubt that the passage of the reciprocity bill, if it should pass the Canadian House, will very materially increase the marine trade from the port of Duluth down the Great Lakes.

"The American millers are extremely anxious to see the bill go through on the Canadian side. For some years, owing to the price we have had to pay for wheat, we have practically been debarred from the export trade.

"Reciprocity will mean that we will again be in the market for such business, and the United States will become the market of the world for foodstuffs.

"The shipment of flour will mean a profitable business for many of the package freighters that now find it difficult to get a cargo, and many that are now being remodelled for the ore business."

In other words, here was a frank confession that it is with the trade which properly belongs to Canada that the transportation companies and manufacturers of the United States hope to make up for their own trade depression.

In Cleveland, O., with its 4,000 manufacturing establishments, 16,000 wage-earners in factories, and 66,000 population, I found the same depressed conditions prevailing. The making of wire and wire nails is the biggest single industry in Cleveland. It also has huge steel and iron works and it claims to be the largest iron ore market in the world.

It was at the ore docks that the depression in trade was most vividly reflected. Instead of the great activity shown in years of prosperity, stagnation prevailed. It is true that in the last week of July blast furnace operators placed orders for 200,00 tons of ore, but as a local paper said, "That is scarcely a drop in the bucket."

Naturally with no pig iron moving there was a great restriction of business in the allied industries, and Cleveland was feelng the benumbing effects of this keenly. Thousands of men were on short time as a consequence.

But it was at Pittsburg, Pa., that I found how what bad times the basic industries of the country really were undergoing. It seems strange to people in Canada, where progress is being made in all departments of industrial endeavor by such tremendous strides, but Pittsburg has never recovered from the great panic of 1907.

Pittsburg is one of the great centres of activity of the United States Steel Corporation, and 30 of the greatest plants in the Pittsburg district are controlled by that organization. Now that corporation, with its vast ramifications, is in a positon to secure business if there is any busness to be got.

Yet what was the position? For the past half year the plants of that corporation in Pittsburg had only been producing at the rate of 60 per cent. of their capacity, and 20 per cent. of that was done at cut prices for the export trade. Right and left furnaces had been closed down and men laid off.

The conditions of labor, in addition to this restriction, I found to be deplorable. Almost half the employees in the steel industry were receiving less than 18 cents an hour, and one-quarter under 25 cents an hour. What is more, a large proportion of these men had to work a twelve-hour day for seven days every week. These are facts attested by Mr. Nagel, of the Department of Commerce and Labor at Washington, who recently made an exhaustive inquiry into conditions in the Pittsburg district.

Does the Steel Corporation contemplate Canada as a market for its surplus products made under such labor conditions? Yes, it is looking to reciprocity as a commencement to dumping its surplus products on this side of the international boundary.

In Cincinnati, O., a great centre for the manufacture of machinery of all kinds, carriages, automobiles, etc. I found a great stagnation in business, with much unemployment. Here, too, the manufacturers were looking hopefully to the reciprocity pact as a means of deliverance from depression. They already export some machinery to the Canadian market, but the trade is very restricted, owing to the tariff wall.

They look to the reciprocity wedge as a means of overturning that national breakwater of Canada, so that they may flood the Canadian market with their machinery.

The languishing state of their own market which has made them turn so longingly to Canada is reflected in their bank clearings, which for the year ending April 1, 1911, amounted to $1,257,874,950, as compared with $1,338,040,750 in 1907, which, it will be recalled, was the year of the great depression. The drop is no less than $81,166,700.

Yes, they are enthusiastic about reciprocity in Cincinnati.

So they are in Chicago. Business there I found to be abnormally dull. Here are cuttings from the local papers during my visit there. The Chicago Record-Herald said:

"Lake tonnage suffered a tremendous decline during the month of June and in the first six months of this year. The volume of domestic shipments on the Great Lakes for June declined almost 25 per cent. from the corresponding period of last year."

The Chicago Tribune, discussing the inactivity in Chicago, real estate, said:

"Another contributing cause, and probably the most effective of all, has been the sluggish condition of business in general. The real estate market is peculiarly sensitive to this cause, as merchant, manufacturer, home and investment buyer are prone to curtail operations at such a time, pending the return of beteir conditions."

Everywhere it was the same story. Manufacturer, storekeeper, transportation men and artisans, all told of the depressed state in trade.

Coming back to Detroit I was staggered by a sight that met me there. Outside the free employment bureau at the City Hall was a crowd of hundreds of a splendid class of working men looking for work. They were the kind of men who are the backbone of a community, clean and able-lookfng, and all rather ashamed of hanging around looking for a job. Automobile-makers, workers in the iron trades, carriage-builders, carpenters, masons, bricklayers, plasteers, laborers—all were to be found in the big crowd. It is a long time, they told me, since trade has been so bad in Detroit.

Then I went down through New England to the great centres of the textile industries on this continent. The two principal centres are at Lowell and Fall River, both in Massachusetts.

Not for ten years, I found, had conditions been so bad in the textile industries. Right and left the factories were closing down or working short time. In Fall River alone the Fall River Iron Works Company which owns seven of the largest cotton mills, has closed down every one of these mills indefinitely.

These mills employ in normal times, 5,000 people, and pay out in wages every week $35,000. The vast character of the enterprise is shown in the fact that in the seven mills now closed down there are 488,000 spindles, and the normal output is 200,000,000 yards of cloth per annum.

The working men in New England find the conditions very different from those of the average industrial community in Canada. Weavers get $11 a week, and the average wage of the employees works out at $7. Portuguese, Armenians, Russian and Italian people are gradually replacing the workers of Anglo-Saxon and French-Canadian stocks, and the storekeepers say the conditions of living are becoming poorer all the time, the cheapest of food and the shoddiest of clothing being the ones most in demand.

This tour to the centres of representative industries of the United States throws a great white light on the reasons why the American people are so enthusiastic in favor of reciprocity. They believe—and they frankly tell you so, that it is but the entering wedge for absolute free trade between the United States and Canada. The working classes are feeling the pinch and the curtailment of the demand for labor is affecting the farming classes, who have profited by the home market products, and has so reduced the price of many farms, that the American farmers think they will improve their condition by getting into the Canadian market. This explains a change amongst large sections of American farmers who were against reciprocity.

The Canadian farmer, therefore, will have to look sharp under the pact. The Food Trusts of the United States and the American farmers will prove most formidable and menacing competitors.

The orange is the most luscious and healthful fruit. California excels in quality of oranges. The best of the California oranges are now packed in individual wrappers labeled "Sunkist."

SUNKIST ORANGES

Five thousand orange farmers in California do their own packing, shipping and selling. They grade and select their crop into "firsts," "seconds," etc. The firsts are fancy, tree-ripened, hand-picked, seedless, fibreless, thin-skinned oranges—every individual orange a perfect specimen of the finest variety of oranges. They are not only more healthful and more palatable than other oranges, but they are actually cheaper, for they are nearly all meat and nourishment.

Your dealer sells "Sunkist" Oranges. Ask for them. You will know them by the tissue paper wrapper in which each "Sunkist" Orange is packed. You can buy them by the box or half box. On the wrapper note the label, "Sunkist." Keep all the wrappers. They are worth money to you.

WOMEN AS PASTORS

The First Woman to be Accepted by the General Synod

An English lady pastor, the Rev. Gertrude Petzold, well known to Leicester and Birmingham, is the first woman to be accepted at Geneva under a decision of the local Synod to admit women as pastors, and to allow all parishes full liberty to choose qualified women clergy.

As many of the parishes in the canton have been without a clergyman for years, it is thought the vacant posts will be generally filled by women, though the stipends are low. The pioneer is Miss Petzold, who obtained her degrees in Germany and England. Since January last she has been the minister at the Waverly Road Unitarian Church, Small Heath, Birmingham. She took her M.A. degree at Edinburgh University, and later studied theology for three years at Manchester College, Oxford. For four years she was minister at the Free Christian Church, Leicester.

BEEF TRUST HAS EYES ON CANADA

Its Tentacles are Seen in Reciprocity, Which Purposes to Give it Free Access to Our Live Stock

Third Fisherman:—"Master, I marvel how the fishes live in the sea."
First Fisherman:—"Why, as men do a-land; the great ones eat up the little ones."
"Such whales have I heard on o' the land, who never leave gaping till they've swallowed the whole parish, church, steeple, bells and all."

Like Shakespeare's whale, the monstrous Beef Trust of the United States will "never leave gaping" till it has "swallowed the whole parish," provided, of course, that Providence doesn't send a Jonah.

The Reciprocity Agreement, ex-speaker "Joe" Cannon of the United States Congress, says, is "a machination of the trusts." And when it is considered that this trade pact proposes to feed such huge octopuses as "the Big Six" meat packing companies in Chicago, with "free" natural products from Canada, one is inclined to believe "Joe" Cannon is right. Having almost swallowed the American parish, this whale now gapes for the unexploited, fair districts of Canada. Shall Canadians be considered as "little ones" and be eaten up or shall they throw the Reciprocity Jonah overboard and continue their national voyage to greatness on an untroubled sea?

The examples to hand of the way in which the Beef Trust has operated and is operating now in the United States should, alone, turn every citizen of Canada, and especially the Western farmer, against a tariff rearrangement which would tend to bring the country under the direct touch of this gigantic corporation.

The United States Beef Trust is made up of the following firms: Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Morris & Co., including the Fairbanks Canning Company, the National Packing Company, under the joint management of Armours, Swifts and Morris'; Swarzchild & Sulzberger, and Cudahy & Co. The main interest, "the Big Six," as they are called, control 72 subsidiary packing companies, and these 72 tentacles stretch over the length and breadth of the United States, feeding themselves on the fat of the land and crushing out life wherever it is convenient.

In 1903 Judge Grosscup at Chicago granted an injunction against the Beef Trust, holding that it was an illegal combination in the restraint of trade. As usual, the case was appealed, and in the Supreme Court in 1905, Attorney-General Moody sustained the decision of Judge Grosscup, showing that (1) members of the Trust had agreed not to bid against one another in the live stock markets of the various States, (2) temporary increases in prices were caused to induce shipping of cattle to the Stock Yards, (3) prices for meat were set, through which shipments were controlled, (4) uniform rates of credit were adopted, and black lists were maintained, (5) common and unfair cartage charges were made, and less than legal shipping rates were obtained from railroads, thereby restraining competition.

At the present time the Beef Trust is looking for additional supplies from Canada. With the duties down, our livestock, especially that from the West, would be taken for consumption at Chicago. The bonding privileges now allow buyers from Armours, Swifts, Morris' and the others to come over and buy cattle off the Canadian markets for their export trade to Britain. At the Union Stock Yards in Toronto, the largest purchases are made by these American buyers, who absorb as much Canadian stock as possible, in order to leave a greater number of cattle in the States for the domestic uses of the Beef Trust. Canada at present is being used to hold a large proportion of the Beef Trust's export trade. The Chicago magnates regard their position in the British market jealously, and in the face of the Argentine Republic's strong competition in Britain, the American interests need all the y can get from Canada.

It is evident, then, that the Beef Trust has its eye on this country. Is it not better to give its buyers our cattle from our own markets for export, thus controlling our own position, than to have the live stock industry undermined and enslaved by allowing the same power that has smitten the United States to have free sway in Canada?

SHOULD DEVELOP OUR OWN NATION

In the True Interest of Canada to Remain in the British Connection—The Big Stick

"For many years I have been in business in Canada and in the United States, and the people of the latter country I know well," said Sir Edmund Walker. "It is in the true interest of Canada for her to remain in the British connection, without interest or contact from the South. We should develop our own nation in our own way, and my experience has deepened the conviction that we should not become American."

Mr. R. F. Robinson, St. Catharines

"I am strongly against reciprocity. There is no come and go to the matter, the American grower will be protected and we won't. The canning man will be able to hold the big stick over our heads. Last fall I bought 1,500 peach trees, tilled and drained ground at considerable cost. If I had had any idea of reciprocity coming I would as soon of thought of flying to the moon as making the move I did."

Mr. J. J. Gregory, Lacombe

"From a farmer's standpoint I cannot see very much in the proposed measure of reciprocity with the United States. If the farmer thoroughly understood the situation and it were possible to take an expression of opinion, it would be like the boy in the farmer's plum tree, we just want to be left alone. The eagle is all right, Old Glory is all right, but I think most Canadians will agree with the writer that both look best below the 49th parallel of latitude."

Mr. J. W. Flavelle

"I do not believe in treaties or agreements with any nation in regard to trade with Canada, other than members of our own family. Changes are so rapid we can't estimate what even five years will bring forth. We made a treaty with France which we should not have made. It is because of the French treaty that we were compelled to have the conference with the United States. This is the cause of our anxiety and the anxiety of England, the mother of us all."

ALEXANDER HAGGART
One of the leading Conservatives working in the West.

George T. Blackstock, K.C.

"I venture to make the assertion that the influence of the United States amongst us is far greater than it ought to be. We should curtail it. Let us highly resolve that Canadian nationality and British connection shall not perish. When I reflect upon this country's achievements and the heroic exertions of our fathers to preserve it to us, when I think of the opportunities which it presents to us, I call the proposal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier the great betrayal of our country."

Colonel George T. Denison

"We must not forget, that with a powerful neighbor alongside of Canada, speaking the same language, and with necessarily intimate commercial intercourse, an agitation for closer relations, leading to ultimate absorption, is easy to kindle, and being so plausible, might spread with dangerous rapidity. This is a danger that those both in Canada and Great Britain, who are concerned in the future of the British Empire, would do well to take to heart, and by strengthening the bonds of Empire avert such dangers for the future."

Premier of Manitoba, who is assisting Mr. Borden.

TRADE TREATY IS A DANGER

Uncle Sam's Motto is Still the Same, "All for Uncle Sam"—Keep Canada for Canadians

Here are the warnings of several prominent Canadians against the Reciprocity Agreement:

Hon. A. B. Morine

"Uncle Sam's motto is still the same, 'All for Uncle Sam.' The farmers are in a most prosperous condition in Ontario, and it is almost impossible to arrange a loan on Ontario farm property, for the farmers do not need it."

SAM SHARPE
The energetic Conservative candidate, North Ontario.

Sir William Van Horne

"To my amazement and distress and shame I now see the magnificent work of a generation traded away for a vague idea or a childish sentiment—the splendid commercial and industrial position we have reached and our proud independence bartered for a few wormy plums."

Mr. W. A. Shepard, Borden, Sask.

"Although the farmers might get a slightly better price for their wheat they would lose in the end, because, if we send our grain to the mills of Minneapolis and St. Paul, it emphatically means they can re-ship at their own price and farmers will be unable to get feed for their horses."

Mr. L. E. Flick, Georgetown

"I heartily sympathize with the small book paper mills. There are a lot of these mills making a low grade of paper such as would be effected by the tariff revisions and they would all have to go out of business or get into the better grades. It would be a hard blow to them."

Mr. John Middleton, Sr., Clinton

"My belief is that Canadian materials shoud be turned into manufactured products in our own country, thus giving employment to our own men, building up our cities and towns, and making a greater Canada. To do justice to our country this question should be decided by the people."

Mr. J. Stough, Welland

"I want to see this country alive and growing. We can sell all our produce in England if we want to get more for it than we do here. I can remember when Welland was a muddy little hole. That was in the time of free trade."

Mayor Geary

"To my mind the adoption of the agreement for reciprocity can have but one result, and that is the drawing closer together of these two countries and consequent separation in trade and ultimately in sentiment between the mother land and ourselves. This is a result which every true Canadian-British subject would greatly deplore. We are called on to protest in every possible way against allowing American sentiment to creep into Canada to the consequent destruction even in the slightest degree of our affection and loyalty to the old land."

Mr. D. C. Cameron, Winnipeg

"Though I might be personally benefitted through my timber limits by the tariff agreement, as a Canadian I am opposed to it. I think Winnipeg would eventually lose by free trade, because it would divert traffic to the south. The change would be gradual, and that city would not perhaps feel its effect for two or three years."

Mr. F. G. Stewart, Grantham

"I have been all through Michigan, and have found that the growers there can produce grapes more easily than here. They also ha dfine natural facilities for growing peaches, pears, plums and apples. The northwestern market which we have striven for was hard to get, and now with reciprocity it would be ruined."

Mr. H. L. Frost, Hamilton

"Reciprocity may be helpful to some and detrimental to others, but to Canada as a whole it does not seem to me desirable. Besides being larger United States industries have such a decided freight advantage that Canada cannot compete in either market. As a former United States manufacturer now located in Canada I strongly oppose reciprocity."

Judge Doherty

"The secret of the reciprocity agreement is that the Republican party of the United States is endangered and is endeavoring to rush the agreement through because they are afraid of the crack of Taft's wnp. With the thousands and thousands of Americans pouring into Canada, good citizens though they are, they naturally love the land of their birth, and reciprocal trade relations would soon end in political union."

After seven years of trial Germany has dismissed its military hounds from the service. The dogs of war at present consist of machine guns which do some very effective barking when turned loose.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

TO QUIT IF DEFEATED

Sir Wilfrid Says He Will Not Lead the Opposition.

The Premier In His Speech at St. Jerome, Quebec, Seems to Foresee Disaster and Says If Conservatives Win He Will Retire—Denies Charge of Nationalists That He Is Seeking Imperial Honors.

St. Jerome, Que., Aug. 25.—In the midst of his speech here yesterday and just at the conclusion of a vehement attack upon the Nationalists, in which he repudiated the statements that service in the navy would be obligatory and that the navy bill was just another scheme to gain him more honors from England, Sir Wilfrid Laurier startled his audience by announcing that, if defeated in the coming elections, he would retire at once and forever from public life and would not lead the opposition in the next Parliament. "Rest to me is sweet now," said the Premier, "and if defeated not a word of reproach will pass my lips." Sir Wilfrid stated that if he was twenty years younger, he would continue in Parliamentary life regardless as to whether Liberals or Conservatives gained the victory, but that at his age, and with his record, he considered that he had well-earned a rest.

It was Sir Wilfrid's reply to the statements that have been circulated by the Nationalists that led up to his announcement. After characterising the story of compulsory naval service as a baseless lie, he referred to the charge that he sought imperial honors. "No king," he said, "can give me the honor that I most prize, the love and respect of my countrymen." The popular verdict which he had already so often gained, Sir Wilfrid continued, was that which he considered the highest honor.

It was strange to hear the Premier speak of age and frailty, for he stood erect and firm as ever, and his voice was clear and resonant despite his many recent speeches, while his young colleague, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, made a brief address owing to hoarseness, which he has contracted during the past few days. Sir Wilfrid spoke for thirty-five minutes.

The Premier, in making his address, realized that there were many Conservatives in the audience and at one time addressing these, warned them not to be led into an alliance with the Nationalists, whose policy was ambiguous and led nowhere.

Sir William Whyte to Retire?

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—The Tribune last night says:

"A rumor is current to-day in Canadian Pacific Railway circles that Sir William Whyte will, in the course of a few days, announce his retirement from active management of the railway system in Western Canada. The persistency of the rumor reads to the belief that it will be confirmed within a few days.

"Sir William will continue his relations with the company in a capacity similar to that occupied by Sir William Van Horne. The name mentioned in connection with the rumored vacancy is that of G. J. Bury, now general manager of western lines."

Frost Damage Light.

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—The frost danger has, temporarily at least, passed eastward, for all over the west Wednesday night higher temperatures prevailed. The lowest was recorded at Calgary, where 34 degrees above was the minimum.

Excepting Emerson, where it registered 37, all other points stayed above 40. Present forecasts and indications [illegible] warmer weather and a successful garnering of the crops is again in prospect. Damage from recent cold, wind and rain is now known to be very light. In most of the sections where crops were beaten down, they have already gained strength and are standing almost erect again.

In Search of Pointers.

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—One hundred prominent Western Canada business men will visit the chief industrial cities of Great Britain during June next year. This was definitely decided at a directors' meeting of the Winnipeg Industrial Bureau yesterday. Leading financial and commercial men representing all western cities will be invited to accompany the Winnipeg party, covering six weeks itinerary abroad.

Lost Nearly $10,000.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Aug. 25.—Under Sheriff Bolier said last night that warrants had been sworn out for the arrest of the members of the gang that operated a fake pool room at Lewiston recently, where many Toronto men were fleeced. Warrants were sworn out by a man who is said to have lost nearly $10,000. The whereabouts of the gang are known and arrests are expected shortly.

Murder Over Dollar Bill.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 25.—A quarrel over a dollar bill led to the murder of John Crane, 57 years old, an inmate of the almshouse, here yesterday. Chris T. Nolan, 50 years of age, another inmate, is charged with the murder. It is alleged Nolan beat Crane to death with a walking stick. He is believed now to be in Hamilton.

Found Body In River.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 25.—The body of an unidentified man, 30 years old, was taken from the upper river yesterday. The body had evidently been in the water a week. Nothing was found that would aid in his identification.

Wanted to Die.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 25.—Without explaining his reasons for attempting to commit suicide by going over the falls Wednesday, Walter Marck was sufficiently recovered yesterday to be removed to his home in Buffalo.

VICTORY IS IN SIGHT

R. L. Borden's Tour Meeting With Great Success.

The Chieftain of the Conservative Party, Speaking In Peterboro, Another Liberal Stronghold, Says the Tide Is Turning All Along the Line—Chance of Redeeming West Peterboro Is Good.

Peterboro, Aug. 25.—R. L. Borden continues to carry his campaign into what were Liberal strongholds with unvarying success. Last night he addressed 1,500 people in this city, which has sent J. R. Stratton to Parliament for several terms, but if the temper of last night's meeting is any indication, the Conservatives' chances for winning West Peterboro next month are good.

The "swing of victory" is found in Mr. Borden's speech.

"I have held a dozen meetings in this province during the past ten days," he observed, "and I am convinced that the trend of public opinion is strongly against this compact. There are in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Cabinet six Ministers of the crown from Ontario. Not one of them has a safe seat to-day except Sir Richard Cartwright. His seat is only safe because he is a member of that Senate which he so roundly denounced in the old days, and in which his slumbers are now unbroken by any concern or apprehension about an expenditure nearly four times greater than that which once appalled him.

"Some of the leading Liberal journals in Ontario are giving evidence by their angry tone that they realize their fight is a losing one. They know that hundreds, yes, thousands, of Liberals in this and other provinces cannot and will not support the Government on this question.

"As far as the Liberal-Conservative party is concerned, reciprocity within the Empire is good enough for us. It is the ideal of a great statesman across the seas, and I believe of the people of this great country as well."

Mr. Borden arrived at Peterboro early in the day. He was met by a committee of the local Conservative Association, and before the meeting had an informal reception in the corridor of the hotel.

James Kendry, president of the West Peterboro Conservative Association, who was in the chair, declared the meeting to be one of the finest gatherings he had ever seen in the city. The Liberal leaders' policy resulted in Canadian factories being closed down in 1878, he said, and he predicted similar results if this proposed pact went into force.

Burned to Death.

Cornwall, Aug. 25.—Miss Mabel Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bailey of Massena, across the river from here, was the victim of a horrible accident at her parents' home. Miss Bailey and her mother were preparing supper with an alcohol stove, the fluid exploded, setting fire to her clothing, and she rushed from the house by the front door, a human torch. At the sound of the explosion, Mrs. Bailey rushed into the house, having heard her daughter scream, and proceeded to extinguish the flames, which were burning the curtains, but was not aware that her daughter's clothing was on fire. Miss Bailey threw herself on the grass on the lawn in an effort to put out the blaze, and neighbors rendered what assistance lay in their power.

Physicians were sent for and found the unfortunate girl was horribly burned from the ankles to the body and her arms nearly to the shoulders. Miss Bailey lived for twelve hours and suffered terribly.

Summer Hotel Burned.

Clayton, N.Y., Aug. 25.—The Hotel Frontenac, the largest in the Thousand Islands, was laid waste by fire Wednesday night. It is owned by Charles Goodwin. The structure was built about twelve years ago at a cost of $350,000. It is situated one mile from Clayton, and is the most fashionable hotel in the islands.

Several of the guests, it is said, were restrained by force from leaping from upper storey windows and were whisked down the stairways in safety. Guests who fled half-clad from the burning hotel, wrapped themselves in raincoats and bath robes, and went to other parts of the islands.

Steamer Hard Aground.

Cornwall, Aug. 25.—The steamer Riverside of Brockville is aground in Bergin Lake, above Mille Roches, and the water in the lake will have to be raised before the boat can be released. Tugs have been at work all day but have been unable to help the boat. The Riverside was chartered by the Beaver Lacrosse Club of Mille Roches to run an excursion from Cornwall to Ogdensburg yesterday, and was on her way to Cornwall when the accident happened. Her bow is about 16 inches out of water, and it is expected that some difficulty will be experienced in floating her. The excursion had to be cancelled.

To Reinstate Men.

London, Aug. 25.—The municipal street railway committee at Liverpool yesterday deciding to reinstate the strikers, thus ending the labor troubles in that city.

It took the committee nearly three hours yesterday afternoon to make up their minds to yield to the demands of the strike committee that no discrimination be shown against the strikers returning to work.

Sixty-eight thousand men, who are still on strike at Liverpool awaiting yesterday's decision on the part of the street railway committee, will now return to work.

Oil Steamer Burned at Sea.

Mossel Bay, Union of South Africa, Aug. 25.—The Anglo-American Oil Co.'s bark Lyndhurst was destroyed by fire at sea. The crew was picked up.

TUG IS STILL MISSING

Hope Abandoned For Safety of C. C. Martin.

No News Has Been Received Regarding the Fate of the Midland Boat, Which Is Believed to Have Been Lost In Storm When Barge Albatross Foundered—May Have Landed on Shore or Island.

Byng Inlet, Aug. 25.—The worst fears as to the fate of the tug C. C. Martin of Midland would seem to be only too well grounded. That the vessel is lost, with all on board, is the general belief, although some persons, in discussing the probabilities, are not unwilling to hope, if not believe, that the tug has gone ashore on some island, and having no yawl, the crew are unable to make their plight known, and must await the succor that will come later on from some quarter or another. This view of the situation is, however, hardly borne out by the facts as known. The Martin had in tow, in a tremendous sea, a big barge and the barge sprung a leak and foundered, sinking so quickly that, those abroad the tug had no time to cut the tow-line and thus save their craft being dragged down with her consort.

The persons on board included Captain George Vent and Mrs. Vent. They have four children. Richard Melia, single; Robert Hook, Ernest Hughie, Charles Oliver; W. Martin, F. McQuinn, F. Busaume. It is thought there was another man on board.

The story of Captain Dean, master of the barge Albatross, is to the effect that the tug was laboring fearfully, with lights out, and that the distance which separated the craft, 250 feet, was too great for communication, even with the megaphone, so loud was the roar of the tempest. He tried in vain to signal the tug before he and his fellows on board the sinking barge climbed into their little yawl and cut adrift. Into this thirteen foot boat, a mere skiff, seven people piled, braving a sea running mountains high. With but two oars and they not mates, with only a frail girl using a tin pail to bail, the seven weathered the furious gale and were saved. The staunch little tug, built to stand a sea, new and well equipped and manner, was, it is believed, not equal to the fury of the storm, and sank into the depths, blotting out nine or ten lives.

Flag Incident at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—An American pleasure yacht, the Ednada III., owned by George Thomas, jr., a Philadelphia millionaire, who is here with his family on a cruise, was found to be flying the American flag yesterday without also carrying the Canadian flag.

The matter was brought to the attention of the authorities by employes of the Militia Department whose building overlooks the canal basin, in which the yacht was lying. Mr. Thomas hoisted the Canadian flag on request, explaining that he was ignorant of the regulations. There was no unpleasantness.

An interesting point about the incident is that the complaints were referred from one to another by a score of Government and civic officials before they found the proper man to take action, the lockmaster.

Constable Will Die.

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—Harry Kelly and Frank Jones, the young bandits who participated in a spectacular street battle Wednesday with a score of policemen, were yesterday remanded pending the fate of Constable Traynor, who cannot live long as a bullet penetrated his bowels.

Restrictions have been taken off of immigration ports of entries in the west to aid the farmers in securing harvest help, and the country is being overrun with desperate young men. Traynor was fired upon repeatedly only a week ago by a young highwayman from the States, and he was unarmed. The police commissioners are contempating changing the traditional policy of sending officers on patrol without firearms.

The battle Wednesday extended over a mile through a thickly-settled portion of the city.

Murderer on His Wedding Day?

Boonville, Ind., Aug. 25.—Wm. Lee, who is accused of murdering his parents and younger brother and then firing the house, it is said, ran out of the home at the time of the fire fully dressed and spread the alarm. He claimed that he was awakened by the blaze and barely escaped, not having had time to rescue the others.

Information has come out that Lee and his father had quarrelled frequently over money matters. William was engaged to wed Miss Myna Taylor, daughter of a wealthy farmer.

Had No Fire Escape.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Seven proprietors and managers of factories were summoned to the recorder's court yesterday by Mr. Alcide Chausse, the building inspector, on charges of violating the fire bylaw by having no fire escapes on their buildings. Three were let off with costs, because they had complied with the law after having been summoned to court. The four others were remanded till next week, to permit their constructing escapes. The factories affected employ from twenty to two hundred hands.

Japanese Premier Resigns.

Tokio, Aug. 25.—Count Katsura yesterday tendered his resignation as Premier. He recommends the appointment of Marquis Saionji for that post. The Cabinet, of which Count Katsura is Premier and Minister of Finance was formed July 14, 1908. The resignation of Count Katsura was forecasted nearly a month ago and it was known that many changes in the Cabinet had been under consideration for several months.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Sugar was advanced by ten cents per hundred pounds.

Canada's trade returns continue to show large increases.

The Duke of Sutherland arrived in Montreal on his way west, where he has bought large tracts of land.

Hamar Greenwood, M.P., sailed for Canada on the Empress of Britain yesterday, for a short trip to the Pacific coast.

The Liberal convention for Ste. Anne's division, Montreal, last night nominated J. C. Walsh, prosecutor, to oppose Mr. C. J. Doherty, sitting member.

Manoel de Arriaga, a lawyer and Procurator-General in the Provincial Government, was yesterday elected the first President of the Republic of Portugal.

George Annett of St. Thomas, a G.T.R. brakeman, was instantly killed at St. Thomas yesterday afternoon. He jumped to the station platform and slipped.

Charles Norman, who fell down a stairway at the Tecumseh House, London, on Wednesday night, succumbed to his injuries yesterday. His skull had been badly fractured.

The British steamer Warwickshire, passing Perim, Arabia, signalled that all of the thirty passengers and crew who were missing from the steamer Fifeshire, had been saved.

Except in Bargoed, Wales, the anti-Jewish outbreaks have ceased. Public meetings have been held at Tredegar and other towns, at which citizens enrolled themselves as volunteers to help keep order.

While 3,000 men, women and children stood by, Peter Carter, a negro, was burned to death on a brush pile in the main street of Purcell at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had attacked a farmer's wife.

B Wilkem, K.C., Kingston, yesterday received a telegram from the Dominion Government, stating that they had adopted the model of new ballot boxes he had made, and that they would be used at the next election.

Three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt, Chamberlain street, on the outskirts of Port Arthur, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their little house Wednesday. Two other children narrowly escaped the flames.

Where Is Mona Lisa?

Paris, Aug. 25.—M. Drioux, the examining magistrate, who is conducting the inquiry into the disappearance of Leonardo Da Vinci's great painting, "Mona Lisa," is at last in possession of a clue, which he hopes will prove the starting point of a more profitable investigation. A Parisian official has come forward with the information that on Monday morning last he saw a tall, stout individual, who appeared greatly agitated, carrying a large, panel covered with a horse blanket. The man jumped on the 7.47 express for Bordeaux as it was pulling out of the station. As the station is a few minutes' walk from the Louvre, the time corresponds with the time the picture is believed to have disappeared from the museum.

Another report that the picture had passed through Belgium is also being investigated, but the evidence in this instance is not so circumstantial as the Bordeaux clue. A thorough search is being made of the Louvre, which has been closed for three days for that purpose.

Joy Riders, Beware!

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Chief of Police Campeau has furnished his special constable squad with stop-watches with which to time the speed of those who drive their automobiles at too rapid a rate through the city streets.

Twenty-five policemen and five lieutenants have been furnished with these time-recorders and have been told to go out and do their duty in this particular matter.

The chief's action has been prompted by the increasing number of complaints received at his office and also by the inability of his men to judge the speed of a fast-moving machine with an ordinary timepiece. It has been impossible heretofore for an officer to swear as to the actual rate at which a car has been moving, and of course this has made convictions for this offence hard to secure.

Engine Breaks Down.

Nyack, N.Y., Aug. 25.—Harry N. Atwood is working on the broken engine of his aeroplane on the crown of a hilly meadow near the Hudson River here. Close as this is to the finish of his flight from St. Louis, the young Boston aviator last night said he faces the most embarrassing predicament of his long journey.

His biplane is in an awkward box out of which only a south or southeast wind can help him, he says. It rests near a haystack on the small sloping meadow, 150 feet above the Hudson and about 2,000 yards from the water. Almost behind him is the Rocky Hook Mountain, rising 800 feet, and to the south and east nearby apple trees and some tall locusts make it a difficult place to take wing.

Girl Is In a Trance.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Doctors and police are equally baffled by the mystery of the young and unknown girl, found apparently asleep on a St. Catherine street car at 12.30 yesterday morning.

All efforts to rouse her have proved futile, and for fourteen hours she has remained in a state of coma. The doctors say she was neither intoxicated nor drugged, and believe now that she is in a trance or prolonged sleep. There was nothing about the girl's clothes to identify her.

Drowning at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N.Y., Aug. 25.—In spite of the desperate efforts of the beach guards who went to the assistance of a group of six men who became distressed while bathing in the ocean yesterday, one of the group was drowned.

Toronto Man Elected.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—The annual convention of the International Stewards' Association was concluded yesterday. The vice-presidents chosen include Hoy Parker, of Toronto.

TRACES HER HUBBY.

Montreal Woman Reads of His Feats In the Papers.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Through seeing a despatch in a local newspaper about Captain Jack Williams of Montreal, a man of 77 years of age, who had performed the remarkable feat in St. Louis, Mo., of swimming a distance of thirty-three miles, Mrs. Catherine Williams of No. 80A. St. Maurice street, had been at last informed of the whereabouts of her husband, whom she had given up as dead.

Four years ago Captain Jack Williams, an athletic old man, well known locally for his remarkable abilities as a long-distance swimmer, and as the swimming instructor at the Grand Trunk Boating Club, left Montreal for Detroit by way of Toronto. His wife, whom he had left well supplied with money, and the house rent paid in advance, did not worry much when she heard nothing from him for several weeks. But when the weeks became months and the months years, she became satisfied that he had died without being able to communicate with her.

For several years past she has been supporting herself by washing, but the infirmities of old age are coming upon her and her power to work is decreasing as is her old age. Her husband, she thinks, is making money by his swimming and she will now seek to obtain his help.

Charged With Manslaughter.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—On a coroner's warrant, charging him with manslaughter, Phileas du Rocher, 58 Lagauchetiere West, was arraigned before Judge Lanctot yesterday morning and pleaded not guilty. Enquete was fixed for August 20.

Du Rocher was allowed out on bail, two bondsmen of $5,000 each furnishing the security for the man's appearance. It is understood that the men represent the company for whom Du Rocher was employed.

The warrant is the outcome of the death of Joseph Goudreau, employed as stevedore by the Thompson Line, who was working under a hoist when a bar of pig iron fell from the carrier, striking him on the head, causing injuries from which he died on Wednesday. Du Rocher, as foreman of the gang, was held responsible for not using the necessary precaution to safeguard the men employed about the ship, from accidents.

Both Murdered.

St. Catharines, Aug. 25—The inquest at Beamsville into the death of Edna Comfort and her child, who were found drowned in Beamsville reservoir on July 5, ended yesterday, when the jury returned a verdict to the effect that both mother and child were murdered, though the verdict did not state by whom or in what manner. No new evidence was taken at yesterday's session, Crown Attorney Brennan informing the jury that Detective Miller had followed up every possible report and rumor which had reached his ears, but to no avail. The jury retired at 3 o'clock, returning with the verdict two hours later.

Jolted From Wagon.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—William Puttock, 13 years, 77 Frizell avenue, was killed Saturday afternoon by being run over by a lumber wagon upon which he, with two other lads, was playing at Bain and Pape avenues.

Howard Chapman, a driver for the York Lumber Co., was resting his horses at the corner when the boys climbed upon it. Chapman, who had not noticed them, started his team. Puttock was jolted from the heavy wagon, the rear wheel of which passed over his neck. He was carried into Dr. Chaffin's office, where he died a few moments later.

ENTHUSIASM PREVAILED AT CONSECON LAST NIGHT

Mr. Hepburn a Sure Winner In Prince Edward County

The hall at Consecon last night contained one of the largest and most attentive audiences that that village has seen in many a long day.

Mr. David Robinson, ex-Warden of the county and a resident of Ameliasburg, was chairman, calling the meeting to order at about 8.30 o'clock, and extending a cordial welcome to the people's candidate, the popular Mr. B. R. Hepburn. The speakers of the evening were Mr. William Carnew, Mr. W. C. Mikel, K.C., Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Mr. E. M. Young, Mr. Robt. Norman, M.P.P., the candidate, Mr. B. R Hepburn, and Mr. Harry Dempsey, exWarden of Prince Edward County.

Mr. Carnew, in his opening remarks, felt it his duty to further the interests and election of Mr. Hepburn. He knew that the people of Prince Edward would be honored in having a man of Mr. Hepburn's business experience and ability as their representative, hence he would have the thinking electors behind him on election day.

The chairman at this point asked if there was anyone in attendance who would like to speak on Dr. Currie's behalf, or ask any questions. No one responded, though there were many Liberals present.

Mr. W. C. Mikel, K.C., was the next speaker and his address was most effective. He spoke on the reciprocity pact and protection. The main thing the Grits were trying to do was to make the electors believe that their pact scheme was the same as that favored by the Conservatives years ago. He clearly demonstrated that such was not the case. This was being done to bolster and cover up their losing case. He then pointed out that if any profits were made it would be by the middlemen, as prices were governed by the Liverpool market. He continued for about half an hour, during which he demonstrated conclusively that the adoption of the present proposition would be ruinous instead of beneficial to Canada, as some 80 per cent. of the products of Canada were sold at home, and England found a market for the balance. Why then should we throw open our markets to the United States producer? Canada had boomed without reciprocity, why jeopardize her future by approving this pact. Mr. Mikel made an effective and argumentative speech, closing with the plaudits of the crowd.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell was then introduced, and upon rising was received with a rousing cheer. He declared it was with no little pleasure that he was able to again appear before a Prince Edward audience to discuss question effecting the general interests of our country and to offer some suggestions, which long experience had taught him would be in the interest of Canada, if adopted. Space will not permit of even a synopsis of Sir Mackenzie's remarks as he dealt fully with the whole trade question of Canada for the past half century. He closed by expressing regret that he saw in the audience so few of the stalwarts with whom he fought the battles of Conservatism and Canadian interests in 1862, 49 years ago. They were successful then. Repeat it on the 21st of September by returning Mr. Hepburn to Parliament.

Mr. E. M. Young, barrister, of Picton, followed. He dealt principally with a speech made by Mr. Jas. R. Anderson, as reported in the Picton Times, in which Mr. Anderson boasted of being a John A. Macdonald Conservative. "From such Conservatives," Mr. Young exclaimed "Good Lord deliver us," which brought down the house. The fact was that this gentleman had in the past allied himself with every new political nostrum that had been invented and submitted to the electors for approval, and is now found in the ranks of Laurierism shouldering the Saskatchewan musket and fighting for a reciprocity compact, which the Yankee, from the President down to the Tammany Hall grafter support, and which will end, if adopted, in the annexation of Canada to the United States. He then dealt fully with the trade between Canada and our neighbors in the product of the farm, showing that prices in eggs, pork, horses, etc., were better in Canada than in the United States, and that if the pact which they were now asked to accept was adopted the farmers would regret it for all their lives.

Mr. Hepburn, upon rising, was cheered to the echo. He made a short, effective, business man's speech, right to the point, saying it was the duty of the Canadian electors to hold onto Canada, and assured them that he was a Canadian first, last and all the time; he would do all in his power to make for his constituents a creditable member when, on Sept. 21st, they sent him to Ottawa. His undivided support would be given to Mr. Robert Borden, and he fully believed he would be returned at the head of the poll as he had received every assurance of support wherever he had canvassed. (Cheers.)

Mr. Robt. Norman, M.P.P. for Prince Edward County, followed with a rousing speech, in which he declared that after canvassing the County with Mr. Hepburn since that gentleman's acceptance of the candidature on the Borden platform of anti-reciprocity, he had no doubt of the result of the polling on the 21st of September next. All that was wanted was united action on the part of lovers of Canada, and anti-Yankeeism to succeed, which declaration was received with loud and continued applause.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the chairman, which Mr. Robinson acknowledged, expressing the hope that in the interests of the county and country Mr. Hepburn would be returned on the 21st of next month.

Mr. Harry Dempsey, ex-Warden of the county, then rose and gave an illustration of how, at a former election, voters, particularly the volunteers, were humbuged by false promises. He stated that an application had been made by the Agricultural Society of Ameliasburg to the Government for the erection of a $3,000 building upon the fair grounds at Rolsin's Mills for the joint use of the volunteers as an armory and by the Agricultural Sciety as an exhibition building; that Mr. Currie, the then candidate for a seat in Parliament, represented to those interested that this could be secured if the Township would contribute $1,000 towards the expense; that the Township of Ameliasburg agreed by resolution to provide said grant. But nothing further was ever heard of it, showing that the electors were mislead by Mr. Currie, or the Government made a promise to secure votes, which they never intended to carry out. This is but a repetition of how the country is governed, proving that no confidence can be placed in anything they do. Either this or Dr. Currie misled them. They could decide for themselves. They may fairly ask, if the Government made the promise, why did not Mr. Currie insist on its being fulfilled? Or had he no influence?

The meeting was closed with cheers for the King, Mr. R. L. Borden and the candidate, Mr. Hepburn.

JOHNNY JONES

Otteway, Aug. 22, 1911.

Dear Dad—I'm hearin' that Mr. Laurier is makin' a great start in his reciprocity show, and in explainin' the business is saying some funny thngs like—I was told that up in Simcoe where he opened his show that when he was lookin' down at the boys and girls, sed that if the boy axed the girl, and she said yes, it was a life job. Well' that's alright and that's just what people do on our side of the line—and it's correct, but you see he said again after a while that there was nothin bindin' after all about that pact that if you didn't like it you could let 'er go—that's the funny part of it. Seems as if he wasn't very sincere what he was sayin', because we never, think of gettin' divorced on this side, but they say they're very fond of it tother side and maybe the whole thing would be busted up right straight and people are beginning to think Mr. Laurier is taking on Yankee ways a little too fast and we'd better do as Borden says—Go a little slower and be sure we're getting into no trap. Your loving son,

JOHNNY JONES.

JOHNSON WON'T FAKE

Two Much at Stake for Champ to Lay Down

The story which was cabled from London regarding the charges made against Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion of the world, in which the colored pugilist is accused of having entered into a compact with a number of English speculators to mulct the public out of a cool million dollars, is still the talk of boxing circles. In some quarters the dusky scrapper is being condemned, and in others it is claimed that the conqueror of Jim Jeffries is being maligned by his enemies in London, who have taken this unfair means of besmirching his character.

It hardly seems possible that Johnson should so far forget himself as to enter into any such arrangement, as he has a comfortable fortune now, and if the contracts which he has entered into are carried out he will have enough money salted away and invested to enable him to roll high and drink bubble water for many years after he has shot his bolt as a boxer.

As every follower of pugilism knows, Johnson is one of the most egotistical champions we have ever had. He loves publicity, and to be pointed out as the champion boxer of the world means more to him than all the money which possibly could be offered to him in an effort to get him to "lay down" to a dub like Bombadier Wells. Johnson is shrewd enough to know that he will become a nonentity the minute that he is defeated.

"Nobody loves a loser," is an old saying which more than one ring idol found out to his sorrow after he had lost his cunning and the fortune amassed during the years of his success.

Johnson would find he had very few friends the minute that he lost his crown. That title is his biggest asset, and if he is whipped by Wells he cannot offer any excuses which will be taken in good faith by the sporting public. It is a case of either making good or retirisg in all lines of sports, but more partecularly does this apply to men in the fighting game.

It will be recalled that Johnson was accused of having entered into an agreement before his battle with Jeffries whereby he was to receive $200,000 to quit to the alfalfa giant; Wild rumors were afloat week before the date of the contest that it was all framed for Jeff to win.

The result of the Reno contest proved that these accusations were false, and Johnson's friends laugh at the present story, which they claim has been manufactured by some enemy of the champion in an effort to check the wave of popularity which seems to set in strongly in his direction.

BIOGRAPHIES OF FORMER BELLEVILIANS

NEILSON, ROBERT T., born in Belleville, Ont. He was a quiet child. As a boy, Robert, used to take a quiet part in all the sporting events of his day. This quietudinosu peculiarity in later life is termed reserve force. That's the way it was with Robbie, just that way—reserve force. His reserved force was so great that it was always said of him he could make his getaway from an orchard or a chivari faster and with less of a start than any other boy in town. While in his youth he became enamored of the theatre, and so it was that he placed himself under the management of one of the most astute impressari of the time. We refer, of course, to Mr. Muskie Diamond, than whom no more gallant thespian and promoter ever swiped a pie. After passing the usual stages of door-tender and pin-taker, he ascended by easy leaps to the proud position of leading man in "Diamond's Hellenic Thespidora Outfit" and appeared regularly every Saturday afternoon in that famous company's home theatre at the corner of John and Hotel streets.

As young manhood advanced, Bob became noted as a fancy and figure skater, and used to cut up quite some ice, especially with the young ladies of the community. This made him very popular, with the "gang." He was also one of the incorporators of the Belleville Quadrille Club, which used to hold forth at Dunbar's rink ,and as a cavalier at the masque balls given by that famous band of Terpsichoreans he was certainly easy to look at. It was said he had one of the most perfectly rounded male calves in Belleville. This also made a big hit with the "bunch," especially when Bod "led off" in the cotillion. You see, he was just a natural leader. It was that old reserve force all the way through. When Bob left Belleville and set out to make his fortune he frisked himself to find out what he should do.

"Here I am," said Bob, "a quiet, easy-going chap, even-tempered, good-natured, a fine skater, a swell actor, some dancer, and chock full of reserve force. Where am I at? What can I do?" And he made answer: "I can lead some. I have always been a leading man in something or other. What can I lead now?" Then he thought it over, and the more he thought the more his thoughts turned to that leading business. So he thus continued his communing with himself: "I wonder if I can't do something with that lead stuff." And this time his tongue slipped, and instead of saying "lead" he said "lead." With a glad cry he shouted "Lead! lead! that's it—the stuff they mix paint with! Me for the paint business."

And so it turned out. Bob entered the paint supply field and has remained in it ever since. At present he is Chicago representative for the biggest white lead concern in America. Bob has been a staunch and active member of the Belleville Club ever since its inception. His reserve force is greatly felt in all the deliberations at the business sessions, and, as chairman of the arrangements committee, he was a foremost part in all promotional and general matters pertaining to the organization. He is a popular member of the club and has hosts of friends within and without its fold. He is a quiet, unobtrusive, home-loving man, who makes friends wherever he goes. He is happily married to a very charming and gifted lady, who seems quite willing and pleased to let Bob continue to play leads in their permanent engagement.—Chicago Belleville" Club News.

BRITISH JOURNALISTS PLEASED WITH VISIT

Inspected Cement Works, Rolling Mills and Other Industries Whilst in the City

The British journalists, who were in the city yesterday, left last evening for the west. While in the city they visited the rolling mills, cement works and other industries, and were much pleased with their stay here.

A pleasanter, brighter or more unaffected lot of men would be impossible to assemble. They were frank and friendly. No doubt they saw here and there room for improvement ,but they had only words of admiration and eulogy for the country and the people. The only "fault I have to find with you," said Mr. C. D. Lucas, of the famous London Tit-Bits, "is that you Canadians are trying to kill us with kindness. We may not be able to get through this tour alive!"

The impression given the visitors by Canada was that of marked independence and prosperity with vast possibilities, and an intensely strong feeling of British imperialsm. These gifted gentlemen will doubtless have a story of hope, good cheer and encouragement to tell when they return to Grat Britain.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so?

The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N.Y.

AFTER THE SPIES

Special Act Proposes Severe Punishment of People Making Defence Sketches

The text of the new Official Secrets Bill, which drastically amends the Official Secrets Act of 1889 and introduces fresh and stringent precautions against espionage and attempts on railways, gas works, and electric light works in and before war, has now been published. It has been introduced in the House of Lords by Lord Haldane, Secretary for War, and is calculated to deal with such incidents as the recent alleged sketching of a Portsmouth fort by a German military officer. The first clause provides that any person who "for any purpose prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State" approaches or is in the neighborhood of any "prohibited places," makes sketches, plans, models, or notes useful to an enemy, or obtains or communicates such information, shall be guilty of felony and be liable to penal servitude for not less than three years or more than seven years. Under the Act of 1889 the offence was a misdemeanor, and the penalty was not more than one year's hard labor except where the offender was proved to have communicated the information or to have intended to communicate it to a foreign State. In that case the offence was felony, with a penalty of not less than one year's hard labor except than penal servitude for life. It is provided in the new Bill though not in the old Act, that a person can be convicted "if from the circumstances of the case or his conduct or his known character as proved, it appears that his purpose was . . . . prejudicial to the safety or interests of the State," and that such a purpose shall be presumed where a sketch is found to have been made or information to have been obtained without official sanction. The third clause is of extreme importance, as it enables a Secretary of State to extend the term "prohibited place" to "any railway, road, way, or channel, or any place used for gas, water, or electricity works," or a wide variety of other places at which an enemy might strike in the event of war. This part of the bill is not to be found in the 1889 Act, and is a new departure.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE

How It Was Proposed to Murder a Brussels Magistrate

A serious attempt to murder M. Fromes, a magistrate, by means of an infernal machine has been discovered. A packet, ostensibly containing chocolates, was sent to him by some person unknown. It was found to contain several kilogrammes of explosives, and had this exploded a catastrophe must have followed. An ingenious device had been adopted to secure explosion, and it is remarkable that the package, which was handled several times without the least precaution, did not explode. An inquiry has been opened. The outrage is attributed to motives of revenge.

STEALING WORKS OF ART

Instances of Clandestine Thefts from Italy's National Treasures

Despite the law to prevent the disposal of Italy's national art treasures, the clandestine traffic in works of art has not been stopped, although the vigilance of the authorities has done a good deal to keep such illegal sales within narrow limits. Recently the Minister of Instruction was informed that a valuable ancient cross, which had hitherto been preserved in the Church of San Francesco d'Atri, had been secretly transported by the rector to Naples, and there sold to a local dealer in antiquities. As a result of active inquiries the precious object was discovered and sequestrated just as it was about to be exported, and the clerical vendor was subsequently arrested and taken before the authorities to explain his illegal action. In another recent instance the Superintendent of Monuments at Pisa heard that an attempt was being made to remove a famous statue known as the Virgin of Agostina de Duccio from the church of the episcopal seminary of Pontremoli. With the assistance of the Sub-Prefect of Pontemoli and the local honorary Inspector of Monuments, the superintendent learned that the rector of the church had concluded a contract for the sale of the statue for $6,000, one of the conditions being that the original was to be replaced by a facsimile, in the hope that the substitute might pass unnoticed. In this case also the rector was brought before the judicial authorities.

CHRISTENING OF PETER

Son of Peter Pan and Godson of J. M. Barrie

St. Peter's Church, Broadstairs, was recently the scene of the christening of Peter, the son of Peter Pan, and godson of M. J. M. Barrie, Peter Pan's creator. Peter John Barrie Waterman was the hero of the occasion. He was born seven months ago to Miss Cecilia Loftus, who is now Mrs. Alouys Waterman, but once played Peter Pan for a season at the Duke of York's Theatre.

Police Took No Chances

The Prince of Wales and Princess Mary set out for a motor-car drive in Edinburgh recently. At the end of Princess Street their progress was barred by the lining of the route for the passage of the King and Queen. The royal chauffeur informed the police who the occupants of the car were, but, with true Scotch caution, the constables refused to allow it to pass until some city officials recognized the Prince and Princess.

OBJECTED TO THE GAZERS

The Platform Had to be Cleared Before the Begum of Bhopal Came Out

The Begum of Bhopal, who arrived at Geneva from Paris, accompanied by a suite of twenty-six persons, caused an anxious time at the station by refusing to leave the coach until the platforms had been cleared of the curious crowd. She also refused to see the local authorities. In the meantime other trains were due, and had to be stopped by signals. Finally the platforms were cleared, and the Begum, with her party, started for their hotel in motor cars.

THE LEAP OF DEATH

Young Railway Man Was Carried Down a Swiss Torrent

Four employees of the Swiss railway were bathing in the Frodalunga torrent, when a fireman, named Mergenthaler, was caught in a current and carried over a cascade, being hurled into space over the precipice called the Salto Morte, a leap of death, about 1,000 feet high. Ten years ago an Englishman met with a similar accident there.

A BOGUS BISHOP

A Cattle Dealer Claimed He Was the Bishop of Nazareth

Several monasteries and a nunnery in South Germany have been neatly swindled by two persons of ascetic appearance describing themselves as the Syro-Chaldaic Bishop of Nazareth and his chaplain. The sham Bishop received numerous offerings for masses and for good work in his diocese. He permitted himself, despite his asceticism, to be very hospitably entertained. At the Convent in Mendelheim he found the cooking particularly good and remained eight days. At length, while he was staying at the Beuren Monastery, favored by the Kaiser, the bogus Bishop aroused suspicions. The police were called in, and soon established his identity as a cattle-dealer who became a deacon, and, on being discharged, a commercial traveller.

LACK OF CHAUFFEURS

The chairman of a motor cab company in London says they have 700 cabs not in use, simply because they cannot get chauffeurs to drive them.

27 ARE DEAD IN LEHIGH WRECK

The Company Say 33—Two More Deaths Occurred During the Night

(Intelligencer Special.)

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Aug. 26.—The figures this morning place the number if those who perished in the Manchester wreck at twenty-seven, although the Lehigh Company's statement says thirty-three. Two victims died during the night, an unidentified woman and W. P. Rundle, an eastern Pennsylvania man. The work of identification is progressing slowly, and will not be completed today.

Of seventy-four persons injured, seventeen are in a serious condition, and at least six will die.

STEAMER WRECKED

(Intelligencer Special.)

NEW ORLEAN, La., Aug. 26.—The steamer Alice, carrying officials of the United Fruit Co., is reported to be wrecked off the coast of Nicaragua. She struck a reef during the night.

WAS NO MYSTERY

(Intelligencer Special.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The manager of the Waldorf hotel attaches no mystery to the disappearance of J. S. Irvin, of Ottawa. He says Irvin left the hotel on Thursday and requested that his room be held for him.

GLOBE GIRDLER WINS

(Intelligencer Special.)

PARIS, France, Aug. 26.—Andre Jaeger-Schmidt completed his globe-girdling dash at 9 o'clock this morning, setting a record of thirty-nine days, 19 hours, 43 minutes and 37 4-5 seconds from the time he left the office until he reached it again. He had agreed to make the trip in 40 days. He landed in Cherbourg last night in a fast motor boat from the Olympic, and completed the journey in an automobile. He was four days ahead of his schedule in Vancouver.

BELLEVILLE MAN GOT A KINGSTON BRIDE

On Thursday afternoon the Methodist parsonage, Queen Street, at Kingston, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when the Rev. Mr. Sellery united in marriage Miss Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Clarke, of that city, to Mr. Walter Waldron, of Belleville. The bride, who looked very sweet in her gown of white silk mull, was assisted by Miss Annie Waldron, sister of the groom. Mr. Arthur Clarke, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

After the ceremony the young couple returned to the home of the bride's father, 64 Patrick street, where a dainty supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Waldron left in the evening for Ottawa and other points. They will return shortly, however, and the bride will receive at her father's home on Monday evening, August 28th. The happy couple will leave on Tuesday for their new home in Belleville.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents which went to show the esteem in which she is held by her many friends.

REAL CANADIAN MARBLE

The interior decoration of the new Standard Bank building, on the corner of Jordan and King streets, Toronto, is of Canadian marble from the quarries at Bancroft, Ontario. You did not know that Ontario produced marble the equal of the Italian. But it does.—Toronto World.

HARMLESS RUNAWAY

Yesterday afternoon a team of horses attached to a hearse were at the Belleville cemetery, and realizing they were not secured, off they started and ran to the city. They were not stopped until they reached the hill near Bridge Street Church. No damage was fortunately done to the hearse. Another horse became frightened on Bridge Street West and off it started, but was caught before any particular damage was done.

CIRCLING THE WORLD

The city this afternoon was invaded by a man and his wife, namely Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humphrey, who are on a walking tour around the world for a wager of $10,000. They left New York City on July 22nd, travelling by way of Albany, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls to Canada. They will proceed eastward from here to the Atlantic seaboard, where they will board a steamer to the old land and then resume their pilgrimage through various countries.

A CORRECTION

Two important words were left out of Mr. Young's speech at the Consecon meeting. In the paragraph in which he refers to President Taft and the Tammany Hall grafters, he is made to say that if the proposed treaty was adopted it would "end in annexation." It should have read "they said," the President and others, it would "end in annexation." Mr. Young does not want, we are sure, to be held responsible for Taft's opinions upon that subject.

DEATHS.

PANTER—Died at Belleville, on Friday, August 25th, 1911, Ada Annie Panter, eldest daughter of Mr. John Panter.

The funeral will take place from her father's residence, Murney Street, on Monday, Aug. 28th, at 3 p.m. Interment at Belleville Cemetery. a25d2t

WEDDED AT TORONTO

At noon on Thursday a quiet wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Epiphany, Parkdale, when Miss Phoebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffin, of Milverton, was united in marriage to Mr. William A. Cunnington, of Toronto. Rev. Canon Bryan, rector, officiated. The bride wore a tailored gown of mustard cloth, with hat to match. On their return from a trip down the St. Lawrence they will take up their residence at the Wilsonia Apartments, Parkdale.

BALLASTING THE C. N. R.

During the past few days ballasting has been going on rapidly on the line of the C.N.O.R. in West Belleville, near the approach to the company's bridge across the river. It is confidently expected that in the early part of next week the steel frame work will be placed upon the piers, followed by the laying of the rails. A number of employees are at present at work on the line of construction within the city limits.

A VERY LARGE FUNERAL

Yesterday afternoon one of the largest funerals ever seen in Rawdon Township took place when the remains of the late Mr. James Whitton were consigned to the tomb. The obsequies were under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, of which deceased was a member, and a large number of the craft attended. The cortege, which was exceptionally large, proceeded to the Methodist Church at Wellman's Corners, where an impressive service was conducted by Rev. Mr. McConnell. Hundreds were unable to get into the church, which was soon filled to overflowing. The casket was completely covered with many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were members of the Masonic society, namely, Bros. M. Bird, J. McComb, F. McKee, A. McMullen, T. Matthews and J. Snarr.

DWELLING DESTROYED

Mr. R. D. Anderson, who resides at Turiff in the northern part of the county suffered a serious loss on Sunday morning when his dwelling was entirely destroyed by fire. It came from the kitchen stove, in which a fire had been kindled by the early risers, who went to milk. Mr. Anderson and his youngest daughter had narrow escapes. Very few of the contents were saved. There was some insurance on the house but none on the contents. He will commence re-building after the harvest is over.

READY IN SIX WEEKS

On Thursday a party of officials of the C. N. R. made an inspection of the new Toronto-Trenton branch, 105 miles in length. This line will not be ready for service for six weeks. The rails parallel those of the G. T. R. from Port Hope. The district traversed comprises Malvern, Brooklin, North Oshawa, North Bowmanville, Orono, Starkville, Brighton and Trenton and along the route are many steel bridges several hundred in length and from 60 to 100 feet high.

MARKET PRICES ARE AWAY UP

Pork Somewhat Higher—Potatoes are Selling at Famine Prices

The market to-day was one of the largest that has been held here for some time. Large quantities of farm and garden produce were offered for sale, but there was by no means a decline in prices, which as usual, were high.

Butter was not as plentiful a commidity as other articles, and in consequence was soon picked up. It sold at 28c. to 30c. per pound.

Fresh eggs, while plentiful, sold in basket lots at 18c. and 19c., and 20c. per dozen.

Dressed chickens sold at 75c. to $1.50 per pair, and broilers sold at 50c. to 80c. per pair.

Potatoes are a very scarce article and sold as high as 60 cents per peck. In a few cases only 55c. was charged.

Tomatoes sold at $1.10 and $1.20 per bushel.

During the week the hog market has showed an upward tendency, as high as $7.40 per hundred weight being paid for first class porkers.

There are no changes to note in prices of grain or hides.

CURRENT COMMENT

Aviator Atwood can make his aeroplane fly at a pretty rapid pace, but not nearly as fast as Dave Sinclair can shoot political hot air.

Report that Mr. D. V. Sinclair would accept the Grit nomination for West Hastings on Tuesday next, can hardly be true. Dave is too sensible a man, we think, to neglect his business for a forlorn hope. Cut it, Dave!

That Maine lumberjack, who awakened and found he was sleeping with a bear, instead of jumping into the papers about it should have been thankful he wasn't sleeping with a wife who wanted a Persian lamb coat and couldn't have it.

A gentleman who has just returned from St. John, New Brunswick, where he passed his holidays, informs us that, in many conversations held with residents of that city, he found only two who favored the pact. This fact seems to foreshadow the defeat of the Hon. Wm. Pugsley, of sawdust wharf notoriety.

The Toronto Globe and Toronto Star are constantly denouncing Bourassa for advocating what is called Nationalism. What have these journals said in condemnation of William Lyon Mackenzie King's appeal to the German voters in Waterloo to vote against Borden on the ground that Mr. Borden advocated a policy of assistance to England in her navy armament in case of war with Germany? Nothing!

Sir Wilfrid startled his audience at St. Jerome, Que., by announcing that, if defeated in the coming elections, he would retire at once and forever from public life, and would not lead the Opposition in the next Parliament.

"Rest to me is very sweet now," said the Premier, "and if defeated not a word of reproach will pass my lips." Sir Wilfrid stated that if he was twenty years younger he would continue in Parliamentary life regardless as to whether Liberals or Conservatives gained the victory; but, that at his age, he considered that he had earned a rest. Sir Wilfrid right down in his heart knows that the Fielding-Paterson pact is rotten and he looks for defeat.

The Toronto Globe has a capital letter heading declaring that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy denies the story of the C. P. R. directors' campaign. Immediately under this flaring heading is what Sir Thomas said:

Montreal, Aug. 23.—When interviewed to-night regarding a report from Washington that several C. P. R. directors were about to start on a secret campaign against reciprocity Sir Thomas Shaughnessy made the following statement:

"Accompanied by three or four directors, I am leaving to-morrow on the regular annual inspection trip over our lines between Montreal and the Pacific coast. Fully occupied as we shall be with other matters, I regret exceedingly that we shall have no time to give to politics."

NO OPPOSITION TO W. M. GERMAN

Welland Liberals Give Him Free Pass and Conservative Drops Out

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 25.—As a result of the action of the County Liberal Association at its convention this afternoon, in deciding not to bring out a candidate, W. M. German, representative in the last Parliament, who opposed the reciprocity pact from the day it was first announced, will be elected by acclamation. Wm. Munro, Conservative nominee, dropped out yesterday and to-day the Liberals gave Mr. German a free pass for Sept. 21st.

Statements are being made that the business of to-day's convention was irregularly proceeded with and there are threats that another convention will be called, but it is unlikely that anything further will be heard of the matter. A large committee of division chairmen retired and afterwards brought in a report recommending that no nomination be made. This was loudly cheered by the convention, and D. B. White, who occupied the chair, declared it carried, although no vote was taken. About 50 delegates remained in the assembly room and protested loudly against the decision of the chair. The Pelham contingent at once set to work for calling a meeting to-morrow night, when they will consider calling another convention.

Mr. German was the first speaker after the convention opened. He said he appeared before the convention as a candidate in the approaching elections. "I announced myself in the newspapers as opposed to reciprocity," he said, "and I stand on the contents of that statement today. I am pleased to see that there will be no contest between myself and a Conservative candidate, and if there is a contest, it must be between myself and another Liberal."

Here the speaker read a letter from the president of the Conservative Association, saying that Wm. Munro had decided not to stand as a candidate in the coming elections.

Opposed to Reciprocity.

Resuming, Mr. German averred that he was still strongly opposed to reciprocity.

"It has been said that I am going back on my Liberal friends. Not so. Every man in the British Empire has a right to his own opinion and no man is a slave to other people's opinions." (Hear, hear). "Outside of reciprocity, I will support the Government in all its measures."

Hon. Richard Harcourt, who followed Mr. German on the platform, said the party was in a rather embarrassed and critical condition, and that Mr. German was the responsible party. He said: "What we want to do is to save the Liberal ship, which just now is being battered by the waves, deserted by her captain. We must firmly anchor her and sail triumphantly into the harbor with a cargo of reciprocity."

Mr. German again took the platform and said:—

"I regret that the convention has placed me in such a position and that it could not endorse my candidature. I am proud, though, to find that this gigantic gathering of the Liberal party is still sufficiently behind me as to put up no candidate in opposition. I am conscientiously opposed to the reciprocity agreement, but you have not stultified yourselves by endorsing me. I have always striven to be your representative and not a mere figurehead."

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

Cholera Morbus

The first thing to be done is to check the diarrhoea. This can be affected beyond all peradventure, by administering frequent doses of the Ready Relief internally, and applying it externally, with friction, as vigorous as the patient can bear, to the whole surface of the abdomen and to the spine. The patient must be kept in a horizontal position.

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

"Call me Alex, if you'd just as soon, Miss Wheeler. I have a parent, and he's Mr. Grant. Above all nuisances I dislike formalities."

"Well—'Alex,' then, if that will suit you any better," she replied, saucily. "But please tell me all about John, and don't leave out one sentence."

Then he told her how John had commenced as an ordinary errand boy, risen to lumber-measurer, been taken into the office as junior clerk, worked himself up step by step, until he had reached the position of head clerk through sheer merit, and been given control of the large office and yard force. His sympathies were with the employees, who, although liberally paid, suffered at times unjustly, from over-drawn discipline established by the head of the firm. John had frequently attempted to lighten the yoke, and held several sessions with his fathtr in the interest of the men, who, he claimed, would work more freely, and take greater interest if treated more considerately; but to no purpose. The rules of the past were sufficient tor the future, and no change would be made. John himself had suffered loss through no fault of his own, and finally, when an unjust deduction was made in his own salary, he resigned and left the city, willing to rough it rather than be a party to such tyranny. From that day to the present he had not been heard from.

"And John, my John, preferred the life of a wanderer rather than be a part of such a system. He has cast aside the fortune that is his by right that he might be free in his own conscience?" said Alice, her sweet face glowing with love and pride.

"That is about the extent of it, to say nothing of the weary tramp I've undergone through lumber yards and logging camps, swamps and marshes in search of his lordship. John Grant and I will have a summing-up when I find him, and it won't be with the pipe of peace, either," said Alex, with his usual spirit. "I'm going to buy a policeman's kit; I'll handcuff him; I'll shackle him, and lead him in humility and disgrace to his broken-hearted father."

"You must find him, Alex Grant, and bring him to me," commanded Alice, warningly.

"But Uncle Robert commands that I stand the culprit before him," laughed Grant. "Perhaps it might be well to follow King Solomon's suggestion and 'split him in halves.'"

"I have a higher title on the grounds of a promised wife," persisted Alice.

"And Uncle Robert will levy a replevin on the plea of wrongfully retaining property. He held possession before you ever knew there was such a person as John Grant."

"Cannot we compromise?" she suggested, laughing—willing to effect a settlement.

"We might," answered Grant, gravely. "I intend to tax Uncle Robert one hundred thousand dollars for finding his son. I'll deliver him to you for fifty thousand, and——"

"You may make it cash on delivery," she put in.

"And then I'll present you both to Uncle Robert and collect fifty thousand on you as one of the matched colts. Later I'll sail for Europe and enjoy a long vacation on the proceeds."

"Will you go by way of Alabama and take your bride with you?"

Alex looked at her, and Alice, who was lighter of heart than she had been for weeks, gave way to a ripple of laughter.

"Were you a listener last evening?"

"Oh, no; but I found two California papers in the sitting-room this morning. They contained a very interesting account of a scene in a San Francisco hotel. You must be a horrid fighter, Alex Grant," but her twinkling eyes gave evidence of a far different opinion.

"My birth and nature call for a free and easy experience wherever I go, without interference from swindlers and blackmailers."

"There is no doubt of your freedom—with your fists. But I question your being very easy," added Alice, looking admiringly at his perfect form.

"Miss Whiting was a charming young woman, alone in a strange city. I would not allow her character to be smirched by a villain."

"All which she doubtless appreciated, and loved you the more," said the young lady mischievously. "No doubt an extended visit to her home would be highly pleasing to—to you both."

"Shall I start before finding John?"

"Indeed you shall not. I will see that you and Dennis are packed off at the end of your week's rest. Not even a trip to your lady-love shall cause a delay in the search."

A light rap sounded on the door, and Mrs. Wheeler's voice asked.

"May I come in?"

"Yes, indeed, Mother, we shall be glad of your company," answered Alice, hastily opening the door.

"Alex has been telling me all about John, whose name is not Graham at all, but Grant. I am so glad for this interview, Mother, for it has put my heart at rest. Alex is sure John will return or come back with him."

"It is all so strange," said Mrs. Wheeler, greatly pleased at the change in her daughter's spirits. "Had we only known who he was it might have been so different. Yet I admire him the more for his exhibition of true, humane principle. I am sure it will end happily for all concerned."

"Heaven grant that it may," said Alex earnestly.

A laughing cry from Miss Wheeler, who was looking through the window, drew the attention of her companions.

"That everlasting speckled broncho will cause father trouble yet. See him racing across the pasture trying to reach those two Indians who are coming peacefully down the road. There is something peculiar about that animal's disposition. He is quite tractable with white people, but an Indian he despises. This is his third exhibition of antipahy to the copper-skinned race."

Alex could but laugh at the attitude of the pinto, a rangy animal possessing remarkable speed, but lacking equine beauty. His ears were laid back, his mouth was wide open, and he was making frantic efforts to clear the high fence, his failure to accomplish the feat alone saving the Indians from bodily harm.

"My husband took him in trade some months ago," explained Mrs. Wheeler. "He is a fine saddle beast and Alice thought she had a treasure until he carried her at terrific speed through the business portion of our town in a chase with two mounted Indians, who only escaped by springing from their ponies and seeking refuge in a barn. Many of them know the broncho, and call him the 'speckled devil.' Mr. Wheeler has tried to get rid of him, but it is impossible. His reputation is too well known."

"I will buy him, Mrs. Wheeler," said Alex. "If Duffy and I should have a disagreement with the Indians on our trail he might prove of great assistance. I would rather fight ten Indians than a vicious horse."

"I have no doubt my husband will gladly give him to you," she replied.

(To be continued)

WHAT WE HAVE WE SHOULD HOLD

The Bulk of Canada's Natural Products Consumed at Home—Why Sacrifice a Reality for an Uncertainty?

Can the farmers of Canada afford to risk the breaking up of their home market? The market of the United States is in the hands of big and powerful trusts, who fix prices with little regard to the interest or wishes of consumer or producer. What will be the effect of taking down the tariff fence and permitting those trusts to extend their sphere of influence over Canada? Let us look into this thing and see what the home market means to the Canadian farmer. Of $289,000,000 of Canada's largest and most easily shipped crops in 1909, the whole outside world took less than $85,000,000 worth. The home market consumed over two hundred and four million dollars' worth of grain more than we sold to all the rest of the world.

Now let us look at the conditions as to root crops. The home market consumed $53,500,000 worth, and the rest of the world bought $1,069,637 worth of our principal root crop, such as is used in every home.

Hay is another of our big crops, and one which is always in demand. In 1909, Canada raised 11,877,100 tons, valued at $131,644,000 worth, while the rest of the world bought from us 55,884 tons, or something over $600,000 worth.

What about live stock? The official returns show that Canada had, in 1909, $278,789,000 worth of horses and exported $367,256 worth. Indeed, we imported $941,767 worth. Our horned cattle, other than milch cows, in 1909, were valued at $126,326,000, and we only exported a shade over $10,000,000 worth. Of $34,368,000 worth of swine raised we only exported $4,000 worth. Of $15,735,000 worth of sheep raised we exported but $500,000 worth.

Absent-minded beggar, our eloquent Prime Minister. He forgot to say a word about the Oliver charges at Simcoe.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 25.—The market opened heavy, ¼c to ½c decline, and following the opening further declined. Advices from Russia were bullish, with rains in the southwest further delaying harvesting and expectations are for light Russian shipments this week, and prospects for a small Russian movement from the new crop. Argentine and Australian offerings are firmly held, and the political situation is again causing some apprehension. Pressure in the face of these bullish influences was attributed wholly to the fact that the strike at Liverpool is ended, releasing stocks at the quays.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Dread of frost damaging wheat in the Canadian Northwest to-night brought about a rally to-day in the market here. Closing prices were at a net advance of a shade to ⅜c. Corn and oats finished within a sixteenth of last night's level.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—There was an increased enquiry from European sources for Manitoba new crop spring wheat and old crop oats, but as the prices bid are still out of line with values here, no new business is being done. Local prices for oats are firm, and the demand is fair. A sale of 75,000 bushels of American No. 2 mixed corn was made at 3¼c per bushel over the Chicago September option c.i.f. Kingston. A more active trade was done in spring wheat flour for export demand. Sales of over 10,000 sacks were made. The demand for bran and shorts is good.

Owing to the increased demand for eggs prices have scored a sharp advance. Butter is active and strong under a good demand for export account, and prices have advanced. Cheese is also strong and higher in sympathy with the higher prices paid in the country.

Cheese Markets.

CORNWALL, Aug. 25.—(Special.)—The offerings on the Cornwall cheese board this afternoon were 277 white and 1089 colored, a total of 1366. The white sold at 13¾c, and the colored at 13 5-16c. This is a record price for the district, and has never been equaled for August cheese in Canada.

NAPANEE, Aug. 25.—The cheese board here to-day sold 410 white and 570 colored at 13¾c.

PERTH, Aug. 25.—There were 1000 boxes of cheese here to-day, 500 colored and 500 white. All were sold, ruling prices being 13¾c to 13 5-16c.

PICTON, Aug. 25.—At our cheese board to-day 20 factories boarded 494 boxes, all colored, 85 selling at 13 5-16c and 609 at 13¾c.

Reciprocity With Indies.

London, Aug. 26. Algernon Aspinall secretary of the West Indian Committee, proposes shortly visiting Canadian cities, with a view to furthering reciprocity with the West Indian Islands. It is hoped that after the elections, the Canadian Manufacturers Association will summon a conference anent this.

Suicides on Brother's Grave.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Aug. 26.—While passing through St. Mary's cemetery about 6.30 yesterday morning, a workman discovered the body of Thomas Roche, a bartender of this city, lying dead on the grave of his brother, who was buried there recently. A revolver was on the ground nearby.

Set Fire to Barn.

Kingson, Aug. 26.—A little boy with a cigarette came very near being the cause of a serious fire on Wolfe Island yesterday afternoon. He had been smoking and threw the butt of his cigarette in a hay stack at the farm of Oliver Hawkins. The stack, which was destroyed, set fire to the barn, and neighboring farmers had a hard time in saving it.

Canada's Future

"The nineteenth century belonged to the United States, the twentieth will belong to Canada." This is a saying that has become familiar to us during recent years, and there is every assurance that the promise of the prophecy will be fulfilled if Canada is left to work out her own destiny. There has never in the history of the world been a record of material progress equal to that of the United States during the last fifty or sixty years. This abnormal expansion began with the opening of their western lands and with the depletion of their natural resources. They are now in sight of the end of this phase of their development. We in Canada on the other hand, are just at the beginning of a similar expansion. The same causes which produced the phenomenal growth in the States are now in operation in Canada and there is nothing in the natural course of events which can prevent our attaining a similar growth if we are let alone and the prize not snatched from us by meddlesome politicians at the moment of victory. It is absolutely inevitable that with our natural resources, we shall grow to be one of the most prosperous countries in the world. This was foreseen by Sir John A. Macdonald and his confreres when they framed the national policy. It was this certainty which prompted men like Lord Strathcona to lay the foundation of our great transcontinental railway system. These men realized this fact thirty odd years ago at a time when the statement of it would have raised a smile of incredulity among the general public and it is only now that the truth of the matter is being realized by the ordinary man. If this be so. If these great possibilities are capable of being made actualities by the material development of this country is it reasonable to suppose that at the time when the realization of these hopes has already begun Canada should become fainthearted, abandon her destiny and fling the fruit for which her sons have so long struggled into the lap of the American Trust Monger? Any one who would suggest such a thing need have some overwhelming argument to justify so preposterous a proposal. Yet this is what the Laurier Government is asking the people of Canada to do and the only serious reason given for this most astounding request is the fairy tale of the 90,000,000 market. This fallacy has already been so thoroughly exploded that it seems almost superfluous to refer further to it; suffice it, therefore, to say, that if the United States market were like the Newmarket Canal—empty—there might be some force in the "new market for wheat" argument. But unlike the Newmarket Canal the American wheat market is already overflowing and emptying our surplus into it would simply mean that it would go to the same destination as now by another route. Everyone who has the most superficial knowledge of the subject knows that the price of wheat is not fixed in Chicago, but in Liverpool, and the 90,000,000 market argument is an insult to the intelligence of Canadians. But the Government, we believe, finds that the Canadian voter is like the man from Missouri. He must be shown. It would almost seem as if the Government (discredited as it must be in the mind of every honest man not wholly blinded by party prejudice), it would almost seem as if the Government were offering this tinsel to the electorate for the express purpose of diverting its mind from the mass of scandal which has become synonymous with the Laurier Government from the Marine Department, the Printing Bureau, the Quebec Bridge, the G. T. R. and the other unpleasant episodes connected with the administration of the present Government. It would seem as if the Government had said in its heart, we must do something, create some new issue, drag some herring across the trail, for our offence is so rank it smells to heaven," and so they hit upon the idea of handing over the promise of the country's fair future to be the sport of the American Trust Monger. Truly a brilliant solution of a desperate priblem. And if these men should succeed in this design what of the twentieth century for Canada? Bartered to keep a rotten Government in power for a few more wretched years. Will the men of Canada allow these things to be?

Mr. Richard McCallum

A well-known citizen of Stirling, Ont., cured of Chronic Catarrh and irritable throat by CatarrHozone.

A remarkable case exciting great interest in Stirling, which, if possible, adds to the popularity of Catarrhozone as a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis and Throat Trouble.

Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable and at the same time hardest to cure diseases. This has been Mr. McCallum's experience.

"For many years," he writes, "I have suffered from Catarrh, and continually hawked and coughed, so that my throat was always in an inflamed irritable condition.

"Doctors' medicine did not help me in the least, and all other remedies I used were quite useless. In one case it was time wasted in snuffing powder up the nose; in another using a greasy ointment, and so on. Not one of them was the least bit good.

"I heard Catarrhozone favorably spoken of and tried a sample, and it really benefited me more in a few hours than years of treatment with doctors' and other so called remedies.

"Receiving such immense benefit from the sample size, I got the complete outfit, large Hard Rubber Inhaler, etc., and but a few weeks of its use completely cured me of Catarrh and throat trouble.

"I recommend Catarrhozone as the most satisfactory Catarrh remedy on the market. Every word said about it is true.

(Signed) "Richard McCallum"

Now perhaps you need a remedy like Catarrhozone. It is the only treatment that is applied locally as well as constitutionally. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops hawking and spitting, and purifies the breath.

The Ferrozone Tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler, drive all the poisons from the blood and build up the system to a healthy, vigorous condition.

The complete outfit costs $1, at all druggists; trial size 50c. Sold by all dealers.

Everyone who diets often says, wearily, "Dieting does no good." But as a matter of fact it does.

My idea of a really prominent citizen of a town is one who does not want to be postmaster.

DEAF AND DUMB WEDDING

How the Minister Proceeded With the Ceremony In England

By means of the sign language for the deaf and dumb a wedding has been solemnized in the cathedral at St. Albans, Herts. The bridegroom was William Thorpe, who is hopelessly deaf and cannot speak very distinctly, and the bride was Lily Broughall, who is both deaf and dumb. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. Gilbey, of St. Saviour's Church for the Deaf and Dumb. The bridegroom is a tailor and also a skilled French polished. His bride is a clever dressmaker. The whole of the prayer-book service was read by Mr. Gilbey, who translated the words into the finger sign language. He delivered the charge very slowly, first saying a sentence and then repeating it in finger movements. When the time came for the couple to reply, "I will," the bridegroom uttered words indistinctly and the bride nodded and made finger signs. The bridegroom repeated his marriage vow, and the clergyman spelt out the words on his fingers to the bride, who had to repeat the vows on her fingers. Upon placing the ring on the bride's finger the bridegroom, by finger signs, repeated the explanatory office with the bride nodding and smiling. After the ceremony the register was signed by bride and bridegroom, who left the cathedral to receive the congratulations of their friends. This is the first wedding of its kind that has taken place in St. Albans Cathedral during the past forty years.

THE GUILLOTINE IN PARIS

They Who Murdered Baker Girls Are to Pay the Penalty

The guillotine has been requisitioned again in Paris for the execution of a murderer. The execution took place at Vitry le François, where a man called Deviot paid the death penalty for the murder of a baker girl, Antoinette Ketter, near Vitry. By a curious coincidence another man, named Philippo, is to be executed at Saint Mihiel for the murder of two baker girls, on which account he was described as "L'Assassin des Boulangeres." Both men seem to have thought that baker girls, after they had collected money from their customers, were good quarry. In one case one of the murderers found a sum of $400 in the possession of the murdered girl. Deviot, after committing this crime, fled to Rouen, where he was captured and tried. He applied to the President of the Republic for a reprieve, but this was not granted.

Dignity is what some people stand on when they are shot.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.

New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYROUX, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

INCIDENT AT BISLEY

Three Royal Engineers In an Army Balloon Had a Narrow Escape

A thrilling incident was witnessed at Bisley where three men had a narrow escape from being shot to death. A party of three Royal Engineers—Sergeant Squire, in charge, Sergeant Barnes, and Corporal Sewell—left Aldershot in an army balloon at 5.30 on a free run. They arrived at Bisley at 6.10, and came down within a short distance of the Pirbright range, and bumped along for about 150 yards, finally landing within forty yards of the Stickledown butts, where firing was in progress. The balloon came down with a rush from a height of 4,000 feet, and had it not been for the presence of mind displayed by Sergeant Squires, who clung to a tree, a fatal termination to the incident would without doubt have occurred. There were about forty pounds of ballast in the car when it ascended, an amount inadequate for the number of men carried.

WARD OFF HAIL STORMS

Elaborate Wire Arrangement to be Placed on Eiffel Tower

With the object of safeguarding Paris from the ravages of hailstorms an immense protection against hail is to be erected on the summit of the Eiffel Tower. It is claimed that the elaborate wire arrangement will dispel the electrical influences producing hail. Should the apparatus prove effective two more will be installed on the Pantheon and Montmartre. It is estimated that the losses of French farmers every year by hailstorms amounts to not less than $30,000,000.

BY THE SUN'S RAYS

Popular Belief as to the Origin of a Fire In Surrey

A fire, believed to have been caused by the sun's rays, broke out on Nicham Common, Surrey, about one hundred yards to the south-east of the Blue House Bridge. Owing to the parched condition of the gorse and undergrowth, the flames spread with great rapidity, and in a very short time there was a line of fire a quarter of a mile in length.

WEATHER IN WEST IS SLOW AND CROPS IN THE BALANCE

Grain Ripens Slowly Because of Rain and Cold—People Talk Politics as a Pastime—Anti-reciprocity Feeling Spreading in Northern Saskatchewan—Saskatoon Will Give a Large Majority Against the Pact—Efforts Making to Spread Mixed Farming

(Special correspondence to The Toronto News and The Intelligencer)

SASKATOON, Aug. 15.—The crops are still in the balance, and on all sides one hears expressions of impatience over the slowness of the weather. Much alarm has been caused through the district west and south of Saskatoon by the heavy storm which swept over the country last Sunday night. I was at Regina when the sound of hailstones hitting the windows and roofs of the dwelling houses and churches on Sunday evening came like a death kneil to those dependent on the outcome of the crops. The hail did not amount to much, however, and the only damaging influence was the heavy wind and rain, which beat down many an acre of heavy grain. It is just a question whether any portion of this will rise again and be ripened by the harvesting time. On the road north from Regina to Saskatoon, evidences of the storm were plainly visible as far as Lumsden. The greater part of the fertile Lumsden district, however, was untouched, and for a radius of ten miles about Saskatoon the crops never looked more luxuriant. The continuous rain of the past three days, however, has stood in the way of the last ripening touches to the wheat and oats. As I motored through the country about Saskatoon to-day, the wheat looked as if two more days of hot weather would complete the maturing process. The straw was dead fully half way up the stalk and the green color of the heads was fading into a sickly yellow, just bordering in many places on the golden shade. At the very latest, wheat in this northern part of Saskatchewan where the crop is no heavier in all the West, will be in the harvester's hands on August 21st.

While the wet weather prevents activities on the farm, the mind of the people seeks politics as a pastime, and arguments and extemporaneous speeches are encountered everywhere. In Saskatoon district, at the last election, Mr. McCraney, Liberal, won his seat by over a thousand majority, the most of which came from this town. This campaign has a different kind of prospect for Mr. McCraney. Donald MacLean, a popular young lawyer, a "blue-noser" by the way, has been chosen by the Conservatives to oppose the present member, and it is generally conceded here that Mr. MacLean will receive an overwhelming majority from the City of Saskatoon. Many farmers, too, will support him in the surrounding district. There is a strong anti-reciprocity element in this city, and the proportion of the adjacent rural population in favor of the agreement has greatly diminished in the last two months. Wherever educational work has been done, and there has not been a great deal of it done in Saskatchewan either, opinion has changed in a remarkable degree against reciprocity. This fact was demonstrated at a public meeting held here last night, at which more than one farmer voiced his sentiments as opposed to the proposals framed byth e Laurier Government.

As the manager of the Bank of Montreal here expressed himself to me, "the people who have thought seriously about the consistent growth and development of our West are distinctly opposed to free trade in any form with the United States." A fertile, black, rich soil extending for miles has induced a system of farming along lines of least resistance, which the agricultural authorities in Saskatchewan deprecate and which in every way they are trying to counteract. Wheat at the rate of twenty-five bushels per acre is the prize in the eyes of the younger Western farmers, and the task of creating an interest in other kinds of agriculture is a stupendous one for the agricultural missionary, who is trying to demonstrate the real possibilities of Western Canada. Reciprocity, which really asks the Western pairie land to go on producing wheat to the very end of its days, favors extravagance, and depletion in a virgin country, and opposes the basic principles of conservation and nationality, for which the patriotic Canadian husbandman is so ardently striving. As you get off one of the trains running into Saskatoon, a neat little office building surrounded by a mass of blooming flowers, attracts the prairie worn traveller at once. It is the Board of Trade's headquarters, but at this place the trade commissioner happens to be an agricultural expert, and besides being the official source of information for the city, he has also the welfare of the entire West at heart; an unusual trait in an industrial commissioner in the average Western town. Mr. Sclanders, however, in the little plot of ground at his disposal, has developed samples of clover, timothy, alfalfa, including the rare Siberian variety, and corn. Here, the new Western farmer sees as soon as he touches the depot platform that he can grow other produce besides wheat, and as a rule he is urged to do so. In such ways as this, the greatest things are being accomplished for the prairie country, and wherever these practical demonstrations are being made, as at the Saskatoon station house, one finds a prevailing disposition against reciprocity.

The labor question comes very close to this city and the adjoining country. One-third of the men required to harvest the crops in Saskatchewan is centred in the Saskatoon district, and with the further extension of the town area each year the people see the labor problem looming up in a most unfavorable light. This year there will be no trouble because men are already with the farmers in large numbers. In a few years, however, it will be necessary to plan early in the season for harvest help from Europe, and to aid in that future movement this district in Saskatchewan will be in particular need of the Hudson's Bay Railroad. The building of this line is a live issue in the northern regions, and the emphasis laid upon it by Mr. Borden during his visit here is helping the Conservative candidate considerablys in their present campaign.

A BOGUS PEER

He Wormed His Way Into the Good Graces of Lord Dunsany

All Dublin is laughing at the exploits of a clever Dublin swindler, a well-dressed young man, who arrived in the village of Dunslaughlin, County Meath, on an old bicycle, explaining his rusty mount by saying that his motor-car had broken down, and represented himself to be a well-known doctor. An attempt to borrow a local doctor's motor-car failed, but he secured, without paying, food at a hotel, and victimized several of the villagers. Then he made his way to the residence of Lord Dunsany, the well-known literary peer, and announcing himself as "Lord Clifford," won the confidence of the servants—a gamekeeper obligingly advanced the guest $10 to see him through the evening. Finally, after an enjoyable stay, "Lord Clifford" asked that Lord Dunsany's motor-car should be brought round to take him into Dublin. The car came round, and the guest was driven to the Phoenix Park gates.

LONDON COACHES

New Company to Take Tourists Over South of England Roads

When Alfred Vanderbilt some seasons ago began to run his now famous coaches between London and Brighton, he probably did not imagine that these trips revealed to a number of Londoners the wonderful beauty of the country between this city and the south coast of England, and that as a result coaching would reach a popularity which former generations, that merely used the stage coaches because there was no other way of travelling, had never dreamed of.

Still, this is really so. More coaches will soon be travelling along English roads than ever before for a company has been formed, which is even now building motor coaches, which within a week or two will be making daily trips between Piccadilly Circus, Dover, Brighton and other well-known seaside resorts. The coaches are to be a delight to the eye. They will be built on the lines of the old stage coaches, but it is intended that they shall be eminently utilitarian. It will be a part of the scheme of the company to place its facilities at the disposal of the post office for parcel-carrying purposes, and also to devote ten per cent. of its profits, in return for certain facilities, to the towns through which the coaches pass. The usefulness of the scheme has been amply proved in the case of the motor service linking up the seaside resorts of Thanet and Weymouth. It is stated, however, that the project may not end with the stage motor-coaches. The canals in course of time will be utilized to a much greater extent for passenger traffic, and there are signs that the motor-drven craft may soon be as familiar a sight on our great waterways as the motor omnibus is at present in the streets of London.

Nearly every man has a story of a bully getting whipped. And how people enjoy hearing of a bully being whipped!

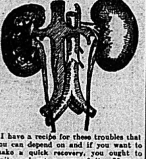
$3,50 Recipe Free, For Weak Kidneys

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc. Stops Pain in the Bladde, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good bye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining or too frequent passage of the urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?



I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K 1793, Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

THE LATEST WORD IN MEDICAL WORLD

Over a Quarter Million Dollars Worth of Radium at the Disposal of the Radium Institute

The Radium Institute, London, which was recently opened, was the darling scheme of the late King Edward, and is the latest word in the medical world. It has over a quarter of a million dollars' worth of radium at its disposal, is fitted with the most expensive and effective medical instruments known to science, and will employ a staff of physicians whose names are known to the medical profession of all countries. Chief among the wonders of this remarkable place in the vast quantity of radium that has been accumulated for use in scientifically treating disease. This accumulation will enable tests never before tried in medical history, and as the chief aim of the new hospital is research, there is every probability that science will be materially advanced as a result of its work. The Institute will be worked in direct connection with the medical profession, and all applications for admittance must come from a doctor. The poor will be treated free of charge; the well-to-do will pay in accordance with their means. In both cases the care and attention bestowed will be identical. With regard to the researches of the institution it may be added that all scientific delvings into the "whys and wherefores" will be made without the assistance of mutilated animal organism. No animals of any kind will be permitted either on the operating table or in the observation cages.

QUEEN WILHELMINA OF HOLLAND

Queen Wilhelmina's well-known admiration for the French gave rise to an amusing incident the other day. The Queen was taking a morning drive when the persistent cries of a beggar attracted her attention. She stopped the carriage and spoke to the man in Dutch. He, though palpably of that origin, refused to answer, repeating time and again in very bad French: "Your Highness, I am a Frenchman. Please help a poor Frenchman." The Queen was so amused by his audacity that she offered him a gold piece if he would renounce his country, whereupon he swore eternal allegiance to Holland and made off.

EXTRAORDINARY SUPERSTITION

Syrians Who Believe it Right to Sacrifice Human Life

A law suit for libel brought by an apothecary in Pollau, Syria, against a young peasant, reveals an extraordinary superstition prevalent among the country people. They believe that apothecaries and doctors have the right to kill at least one man and one woman every year in order to make medicines out of their bodies. An accidental movement of the apothecary at Pollau, when giving medicine to a boy named Putz, led the latter to believe he was going to be killed. He ran away, but got such a fright that he fell ill. The inhabitants believed his story, and boycotted the apothecary, who was at length compelled to prosecute. Putz was sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment, but his parents, who had spread the story, were acquitted on the ground that they had acted in good faith.

CHEESE FOR THE CHURCH

A very curious cheese custom is said to survive in certain districts in Switzerland. In the early days of summer the inhabitants of the valley, with their flocks and herds, withdraw to the bracing mountain air of the Alps, and many villages are left practically deserted. In order that the people shall not be without spiritual guidance, the curé or pastor of each village faithfully follows his parishioners wherever they wander, performing the principal duties of his office. In order to show their appreciation for his efforts, the peasants reserve for him the milk yielded by their beasts during the last few days in the mountains, and, on the return of the parish to its village, this milk is presented to the Church, in procession and with due ceremony, in the form of cheeses, ranging in weight from eight to eighty pounds.

Every man has a scheme that won't work.

The older a man is the longer he looks at a paper before signing it.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS IN SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Aug. 27th, 1911.

Judah Carried Captive to Babylon. Jer. xxxix.

Golden Text—Be sure your sin will find you out. Num. xxxii:23.

(1) Verses 1-2—When a historian gives the day, the month, and the year of an event took place, and associates his facts with some other well-known fact, how much weight does that give to the credibility of his story?

(2) How long did the siege of Jerusalem last before the city was captured?

(3) What was the chief means by which the city was taken? (See 2 Kings xxv:3.)

(4) Verse 3—What was the real reason for the downfall of Judah and the capture of Jerusalem?

(5) When a nation gives itself up to a life of sin how much risk is there in prophesying its downfall unless it repents?

(6) If the "princes" of the soul memory, conscience, will power and the reverence of God, forsake their position at the gate of the citadel, what other princes are certain to take their places?

(7) Verse 4—Sinners are generally very brave when in health and prosperity, but when trouble, or death, stares them in the face what generally happens?

(8) Was there a time, and when, that Zedekiah could have taken such steps as would have kept him on his throne and made himself and people prosperous and happy? (See 2 Chron. xxxvi:11-13.

(9) What is the Golden Text for to-day, and what is the proof that sin will finally destroy happiness and true prosperity?

(10) Verse 5—Zedekiah fled from the enemy but was overtaken; when does the time come in the life of a sinner when his habits have become like his shadow, which he cannot outrun?

(11) Verses 6-7—What had been the crime against Nebuchadnezzar of which Zedekiah was guilty? What would be the penalty of a similar crime to-day?

(12) What was Zedekiah's sin against God, and that of the other bad kings of Judah who had preceded him?

(13) What was Zedekiah's punishment?

(14) See Jer. xxxiv:3; Ezek. xii:13, where the fate of Zedekiah is foretold, and compare with v.7 and point out a striking fulfilment and explanation or apparently contradictory prophecy.

(15) Verse 8—Why it is in God's moral government that the innocent often have to suffer, as well as the guilty?

(16) Verses 9-10—What class of people did they carry away to Babylon and what class allow to remain in Judah?

(17) What part of a man's nature does sin destroy, and what part does it leave?

(18) Verses 11-14—What did the king of Babylon do for Jeremiah, and what is generally the final lot of a man of God?

(19) Verse 15—What good had Ebed-melech done to be so signally favored of God? (See Jer. xxxviii: 7-13.)

(20) What reason is there to think that God never forgets a good deed done to one of his children? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

NEAVE'S FOOD FOR INFANTS
Is the RIGHT FOOD for YOUR baby

The strongest argument for your using NEAVE'S FOOD for your baby, is that 80 years experience has proved its value for the youngest and most delicate infant. NEAVE'S FOOD contains all the essentials for flesh and bone forming in an exceptional degree—assists teething—relieves constipation—and makes baby thrive. Here's what one mother says:

"My baby has been brought up on Neave's Food, of which I cannot speak too highly. My baby did not thrive until I gave him Neave's Food, and he has never had a day's illness since. If anyone asks me what they shall give their babies, I say Neave's Food, and they get on just the same as mine, and thank me for telling them." Mrs. Savery of Bristol.

DISASTER ON LEHIGH

Thirty-Seven Killed and Sixty Are Injured.

Passenger Train Runs Into Spread Rail on a Trestle Near Manchester, N.Y., and Coaches Plunge Forty Feet Over the Bridge to a Masonry Embankment—Four Canadian People Are Among the Victims.

Manchester, N.Y., Aug. 26.—Speeding eastward behind time, Lehigh Valley passenger train No. 4 ran into a spread rail on a trestle near here yesterday and two day coaches from the mid-section of the train plunged downward forty feet, striking the east embankment like a pair of projectiles. In the awful plunge and crash at least thirty-seven persons are believed to have been killed and more than sixty injured. The injuries of several are so serious that it is feared they will die.

The following bodies were sent to Shortsville from Manchester in charge of Coroner Stoddard: Mrs. A. Zubeck, Buffalo; C. C. Madden, Trenton, N.J.; Mrs. C. S. Johnson, Cleveland, Ohio; Chas. Hicks, Newark, N.J.; R. S. Uncle and Mrs. R. S. Uncle, Southfield, N.J.; A. M. Hunsicker, Vineland, Ont.; E. Pangban, veteran, Brooklyn; Jos. Hickey, Helen Pownall, C. P. Johnston, addresses unknown; nine unidentified women and one unidentified man.

Among the injured are Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Winterbury of Toronto, at the Hahnemann Hospital; H. E. Graston, 85 Chestnut street, Toronto, at the Homeopathic.

The wreck was the worst in the history of the Lehigh Valley line in this state and one of the most disastrous ever recorded on the system. Crowded with passengers, many of whom were war veterans and excursionists from the Grand Army of the Republic encampment at Rochester, train No. 4 made up of fourteen cars, drawn by two big mogul engines, was forty minutes late when it reached Rochester Junction, and from there sped eastward to make up time before reaching Geneva.

The engine and two day coaches had just passed the centre of a four-hundred-foot trestle over Canandaigua outlet, 150 yards east of the station at Manchester, at 12.35 o'clock, when the Pullman car Austin, the third car of a long train, left the rails. It dragged the dining car with it and two day coaches and two Pullmans, in this order, followed.

All bumped over the ties a short distance when the coupling between day coach No. 237 and the rear end of the diner broke. The forward end of the train dragged the derailed Pullman car Austin and the diner over safely, after which both plunged down the south embankment and rolled over. The free end of the ill-fated Lehigh Valley day coach, where most of the slaughter occurred, shoved out over the gulf and, followed by a Grand Trunk day coach, stripped the rear guard off the south side of the trestle and plunged to the shallow river bed more than forty feet below.

The end of the first day coach that went over struck the east embankment of solid masonry and, with the other sixty-foot cars behind it, both shot against the wall with terrific force.

Both cars were filled with humanity as the plunge was made, and in a few minutes the cars lay, a mass of crumbled wood, metal and glass under which a hundred men, women and children, many of whom were killed instantly, were buried. The most destruction occurred in the day coach No. 237, and a dozen persons were later taken dead from the second day coach, which, having followed the first over the trestle, snapped its rear coupling and thus saved the rest of the train from being dragged over.

This second day coach struck on the bottom and stood up, the rear end projecting a few feet above the top of the trestle. All of the passengers in this car were piled in a tangled mass of broken seats at the bottom of the car.

Indescribable pandemonium followed. The Pullman car, Emelyn, which remained on the bridge, with one end projecting over the gulch, and several cars behind it, derailed, and in immediate danger of going over on the mass of wreckage below, were soon emptied of all their passengers, and these, aided by gangs of railroad employes from the big freight yards at Manchester, rushed to aid. As the groans of the injured and dying were heard below, all possible speed was made, but it was several minutes before anybody reached the cars at the bottom to effect rescues.

The cars did not catch fire. Axes were secured and body after body was removed and carried by the rescuers knee-deep in the river bed to the bank on the west side of the trestle. There the dead and injured were laid out on the damp ground, while planks and timber, taken from buildings in course of construction, were requisitioned and a field hospital was established.

It was more than an hour before many of the injured could be removed, and special trains from both Geneva and Rochester brought physicians, nurses and medical supplies. Hundreds awaited treatment, and the railroad station at Manchester, a cider mill and an ice house were used to give temporary shelter and treatment to the refugees.

It was necessary to chop through the sides and bottom of the day coach at the bottom and the work of removing the victims moved with painful slowness. Death had come swiftly to many, a large number of the dead having had their skulls crushed in when they were thrown with terrible velocity against the car seats and projections. The mortality was high among the older passengers, most of whom were battle-scarred veterans of the Civil War and their wives.

HOLDS FIVE MEETINGS

Mr. Borden Has Busy Day in Northumberland County.

He Speaks at Hasting to Two Different Audiences, and Motoring to Warkworth Talks Again—Then to Campbellford, Where He Is Given a Rousing Welcome—Deals With the Damage to the Cheese Market.

Campbellford, Aug. 26.—The east riding of Northumberland County was well canvassed by R. L. Borden and his association yesterday, the Conservative leader making in all five speeches. Leaving Peterboro at an early hour, Mr. Borden arrived at Hastings and made two speeches before 10.30 o'clock. Motoring thence to Warkworth, Mr. Borden met 1,500 people on the fair grounds in the afternoon. To Campbellford he then proceeded and as the procession of motors approached the outskirts of the town, a band suddenly appeared and led the Conservative leader to the centre of the place, while the shrill whistles of every industry proclaimed his arrival.

Mr. Borden addressed himself particularly to the effect of reciprocity to the farmers and the home market. Cheese, which is a staple product of this section of the country would at once lose its identity, he said. The resulting competition with all nations affected by the favored nation treaties would place the Canadian market for beef at the mercy of Argentine. By reason of the low cost of ocean carriage the competition was vital and threatening. "The one avenue of escape, which is open to you people of Canada," said Mr. Borden, "will be the 21st day of September next, when you cast your ballot. The traditions of the past and the hopes of the future call upon you to be on your guard at this crisis in your nation's history."

At Warkworth, Mr. Borden replied to a statement that if elected the Conservatives would suspend the public works now going on in the riding. "There is absolutely no truth in the assertion," Mr. Borden declared vehemently. While not parsimonious in public affairs the Conservative leader said that every dollar should be spent in the interest of the people and a dollar's value given in return. He made the statement that $10,000,000 of the people's money had been wasted by the Liberal Government every year in useless expenditures.

The evening meeting at Campbellford was something of a surprise. Accommodation for a limited number had been provided in the opera house, but the crowd swelled to such an extent that arrangements had to be made for an open air meeting. Willing hands made quick work of the change, and in a few minutes 1,500 people had gathered around.

Government Bribe for Halifax.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—The Nova Scotia Construction Co. has been given a contract by the Government for the building of a pier 800 feet long, containing sheds for the I.C.R. at Halifax, R. L. Borden's constituency. Hundreds will be employed and the contract figure is $914,600. Work begins immediately.

Around the World In 40 Days.

New York, Aug. 26.—A Paris cable says: Andre Jagerschmidt, the journalist, will soon finish his tour of the world in record time. The Olympic, on which the lightning globe trotter sailed from New York last Saturday, reached Cherbourg last night. A racing automobile will be in waiting to carry him to Paris in the fastest possible time, and it is hoped he will arrive here at five o'clock this morning.

A delegation of globe trotters, geographers, journalists and others will meet him at Cherbourg, and another such delegation will receive him at the offices of the Excelsior.

If all goes well, he will have made the round the world trip in a few hours under forty days.

Bad G.T.R. Freight Wreck.

Guelph, Aug. 26.—Word reached here yesterday of the destruction by fire early yesterday of the Grand Trunk car shop and road department storehouse at Palmerston. The loss will be $7,000.

The G.T.R. freight train about 7.45 yesterday morning ran off the track at Alma, and has delayed traffic so that trains are stopped running north and south. Seven cars are derailed and piled up on the right of way. Two were loaded with cattle, one with horses, two with cement and two with piledriving apparatus. Several of the live stock are reported to have been killed and others badly injured.

World's Largest Steamship.

London, Aug 26.—The new Hamburg-American liner, which is being built in Stettin for trans-Atlantic service, is to be named the Imperator. She will be larger than any craft yet afloat.

The huge vessel appears something like the skeleton of an eleven storey skyscraper in course of construction as she stands fully a hundred feet high, is nearly ninety feet in beam and has a length of 710 feet.

The Imperator's displacement will be 50,000 tons and she will provide accommodation for 5,000 passengers of all classes.

Hotelmen Paid Fines.

Lindsay, Aug. 26.—W. C. Graham, proprietor of the temperance house at Manillo, was fined $20 and costs for keeping liquor for sale, on a charge laid by License Inspector Thornbury.

James Thompson, proprietor of the Rockland House, Bobcaygeon, was charged with selling intoxicating liquor without a license, the charge being laid by License Inspector Lithgow. Two Dominion detectives were working on the latter case and secured the evidence. The accused pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

HIT BY EXPRESS.

Waterford Man Loses Life at Grimsby Level Crossing.

Grimsby, Aug. 26.—The dreaded level crossing claimed another victim in this section when Nathan Overbolt, a highly-esteemed and respected citizen of Waterford, lost his life by being struck by a westbound express at the G.T.R. crossing at Grimsby Beach at 10.45 yesterday morning. Mr. Overbolt had just arrived from Waterford and had left his wife and grips at Frank Russe's store while he went to look up a boarding-house, where he and his wife could stay a couple of weeks in this district. He had made arrangements for board and rooms and was returning to the store to get his wife and grips when the accident happened. As he reached the tracks a freight train going east on the right hand track was passing, and he stood on the westbound track watching it pass. No. 5, one of the G.T.R.'s fastest trains, was running twenty minutes late and reached this crossing as the freight was going east. The engineer saw Overbolt on the track and whistled almost continuously for him to get out of the way, but he apparently did not hear the train, and before the engineer could stop it he was struck and thrown about 100 feet upon the station platform. The body was terribly smashed about the head and all down the left side; the skull was crushed in and the left side of the face all smashed, the left arm broken and left leg broken in two places.

Canadian Batteries Do Well.

Salisbury Plain, Aug. 26.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Almost ideal weather prevailed for the second day's artillery competitions, and substantial progress resulted in six out of eleven field batteries, including the Canadians, completing outright their respective series.

While it is difficult to forecast with any degree of accuracy the merits of the contestants, the Canadians, in the opinion of reliable observers, will be found to have cut quite a respectable figure, more especially in the matter of selection of gun position, accuracy of laying outlines of fire, and adherence to rules of ranging. Their work has been watched with the keenest interest by our officers and the inspectors-general of horse and field artillery, the latter of whom remained throughout the contest. They found the range speedily and accurately, greatly improving on Thursday, when a sultry sky and heavy rainfall compelled them repeatedly to cease firing. The results will be declared today.

Lucky Collapse of Rink.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—So rotted were the girders at the Mutual street rink, which collapsed two days ago, injuring two workmen, that it is a great wonder that a catastrophe did not occur during some hockey match, when there were 2,500 to 3,000 people resting their weight upon the decaying timbers. Why it did not crumble under the heavy pressure of one of the immense crowds that often thronged its galleries is beyond explanation and nothing short of a miracle.

It appears that none of the supports had been taken away at the time the building collapsed, but that some of the roof had been removed, lessening the pressure on the wall, which gave way.

Had the rink been allowed to remain as it was and used again this coming winter, a calamity would undoubtedly have occurred.

C.P.R. Absorbs Quebec Central.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—A controlling interest in the Quebec Central Railway has been provisionally secured by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The former's policy will not be affected by the change, although extensive additions to its lines are contemplated. The agreement between the two roads is subject to the ratification of the Quebec Central's security-holders.

The C.P.R.'s earnings for the week ended Aug. 21 show a considerable increase over the traffic earnings of the same period last year. This year they are $2,267,000, against $1,897,000 in 1910.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is now on his annual tour of the C.P.R. system.

Customs Increase Overstated.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—"The reporter must have been indulging in a pipe dream," remarked J. H. Bertram, collector of customs, in reference to the statement in an evening paper to the effect that the customs revenue for the first 24 days in August had increased over half a million over the same period in 1910.

"The figures for 24 days in last August were $1,056,427, and this year's is $1,620,449, thus showing an increase of $564,022," states the article in question.

"I gave out no information or figures whatever," Mr. Bertram declared: "As a matter of fact the increase is not above $100,000."

Connaught to Tour U.S.

London, Aug. 26.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Birmingham Post's London correspondent says the Duke of Connaught is likely to pay an official visit to the United States, which is wished by both the American and Canadian Governments. It is to be limited to Washington, but will include several great industrial centres. The visit will probably take place next February.

Empress Still Delayed.

London, Aug. 26.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Empress of Britain is expected to sail on Sunday or Monday. The Virginian sailed yesterday.

The C.A.P. correspondent at Liverpool wires that the position there is no better than Thursday and the companies can't get crews at present, consequently any sailing arrangements are entirely provisional.

Bush Fires at Stony Lake.

Peterboro, Aug. 26.—Bush fires back near Stony Lake lately have been serious. Some of the visitors and cottagers have had to do some pretty hard fire-fighting. The hotel on the south shore of the lake was only saved by very hard work, and the danger is not wholly past.

TOO GENEROUS.

Bookkeeper Stole in Order to Give to Charity.

New York, Aug. 26.—The story of a bookkeeper who embezzled $6,200 of his employer's money in four years' time, only to give almost all of it to charity, was made known in general sessions, when Richard Pachars, 38 years old, was brought before Judge Swann for sentence.

From the testimony of the bookkeeper himself, it appeared that he was possessed of a keen desire to gain social distinction. One of the members of the firm told the court that Pachars had used almost every cent of the embezzled money in giving picnics and outings to the children and old folks of the Oddfellows' Home and Orphan Asylum at Mamaroneck, of which he was a director. Many times he had paid for high-priced specialists for surgical operations for members of the institution.

It was stated that friends had partly made restitution, and that the firm would take Pachars back, knowing that he would make good the balance. The firm asked for suspended sentence.

"I've been a fool, judge," said Pachars, as tears streamed down his face, "and now when it's too late I realize it."

He was given a month in the Tombs to repent.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Rumor Says Murder.

New Hamburg, Aug. 26.—A young man aged 20 years, named Robert Spahr, son of John Spahr, of Northeast Hope, was found dead upon the Grand Trunk Railway tracks about a mile west of New Hamburg about two o'clock yesterday morning. The deceased, who worked at home on the farm, attended Barnum and Bailey's circus at Berlin on Thursday. It is supposed that he returned on the G.T.R. flyer, which reached here about 10 p.m., and was walking home upon the tracks, or that he was killed jumping from the train opposite his home. His body was found about 2 a.m. by the crew of the way freight, whose train ran over the body. The engineer says that it was lying across the tracks, the head on one rail and the feet on the other. Coroner Marty of this place will hold an inquest.

There are rumors that foul play is connected with the case.

Extra Prizes For Riflemen.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Mrs. E. C. Whitney of Ottawa has made a grant of $100 a year for ten years to the Dominion Rifle Association to be devoted to extra prizes for cadets in the Grand Aggregate. The generous gift came quite unexpectedly to the D.R.A. officials yesterday. The grant will be made in a lump sum sufficient to form an annuity of $100 a year.

On various occasions Earl Grey has regretted that more of the wealthy people of Canada did not take an interest in assisting the rifle-shooting of this country which, he said, "formed the backbone of the defence of the nation."

In the Governor-General's, the first 150 get into the last stage. Possible, 105.

The D.R.A. silver medal was won by Captain C. R. Crowe, 30th Regt., 98.

Across America Flight.

Nyack, N.Y., Aug. 26.—Atwood, the aviator, yesterday said:—"My next move will be to try for the Hearst $50,000 prize for the flight from coast to coast. I shall try that flight some time before October 1st. It is my intention to use a brand new Wright-Burgess aeroplane, of the same type as the one in which I flew from St. Louis. I expect to travel from coast to coast in that one car. My plan is to go to the Pacific coast within a short time with the machine. I shall start from San Francisco, fly to Los Angeles, and then follow the Southern Pacific line into Texas. From Texas I shall work my way up to St. Louis, Cincinnati and Dayton, and thence to Syracuse, from which place I'll follow the same route as on this trip."

Mimico Brakeman Killed.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 26.—R. New, a brakeman on a Grand Trunk freight train, was killed at Merritton yesterday morning by falling off his train. His home is in Mimico.

Dr. Jory, coroner, is investigating, and an inquest will probably be held. The body was brought to a local undertaker's.

At the G.T.R. Mimico yard office it is believed that the victim of the accident was A. H. New, who entered the service about six months ago. He was about 23 year sof age, and boarded in Mimico.

Electrocution at St. Kitts.

St. Catharines, Aug. 26.—William Misson, an employe of the Jenokes Machine Co., was yesterday electrocuted at the works. He was carrying an electric lamp and in some way touched a live wire. He was 38 years of age, married and leaves one child. He was an Englishman and came here recently.

LAURIER AT FARNHAM

The Premier and Hon. Sydney Fisher Hold Meeting.

First English Address In a Week Is Delivered In Eastern Townships Where Premier Reiterates His Position on Reciprocity — Fisher Describes Hon. Clifford Sifton as a "Timerous Coward."

Farnham, Que., Aug. 26.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier addressed an audience of 5,000 persons in English here to-day in the interests of the local candidates.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, made an address of unusual power, calling Mr. Sifton a timorous coward for his fears that reciprocity would lead to annexation.

About 5,000 persons attended the meeting, and acclaimed the Premier loudly. That many Conservatives were present was evidenced by numerous mild attempts at heckling.

Mr. F. W. Kay, the Liberal standard-bearer in Missisquoi, and Mr. G. H. Boivin, candidate in Shefford, both young men, were well received.

Hon. Sydney Fisher made a strong plea for reciprocity. If Great Britain was Canada's best market, why, asked the Minister, has Canada exported seven times the value of horses and a hundred times the value of sheep to the United States above the value shipped to England? The comparative prices of hogs in Toronto and Chicago were $8.83 and $9.11 respectively, showing the better market to the south.

Sir Wilfrid received an ovation.

"I have my revenge in seeing Mr. Bourassa flanked on one side by Mr. Sifton, whom he detests, but to complete matters, flanked by Joe Martin on the other side. If there is a man he hates more than Sifton, it is Joe Martin," said the Premier in the course of his address.

"The cry of annexation is simply rant and nonsense," he said. "Look at this manifesto of the Toronto Board of Trade, putting people on their guard against reciprocity, stating that after a few years of reciprocity Canada would be too much involved to withdraw from it. It is as sensible for some wiseacres to say to a man going into business. Don't put your money in; conditions may change five years hence; look for another market."

Ottawa Meetings.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Arrangements were completed yesterday for the holding of the first large anti-reciprocity meeting in Ottawa. It takes place on Sept. 5 in the Russell Theatre, with Hon. Clifton Sifton as the chief speaker. Other meetings are also being arranged for, to be addressed by leading Ontario Conservatives. Word was also received yesterday that Sir Wilfrid Laurier would come to Ottawa for a meeting in the Arena late in the campaign, probably on Sept. 18. On the afternoon of that day he speaks in Russell for Hon. Charles Murphy.

Held Up by Labor Troubles.

Kingston, Aug. 26.—Monday next the recruit class will report at the Royal Military College. Fifty-five passed the entrance examinations, but only forty can be accommodated. The college will have to worry along for another year minus dormitory space. It was the intention of the Department of Public Works to do the work necessary, but it was held up, owing to labor troubles here for two months.

MR. D. V. SINCLAIR ON THE RAMPAGE

A Communication Remarkable for Erroneous Statement and Baseless Deduction

Belleville, Aug. 23, 1911.

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

With Wednesday a half holiday, I found myself reading the account of Mr. Ackerill's nightmare, as contained in Tuesday's paper.

Mr. Ackerill first refers to Mr. Jas. Anderson's statement that, had reciprocity in farm products been in force in the year 1910, he, Mr. Anderson, would have received $800.00 more for his farm products had they been sold on the United States market, as against our home market.

Now, sir, let me say that this statement, with the facts and figures, has been published in many papers throughout Ontario and no self-respecting farmer in this province has dared to challenge Mr. Anderson's figures, but Mr. Ackerill, a veterinary surgeon, who probably knows as little about farming as I do about his business, has the audacity to do so.

Then, as for my statement "that the farmers of Prince Edward would have received $600,000.00 more money in 1910: I confess I know absolutely nothing about farming, but I reasoned thus: if Mr. Anderson would have gained $800.00, surely the farmers of the good County of Prince Edward would have averaged one-fourth as much, or $200.00 each, and if there are 3,000 farmers in the county, then the total would be $600,000.00.

Mr. Ackerill then proceeds to tell us about a terrible dream he had. It is only reasonable to assume that the Dr. retired on an overloaded stomach and the most natural thing in the world happened, for does he not tell us in his letter that he "saw visions and dreamed dreams," and how fitting it was that an overloaded stomach should have brought on an avalanche or landslide of, as he says butter, eggs, poultry, vegetables and fruit, note the perfect order, just as he would eat his evening meal.

Dr., take my advice, be careful what you eat; your teeth may be good, but your stomach is gradually wearing out.

According to the Doctor's letter, the dream is now past; it is morning but he has had a bad night, a touch of acute indigestion, no doubt. I can sympathize with him. I've had it myself, and to rid his stomach of the foul gases he proceeds, first to belittle himself and Canadians in general, and in turn to abuse and misrepresent our own Bay of Quinte farmers, as well as the people of the United States, and then, in a moment of forgetfulness, he crys out, in the language of the Conservative press, "Let well enough alone," the highest compliment yet paid to the Laurier Administration.

The Doctor then digs up what he calls an old saying, "that the farmer is never satisfied," and further declares that if reciprocity passes, it will be because of "the greediness or never satisfied spirit of the farmer perverting his judgment and blinding his reason and common sense."

Personally, I feel that it ill becomes Dr. Harry Ackerill, or any other citizen to so misrepresent the farmers of the Bay of Quinte district forgetful, as he is, that Belleville is the centre of the best agricultural district in Ontario, and as a city we owe our very existence to the industry, honesty and integrity of our farming community.

Let the Doctor discount himself as he will, he knows his true self the best. Let him say unkind things about our neighbors, the Americans if he must be nasty, but don't belittle our farmers, from whom he earns his bread and butter, for after nearly thirty years of a business experience I can honestly say that I would as soon take my chances for a square deal with the average farmer as with Dr. Ackerill.

Now, Sir, might I just here remind Dr. Ackerill that Canada now has a reciprocity agreement with almost every civilized country in the world and the new proposed reciprocity agreement with the United States is only an enlargement of our present agreement. Hear what our own Mr W. B. Northrup, M.P., for East Hastings, said, as reported on page 408 of Hansard, when considering the reciprocity clauses in the Speech from the Throne. Mr. Northrup said "Perhaps I am not altogether in accord with some of my friends on my own side with regard to these reciprocity negotiations, but I quite agree with the hon. gentleman, Mr. McGivern, who moved the address in reply to the speech, that if the Americans wish to make propositions, it would be the height of folly on our part not to consider any proposition they would make. I think it would be foolish; I think it would be discourteous. I think the Government would deserve to be reprimanded by the people of Canada, if propositions having been made by the United States for improved trade relations the Canadian Government should decline to entertain them." And I believe Mr. Northrup spoke then for the majority of the Opposition, and while he certainly spoke for Ontario, it is a well understood fact that both Mr Bourassa and his assistant, Mr Monk, who, together are in charge of the fight for the Opposition in Quebec, are both in favor of the reciprocity pact, but not at the hands of the Laurier Government.

So, Doctor, I think it's up to you to try another dream; they don't always go by contraries and you may yet be able to find out why the farmers of the United States are dead against this proposed agreement, and you may even now be able to comprehend the true meaning of the prophecy, as predicted in the columns of The Intelligencer of April 22nd when it so truthfully said, "the Senators representing the middle west farming constituencies of the United States will fight this measure tooth and nail."

In conclusion, let me say I think the Doctor's trouble is complicated partly due to the stomach and partly to the head. For the first I would prescribe salts or a blue pill and for the other I would suggest that he read the newspapers and see what is going on in this Canada of ours.

Respectfully yours,
D. V. SINCLAIR.

(Editor's Note.—With his usual lack of the knowledge which he assumes Mr. Sinclair is totally mistaken in his assertion that Mr. Monk favors the reciprocity pact. The insinuation that, because Mr. Northrup favored the consideration of the proposition made by the United States for negotiations regarding reciprocity, he is in favor of the agreement which resulted from those negotiations, is so transparently disingenuous that no one—even Mr. D. V. Sinclair himself—could be deceived by it.

Newbro's Herpicide

After Prof. Sabouraud confirmed the germ origin of dandruff, science was confronted by a new problem which was not solved until the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide being the first successful preparation compounded in harmony with this new theory, becomes the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ.

Since then, numerous preparations said to be "just as good" as Herpicide have been thrown upon the market; others have adopted Herpicide claims, and without making any change in their remedies, but none have ever reached the same degree of popularity. Everywhere this remedy is recognized as the one genuine dandruff germ destroyer. As a result Herpicide has more satisfied users than all other hair preparations combined.

Being the original remedy, users expect more astonishing results from Herpicide than they would look for from any other preparation and they usually get them. So wonderful has been the success of this germicide that it is now recognized as the standard hair remedy of the world.

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ checks falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

For sale at drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications obtainable at the good barber shops. Insist on having real Herpicide. Send 10c. in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. J. S. McKeown, special agent.

GIRL TRAMP "BEATS" WAY ACROSS COUNTRY

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Aug. 25.—Dressed in male attire with a 'postage stamp" hat perched jauntily on her shapely head, the hair on which she had cropped close, Miss Blanche Ferguson, 18 years old, of Parkersburg, W. Va., was taken into custody by the police at Council Bluffs, in company with John Barnes, 20, after having "beat" her way on trains and walked from her home to the Missouri River.

The girl says she left Parkersburg three weeks ago on account of unpleasant domestic affairs, and that Barnes offered to accompany her to Belleville, Kan., where she has friends.

She made the start in her own clothing, but soon found it impracticable to travel that way, so Barnes found her a suit of men's clothing.

KINGSTON MAN MAY SECURE MILLIONS

KINGSTON, Aug. 25.— John F. Baker, 361 Barrie street, has, what appears to be a strong claim on the celebrated Baker fortune, for heirs of which lawyers in Ottawa and Toronto are searching. The fortune is valued at about $300,000,000, consisting principally of real estate in Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Baker has a deed to the property which was given him by his father. He has been interviewed several times by lawyers and may go to Philadelphia with his papers in a short time.

Mr. Baker claims that his father was the brother of the man who left the fortune and for whom the lawyers are searching. His father had told him several times before his death of his brother, Col. Jacob Baker and the estate which he had left and had intended to give him the power to engage a lawyer to prove his claim to the fortune.

"In 1819 Col. Baker settled on a farm which had been granted him by the Government near a small hamlet which ultimately developed into the city of Philadelphia. A short time later he leased the land to the Government for a term of 99 years, the interest to be placed in the English bank. When Philadelphia built up the land which Col. Baker had leased proved to be the centre of the city. It is now the most valuable property in that city.

MUSKRAT HERD NEAR SPOKANE

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 23.—Gustav Rusk, who has charge of the mink and muskrat farm south of Lake Athabaska, in Alberta, owned by Dr. J. F. Bergin, of Spokane, reports that he is herding 1,500 acres of muskrats in the swamps, and is preparing to add several hundred mink the coming winter. Trappers will assist in securing mink for the ranch.

"The latest reports from Rusk indicate that everything is doing nicely," said Dr. Bergin. "He reports that he has 1,500 acres of muskrats on the ranch, as he is protecting them from the hunters in the swamps and lakes on that portion of the ranch. We will not market them for another year, and will have thousands of them, as they will raise three litters each year.

"We have not been able to secure our supply of minks, but have erected the pens and have enlisted trappers to stock the ranch. We will secure several hundred to begin. We are watching the market and are much pleased over the results of our experiments up to this time."

BOXING

LANGFORD DEFEATED ROSS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Sam Langford, the Canadian negro heavyweight knocked out Tony Ross of Pittsburg in the sixth round of their scheduled ten round bout at the National Sporting Club here tonight.

Langford hit up a terrific pace at the tap of the first gong, and despite the fact that Ross had an advantage of some 25 pounds in weight, gave the latter a severe beating. It was only in the fifth round that Ross showed to any advantage. Through the other five rounds Langford hammered Ross unmercifully and in the fourth was robbed of a knockout by the bell after Ross had taken the count of nine.

It was in the fourth round that Ross took the worst beating of any round of the fight. With an assortment of hooks jabs, swings and uppercuts, delivered in whirlwind style, the negro fighter beat his opponent until the latter dropped exhausted to the floor. Everyone in the crowd believed this was the end, but the bell rang in time to save the Pittsburg man.

To the surprise of everybody, Ross came back strong in the fifth. He hurt Langford with a right to the stomach and the latter slowed up. Ross followed his advantage with right and left swings and claimed the honors at the tap of the gong.

In the sixth round, as they came out of the clinch, the Canadian fighter stepped back suddenly and swung a right uppercut to the chin and, as Ross staggered, Langford shot a terrific left to the jaw and Ross went down and then out. He had to be carried to his corner.

The Marquis of Queensberry, whose father framed the Marquis of Queensberry prize ring rules, was a spectator, and in response to demands by the spectators made a brief speech.

May Strike In Berlin.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—Labor troubles are making their appearance at many points in Germany, and the general belief is that men have become discontented with their present conditions since the success of the British railway strike.

The cigar workers are discussing what they call the inadequate rate of wages paid to them.

The dockers of Bremen yesterday decided to refuse to unload British vessels on which strike-breakers are employed.

The Saxon employers of metal workers have decided to lock out 60 per cent. of their men on Aug. 26.

Four T's Makes Good Singers.

Many people when singing get husky. This is due to an inflamed condition of the throat. On account of the lung healing and inflammation soothing gums in Four T's, chronic congested conditions of the bronchial tubes and throat are soon cured and the voice becomes clear as a bell. Four T's cures an ordinary cough in one day and the worst cold in 48 hours. Large bottles 25c. at all drug stores, or sent postpaid by The Merrill Medical Co., Merrill Building, Toronto.

Didn't Know His Own Wife.

When T. Coleman, a Brantford traveller, left on a six weeks trip his wife was a yellow faced, fagged out looking woman. When he returned he didn't know her. Her eyes were bright, her skin clear, cheeks rosy and her step light and buoyant. Merrill's System Tonic did it, and it will do the same for any tired out woman who is losing her strength, her plumpness and her beauty. Cures female troubles, dyspepsia, indigestion constipation and regulates the kidneys. All Druggists sell Merrill's System Tonic. Price 50c per box of 50 tablets, 6 boxes $2.50, or postpaid from The Merrill Medical Co., Merrill Building, Toronto.

FOR 25 YEARS HE SUFFERED

Well Known Merchant Of Sarnia Cured by "Fruit-a-tives"

SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910.

"I have been a sufferer for the past 25 years with Constipation, Indigestion and Catarrh of The Stomach. I tried many remedies and many doctors but derived no benefit whatever.

Finally I read an advertisement of "Fruit-a-tives". I decided to give "Fruit-a-tives" a trial and found they did exactly what was claimed for them.

I have now taken "Fruit-a-tives" for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good.

I have recommended "Fruit-a-tives" to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these fruit tablets too highly"

PAUL J. JONES

Thousands now use "Fruit-a-tives. Thousands more will try Fruit-a-tives" after reading the above letter. It proves, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that at last there is a cure for Constipation and Stomach Troubles.

"Fruit-a-tives" is Nature's cure for these diseases, being made of fruit juices and valuable tonics

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

EX-CROWN PRINCESS LOUISE OF SAXONY

The Saxon Court is in an uproar over the coming publication of ex-Crown Princess Louise of Saxony's memoirs. She has been officially notified that upon the day the book makes its appearance her pension of $10,000 per annum will cease, and every effort is being made to bring the headstrong Princess to terms. The Princess so far refused to withdraw her manuscript. It is rumored that she is to receive $200,000 for the book.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

POSITIVE CURE FOR HEADACHES

Persons suffering from Nervous Sick or Bilious Headaches should take a half teaspoonful of Relief in half tumbler of water as a drink, after which apply to the head the Relief clear. In a few moments you will be free from pain or discomfort. A dose of three to four of Radway's Pills in cases of continued headache will ensure a cure.

DRINK HABIT

CRAVING GONE IN THREE DAYS

In THREE DAYS from the day you commence the Gatlin treatment every trace of alcoholic poison disappears from the system—with it, craving, desire and physical and nerve-necessity for liquor also disappear. In THREE DAYS the liquor habit is gone, the stomach is returned to normal condition, and all the organs of the body are performing their natural functions, which they have not been doing since you have been drinking liquor.

Come TO-DAY to the Gatlin Institute and be treated under legal contract in THREE DAYS—the results are to be entirely satisfactory in every particular—for on leaving the fee paid shall be refunded and treatment shall cost NOTHING. No hypodermic injections, no poisonous or deleterious drugs, no substitutive stimulants—no disagreeable features—a treatment so harmless that any child could take it.

THREE MEN KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Disaster Which Befell Camping Party in Templeton Near Ottawa

(Intelligencer Special.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Three men, all members of a camping party, were killed during the night at East Templeton, five miles from Ottawa, by a huge tree being blown across the tent.

The dead are: Alphonse Schingh Ottawa; Joseph Lablanc, Montreal; Lucien Marineau, Three Rivers. Four others escaped.

(Intelligencer Special.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Captain Van Schaik, of the steamer Slocum, which was burned in Long Island Sound, near North Brother Island, and which resulted in the loss of a thousand lives, has been paroled from Sing Sing Prison, to which he had been sentenced for a 20 year term.

BRITAIN AND EGYPT

(Intelligencer Special.)

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 28.—In diplomatic circles it is said that the formal annexation of Egypt by Britain is imminent and certain, and that Lord Kitchener's appointment as Agent General paves the way for taking over the country. Germany is already planning to block the move, and her stand in the Moroccan situation is believed to be for the purpose of embarrassing England's plans on the Nile.

RECIPROCITY—A REJOINDER

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Sir,—Really, Mr. Editor, I cannot help expressing my keen disappointment on reading Mr. D. V. Sinclair's letter. I fully expected to get some valuable pointers and information from it, but, sad to say, like reciprocity, there is nothing in it but a lot of nonsense and school boy talk.

Yours truly,

D. H. ACKERILL, V.S.

Note.—Dear Ackerill, you should not insult the school boy by comparing David's letter to his talk.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

SLIGHT ACCIDENT

Mr. Thomas Ramsay, an employee of the Grand Trunk, was injured at the turntable, but fortunately not seriously. He was taken to the hospital, where he is doing nicely.

SOME GOOD CATCHES

Anglers have been having some good catches of late. Bass are numerous and of good size. One party of three report a catch of 22 for their last day's sport. Oswego bass, which have been very scarce of late years, are now quite plentiful and many have been caught recently.

A CIVIC DISGRACE

Although the drought is so severe that several of the shade trees are shedding their leaves and fields and gardens are parched, yet the weeds which fringe the sidewalks fronting the Armories on Pinnacle and Bridge Streets are flourishing in luxuriant greenness. The locality, in consequence, has one at least of the features of a deserted village. It is a disgrace to the city that such should be the case, and the remedy ought to be applied immediately.

ON THE WRONG SIDE

The jury, after hearing the evidence in the case of George Richardson, of Grafton, brought in the following verdict:—

"That George Richardson came to hsi death on Sunday, Aug. 20th, 1911 at the Cobourg Hospital from the effects of shock and blood poisoning caused by being struck by an automobile driven by J. L. Anderson, of Belleville, on Friday, August 18th 1911, at the cross roads on the Cobourg and Grafton Road near Burn's Blacksmith Shop in the township of Haldimand. And we further find that the said J. L. Anderson passed a buggy standing on the tarvelled road on the wrong side, thereby causing the death of one, George Richardson."—Port Hope Guide.

MINOR POLICE NOTES

The police answered several calls on Saturday evening where trouble of a minor nature was brewing, but no arrests were made. Three places of business were found open by the police on Saturday night.

POTITICAL POT BOILING

The political pot is boiling merrily in this district, as well as in other parts of the country. Mr. Porter and Mr. Northrup have been perfectng the organization in the northern townships of their constituencies, and public meetings in their interest will shortly be held. In Prnce Edward Mr. Hepburn, who is receiving the assistance of a number of speakers, is carrying all before him and his election by a considerable majority is confidently predicted.

IF YOU VISIT TORONTO

Visitors to Toronto at Exhibition time ought not to fail to take a trip to Scarboro Beach Park, the great amusement resort at the East End of the city.

Scarboro Beach has had the most prosperous season in its history this summer, and visitors who have seen it before will be struck by the many improvements. The Scarboro Inn is generally considered to be one of the very best restaurants in the city, and during Exhibition time will specially cater to out-of-town guests. The vaudeville entertainment is of the same class as that put on at the Exhibition; the permanent houses of amusement surpass anything else in Canada; the Park itself is one of the prettiest on the continent.

A visit to Toronto would not be complete without a ride down to the beach, which is in about the same relative position to the east of the city as Exhibition Park is to the west end. Gong from one park to another, you see practically all there is to see of the south part of the Queen City.

HICKS' STORM AND WEATHER FORECAST FOR SEPTEMBER

A regular storm period is central on the 3rd, covering the 1st to the 6th. The earth's autumnal equinox and the Mercury period are both in force at this time. It will be natural to expect a decided fall of the barometer, with all other attendant changes to active storm conditions during this period. Very warm and humid conditions, with south winds and low barometer, will admonish of of equatorial storms. The 3rd, 4th and 5th will be the crisis of the period Watch storm developments on and touching these dates, especially in southern extremes. The Mercury period will prolong and intensify tendency to threatening weather at this period.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 8th, 9th and 10th. Moon is full on the 8th, the central day of the Mercury period, and on the celestial equator on the 9th. The annual magnetic and electric crisis, also falls within this period, extending forward to about the 15th. On and about the 11th of September maximum "earth currents" disturbing telegraph lines, exciting auroral lights and causing seismic shakes, very naturally reach a crisis, over the globe generally. Look for fierce equatorial storms on and near the 9th and 10th, followed by change to much cooler weather and frosts to the northward. Seismic period, 6th to 11th, central on the 8th and 9th.

A regular storm period unites with Mercury period and the autumnal equinox, from the 12th to the 16th This period will bring return of falling barometer, change to warmer cloudiness, rain and thunder, but we do not figure that general and abundant rains will fall at this time. In all probability equatorial or West India storms, will affect the gulf coast regions, bringing dengerous winds and heavy rains to these sections, and up the Atlantic Coasts; but counter storms from the northwest and through the interior states will result in cooler weather, but far less precipitation. Dangerous gales with possible tornadoes, are among the possibilities during this and other September periods.

A reactionary storm period falls at the centre of Earth's autumnal equinox—from the 19th to the 22nd Threatening storms with more or less violence, will be perfectly natural at this time, or at any time in this part of the month. New moon on 22nd will prolong low barometer, high temperature and stormy conditions generally a day or two longer than normal at this time. Chances for good, general rains grow better as we approach the close of September. Change to much cooler about the 22nd to 25th, first in the west, progressing east and south A marked seismic period covers the 19th to the 25th, being central on the 22nd.

A regular storm period covers the last week in September, the crisis of the period falling on the 26th, 27th and 28th. Autumnal storms will be general at this time, and cool nights with frosts in many places.

SINCLAIR SEEKS A POTITICAL COMBAT

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Deing a careful reader of The Intelligencer, I was interested in reading an account of Mr. Hepburn's meeting held in Consecon on Thursday of this week. I also notice your comment on my letter of recent date, and will for the present act upon the same—that is, I will be brief.

In your account of this particular meeting you state that Mr. Young, of Picton, goes out of his way to discredit Mr. Jas. Anderson, and on this point I only suggest that the farmers of Prince Edward County be left to judge for themselves as between Mr Jas. Anderson and Mr. E. M. Young.

Secondly, if your account of this meeting is correct, I will take the responsibility of making this statement Mr. Jas. Anderson and myself will go before this same audience in Consecon and there meet Mr. W. C. Mikel, K. C., and Mr. E. M. Young, of Picton and if we cannot make these two eminent lawyers eat their own words in the presence of this same audience then I will undertake that neither Mr Jas. Anderson or myself will appear again on a public platform during this campaign.

If this proposition meets with approval, I will be pleased to meet Mr Mikel and arrange a date.

Respectfully yours,

D. V. SINCLAIR

NEW RACE FOUND IN ARCTIC REGIONS

Had Never Before Seen a White Man or Even an Indian

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—A race of people who had never before beheld a white man or an Indian, has been discovered in the Arctic regions of British Columbia by Vilhjmar Stefanson, leader of the American museum scientific expedition, which left here in April, 1908, according to a letter received from him in Brooklyn to-day.

In his letter, which is dated "Mouth of the Peace River, October 18, 1910," and is first information received from Stefanson in a year, he says:—

"It does not look on the map that we have done much; we have had predecessors in Dolphin and Union Straits—ours is merely the first winter journey, and the first land journey. Ethnologically, we have done something, and geographically too for we have discovered people in a region supposed to be uninhabited and have lived a few months among people who had never seen a white man or an Indian (thought they had heard of both), and did not even know it was not an Eskimo, so little were they informed on what white men are like. We have discovered Eskimos (in speech and habits) who are Scandinavians in appearance.

"This find is the beginning of the solution of one of the two problems: 'What became of some of Franklin's men?' 'What became of the three thousand Scandinavians who disappeared from Greenland in the fifteenth century?' Or, if neither of these questions is to be answered, then we have introduced a new problem of scientific interest: 'Why do some of the people of Victorialand differ markedly from the rest of their race?' 'Why are they so European in type?'

"Besides this discovery, which was a chance happening, we have done our routine work as well as we could We have discovered no large unknown rivers, but we have discovered the non-existence of a stream which maps make the size of the Hudson River—when the River La Bonclere disappears from the map I shall feel I have done some housecleaning.

"We have found a certain cape to be an island, and a certain island to be a cape; we know the source of the Rae River, of which onl the mouth and the lowest ten miles were seen by Dr. Rae. And a few other odd things we have done that are in the nature of discoveries. But, of course if we deserve any credit, it will be more for our routine work than for any discoveries properly so called."

THREW HIS SWEETHEART FROM LAKE STEAMER

Walter Hopper Arrested for Murder of Grace Lyons By Drowning.

DETROIT, Aug. 27.—Crazed with jealousy because his sweetheart, Grace Lyons, had refused to have anything more to do with him, Walter Hopper of Philadelphia picked the girl up in his arms and threw her overboard from the upper deck of the Puritan in the middle of Lake Michigan late last night.

The boat was forty miles from shore when the deed was committed. Although a boat was lowered within seven minutes the crew failed to recover the body, which was drawn under by the suction of the wheel. News of the murder were flashed to Holland by wireless and officers were waiting when the steamer reached her dock on the Michigan side. Hopper was immediately arrested on a charge of murder, and he will be given a hearing to-morrow.

The prisoner expresses no regret over his action.

According to Hopper's story, he and Miss Lyons had long been sweethearts and they were to have been married in September.

Miss Lyons left Chicago yesterday and it is alleged that Hopper disguised himself and followed her to the boat. When he approached her she upbraided him because he had been drinking. This angered Hopper, and he lost control of himself, he says, and picking up the girl he threw her overboard bodily. Hopper is thirty-one years old and Miss Lyons was twenty-six.

To please men, give them money; to please women, give them beauty.

Fashionable Dressmaking

Our Dressmaking rooms, under the management of Miss Peterson, who has been so successful in this department, will reopen on Monday, August 28th. Ladies desiring to have work done in that department would do well to have their names in at once, as we already have quite a list of those who want garments early. Last season the department was so busy that we were obliged to refuse a number of orders.

We must again request our customers not to ask us to make up any but Our Own Materials. We keep this department as a convenience for those who buy their materials from us and are unable to take any outside materials to make up.

CURRENT COMMENT

The condition of the crossings on Front Street and other streets is anything but a credit to the city. Time for a change.

But think of it! With Canada flooded with United States horses, the Globe would have no trouble in finding new mares' nests every day.

Suppose the press of the United States should resent our rejection of reciprocity as "a slap in the face," to quote the staid old Boston Transcript, what of it? It would only be a slight return for the many "slaps in the face" which successive governments of Canada—not merely the press of the Dominion, be it observed—received during many years from the Government of the United States.

The Grits of Welland are in desperate case. They tried hard, by persuasion and by threats, to force their former representative, Mr. W. M. German, to abandon his opposition to the pact, but without effect. Now like Col. Scott's coon, they have "come down" and have decided against nominating a candidate to oppose Mr. German. They are in an equally bad position in Brantford and in many constituencies in Ontario are only making a show of contesting the election.

Those who scout the idea that the purpose which underlies the support by very many of the people of the United States is the belief that it will lead to the annexation of Canada to that counry, would be rudely undeceived were they to visit the frontier cities on the American side of the border. There the desire for annexation and the belief that reciprocity will ultimately lead to it are expressed by fully four-fifths of the more intelligent class of the people who are casually met. The best—indeed the only—way in which to put a stop to such ideas, is to evidence the devotion of Canadians to their country in its present most satisfactory relationship by turning the Laurier Government out of office.

RECIPROCITY.

There's a heap of talk agoin' 'bout this "reciprocitee,"
An' the ninety million market that's goin' to be free!
The Grits are all a blowin' 'bout the money we kin make,
But I want to tell 'em plain: It's the biggest kind of fake.

The "Yanks" they roped us in before and got the best of us,
Fer Uncle Sam's a shrewd old chap an' a doosed slippery cuss,
An' the Yankee farmer ain't no fool; he knows what he's about,
He'll fill our market with his lambs—there isn't any doubt.

He doesn't want our wheat, for he has wheat to burn.
An' we can sell our butter here—all that our wives can churn.
He'll flood our market with cheap corn, an' oleomargarine,
So Mister Taft can keep his "pact"—us farmers ain't so green.

The farmer is being told that he will benefit from this agreement—that he will get a larger market for his products. The urban dweller is told at the same time that he will benefit by the lowering of the cost of living. It has not yet been demonstrated how the farmers will receive higher prices for foodstuffs and the consumer will at the same time have to pay less for his food under reciprocity. If there is any feature of this election which stands out more boldly than any other it is the inconsistency of the Continentalists. Instead of being given a market of 90,000,000 customers, the farmer is offered a market of 90,000,000 competitors. He is the principal sufferer under the pact. His protection is entirely wiped out by this agreement.

Trouble in bunches is beginning to loom up for Hon. Geo. P. Graham in Brockville. In an open letter, a lifelong Liberal, W. Braund, not only announces his intention of going back on George himself, but calls on all other liberals who have the welfare of their country at heart to do the same. It must sadden Hon Mr. Graham to think that his constituency is not touched by the I.C.R. He could find a way to "fix" matters then.

GET CONFIDENCE OF BOYS

Too Many Rules Make Bad Boys

I asked a teacher of boys known as "incorrigibles," in a home for bad boys, how she managed them, her methods having proved so satisfactory and altogether successful.

"I never say "don't" to my boys until they do something that requires a "don't," and I never say "do this or do that" until I find that they are failing in just this one particular thing," she said.

Her method would appear to mean few rules and regulations, and those individual and arranged to suit the case in hand.

Children can't stand rules and regulations. Such things confuse them and many rules and regulations, too many "thou shalts and thou shalt nots," so muddle the young minds that they are entirely at sea, and apt, mistakenly and unintentionally to mix the rules of conduct, forgetting which is a "shalt" and which a "shalt not."

In any event, this teacher of boys catalogued as "bad," finds that rules and regulations, set and unelastic, will not work; therefore, definite iron clad rules and regulations laid down for the average home boy who isn't bad, must be qually undesirable.

ORIGINALITY IN BUSINESS

New Ideas Means Success.

Have you, as a business man, ever put yourself for a moment in the place of your possible customer and looked at business from his point of view? He can purchase his goods from any one of a hundred or more houses and he has to decide which will have his money.

Think how you yourself would be guided in such a case. In a hundred firms of any one class, you will probably find ninety-nine doing business in precisely the same way, seeking it in the same way by advertising in the same way, selling in the same way, and distributing in the same way. The hundredth scorns to follow on the old traditional lines and strikes out in an original way. People can't remember the ninety-nine and can't forget the one. So the one gets the lion's share of the business.

'Chickens Come Home to Roost.'

A young man in a certain Montreal office put up a joke on the bookkeeper, who was a quiet, steady, serious chap. Everyone was to tell the victim that he looked very, very bad indeed. It was wonderful what effect this would have.

It was a hot August day when the joke began. The office boy started it. 'Ain't ye well, Mr. Quill?' he said 'Yes, of course. Why?' Quill asked 'Why, ye look so pale,' said the boy 'I feel all right,' returned Quill calmly, and he put on his office coat and set to work.

But when the shipping clerk told him he looked ill, Quill frowned and said he had had a bad night — that was all.

When the cashier asked him what made him have such a queer color he said his heart felt strange.

For an hour or so Quill was tormented with anxious inquiries full of gloomy forebodings about his health. Finally, with an impatient, worried gesture, he threw down his pen and hastened to the office of the chief. He was gone about five minutes. When he returned, the chief was with him.

'Men,' said the chief, raising his hand to command the attention of all, 'as Mr. Quill is sick, I have granted him a ten days' leave of absence. Please arrange to divide his work equally among you while he is gone.'

FORTIFYING SAMOAN TUNNEL

Italy and Switzerland fortify Simplon Tunnel.

Both Italy and Switzerland are taking measures to fortify the entrances of the Simplon Tunnel, while in the tunnel itself engineers are engaged in constructing mines and strengthening those already in place in order to be able to blow it up at a moment's notice in the event of war

Near the middle of the tunnel, a few yards from the Swiss frontier, Italian engineers have put in place a double iron door that can resist the rush of an express train travelling at the rate of sixty miles an hour. This iron door is worked by electricity from Iselle, the station at the Italian end of the tunnel, and under ordinary conditions it is hidden in the rocky side of the tunnel. The door is carefully tested once a week. The mines are connected with Brigue and Iselle by electric devices, so that, by the mere pressure of a button, the Simplon Tunnel could be destroyed in a second.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

When the Indians had passed beyond his reach the broncho, quietly returned to the centre of the pasture, from where his fellows had been watching the attempted assault.

"But the northern Indians are quite peaceful, are they not?" queried Miss Wheeler in a slightly anxious voice. "It is several years since there was an uprising in this part of the country."

"I have no doubt we shall get through without serious difficulty, unless that 'speckled devil' starts on the warpath," said Alex.

He little knew how soon he would have need of the services of the animal under discussion,—how the broncho's timely charge upon a band of hostile Sioux would deliver him from one of the most critical moments of his life.

CHAPTER XIV.

The Search Resumed.

Ten days had passed, and everything was in readiness to resume the search for John Grant. Alice had been much interested in the arrangements, and added several conveniences to Alex's outfit, which she surmised would be pleasing to the young man. In spite of their disputes, which proved frequent and amusing, the two young people had become firm friends. His rollicking disposition had been the means of completely restoring her depressed spirits, and in return she bestowed upon him her lasting friendship. She had faith in his expressed determination to locate his lost cousin, and felt that he would never give up the search until the mission had been completed, either in returning him to those who were anxiously awaiting his coming, or obtaining such information as would render further search fruitless. To Mrs. Wheeler he had become as a son.

"We shall expect to hear from you, often," she said as they waited the coming of the horses to the door. "We shall want to know how you are progressing, even if success does not come as soon as you hope."

"I have put a lot of stamped envelopes in your pack, all addressed to myself; so you will only need to scribble on the paper and drop it in the nearest post office," said Alice in a sisterly voice. "You know I am an interested party, and anxious to obtain all possible information."

"I shall keep you posted," he replied. "Duffy says we shall have miles of dense forest to traverse, and occasionally may find it necessary to depend on game for our food. But he knows the route, and I have no fears as to our ultimate success."

"If those woodsmen begin on you, Grant, just keep cool until you locate the ringleader, then lay him out, and do it quick; I guess you are capable," said Mr. Wheeler, with a knowing smile. "There is a bully in every camp, and he has to be thrashed before the rest of the gang can be brought to order. You can depend on Duffy to back you."

"I reckon old Den will be on hand when it comes to a scrap," put in Duffy modestly. "I know every trick of them fellers, as some of them have reason to remember. If it's fight, why, we'll fight with our backs to the wall, and I reckon two scienced fellers is good for about ten apiece."

Alex looked at his loose-jointed comrade, and decided there was more to him than appeared on the surface—a decision that proved true some days later.

Shortly after daybreak the horses, with packs, blankets and necessary equipments for a prolonged journey firmly adjusted, arrived at the door. Alice had presented Alex with her own outing bag, having personally placed the strap over his shoulder, making it just the proper length, so that the bag with its tasty edibles, all provided by her own hands, would rest at the right side of his body, while Duffy slung his old liberal lunch receptacle over his shoulder without feminine assistance.

"Remember a mother's love and return to us as soon as possible," said Mrs. Wheeler as they stood in the hallway. "We have every confidence in the ability of you and Dennis to bring John home. Now, good-bye, and may God be with you every step of the way." Then, putting her motherly arms about his neck, she kissed him affectionately.

For a moment Alice stood undecided, then, going quickly to him, put her hands upon his shoulders, and looked tenderly into his face. "You will bring John back, won't you Alex? And—please take him this—and she raised her red lips.

"God bless and keep you courageous," he said, with a tremor in his voice as he accepted the caress.

"Good-bye, my boy," said Mr. Wheeler, as they were about to mount. "Look out for snags. I leave you in Duffy's hands, who is familiar with all the trails. Duffy, I hold you responsible for Grant's return."

"He'll come back all right," answered Duffy cheerfully, and swinging a long leg over the back of his horse, the woodsman turned in the direction of the highway, his young master closely following. In a few moments they were out of sight.

For the first twenty-five miles rapid headway was made, the travellers skirting the state line and reaching Warren, Minnesota, at ten o'clock. Thence twenty miles farther to the hamlet of Gratzek, where they arrived shortly after twelve, as hungry as only hearty men and beasts can be.

"A good beginning," essayed Duffy, dismounting at the door of an unpretentious inn. Here the horses were barned and fed, their own appetites fully satisfied, and an hour's rest enjoyed, during which Duffy's time was fully occupied with a liberal-sized pipe.

At six o'clock the pretty little village of Hallock was reached, where they were to remain for the night.

"I didn't want to say anything at Wheeler's that would set the women folks worrying, for I seen they took a great notion to you, but now that we are on the way I want to put you on your guard. We are going through one of the hardest lumbering districts in the Northwest. It's full of cut-throats and thieves who are hiding from the law, and going through every pocket they can find if they have to use the knife. They drive out every decent feller that won't become one of them, and it has got so that they come pretty nigh running the entire camps. As a whole, the bosses are pretty good fellers, but when a rumpus starts in they are powerless. I don't much think your cousin is this side of Round Lake, as he is more likely to be in one of the lumber offices. But as this route is a short cut, we will run the risk for the sake of time. They'll probably pick on you, but don't show the white feather. Hold your own agin any of them, and if it comes to a scrap, I'll take a hand and I guess something will happen

(To be Continued.)

PUFFINESS UNDER EYES—HAD SWELLING FEET

THESE SYMPTOMS ARE AMONG THE SUREST INDICATIONS OF KIDNEY DISEASE.

"For nearly a year my kidneys failed to do their work, writes William F. Plankett, a well known dairyman residing at Britannia. "I had swollen feet so badly at times that I could scarcely walk, and my skin grew yellowish, and a general puffiness under the eyes gave my face a very unnatural appearance. My strength failed, and as I am a workingman, loss of time, and the prospect of serious illness caused me great anxiety. I read of several cures from Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to get five boxes. Now I feel it my duty to testify that they are the best kidney, liver and stomach medicine on earth. While my kidneys were so badly affected, after all, I think it was because my liver and bowels were clogged up. Anyway, in less than a month the swelling in my feet ceased—my skin lost its yellowish cast—my eyes grew clear and natural, and, considering my age is nearly sixty, I am as fit as most men. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful medicine that every man can use to advantage."

Don't be misled into using any other pill but Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes at 25c. per box, all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ontario.

SNAPSHOT OF LIONESS

Rifle Shot Saves Plucky Photographer From Death From Charging Animal

A thrilling account of how a photograph was taken of an infuriated lioness, is given in the East African Standard. J. C. Hemment, an American photographer, who was taking pictures for cinematograph purposes was a member of a party starting from Nairobi in pursuit of big game. After a successful trip the party rounded up some eighteen lions, when it was found that a lioness had slipped by the camp. A native bearer took a "pot shot" at the lioness, but only hit her in the left groin, the animal, although disabled, endeavoring to crawl off with the aid of her forelegs.

Mr. Hemment immediately brought out his camera, in the hope of getting a film. He approached within fifty yards of the lioness, supported by three friends with rifles, and had just fixed his camera when the lioness sprang up with a fierce snarl, and charged straight at Mr. Hemment.

The camera was set going, and when the lioness was within twenty five yards a shot was fired, but without effect. Mr. Hemment continued turning the handle until the animal was out of focus. He expected to see the animal fall, but instead of this she steadily advanced, the dazed photographer being unable to move.

It was only when the lioness was within fifteen feet of Mr. Hemment that she was brought down by a shot and fell three feet from the camera.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Belief that much of the Canadian wheat crop which will be offered for sale would be something of a frost-bitten character caused the market to lift somewhat up to-day.

News of low temperatures in the Canadian Northwest appeared to stare the shorts out of countenance in the wheat pit. Considerable covering was done as a result and there was also modest buying on the part of longs who, however, seemed unwilling to take hold in earnest at the end of the week. Owners found encouragement in the fact that export bids for hard varieties were not far from a workable basis. Moreover primary receipts showed a decided falling off, so much so indeed that cash concerns here put noticeable energy into efforts for the purchase of wheat to arrive from Indiana and Illinois. Right up to the last minute, too, Winnipeg sent unvarying warnings of further danger of frost before Monday. In consequence the final tone was steady. During the session December ranged from 94½c to 95¼c to 94⅞ to 95c, last sales.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ⅛d to ⅜d higher than yesterday on wheat, and ⅛d higher to ⅛d lower on corn. Antwerp closed unchanged on wheat, Berlin ⅜c higher, and Budapest ⅛c higher.

MORE LABOR MEN IN NEXT PARLIAMENT.

Attraction of $2000 Per Annum Is Great in Great Britain.

An interesting phase of the British government's proposal to pay salaries to members of parliament in the future at the rate of $2000 per annum is the lamentations of the privileged classes. They say that with salaries about four times greater than the wages they can earn in the shops, factories and mines dangling before their eyes as prizes the labor persons will struggle about ten times harder to be elected to the house of commons.

As the labor party members are all radicals or socialists, the aristocrats, landlords and money lords are complaining that their inherited "rights" will be seriously menaced and that evil days are descending upon their houses. J. Keir Hardie, the socialist leader of the labor party, very politely agrees with the privileged personages for once in his lifetime. Hardie says the number of labor men in the next parliament will be at least doubled and progressive legislation will be [illegible] through.

Burglars Started Fire.

Vankleek Hill, Aug. 28.—Fire was discovered Saturday morning about three o'clock, in the store occupied by Fergus Jamieson. After two hours' hard fighting the fire was under control. The whole of the goods in the store and cellar, as well as the furniture in the dwelling over the store, were badly damaged by fire and water. The fire seems to have started near the safe in the office. The safe was opened and all the money taken out with the exception of some change. Also silverware, cut glass and other goods missing. Mr. Jamieson went to Petrolea on Monday to accompany Mrs. Jamieson home, but has not arrived yet.

The fire is supposed to have been started by burglars. E. S. Labrosse, a merchant, on High street, also found his safe door open yesterday morning when he went into the store to open up. He could not say if anything was missing. He had not left his money in the safe.

All in the Viewpoint.

Mrs. Mary T. Metcalfe, discussing the pure food question at the Gotham Club's meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, smiled and said:

"I heard a food dealer once declare that chemicals in food must be all right, since salt itself was a chemical.

"A queer argument, eh? It depends you see, on the point of view. What won't we say under the influence of the point of view?

"Once, at Niagara, a gentleman said to his hotel proprietor, pointing toward the falls:

"'Glorious, isn't it?'

"'Ah, but it ain't what it used to be,' the proprietor sadly returned.

"'No? Why not?' said the guest

"The hotel proprietor shook his head, 'Too many hotels,' he said."

That absence makes the heart grow fonder but presents have been known to have the same effect.

The Agricultural Aspect of Reciprocity

Ontario farmers, who owe so much to C. C. James, C.M.G., Deputy Minister of Agriculture, will be interested in getting his views on reciprocity. Mr. James, as a Government official, would not express an opinion upon a question that formed an issue between contending political parties. But in 1904, when there was no thought of this country being led into any such foolishness, and while he was an official of the Ross Government, Mr. James made some remarks that should have great weight with the farming community throughout the whole Dominion.

In an address on "Recent Agricultural Progress" before the Natural Science Association, in 1904, Mr. James reviewed the great prosperity which had followed in Ontario after the McKinley and Dingley tariff shutting Canada out of the American market. He laid particular emphasis on the development of the beef, bacon and pork and cheese industries, and then used the following striking words as quoted in The Canadian Agriculturists' Annual for 1906:

"The day may come when we shall feel so grateful to our neighbors to the south as to erect a national monument to the memory of the McKinley tariff bill. If we do, we might reserve a niche for the Dingley tariff bill of 1897. Our trade relations with the United States are very interesting. Where they have endeavored to shut us out from their own markets, they have but stimulated our trade in other directions that have in time proved more remunerative and often when they have excluded us from their market they have driven us to the great neutral market, where we have had a perceptible influence in setting the prices for their own exported surplus and therefore their whole crop.

"The United States tariff has forced us to look across the Atlantic for our markets, and there we have sent our products into competition with the products of the United States

"If we were looking for other arguments as to the unintended benefits to us of United States tariff opposition we might say that the development of self-reliance and independence may outweight even the enlargement of our British trade. To a certain extent we were in leading strings to the United States. We have been developing a Canadian national feeling and increasing our self-reliance."

We may be sure that there is nothing that lies closer to the heart of Mr. C. C. James than the prosperity of the farmer. He has spent the better part of his lifetime thinking for them, and his remarkable success has given him a world-wide reputation. The farmers of Canada can be depended upon to reflect most carefully upon the advice of so true and tried a friend.

Welland

In a telegraphic item from Welland which appeared in The Intelligencer recently, it was stated that Mr. Munroe, the Conservative candidate for that riding had withdrawn from the contest leaving the fight between Mr. German and a straight Laurier candidate, whose nomination the Grits threatened, but whom they finally decided not to place in the field because they saw no chance of defeating Mr. German." We commend Mr. Munroe for the course he has taken, fully concurring in the opinion expressed in the Montreal Star that "no friend of the national cause which seeks to save Canada from the most dangerous attack ever aimed at her integrity, should be exposed to the fire of the anti-Reciprocity forces." Adding "that the Conservatives should welcome the adhesion on this decisive issue of every Liberal who proposes to put patriotism above partyism."

In dealing with this subject Mr. Borden, in his address to the electors of Toronto, gave evidence of true leadership and statesmanship when, in referring to the eighteen prominent Liberals who, considering country first, had cut themselves free from party, said:

"They are entitled to just recognition as men who have stood shoulder to shoulder with us in this fight to prevent a national disaster, as men who have cast aside strong party ties for the sake and in the cause of a United Canada and a United Empire."

Defeat the crew who propose to place Canada under the heel of a foreign country, should be the rallying cry of every true Canadian.

England vs. The United States

It has been pointed out in the Canadian House of Commons by one of its most distinguished members, that during the past six years Great Britain has bought from Canada nearly $300,000,000 worth of goods more than we bought from her. But at the same time we have bought from the United States nearly $600,000,000 worth of goods more than the United States bought from us. The markets of Great Britain are of far more value to Canada than the markets of the United States. Canada has spent nearly a billion of dollars on railways and canals to promote interprovincial and European trade. Is thus enormous sum to be wasted in order that we may hand over our country and its resources to American exploitation, that American mills may grind our wheat and American lumbermen possess our forests and American politicians control our fiscal policy?

MUTINY OF A CREW

Twenty-Six Chinamen Attacked the Officers of a Scottish Vessel

A sensational story of mutiny on the high seas is told by Captain G. J. Perks, of the steamer Skeines, belonging to the Clyde Shipping Company, Glasgow. While the vessel was on its way from New York to Adelaide the Chinese crew of twenty-six mutinied attacked the third engineer, and threatened to kill the first engineer. The ship's coal was so wilfully wasted that the captain decided to put in at Mauritius, 826 miles away. From that moment the engineers deemed it unsafe to enter the stokehold, and decided for mutual protection to keep two men always on the watch. Captain Perks was four days without sleep, being afraid that the Chinese might fire the cargo, consisting of forty-two thousand cases of naptha and benzine. When Mauritius was reached the Chinese were put ashore and natives engaged in their place. On searching the men's quarters concealed weapons of various kinds were found, including a revolver and fifty cartridges.

NEGLECTED HIS DUTIES

Grounds on Which a Frenchman Obtained a Divorce

A petition for divorce, arising out of his wife's neglect of household duties, was granted to M. Louis Dorizon at the Palace of Justice, Paris. The judgment of the court said that M. Dorizon did not omit to point out to his wife the imprudence of her compromising conduct, in neglecting her duties as mistress of the house, but that, nevertheless, when he arrived at meal times, the servants had not received instructions for the ordering of the food. These disorders caused him frequent suffering. Mme. Dorizon led a life of pleasure, and her acts were not those of a woman of her position. In spite of M. Dorizon's reprovals, she persisted in receiving people whom he had forbidden her to visit. These transgressions of her duties constituted a grave injury. Mme. Dorizon was entrusted with the care of her son, aged thirteen months, until he reaches the age of four years, when he will be sent to his father.

That fullness after meals promptly relieved by taking one of Miller's Compound Iron Pills after each meal.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills exactly meet the need which so often arises in every family for a medicine to open up and regulate the bowels. Not only are they effective in all cases of Constipation, but they help greatly in breaking up a Cold or La Grippe by cleaning out the system and purifying the blood. In the same way they relieve or cure Billiousness, Indigestion, Sick Headaches, Rheumatism and other common ailments. In the fullest sense of the words Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are 47

A Household Remedy

THE KEYNOTE OF THE CAMPAIGN.

From the speech of President Taft at the joint banquet of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, held in New York on April 27, 1911.

"I have said that this is a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and in Canada to separate her by a Chinese wall from the United States, and to make her a part of an imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now, or give it up forever."

WHY IT IS CRITICAL?
DOES HE MEAN THAT RECIPROCITY WILL HELP TO HEAD OFF THE IMPERIAL, COMMERCIAL BAND ROUND THE EMPIRE?

A REVIVAL

William A. Sunday, quondam professional revivalist, closed the evangelistic season of 1910-11 the other day with $70,507.77 to the good as a result of his year's work "winning souls to Christ."

This return for about ten months' work, more than the president of the United States has drawn for the same time, is evidence that from a monetary standpoint evangelistic work is more profitable than playing professional baseball. The Rev. Mr. Sunday recently refused an offer to go back to the "majors" once more. The inducement was but $500 a month.

Seven thousand a month looks better to Billy. Besides he thinks he can do more good in the world preaching than playing ball!

During the past season Billy Sunday broke all evangelistic records for money earned.

The Side He Would Choose.

The wit of the Duc de Morny, who was believed to be half-brother to Napoleon III, and his chief assistant in the coup d'etat of 1851, was only equalled by his political sagacity. According to his most recent biographer, Frederic Loliee, he seems to have been an opportunist of the perfect dye. "It is said," a lady remarked to him at a time of political excitement, "it is said that a clean sweep is to be made of the Chamber of Deputies. What will you do Monsieur de Morny?" "Madame," said the maker of the Second Empire, "if the broom is to be used, I shall try to place myself on the side of the handle."

The Eternal Feminine.

"A woman never feels good unless she loves someone."

"The difference between being fond of a woman and being really fond of her is not as easily explained to the woman as to oneself."

"The penalty for a mistake is heavier than the penalty for a sin."

"With life, as with fiction, a woman is always eager to peep at the last chapters first, but a man generally prefers to take the chapters in their order."

OLIVER IS FACING PROBABLE DEFEAT

The Ministers Former Supporters Are Are now Opposing Him in the Contest

(Special correspondence to The Toronto News and The Intelligencer)

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 18.—Reciprocity is not the main issue, by any means, in this part of Alberta. Is Oliver to be or not to be? That is the question; and from present indications it looks as if the Honorable Minister of the Interior will be presently receiving his quietus. Not only in Edmonton, but in the Strathcona and Victoria districts as well, the feeling against Mr. Oliver promises to be a deciding factor in the campaign. Here in his own town and district, the retiring Minster has been deserted by the very element which nominated and supported him at the last election.

The Crosse-Rutherford faction of the Liberal party seems to have fairly knocked Mr. Oliver's chief support from under him. The insurgents held their convention on Wednesday, and, in spite of the forbidding notice issued by Senator Talbot, of Lacombe, chief Liberal organizer for Alberta, adopted unanimously the resolution favoring Mr. Rutherford's nomination as Liberal candidate. Mr. Oliver has set the date of his convention for Tuesday, August 29, and people here are wondering what line of action he will take between now and then. What small forces he has behind him are not organized, Mr. James McGregor, the old district organizer, having thrown in his lot to help Mr. Rutherford.

While all this discussion in the Liberal ranks proceeds to kill off either one or the other of their candidates, the Conservative party has been striding merrily onward, picking up the votes. Mr. Griesbach, a clever young lawyer, who has held the Mayoralty in Edmonton, was proclaimed the Conservative candidate last night at the greatest convention ever held in this city. The popular support of the constituency is most certainly behind Mr. Griesbach, and the prospect of turning what has always been a Liberal victory into a Conservative triumph is almost assured. Mr. Griesbach is following Mr. Borden's lead, by appealing strongly against the reciprocity agreement, and so, while the Liberal rank and file are engaging in a family quarrel, the real issue before the country will be treated alone by the Conservative candidate.

It may be said for the sake of enlightenment that the feud which is being waged against Mr. Oliver in Central Alberta is not so much for the scandal over his $69,000 deposit in the Imperial Bank, as for his interference through his newspaper, The Bulletin, with the Alberta Waterways Deal. While the charges laid against Mr. Oliver at Ottawa have their place in the Conservative side of the present political discussion, the disrupting influence amongst the Liberals is the contention that Mr. Oliver by attacking the old Crosse-Rutherford regime at the time of the attempted flotation of the Alberta Waterways Railway bonds, gave the Central and Northern part of the Province, and particularly Edmonton, such a black eye, that the interests of this new country have been seriously affected Under all this remains a personal prejudice, explained by the close observer as follows—That Mr. Oliver has been more or less afraid of Mr. Crosse for some time, and that the latter's increasing influence in the Province was becoming a menace to the former's position in Federal politics. Whatever truth there may be in the explanation, it is generally conceded that at the present time, Mr. Crosse is merely using Mr. Rutherford as a tool to carry out his purposes. Altogether the strife is one which is likely to bury the Liberal party in Alberta for a considerable period of time.

The feeling which has risen against Mr. Oliver in Edmonton has extended to Victoria district against Mr. White the present Liberal member who has always been known as "the Honorable Frank Oliver's right hand man." Mr Morrison, of Vegreville, has been nominated by the Conservatives to oppose Mr. White, and his election is regarded as certain. In the Strathcona district Mr. Campbell, of Wetaskiwin, has been selected to oppose Mr. Douglas, the present Liberal member, and the feeling is that the influences working against Mr. Oliver will also defeat Mr. Douglas.

The constituencies where the Conservative candidates are regarded as winners, are Calgary, where R. B Bennett, Conservative, will be opposed by Sheriff Van Wart; Lethbridge which is now represented by C. A McGrath, Conservative, and which is being contested by Mr. Buchanan: and lastly, MacLeod, where John Herron, the present Conservative member resides, Dr. Warnock, who will oppose him, having very small prospects of being elected. In Red Deer the American element is so strong and the reciprocity pact is considered so favorably there, that Dr. Clark, the present Liberal member, will be hard to beat.

Out of the seven available seats in Alberta there is every reason to believe that the Conservative party will capture at least five and probably six.

To please men, give them money; to please women, give them beauty.

Big Capture of Snakes

Mr. Webster, England, has accomplished the unusual feat of capturing 380 snakes alive in the Lincolnshire Fens this summer. They have been very abundant this year.

Bees that Do Not Sting

Although provided with a stinging apparatus, a swarm of black bees from Jamaica which have just been added to the Zoological Gardens, never sting. Wherefore they are called angelitos.

Cricket Bat Tragedy

Edmund Robinson, a youth, was committed for trial at Queenstown, charged with the murder of a boy named Philip Pinkney, at Spike Island, by striking him on the head with a cricket bat.

Old Soldier's Dying Wish

"Stand me up, so that I can die like a soldier," was the dying request to his daughters of ex-Color-Sergeant Mark Hampton, of Chelmsford, late of the Rifle Brigade, as he lay at death's door.

Insured for $500,000

New Antarctic Expedition

Forty-eight Eskimo dogs from Greenland, ranging in age from four months to five years, which are to accompany Dr. Douglas Mawson on his Antarctic expedition, were landed at Millwall Docks by the steamship Louise, from Copenhagen.

Bull Breaks Farmer's Leg

Mr. Walter Leitch, a farmer at Hedingham, Essex, was turning a bull into a meadow when the animal turned on him, knocked him down, and gored him. After ten minutes the unfortunate farmer, with a broken leg. was rescued by a farm worker.

VALUE OF AN INDUSTRY

Its Great Monetary Worth to the Community Where It is Located

An interesting and accurate calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community:

It increases the population by 5,000 consumers.

It adds $90,000 to the value of public utilities.

The assessment is increased by $600,000.

It pays out annually in salaries and wages $559,800.

It represents through its buildings and the houses of its employes an investment of $2,000,000.

The annual expenditure in food would be $63,000 in meat, $9,600 in potatoes, $5,000 in sugar, $18,250 in milk, $65,700 in butter, and $27,600 in eggs.

Summed up, this means that an industry employing 1,000 hands is worth $221,600 a year to the farmers of the district.

The expenditure in clothing would be $168,750.

With the annual payment of taxes added to the total expenditure on buildings, food and clothing, you have in all $2,428,350 turned into the town in one year through the coming of one great industry. In conclusion, one may again note the prodigious results which are affected by the presence in Canada of some 435,000 artisans. In round figures these men would mean at least $1,056,322,250 to the Dominion.

An industry employing 1,000 hands may be regarded as a large one, but the same percentage of results would follow in larger or smaller plants, so that one can easily begin to reckon for himself what any particular industry would mean to a town or city.

TREATED WITH CONTEMPT

Russians Say the Chinese Even Fire at Them

The Novoye Vremya, one of the most influential papers in St. Petersburg, virtually declares war against China, and denounces Russia's laissez-faire policy towards the Celestial Empire, which has produced an impossible state of affairs on the Russo-Chinese, otherwise the Manchurian, frontier.

For instance, Russian fishermen, whenever their boats approach the opposite banks of the Amur River, are fired at and mercilessly shot by the Chinese, who also destroy the navigation marks fixed in the river by the Russian authorities. Such marks and also lights have been removed by the Chinese from the River Usuri for a distance of over ten miles. Russian attempts to replace them for the safety of navigators have been opposed by Chinese armed force, and four Russians have been shot on a raft on the Amur.

The Chinese have learned to respect the Hoongoose bandits, but treat Russians with contempt. Blood has already been spilt, says the Novoye Vremya, and violence must be met by violence. Russia's recent ultimatum to Pekin has been nullified by all kinds of Chinese tricks against Russians as regards both Mongolia and Manchuria, which are set out in the very darkest colors in many columns of M. Souvorin's paper.

GALLANT MEN!

More Attacks on Laws That Help Women.

Following the gallant and heroic attack of a few miserly profitmongers upon the women's eight-hour law in California, notice has been given by some of the women fighters in Ohio and Missouri that they intend to test the laws enacted in those states recently establishing a maximum of 54 hours per week for female labor.

Although the best medical authorities in the world agree that modern industrial conditions are shattering the health and ruining the lives of countless thousands of the weaker sex and that shorter hours of toil are imperative as a protection to posterity and although I notice that these same greedy employers, who are everlastingly demanding that workingmen obey the laws, studiously avoid placing their own women and children on the treadmill to grind out profits, they are determined that the women and children of the working class shall not escape with an extra hour or two of freedom, so they are going to fight in the courts to quash this "special privilege."

Benevolence a Natural Instinct of the Mind.

One day the conversation turned upon an obstinate man who was full of prejudices. Sydney Smith who knew his character and opinions, expressed despair. "You might," said he, "as well attempt to poultice the humps off a camel's back". Preferment in the Church, like fortune in the world, has a tendency to make men more conservative, and it was in allusion to this well-known social fact that he observed dryly, "The liberality of church-men generally is like the quantity of matter in a cone—both get less and less as they move higher and higher." "Benevolence is a natural instinct of the human mind. When A sees B in grievous distress, his conscience always urges him to entreat C to help him." "I will do human nature the justice to say," were his words on another occasion, "that we are all prone to make other people do their duty." To one who expressed a very strong opinion, and justified it on the ground that he was "only a plain man," he retorted that he was "not aware what the gentleman's personal appearance had to do with the question."

MAKE YOUR CHILDREN HAPPY

Girls and Boys Should Be Frisky, Gay Little Animals.

Mothers, would you make your children really and truly happy and give them the firmly grounded belief that the world — strange old, wonderful world into which they have been dropped from they know not why — then learn to "frivol." Don't take things — any thing — too seriously. There is nothing in the world so wholly pitiful as a too serious, sober faced little child. Children were meant to be frisky, gay little animals; allow them the privilege of fulfilling their rightful mission of childhood. Don't lay burdens of seriousness on their little shoulders. Soon enough there will be burdens all their own, and if these small shoulders are strengthened and reinforced by childhood years of irresponsible joyousness, they will be ever so much better able and willing to bear burdens all their own!

NO HATPINS NEEDED.

Hatpins are not required for several of the new types of toques. Instead, the drapery trimming of the toques is wound rather tightly around the head and lower part of the toque body in a manner which reminds one of the cloths women wind around their heads as a dust protector when cleaning house. The free end of the drapery is fastened by means of hooks and eyes after being wound.

Children Often Need a laxative—but you cannot be too careful what you give them. Harsh purgatives injure the bowels and pave the way for life-long troubles. The new evacuant in does the work most effectively without irritating the bowels or causing any discomfort. The children like them for they taste like candy. One of the most popular of the NA-DRU-CO preparations.

UNITED STATES WANTS FORESTS

Awakened Too Late to Its Own Needs; Hence Is After Canadian Timber Now

The United States has awakened to the importance of forest preservation at too late an hour, and now Canada is looked to as a source of ultimate relief, when famine shall have rendered the pulp and paper mills of our neighbors devoid of supplies. Many commissions have been appointed across the line to investigate the forest supplies and prescribe remedies for the rapid depletion, but in many parts it is in a vain attempt that work is being done. For instance, the latest State to move in the matter of taking care of its important timber interests, Alabama (whose annual lumber output is valued at $5,000,000), appropriates $500 for carrying out the provisions of the act, providing a commission with various duties. The great State of Minnesota whose forest products in one year approach in value $45,000,000, devotes less than $12,000 to its forest interests and $20,000 on prairie planting. The State of Maine, which still cuts around one billion feet, and is indebted to the forest for a product of $18,000,000 in value, keeps within the modest sum of $25,000 to pay for the protection against fire and the support of a commissioner. Examples of such picayune and inadequate measures are found in many other States.

The only two States which have not hesitated to spend money for forestry purposes are New York and Pennsylvania. The former, in purchasing forest land for a preserve, which now comprises about one and a half million acres only, has expended millions of dollars, and is annually appropriating money for further purchase, besides liberal provision for its Forest, Fish and Game Commission. But, alas! the policy of forest reservation which had begun on economic grounds, has degenerated into providing a pleasure ground—a park—for the wealthy, and there is little consideration to economic forest questions given by the State or the Commission. Pennsylvania is the only State which can be said to have started on a true policy of recuperation, buying up waste lands, protecting them, and in a small way beginning to reforest them, an appropriation of about $500,000 being at the disposal of the Forest Commission.

WHAT THE HOME MARKET CONSUMES

The Lesson of the Figures of Three Big Grain Crops and Also the Root Products

Canada's home market has been termed by some free traders as "a joke." Without the demand from this so-called "joke," however, the vast proportion of the Canadian crops would be left on the farmers' hands each year.

The official Government returns of the crops of Canada in 1909, the latest year given in the Canada Year Book, were as follows:

	Quantity, bushels.	Value.
Wheat	166,744,000	$141,320,000
Oats	353,466,000	122,390,000
Barley	55,398,000	25,434,000

These are the three big crops which can be most readily shipped, most cheaply handled by railways, and are most in general demand everywhere. Government returns show that during the year in question Canada exported:

	Quantity, bushels.	Value.
*Wheat	56,958,620	$80,988,620
Oats	5,255,610	2,175,765
Barley	2,959,335	1,744,687

*(This includes the wheat flour, counted as 4½ bushels of wheat to the barrel).

Thus, of $289,000,000 of Canada's largest and most easily shipped crops, the whole outside world took less than $85,000,000 worth. The home market consumed over two hundred and four million dollars' worth more than we sold to all the rest of the world.

Now let us look at the conditions as to root crops. The official returns for 1909 give the yield of the Canadian farms to have been:

	Quantity, bushels.	Value.
Potatoes	99,087,200	$36,399,000
Turnips	107,724,600	18,197,500

Of this we sold abroad as follows:

Potatoes	1,560,632	$919,189
Turnips	1,026,776	150,448

The home market consumed $53,500,000 worth, and the rest of the world bought $1,069,637 worth of our principal root crop, such as is used in every home.

Hay is another of our big crops, and one which is always in demand. In 1909, Canada raised 11,877,100 tons, valued at $131,644,000 worth, while the rest of the world bought from us 55,884 tons, or something over $600,000 worth.

What about live stock? The official returns show that Canada had, in 1909, $278,789,000 worth of horses and exported $367,256 worth. Indeed, we imported $941,767 worth. Our horned cattle, other than milch cows, in 1909, were valued at $126,326,000.

Statistics of certain industries of Canada were taken officially in 1906. The figures are instructive. In slaughtering and meat packing, and slaughtering without packing, the production was something over $29,000,000. Our total export of meats of all kinds that year was only a shade over $2,000,000, and this included poultry and game. In 1909, we sold to the whole world outside of Canada only $1,900,000 worth of meats. Thus, it will be seen, something of how important our home meat market is, and how dangerous it would be to allow it to be destroyed.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN IN EXCITING DUEL

Terrible Battle Between Italian Girls Near the Italian Royal Palace in Settling a Love Affair

Rarely has such an exciting duel been fought as that which took place recently between two young women of the criminal classes at the entrance to the Villa Borghese, a short distance from the palace of Queen Margherita. The principals in this extraordinary combat were Angelina Fabiani and Pasqualina Nobili, respectively 20 and 24 years of age, both natives of the Abruzzi, and they were assisted in the duel by nine men, three on one side and six on the other. The quarrel began as far back as May, 1910, when Fabiani having "stolen" Nobili's lover, the latter revenged herself by stabbing her rival. Nobili went to prison, and as soon as she was released she swore to get even with Fabiani, chiefly because, contrary to the custom among criminals, she had revealed the name of her assailant. As soon as she came out of prison she began to search for Fabiani. Her industry was rewarded when she met Fabiani and her lover in the Piazza Colonna. Compliments were exchanged, and in the end Fabiani's lover struck Nobili, who thereupon challenged her rival to a "rustic duel." The challenge was accepted. At the appointed hour the combatants and their respective "suites" were on the spot. They faced each other for a moment, holding long knives in their hands. A particularly gross insult from Fabiani stung Nobili to fury, and bounding forward like a tigress, she plunged her knife up to the handle into Fabiani's abdomen. In spite of the terrible wound thus inflicted, Fabiani continued to battle, and the two women slashed blindly at each other. Meanwhile the seconds or the supporters of the two infuriated women were becoming anxious to take part in the battle. The friends of Nobili were armed with knives; those of Fabiani with cudgels. Soon the cudgels were whirling in the air, dealing blows on backs, arms, and legs, while the men with the knives sought in vain to get to close quarters with their opponents. Nobili clenched with Fabiani and bit her severely in the right wrist. Then her cavaliers, finding that they could not overcome their adversaries' cudgels, gave up the contest and rushed along the Via Vineto. Fabiani's supporters gave chase. While all this was happening, not a policeman had appeared in sight. While Nobili was washing her face at a neighboring fountain two policemen came up and arrested her, as well as her supporters, who had returned. Fabiani was taken, in a desperate condition, to the hospital, where at first she refused to say how she had come by her terrible wounds. But finally the whole of the drama came to light, and Fabiani's supporters were also arrested.

KING NICHOLAS OF MONTENEGRO

With the war clouds lying low on the Montenegro border, King Nicholas, whose country is sheltering thousands of homeless Albanians, has made public a list of social functions whose diplomatic significance is believed to denote a pacificatory ending of Montenegro's troubles. The King will entertain the British, Russian, German and French ambassadors at a series of dinners and receptions covering a space of some three weeks, and it is believed that the semi-official discussions of the Balkan question arising therefrom will have a tendency toward a better understanding between these powers and Montenegro.

NEW TYPE OF DESTROYER

A Inter-Combustion Engine in Combination With Turbines

One of the twenty torpedo-boat destroyers of the present year's programme, will be of a new type. It will mark the introduction into the Navy, in an experimental form, of the intercombustion engine for marine propulsion. For some time past oil engines have been used in men-of-war with complete success for driving electric dynamos and for propelling small boats. In the special destroyer which is about to be built the new kind of engine will be fitted in combination with turbines, and thereby not only will valuable experience be obtained, but a vessel will be produced which, it is believed, will have a far greater radius of action than any craft now in the service.

FREE FISH SUPPERS

The inhabitants of the Holy Isle had free fish suppers the other day. A steam drifter, with nine tons of fish aboard, stranded on the island, and the cargo had practically to be given away to the natives.

FARMERS WHO HAVE PROTECTION

European Countries Believe in Aiding Home Industries—What Has Been Done

While matters other than the tariff have governed the degree of agricultural prosperity in various countries, a study of economic history shows that the farmer owes much to protective tariffs.

Germany

There is little disposition in Germany to abandon agriculture and to open German ports to the free admission of the farm products of other countries. In 1882, the population was 45,500,000. Agriculture gave employment to 8,500,000 laborers, with nearly 11,000,000 families and servants dependent upon them for existence, making 19,500,000 persons in all or 42.5 per cent. of the total population. The policy of maintaining agriculture, as well as manufacturing, as the principal means of subsistence, is making Germany a strong nation and one to be feared in the world's markets.

While Germany has made treaties with certain favored nations, it is noticeable that they have not opened the door to many countries which have any considerable export of cereals to that country. In German politics, there is a strong agrarian party opposed to such treaties, in so far as they apply to agricultural products.

Russia

Russia has long been a type of extreme protection. The old mercantilist point of view was closely allied with protectionism, as shown in the Act of 1823. The liberalizing forces prevailing about 1850 produced almost no impression upon the tariff system of Russia. Some very slight concessions were made in 1851 and 1855 to the needs of foreign trade, but the revival of protectionism in Europe was not needed to restore that policy in Russia. In 1880 1882 and 1885 the duties were successively raised. Before 1885, the range of duties were as high as those of Spain and the United States; and since then its tariff is probably unequalled by any modern state, due largely to the fear of English and German competition.

Fifteen years ago, nearly 90 per cent. of the Russian people were engaged in agricultural and rural pursuits, and about 1,000,000,000 acres of land were more or less under cultivation. Abundance of pasture lands makes stock raising profitable.

France

"Since 1848," said Mulhall in 1888, "no less than 9,000,000 acres of waste land have been reclaimed in France. The protection and encouragement given to the French farmers not only directly benefitted the peasantry but greatly added to the wealth of the nation. Nearly every foot of soil is extremely well cultivated in France. Many people have been kept on the soil, thus preventing the overcrowding of cities and the struggle for places among laborers in industrial centres, which would have occurred had France pursued the English policy of opening her ports to the free admission of farm products of other countries, and ruined and impoverished her agriculturists.

In 1882 general revision of the French tariff went into effect, which, while freeing raw materials, and taxing half-manufactured articles moderately, increased the duties on live stock and fresh meats. Thus manufacturers were not highly protected as yet. The agricultural depression led to the Acts of 1885 and 1887, in which much higher duties were imposed on wheat, flour, rye, barley, oats, cattle, sheep, pigs and fresh meat. In 1892 more protection was added; and France in 1896 (followed by Russia, Spain, Norway, Greece, Brazil and the United States) introduced the system of maximum and minimum tariffs.

Austria-Hungary

Preceding, and following the war of 1866, duties were considerably lowered in Austria-Hungary, and it was not until 1882 that all thoroughly protective duties were restored. The Austrian and Hungarian Governments do all in their power to promote native industry. Agriculture is the chief occupation of the people, the productive land being more than 90 per cent. of the total area. The principal product is grain, including wheat, rye, oats, maize, barley, buckwheat and millet. Flax, hemp, beets, hops, tobacco and vegetables are also raised in large quantities. The increase in production of agricultural products, fostered by protection, has given a great impetus to the making at home of farming implements.

Belgium

In 1844 Belgium adopted protection for the first time, and Holland followed the next year.

In 1895 about one fifth of the population of Belgium were agriculturists. The total value of agricultural products in 1880 was $282,000,000 and of animal produce $48,000,000.

Italy

Upon the union of the Italian states the old customs barriers were removed to the frontier and maintained almost exclusively for revenue purposes. But about 1870, the necessity of protecting agriculture, the importance of establishing industries and adopting an industrial policy in harmony with the other States of Europe, became fully recognized. The revenue policy was abandoned and a system of protection to home industries established.

United States

Under a vigorous policy of protection, one which the United States is willing to abandon in respect to Canada in order to obtain her markets, the value of farm and farm property in the neighborhood increased, as the following table shows:

Year.	Value.
1850....................	$3,967,343,580
1860....................	7,980,493,060
1870....................	8,944,857,749
1880....................	12,180,501,538
1890....................	16,082,267,689
1900....................	20,514,001,838

The census which has just been taken in the United States will undoubtedly show still greater values.

GURNEY-OXFORD

THREE COOKS AND THREE REASONS

These three cooks differ widely in ability and experience, but all are agreed that the prime essential in good cooking is the stove on which to cook, and all concede that every stove necessity is met in a

GURNEY-OXFORD RANGE

For no matter how much or how little cooking is done; no matter what the experience given or required, there are certain prime requisites for every kitchen range. Whether the cook be a professional chef or the young bride with only "him" to please, the stove must furnish these three essentials—steadiness and control of heat, even baking facilities, and a grate that gives plenty of air to the fire with a saving of fuel and convenience in handling.

For these three problems—on which all cooks are agreed—the GURNEY-OXFORD RANGE has three answers, three good reasons why.

THE OXFORD ECONOMIZER is a small lever for the steady maintenance of heat, licensed for use only on Gurney-Oxfords. It effects a remarkable saving in fuel as well as labor. Nothing can go up the chimney but smoke and odor.

The Divided Flue Strip distributes the heat evenly, front as well as back of oven, thus securing against failure in baking. There is no better test of practical stove work than this oven control.

Are you always dusting? The Gurney-Oxford Reversible Grate saves dirt and labor; one-half turn and the ashes are out, while the interlocking teeth grind the hardest clinker.

There are plenty of other "reasons" for the advantage of the Gurney-Oxford, as a call on us will convince you. Come in and see our varied line, and we will demonstrate all these features to your entire satisfaction.

WAGNER'S FIRST FAILURE

Famous Composer Tells of the Experience in His Autobiography.

The composer Wagner, in his autobiography, which has been translated into English, tells of his first failure in these words:

The first item on the programme was called by the exciting title, "New Overture" — nothing more.

I had surreptitiously listened to the rehearsal with some misgiving. I was very much impressed by the coolness with which Dorn fenced with the apparent confusion which the members of the orchestra showed with regard to this mysterious composition. The principal theme of the allegro was contained in four bars. After every fourth bar, however, a fifth bar had been inserted, which had nothing to do with the melody, and which was announced by a loud bang on the kettledrum on the second beat. As this drummer stood out alone, the drummer, who continually thought he was making a mistake, got confused and did not give the right sharpness to the accent as prescribed by the score.

Listening from my hidden corner, and frightened at my original intention, this accidentally different rendering did not displease me. To my genuine annoyance, however, Dorn called the drummer to the front and insisted on his playing the accents with the prescribed sharpness. When, after the rehearsal, I told the musical director of my misgivings about this important fact, he stuck to it that the thing would sound very well as it was.

In spite of this assurance my restlessness grew, and I had not the courage to introduce myself to my friends in advance as the author of the "New Overture." I had forgotten to buy a ticket and was refused admission by the man at the door.

Suddenly the tuning up of the orchestra grew louder and louder, and I thought I should have to miss the beginning of my work. In my anxiety I revealed myself to the man at the door as the composer of the "New Overture," and in this way succeeded in passing without a ticket.

The overture began. After the theme of the "black" brass instruments had made itself heard with great emphasis, the "red" allegro theme started, in which, as I have already mentioned, every fifth bar was interrupted by the drum beat from the "black" world. The fatal drum beat, brutally hammered out, entirely deprived me of my senses.

I heard my neighbors calculating the return of this effect. Knowing the absolute correctness of their calculation, I suffered ten thousand torments and became almost unconscious. At last I awoke from my nightmare when the overture, to which I had disdained to give what I considered a trite ending, came to a standstill almost unexpectedly.

No phantom like those in Hoffman's "Tales" could have succeeded in producing the extraordinary state in which I came to my senses on noticing the astonishment of the audience at the end of the performance. I heard no exclamations of disapproval, no hissing, no remarks, not even laughter. All I saw was intense astonishment at such a strange occurrence, which impressed them, as it did me, like a horrible nightmare. Nothing, however, equalled the pain of coming face to face with the man at the door. The strange look he gave me haunted me ever afterward, and for a considerable time I avoided the pit of the Leipsic Theatre.

England in 1800.

The British census figures show that at the beginning of this century the population of England and Wales was under ninemillions, not very much greater than that of Canada today. In 110 years this population has been quadrupled; a very substantial increase when the smallness of the area is considered, and when account is taken of the large emigration to vaster and more sparsely settled regions.

The way out of trouble is rougher than the way in.

"LIFE'S LULLABY"

Man is a Hypocrite from Birth to Death.

Man comes into this world without his consent, and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings by the balance of his species. In his infancy he is an angel, in his boyhood he is a devil, in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his duties he is a damn fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he raises a small cheque he is a thief and then the law raises the devil with him, if he is a poor man he is a poor manager and he has no sense; if he is rich, he is dishonest but considered smart; if he is in politics you place him as he is, an undesirable citizen; if he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church he is a sinner and damned; if he donates to foreign missions he does it for show; if he doesn't he is stingy and a tight wad. When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; when he goes out, they all want to kick him. If he dies young there was a great future before him, if he lives to a ripe old age he is simply in the way and living to save funeral expenses. This life is a funny road, but we all like to travel it just the same.

Rejected from the Pew.

The danger of judging too quickly by appearance is illustrated in a good story told to-day of the late Mrs. Ware, widow of the Bishop of Barrow-in-Furness.

Two strangers entered a North Country church. They were directed to a luxurious pew occupied by a fashionably-dressed woman. The occupant became angry at the intrusion, and in blunt language insisted on them leaving the pew at once. The strangers did so. After the service someone approached the angry pew-owner and said, "Do you know who those ladies were who wanted to sit in your pew?" "No," she replied, "they were nobody in particular, I am sure." "Oh, well," was the crushing reply, "one was the wife of the Bishop of Carlisle, and the other, her daughter, the wife of the Bishop of Barrow-in-Furness."

Newspapers in Salonica.

In Salonica, Turkey, there are fifteen newspapers and nine weekly or monthly reviews published, with a total circulation of about 40,000. The newspapers are mostly small two sheet affairs, badly printed on cheap paper. The reading of the newspapers, however, has increased greatly in the last two years and will increase still more when more liberty is given to the press.

Salonica is the meeting-place of the East and West. Nearly all religious in the world have representatives there, and every day of the week is a Sunday to one or other of these religious organizations.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

TWENTY-SIX ARE DEAD

Panic in Picture Show Takes Terrible Toll of Life.

Cinematograph Develops a Defect and Boy Shouts Out "Fire," at Which Crowd Struggle to the Door—Twenty-Five Others Are Seriously Injured—Victims Were Suffocated Under Fighting Mob.

Canonsburg, Penna., Aug. 28.—Twenty-six dead from suffocation, twenty-five seriously injured, thirty suffering from minor hurts. That is the human toll exacted Saturday night during an inexcusable panic at a moving-picture show in the Canonsburg Opera House. The moving picture machine developed a slight defect. There occurred a noise like a "click." A small boy shouted "Fire!" at the same time starting for the narrow exit. Bolus Dubrowski, a foreign miner, a giant in proportions, jumped from his seat and ran wildly for the same exit. In a moment there was a fighting, struggling mass after him. At the head of a narrow stairway, which led to the street, the foreigner tripped. As he rolled down the stairs he swept others from their feet, who were awaiting their turn to enter the theatre, and soon there was an indescribable pile of humanity at the foot of the steps, battling like mad.

It was all over within a short time. Volunteer firemen, several policemen and a few level-headed citizens untangled the human mass. The unhurt and those slightly injured were pulled from the top of the pile. As they gained the street they ran screaming like maniacs to all parts of the small town. Next came the more seriously hurt, and these were sent home or taken to nearby houses, while a few were rushed unconscious to hospitals. Then the rescuers came to the silent forms of those who had reached the fatal stairway first. One after another the victims, many of them women and small children, were carried to the sidewalk. All had been suffocated, and the faces showed terror.

Coroner James T. Hefran has begun a rigid investigation. He arrived at the scene early yesterday, and within a short time had secured a jury.

Measurements taken by members of the jury showed the stairway leading to the second floor of the building, the main floor of the opera house, to be only six and one-half feet wide, while the doorway at the bottom was not more than eight feet high.

It is customary to give two or three performances each evening, and Saturday the moving picture machine operator was about to complete the first when a film parted. Some of the audience had already commenced to leave the building and other persons were on the stairway coming up.

Dubrowski's wild flight through the theatre and his subsequent stumble down the stairs into those entering the building, was the beginning of the death-struggling jam at the foot of the stairs. The bodies clogged the doorway. Men walked over them and fought for positions of safety until, overwhelmed by the weight from the moving mass behind, they too were crushed down to death. When the doorway had been filled still other persons walked over the bodies of those who had gone down, and breaking the glass transom over the door crawled through and dropped into the street.

During this time Manager Ferguson had endeavored to stop the panic. Accompanied by his wife he started for the stairs when the first alarm was given, but seeing there was no escape there, he made his way to the stage. Calling loudly to the frightened people to follow him, he led the way to the rear of the stage, and fully three hundred escaped in this way.

Of the twenty-six dead, thirteen were children, seven of them pupils in the public schools. Yesterday it was decided by the school authorities to postpone for a week the opening of the schools.

One Way of Lowering Prices.

New York, Aug. 28.—The fourth attempt in three weeks to blow up a butcher shop occurred here on Saturday, and the police believe that the bomb-throwers are taking this means to protest against the high price of meat.

The bomb which exploded early on Saturday in front of a shop on Christie street smashed all the windows in that establishment and the one adjoining and blew a large hole in the sidewalk, but hurt nobody. The occupants of the neighboring tenements swarmed out into the streets and the police reserves were called to quiet the panic.

Showed Lack of Courtesy.

Port Colborne, Aug. 28.—The United States cruiser Hawk arrived Sunday afternoon and remained a few hours in this harbor. Attention was called to the pronounced discourtesy shown by the cruiser Hawk not displaying the Canadian flag when visiting a foreign country. When the cruiser Hawk sailed the private American yacht Labelle was entering the harbor flying the American ensign over its stern and the Canadian colors at his foremost head.

Killed In Race.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 28.—Near the end of the road race Saturday Sam Jacobs, mechanician for Dave Buck, was killed and Buck himself was injured when the Pope-Hartford in which they were speeding left the track and turned completely over.

Buck was traveling at about 65 miles an hour when he threw a tire. His car jumped off the track, throwing the driver out and inflicting what may prove fatal injuries. His machinist was crushed to death instantly.

Mike Zima Released.

Hamilton, Aug. 28.—Mike Zima, the foreigner, who was held pending the inquest into the death of Pavel, the wealthy Roumanian, whose back was broken in a fall at his home, was released yesterday.

NURSE LOSES HER LIFE

Miss Hattie Gates Drowned in Launch Disaster.

Ferry Hits Motorboat on Toronto Bay and Two Ladies and Owner of Craft Are Thrown Into Water—Clayton Smith Tried to Run His Boat in Front of Island Steamer, But Proves Too Slow.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Run down by a ferry boat on the bay at 9.30 Saturday night, a gasoline launch went to the bottom and Miss Hattie Gates, aged 36, a nurse, of 45 Rose avenue, was drowned. Two others, Miss Hill, another nurse, of 107 East Gerrard street, and Clayton Smith of 543 College street, owner of the boat, were rescued. Miss Hill, who went down three times, held her hand over her mouth in order to keep the water out of her lungs.

Smith tried to run his launch across the bow of the Toronto Ferry Co.'s boat, F. R. Clark. When half-way across the bow of the ferry crashed into the launch and ran right over it.

Both Miss Hill and Smith are confined to their home, suffering from shock. Both were bruised and shaken up pretty badly.

The launch did not try to pass the ferry at right angles, but raced up from a little to the rear on the port side, so the captain, who was looking ahead, did not see them coming up.

Smith apparently depended on the speed of the launch to carry him safely past the ferry. The speed of the launch was 18 miles per hour.

John McNab, the engineer of the "Clark," did a remarkably hazardous feat in an effort to save the launch. He was looking out of the port side of the boat and he saw the low-lying launch speed toward the bow of the ferry. Leaping to his engine McNab reversed the propeller without turning off the steam. The action shook the ferry so much that several people were thrown from their feet. Reversing the engines without shutting off the steam is very dangerous, for it is liable to blow everything up. Just as the engineer threw over his lever the bells ordering him to reverse were rang from the bridge.

Though the ferry stopped in a remarkably short distance, it went too far to save the launch.

FROST WAS SEVERE.

Parts of West Suffered Heavily From Cold Spell.

Winnipeg, Aug. 28.—Severe frost has done considerable damage to standing crops in Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan and around Regina. Men arriving in Winnipeg say that it is the worst blow the prairies have had for many years. There was ice in shallow vessels left outside of houses. One man said he had only five acres cut and the rest of his crop was practically ruined. This was only the second time in twenty years that he has been touched. Cutting was so backward that a large percentage of the grain in the two more western provinces must have suffered more especially at it has been so wet within the last week.

In the towns it did not affect the plants much but struck the vegetables badly. The main streets and market centres are to-day lined with rigs from the country, and the farmers are talking of nothing but the frost. They say they do not remember ever having seen so severe a frost in August. Cucumbers, vines, melons and potatoes were cut down by the frost, and it is impossible to say what has been the damage to wheat.

There was ice in the water troughs, and the most of the farmers agree it came near to being a black frost. The sky was cloudy, but the wind changed to the southwest at daybreak. It was not as cold as at sunrise when frost was falling fast. The grass snapped when driving over it. The damage is undoubtedly heavy.

Gilbert Plains, Man., Aug. 28.—There were over six degrees of frost Friday night which must have done considerable damage. Very little wheat is cut in this district.

Frost in Saskatchewan.

Grenfell, Sask., Aug. 28.—Heavy frost occured here Friday night, the thermometer registering as low as 26 above zero, and most garden stuff suffered severely.

Wolsely, Sask., Aug. 28.—Farmers in this neighborhood report from three to six degrees of frost on Friday night. Cutting has commenced, but harvesting is not yet general. Sunday's hailstorm caused from 10 to 40 per cent. damage.

Cars Are Delayed.

St. Catharines, Aug. 28.—Traffic on the entire system of the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway was tied up for several hours Saturday, owing to an accident to the power transmission line at Thorold. The cables of the transmission line cross beneath the canal at Thorold, owing to vessel traffic. Saturday morning at 11 o'clock the steamer Ames, which was unloading near N. S. and T. swing bridge, broke from her moorings and started down stream. To prevent smashing into the bridge, the anchor was thrown out and caught in the cables at the bottom of the canal, dragging them along and putting them out of commission.

Automatically every car on the Falls, Port Dalhousie, Welland and local line stopped and for several hours not a wheel turned. A crowd of Toronto excursionists coming on trolleys from the steamer Dalhousie City at Port Dalhousie had to foot it part of the distance to the city park.

Returns to Canada.

Kingston, Aug. 28.—J. M. Campbell, formerly of Kingston, has resigned the position of head of the Buffalo, Lockport and Rochester Railway, with headquarters at Rochester. He will return here. His resignation takes effect September 1.

BOWELL ON THE STUMP

Veteran Conservative Welcomes Borden in Napanee.

Opposition Leader's Arrival In Bay of Quinte District Is Like a Home-Coming and Eighty-Eight-Year-Old Senator Warns Canadians Against the Danger of Breaking the Tie With the Empire.

Napanee, Aug. 28.—R. L. Borden Borden concluded the second week of his whirlwind campaign in Ontario with a large meeting here Saturday afternoon, which was attended by some fifteen hundred persons. It was like a home-coming for the Conservative leader, for he was welcomed into the Bay of Quinte district by Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who, notwithstanding his eighty-four years, declares it as his duty to warn the people of Canada against the evils of reciprocity. His energy would do credit to a much younger man. Mr. Borden motored from Campbellford and made a short stop at Belleville, where an informal reception was held. The meeting at Napanee was held in the Harvey Warner Park, and business was practically suspended while speaking was in progress. From all parts of the district farmers drove in to hear Mr. Borden and his associates.

The Conservative leader divided his time between reciprocity and a discussion of the acts of folly perpetrated by the Laurier Government. He pointed to the wanton extravagance of the administration, inveighed against the bribery of constituencies by useless public works, and declared in favor of liberal appropriations from the Dominion Treasury to foster agriculture and improve highways.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell called history "to testify as to the intention of the United States in connection with the reciprocity agreement. He could see the spectre of continentalism concealed in the agreement. "Has not the policy of the United States been the absorption of every foot of this continent?" he asked amid cheers. "Did they not seize Texas and California? Did they not acquire, by purchase from Russia, Alaska, which should have belonged to Canada? Did they not take advantage of an opportunity to obtain control of the Hawaiian Islands? Did they not enter upon a most unjustifiable war with Spain to secure possession of the Phillipine Islands?"

British blood which coursed through the veins of Canadians would rise against any such attempt on the part of the United States towards the Dominion. He could not forget that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had predicted the separation of Canada from the Empire, "as the ripe fruit falls from the parent branch." "His idea," declared the ex-Prime Minister, "is either the independence of Canada or its absorption by the United States."

H. A. Baker, president of the Conservative Association of Lennox and Addington, was in the chair. Among those on the platform were: John Gallagher, M.P.P.; A. A. Richardson, M.P.P.; J. W. Johnston, M.P.P.; W. C. Mikel, Belleville; Rev. Alexander McDonald, T. G. Carscallon, M.P.P.; W. F. Nickle, K.C., M.P.P.; Charles Bowell, Belleville; Donald McIntyre, Kingston.

Borden In Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—R. L. Borden arrived in Ottawa yesterday morning after a two weeks' anti-reciprocity campaign in Ontario. The Conservative leader spent the day quietly at his home and left this morning for Brockville. Mr. Borden looks and feels none the worse for his strenuous campaign in Ontario.

Hon. George E. Foster was another arrival in the capital yesterday. Mr. Foster is on his way to the Maritime Provinces, and is billed to speak in a long list of meetings up to the day of polling.

Sunk In Collision.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 28.—The steel steamer W. H. Gilbert of the Pittsburg Steamship Co., collided with the wooden steamer City of Genoa of the Gilchrist Transportation Co. of Cleveland, in the St. Clair River, opposite this port, in a dense fog on Saturday.

The Genoa sank with a big hole in her port side. She was anchored at the time of the accident and the Gilbert was bound down with ore. The crew of the Genoa escaped on the Gilbert, which was in charge of Capt. Hanley of North Tonawanda, N.Y.

GUELPH MAN WINS.

Captain Crowe Captures Governor-General's Prize.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—Captain C. R. Crowe of Guelph won the Governor-General's Prize, the blue-ribbon event in Canadian rifle shooting, when he defeated Sergt. J. Battershill of the 90th Regiment, Winnipeg, in the shoot-off at the Dominion Rifle Association matches Saturday. Captain Crowe's score for the shoot was 23 and Sergt. Battershill's 21.

Captain Crowe had been a leader in the grand aggregate up to about the last day, when he dropped somewhat and Sergt. Battershill nosed out ahead, winning the first prize in the grand aggregate. In the first stage of the Governor-General's it was Captain Crowe's turn and he pulled out winner of this stage with a score of 98, while Sergt. Battershill was three points behind.

At the end of the two-stage match they were neck and neck, each with 191.

There was a large crowd from the city to watch the finish of the great match and Earl Grey arrived just in time to see the final.

It is indeed unusual that of this year's Bisley team, only one, Captain Mortimer, will be on next year's, and in this Bisley team of twenty, there are only seven who have been on a Bisley team before at any time.

The team is:—Lieut. J. A. Steele, 1st C.A.S.C., 453; Sergt. J. W. Battershill, 90th, 451; Corpl. A. Rutherford, Q.O.R., 442; Captain C. R. Crowe, 30th, 442; Pte. H. Auld, 90th, 439; Captain T. Mitchell, R.L., 437; Lieut. A. M. Blackburn, 90th, 434; Captain J. Sclater, 6th D.C.O.R., 434; Pte. A. B. Mitchell, 48th, 434; Sergt. E. McInnis, P.E.I. L.H., 434; Sergt. J. H. Armstrong, 66th, 432; Corpl. J. H. Regan, 101set, 431; Col.-Sergt. J. Stoddart, 91st, 431; Pte. R. Storrar, 48th, 431; Sergt.-Maj. W. Dymond, R.C.R., 430; Sergt. W. A. Smith, G.G.B.G., 430; R.S.M.E. McDougall, 5th C.G.A., 430; Corpl. G. Mortimer, 8th R.R., 430; Major H. C. Blair, 78th., 430; Lieut. A. B. Maggs, 74th, 430.

LAURIER AT VALLEYFIELD.

Premier Brings His Tour In Quebec to a Close.

Valleyfield, Aug. 28.—The closing meeting of the campaign of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the Province of Quebec, held in Valleyfield on Saturday, proved to be one of the biggest of the week. Nearly 7,000 people listened to the Prime Minister, Mr. Lemieux and Hon. Sydney Fisher with appreciation, and much enthusiasm was displayed. Sir Wilfrid left Saturday evening for the Maritime Provinces. Valleyfield is one of the busiest manufacturing and industrial towns near Montreal. The immense plant of the Montreal Cotton Co., the water power developed by the Canadian Light & Power Co., and many other large enterprises make it a centre of considerable importance.

Sir Wilfrid was well received. In dealing with annexation he said: "It is simply arrant nonsense. Annexation could only come either by conquest or by voluntary agreement. No one hints of the intention of the United States to conquer us by war; and if ever the Canadian people are asked to vote in favor of annexation it will not be by the Laurier Government or by a Liberal Government." The Toronto Board of Trade manifesto he considered an insult to the intelligence of the people. "We want to remain Canadians, and Canadians we shall remain, whether the United States shall trade with us or not. I tell the United States that the great mistake they have made for the past fifty years was to treat Canada as a negligible quantity."

The speaker traced the history of reciprocity, covering familiar ground. "It is not the manufacturers who are against reciprocity," he said, "because it does not harm them. The farmers benefit by it, and when the agricultural classes are rich the country is rich. Reciprocity benefits the workingman of Valleyfield as much as any man in the country."

MYSTERY IN DEATH.

Young Spahr Was Dead Before Train Hit Him.

New Hamburg, Ont., Aug. 28—Many theories are advanced to clear up the mystery surrounding the death of young Spahr, whose body was found mutilated upon the G.T.R. tracks a mile west of here on Friday morning. Saturday, Coroner Martin opened an inquest, which he adjourned until Thursday, Aug. 31, at 10 a.m., in order to subpoena more witnesses, who were with Spahr during the evening before his death.

It appears from the evidence sworn to that death must have occurred some time before the body was run over by the way freight.

The train was on a down grade, brakes were applied, but the train could not be stopped in time. The engineer and conductor returned to the body and found that it was cold and no blood spots of consequence along the track. Spahr being dead before the train ran over him, the mystery is how his head was lying on one rail and his feet across the opposite rail.

Evidence was produced that Spahr was severely injured in Berlin, where he attended the circus that day. While waiting at the station in Berlin he grabbed a companion from the back, the latter stooping down suddenly, threw Spahr over his back and he lit upon his head on the cement walk. Ariving at New Hamburg on the flyer about 10 p.m. they went to an hotel here. There were no witnesses present at the inquest who saw Spahr leave the hotel until he was found dead.

Killed In Race Riot.

Macon, Ga., Aug. 28.—In a race riot at Indian Springs Hotel, one deputy was killed, another fatally injured and other persons injured. The hotels may have to close for the season, as there is a general exodus of guests. The Jackson Rifles are being held in readiness to go there for duty.

Nursery Medicine Box

On every nursery wall, out of reach of the little folk, yet readily accessible to the nurse, should hang a wooden box containing the requisites for attending to such simple accidents as may occasionally befall her charges, surmounted by a printed card of directions, of the kind to be produced at most chemists or large stationers.

In addition to a pair of bright, blunt-pointed scissors, a supply of safety and ordinary pins, and two or three needles threaded with white cotton, knotted at the end, and run into a strip of chamois leather to keep them from getting rusty, the contents should comprise some good sticking-plaster for cuts, calendula lotion, Pomade-Divine, or the more homely application of vinegar and brown paper for bruises, linseed oil and lime water shaken together in equal parts for burns and scalds, a bottle of diluted ammonia or a commoner blue-bag for stings, a small tin of mustard, which, once opened, should be relegated to household use, and a new one purchased for medical purposes, a packet of cottonwood. or a roll of lint, and a few bandages of one-inch and one and a half-inch girths, these later items wrapped closely in paper to protect them from dust.

How China was Isolated.

From the beginning until the nineteenth century China was as isolated from the world at large as if located in Mars. On the north were the barren plains of Mongola and the sandy waste of the Gobi Desert, beyond which stretched the interminable and uninhabited forests of Siberia; on the west the impassable mountains — the Roof of the World; on the south swamps, jungle, and the Indian Ocean; and on the east the Pacific, an impassable barrier.

Thus carefully guarded by nature from the outside world, with a country of many waterways, a climate similar to that of America from Maine to Florida, a rich and varied soil, lending itself kindly to cultivation, with all natural resources in the greatest abundance (iron, coal, gold, silver, copper), it was possible for China to work out her own civilization, laws, governments, literature, economic life. But even under these conditions there was a natural ebb and flow in her national vitality, and dynasties changed, and twice the country has been conquered. The only possible point of attack in the years past has been from the north, the country of cold, deserts, and scanty vegetation.

Fried Onions in War.

During the American invasion of Porto Rico, in the course of the war with Spain, General Tasker H. Bliss, with his troops, was stationed near a village held by an overwhelming force of Spaniards. Orders were to keep his "eye peeled" and, if he heard anything suspicious, to fall back about eight miles. Instead of this, his men turned in one day and captured the village, chasing the Spaniards out. The next day the commander of the American forces came along to find Bliss sitting in front of the home of the chief man of the village. The commander asked him why he had attacked the Spanish force, when he knew that he was outnumbered.

Bliss. "You see, my men have been hungry for some days, and the wind blew toward them from the village, and some squaw was frying onions over there. And so——"

Our Future.

"All men become something incredible to themselves; for they are unwound like a cocoon, and know not which way the thread doth run."

How Are Your Eyes?

It is a most important question nowadays, for there is an impression that each succeeding generation makes glasses more and more in demand But it is wise to have advice about the eye-sight, and particularly if one suffers from headaches, most of which are distinctly traceable to eye disorders. We fit glasses that give instant relief to the eyes and the effects of eye-strain.

A TIE IN LAWN TENNIS MATCH

Belleville and Peterbourgh Played an Exciting Match On Saturday

An exciting tennis match was played on the Armouries lawn on Saturday aftrenoon between the Peterborough and Belleville clubs, resulting in a draw, each club capturing three events. The outcome was as follows:

DOUBLES.

Edmonds and Phelps, of Belleville defeated Landry and Dennison, of Peterborough, 1-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Richardson and Campbell of Peterborough defeated Dr. Gilbert and Dr McCulloch, of Belleville, 6-2, 6-2.

SINGLES.

Phelps, of Belleville, defeated Dennison, of Peterborough, 7-5, 6-2.

Edmonds of Belleville, defeated Richardson of Peterborough, 6-4, 6-2.

Landry of Peterborough, defeated Dr. Gilbert of Belleville, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5

The match was especially exciting bringing out some fine tennis, and the Peterborough man just shaded his opponent by a trifle, and that was all.

Campbell, of Peterborough, defeated Dr. McCulloch, of Belleville, 6-4 7-5.

The afternoon's play brought out some great tennis, even though the courts were not in the best of shape and proved that the Belleville calibre of the game is quite up to that of Peterborough. The Belleville club will go to Peterborough for the return game, likely a week fromSaturday.

10,000,000 More French-Speakers

A decision which will eventually increase by ten million the number of people who speak French has just been taken by the Governor of French West Africa. Hitherto, Arabic has been exclusively used as the official language of France in her immense African empire.

As, however, Arabic was as much of a foreign tongue to most of the natives outside Algeria as French itself, interpreters have had to be used by both parties, and the only result has been to give an impetus to Islam, which is intimately bound up with the Arabic language.

Now, however, French will be the official language of the administration and the schools, and it is expected that this will result in a considerable spread of Western culture.

Cold Storage in Europe.

Many of the European cities are following the example of America as regards cold storage plants. Paris is one of the centres where such questions are now being promoted, and the Refrigeration Society is endeavouring to bring such question before engineers and manufacturers. Not long since there has been built a large cold storage plant in the suburbs of Paris and lying on the North Railroad. It is designed to store home products which are to be exported as well as foreign products brought in by rail to be consumed in the city. There are now eleven cold storage chambers in operation. A convenient system is the use of an automobile waggon with freezing compartments which plies between the city and the storage house. It carries the products to the sellers in town, and also takes back the unsold products for storage.

The Laird's Pictures.

Some years ago a Scotch laird found on succeeding to his estates that the house contained two portraits of a distinguished member of the family who had flourished during the reign of George III, one by Reynolds and the other by Raeburn. He know no more of pictures than a Newfoundland dog, and he decided that two portraits of the same individual need not be kept. The Reynolds was retained, while the Raeburn was presented to a public gallery. The worthy man was struck with consternation some time afterward when he found that his gift had been valued at 5,000 guineas, and probably the picture would now fetch double that sum.

Strength An Unknown Quantity.

Strength, whether of body, mind, or will, is an unknown quantity. It can never be measured except by putting forth. We do not know our powers simply because no definite bounds of them exist until proved by hearty, resolute, patient exertion. To sit still then in the absurd notion that we cannot move, to abstain from any effort because we fancy we cannot make enough, is like insisting on the shallowness of the ocean that has never been fathomd, or the shortness of the distance that has never been travelled.

Handel's Sharp Tongue.

Handel, though undoubtedly possessing a kind and generous heart, had a sharp tongue which he did not hesitate to use on occasions, generally with excellent effect. He heard that an enthusiast had offered to make himself responsible for all the boxes the next time the then-despised oratorio "Messiah" was to be given. "He is a fool," said he; "the Jew will not come to it as he would to Judas Maccabeus, because it is a Christian story; and the ladies will not come, because it is a virtuous one."

FRIGHTENED COW DRAGS BOY TO DEATH

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Falling from a cow to which he had been tied by his playmates, Lewis Burns, 7-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Burns, was dragged by the frightened animal around a field until he was dead, according to word which reached here to-day from Pulaski.

Lewis, with his two sisters, 3 and 10 years old, went out to the pasture to take turns riding on the back of the cow that long had been a pet of the family.

It was a sport the youngsters had enjoyed. The cow was gentle and had never tried to throw or harm the children while they were riding it around the field. Laughing merrily Lewis started off on the ride that was to end his life in a shocking manner.

He had not gone far when the rope which apparently had not been tied securely, began to slip. The boy tried to cling to the cow's back but his hands slipped over its hide and he fell

This frightened the cow. It dashed off on a wild circuit of the pasture dragging the little victim along the ground. Terrorized by the scene, the child's sisters dashed to the house for aid and several members of the family rushed back.

Though exhausted by its long run the cow still led the rescuers in a fast chase. It was finally stopped and the boy cut loose. His skull was fractured, and right arm and jaw broken He was dead when picked up.

MARKET FOR MEAT.

Argentina Finds a New Market for Its Meat.

A new market for Argentine meat has been secured in northern Italy The mayors of Rome and 58 other cities in the northern part of Italy have combined to promote the importation of frozen meat from Argentina. Negotiations in southern Italy have similar arrangements in view for that section. Efforts are being made by the Argentine authorities to have the Swiss regulations modified so as to permit the entry of meat into that country. At present every carcass imported into Switzerland must be accompanied by the tongue, heart, liver, spleen and kidneys. It is thought that a Swiss inspector may be stationed at Buenos Ayres to pass upon carcasses intended for his country and so relieve the trade of this prohibitive order.

ONTARIO FRUIT OUTLOOK.

Ontario's orchards were not in blossom on the 8th May, when correspondents made their return to the Department of Agriculture. The season is said to be later than usual. Fruit buds, however, promise to be plentiful, and after the lean orchard yield of 1910 a liberal yield is expected. War upon scale, codling moth, and other pests is being conducted with more vigor than ever, and several correspondents point to the improved appearance of fruit trees as the result of work done in the last year or two in the way of spraying pruning, and the better general culture of orchards. A few reports of damage to trees from mice come from some of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa countries.

WHAT IS LIFE?

The Pursuit of the Good the Proper Solution.

You will find existence full of sweet savour if you do not expect from it what it cannot give. When people complain of life, it is almost always because they have asked impossible things from it. Upon this believe wholly the teaching of the wisest. There is but one foundation for a happy life — the pursuit of the good and of the true. You will be well pleased with existence if you make fair use of it, and if you abide well pleased, with yourselves. A noble sentence is that which says, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

LITERARY NOTES

MERRY DEL VAL.

Vance Thompson in an article entitled "Who Shall Rule as Pope of Rome," in the September Hampton's gives the following pen picture of the Pope's Secretary of State.

"He is forty-six years old, Merry Del Val—the youngest of cardinals almost a boy among these ancients of eighty, ninety, nearly a hundred years That he was born in London, you know. There is saving Irish blood in him, and grave Spanish blood. Perhaps he is the one foreign cardinal whom the Italians really love. He is their type, a rapier of a man. He is more modern than their temporal king —at twenty paces he can put a rifle bullet through the king's head on a one-lira piece of silver. He is the best golf player in Rome. He it was who put lifts, electric lights, telephones, typewritesr, filing cabinets in the ancient Vatican."

GET POWER.

The Supply Comes From Food.

If we get power from food, why not try to get all the power we can. That is only possible by use of skilfully selected food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

Poor fuel makes a poor fire and a poor fire is not a good steam producer.

"From not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach troubles," writes a lady from a little town in Missouri.

"It seemed that I would never be able to find out the sort food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me heartburn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed.

"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I have kept up its use ever since. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed.

"All my unpleasant feelings, the heartburn, the inflated feeling, which gave me so much pain disappeared My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 pounds, my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it." CORN TILLAGE GOOD FOR SHEEP.

Experiments Prove That Silage Has Great Advantage Over Roots as Economical Feed.

The Dominion Experimental Farm is showing its worth to farmers by its practical experiments and even more so than its recent trials in stock food.

In a series of experiments conducted for two years under the direction of J. H. Grisdale, director of the Dominion Experimental Farm, it has been found that silage has a great advantage over roots as an economical sheep feed. Duplicating the experiment of the preceding year, twenty-seven lambs of uniform weight were divided into three groups of nine each and fed different rations, from which to form a basis of the experiment. No. 1 group was fed on clover hay, meal and turnips; lot No. 2 on clover hay, meal and silage, the latter replacing the turnips, and No. 3 group was fed on clover hay, meal, turnips and ensilage mixed.

You can't always depend on people who call you by your first name.

A woman's idea of the good things of life looks like dry goods to a man.

A woman has no kick coming if her husband's mother thinks she is a good housekeeper.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Billiousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature R.V.Pierce, M.D.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

FAN DIVES FROM BED AS HE DREAMS HOME RUN.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 26.—Henry La Flamme, one of the most enthusiastic baseball fans in Newark, was taken to Newark hospital from his home with a severe gash on the forehead.

La Flamme is such a constant rooter for the Newark team he thinks baseball by days and dreams of it by night. He was dreaming baseball yesterday morning. He saw Joe McGinnity, the "Iron Man," in the box, and the score was a tie. Then came a home run and La Flamme rose to his feet and dived to the floor. When he was revived at the hospital he was still talking baseball. His injury is not serious.

SHORT LINERS.

Cy Young has come back. He beat St. Louis for Boston Nationals Saturday, being strong in pinches and striking out nine men.

Baseball sharps throughout the country have maintained for the past month that if John A. McGraw could not get hold of one more reliable pitcher to help out Mathewson and Marquard the Giants should win this year's pennant. From recent performances McGraw From recent performances McGraw has that necessary adjunct in Otis Crandall.

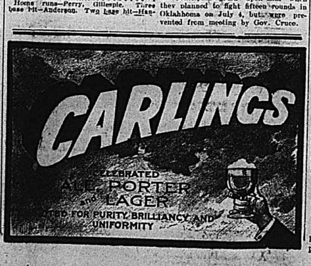
BOXING

MORRIS AS A "HOPE."

If looks amount to anything, Carl Morris the Oklahoma Giant, who arrived in New York last week may be a world beater. He is the biggest pugilist physically in the ring and if he turns out to be the man to lower Jack Johnson's colors he will earn enough money to buy the town of Tulsa, Okla. Morris has dark brown hair, blue eyes, rather prominent nose, square jaws and a thick neck. His head is well shaped and the facial expression indicates intelligence and courage. The shoulders are wonderfully developed, the chest and and back display great lung power and the arms seem unusually long, the reach being 84 inches.

Morris carries no surplus flesh about the belt. The stomach shows plenty of muscular development and the waist is not too slim. The legs are well developed, long and solidly constructed but there's considerable flesh about the upper parts of the thighs that will have to come off. The big fellow's hands are enormous. When he doubles up his fists the knuckles bulge like buches of iron knobs. His wrists, forearms and biceps indicate great strength. In spite of his size he moves around without a sign of awkwardness and impresses one immediately with his apparent self-possession.

Morris isn't inclined to talk much. He is modest and retiring when put under cross-examination. He doesn't proclaim himself a world-beater but says he is doing his best to develop sufficent fighting ability to warrant a match with Jack Johnson. He weighs 241 pounds stripped and says he will carry not more than 235 pounds when he steps into the ring with Flynn. Morris will top Flynn in height by at least 6 inches, and will be not less than forty pounds heavier. Billy Roche may referee, as the principals agreed upon him when they planned to fight fifteen rounds in Oklahhoma on July 4, but were prevented from meeting by Gov. Cruce.



CELEBRATED
ALE, PORTER and LAGER
NOTED FOR PURITY, BRILLIANCY AND UNIFORMITY

A HOMEGENIOUS CANADA

Will All the Races Gathering in Canada Be Melted in One People?

Will all the races and nationalities gathering in Canada from all around the world be melted into one people, harmonious physically and mentally?

Mayor Taylor, of Vancouver, in an address in Vancouver, asserts that they will, and says that the public schools in Manitoba will be the melting pots.

"In our schools," he said, "the children have the same teachers, the same books, the same songs, and I have always said that the schools would make us all a unit.

"For my part, it seems to me now that the children of all nationalities in the schools come out with a different kind of face to their forefathers. The noses of some of them are a little shorter and of others a little longer, and the high cheek bones go down a little in others, and an Canadian face is even now coming out of the public schools, because the mind, you know, does affect the body, without any doubt whatever, and in that way also we are getting a sort of uniform mind.

"Surely we are not getting a uniform face without there being a uniform mind with it, and in that way we will become one people. A great many people have misgivings about that. I may say that I have none."

The "New Woman" League is about to inaugurate an energetic campaign against kissing the baby. Cudding will still be allowed but all osculation is tabooed. Especially are father and grandfather exhorted to spare their kisses, as whiskers, mustaches, — even the fashionable French kind —. and unoffensive looking "stubbles" are declared by health authorities to be favorite taunts of disease-germs.

Pullman Etiquette.

That our system of railroad travel is not perfect is alleged by "An Englishman" in a recent article. "When you travel in England you are master of your time and your baggage," writes this author. Here, the baggage travels several hours behind its owner. But "a Pullman car at night is the most uncivilized thing on the American continent, and one of the most indecent. It quite fascinates my blushes. I sit enthralled as the darky porter strews my seat with other people's belongings, holds a pillow-case in his teeth and squeezes the pillow into it, and hurl sheets and mattresses about, and pulls at chains and sliding-doors and levers and curtains. Personally I have never mastered either the art of the etiquette of a Pullman car. I never know where to put my shoes, and I feel I shall never learn how to take off my trousers while sitting in them.

E. R. Knowles Knew His Congregation

A few weeks ago William Jennings Bryan was lecturing in Galt the home of Robt. E. Knowles, the well known preacher and author. Mr. Bryan was entertained at Knox Manse while in Galt. The attendance at the lecture proved disappointingly small, and the discerning lecturer laid this at the door of the rather large admission fee. As is well known, Galt is the Scotchest town in Canada.

After regaining the manse, a few friends being present, Mr. Bryan turned to his host and asked him why, in his opinion, the audience was so small.

"The thing that spoiled it," replied Mr. Knowles, "was the same thing that disorganized the Democratic party."

"What was that?" enquired the statesman.

"It was the silver question," replied the novelist.

Darwin Caught On.

When Charles Darwin was visiting the country house of a friend the two boys of the family thought they would play a joke on the scientist. So they caught a butterfly, a grasshopper a beetle and a centipede, and out of these creatures they made a strange composite insect. They took the centipede's body, the butterfly's wings, the grasshopper's legs and the beetle's head and they glued them together carefully. Then, with their new bug in a box, they knocked at Darwin's door.

"We caught this bug in a field," they said. "Can you tell us what kind of a bug it is, Mr. Darwin?"

Darwin looked at the bug and then he looked at the boys. He smiled slightly.

"Did you notice whether it hummed when you caught it, boys?" he asked.

"Yes," they answered, nudging one another.

"Then," said Darwin, "it is a humbug."

A Wonderful Flight.

Mourmelon, France, Aug. 28.—M. Helles, a young French aviator, yesterday broke the record for a single long distance flight, in competition for the Michelin Cup. He covered 1,200 kilometres (746 miles) in fifteen hours. The previous record for the Michelin Cup was made by Jules Vedrines last year, when he covered 800 kilometres (496.8 miles) in seven hours, 56 minutes and 36 seconds. Helles flew over a measured course and landed at Chalons-Sur-Marne.

"Third Degree" Confession.

Boonville, Ind., Aug. 28.—After being pressed by continuous questioning during almost thirty hours in jail, William Lee on Friday night made a written statement, in which he said he killed his father, Richard Lee, in self-defence, after the father had murdered his wife and younger son, Clarence.

The bodies of Lee's father, mother and brother were found in their burning home on Thursday and Lee was charged with their murder. After his statement Sheriff Scales, fearing the prisoner would be lynched, secretly took him in an automobile to Evansville.

The tombstone man isn't the only one who has a penchant for cutting remarks.

Many a fellow is so close fisted that he will keep everything except his promises.

PARIS, France, Aug. 29.—The Louvre was reopened to the public to-day and throngs visited the place to view the vacant spot where the Mona Lisa used to hang. The building was heavily policed.

POISON IN CORN

(Intelligencer Special.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—In 146 samples of canned corn, the Dominion Analyst found fifty percent contained sulphite for bleaching. Sulphite is poison, but the quantity found was very minute.

FELL TO HIS DEATH

(Intelligencer Special.)

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—Thomas Linton, a bridge worker, fell from a beam on which he was working this morning in the Dominion Bridge Company's yards and died of his injuries.

LONDON BATTERY WIN KING'S PRIZE

(Intelligencer Special.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Seventh Battery of the Third London Brigade with 64 points, won the King's prize and the Secretary for War (M. R. M Morrison) and Col. Sir W. Dupee prizes. Second place was won by the First Edinburgh Battery, Lowland Brigades.

MacLaren's artillery team secured a percentage of 49 1-2. In comparison with other results this shows the interesting fact that, with the exception of the winners of the King's prize 64 per cent., and the second award of 61 per cent., the Canadians did creditably, running the four next highest scores to six, four, three and two points, respectively. The lowest score was 26 1-2. The winners of the third place were the Fourth Sussex; fourth place, Sixth Hants; seventh place, Canadian team.

OFF TO TRENTON

About twenty Liberals from Belleville left to-day for Trenton to attend the Grit convention which took place this afternoon. They were taken up on Mr. F. E. O'Flynn's launch.

A BUSY PLACE

Among the local industries which are thriving and expanding is that of the Steel Company of Canada. Following the shut-down for improvements and repairs, work is being rushed. There are now some 225 men employed in the manufacture of iron, horseshoes, etc.

A VICIOUS DOG

Bobbie Loyst, the 5 year old son of Robert Loyst, of Arden, was playing on the street on Monday morning when a dog belonging to Jack Steele jumped on the lad, and knocked him down, sinking his teeth in his right ear and cheek. The father and those who saw the occurrence drove the dog off. Robert Loyst shot the dog.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

On Friday, while attempting to place a belt on a pulley at the box factory at Deseronto, Mr. Newton Carscallen was struck with a stick and badly injured. At first it was thought he was only shaken but the doctors who are attending him believe his injuries are serious. Mr. Carscallen has many friends here.

REMAINS ARRIVED

The remains of the late Miss Fanny Jones, aged 52 years, arrived from Buffalo. N. Y., last night for interment in the family plot, Belleville cemetery. The deceased was a daughter of the late Jacob Jones, Front of Sidney, where she was born, and spent the early years of her life.

MISS PANTER'S FUNERAL

There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends at the funeral of the late Miss Ada Annie Panter yesterday afternoon. The remains were conveyed from the family residence, Murney street, to Christ church, where the service was conducted by the Rev. R C. Blagrave, Rector. Interment took place at Belleville cemetery. The bearers were all near relatives of the deceased, namely, Messrs. Charles and Fred, brothers; John jr., and Frank nephews; and William and Robert Colling, uncles.

WINDING UP SEASON

A meeting of the Belleville City Baseball League was held last night at which it was decided to play the remaining six games as three double headers, to-morrow, Saturday and Monday next. To-morrow's first game will be between the Ontarios, strengthened by Hagerman and Gerow, and the Grand Trunks, and the second is a postponed game between the same teams. The first game will start at 2 o'clock and the second at 4 each day Two fast games are assured and it is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance, as the public patronage has not been what the boys deserve.

LEG IN SPLINTS

Chief of Police Newton is suffering from inflammation of the joints. One of his limbs is in splints. It will possibly be some time before he is again on active duty. The two sergeants are acting in Chief Newton's place.

WHO WILL IT BE

THE CURRIE MEETING

A gentleman who was present at the Currie meeting last night held in Massagga school house, informs us that there were just 40 persons present, including some boys. The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Currie Anderson, and Sinclair. The only point attempted to be made, he s by one of those present, was that hay was selling at $2 a ton more in the United States than in Canada, but he had not the honesty to tell the audience that in the United States a ton of hay weighs 2240 pounds, and in Canada, only 2000 pounds, nor did he tell the audience that the freight on the ton of hay had to be deducted from the price received when sold in the United States. This is a fair specimen of reciprocity arguments, if such they may be dignified.

MIKEL ACCEPTS SINCLAIR'S DEFI

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Dear Sir,—If I understand Mr. D V. Sinclair's letter in your paper of the 28th inst., to be a proposal for a joint meeting to discuss the issues of the campaign, I may say I would be prepared to accept this proposal; the discussion to be by Mr. Sinclair and myself, each to have equal time, fifteen minutes of the first speaker's time to be allowed for reply. Date and place to be arranged later.

SQUARED VOTERS WITH PUBLIC MONEY

Government Grants Big Increases in Wages to Employes on Rideau Canal

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Another instance of the Government's desperate resorts to retain power was brought to light here when it leaked out that the Department of Railways and Canals had granted a big increase in wages and other concessions to the men and officials employed in connection with the Rideau canal between here and Kingston. Although the men had been agitating for an increase in pay since last April, and had sent several deputations to lay their claims before the Minister of Railways and Canals, they were, up to a few days ago, entirely ignored in their demands. Now, however, on the eve of an election, the government, as a last desperate resort to secure the election of their candidates, especially in Ottawa city, where a large number of the men are voters, have announced a big increase for the men.

All laborers in connection with the locks throughout the canal will receive an increase of ten dollars a month, and in addition to this their hours of work have been made shorter while they will also be granted additional pay for extra work on Sundays.

One of the men in discussing the matter to-night, said that the sudden announcement on the part of the Government that they were to receive increases and concessions, even in advance of what they asked for, came to them as a great surprise, as they had not heard anything of the matter during the summer. He further said they expected the increase to go into effect dating from April last when the agitation was started. This sudden change of mind on the part of the Government in granting such reckless increases can be taken only as having one meaning, and coming directly after the announcement made some few days ago by the Hon. Charles Murphy that all printing bureau employees will be given increases in pay, displays the tactics being used by the Government to secure its return to power.

STINGY WITH KISSES, WIFE COMPLAINS

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—Listed among the grievances which Mrs. Gertrude M. Meister holds against her husband is the charge that he has not kissed her or otherwise manifested any show of affection in a year and a half oftener than once a day.

This is one of the allegations in Mrs Meister's suit for divorce, which was started in the circuit court yesterday Her husband to-day will be examined by a judge to determine whether he shall be permanently enjoined from molesting Mrs. Meister. Until that date he is ordered to remain away from her residence and not interfere with her in any way.

In her complaint Mrs. Meister enumerates several acts of alleged cruelty, and that her husband did not provide her sufficient money to maintain the household.

CURRENT COMMENT

What's going to happen? Dave Sinclair didn't write us a letter today.

Paris newspapers have begun an airship service. The French are fond of novelties, high or low.

Rose Pitonof swam 21 miles down New York Bay to Coney Island, yet she is not in the swim in that town.

Who's responsible for the weeds not being cut along the boulevard on Bridge Street in front of the Armouries? Is it the city or the Government?

P. P. Clark stands just about as much chance of winning East Hastings as Nathaniel Vermilyea does of getting that long looked for Senatorship.

The "sunny smile" is coming off so badly does the campaign worry Sir Wilfrid. It has given place to abuse which revives the recollection that "whom the gods would destroy they first make mad."

It is a great statesmanship that first creates reciprocity to DRIVE TRADE NORTH AND SOUTH and then mortgages the country for $35,000,000 to build 1,000 miles of railway to DRIVE TRADE EAST AND WEST.—Toronto Telegram.

A young Liberal comments thus:—"In this constituency there is generally a scramble amongst Tories as to who will get the nomination, while the Grits tumble over one another to get away from having a nomination forced upon them."

The Toronto Globe's Welland correspondent accuses its own party, the Liberals, of "packing the convention in favor of Mr. W. M. German," and that "everybody voted and the delegates were crowded out." No one will be surprised at this. If the Liberal party has no opportunity to cheat the Conservatives, they have to cheat and play foul with themselves. That's their nature.

Is it not about time that our Police Commissioners awoke to the fact that our police are underpaid? A common laboring man commands a better wage. A minimum wage of $50 a month, working up gradually to $75 would, in all reason, be little enough money to pay the ordinary policeman Other cities pay their police fair salaries; why not Belleville?

According to the Grit press, United States consumers are just hungering for our cheese, and reciprocity would open a tremendous market for it What say the cheese board reports for Saturday?

London, Ont.—13 1-4c. to 13 5-16c.
Belleville—13 3-16c. to 13 1-4c.
Watertown, N. Y.—12 1-4c. to 12 3-8c.

Great market for cheese—on this side of the line, were the duty removed, for the American product. The quotations are copied from the Globe's commercial columns

Lanctot, the late M. P. for Richelieu, who used Government property in the building of his dwelling, and men who were employed in the Government dockyards at Sorel, to paint his house, was by a party majority in the House of Commons declared to have done no wrong, and for which declaration Sir Wilfrid Laurier voted was thrown over by the voters in his own county, and another candidate selected, which was a direct condemnation of Laurier and those who voted with him in whitewashing Lanctot Sir Wilfrid accepted the snubbing and went to the constituency and spoke in favor of the new man. Lanctot, how do you like it?

Morrisburg Herald:—"Let well enough alone," shout the Conservative orators. They weren't saying anything like that three years ago, nor seven years ago; nor, in fact, any time since 1896, although the country since 1896 has been going forward at a rate unknown under the Conservative regime. The country is doing well enough—seldom does an Opposition pay a Government so high a compliment.

The boot is on the other leg, Mr Herald. The compliment was not paid by the Conservatives to the Laurier Government, but to the Conservative policy which was adopted by the Laurierites. So, instead of Conservatives praising a Liberal policy, we have Liberals so well pleased with a Conservative policy that they are today impudently claiming it as their own.

THE PACT'S A FRAUD, AN' A' THAT!

(Air—"A Man's a Man for a' That.)

The Fielding pact, which some may dream
Is for our good and a' that,
Is but an annexation scheme—
So Champ Clark says—and a' that.
For a' that and a' that.
It is a fraud, and a' that:
It bears thereon the Yankee stamp,
We'll turn it down, an' a' that!

Our fiscal laws we dare not frame;
Protect our trade, an' a' that,
Without the leave of Uncle Sam
Is first obtained, an' a' that.
For a' that, an' a' that—
But never that; oh, never that—
To sink so low as a' that!
As Britons free, with scorn shall we Reject this pact, an' a' that!

For Canada is growing fast—
In wealth and power, an' a' that!
Her people free, contented are,
Have happy homes an' a' that.
For a' that, an' a' that,
She needs no change from a' that;
And says, "Leave well enough alone
The pact's a fraud, an' a' that!"

Our laws are just, our courts are pure—
Unsullied they, an' a' that.
Our persons safe, our rights secure,
What more desire than a' that?
For a' that, an' a' that,
And muckle more than a' that,
We loyal to our Motherland
Will aye remain, for a' that!

"A SIMPLE ONLOOKER" DISCUSSES THE QUESTION OF THE DAY

To the Editor of the Intelligencer;

Dear Sir,—While glancing through the interesting columns of the Intelligencer last evening I was struck by the heading which you so generously granted to Mr. D. V. Sinclair's communication. I say generously advisedly and with due forethought, for had not the letter appeared under the caption under which it did, I hardly think I would have noticed it at all being a stranger in the city and not at all acquainted with Mr. Sinclair. However notice it I did and to read it I next proceeded, with I may say a sort of half-hearted, half-curious desire to see what it was and who it was that drew gratuitous headlines from a newspaper editor, who is generally one of the most stingy animals in the world, when one wants free advertisements at their expense. However, (to put it mildly) Mr. Sinclair got enough free advertising to suit the most ungenerous business man who ever lived. Being only human, I envied him, and although unlike him in not desiring to secure self-advertisement at the expense of the Intelligencer, still I have enough presumption to think that it would be pleasant to see words of mine in public print, even though they should express thoughts which might seem to be in opposition to some of Mr. Sinclair's most cherished hobbies or (shall I say) fads.

Why Mr. Sinclair professes to support Reciprocity I do not know, being as I said above, not personally acquainted with him. Perhaps he really believes that reciprocity will help the farmer, will bring more money into circulation and will thereby, indirectly help his business. If such is his belief, well and sincerely trusted in, he is exempt from anything that may be said by me or anyone else who opposes his views. Perhaps again he is a business man who, making a modest competence is satisfied with his lot, and votes Liberal because his father was one, what was good enough for him. If this is the case he will make no enemies, nor will he set the far-famed Bay of Quinte on fire.

But then again, perhaps, (as I saw in the Intelligencer), he expects to contest this county at the next general election and in consequence is slightly troubled with that most complex and most complicated malady, swelled head. I may be wrong, if so I seek the gentleman's pardon, but I think that perhaps the latter is the correct diagnosis of the case.

Whether he will secure the nomination and whether he will be elected as the next member for this constituency I know not or care less, but in case the gentleman imagines that the eyes of President Taft of the Republican party and the whole United States are upon him, and that they are expecting him to secure Reciprocity for them, (and it may be that they have asked him to guarantee its passage through the Canadian Hous of Commons,)—I say that if this is the case I want to assure him that after having had six months residence in the States during the past year I very seldom heard Reciprocity mentioned at all and only in a half-tolerant and good naturedly amused manner. Reciprocity "cuts no ice" with five-sixths of the American people. It is only the trusts, the corporations and the great manufacturers whom it affects and they are the only people in "Yankeeland" who are at all interested or care about reciprocity. The average "man on the street" hardly knows anything about it at all except that he has seen somewhere that it will tend to lower the price of food slightly and then he concludes in the offhanded manner characteristic of Americans, "O, well let it pass, it's all right."

But in Canada reciprocity is treated as an issue of vital and National importance and is being seriously discussed as such by every one from the statesmen at Ottawa and the great manufacturers in the big centres of population down to the village storekeeper and his evening assemblage of rustic toilers.

The one thing which stands out predominantly in this election is the "Farmer" spelt with a capital letter.. It seems as if the whole issue revolved about him alone. No other class of people in this great Dominion is treated with so much deference. He is patted on the back and is assured that he is a good fellow and that he and his fellowmen are the backbone of his country. Very true, but every good thing has its limits. The other classes of artizans and laborers have as much right to be heard as the farmer and taken collectively more so for the farmers do not I think constitute half of the population of the Dominion or anything like it. But anyhow the farmer is the man in the public gaze and consequently it is the farmer that must be considered and discussed first. The two great arguments presented to the farmer are: (1). Better markets; (2). Cheaper agricultural implements.

The first argument recalls to my mind a little story that I once heard concerning an English tourist who met an Irish drover taking a herd of cattle to market 'Oh! Eh! my good man where are you going with that fine lot of cattle?" "To market yer 'Anner." "Oh! Ah! What do you expect to get for them?" "Oh, well about 8 pounds." "Indeed to be shuah! Why don't you take them over to England. You would get about 14 pounds apiece over there, don't you know." "Yes yer 'Anner, and if I was to take the Lakes of Killarney down to purgatory I'd get a guinea a drop for the water that's in them." That is the position of the average Canadian farmer stands in. By the time he pays the expenses of shipment to the States and the commissions of the commission merchant he will not get better prices than he is obtaing now here. One thing certain is that the American is a business man first and a philanthropist next and he won't give a Canadian farmer one cent more for his produce than he can possibly help, and if he can't make a deal with Canadians that will be to his advantage he wont coax them to do business just because they happen to be Canadians.

The next argument advanced to the farmers that with the duty lifted, agricultural implements will become cheaper, they can be imported at a pro-

Recognized in the Piano Keys its Mother's Tusks

The other day an itinerant circus announced, as the chief attraction on its programme, a performing elephant who, amongst other accomplishments, played the piano. The hour of the performance arrived; the docile animal was led into the arena and conducted to an open piano, when suddenly he wheeled round, uttering lugubrious cries. After a brief conference with the elephant's valet, the proprietor of the show came forward and said that until another piano could be procured that part of the programme could not be carried out. The elephant, a most sympathetic and affectionate creature, had recognized in the ivory keys of the instrument the tusks of its mother!

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

I've been through these woods a good many times, and know the ropes We will stop at the camps when we can, and trust to the Almighty to pull out. But, remember this, Alex Den Duffy will pull you through if it takes every drop of blood in his carcass." As he ceased speaking Duffy laid his hand on his young friend's shoulder, and looked him in the eyes. "This hunt means a good deal to you," he continued, "and you can't afford to fail. That girl of Wheeler's will die if her feller don't come back. And she's too good a girl to be fooled with. I don't know anything much about his father, and I don't know as I care much, but Wheeler has been a good friend to me and anything that belongs to him is secred with Den Duffy. She wants that cousin of yourn, and she shall have him if there is any virtue in me If he don't come back with us we'll leave his carcass for the crows to feed on." His tone was terribly earnest and Alex for the first time realized the depth of affection he entertained for the Wheeler family.

"I don't think John will hesitate to come back when he understands the change in his father. It is a matter of principle with my cousin, and he will never change the course he has taken. John will stand for the right with his life; but his love is equally as deep. If he has made a promise to Alice Wheeler he will keep it." She will please my uncle immensely, and the home he will provide for John will have no equal in our state. It only remains for us to do our best; and unless John is dead there will be untold happiness in Robert Grant's heart before snow comes again."

Duffy laid aside his pipe, threw himself into bed, and almost as soon as his head touched the pillow was sleeping the musical sleep of the just but wearied traveller.

CHAPTER XV.

The Forest Flower.

Thirty miles had been traversed on the following morning, when an Indian village was sighted at the upper end of Roseau county, near the Canadian line. It was Alex's first visit to the home of the redskin, and his pulse quickened as he suddenly looked down upon the wigwams from an elevation at the border of a clearing Often had he read of the dusky warriors and their escapades; the hairbreadth escapes of white settlers, and the terrific hand-to-hand encounters when an assault was made. Times without number had he been thrilled with accounts of periodical uprisings followed by wholesale butchery; of women and children forced to take the trail as prisoners, to experience a living death, while husbands and fathers with hearts afire and muskets primed stealthily followed, only to be ambushed, killed on the spot, or later bound at the stake. With awe had he dwelt upon the bravery and dash of Buffalo Bill, Custer, and other celebrities; become entranced with the love of a chieftain's matchless daughter for the handsome captive,—later to liberate and go with him to the home of the pale-face; running the gauntlet and other almost impossible feats as the price of freedom. But to rest his eyes upon the scene of such barbarities without a moment's warning, sent the blood coursing through his veins.

His interest was intense as he sat upon the variegated broncho and gazed down upon the hundred or more tents women and children, while the men lay about in groups, with here and there one possessing sufficient ambition to clean his hunting equipments. He had no doubt of the friendliness of the tribe to pale-face visitors, yet the reality the very experience of meeting them upon their own territory, almost took the young man's breath from him Motionless as a statute he sat, taking in every movement of the people before him, and was only reminded that time awaits no man by an exclamation from Duffy.

"We'll move on, if you are ready Alex. We've got to reach that logging camp before night."

"Are you going through this Indian village?" asked Grant.

"I don't see any occasion for going around it. I've been here before."

As they descended and made their way between the rows of tents, a howl went up from several mongrel dogs, followed by the appearance of two dozen or more squaws at as many wigwam openings. Some of them were fairly prepossessing, others more or less swarthy, while three or four held papooses midway over their shoulders

"Keep your eyes open and say nothing," cautioned Duffy, in a low voice. "If they speak, just nod and smile. They like to be noticed."

For a wonder the speckled devil was on his good behavior, owing perhaps to the continuous exercise of the past few days, and kept steadily on the trail of Duffy's mount, exhibiting no disposition to bolt. At the extreme end of the row, and slightly apart from the others, stood a large tent of superior quality; about which were further indications that it was the dwelling place of the chief. In the opening stood as perfect a specimen of young womanhood as one could wish to meet. A magnificent form quite tall, straight, and plump. An arm exposed nearly to the elbow, with just enough of the brownish hue to give it a healthy appearance. A short skirt revealed two exquisitely moulded ankles and slim, moccasined feet. Her face was one which a Bonnat or a Constant would rave over, and the russet tint of her skin could only be caught by a Henner. The glowing melting tints and perfectly chiselled features were further enhanced by laughing black eyes, beautiful red lips and a graceful litheness of the body that held Grant in absolute admiration. A mass of dark hair was piled on the crown of her head, and a bright ribbon bow gave a gay touch to it. Her beauty stood out the more keenly because of no other adornments She seemed so out of place in her wild setting, that it caused a shudder to pass through Alex's whole being There was on intelligence, a charm, a grace which gave evidence of white blood—and this did not escape the close scrutiny of Grant's sharp eyes The attraction was evidently mutual for as the rider smiled and raised his hat, the maiden advanced towards him saying in quaint, broken English:

"Pale-face welcome," indicating, as Duffy later explained, a desire for acquaintance—a favor bestowed only upon those to whom the speaker is especially attracted. Instantly Grant drew rein, dismounted, and clasped the extended hand.

"Pale-face come from far?" she asked in a low, musical voice.

"Yes, from the East, many miles away," he answered softly, returning her admiring glance.

"Pale-face go far?"

"Many, many miles."

"Pale-face come back this way?"

"Yes," hardly knowing what he said.

"Good," she commented with a satisfied smile. "When pale-face come back, he take Tallasse away, far away from Indian village. No home here for Tallasse." Her words were so appealing, so pathetic, that the traveller at once surmised a substantial cause was at the bottom of her desire.

(To be Continued.)

An English Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair

In England the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing rats, which is due entirely to this new discovery.

It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day.

The Americans are now placing on the extract from Henna leaves, which the etrxact from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure Dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed SALVIA makes a most pleasant hair dressing, D. M. Waters, your druggist, is the first to import this preparation into Belleville and a large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50c.

Sir William Whyte Retires.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Sir William Whyte, who for the past quarter of a century have been in control of the western lines of the Canadian Pacific, will terminate his connection with the company in this capacity at the end of September. He will continue to serve the company as a director, having decided that he should be honored in this manner. The announcement was made by the president of the road at a dinner given by the latter in honor of the retiring official at the Manitoba Club last night.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, at the conclusion of the function, stated that the matter has not been discussed. He also stated that no decision had been reached in the matter of the location of the new western shops.

Motorists' Close Call.

St. Catharines, Aug. 29.—Mrs. F. N. Hara, Robert Fuller, of the Imperial Bank, Miss Bailey of this city, and Mrs. Hara's son, nearly met death in an automobile accident Sunday night.

They were returning home by the Lake Shore road, Mrs. Hara driving, when she lost her head and the car slid back over a ten-foot embankment. Fortunately the car was caught by a tree and though all the occupants were thrown out, none were hurt.

Murdered Mayor and Family.

London, Aug. 29.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—A Rome special says that terrible cholera riots have been taking place at Verbicaro in Calabria. The superstitious populace, believing that the authorities to combat the spread of the epidemic were really the cause of the epidemic itself, arose in their wrath and murdered Mayor Signor Guaragna and massacred all the members of his household.

Killed Whole Family.

South Thomaston, Me., Aug. 29.—Grief over the death of his wife led Edward Bennett, a graduate of Oxford University, England, who had been a resident of this town for the past six years, to murder his three children and then take his own life yesterday. Two of the children were killed by the use of chloroform and the third by cyanide of potassium and chloroform.

Dropped Dead.

Niagara Falls, Aug. 29.—Mrs. J. E. Hutchens dropped dead at her home yesterday afternoon from heart failure. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Miss Maude Hutchens, and two sons, Bert of Chicago and Walter of this city.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Higher—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Altho reports of damage to that portion of the Canadian crop not yet harvested lent a firmer tone to the wheat market today, an advance of 5-8c over Saturday brought out an ample supply, and the close was only 1-8c and 1-4c to 1-4c and 3-8c better than the previous close. Corn and oats were strong, the former advancing 1-2c to 3-4c and the latter 3-8c and 1-2c to 5-8c. Final figures on provisions were a shade lower to 5c higher.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ¼d to ⅜d higher than yesterday on wheat, and ⅛d to ⅜d higher on corn. Berlin closed ⅝c higher on wheat, Antwerp ⅝c higher, and Budapest ⅝c higher.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—Business in grain for export account continues quiet, but there is a good local demand, and this, coupled with the strength displayed in Winnipeg, gave a strong feeling here, and prices have an advancing tendency. The demand for spring wheat flour is good, and the market is fairly active, with a firm undertone.

The butter market is strong, and higher prices are anticipated in the near future on account of the good demand and the strength in the country. The exports last week were 11,541 packages. Cheese is fairly active and firm. The shipments last week were 74,625 boxes. Provisions are active and firm. Demand for eggs is good.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 43½c to 44c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 43½c to 43¾c; No. 3 C.W., 42½c to 43c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.40; seconds, $4.90; winter wheat patents, $4.50 to $4.75; strong bakers', $4.70; straight rollers, $4 to $4.10; in bags, $1.85 to $2.

Corn—American, No. 3 yellow, 70c.

Millfeed—Bran, Ontario, $22 to $23; Manitoba, $21 to $22; middlings, Ontario, $25 to $26; shorts, Manitoba, $24; mouillie, $25 to $31.

Eggs—Selected, 24c to 26c; No. 1 stock, 20c to 22c.

Cheese—Westerns, 13⅝c to 13⅝c; easterns, 13¼c to 13⅜c.

Butter—Choicest, 25⅝c to 26c; seconds, 25¼c to 25½c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 92 carloads, consisting of 1894 cattle, 179 hogs, 553 sheep and 31 calves.

Exporters.

Export steers sold at $5.80 to $6.45, one load selling at the latter figure, and another at $6.35; bulls, for export, sold at $5 to $5.25.

Butchers.

Prime picked loads and lots sold at $5.90 to $6.15; loads of good, $5.65 to $5.85; medium, $5.25 to $5.60; common, $5 to $5.30; cows, $3 to $5.25; bulls, $4 to $5.

Milkers and Springers.

A moderate number of milkers and springers sold at $40 to $60 each, but only one at the latter price.

Veal Calves.

The market for veal calves was firm at $5 to $8 per cwt., or an average of $7.25 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Sheep, light ewes, sold at $3.75 per cwt. average; culls and heavy ewes, $2.50 to $3.25; lambs, $6.25 to $6.50, or an average of $6.45 to $6.50.

Hogs.

E. L. Woodward, buyer for Swift Canadian Co., quoted $8.10 for hogs, fed and watered.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Aug. 28 were 2550 cattle, 3125 sheep and lambs, 2525 hogs and 250 calves. The supply on the market for sale this morning consisted of 950 cattle, 1675 sheep and lambs, 850 hogs and 175 calves.

There was no important change in the condition of the market for cattle, prices being firm owing to the small run of really good stock, which tended to increase the demand for the lower grades, as butchers and packers generally were short of supplies; consequently a fairly active trade was done. There was also some demand from Quebec buyers, and a couple of carloads were bought for shipment to that market.

On the whole the trade was satisfactory to both buyers and sellers. At the close everything was cleaned up. Choice steers sold at $6.15 to $6.35; good at $5.75 to $6; fairly good, $5.25 to $5.50; common, $4.50 to $4.75 per 100 pounds. Cows were rather scarce and in better demand, at $4.50 to $4.75 per 100 pounds.

A firm feeling prevailed in the market for hogs, on account of the small offerings, and the demand for packers' selected stock. Prices for selected hogs ranged at from $7.75 to $7.85; mixed lots, $7 to $7.50, and heavy, $6.50 to $6.75 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

The trade in small meats was active, there being a good demand from local and outside buyers for supplies.

Receipts of lambs were fairly large, but prices ruled steady at the decline noted last Wednesday, sales being made freely at 6c to 6¼c per pound. Sheep unchanged owing to the fact that the offerings do not increase to any extent, and sales were made at 4c to 4½c per pound. Good calves were scarce and in demand at prices ranging at from $12 to $15 each, and the lower grades brought from $3 to $10.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, Aug. 28.—Cattle—Receipts, 4125; market shade lower; prime steers, $6.75 to $7.25; butcher grades, $5.50 to $7; cows, $3.50 to $5.25.

Calves—Receipts, 1300 head; market active and firm; cull to choice, $5 to $9.25.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 8400 head; market active and steady; choice lambs, $6 to $7; cull to fair, $4.75 to $5.75; yearlings, $4.50 to $5; sheep, $1.50 to $3.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,750; market weak; yorkers, $8 to $8.05, stags, $5 to $6; pigs, $7.55; mixed, $8 to $8.05; heavy, $8; roughs, $6.75 to $6.90.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Hogs—Receipts, 24,000; market steady to lower; mixed and butchers, $7.05 to $7.75; good, heavy, $7.10 to $7.65; rough, heavy, $6.90 to $7.10; light, $7.25 to $7.80; pigs, $4.85 to $7.60.

Cattle—Receipts, 24,000; market steady to a shade lower; beeves, $5.10 to $8; cows and heifers, $2.35 to $6.30; stockers and feeders, $3.10 to $5.50; Texans, $4.40 to $6.40.

Calves—Receipts, 2000; market weak to lower; native, $2.15 to $3.70; western, $2.50 to $3.65; lambs, $4 to $6.60; western, $4.70 to $6.75.

MOUNTAIN GROVE.

The ladies of St. John's church Olden had a very successful social in this village at the residence of Mr Wm. Brown. The threatening appearance of the weather all day served to spell failure for a town social, still theer was a good attendance. The there was a good attendance. The lanterns and the girls were kept busy at the booths selling ice cream and candy. There was also an exhibition of fireworks. Speeches were made by Prof. Beur, Robert Flynn and Rev Mr. Forster, who thanked the people for their attendance and all who took part in helping to get up the social He referred in feeling terms to the late disastrous fire which caused a heavy loss to some of the villagers The men and women deserved credit for their brave fight to save life and property. People might have been burnt in their beds. When the proceeds, $16.25 were announced, Miss Carrie Garrett, as treasurer, stepped forward and presented them to Mr Forster. He thanked the people heartily for their expression of good will.

Girls and Boys Should Be Frisky, Gay Little Animals.

Mothers, would you make your children really and truly happy and give them the firmly grounded belief that the world — strange old, wonderful world into which they have been dropped from they know not why — then learn to "frivol." Don't take things — any thing — too seriously. There is nothing in the world so wholly pitiful as a too serious, sober faced little child. Children were meant to be frisky, gay little animals; allow them the privilege of fulfilling their rightful mission of childhood. Don't lay burdens of seriousness on their little shoulders.

Changed Conditions

When Mr. Fielding announced to the Dominion Parliament the "Secret Pact" into which he had entered with the United States, and argued that it was therefore a great thing to secure it in 1911.

That was a great and conspicuous fallacy. What a country might wish fifty years ago, or forty, or thirty, or twenty, or even ten years ago, is no evidence of what might be good for that country to-day.

During those past decades Canada has passed through a series of progressive revolutions, and has attained such prosperity, that so far from American Reciprocity being NOW desirable, it can only be regarded as one of the greatest evils that could be proposed or forced upon the country.

It is the habit of some thoughtless, ill-informed or designing people to point to the old reciprocity treaty from 1854 to 1866, as the cause of great prosperity in Canada.

But the conditions then were entirely different from those of to-day, and the experience of that time is full of warning for the present.

At that time Canada had a population of only about 2,100,000, and in 1866 it was but 2,650,000.

The region settled extended but a few miles north of the United States boundary.

There was but one railway between Montreal and Toronto, and but one in Western Ontario.

Communication east and west through the British territory was difficult, and communication across the Atlantic was meagre and expensive.

There were no large Canadian factories, and the home market was very limited.

On the other hand, the United States had a population of 26,000,000 in 1854, and of 36,000,000 in 1866, and communication across the international boundary was short and easy.

It is no wonder that the Canadian farmers then looked upon the opening of the American market with great favor.

Fisher Snubbed

The Hon. Sidney Fisher, the bumptious Minister of Agriculture, has been following the tactics of his master, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and dictating or attempting to dictate to the electors of Pontiac, whom they should select and support at the coming election. This little gentleman was billed to speak at Shawville, an important point in the county. The Liberal Committee resented this act of invasion of the county by Fisher, met and declared by resolution

"that the Liberals of Pontiac have not as yet invited the honorable minister to address a public meeting in the interests of their candidate in Pontiac."

Referring to Ottawa interference and dictation, the resolution adds:

"We desire to further state that the Liberals of Pontiac have already placed in the field, in the person of F. S. Cahill, a candidate who is in favor of reciprocity and who is a supporter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"We would like them to ask Hon. S. Fisher and his contingent of Ottawa Liberals if they think Pontiac is inhabited by a band of benighted Indians, or a recently arrived colony of Doukhobors that he must come to force them to accept a candidate whom they have already rejected at the largest assemblage of Liberals ever held in Pontiac."

This is signed by J. A. Moorhead, secretary of the Liberal Club.

The Pontiac Liberal Club ought to have learned long ere this that they have no right to have any opinions other than those furnished by their leaders. In Hastings they obey like spaniels.

Mere Clap-Trap

The Picton Times, referring to Dr. Currie, says:

"In the last Parliament Dr. Currie took up the fight of the people against monopolistic combines and trusts, and Hansard contains Dr. Currie's views with regard to their control and the prevention of over-capitalization. Perhaps the monied interests have marked the Doctor as dangerous to their exploitations."

Neither Dr. Currie nor the Times seems to realize the fact, or if they do they suppress it, that if the tariff bars are removed these "monopolistic combines and trusts," which they pretend to look upon with horror, will have free access into the Canadian market and, in the exercise of the power they are said to possess, crush out of existence all industries that come in competition with them, and then raise prices enormously. If the Doctor wants to keep them out, let him advocate a raise in the tariff and not a reduction. The fact is all this howl about trusts is mere clap-trap, not likely to humbug or deceive thinking men.

Monk and Reciprocity

Our eccentric friend, the star of the reciprocity brigade, made the statement, which we informed him was not worth much, that Mr. Monk had declared himself in favor of the reciprocity pact. Mr. Monk addressed his constituents on Friday last, August 25th. A report of that meeting will be found in the Montreal Gazette of the 26th inst., in which Mr. Monk's position on the question of reciprocity is clear and distinct. The report says:

"Taking up the reciprocity pact, Mr. Monk expressed the opinion that defined his attitude as clearly against the measure which he said would bind the people of Canada hand and foot in the power of the Americans. It was to be noted that the Government had refused to consult the people of the country directly on the quesion until it had been forced to do so by the Opposition."

David, pay a little more attention to what you read, and you will not put your foot in it every time you open your mouth.

MISREPRESENTATION.

The attention of the Brockville Times was called yesterday to the circulation of a story by a Liberal heeler in the hope of making votes for the Hon. G. P. Graham. The heeler in question made it his business to visit certain Belleville boarding houses where the Brockville Grand Trunk spare brakemen made their headquarters while in that city and personally interviewed the men, putting up the story that unless they voted for the Minister of Railways and Canals the raise in wages on January 1, 1912, called for by the terms of the agreement, would not be forthcoming to them.

Such a yarn could not be more distant from the truth, and only serves as an instance of the desperate efforts being resorted to in order to snatch a victory. Hon. Mr. Graham has no more to do with the Grand Trunk management carrying out its contract with the men re the standard wage, made in black and white, than the man in the moon. No one doubts the honor of Mr. Chas. M. Hays. That he will make fish of one and flesh of another is simply ridiculous. This little innocent looking game of coercion won't go down even if it were true. The railway men or any other class will not submit to a club being held over their heads. That day has passed.—Brockville Times.

MONEY NO OBJECT

WHEN PEOPLE ARE SEEKING HEALTH OR RELIEF FROM DISEASE THE PRICE NEVER COUNTS.

It is a fact that not less than a million is spent every year by people seeking a satisfactory cure for Catarrh Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption

Probably the best and most highly recommended preparation is Catarrhozone, which treats the local symptoms most effectually by means of medicated air supplied through a convenient hard rubber inhaler. The poisons in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone Tablets, which are taken after each meal They promote appetite, aid digestion and make the blood rich and pure, so that it will nourish all parts of the body.

This combined local and constitutional treatment in catarrhal diseases has met with wonderful success and can be relied upon to cure every time The inhaler stops sneezing, coughing droppings in the throat, and brings quick relief and cure to all the disagreeable symptoms of catarrh.

The following testimonials from well known Canadians furnish abundant proof what Catarrhozone accomplishes in stubborn cases.

Mrs. James Tweedie, of Jay Bridge says: 'For years my daughter doctored unsuccessfully for Catarrh. She had droppings in the throat, hawkings nausea, and could not sleep at night The first day's use of Catarrhozone benefitted and ultimately cured my daughter so that Catarrh has never returned. I can recommend Catarrhozone as a grand remedy for Catarrh."

Thousands of strong letters could be given like the above if necessary, but all that is required to prove the merit of Catarrhozone is a trial. It is as sure as death to cure, and if it fails your money will be refunded. Catarrhozone cured lots of cases worse than yours and can do it again.

WATER AN OLD ANAESTHETIC

Found to Be As Useful Today as Ever.

The use of lukewarm water as the sole anaesthetic in operations for appendicitis at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, reported in The Times, was declared by surgeons here to be quite possible and in line with the use of water anaesthetic, first tried in this city years ago.

One surgeon who has performed successfully more than 5,000 operations with no other anaesthetic than an injection of water into the skin, declared, however, that the use of this simplest of all anaesthetics would probably never come into general use, and that, while it was applicable in many major abdominal operations, it was not applicable in a majority of such cases, especially where inflammation or an abscess had formed.

As long ago as 1855 Dr. J. Leonard Corning of this city, pointed out in his book of "Local Anaesthesia," the value of heating the anaesthesia before injecting it. The use of water as an anaesthetic in a certain class of operations was explained by Dr. Samuel O. Gant in a paper before the Medical Association of the city in 1903. Dr. Gant mentioned Burney, Yeo, and Griffith, of England, as among the pioneers to suggest in 1868 the relief of pain by the subcutaneous injection of water.

The theory on which water so used is believed to act according to Dr. Gant, is that the water provides a pressure of the nerve ending, which blocks all sensation or pain so long as the water continues unabsorbed or unscattered. Dr. Gant said recently he had found that any other fluid that gave pressure and was not absorbed would have the same anaesthetic effect. The method was applicable, he said, in nearly all skin operation, and he had tried it successfully in some operations for laparotomy, colostomy and appendicostomy all of which necessitate the opening of the abdomen.

"Water anaesthesia, however, is no good at all for operations when an abscess has formed or inflammation sets in, as, for example, in cancer or in case of a ruptured appendix" said Dr. Gant. "To be successful, the water anaesthetex must be applied to the whole part where the operation is to be made, and in the majority of such abdominal operations as I have mentioned there is in the first place, uncertainty as to where to operate, and in the second place the tissues refuse to hold the water and allow it instead to scatter."

Dr. Gant, at the last meeting of the Maryland Medical Society, read a paper telling of some 2,000 skin and muscle operations he had performed with water anaesthesia in the last eight or ten years, and it is thought he may have suggested the most recent application of water anaesthesia now reported in operations for appendicitis at Johns Hopkins.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 27.—Pastor Russell, of Brooklyn Tabernacle, preached here to-day under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association (Local Branch—unsectarian) composed of the truth-hungry from all denominations. Asked why such great crowds always attend his addresses while the churches of all denominations are complaining of slim attendance, Pastor Russell replied, "The people are thinking." Perplexed by the infidelity and higher criticism taught in the principal colleges and pulpits, many desire to have an interpretation of the Bible consistent with itself and not at war with the reverential exercise of reason. The scriptures foretell our day, saying, "There shall be a famine in the land; not a famine for bread nor a thirst for water, but for the hearing of the Word of the Lord" (Amos viii., 11). No fairy tales can thoroughly satisfy intelligent thinkers, whose numbers are increasing. Many of those who read my sermons in the public print, long since ceased to attend the church services."

Two services were held—one for the public, considering the great "Hereafter," the other, which we report, had for its text God's call to Cain after he had slain his brother, and Cain's reply, "Where is my brother?"—"Am I my brother's keeper?" (Genesis iv, 9). The speaker said in part:—

No one can dispute that invividualism, personal independence, personal responsibility has done much for the development of our race. The serfdom and paternalism of the past were unfavorable to individual thought, responsibility and action. No wise and good man would desire to rob his fellows of independence of mind.

We are in danger, however, of going to the opposite extreme—in danger of carrying the subject of personal independence too far—in danger of neglecting some one who should have assistance—in danger of thinking of all men as being not only free but equal.

It was in view of inequalities of the flesh that St. Paul wrote to the church, "We that are strong should bear with the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves (merely)" (Romans xv. 1). This principle, applied by the apostle of the church, would certainly be appropriate and beneficial to the entire human family—"Of one blood God created all men to dwell upon the face of the whole earth." (Acts xvii. 26).

God's enquiry of Cain implied his responsibility, and teaches us a lesson respecting our responsibility in God's sight for one another. We will begin with the church, the highest type of brotherhood imaginable; we should not be content to split into sects and parties. Whatever was the ignorance of the past which led to the formation of the various creeds and denominations, there can be no excuse for these now, because Christians of all denominations have come to discredit the old creeds. Should there not, then, be a movement toward heart unity and fellowship, outside of denominational and creedal lines, amongst those who recognize God as the Father, the Lord Jesus Christ as the Redeemer, and the Bible as the divine revelation? It is not proper to say, as did Cain, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Every true Christian should realize that to-day Christianity is being assaulted in its own house and by its professed friends. In the colleges and seminaries of all denominations a battle is raging which threatens the destruction of our Christian faith. Possibly a few are blind to the situation, but the insurgents—the higher critics and evolutionists—realize the situation and are craftily saying to the people, "We are the watchmen upon the wall!" These higher critics seem to have no conscience. They claim that the people must be gradually taken by guile. They encourage them to sleep while they raise over them the banner of infidelity called higher criticism.

Many who see the killing of this antitypical Abel shirk the responsibility by saying, "Am I my brother's keeper?" not realizing that from the divine standpoint they have a responsibility toward every other Christian with whom they are in contact. They should realize that loyalty to God means that they should "show forth the praises of Him who hath called us out of darkness into His marvelous light." In a word, every true Christian, who has made a full consecration of himself to the Lord to walk in the footsteps of the Saviour, should waken to the fact that we are in a critical time. We are in the time mentioned by St. Paul when "every man's work shall be tried so as by fire." (I. Corinthians iii. 13).

The all-seeing eye of our Creator keeps watch over the affairs of His creatures to-day as it kept watch over Abel's interests. God allowed Cain to have his way; allowed him to kill his brother; allowed the righteous to suffer; yet Cain did not escape, but was held accountable for the death of his brother. God's sentence upon him separated him from his brethren until he cried out that his punishment was greater than he could bear.

And similarly we may be sure that the Cain class of our day will be held accountable for the wilful slaying of their brother, especially to the extent that the brother despised may be a child of God. As God declared that the blood of Abel cried to Him from the ground—cried for justice—so the intimation of the scriptures is that all injustice of every kind, everywhere, will bring a "just recompense of reward."

St. James intimates that his release will come to this class at the coming of Messiah in power and great glory at the establishment of His kingdom of righteousness in the world. He says, "Have patience, brethren, the coming of the Lord draweth nigh." The Lord speaks of this "day of recompense" as a "time of trouble"—the overthrow of oppression, the uplifting of the poor, and those that have no helper (Psalm lxxii, 12).

THE KING AND THE TAR

How The Seaman Became An Understudy.

The manager of a third-rate theatrical touring company was desperate At the critical moment the baggage man, who undertook the walking-on parts, was missing, and there was none to take his place The small town was searched for an understudy, and at last an ex-seaman, who was glad of any berth, was unearthed. The manager told him he would give him a handsome salary provided that in time, he acquitted himself satisfactorily in the part in question. He had one line to say.

Thus encouraged, the hopeful tar rehearsed his one line until he was word perfect.

He had been at sea in terrible gales, but had never known fear till in armor clad he stood at the "wings" and waited for his cue. How his heart beat and how terribly nervous he was when he faced the footlights! His throat went dry and his voice seemed to fail him. But he made a supreme effort, and stammered out: "Me lord — me king! me cap'n — I mean me liege! Methought I saw an army on yonder hill."

"Liar!" thundered the king, affecting a terrible passion and giving full vent to his acting powers.

This completely unnerved the tar. "Shiver me timbers, cap'n!" he remonstrated, "that's wot the lubber told me to tell 'ee!"

Mapping Africa.

The British colony of the Gold Coast with Ashanti is about as large as Ontario. A map of more than forty sheets in four colors has now been finished. The Gold Coast is the first of the British tropical African colonies to have a complete and modern map on a scale large enough to show a great deal of detail. The surveys and map have cost $340,000 and nine years of work. The map was necessary as a basis for economic development. Gold is the chief product, and the mining companies are exporting more than $500,000 worth of it a month. Disputes over the boundaries of minging claims and other property were incessant, but even African colonies that have little or no gold find that it is worth all it costs to produce good maps of the new possessions. Nowhere in the world are surveys and map making being pushed more rapidly than in Africa. The German tensheet maps of Togo and large parts of German East and Southwest Africa and the Camerons are among the best maps of the kind ever made in new lands. The French, English and Belgarians are almost equally active, and the hundreds of map sheets now before the public give a far more accurate idea of the regions they represent than could have been derived from any way of Alaska published twenty-five years ago.

SELF-DEPRECIATION NOT ALWAYS GENUINE

Partakes of the same Character as Self-Assumption.

Self-depreciation partakes of the same character as self-assumption Both come from over-thought of self, and both vanish when self is merged in something else. Just as soon as we are earnestly anxious for some result we begin to work for it, without stopping to gauge our powers or to think anything at all about them The mother who ardently loves her child and desires his best good does not spend her time in bewailing her unfitness to take care of him. She begins at once, and does her best and her power grows with every effort. The business man with a family depending upon him does not delay providing for the members because he distrusts his ability to do so; he forgets to consider that, and simply pursues his work as well as he can. So in every instance, if the self-depreciative will cease thinking about themselves at all, and devote all their thought and energy to the duty in hand, they will find their strength and fitness for the work grow with exercise, and the fears which have stood in the way of success will melt away.

THE CANADIAN FLAG

How One Mother Teaches Patriotism To Her Boy.

Here is an excellent plan tried by one mother for teaching patriotism and a high regard for his country's flag, and an equally high regard for truth and square dealing, to her small son. In this boy's room a Canadian flag hangs on one wall, serving as the principal decoration of the room.

But sometimes the flag does not hang in its accustomed place — now and then the flag comes down from the wall and is furled and carried into mother's room, for, says this mother to her small boy, "The cross of St. George is not to shield and protect and wave over any but the brave and true," therefore when a boy strikes a smaller boy, or when he misrepresents things or shields himself at the unjust expense of one of his playmates, when boyish arguments and quarrels arise, the flag comes down.

Not very often is it away from its accustomed place on the wall of the boy's room, the occasions are growing more and more infrequent.

Why Irish Millionnaires Are Scarce

In a classification of millionnaires by nationalities it will be found that Irishmen are very far down on the list. Why this should be so may seem hard to understand at first. The Irishman, generally speaking, possess more than average intelligence.

He is an excellent workman and a capable business man. But the fact remains that he rarely becomes a millionaire.

The Rev. Francis X. McCabe, President of a great university, has offered an interesting solution. He says the fault, if it can be called a fault, is in the Irishman's heart, not in his brain or business acumen. The Irishman is so generous toward his fellow man that he has little chance to accumulate millions for himself.

'Irish generosity is a ba rio the Irish millionnaire' is the way that President McCabe puts it. That is why there are not nearly so many millionnaire Irishmen as there are millionnaires of other individual nationalities.

"The Irish are always looking on the bright side of things to come, not only for themselves but for others as well. They have carried with them always a spirit of optimism. They are, moreover, a people of deep religious convictions and faith. They have done an important work in the building up of the civilization of the world.'

And, after all has been said and done, this may be better than becoming more millionnaires.

Verdi Played Many Hours

It is related of Verdi that in early youth he went to the instrument at all hours, early and late, playing scales and discovering chords and harmonious combinations. Sometimes he would forget or lose one of his favourite chords, and then there was an outburst of genuine native passion which was quite contrary to his usually quiet demeanor. Once, when labouring under one of these fits of temper, he seized a hammer and began to hit the keyboard with it. His father, attracted by the noise, rushed in and by administering prompt chastisement, stopped furtherefforts of a similar sort in the direction of piano hammering.

THE SPIDER'S SECRET

A Great Scientist Says It Would Take Four Million Completed Threads To Make a Silk Thread The Size of a Hair.

For a long time the web of the spider was supposed to be a simple strand of wavy silk, but later it was found that such was far from being the case.

Under the microscope we can get at the secret of the spinning very nicely. We see that there are either four or six teats on the spider near the lower part of the abdomen, almost exactly similar to the teats of a cow. From these issue four or six strands as the case may be, but these strands themselves are not simple, but are composed of at least a thousand fibers each, for it has been proven that in each teat there is a sieve of at least a thousand holes through which the silky matter is strained. Thus we see that fine as is a spider's web it is yet composed of from four to six thousand fibers. Leuwenhoeck states that it would take at least four million of the completed threads to make a thread as strong as a silk thread of the size of a hair.

However, there are some tropical spiders that spin threads known to be very strong; so strong, in fact, as to be able to catch and hold humming birds.

As to the color of the thread, our ordinary spiders spin one of a uniform gray color; but in the riotous tropics there are found spiders that spin vari-colored webs. One particularly produces red, yellow, and black threads which it binds together with a pleasing color effect.

In the thread of the spider lies dormant a great industry once it is properly studied. Numerous attempts have been made to utilise the threads for cloth to make clothes, etc. All have been so far doomed to failure — anyhow, as a financial proposition. It is related that Louis XIV had a dress made from spiders' web, but which was so fragile that he became disgusted with it. The entomologist D'Orbigny had made for himself a pair of trousers from the webs of tropical spiders which lasted for a long time.

It would seem that even if the web was too fragile to make the fabric entirely from, it could be mixed with silk or something equally strong and produce a new and gorgeous material for our present-day goddesses.

A Contest of Wits.

"Goethe was so often intruded upon by the curious in his house in Weimar that one day, made impatient by the determination of an unknown Englishman to force an entrance, he suddenly ordered his servant to show him in. The Englishman entered. Goethe planted himself erect in the centre of the room, his arms crossed, his eyes on the ceiling, motionless like a statue. Surprised for the moment the stranger soon comprehended the situation, and, without being in the least disconcerted, he put on his glasses, walked slowly around Goethe, inspected him from head to foot, and went out."

MARKET FOR MEAT.

Argentina Finds a New Market for Its Meat.

A new market for Argentine meat has been secured in northern Italy. The mayors of Rome and 58 other cities in the northern part of Italy have combined to promote the importation of frozen meat from Argentina. Negotiations in southern Italy have similar arrangements in view for that section. Efforts are being made by the Argentine authorities to have the Swiss regulations modified so as to permit the entry of meat into that country. At present every carcass imported into Switzerland must be accompanied by the tongue, heart, liver, spleen and kidneys. It is thought that a Swiss inspector may be stationed at Buenos Ayres to pass upon carcasses intended for his country and so relieve the trade of this prohibitive order.

ONTARIO FRUIT OUTLOOK.

Ontario's orchards were not in blossom on the 8th May, when correspondents made their return to the Department of Agriculture. The season is said to be later than usual. Fruit buds, however, promise to be plentiful, and after the lean orchard yield of 1910 a liberal yield is expected. War upon scale, codling moth, and other pests is being conducted with more vigor than ever, and several correspondents point to the improved appearance of fruit trees as the result of work done in the last year or two in the way of spraying, pruning, and the better general culture of orchards. A few reports of damage to trees from mice come from some of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa countries.

He Know Better.

A Scottish minister was startled by the original views of a not very skilful ploughman whom he had just engaged. Noticing the furrows were far from straight he said, 'John, yer drills are no straucht ;that is no like Tammie's wark'—'Tammie' being the man who had previously ploughed the field.

'Tammie didna ken his wark,' observed the man coolly as he turned his team about. 'Ye see, when the drills is crookit the sun gets well in on a' sides, an' so ye can get early tatties."

THE WEAKNESS OF OLD AGE

GREATLY RELIEVED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"Fruit-a-tives" is a god-send to those suffering from the Weakness and Nervousness of old age. "Fruit-a-tives" rejuvenates the whole system—strengthens the stomach—helps digestion—relieves the irritated bladder and kidneys—stops that pain in the back—regulates the bowels—and purifies the blood.

The concentrated and intensified fruit juices in "Fruit-a-tives" act gently yet effectively, and speedily relieve the troubles which are the natural results of a long, useful life.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE

How It Was Proposed to Murder a Brussels Magistrate

A serious attempt to murder M. Fromes, a magistrate, by means of an infernal machine has been discovered. A packet, ostensibly containing chocolates, was sent to him by some person unknown. It was found to contain several kilogrammes of explosives, and had this exploded a catastrophe must have followed. An ingenious device had been adopted to secure explosion, and it is remarkable that the package, which was handled several times without the least precaution, did not explode. An inquiry has been opened. The outrage is attributed to motives of revenge.

Instances of Clandestine Thefts from Italy's National Treasures

Despite the law to prevent the disposal of Italy's national art treasures, the clandestine traffic in works of art has not been stopped, although the vigilance of the authorities has done a good deal to keep such illegal sales within narrow limits. Recently the Minister of Instruction was informed that a valuable ancient cross, which had hitherto been preserved in the Church of San Francesco d'Atri, had been secretly transported by the rector to Naples, and there sold to a local dealer in antiquities. As a result of active inquiries the precious object was discovered and sequestrated just as it was about to be exported, and the clerical vendor was subsequently arrested and taken before the authorities to explain his illegal action. In another recent instance the Superintendent of Monuments at Pisa heard that an attempt was being made to remove a famous statue known as the Virgin of Agostina de Duccio from the church of the episcopal seminary of Pontremoli. With the assistance of the Sub-Prefect of Pontemoli and the local honorary Inspector of Monuments, the superintendent learned that the rector of the church had concluded a contract for the sale of the statue for $6,000, one of the conditions being that the original was to be replaced by a facsimile, in the hope that the substitute might pass unnoticed. In this case also the rector was brought before the judicial authorities.

MR. BORDEN HAD BIG RECEPTION IN HON. G. P. GRAHAM'S RIDING

The Standard of Living in the Two Countries is the Real Test of the Value of the Reciprocity Agreement—Two Thousand Persons Turn Out to Welcome the Conservative Chieftain—Greater Ontario Neglected

Brockville, Aug. 29.—In spite of rain 2,000 people attended the Brockville skating rink last evening to hear the Conservative leader. Brockville is the constituency of a minister of the crown, but there was no lack of warmth in the reception given Mr. Borden. Cheers started as soon as he entered the rink, and they were frequent all the evening. The rink was decorated with flags and with banners. Every person in the audience carried a Union Jack, and they used them freely to cheer with. Some of the banners struck a new note for the campaign. "Laurier has finished his work," ran one of these, and another, "Laurier's Limit, 1911."

The Conservative leader received an ovation when he rose to speak.

He began by comparing the standards of life in Canada and the U. S. "That," he said, "is one reason why we should not wish to exchange our present standards for theirs." He went on to refer to Sir Wilfrid's statement in Quebec that the Government is "Like the Kingdom of Heaven." "In the Bible we read," he said, "that in the Kingdom of Heaven 'neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and thieves do not break through nor steal.' I venture to think that perhaps that is one difference between the Government and the Kingdom of Heaven, which will strike the observer who has watched the history of the Government during the past ten years."

Mr. Borden proceeded to point to the great prosperity of New Ontario and its great possibilities. "Much," he said, "has been done by the provincial Government to place before intending immigrants the advantages of this northern country, but the Dominion Government has treated this greater Ontario with almost absolute neglect and disregard. The Liberal-Conservative party if returned to power will see that New Ontario receives its just and full share of attention, and that its wonderful natural advantages are brought to the attention of the world in an effective manner and by efficient methods."

He closed with an appeal to the loyal sentiment of the audience, which found a ready response. "I hope," he said, "that the electors of Brockville will on the 21st of September be found side by side with the rest of Canada in declaring for a continuance of British connection, and that we will send to President Taft a message that we will remain under that flag, which is our protection the world over."

Vancouver, Aug. 29.—There is a well-defined report abroad to-day that Rev. Dr. Fraser of the First Presbyterian Church, will resign the pastorate and will be the independent Conservative candidate in the coming election.

WARD OFF HAIL STORMS

Elaborate Wire Arrangement to be Placed on Eiffel Tower

With the object of safeguarding Paris from the ravages of hailstorms an immense protection against hail is to be erected on the summit of the Eiffel Tower. It is claimed that the elaborate wire arrangement will dispel the electrical influences producing hail. Should the apparatus prove effective two more will be installed on the Pantheon and Montmartre. It is estimated that the losses of French farmers every year by hailstorms amounts to not less than $30,000,000.

GREY AT EXHIBITION

The Governor-General Opens Toronto's Fair.

His Excellency Presses the Button That Sets the Machinery In Motion—He Makes a Special Plea For the Teachers of the Province Who Must Be Well Paid If Country Is to Thrive.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—The thirty-third annual season of the Canadian National Exhibition was officially declared open yesterday afternoon. Earl Grey, attended by a number of Toronto's notables, performed the time-honored ceremony in the auditorium of the dairy building, which was crowded to capacity, with an audience who listened appreciately to the remarks of the Governor-General and George H. Gooderham, M.P.P., the president of the exhibition. Countess Grey with Lady Sybil Grey and Lady Evelyn Grey was also present.

His Excellency was the guest of honor at two important functions, being present at the directors' luncheon and taking the leading part in the official opening ceremonies. He made short addresses on both occasions, expressing the greatest appreciation of the treatment he had received at the hands of Canadians in general and Torontonians in particular.

Earl Grey particularly urged the immediate inclusion of the old fort withing the exhibition grounds, and the maintenance of certain of the buildings as a permanent, open exhibit for education purposes.

At the directors' luncheon the toast to His Majesty King George was proposed by President Gooderham; that to the Governor-General by W. K. George.

In his reply Earl Grey expressed his appreciation of Mr. George's remarks.

Turning to the educational influences of the exhibition and to the status of educational institutions in the province, Earl Grey said every aid should be given to enhance the educational facilities of the province. The teachers should be the best money could procure and they should be well compensated. He said "Economy in school teachers is the very last economy to which a wise and prudent people in any country will descend. We must get the best teachers to instruct the children and teach them how to think for themselves, not merely to mechanically recite."

After luncheon His Excellency was joined by the Countess Grey, with the Ladies Sybil and Evelyn, who had lunched at the women's building, being guests of the wives of the directors. The whole party then repaired to the dairy building for the official and formal opening. On the platform with the Governor-General were: Lieutenant-Governor Gibson, Bishop Sweeny, President Gooderham, Mayor Geary, W. K. George, ex-Mayor Oliver, W. K. McNaught, M.P.P.

Proceedings were opened with prayer by Bishop Sweeny, after which President Gooderham, on behalf of the directors, presented His Excellency with an illuminated address.

A full-dress rehearsal took the place of the scheduled show before the grand stand in the evening.

Yesterday evening the exhibition grounds put on the appearance of fairy land. The Hydro-Electric forces turned the current on to thirty thousand lamps which outlined the various buildings and illuminated the roadways through the park.

Declared Court a Farce.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—Stopping in the midst of a record day's work, Recorder Weir yesterday declared before a crowded court that the administration of justice, under such conditions as he was obliged to mete out, was nothing more than a farce. With over 120 cases on the local court's list, crowds of people jammed the corridor of the City Hall yesterday morning during the recorder's court session.

The members of the bar have decided to elect a committee of four members to wait upon the council of the bar of Montreal and report to it the condition of the recorder's court at the present time.

Charged With Manslaughter.

Hamilton, Aug. 29.—W. J. Waters was yesterday served with a summons to appear in the police court here on Wednesday next to answer a charge of manslaughter. Waters is the man who ran down William Boyce with a motor car on Main street east on July 15. Boyce received such severe injuries that he died in the City Hospital the next day. The coroner's jury at the inquest into the matter found that the car was traveling at an excessive rate of speed when it struck Boyce, and the charge of manslaughter has been laid against Waters by the local police as a result of the verdict.

His Barns Burned.

Cornwall, Aug. 29.—The up-to-date barns of D. W. Hope at Summerstown, ten miles below Cornwall, were completely destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon, together with the end of the season's crops. The horses in the barn were got out safely, as well as some of the farm implements, but a piggery near the barn was also destroyed, along with a good many valuable porkers. Spontaneous combustion is supposed to have been the cause of the fire. The loss is about $4,000. Mr. Hope carried $1,000 insurance.

Work of Train Wreckers.

Middletown, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Train wreckers who had removed spikes from a rail were responsible for the derailment of an express train over the Valley Line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Sunday night, resulting in one death and injury to about sixty others.

Burglars Make Haul.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—Burglars operated successfully at Bridgeport, getting gold watches and $40 in bills and coins. The police thus far have been unable to apprehend them.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

London (Eng.) police have agitated for and received an increase in pay.

Thomas Brown of Markdale was thrown from his cart and dragged between the wheels and killed.

Arthur B. Wilson will run as Independent candidate in Wentworth, making two Wilsons in the contest.

Word of a third outbreak of the dreaded foot and mouth disease in England reached the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

H. Stanislas Harwood, ex-M.P. for Vaudreuil, and for the past seven years postmaster of Montreal, died last night after an illness of nine months.

Redmond Barry, Attorney-General of Ireland, has been appointed Lord Chancellor of Ireland, successor to Sir Samuel Walker, who died at Dublin on Aug. 13.

The death is announced of Dr. Rainy, M.P. for Kilmarnock, son of the famous Scotch divine, Principal Rainy. Hemorrhage of the brain was the cause of death.

The Seventh Battery of the Third London Brigade, with 64 points, won the King's Prize. Second place was won by the First Edinburgh Battery, Lowland Brigades. Canada was seventh.

A sneak thief operating at the Kingston market is causing farmers a great deal of trouble. It is believed that the culprit is a woman. Chickens, butter, eggs and vegetables have been missed.

Mrs. C. E. Keene, 135 Soudan avenue, North Toronto, who was burned last week by her clothes catching fire while cooking on the stove, succumbed to her injuries at ten o'clock yesterday morning.

Search For "Mona Lisa."

Cherbourg, Aug. 29.—In connection with the search for the painting "Mona Lisa," which disappeared last Monday from Louvre at Paris, the port police here have reported to the Paris headquarters that on Wednesday last two persons, one of them small and dark, carrying two framed canvases by a wooden panel sailed aboard the Kaiser Wilhelm II. for New York. They think that possibly the panel was the painting of "Mona Lisa."

Rome, Aug. 29.—Visitors to the gallery at Villi Carlotta, on Lake Como, have recently remarked the disappearance of a fine copy of the painting "Mona Lisa" executed during the lifetime of Leonardo da Vinci. No one knows what has become of it, and the newspapers suggest a connection between its disappearance and the original from the Louvre.

Longshoremen Out of Work.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—Upwards of six hundred longshoremen are this week practically thrown out of work on account of the labor difficulties in England, which have resulted in the cancellation and non-arrival in port this week of many of the large steamers.

Never in the history of the port, it is said by those whose daily work keeps them on the waterfront, have conditions been so bad as they are just now, and it is felt that with large families to support many of the dock laborers and workers will be the real sufferers through circumstances over which they have no control

"All of last week," declared a longshoreman yesterday, "we had little or nothing to do. Some of the ships going out took no cargo and the couple that came in were such small boats that fifty men were able to do all the work required."

Western Crops Not Hurt.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Renewed anxiety was expressed yesterday morning over the safety of standing crops in consequence of frosts, which occurred Saturday and Sunday night. Beyond some damage to tender varieties of ground products, no ill results are yet apparent. The wheat market, which is a most sensitive barometer of western crop conditions, declined yesterday to consider that damage had been done to wheat. In consequence the market declined five-eighths of a cent. Four points of frost was the lowest temperature recorded in the past 48 hours. Yesterday it was mostly clear and cool with a few local showers. Harvesting received a temporary setback through the showers of Sunday and Saturday. Twenty-four hundred harvest hands have arrived from Eastern Canada since midnight Sunday.

Falling Tree Killed Campers.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The terrific storm of Sunday brought to a tragic close the week-end outing of seven campers near East Templeton, three of whom were killed almost instantly by a falling tree, while the other four escaped by a hair's breadth. The dead are:

Alphonse Schingh, son of Mr. Francis Schingh, grocer, at 319 St. Patrick street, Ottawa.

Joseph Leblanc of Montreal.

Lucien Marineau of Three Rivers.

The surviving four are: D. Sabourin and his son Napoleon of Gatineau Point, and Oscar Boudrey, contractor, and his son Joseph, 163 York street, Ottawa.

Investigate "Martin" Wreck.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The Marine Department has instructed Capt Demers, wreck commissioner, who is now at Quebec, to proceed to Georgian Bay as soon as his Quebec hearing is completed and investigate the loss of the tug Martin, which foundered last week near Point au Baril

The Department has been informed that the captain of the tug, who escaped with his life, neglected to report the wreck at the customs, as, under the regulations, it was his duty to do. The conduct of the captain will be investigated.

Murdered With an Axe.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—A special despatch from Castor, Alta., says: While suffering from what is believed to have been a fit of temporary insanity, a young homesteader named F. Carlson, residing near Hamilton Lake, 30 miles southwest of Castor, is supposed to have slain a neighbor named B. Merritt by striking him on the head with an axe as he lay sleeping in his bunk in the early morning.

M'GILLICUDDY SPEAKS.

Story of Oliver Charges Interrupted by Hoodlums.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Dan McGillicuddy had his turn at a meeting of Centre York electors at Humber Bay last night. He was there to tell the people about his charges against Hon. Frank Oliver, the substance of which has already been published.

About 300 men and women were crowded into Devin's Hall.

Mr. McGillicuddy was interrupted time and time again. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M.P.P., pleaded and threatened. Finally his appeal to give one more chance took the wrong course and a score of men made a rush at the main interruptor, and, to the accompaniment of cries, "Put him in the Humber," he made a speedy but inglorious exodus.

Mr. McGillicuddy's speech was virtually a condensation of a letter addressed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, under date of July 8 last. During the course of his remarks Mr. McGillicuddy made no attempt to state where the money in question originated, but confined himself to the statement that in 1907 a "slush fund" for the Liberal party was raised in New York, and the member of the Government who went down to deal with the fund was Hon. Frank Oliver.

Mr. McGillicuddy disclaimed any desire for reward. His answer to Sir Wilfrid's question, "What do you want?" was that Frank Oliver should retire from the Cabinet and give way to a man who retained the confidence of the people, suggesting Dr. Michael Clark, Red Deer, Alta., as a fitting person. That letter hastened dissolution, he declared, because Sir Wilfrid, when in trouble, was always disposed to leave the matter in the hands of the party and the country.

LAURIER IN ST. JOHN.

He Makes His Appeal to the Electors of New Brunswick.

St. John, N.B., Aug. 29.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier opened his tour here yesterday and addressed a large audience. At the conclusion of a spirited address he appealed to the electors as follows:

"To you, my fellow-countrymen of New Brunswick, I now appeal. The issue is in the hands of the Canadian people. Let New Brunswick do as she did last time; let Quebec do the same—and she will do it, let me tell you—(applause); let Ontario do as she did—and I hear she will do better—(loud applause) — and within three months the great boon of reciprocity will be ours. I appeal to you to support a policy of moderation and conciliation in developing a united Canadian nationhood. I appeal to you against the unholy alliance of the Nationalists in Quebec and the jingoes in the other provinces. In my own province I am branded by the trumpets and organs of Bourassa and his allies as a traitor to the French race. In other provinces I am denounced by the jingoes as a traitor to the Empire. What I have sought to be is a true Canadian and a true British subject. I have kept the double connection before me throughout the whole of my public service. It has been to me my cloud by day and my pillar of fire by night. I have followed its leading, earnestly, faithfully, and. I hope, nay, I believe, with happy results, to the best development of the highest lines of our Dominion. I thank you for the four times you have endorsed that aim by your votes, and I depend upon you, I am sure, as sure as I am of the verdict of my own province of Quebec, for the renewal triumph of that policy on September 21."

Shot Himself Through Head.

New York, Aug. 29.—Standing on the corner of New and Beaver streets yesterday, Arthur Veit, connected with the Standard Oil Co., where his father, Richard C., is one of the managers, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

Young Veit was employed in the shipping department of the company. The young man, without a word, left his work and went to the street, where he pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired a shot through his head.

The police found many letters and papers in his pockets, and through these his identity was established. They found no note explaining the act.

Sunday Cars Popular.

Kingston, Aug. 29.—Kingston's Sunday car service will be discontinued after next Sunday. The company agreed to run July and August, but decided to give another day's service. The cars have been well patronized, the receipts being larger per hour than any other day. Sunday night's cars were tied up for over an hour for an unusual cause. The fireman at the power-house was taken suddenly ill, and before a man could be secured to take his place the steam gave out and the power fell off.

Sarah Was Captured.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The gasoline schooner Sarah, of Seattle, was taken into New Westminster, B.C., harbor yesterday morning, in charge of a Canadian fishery protective cruiser.

The Sarah was taken by the Government cruiser while, it is alleged, she was fishing within the three-mile limit. The capture was reported by wire to the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Power For Kingston.

Kingston, Aug. 29—Hon. Adam Beck has written Ald. Elliott stating that the report of the engineers on the High Falls and Waddington power proposition would be in his hands this week, and that municipalities in this district applying for power would be informed immediately as to the cost of power.

Found Dead In Well.

Hamilton, Aug. 29.—Between 4 and 6 o'clock yesterday evening a man named Blunt, who resided at Kenilworth, was found dead in a well in the rear of his house, and it is supposed that he was overcome with a dizzy fit, to which he was subject, and fell in head first.

If I Were Farming Again

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

A rather inconsequent slogan was concocted in a Montreal newspaper office the other day and telegraphed all over the country as the battle-cry of the Liberal party in this election. It is "Let the farmer have his turn."

When clever politicians conspire to make a slogan they generally make a mistake. The cleverer the politicians the bigger the mistake.

The slogan doesn't really hit off the situation, except from the point of view of those who, like Sir Wilfrid, have decided that they want Free Trade as it is in England. Sir Wilfrid's speeches in the West last year frequently contained this doctrine If you are for unconditional free trade it is no use trying to make out you are for the National Policy. So you musn't talk about letting the farmer have his turn—as if he were not capable of taking care of himself. To have free trade as it is in England means that wages would have to come to the English level, and the power of wages to buy grain produce would be correspondingly weakened.

Half the controversy that troubles the world arises not because people give different answers to the same question, but because they ask different questions, and they approach public affairs from different points of view. In this Reciprocity business one man sees only a few schedules. Another discerns a change in the temper of the national life.

Many people tell us that the farmer thinks of nothing but price. I believe they are mistaken, important as the price is. I am very chary of talking to farmers about their relationship to a commercial-political question, because, having left the farm, I leave lecturing to farmers to those who know nothing about farming except what they see in the papers and observe from train or automobile. The best I can do is to size up the situation as I believe I would if I were farming again, remembering the long days of toil, the short nights of rest, the aching limbs and hardened hands, that used to belong to one's daily rustle with the earth.

The farmer who takes wide interest in public questions is the man above all others who should be able to grasp the great forces that originate and govern political action, because he is detached from many petty things that afflict city people, and because his closeness to nature helps him to discern the processes of national change and growth which are always behind political action. In politics—not the fussy little manoeuvreings between rivals for office that we sometimes dignify by the name—it is dead true that whatsoever a country sows that will it also reap.

Another consideration that would influence me, I think, as a farmer having to decide my attitude towards a vital national question would be the knowledge that most likely some, if not most, of my children would leave the farm, and that I should be ambitious for them to achieve the best possible result in other walks of life, and I should remember that nearly all the best services of the nation have been performed by rubes who were raised on the farm.

I would have a peculiar interest in the development and dignity of my province and of my country, from a patriotic point of view. I should know that in the building up of Canada the climactic factor has played a vital part. Just as the far north of Canada is the backyard of the southern portions of the Dominion, so, unless there has been something to check the flow of trade south across the boundary line, instead of there being big cities in Canada, manufacturing for the farmers, and buying his produce at good prices, our industrial centres, without which no country can be really prosperous, would have been in the United States.

I should inquire how the United States had become such a great manufacturing country, and should read carefully what Mr. James Wilson, the Scotsman who is Secretary of the Agriculture of the United States, has said:—

> The American farmer brought about the building of the American factory because he wanted a home market. The home market is the best to be found anywhere, because our peole live well and are all able to buy the best farm produce, that is, all who are willing to work. It may be said, without much exaggeration, that the American farmer is responsible for the upbuilding of the factory. He has voted steadily for half a century to give protection to the extent of the difference in cost of production between this country and any country that desires to sell in our markets. Was that right or wrong? Was it wise for the farmers to do that? There was no market at home. They wanted a market as near the factory as they could bring it.

Having read that I would dig into the Dominion Government reports, which show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, like this:—

> Grain and fodder, including thirteen selected standard commodities, 42.9 per cent. Cattle and cattle products, hogs and hog products, sheep and sheep products, fowl and turkeys, 48.6 per cent. Dairy products, 33 per cent.

And that the price of goods the farmer has to buy have not risen to an equal extent, as this list shows:—

> Woollen goods, 23.3 per cent.; cotton goods, 25 per cent.; boots and shoes, 25 per cent.; metals and implements, 2.4 per cent.; imported goods—decrease, 4 per cent.

The staple lines, which represent over 90 per cent. of the farmer's expenditure, have only increased 14.3 per cent., while the goods he sells have increased 35.7 per cent.

GALE HITS CHARLESTON

Savannah, Ga., Is Also Victim of Severe Storm.

Five Persons Are Killed In Vicinity of Former City and Damage Amounting to $1,000,000 Has Been Wrought by a Freak Storm—Soldiers Do Heroic Work to Keep Down the List of Casualties.

Charleston, S.C., Aug. 28, via Summerville, S.C., Aug. 29.—As a result of a freak storm which struck this city and Savannah, Ga., last night and which reached hurricane proportions, Charleston virtually has been isolated for 24 hours. Five persons are known to have been killed near here, and property losses, it is estimated, will reach $1,000,000.

The wind velocity increased from 48 miles an hour at 1.25 p.m., to 94 miles at 10.20 p.m., when the wind gauge was put out of adjustment.

The tide was something over eight feet during the storm, three feet short of 1893. The waters have caused washouts on the approaches to the Union Station, preventing the operation of trains.

Alonzo Coburn, an engineer on the Charleston division of the Southern Railway, was instantly killed by flying timbers. A man named Smith of Columbia, and Motorman Cutter of the local street railway system, were killed, two men seriously injured when a trestle collapsed, and two unidentified women were drowned when their home was flooded. Several negroes are also reported among the storm victims.

Great damage is feared for the rice and sea-island cotton industries by the rise of the tide. Not since the cyclone of 1885 has the water front here suffered so severely.

Anxiety for the people marooned on Sullivan Island was relieved yesterday afternoon, when a steamer came in with a load of excursionists and residents from the island. The island was completely flooded, houses were inundated and the people had harrowing experiences. Two schooners and small steamers were either sunk or damaged and had it not been for splendid rescue work by soldiers at Fort Moultrie the death list would have been appalling.

Five Were Killed.

Regina, Aug. 29.—Of six men who were sitting on the rear-end of a Grand Trunk Pacific caboose when it was sent crashing into a flat car at an early hour yesterday morning, two were instantly killed. The names are yet unknown. Four were seriously injured and three of them have since died. The three were L. H. Fortin, a French-Canadian, from Lynn, Mass.; Mike Griffiths, an Englishman, from Prescott, Lancashire, and Albert Marsal, a French-Canadian, from Montreal. Another of the four, seriously injured, is dying. His name is James Christy, a Scotchman, from Glasgow.

Minister Killed at Crossing.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 29.—Geo. Goodwin, aged 84, was struck by a Michigan Central passenger train at Bender avenue crossing yesterday and almost instantly killed. He was carried along for some distance and badly cut and mangled. His one-year-old grandson was thrown out of the buggy, but escaped serious injury. Goodwin was a superannuated Presbyterian minister.

You can't always depend upon people who call you by your first name.

How Are Your Eyes?

It is a most important question nowadays, for there is an impression that each succeeding generation makes glasses more and more in demand But it is wise to have advice about the eye-sight, and particularly if one suffers from headaches, most of which are distinctly traceable to eye disorders. We fit glasses that give instant relief to the eyes and the effects of eye-strain.

KINGSTON LADY HAS ELOPED

When Bridegroom To-Be Arrived He Found His Birdie Flown

KINGSTON, Aug. 28.—According to reports a well-known young lady of this city has eloped and has been married to the man of her choice in other surroundings. She was engaged to another man, who lives in a nearby village, and the day she was to have met him, she was speeding on her way to the man who is now her husband.

It was not a sensational getaway in the stilly hours of night as it is done in the novels, but a prosaic packing up when her parents were out, and taking the noon train. A short note, stating that she had gone to the man she loved, acquainted the parens with the facts when they returned home.

The one to whom she was engaged arrived that night, but the bird had flown.

The girl had kept company with the man she married for several years past, but it is understood her parents objected to him. The man to whom she was engaged she had met about a year ago.

LATEST DOINGS IN DESERONTO

DESERONTO, Aug. 28.—The Boy Scouts left on Saturday evening for Toronto. Those who went were:—Leader, Rev. A. H. Creggan; patrol leader, A. Malley; Corporal J. Hill; Scouts, S. Howard, N. Armitage, J. Farrell, J. Cole, W. Black, R. Hudson, H. Armitage; assistant scoutmaster, C. Malley.

On Saturday morning some man broke into the home of Mrs. John Bowen, Mechanic Street, and took $25 from a drawer. Mr. Bowen was at work, being employed at night by the Deseronto Iron Co.

On Thursday morning, at St. Vincent de Paul Church, a very pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Fr. J. P. Hartigan, at 7.30, when Mr. Osmond Marion, of Winnipeg, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Mary Eileen Slavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Slavin.

DR. ACKRILL AGAIN DISCUSSES RECIPROCITY

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Sir,—Please excuse me for rushing again into print, but I cannot help it. We hear very little of what Canadians in the U. S. think of this pact, so I want to tell you what my mother-in-law and her two sons and daughter say, who live in Rochester. They declare if reciprocity passes they will conceal their identity as Canadians and call themselves Americans, for two reasons. First, as Canadians, they would have the life of a dog over there, and secondly, they would be too ashamed of their country to own it. As they say, we have let the Yanks outwit us again and again, and they are constantly being twitted about it, and now if we allow them to get the better of us again we are not worth owning relationship to, and henceforth they will be real true, genuine American citizens, not by adoption but by birth, and will declare they never knew Canada nor any of their ancestors! What do loyal patriotic Grits think of these sentiments?

I enclose you a letter from Mr. Geo Grills, commercial traveller, formerly of Belleville, now of Ottawa. Having read my communication re reciprocity in last week's Intelligencer, he writes me thus: "I have just read your letter, and, strange to say, it is just my sentiments, and though I am a Grit, I don't appreciate this game I am too patriotic. It is just what I told the people in Saskatchewan where I have just spent four months selling shoes."

Yes, Mr. Editor, these are no doubt the sentiments of good, loyal patriotic Grits like Mr. Geo. Grills The salvation of a country always depends on her patriots. What matters it what party a man belongs to. I for instance, am a Tory, and I tell you candidly if I had a son I would wish him to be a Grit, and would so advise him, with this admonition not to follow his party blindly, but when the interest of the country was at stake to vote against his party if necessary; in other words to be a patriot; country first, party next When polling day arrives on the 21st thousands of honest, conscientious and patriotic Grits are going to vote against this pact, this veiled treason in the interest of and for the salvation of our country, as I myself did in '96, when I cast two good solid votes for the Grit party, because our party, the Tory party, had gone wrong, and a change of Government was necessary. So, my good honest Grit friends, in asking you on the 21st to vote right, I have a perfect right to do so, because I voted right myself in '96.

Yours truly,
DR. ACKERILL.

THE NATIONALIST MOVEMENT

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Sir,—Upon the claim of fair play I hope you will allow me space to say that, in my opinion, the position and motives of Messrs. Bourassa, Monk and others known as "Nationalists," are much misunderstood outside of Quebec. These gentlemen have had the courage to condemn the wrongdoings of their own former political leaders, and to epxress their belief that the Navy Act, by which this country is to be committed to the armament mania which is oppressing the people of Europe and which is the root-cause of the labor troubles and the social unrest in those lands, is wrong. Because a great many people in Quebec have had the indpeendence of thought to break away from the slavery of political party to join Messrs. Monk and Bourassa, there is great alarm in both political camps but most of all in that camp which has most to suffer in a party sense, by a revolt of the independent thinkers Under the British system of government we pride ourselves upon the liberty of thought and speech and I believe that the creation of a Canadian navy will fasten upon this country a monster in the form of wasteful vested interests, which will oppress and impoverish our children, have I not the right to declare my belief without being accused of disloyalty? The charge of anti-British feeling or of race antipathy among the French Canadians is so cruelly unjust that I wonder that any fair minded man or public journal can repeat it. The simple fact that crimes of violence are less in proportion in population in Quebec than in any other part of this continent, proves beyound question that the French Canadians are a people of peace-loving disposition. And if Canada were invaded what possible motive would French Canadians have in joining any nation on earth in dispossessing themselves of their own land? There is only one possible nation to which they could allay themselves, and that is France. But even if France herself were not an allay of the British empire, we know there is no sympathy between religious French Canada and atheistic France. And as French Canadians object to leaving their own land for war like purposes how is it possible that they would willingly submit to the conscription of France? We have only to raise these questions to show the unreasonable injustice of the disloyalty insinuations against any of our fellow citizens in Quebec.

On the ground that two wrongs do not make one right—that the aggression of one nation is no justification for agression by another. I am opposed to the creation of a Canadian navy, whether by a Conservative or a Liberal government Before Canadians allow their necks to be tied to this millstone which will help to sink them to the depths in which the suffering masses of Europe are engulfed because of navy building, they will do well to spend a year or two in reflection and investigation, and they may then thank Heaven for the Bourassas and the Monks who have the moral courage to declare openly what most of us believe in our hearts to be true, but are not ready to confess.

I cannot think it unpatriotic to love peace, nor is it a bad sign when men will leave their party because they think it has failed to maintain its virtues, for this, after all, is Mr. Bourassa's main ground.

CHARGE OF FORGERY

A warrant was issued to-day for the arrest of a man named Detlor who is charged with cashing a forged cheque for $35 at a store in town on Saturday last. He was probably arrested at Trenton this afternoon.

Sabbath Description.

Bishop John L. Nuelsen, in an ad ress in Omaha, said of intolerance These intolerant people make m ink of young Parson Brownslow. Parson Brownslow, one Sunday orning, was passing a pond whe wo young skaters went through the e. The parson, a good swimmer, unged into the cold, black water romptly, and after a deal of diving nd floundering and struggling, he anaged to rescue the two boys. He id their limp forms on the bank de by side and then he began to ork their arms vigorously, so as to estore animation, when a deep, reproachful voice cried from the road: Parson!" He looked up and beheld e frowning visage of Deacon Jones. Parson," said the deacon, "six days alt thou labor!"

CONDUCTOR WAS THROWN FROM TRAIN

Crowd Smashed Windows and Seats Before They Attacked Conductor

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—Conductor Fred Munday, who was in charge of the special bringing back Montrealers from the Laurier demonstration at Valleyfield, was thrown from his train Saturday night and may die from his injuries.

The conductor was assaulted and thrown from one of the car platforms after a fight among some of the passengers who smashed seats and windows during the fracas.

The assault on Munday was committed after the train had crossed the Victoria Bridge and was running through the Grand Trunk yards, Point St. Charles, at the rate of about 25 miles an hour.

Conductor Munday, it is said, was trying to ascertain the names of some of those who took part in the row, in which the windows in one of the cars was smashed and some of the seats damaged, when he was set upon and assaulted. Then, in passing from one car to another, to summon the train crew to his assistance, he was attacked and thrown from the train. Immediately there was a scene of excitement on the train, as it was thought the conductor had gone under the wheels and was crushed to death. When the brakeman learned what had happened, he signalled the engineer to stop the train at the subway.

Conductor Munday was found lying unconscious beside the track at the point where he was thrown, and an ambulance was called from the General Hospital. When examined at the hospital it was found he was suffering from bruises and contusions, and had one bruise on his head that it is feared may develop into a fracture of the skull.

Munday resides with his family in Magdalen street, Point St. Charles. It was said at the General Hospital last night that, although his condition was sill serious, the physicians hope for his recovery.

The police of the Grand Trunk Railway are working on the case and will endeavor to ascertain the names of those who attacked Munday and threw him from the train.

CHILDLESS WOMEN TO BE EXPORTED

Country Would be Better, Says Methodist Preacher at Conference

WINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 28.—Dr. George R. Stewart, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church of Cleveland, Tenn., said in his sermon here to-day before the Winona Bible Conference:

"You can, with great advantage to the country, load up 5,000 giddy, godless, childless women and ship them out of this country, and bring in an equal number of good old-fashioned mothers. Women and lap-dogs do not make a country; it takes fathers mothers and children.

"I believe that this country needs obedience to authority. If a boy does not obey his father and mother, that is incipient anarchy. Once I asked a successful dog trainer how he did his work, and he answered: "I take the dogs when they are pups and then I gain complete control over them and then keep them doing the same things over and over again until it becomes a sort of second nature to them." That is the secret of bringing up children. The man who said he raised his boys on prayers, and hickory had the secret.

WESTERN RUSH FOR A WIDOW

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 28.—Answers by the bushel are going forward to a young widow of Massachusetts, who, a week ago wrote Arthur Capper, editor and Republican candidate for Governor, requesting him to find her a husband, a Westerner, big-hearted, big-bodied and whole-souled. She said she did not care for eastern men, and longed for one who carried the free wholesome atmosphere of the "great wide West."

The letter was published and the answers began to pour in by the next mail. As fast as they arrive they are forwarded to the woman. She is to pick out a few dozen of the promising ones and then Mr. Capper is to do a little detective work, and find out all about the men in question.

WHAT IS LIFE?

The Pursuit of the Good the Proper Solution.

You will find existence full of sweet savour if you do not expect from it what it cannot give. When people complain of life, it is almost always because they have asked impossible things from it. Upon this believe wholly the teaching of the wisest. There is but one foundation for a happy life — the pursuit of the good and of the true. You will be well pleased with existence if you make fair use of it, and if you abide well pleased with yourselves. A noble sentence is that which says, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

HITLESS AND RUNLESS.

CHICAGO, 27.—Ed. Walsh pitched the first no-hit, no-run game of his career to-day against Boston. It was the second game of this kind this season in the American League. Chicago won by 5 to 0. Only one of the visitors reached first base, Engle getting a base on balls. The locals fielded well behind Walsh, who struck out 8 batsmen. Wood of Boston is the only other man who has pitched a hitless and runless game.

BASE BALL BRIEFS.

The Toronto club has called off its purchase of Purtell from Boston. That player had some salary trouble with Boston and meanwhile did not report here.—Toronto Telegram.

Ty Cobb has taken part in 107 games, has been at bat officially 430 times, and has hit safely 180 times, giving him an average of .419. Ty has scored 113 runs and stolen 60 bases. Lajoie and Jackson, the two Cleveland sluggers are the American league players in the ultra-select batting set.

Joe Agler, the first baseman bought from the Newark Eastern Club by the the Cubs, is not yet 20 years old. He has absorbed all the advice Manager Joe McGinnity has given him though, and while he isn't anything extra as a hitter, he is a mighty sweet player around the bag. He throws and bats left-handed.—The Rochester Union and Advertiser.

But talking about batters, where is there another one like Hans Wagner! The veteran who has led the league more often than any other player in the history of the game is again out in front by considerable margin, with a little danger of being passed. Last year Hans fell down in his hitting, and while well up, was beaten out by several. But lack of condition was given as a cause. This year the big German got busy in the spring and his hitting is better than it ever has been in years.

The Cuban trip of the Giants is never mentioned any more in McGraw's club house. There is not a man on the squad who is not confident of the team being the National League's representative in the World's series in October which means no barnstorming.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Unless the Giants win the National League pennant the world's series of 1911 will start on Oct. 10 and 11, which will be considerably earlier than last year. All the other possible champions will be able to wind up their schedules on Oct. 9 at latest and could finish on Oct. 8 if the race were not too close to permit crowding dates. The American league's schedule ends on Oct. 8, so that there will be no interference with an early start for the big pennant from that half of the major league map.—Detroit Times.

BOXING

Sam Langford and Joe Jeanette two of the strongest negro contenders for Jack Johnson's title, have finally been matched for a ten-round bout in a New York ring. Their manager signed a contract on Saturday calling for a contest at Madison Square Garden on Sept. 5. The purse is said to be $10,000.

No boxing bouts can now be held in New York State under the corporation membership law. The State Athletic Commission, according to the new law, has "absolute control over all boxing and sparring matches held by clubs, corporations or associations in the State of New York." The commission expects no trouble, but is prepared to prosecute persons who do not comply with the provisions of the statute. If a club attempts to operate without a license the commission will apply for the arrest of the promoters

GERMAN SPY IN BRITAIN OVER MOROCCAN CRISIS

Lieut. Schultz Arrested—Important Papers and Code Found

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 28.—Lieut. Phillip M. Schultz, of the 13th Hussars, stationed at Frankfort-on-the Main, Germany, who was arrested here on August 19 last, charged with espionage, was arraigned in open court for the first time to-day. According to the public prosecutor Lieut. Schultz was specially commissioned by the German authorities to obtain precise information as to how for the British Government was backing up France in the Moroccan dispute. Specific questions, copies of which were found among his belongings, were to be asked by Schultz regarding the naval preparations, the fortifying of ports and the commissioning and reserve of ships, etc. Insistence was laid on the necessity of the information coming from the officers of the active list of the British navy. A copy of the cipher employed by Schultz was also found.

Counsel for the prosecution asserted that the lieutenant had offered considerable sums of money to local residents to procure the desired information. The residents instead informed the authorities, and in conjunction with them laid a plot to catch the alleged spy.

COLOR PHOTOS NOW PRODUCED

Remarkable Achievements in a London Studio—A Talk With the Inventor

The secret of taking and printing photographs in color—a possibility sought after as eagerly by photographers as the Philosopher's Stone by the alchemists of old—seems now to have been achieved. At the Dover Street Studios numbers of photographs of well-known people in which the most delicate tints of eyes and cheeks and hair, of jewels and laces and silks, had been reproduced on paper, sensitized by an entirely new process, so as to be an exact facsimile to the actual colors seen by the "eye of the camera." "Although colored plates of a kind have been produced," said the inventor, Mr. Hamburger, "I can claim that this is the first time that a true color-photograph has been printed upon one and the same sheet of paper without any touching up or 'transmitting.' Hitherto color photographs have been reproduced by the three-color process—the primary colors, red, yellow and blue, being laid one on top of another and blending into something that will pass for the real picture. With this method, however, it was hardly ever possible to get a pure black or a pure grey. This we have managed to achieve. I must not explain the exact way it is done as it is a patent, but the result is a photograph that can be true to the most infinitesimal details, and indeed, 'cannot lie.' Take, for instance, this photograph," and Mr. Hamburger held up a portrait of a lady whose complexion did certainly seem a little too obviously compounded of the lily and the rose. "Now this lady happened to have 'made-up' her face, imagining that the camera would not know. We implored her not to, but she was obdurate. So here you are, paint and all. Sergent himself could not be more candid. At the same time, where truth is beauty the picture will be beautiful. You see this portrait of Miss Lily Brayton. It was taken immediately after her Australian tour. You will notice that she is a little sunburnt, but not a whit the less charming. Here is another of our triumphs—a lady in a black satin dress, with sleeves of black lace You see how the delicate flesh tints show through, yet without any blurring. If you were to look at it through a microscope you would see every thread of the lace.

"As yet, I am sorry to say, we have not been able to take any open-air photographs. Sunlight itself is too variable for our purposes, but a special flashlight of our own has the photographic power of sunlight, and the colors are exactly the same as if they were seen in the full blaze of the sun. Of course, if people want to be taken under different circumstances, 'in the dusk with the light behind them,' or in the glow of the fire-light —well, we can arrange our lighting effects to that end. As yet, however, the atmosphere of landscape remains the painter's monopoly. For how long it will remain so is for the future to decide. Our method has the advantage of being a business proposition. There is no 'if' or 'when' about it—no interminable delays. Given our sitter we can deliver the colored plate in a few minutes, and can print off as many copies as are wanted in about three weeks. We have already had orders by the thousands."

Among the celebrities who have already sat for their color photographs are Prince Alexander of Teck, the Gaekwar and Maharanee of Baroda, Mme. Rejane, Lord Esher, Mme. Pavlova, and Sir Joseph Lyons.

fit from the States and sold cheaper than is now done by the companies in Canada. Wait and see. Among the many other trusts which they have in the States there is one which is called The International Harvesting Co. While not exactly a trust, in that it does business under different names, having various subsidiary companies that were originally separate, enrolled among the agreeing members, yet it is really and truly a trust in that an agreement exists among them as regards the selling of agricultural implements. One of the subsidiary companies is the Massey-Harris Co. and thus in fact cut their own throat. As far as I can see, Canadian farmers stand to gain nothing by Reciprocity, and I know that Canadian fishermen in the Maritime provinces will be seriously hurt by the pact. The great Canadian manufacturers tell us that they will be hurt, and that they are backing up their words with cold hard cash. If the manufacturers are going to lose money on the deal they are also going to get it back and in the end it will be the farmer who will indirectly lose by having to pay a higher price for his manufactured goods or in case of competition with the American manufacturers, it will be an inferior product that he will obtain, so that the gain in the end will be nil.

Now to return to Mr. Sinclair, I wish to say that I wish him the best of health and I would also suggest that he don't lose his appetite in his haste to obtain political honors, for in reality a good digestion makes and unmakes a great number of famous men. And again if I might make another suggestion I would say that during this hot weather it would be very wise of him to take a cold shower-bath once a day after reading the Intelligencer and then the public would be spared the trouble of having to spend twenty minutes reading symptoms which accompany a disordered stomach before coming to the heart of Mr. Sinclair's remarks.

If Mr. Sinclair should not care to try his last suggestion and if he would like to obtain another situation during the hot weather I would respectfully suggest that he try playing the part of the man who blows the bellows to good old Sir Wilfrid who as a matter of fact cannot now stand the strain of an election as he once could. Doubtless the Editor of the Intelligencer would furnish Mr. Sinclair with all necessary credentials.

Hoping that I have not trespassed too much upon your limited space,

I remain,
A SIMPLE ONLOOKER

CELEBRITIES' DOUBLES

King George and the Czar Could Exchange Parts Easily

Many celebrities have had their doubles. Grant Duff records that he found "Professor Schrader so ludicrously like Huxley that I went up and shook hands with him at Lady Alford's." There was a strong physical resemblance between Tennyson and Leslie Stephen, in spite of a disparity in years, and between Jules Ferry and Whiteley, the universal provider. Edmund Yates was so like the late Shah of Persia that his photographs were sold in Brussels as the Shah's when Nasr-ed-Din visited that city. Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema used to have a double in George Du Maurier. So closely did they resemble each other that a lady at a dinner one night addressed Du Maurier as Sir Alma, and assured him that he was "really not a bit like that Mr. Du Maurier, as people tried to make out."

It is open to the fictionist who deals in doubles to point to many instances in real life, says the London "Chronicle." King George and the Czar of Russia could exchange parts without anybody noticing the physical difference. The Duke of Norfolk and the late George Manville Fenn were almost exact duplicates in outward appearance. And two such artists in different ways as Anthony Hope and Edward German were in their earlier years again and again mistaken for each other. They were hardly "doubles," but there was a remarkable resemblance between Tennyson and Dickens. Comyns Carr in his "Eminent Victorians" tells how he once showed the poet a pencil drawing which Millais had made of Dickens after death. Mr. Carr himself had been struck by the resemblance the portrait bore to Tennyson, and was curious to see if the poet would notice it. Tennyson gazed at it intently for a minute and then exclaimed: "Why, this is an extraordinary drawing. It is exactly like myself."

FRANCE WANTS TO RULE THE AIR

Will Have a Two-For-One Aerial Fleet Against The World

PARIS, France, Aug 30.—The Government is behind a measure introduced in the Chamber of Deputies to establish an aerial war fleet of ten to fifteen thousand units, within two years. France is determined to maintain a two-for-one aerial force against the world.

FILIBUSTERS SEIZED

PARIS, France, August 30.—Jack Johnson, by refusing to keep his fight arrangements here is causing the promoters much worry. The champion is not training and is forty pounds over weight.

GRIT NOMINATION GOES A-BEGGING

(Special to The Intelligencer).

TRENTON, Aug. 30.—At five o'clock yesterday afternoon the Liberals in session at Trenton came out of their hall and gave out the word that no candidate had been selected to run in West Hastings. Some say that a man named Hubble, living at or near Trenton, may be induced to head the forlorn hope, while others say that a candidate will have to be advertised for.

The heads of the party sat for several hours in earnest consultation, but no one could be found who was willing to offer himself up as a sacrifice on the altar of reciprocity.

THE PARTING OF THE WAYS

What Canada Stands to Lose by the Adoption of Reciprocity

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The morning Post says of the Canadian elections: If the Dominion choose to remain within the Empire she retains complete autonomy in her own sphere with the guarantee of the Imperial arm against foreign aggression. If, on the other hand she chooses to enter into a new partnership with the United States, she loses her freedom, for she enters into the very body of an alien economic system and draws around her as an inevitable consequence a new set of political ties which must become stronger as the years go on, until it will be beyond the power of Canada to disengage herself. The economic satellite becomes the political satellite. That is a natural law We may frankly avow it to be against British interest that reciprocity should win in these elections, because it detaches Canada from the Imperial system and strikes a heavy blow at reciprocal trade within the Empire.

A LIVELY TILT IN THE POLITICAL ARENA

Messrs. Young and Mikel Tilt With Messrs. Anderson and Sinclair at Rednerville—The Combat was a Sharp One—Mr. Sinclair Tripped in Some Ridiculous Misstatements—The Meeting was Dr. Currie's and He Was the Last Speaker

A meeting called in the interests of Dr. Morley Currie, ex-M. P. for Prince Edward, was held last night at Redner's Hall, Rednerville. There was a good attendance, about 100 being present, among whom were Messrs D. V. Sinclair and W. C Mikel of Belleville, and Mr. E. M. Young, of Picton.

After Mr. L. Phillips had been elected chairman it was announced that Messrs. J. R. Anderson, Sinclair, Young and Mikel would be given a half hour each and Dr. Currie would take fifteen or twenty minutes to reply.

MR. ANDERSON.

Mr. James R. Anderson, who spoke first, disclaimed being a politician but was in favor of reciprocity, as being in the interest of the farmers.

He felt that as the lowering of the duyt on cream had led to a big trade, he was assuerd that a similar result would follow from the repeal of the duty on cream had led to a big trade he was assured that a similar result the States he would have made during the year some $600. He believed the U. S. market would be of benefit to the dairymen of Ontario, and he could not see why its opening to our products was now opposed unless on political grounds. Both parties had tried during many years for what was now being offered. He believed the fight was between the people and the money power. He was told by Dr. Publow that a factory near Kingston had been paying $1.12 per 100 lbs. for cream and exporting it to the United States, while at his factory they paid 91 cents and made the cream into cheese. All the agricultural papers favored reciprocity. At this stage there were some interruptions, while Mr. Anderson was dilating on this part of his subject, but it was finally suppressed. In the U. S the farmers had opposed the agreement, which was evidence, to his mind, that it was for the benefit of Canada.

MR. YOUNG.

Mr. E. M. Young, of Picton, followed in a vigorous speech. His friend, he said had literally advertised certain papers and would probably take their subscriptions after the meeting. The movement originated with 500 farmers from the West, of whom 300 were Americans, who went to Ottawa and asked for many things They were not satisfied with what had been given them, namely, some of the finest land under the sun. If the U. S. market was opened to us, ours would be opened to them. They wanted our natural resources, having exhausted their own. As to the U. S trusts, they would crowd Canada to our detriment. In negotiating the agreement our negotiators went it blind, without information, while the U. S. negotiators had full information gathered by great experts during several years. The pact was no good to us and Canada would rue the day it was ever passed. Mr. Young then spoke of the most favored nations, the productions of which would enter into competition with ours, because of the cheapness of water carriage—Argentine wheat and Russian barley for instance. Mr. Young then quoted statistics showing that prices are higher on this side of the line than in the U. S. As to barley in particular, if it was $1.05 in Buffalo, as

WIFE TELLS SECRET OF HUSBAND'S DEED

Wealthy Southerner Said to Have Murdered Man Years Ago

PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug., 28—"T. Z. Gattis" of Gattis Fla., postmaster, turpentine operator and one of the wealthiest men in Florida, admitted when confronted with his wife's accusation that he is Zach Marks who fled from North Carolina nine years ago escaping arrest on the charge of murdering a young farmer.

It is said Gattis killed a man in self-defence. "I was afraid to stand trial because public sentiment was so high in the little community," he said.

Two months ago Gattis was arrested in Pensacola, on a warrant sworn out by his wife, who made sensational charges of abuse of herself and her daughter, "Gattis'" stepdaughter.

Nine years ago, "Gattis" appeared in the turpentine camps 30 miles from here, penniless. He went to work as a laborer. Years passed and he was not recognized. He felt safe and seeing opportunities in the turpentine business he leased a small tract of country and began operating independently. His holdings increased, a town sprang up and was Christened "Gattis."

Three years ago he married. Today he is accounted worth $500,000. A year after his marriage he made the disclosure of his identity to his wife. She kept the secret until she says their domestic troubles became too heavy and inharmonious and she caused his arrest on a charge of abuse.

Telegrams have been sent to the North Carolina authorities.

POLICE NOTES

Percy Detlor, the alleged forger was arrested yesterday afternoon at Trenton. Sergeant Harman and Officer Thompson went up by boat to bring him back here. This morning he was brought up before Mayor Ackerman and committed for trial.

Neil O'Flynn, a drunk, was fined $5 and Jos. Brogen was allowed to go.

PLUM IN PROSPECT FOR THE PROSPECT

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir,—Last evening at the Rednerville meeting James R. Anderson oeffred to bet $25.00 that the farmers of the U.S. were opposed to the reciprocity pact now to be voted on, and offering to leave the decision to Sir Mackenzie Bowell. I do not care to take the bet, but if James Anderson will put $25 in Sir Mackenzie Bowell's hands, to be paid to the Belleville Hospital if he does not prove to Sir Mackenzie Bowell's satisfaction within a month that the farmers of the U. S. are opposed to this pact, I will place $25 in the same gentleman's hands, to be paid to the hospital if James Anderson does prove his said assertion.

I have already placed my $25 in Sir Mackenzie Bowell's hands on the above proposition.

W. C. MIKEL.

(Editor's Note.—Mr. Mikel's cheque for $25 has been received at this office and handed to Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

WHOLE TOWN TO BE MOVED

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Aug. 28—The entire town of Dragon is to be moved twelve miles as a result of the completion of the Utah Railway.

Dragon, now boasting 600 inhabitants, will be moved bodily on flat cars to Temple, which will be the new town. Houses, railroad shops, stores and all are to be transported. The cost will run into thousands of dollars but the railroad officials claim that it will be cheaper in the end to have their facilities at Temple. The Dragon people are opposing the move, but if the railroad shops and round houses are removed, the rest of the city will follow suit. Negotiations are now in progress for the removal of the roundhouses and other equipment.

The new town site in Utah and Dragon will no longer be a post office in Colorado.

DEATHS.

KETCHESON—On Tuesday, August 29th, at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Charles F. Farley, Elias C. Ketcheson in the 90th year of his age.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. Charles F. Farley, Commercial Street, West Belleville, on Thursday, 31st inst., at 2 p.m. to the family burying ground, 5th concession of Sidney.

CURRENT COMMENT

"Laurier—and $55,000,000 in the next ten years on the navy."

The Governor of Oklahoma says that if necessary he will deputize 100,000 men to put a stop to the illegal liquor traffic in that state. But whom will he deputize to keep a watch on the 100,000?

A Western man is suing a railroad for $10,000 because while on a train he was forced at the point of a revolver to take a drink of whisky. A lot of men will think he displays base ingratitude.

Laurier says it will break his heart if the reciprocity pact is defeated by the Canadian people. And if it is not defeated a good many of them will be "broke" in pocket. Which is the lesser evil?

The announcement of his certain retirement does not seem to have answered the Premier's purpose; it has dismayed his followers, and been taken as a signal of defeat by the Liberal party.—Kingston Standard.

Wouldn't it be a stroke of political "genius" if Hon. Mackenzie King got an autograph letter from Kaiser Wilhelm advising all German residents of Waterloo to vote for him? That would be no more unreasonable than trying to prejudice them against Mr. Borden because he was in favor of a contribution to the Britishh navy, which might possibly, some day, fight against Germany.

P. P. Clark has issued an address to the electors of East Hastings. It is cunningly worded. It would be interesting to learn who wrote it for him. It will be seen that he studiously avoids stating that he is an out and out supporter of all the jobs and grafting of the Laurier Government. Let the electors ask him if he has gone back on his Gritism. The electors of East Hastings are not likely to be deceived by nice rounded sentences put together by some of his Grit friends. Watch him.

The statement made at Rednerville last night by Dr. Currie that the present trade pact is on all-fours with the standing offer of the Conservative party is incorrect. There was not one manufactured article embraced in the Conservative offer, whilst there are eighteen manufactured articles included in the present proposed arrangement. The principle embraced in Taft-Laurier agreement is precisely that which Sir John A. Macdonald fought to a finish and which Hon. Edward Blake declared to be disloyal.

Spices

Good health depends greatly upon the food you eat

At this season the ladies are preparing pickles and preserves for the rest of the year

You know that the piquancy of all canned goods depends upon the character of spices used and this is where we want you to think of us

We buy from the most reliable spice houses, and in addition examine all our spices carefully before we offer them for sale

We sell spices in any quantity, but just one quality, that is the kind that has built up our spice trade.

DEATH LIST

E. C. KETCHESON.

With much regret The Intelligencer records the death of Mr. Elias Clapp Ketcheson, who passed away last night at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Charles F. Farley, Commercial street. Mr. Ketcheson, who had attained the great age of nearly ninety years, was a son of Col. Wm. Ketcheson, who was one of the pioneer settlers of Sidney, in which township he was born and where for many years he was well known as a successful farmer and a citizen of the highest character. About a year ago, owing to age and infirmity, he removed to Belleville. Mr. Ketcheson was a consistent member of the Conservative party. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Farley.

A LIVELY TILT IN THE POLITICAL ARENA

was asserted, it was $1.25 in Halifax. Why not send their barley to Halifax? He advocated the sale of cheese by a few incorporated companies, instead of by middlemen, as at present, in order to obtain better prices. Mr Young spoke at some length on the loyalty cry which Mr. Anderson deprecated. It arose out of the annexation cry in the United States, and cautioned us to be on our guard. In answer to Mr. Young, Mr. Anderson said he had been a P. I. and is a Granger, and had voted for a Grit, Mr. Rose. Would they not follow in the footsteps of their U. E. Loyalist ancestors and with Sir John A. Macdonald in his declaration, "A British subject I was born, and a British subject I will die."

MR. SINCLAIR.

Mr. D. V. Sinclair spoke of past efforts to secure reciprocity and of the demands of the farmers' deputation, whose request for an increase of the British preference to 50 per cent, no member of the Opposition would support. He went on to speak of the export of our natural products, only 11 per cent. of which went to the United States, and quoted a mass of statistics. Would Russia pass all other markets and come to Canada to sell her wheat? (Mr. Young—"They are contracting for barley now.") In course of time the farmer would get all he wanted. (A voice—"The Yankee farmer!") He then enlarged upon what he alleged would be the benefits of what he called the opening of the U. S. markets. In his vision he saw no coming of a preference for Canada in the British market. He was emphatically against letting well enough alone. The farmers demand another market. They now had a chance to vote for themselves. The Premiers of the various provinces had declined to risk their present jobs, saying that the people were evidently in favor of reciprocity. He challenged contradictoin of this statement. (Sir Mackenzie Bowell denied this.)

As Mr. Sinclair was concluding Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked Mr. Sinclair if the preference was confined to Britain.

"Yes," replied Mr. Sinclair.

Sir Mackenzie said the law provided that the preference would be extended to any country which brought its tariff to a level with our own.

Mr. R. S. Bell asked Mr. Sinclair if he had stated at Massassaga that under reciprocity Canadians would get 6c. more per pound for their cheese, owing to the repeal of the duty.

Mr. Sinclair replied that he was not sure.

It was so reported, said the questioner, in his party paper.

Mr. Sinclair said that was the duty.

Mr. Bell asek if Mr. Sinclair was aware that cheese was selling for about 1c. per pound more in Canada than in the States.

Mr. Sinclair tried to squirm out of it, but concluded, his time being up.

MR. MIKEL.

Mr. W. C. Mikel said Mr. Sinclair had said that every member of the Legislature who resigned his seat to seek election to the Commons was looking for a better job. When a Grit like Dr. Currie, did so, he was a patriot. (Applause.) Mr. Mikel proceeded to read the declaration of the Grit party in 1905 that the Conservative party had abandoned forever the cause of reciprocity. In 1904 the Globe spoke to the same effect. He further referred to Sir John A. Macdonald's course in 1891. The policy of the Conservative party was protection to home industry, that of the Grit party, the present proposition. Mr. Mikel went on to argue at length and very ably, that the United States are our competitors, not our customers. He would favor reciprocity of tariff, rather than reciprocity of trade whereby our manufactures would be stimulated and our farmers' home market improved. If the reciprocity agreement was passed it would not be got out of so easily as was supposed for it would take a majority in the Canadian Parliament to terminate it and that might not be so easily secured. The annexation feature of the pact was next dealt with at length and the speaker showed that the dissident Liberals, in deciding against the pact, were looking to the future as their prosperity depended upon that of the farmers and other people. He asked them to look at matters in a large light, cast aside party and vote for the interests of the country. Mr. Taft had made it clear by his public documents that the advantage would be largely in the interests of his country, ours being the better market of the two.

There was a great deal of cross-firing here between Mr. Mikel and Mr. J. R. Anderson, during which some hot words were exchanged.

DR. CURRIE.

Dr. Morley Currie quoted from President Taft's message to Congress regarding the benefits of reciprocity to the U. S. farmers, with the object of contradicting Mr. Mikel's statements in that behalf. He argued that the U. S. farmer gets better prices than those on this side of the line, and that under reciprocity the value of our farm lands would increase. He believed we could not get out of the pact because the people of both countries would be content with it. He held that the objections taken to the pact were as valid when reciprocity was sought many years ago as they now are. The Conservatives made no objection to reciprocity negotiations when proposed at the opening of the last session of parliament. That the pact would not interfere with our loyalty he was convinced. Its only effect would be to increase very largely our trade with the United States and make our people more loyal.

After a vote of thanks to the chairman the meeting, which was evenly divided, was closed at about 11.30 with cheers for the King.

AUGUST FORECAST OF ONTARIO CROPS

The following statistics of the principal field crops of Ontario for 1911 show the acreage as compiled from individual returns made by farmers to the Ontario Bureau of Industries, and the yields as estimated by a large and experienced staff of correspondents, who give probable yields according to conditions on August 5, 1911:

Fall Wheat—837,492 acres will produce 17,034,052 bushels, or 20.3 per acre, as against 743,473 acres, 19,837,172 bushels and 26.7 in 1910. The annual average for 29 years was 17,878,244 bushels and 21.0.

Spring Wheat—133,711 acres, 2,375,843 bushels, or 17.8 per acre, against 129,319 acres, 2,489,833 bushels and 19.3 in 1910. Average 15.9.

Barley—616,977 acres, 16,766,319 bushels, or 27.2 per acre, as against 626,144 acres, 19,103,107 bushels, and 30.5 in 1910; average 27.8.

Oats—2,699,230 acres, 88,261,352 bushels, or 32.7 per acre as against 2,757,933 acres, 102,084,924 bushels or 37.0 in 1910; average 35.7.

Rye—98,652 acres, 1,624,572 bushels and 16.5 per acre, as against 95,397 acres, 1,620,333 bushels and 17.0 in 1910; average 16.4.

Peas—304,491 acres, 4,773,513 bushels, or 15.7 per acre, as against 403,414 acres, 6,016,003 bushels and 14.9 in 1910; average 19.3.

Beans—51,508 acres, 925,228 bushels or 18.0 per acre, as against 49,778 acres, 892,927 bushels and 17.9 in 1910; average 17.2.

Hay and Clover—3,301,408 acres, 4,238,362 tons or 1.28 per acre, against 3,204,021 acres, 5,492,653 tons, and 1.71 in 1910; average 1.46.

The acreages in other crops for which no estimates as to yield have been made at this date are as follows: Buckwheat, 189,039 against 194,913 in 1910; corn for husking 308,350 and 320,519; corn for silo, 335,935 and 326,627; potatoes, 162,457 and 168,154; mangel-wurtzels, 64,855 and 68,966; sugar beets, 24,664 and 26,879; carrots, 3,207 and 3,551; turnips, 100,293 and 108,360; mixed grains, 486,112 and 497,936.

There are 3,116,768 acres of cleared lands devoted to pasture, 279,220 in summer fallow; 303,188 in orchard; 25,360 in small fruits; 11,586 in vineyard; 58,748 in farm gardens; 40,330 in rape; 12,128 in flax; 14,744 in tobacco.

MADOC.

MADOC, Aug. 28.—Mr. Robert Phillips, who was long with the late Mr. Hungerford in mining in North Hastings, has been appointed to Mr. Hungerford's place as manager. The company placed the right man in the right place.

We have had some fine rains of late, which have done much good.

Owing to the failure of the hay crop in other places, outside parties came here and bought a large supply. They will press it and ship to other points. This will keep the price of hay higher. There are few new potatoes offered for sale, and some families had to do without any.

Constipation

is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, bad complexion, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. To neglect it is slow suicide. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills positively cure Constipation. They are entirely vegetable in composition and do not sicken, weaken or gripe. Preserve your health by taking

Mrs. John Cockram has fully recovered her health.

Mr. Peter McGregor favored the Methodist congregation Sunday evening with a solo. Mr. McGregor is a gold medalist.

The Longnecker Co. is shipping iron ore of a high grade. They are short of teams and also want miners.

Nearly all the campers at the lake have broken camp and moved home. Low water made it unpleasant.

Mrs. Frank Lynn, of Saskatoon, is here renewing old acquaintances. She prefers Madoc to her home in the west.

We spent Sunday in Belleville, and in the evening attended divine service at Bridge Street Methodist Church. We were humble and took a back seat. We had the pleasure of hearing a splendid sermon in words plain and eloquent in manner, deeply in earnest and impressive. That able discourse must have made impressions deep and lasting: "Come, My yoke is easy and My burden is light."

While the grain crop is not turning out well, the supply of milk has kept up. This, with the high price prevailing, will, in part, cover the loss in grain.

John A. McCoy shipped a car of hogs to Montreal market; price paid $7.40.

Thursday was our civic holiday. The Presbyterian and Methodist Sunday Schools each held a picnic at the lake. All had a good time and returned well pleased with the day's outing.

But few have left here for the west. It seems the rush is over and many are finding out that they have a good west in Ontario.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

"Do you wish to go out into the world?" he asked gently.

"Yes, yes. Tallasse lonely here. She want to be with pale-face sister. Tallase mother pale-face. She tell Tallase leave here, go into world, learn much, be good woman."

Then she asked him many questions concerning the outside world. Were the people nice? did the women wear pretty clothes? did the great chiefs whip daughters and compel them to marry against their wish? Her questions were eager, expressing a desire for more congenial relations,—a wish to shake off the shackles of ignorance by a flight to the realm of learning, where her craving for the civilized life could drink to its full those treasures which present conditions forbade.

Carefully did Alex answer all her questions, relating many things she had never dreamed of, causing her bright eyes to open wide, and her bosom to heave with anticipation. Her breathe came and went quickly as he talked to her kindly, and a great desire arose in his noble heart to help this flower of the forest; to put her in the way of gratifying the longing for better things.

"Can you read?"

"Little."

"Have you books?"

She held up two fingers.

"Would you like to go to school, learn to read, write, sing, and play music?"

"Oh, so much," and she clasped her hands firmly on his arm.

"Who is your father?"

"Great Chief Wabana. Gone on hunt."

"Your mother?"

She pointed upward.

"Would Wabana let you go?"

A little shake of the head. "Want Tallasse marry warrior."

"And you do not want to marry warrior?"

"No, no," she cried, with a shudder. "Him bad. Him whip Tallasse. Him want pale-face scalps. Tallasse love pale-face."

"Would you like to live with pale-face?"

"Yes, yes. So much."

"Will you go to my friends?" It was a desperate move, but Grant's heart was deeply touched, which meant a resolve to liberate the beautiful girl, who, he felt sure, was purposely hidden, and possibly watched.

"Tallasse no money."

"If I give you money?"

"Yes, yes," and her eyes fairly danced with delight.

"Have you ever been away from here?" Then fearing that she did not understand, "Do you go away sometimes?"

"To Hallock," she answered readily, holding up four fingers.

"Can you find Hallock alone? It is thirty miles from here."

"Yes, yes. Tallasse not forget."

Taking from a section of his pack an envelope and paper, he wrote rapidly. Then enclosing the letter pencilled a second short note which he addressed to the station agent at Hallock.

"Give this to the station agent at Hallock," he said, handing the note to Tallasse. "He will direct you. Buy a ticket for Grand Forks, North Dakota. Can you remember?"

"Yes, yes. Tallasse never forget."

"When you arrive at Grand Forks go to the house of William Wheeler. He is a good man and my friend. Ask the station agent at Grand Forks to send you in a carriage. Do you understand?"

"Yes, yes. Tallasse understand all pale-face say. Tallasse never forget."

"Good. When you arrive at Mr. Wheeler's house give this to his daughter, Alice. She is good and beautiful. She will love Tallasse, and will teach her to read, and write and sing, and play on the piano. She will give Tallasse pretty dresses and shoes, and nice things. By and by I will come back, and see Tallasse there. Tell Alice that Alex Grant sent you. Will you remember my name?"

"Yes, yes. Alex Grant. Pretty name."

He took two five dollar bills from his pocket and put them in her hand. "There is money. Go to Hallock. Give note to ticket agent. Buy a ticket to Grand Forks. Get on train station agent shows you. Ask conductor to tell you right road to Grand Forks. Tell station agent at Grand Forks to send you in a carriage to William Wheeler's house. Give letter to Alice Wheeler, and you will be her sister. Her mother will love Tallasse too. You will ride in a nice carriage, go to church, and live like good pale-face people."

"Pale-face Alex Grant good to Tallasse. She trust him. She go."

"Tell me, how will you go?" asked Grant.

"Tallasse go to Hallock, give letter to man at station. He tell me. all Buy ticket, get on train he show me. Ask conductor, he show me train to Grand Forks. Man at Grand Forks station send me in carriage to William Wheeler house. Give letter to Alice Wheeler. Tell her Alex Grant send Tallasse. She give me home, and be nice sister. Her mother love Tallasse. Oh, Tallasse so glad. Tallasse so happy. Tallasse have pretty dresses. Tallasse be good for Alex Grant's sake. Tallasse wait for Alex Grant. Tallasse will pray that great moon bring him back soon. Nothing hurt him. Great moon keep him safe." Then, putting her hands upon his shoulders, she whispered in his ear "Tallasse go to-night." Before he was aware of an intended caress, her lips had met his in a kiss of gratitude and she was bounding back into the wigwam. Her quick eye had seen a dark object lurking near, and she knew the interview must close.

There were tears in Grant's eyes when he mounted his horse and followed Duffy along the winding trail. His heart was full, but his conscience was at rest. He felt that there was a bright future for the fair, though ignorant girl. He could not think of leaving her to become the unwilling slave of a brutal warrior. He knew her reception at the Wheelers' would be of a royal nature; Alice's great heart would go out in love to the beautiful child of the forest; and as for Mrs. Wheeler,—he smiled at the imagined greeting that would be given the new-comer when she knew at whose bidding she had come.

For three hours the horses travelled slowly over the beaten path, when axes were heard, and shortly an opening in the woods was reached, revealing a logging comp in full operation.

"Hey, there. Look at the cow a-comin'. And it's a mooly; hain't got no horns."

Instantly every axe was lowered and a roar of laughter followed.

"Say, bub, can't yer afford a hoss? What's the use of riding that tarnal consarn?"

Grant took no notice of the insinuations but followed Duffy towards a large board building on the opposite side of the clearing.

"Dat tam ting look like a wild 'ox," said a little Frenchman, loud enough for the rider to hear.

"There hain't no ox about that animile," put in another. "It's a giraffe with its neck shortened. You never seen an ox with sech long legs."

(To be continued.)

AWAY WITH THE TREATY

Hon. G. W. Ross Says Canada Must Not Become Entangled with the States

"Canada does not stand in any great need of a reciprocity treaty with the United States," says G. W. Ross, former Premier of Ontario. "Let us remember the epitaph of the man who having lived to a good old age thought medicine might be of some use, and so consulted a physician. He wrote his epitaph for the benefit of his fellow-men: 'I was well, I wanted to be better, and here I lie.' We are prosperous. Reciprocity might furnish a better market for the minor products of the farm here and there but that is a small matter. Let us not want to be better unless we are sure of the effects of the medicine. We are free from entanglements with the United States. We cannot be embarrassed by any amendments we make in our tariff, or if we are we can alter it ourselves. A treaty we cannot alter. We have taken the duty off binder twine and barbed wire and corn, and we have given the Americans a free list of goods under which they sold us last year $79,471,000 worth of merchandise on which there was no duty. If they are anxious for better trade relations with Canada, let them negotiate through their own Congress at Washington, and reduce their tariff as it may suit them and let us reciprocate, if we deem it expedient, through the Parliament of Canada. An adjustment of the trade relations between the two countries by the independent legislation of both rather than by treaty is the only safe course, as it affords publicity in the first instance and admits of perfect freedom of action thereafter. In the meantime let Canada continue to sell her merchandise wherever she finds a market, and, trusting in that Providence which has always filled her barns with plenty and made her merchants princes in the land, let her not hazard her trade or her independence for expectations that may never be realized, nor place herself under obligations that might interfere with the fullest development of her industrial prosperity in the years to come."

Club Waiter's Bravery

James Briggs, a waiter, employed at the United Service Club, was commended by the Westminster coroner's jury for a plucky attempt to rescue a small boy who had fallen into the Thames at Whitehall steps.

Novelist's Treat to Children

The Chief Constable of Northampton has accepted an offer made by Mrs. Sherard (the novelist, "Irene Osgood") to give thirty poor children of Northampton a fortnight's holiday at Guilsborough Hall, her Northamptonshire residence.

FEEDING BRAINS

Why Studious Children Always Crave Oatmeal

Nature gives oats more organic phosphorus than to any other grain she grows. And phosphorus is the brain's main constituent. Brains can't grow, brains can't work without it.

Oats also contain more lecithin—the nerve food—than any other grain. They form our greatest energy food.

That's why growing children love oatmeal. Some instinct within them calls for these elements, and woe to the child who doesn't get all it wants.

The right oats for food are the rich, plump grains. In the choicest oats there are but ten pounds to the bushel. In making Quaker Oats these choice grains are selected by 62 separate siftings.

Quaker Oats—just the cream of the oats—costs but one-half cent per dish. One dish is worth two dishes of common oatmeal. Don't you think it would pay to serve your children such oats?

Made in Canada. (172)

A SELFISH PURPOSE

The United States Wants to Do Our Milling and Exporting For Us

We are told that the United States will soon be unable to raise all the wheat that it requires. At present, with a population of 90 millions of people, the States are producing enough wheat for 120 millions. In 1907 the United States exported 76 million bushels of wheat against Canada's 26 millions. In other words, on an average in the last three years, the United States has exported exactly three times as much wheat as Canada. Where is the demand for Canadian wheat, except as a pawn in the game of the manipulators of the Chicago wheat pit; or, as raw material for Americans who would do our milling and exporting for us? Then take flour. In 1907, the United States exported 16 million barrels and Canada one million; in 1908, 14 millions against Canada's two millions; in 1909, 11 millions against Canada's two millions. This shows that on an average the United States has in the past three years exported ten times as much flour as Canada.

Where is the threatened exhaustion of the wheat supply that is to afford Canada such an opportunity? The official agricultural statistics of the United States show that of all the farm lands of our neighbors less than one-half is cultivated, the other half is in reserve. Thus, the United States can double its wheat production by simply doubling the wheat area. With the economic methods of farming practised in Europe, the United States, which has a superior climate and superior soil, could raise its production of wheat from an average of some 12 bushels to the acre to 30 bushels, and thus quadruple its supply. In fact, students of economics declare that it is capable of raising enough for 900 millions of people—and its population is 90 millions.

What has been said of wheat applies with equal force to meat and to dairy and fruit products.

Where, then, is the attraction of the American market for the Canadian farmer? America is the greatest competitor in agricultural products that Canada has—the keenest and most jealous rival. Not in America, but in the overseas markets which he himself has won, and in the markets of Canada's own industrial population, growing so rapidly under the tariff which is building up so many large industries in this country, lie the hopes of the Canadian farmer.

DEFEAT CONTINENTALISM

Reject the Pact and Save Canada From the Enemy

President Taft had the extra session of Congress for the accomplishment of two objects. The first was the passing of the Act to give effect in the United States to the Knox-Fielding pact. The second was to prevent the enactment of any measure of general tariff reduction. By frustrating tariff reduction he enabled Continentalists on this side of the line to assure our voters that there would be no lowering of the United States' duties on Canadian products unless compensations were given in Canada's markets. In spite of repeated hints to Congress that he wished it to give a wide berth to general tariff revision until Canada should be drawn into the meshes of his Continental scheme, a Farmers' Free List Bill and a Woollen Schedule were presented for his signature.

He vetoed them both, giving as one reason for disallowing the Farmers' Free List Bill that it did not exclude this country from its privileges.

Canada can now square matters with Taft, and at the same time assert its national dignity, by rejecting his pact of Continentalism, for the defeat of that scheme will be the deliverance of our country.

WOULD KEEP THEIR CASH

Americans Do Not Want Their Money Invested in Canada

That our neighbors look upon the movement of American capital to Canada in branch industries as a distinct loss to be remedied by Reciprocity with Canada, is shown in the following extract from a speech recently delivered by Senator Beveridge, of Indiana: "There must be reciprocity with Canada. Our tariff with the rest of the world does not apply to our northern neighbor. That policy already has driven American manufacturers across the Canadian borders, built vast plants with American capital on Canadian soil, employing Canadian workingmen to supply trade. That capital should be kept at home to employ American workingmen to supply Canadian demand. We should admit Canadian wood pulp and Canadian paper free in return for Canada's admitting our agricultural implements, our engines, pumps, and other machinery free. We should freely admit Canadian lumber to American planing mills in return for Canada's freely admitting other American manufactured products to Canadian markets."

Hon. Eugene N. Foss, Governor of Massachusetts, stated that the policy which has been in force for many years in the United States "has resulted in sending approximately $300,000,000 American capital to Canada, to build up branch industries which compete with our own in foreign markets. It has also resulted in stifling the growth of Massachusetts and New England industries and kept us out of the business and commerce which belongs to us by every right. It has kept the great Canadian railways from our ports. It has ruined our coastwise shipping interests and made our wharf property of little value."

Put your money on Canadian Nationality and Imperial Unity for first and second place. Continentalism will be distanced.

MUTINY OF A CREW

Twenty-Six Chinamen Attacked the Officers of a Scottish Vessel

A sensational story of mutiny on the high seas is told by Captain G. J. Perks, of the steamer Skeines, belonging to the Clyde Shipping Company, Glasgow. While the vessel was on its way from New York to Adelaide the Chinese crew of twenty-six mutinied, attacked the third engineer, and threatened to kill the first engineer. The ship's coal was so wilfully wasted that the captain decided to put in at Mauritius, 820 miles away. From that moment the engineers deemed it unsafe to enter the stokehold, and decided for mutual protection to keep two men always on the watch. Captain Perks was four days without sleep, being afraid that the Chinese might fire the cargo, consisting of forty-two thousand cases of naptha and benzine. When Mauritius was reached the Chinese were put ashore and natives engaged in their place. On searching the men's quarters concealed weapons of various kinds were found, including a revolver and fifty cartridges.

The West Getting Light

There are plenty of illustrations these days that the people of the West are beginning to realize that the reciprocity proposal is a very large sized lemon for Canadian farmers. Here is an article from the Vancouver "Province," the leading paper on the Pacific coast.

"In a Regina butcher shop yesterday a Province reporter was shown hams on which were stamped the words, 'U. S. Inspected, Establishment 6H,' showing that duty had been paid on them at the border line Yet they are sold at exactly the same price wholesale, as was proven by the fact that in the same box were hams cured in Canada, both being invoiced together.

"In the same establishment were several carcasses of mutton, also bearing the inspector's mark, showing that duty had been paid on them also. Yet this mutton is laid down at Winnipeg at nine cents per pound, at Regina the price to the retailer is 10 cents per pound, or five cents less than he pays for it wholesale at the Regina abbatoir or from the local farmers. A carcass was shown the reporter which had come from the farm of a well known supporter of reciprocity, for which 15 cents per pound had been paid.

"It does not require the business acumen of a Rockefeller, a Carnegie or a Taft to figure out that if Americans can pay the duty and then undersell the Canadian market to the extent of five cents per pound, they could sell at a lower price still if they had no duty to pay.

"The Canadian market for farm produce is the best in America. These figures show the splendid home market which our farmers have. American meats are coming into Canada, paying the duty and competing with our farmers. Remove the duty and will the American price be raised to the Canadian standard, or will the Canadian prices be lowered to the American level?"

If the Canadian farmer knows when he is well off, he will put some extra vim in the swat he should give reciprocity.

Sir Wilfrid and Fisher—A Precious Pair

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Hon. Sydney Fisher are stumping together, but their minds do not appear to run in the same channel. At a meeting held by these gentlemen at Farnham, Quebec, on the 25th of August, Mr. Fisher indulged in a good deal of abuse of his opponents, paying particular attention to Mr. Sifton for daring to differ from him and his colleagues upon the question of reciprocity. Nor did he forget the Conservative party, to whom he paid a few Fisher compliments. Mr. Sifton he denounced as a "timorous coward, preaching a doctrine of timidity and cowardice." Whatever Mr. Sifton may be, no one who has watched his career will accuse him of cowardice, excepting a kid-glove, egotistical gentleman who claims to be a farmer, such as Sydney Fisher.

Having disposed of Sifton, he turns his attention to the Conservative party, and describes them as a "stick in the mud, fossilized party." Coming from a gloved dandy gentleman like Fisher, as he has been well described, the Conservative party may feel flattered. In this respect does he agree with his leader, who, in a speech delivered at the same meeting when referring to the Conservative party of old, made the following pitiful statement: "I confess my heart will be broken if this policy (reciprocity) of my predecessors, (the Conservatives), will be rejected by the Canadian people."

In this "heart breaking" declaration Sir Wilfrid declares that his present policy was the policy of the Conservatives of former times, which we deny, and that if the people should reject that policy of his "predecessors" it would "break his heart." Tender chicken, truly! True, he swallowed the Conservative policy of protection after condemning it for years, and now attempts to fasten on that party the crime of having been advocates of a trade scheme which will, if adopted, surrender to a foreign country our very birthright of self government. No, no, Sir Wilfrid! You are raving in your political delirium, knowing as you do that the distinguished leader for years of the Conservative party denounced a trade scheme similar to that which you are now advocating, as "veiled treason."

In an attempt to fortify and justify his charges Sir Wilfrid exclaimed:

"Who are those who form the Opposition? Not the ancient Conservative party who were with us on reciprocity. Mr. Bourassa is in that party as a Nationalist."

Sir Wilfrid knew when he gave utterance to that statement, that the Conservatives were never with him upon such a reciprocity scheme as the present one, and that Bourassa "is in that party as a Nationalist," that he was not telling the truth. Had Sir Wilfrid told his hearers that Bourassa was with the Opposition in condemning the corruption which has been proven over and over again of his Government, he would have been correct, but as an opponent of the navy he is not in line with the Conservative party, and is therefore, not as a Nationalist of the party. No one knows better than Sir Wilfrid that Bourassa has over and over again in his public speeches, spoken equally strongly against the policy of the Conservative leader, Mr. Borden, upon the navy question, as he has against the senseless and useless expenditure of millions of money upon what Laurier farcially calls "the Canadian Navy."

Knowing these facts why does Sir Wilfrid indulge in such untruthful statements?' There is but one answer, namely, that finding himself politically in extremis, he stops at nothing in his attempts to deceive the electors.

CURED OF ACHING WEARINESS

HAD GOUTY PAIN, FLUSHINGS PALPITATIONS AND GENERAL FEELING OF DEPRESSION.

Mr. C. J. Stonewall, who for years has been a most respected citizen of Pemberton, writes interestingly and convincingly of a very serious sickness etendxing over almost two years Through the marvellous curative power of Dr. Hamilton's Pills he made rapid and permanent recovery.

"It was a puzzle to my doctor, because the symptoms seemed almost as numerous as the days of the month But one thread ran through them all and there was utter weariness morning, noon and night. I felt flat—pain changed from one part of the body to another—seemed at one time rheumatic, at others affected the extremities like gout. Little exertion such as going upstairs, caused breathlessness and palpitation, and at times I had vague numb feelings and prickling. After Dr. Hamilton's Pills cured me my doctor saw it wasn't the nervous system, but bowel and kidney disorders. I believe there is no pill on earth that can compare with Dr. Hamilton's, and in cases that have their cause in thin, or white blood cure is inevitable with Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

ARMIES OF THE WORLD AND WHAT THEY COST

The 18 ocuntries of South and Central America and Mexico, with a population of 53,924,853 people, have regular armies amounting to 188,954 men, or one soldier to every 298 inhabitants. The United States of America had in the year 1900 a population of 83,026,000 and a regular army of 60,176, or one soldier to every 1370 inhabitants. Japan and Corea, with a population of 51,176,602 has a regular army of 214,200 men or one soldier to every 240 people There are no reliable statistics concerning China, although its population is estimated at 400,000,000, and its army at only 100,000, or one soldier to every 40,000 people. India has a population of 231,899,507, with a regular army of 75,486, or one soldier to every 3070 people. Australia has a population of 4,759,495, and a regular army of 33,058, or one soldier to every 144 people. Canada has a population of 8,528,847, and a regular army of 40,730, or one soldier to every 136 people. Turkey, Bulgaria and Egypt have a population of 38,478,383, with a regular army of 444,994, or one soldier to every 86 people.

Europe has a population of 402,577,540, with regular armies aggregating 3,826,252 men, or one soldier to every 104 inhabitants. Of European countries, peaceful little Switzerland appears to have the largest armed force proportionately. She has one soldier to every 51 people. Germany and Sweden have one soldier to every 90 people. France has one soldier to every 51 people. The other countries range between 110 people in Russia to 170 people in Great Britain to each soldier.

A reduction of the regular armies of Europe to the proportion of the regular army of the United States would effect a direct saving of $500,000,000 annually to the nations, and would restore to productive industries 2,733,00 men, whose earnings, conservatively estimated would amount to $500,000,000 more. Europe has $1,000,000,000 per annum to gain by the adoption of Carnegie's plan of general disarmament, and of President Taft's policy of arbitration. One thousand billions per annum is the cost of maintaining armies upon a peace footing, while the cost of war is not capable of being estimated.

AFRAID OF A BLOW

A System of Imperial Preferential Tariffs Would Injure the States

Champ Clark, in his famous speech at Chicago, said: "The time probably the last time, when this can be realized has arrived. The future union of all parts of the British Empire in a commercial federation is almost certain. When that shall have been concluded, under a system of preferential advantages securing the English market to the colonial producer of raw material and food products, and the colonial market to the English manufacturer, it will strike the United States a double blow. Our best customer, Great Britain, and our third best, Canada, will trade less and less with us and more and more with each other. And it will then be permanently impossible to repair our error. Political and economic weather signals indicate that should the present measure fail no other can succeed for many years, if ever."

DESERTED FARMS

The Decline of Farming in New England is Proceeding Apace

Do the Canadian farmers imagine that they can invade the markets of the United States, and succeed where so many American farmers fail? If so, let them make a survey of farming conditions east of the Mississippi in the United States. If there were any virtue in this cry of free access to a market of ninety millions of people, or if the United States had even begun to have reached its limit of production, surely these farmers would at least have begun to feel the benefit of it. Exactly the reverse is the case.

The United States census reports of the 20-year period from 1880 to 1900 show that in that time no fewer than 15,344 farms in New England went out of existence; that there were 17,000 less farmers in these States at the end of the period than at the beginning, and that some 5,000,000 acres of land that were in cultivation in 1880 went out of tillage and cultivation.

And, thanks to the trusts, the profits of the farmers in the great markets now to be placed open to the people of Canada are so small that the decline of farming in New England is still progressing, despite free access to the market of ninety millions of people. Last year—the year of their census—there were in New England 187,418 farms, which is 2.3 less per cent. than the number at the census of 1900. The total acreage of these farms in 1910 was 19,674,000 acres, and in the acreage there had been, in the last ten years, a decrease of 4.3 per cent. Of this total acreage not quite one-half—or, to be exact, 7,242,000 acres—was improved land.

And here, too, there had been a decrease, and a very substantial one, for it amounted to almost 11 per cent. This is where the effect of abandoning appears, the land of these abandoned farms having passed out of cultivation and ceased to be a factor in the agricultural production of the New England States.

EXPECT TO CONTROL CANADIAN WHEAT

And Regret that Provinces Stand in the Way of Unlimited Access to Canadian Forests

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Though the President of the United States in his official message transmitting to Congress the Recirocity Agreement did not use the word "control" when anticipating free access to Canada's raw materials, he used it in a speech at Columbus, Ohio, in reference to the wheat trade:—

> It will give to the United States much greater control of the wheat market than it ever had before. It will enable its milling plants to turn the Canadian wheat into flour and send abroad the finished product.

Secretary of State Knox used the same word at Chicago, at a Reciprocity banquet, attended by leading business men from over the whole of the Middle West. He said:—

> In providing for free wheat we also take into account the facilities which the United States possesses for handling a part of the surplus Canadian crop, and thus preventing the demoralization of prices which results through the dumping of large quantities upon the European markets, where the world's price is fixed. The free admission of grain from Canada thus meets the present situation and provides against contingencies when the Canadian surplus becomes greater by placing the control in the hands of our own grain growers.

Literally, Canada is to be a hewer of wood to the United States, for, as the President wrote, "We shall reduce the consumption of our own forests." Secretary Knox, in a letter of January 21st, informing the two Canadian Ministers that they had properly interpreted the Agreement they had made, mourned over his failure to get all he wanted because certain Provinces were in the way:—

> It is a matter of some regret on our part that we have been unable to adjust our differences on the subject of wood pulp, pulp wood and print paper. We recognize the difficulties to which you refer growing out of the nature of the relations between the Dominion and the Provincial Governments, and for the present we must be content with the conditional arrangement.

SIXTEEN

IT IS AGAINST CONSERVATION

Chairman of Government's Conservation Commission is a Foremost Opponent of Reciprocity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It need not be supposed that Canada should "hog" her supplies of pulpwood, any more than that she should throw them at the Republic, as a means of saving the Republic from the woeful want that will follow its own wilful waste.

Two policies are working for the general advantage of Canada in this matter, neither of which must be sacrificed to the natural desires of Washington.

The first is that of stimulating the conversion of natural products into finished manufactures, as near to their place of origin as natural conditions and far-seeing enterprise will permit—a policy which explains the increase of pulp and paper mills in the highlands of Quebec, and the creation of such flourishing towns as Grand Mere and Shawinigan Falls. United States papermakers, of course, would rather bring Canadian raw material to their mills than to take the mills to Canada. Ontario and Quebec and New Brunswick have decided that the pulpwood on Crown Lands shall be manufactured at home—hence the disappointment of Secretary Knox and his colleagues to be content "for the present" with conditional arrangements.

The second policy is represented by the Conservation Commission, which is intended primarily to preserve the forests from precisely the kind of destruction which it is bound to accompany their ruthless invasion by aliens whose interest is confined to, what they can take away.

The Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in establishing the Commission appointed as Chairman the Hon. Clifford Sifton, who, from 1896 to 1905, was Minister of the Interior. Mr. Sifton is one of the strongest opponents of the Reciprocity Agreement.

AT THE MILLERS' MERCY

Wealth of Many United States Industries is to be Created by Control of Canadian Wheat

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Though wheat is a finished product of the farm, it is a raw material for domestic industries which create home markets for the farmer. For Canadian prosperity it is as desirable to grind wheat into flour at the nearest convenient point to the threshing machine as it is to manufacture paper alongside the river which brings the pulpwood down from the hills.

When President Taft and Secretary Knox spoke of the "control" of Canadian wheat, they knew what they were talking about, as The Northwestern Miller makes abundantly clear:—

> The disposition of Canada's surplus is a question upon the answer to which depends the future, not only of the milling interests of the (American) Northwest, but indeed of the United States. Should this surplus be shipped abroad it must inevitably mean the destruction of the American export trade, the shifting of the American milling centre, the gradual decline of the American milling interest to a comparatively unimportant place in the list of large American industries.
>
> The miller who is able to grind this enormous (Canadian) crop will be the miller of the future, and where he is there will be the great mills of the world.
>
> The future of American milling with free Canadian wheat secured is a grand one. With this enormous crop flowing into the mills and elevators of the States, a splendid tide of prosperity would follow in its wake. The mills of America would go forward on their developing course, new mills would be built, and capacities enlarged. New markets abroad would be conquered. New railways would be extended into the wheat-growing territory; American railroads carrying the flour from the mills would secure additional freights; American banks would obtain increased deposits, and greatly enlarged exchange accounts; American mill operatives would be in demand; and payrolls would be increased; mill machinery, bags, barrels, and other mill supplies would be required in larger quantities; more money would be in circulation; and the benefit would be felt in every artery of industrial life touched by milling. There would be an increase in grain firms, in elevators, and in every branch of the grain-handling and flour-making interests. This would be felt in the added value of real estate and in the solid and substantial development of every undertaking and enterprise that makes a community prosperous.

OPENING WEDGE AVOWED

Congress Ways and Means Committee Points the Way to Three-Fold Control

By JOHN V. BORNE.

It does not matter where you touch the broad policy of the Unite dStates which dictated the Reciprocity Agreement, you come across the intention to control—a natural incentive to a nation of ninety-five million people which proposes to deal with a nation of less than eight millions.

In this case there is a treble object:—

(1) The control of Canadian raw material.
(2) The control of Canadian exports by restricting British exports to Canada.
(3) The control of the whole export trade of North America.

Nothing like the cool, matter-of-fact way in which the men of Washington have gone about the disclosure of their ideals is furnished in the annals of statesmanship.

The Reciprocity Bill was sent to the House of Representatives by the Ways and Means Committee. In the late House, the Ways and Means Committee, of which Mr. McCall, of New York, who introduced the Agreement to Congress, was the spokesman, was a Republican body. The present Ways and Means Committee is a Democratic body; and in sending the bill to the new House makes no bones about it being but the opening wedge of unrestricted trade relations:—

> The bill takes a long step towards establishing for the continent of North America a policy of unrestricted trade and commerce, recognizing natural conditions that have been too long ignored.

The notion of using a club on Canada in the shape of a threat to withdraw Reciprocity if Canada should propose closer relations with Great Britain could not be more delightfully announced.

It is an odd way of preserving the fiscal independence of Canada.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

STATISTICS DID NOT MATTER

Mr. Fielding Asserts They Were Unnecessary to Reciprocity Agreement Because Conditions Were as Thirty Years Ago!

By JOHN V. BORNE.

While the United States Secretary of State and his commissioners were negotiating an agreement, which was introduced to Congress as an implement by which Canada could be prevented from dealing with Great Britain, they had the aid of tariff experts, who had compiled voluminous reports on every aspect of the trade conditions about to be affected, while the Canadian Ministers were ill supplied with information about their own country.

Mr. Fielding, in the House of Commons, on April 6th, questioned by the opponents of reciprocity, said that the information contained in the comparisons and price-lists "for the purpose of the Agreement were not necessary at all."

In the same speech Mr. Fielding said, "The agreement is in accordance with the policy of Canada for forty years. There is no more reason for statistics and price lists to-day than there was when the Conservative party brought in the National Policy."

Every time the Government spokesmen in the House of Commons have discussed reciprocity they have insisted that there is no real difference between the situation of the Canada of 1911 and the situation of Canada, fifty, forty, thirty, twenty years ago.

The National Policy is forgotten; the repeal of the offer of Reciprocity is forgotten; the British Preference is forgotten; the Commercial policy of the National Transcontinental Railway is forgotten. There is no need to look at statistics to see how these things are working out. "Leave statistics to the United States; pass the Agreement which has been made in accordance with the statistics compiled by the United States," is the effect of the Government apologist.

And still, the Prime Minister had declared that the main fundamental of the Government's commercial policy was the British Preference.

See what happened to the British Preference in Washington.

Unless a man is alive to his opportunity he is a dead one.

AN EMPTY SHADOW

Canada Would Suffer with its Cheese Selling at American Prices

The advocates of Reciprocity with the United States would turn from the splendid British market and send our cheese across the border to New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and other large American centres. They argue that prices are higher in the United States than in Canada, and that Canadian cheese makers will be able to hold their present enviable position on the British markets and supply the States too. This policy reminds one of the old fable about the dog with a large, succulent steak in his mouth jumping into the water in a vain attempt to secure a bigger piece of meat. The bigger piece turned out to be only a shadow, and the poor dog, besides being disappointed, lost the choice morsel that he had been carrying. Canada, in the year ending 1909, shipped 176,408,960 pounds of cheese, worth $22,106,108, to Great Britain. The average value per pound was 12 53-100 cents. But, had Canada received for her cheese an average price equal to that received by the cheese-makers of the United States for their exports to Great Britain, he would have realized a total return of only $21,753,118, or a loss of $352,990.

The following statement of cheese imports into Great Britain in 1909 is sufficient to show Canada's excellent position in the Motherland:—

Belgium	$ 981,129
France	790,152
Netherlands	3,265,426
United States	636,443
Other Foreign Countries	30,504
New Zealand	5,420,075
Canada	22,106,108

The Cost of Navies

The British naval estimates for this year are exceedingly large. It is the intention to appropriate $75,000,000 for new construction. This sum of money will provide five dreadnoughts, three protective cruisers, and a number of torpedo boat destroyers and submarines. News also come which says Austria-Hungary is to spend within the next few years $75,000,000 in naval construction; and this is regarded as peculiarly significant inasmuch as Austria-Hungary is Germany's ally. At the present time British tonnage is 436,000 tons; that of German is 297,000 tons; next comes France with 173,000 tons; and the United States is in the next position with 136,000 tons.

THE IMPERIAL BAND

President Taft Says Reciprocity Would Weaken British Preferential Tariff

President Taft, speaking to the newspapermen of the United States at a banquet held in New York, said: "Why should we not have a closer union with Canada? Think of the absurdity of separating Manitoba and Minneapolis by as great a distance as Manitoba and Liverpool, when certainly Providence intended that their separation, socially and commercially, should only be that of their geographical distance. Canadians have furnished us with a large number of our best citizens. We are giving them a large number of the pick of our young farmers. Let us open the gateway between us. Let us give to both countries the profit of the trade that God intended between us. Let the political governments remain as they are. Let us abolish arbitrary and artificial obstructions to our association with our friends upon the north and derive the mutual benefit that it will certainly bring."

In conclusion the President said: "I have said that this was a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because, unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity, it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and in Canada to separate her by a Chinese wall from the United States and to make her part of an Imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now or give it up forever."

THE BARLEY CROP

Free Trade In This Cereal Would Be Financial Loss to Farmers

Barley has two great uses, the most important being its value as a condensed food for live stock; the other is the use it is put to in the brewing of beer. For from barley is made malt, one of the chief constituents of ale and lager. It was solely for the brewing industry that Canada had in the past exported her barley to the United States prior to the Dingley tariff of 1897. This put a duty of 30 cents per bushel of forty-eight pounds on barley entering the States, and on barley-malt one of 45 cents per bushel of 34 pounds. After the tariff was put on, our export of barley dropped from 1,674,193 bushels in 1896 to 787,787 bushels in 1897, and to-day we are only exporting to the extent of 147,596 bushels. The great use of barley to ourselves for ourselves is as a food for livestock. For this purpose it is indeed a splendid crop to raise. If this grain be fed to cattle the land receives the natural return. As our livestock increase so will our barley. Ontario is the best proof. In spite of the Dingley tariff the market value of her barley crop has increased from $4,812,194 to $12,900,689 during the last ten years. It must therefore be concluded that allowing the free entry of Canadian barley into the United States would have no material effect for good on the quality or quantity of our barley. Neither would it aid towards the financial betterment of our farmers. It could have nothing but an influence towards the continual exhaustion of Canada's most precious and richest heritage, her farm lands.

WOULD LOWER PRICES

The Results of Opening Canadian Markets to Free Entry

The opening of Canadian markets to the free entry of the natural products from the numerous countries mentioned above, it has been shown, would just afford another repository for an extra portion of the billion dollars' worth of farm produce exported by those countries every year. What would this mean to the Canadian farmer, who, with the exception of the United States, would not have the right of penetrating the protective walls of those countries, which would be sending increased quantities of produce into his market?

(1) It would mean that prices for farm produce would be lowered in Canada.

(2) It would mean that the present high quality of Canadian products would lose their identity through mingling with inferior stuff from other countries.

(3) It would mean that United States would do most of Canada's export trade in grain.

(4) It would mean that the subsidization of steamships plying between Canada and the many favored countries mentioned above, amounting to over $1,000,000 per year, would be turned against Canada, inasmuch as those subsidized steamships would be able to bring foreign products that much cheaper to our markets to compete against Canadians.

HELPING THE COMPETITOR

Just what the opening of our markets to the free entry of the agricultural products of the "twelve favored nations" will mean in dollars and cents (not to the Canadian farmer, but to his competitor), may be estimated when one considers the principal exports of those countries and the proportion of them that Canada now receives in spite of the duties. It is only reasonable to suppose that if agricultural produce comes into Canada now in the face of various duties, the influx will increase greatly if all imposts are removed. The farmer will then be subjected to a competition he never expected, and instead of higher prices for his produce under reciprocity he will surely meet an era of lower prices.

On the whole the coming election looks not only like a Conservative sweep generally, but one that will gather up most of the Cabinet in the sweeping process.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS

Canada Now Consumes 80 Per Cent. of Her Own Produce

Under protection the country has made wonderful progress, our population has grown rapidly, our business with Great Britain has largely developed, we have built up an immense inter-provincial trade, national sentiment has strengthened, and all classes are prosperous and content, said Hon. Clifford Sifton. Our home markets have so increased that they are taking 80 per cent. of our total farm products, while 80 per cent. of the balance is being taken by Great Britain. Under those circumstances were there any valid reasons for our entering into any negotiations with the United States? We have been told that the very best of reasons was that both political parties in Canada for the last 40 years had strongly desired reciprocity in natural products and that, therefore, the proposition needed no consideration. The objection to that statement is simply that it is untrue. In the House of Commons in 1899, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said: "If we know the hearts and minds of our people at present, I think I am not making too wide a statement when I say that the general feeling in Canada is not in favor of reciprocity."

THEY LIKE PROTECTION

American Farmers Know Its Benefits, Hence Fight Reciprocity

The farmers of the United States have been given an opportunity through the present reciprocity agitation to show their real feeling on the subject of protection. An element in this country has been wont to set the farmers up against the manufacturers, to say that the tariff protection enjoyed by manufacturers was afforded at the expense of agriculture, and that the farmers were just waiting an opportunity to burst the chains with which they were bound. But what are the facts? In no country in the world has the principle of protection to industry been carried to such great lengths as in the United States. On many articles the tariff runs up to one hundred per cent. or higher. This has been the condition almost continuously for a generation, so that there has been ample time for the people to learn the merits or demerits of the system. Yet the reduction in the tariff proposed in the Reciprocity Agreement has met with practically unanimous opposition among the farmers of the United States. They want well enough left alone. They know the prosperity which they have enjoyed in common with other classes of the population under the present system, a prosperity which is based on full employment for all with an expanding home market. Such prosperity is not to be jeopardized lightly. The farmers of the United States know from experience that there is one outstanding test of the success of any system of economics. Give us a system, they say, which will afford the opportunity of work to every citizen, the opportunity of work presupposing a scale of remuneration which will be adequate to the service and to the cost of living. Providing all citizens are profitably employed, what is lacking for prosperity? Judging the protective system as in force in the United States by this standard the farmers are in no doubt as to its success. Therefore they have protested with all their force against a deviation from that system. We in this country should profit by the experience of the United States.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN?

The Canadian Farmer Would Not Get as Much for His Butter

As far as butter is concerned, the Reciprocity agreement would mean:—

(1) Lower prices for the Canadian farmer.

(2) The loss of what little export trade he now enjoys.

(3) The loss of what small revenue now is realized from imports into Canada.

(4) A general demoralization of the dairy industry in Canada due to the inevitable lowering of prices and mixing of foreign and home grades of butter.

Canada's export trade in butter is not so great at the present time that her farmers can afford to emperil their dairy industry by a tariff scheme that would, in all probability, make the country's imports in this article greater than her exports. In the year ending 1910 Canada shipped only 4,615,380 pounds of butter, worth $1,010,274. Canada's imports of butter on the other hand amounted to 687,454 pounds, worth $104,301.

WHAT THE DEAL AMOUNTS TO

A Big Loss in Egg Revenue to the Canadian Home

Do the farmers of Canada wish to give away their home market in eggs, and, by so doing, effect the following results:—

(1) The subtraction of at least 3 cents per dozen from the prices which their wives and daughters now receive.

(2) The disappointment among the women in the farm homes and the consequent lack of former comforts and bright adornments.

(3) The loss of that independent position of controlling one's own home market and the humiliation of having a fine economic position undermined by cheap foreign eggs.

(4) The loss to the national treatury of $70,000 per year, and the resultant reduction of that amount from expenditures on services of use to the farmer and others in the country.

DRESS FOR THE STOUT.

A novelty in committees has just been formed in Paris, according to a newspaper correspondent. The new committee has undertaken the task of inducing painters of talent to design dresses and the fashions generally instead of leaving this work to the dress maker. If the idea succeeds dressmakers in the future will to some extent find their work consisting merely in executing the designs submitted to them.

But the new committee has hit upon a novelty within a novelty. At the first meeting there was much discussion on the difficulty of providing dresses for stout ladies. Fashions, it was said, are invariably so ordered that they suit the slim and not the stout. They may suit tall women better than the little ones at one time at another they my suit the small women better than the tall ones, but they never suit fat women as well as slim ones, and the Parisian lady has a tendency to plumpness. So a vote was passed, and one artist was asked to confine his efforts to the problem of designs for ladies of a certain embonpoint. It is said that he has accepted the commission.

USE FOR OLD DAMASK.

Not long ago, says a writer in the 'Daily Despatch,' I made a discovery tha thas since been of use in many ways. It all began when I saw with regret that a certain small damask d'oyly was fast wearing out. Every time it was laundered the wreath of roses that formed its border had appealed to me afresh Finally I awoke to the fact that the design was an ideal one for a picture holder.

At first I thought of tracing it to my material, padding it, and working it the usual way. After some time I decided that it would be easier to work right over the damask, thus saving time, insuring accuracy, and furnishing the padding at the same time. So I basted the d'oyly on a piece of light-colored satin, covered the roses and leaves with the usual colors with the embroidery stitch, following the pattern as carefully as a stamped one.

When all the wreath was covered I cut off the exposed damask carefully The satin then presented an exquisite wreath of roses standing out distinctly. Just as an experiment I made a tiny edge of buttonhole stitch around the entire outline, not catching up the satin. This is only necessary when it is difficult to cut the damask as closely as desired, but in this case ti was an effective addition The work was then mounted on a circular cardboard, and the result was a frame for the prettiest face among my friends.

Sofa cushions furnish another use for damask. Transfer a napkin pattern to almost any cushion material and you will have a dainty cushion and one that sin't the model of your neighbor's. Always remember to press your materials in the way best calculated to bring out the design.

Pincushions are pretty when made on lwn or linen nad bearing a reproduction of that little round or square d'oyly you hated to see consigned to the rag-bag.

A warrant was issued to-day for the arrest of a man named Detlor who js charged with cashing a forged cheque for $35 at a store in town on Saturday last. He was probably arrested at Trenton this afternoon.

BAD FOR APPLE GROWERS

The West Would be Swamped with Washington and Oregon Fruit

Sam Nesbitt, M.P.P., speaking at Campbellford, said he would take five electors from the constituency for a tour around Ontario and thence to New York State, and thus give them all an opportunity to judge the conditions governing the apple growing industry in the two countries. He pointed out that the State of Washington was expected soon to produce 20,000,000 barrels of apples a year and Oregon would have a yield of 7,000,000 barrels yearly. In these States fruit trees would yield a full crop in five or six years, as compared with ten or twelve years in Ontario. The Ontario grower would thus be unable to compete with the United States grower in the Western provinces. Last year, he said, he had sold 11,000 barrels of apples in the Western provinces. This year he had found it impossible to make contracts for the sale of apples in the West until after election day. Buyers in Prince Edward County, he said, had already reduced their purchases to await the result of the polling on Sept. 21.

Would Resist Any Attempt

DESTROY OUR MARKETS

Reciprocity Would Also Split Up Confederation, Said Sir James Whitney

Sir James Whitney, speaking at Walkerton, quoted from speeches made and newspaper articles written in the United States proving that the ultimate desire of Americans was the annexation of Canada. He said: "I do not say it will come in six months, but I do say that what President Taft and others say they mean, and we should thank them for the candid, open, bald and unblushing way in which they have said what they think will happen under reciprocity. It would mean the destruction of home markets, the ruin of East and Wets trade, the split up of Confederation, and would leave two streaks of rust running from Winnipeg to the Atlantic ocean." He emphatically announced that the Ontario Government would make no change in their policy covering the export of pulpwood from the province, despite the efforts of President Taft along that line.

Would Have to Close

James Kendry, who presided at Peterborough at Mr. Borden's meeting, made the startling statement that the Quaker Oats Company, employing six or seven hundred employes in that city, would have to close down if reciprocity became law, because they would be unable to utilize the by-products through excessive competition.

MINISTERS ARE JEERED

Aylesworth and Fisher Meet Hostility in Pontiac.

They Enter Quebec Riding to Feist Laurier's Candidate on the Electors Only to Encounter Hisses and Interruptions — G. F. Hodgins, the Machine Candidate Is Not Allowed to Speak at All—Cahill Will Stick.

Shawville, Que., Aug. 30.—There was a hot time at the meeting held at Campbell's Bay in Pontiac County last night when Sir Alan Aylesworth and Hon. Sydney Fisher held a meeting in behalf of G. F. Hodgins, one of the Liberal candidates.

The meeting resolved itself into a free fight between the supporters of Mr. Hodgins and Frank S. Cahill, the other Liberal candidate. The members of the Cahill faction jeered and hissed the Ministers and refused Mr. Hodgins a hearing altogether.

At one time in the course of the meeting, which was the stormiest witnessed in this county since away back in the eighties, Hon. Sydney Fisher endeavored to explain to the audience that he was the bearer to them of a message from Sir Wilfrid Laurier to support Mr. Hodgins, but his voice was drowned by an angry chorus of cross cries, "We want the right to choose our own man. Tell Sir Wilfrid that."

The Cahill supporters told the Ministers their coming into the county to tell the people of Pontiac what candidate to support was an insult to the electors of the county.

Both Ministers pleaded with the crowd to sink their differences, and predicted that unless they did so the Conservative candidate, Gerald Brabazon, would capture the county.

Every effort has been made to induce Mr. Cahill to retire from the field, but he stoutly refuses to do so. Saturday night Sir Wilfrid Laurier summoned both candidates to Montreal, and in an interview at which Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux was present, endeavored to have Cahill retire in favor of Hodgins.

It was immediately arranged that Sir Alan Aylesworth and Hon. Sydney Fisher should go to the county and speak in Mr. Hodgins' behalf.

Special trains bearing the Ministers and several other speakers, including Dr. Gaboury, M.P.P. for Pontiac, came up from Ottawa in the morning. Mr. Cahill, however, called a counter demonstration and ran special trains from Ottawa and from different parts of the county crowded with his supporters.

Several free fights had by this time sprung up, and the crowd, surging in all directions, refused to listen further to the speakers.

In the fight that ensued three men were seriously injured and blood was freely shed.

Two arrests were made by the local constables.

Last evening Messrs. Aylesworth and Fisher spoke to two small meetings in Shawville.

Abolish Conciliation Board.

London, Aug. 30.—The Royal Commission which is investigating the recent railway strike held its second session yesterday.

Fox, secretary of the Society of Locomotive Engineers, gave evidence as to the failure of conciliation boards to achieve the purpose for which they were authorized. He suggested that they be abolished, and that hereafter, when disputes arise, complaints be first submitted to the local officers of the company where the trouble occurred. Then, if the matter is not settled, it should be brought to a general meeting of men of the grade concerned, to elect a deputation to meet the management of the company, together with the trade union officers.

The Wider Market.

Washington, Aug. 30.—American exports of all kinds for July were $13,000,000 greater than in July, 1910. Figures given out by the Department of Commerce and Labor yesterday show exports of $127,704,119 and imports of $118,165,406 in July, 1911, compared with exports of $114,627,492 and imports of $117,315,591 in July of last year.

In the seven months ending July 31 exports from the United States have increased from $919,386,000 in 1910 to $1,115,524,000 in 1911. For the same period imports from foreign countries have declined from $916,739,000 in 1910 to $881,911,000 in 1911.

Agricultural Machinery In Russia.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The Minister of Commerce has submitted to the Cabinet the draft of a bill which will be introduced in the Duma providing measures to foster the manufacture of agricultural machinery in Russia. It is proposed to permit duty free the entry of certain machines and machine parts and to offer manufacturers credit on easy terms and reduce taxes in their favor.

The Minister will also submit to the Duma a bill making an appropriation for a search for suitable harbors in the Pacific.

Labor Pickets Fined.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—Judgment was given by Magistrate McMahon in the Westmount police court yesterday regarding the five carpenters who were arrested three weeks ago in Westmount, on a charge of loitering and intimidation, when acting as pickets during the carpenters' strike.

Magistrate McMahon found the men guilty and sentenced them to pay between them a fine of $10, this amount to cover costs. Mr. Archambault gave notice of appeal on behalf of the carpenters.

Durbar Program Curtailed.

London, Aug. 30.—Owing to the drought and the scarcity of the necessaries of life in parts of India, the King has approved the curtailment of the Delhi Durbar program. This will mean that the military manoeuvres will be abandoned and the attendance at the Durbar reduced.

LOOKS LIKE LANDSLIDE

Mr. Borden Enthusiastically Received in Montreal.

Reports From Quebec Show That the Threads of the Conservative Anti-Reciprocity Speakers and the Bourassa Anti-Naval Forces Premise to Overthrow the Laurier Administration—A Great Meeting.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—R. L. Borden captured the mercantile and financial element of the metropolis last evening, his great gathering composed of 2,500 seated, a thousand standing and many thousands turned away.

The leader, C. J. Doherty and G. F. Johnston, candidates in St. Anns and St. Lawrence respectively, and C. H. Cahan, spoke in English, while J. G. H. Bergeron and L. T. Marechal addressed their compatriots in French. Ex-Mayor Laporte, who, with Arthur Hodgins, presided, expressed confidence as a French-Canadian in Mr. Borden's leadership, and one and all denounced the pact.

There can be no doubt as to the feeling that is in the air for two strong forces are being hurled against the Government. Borden with his anti-reciprocity, and Bourassa with his anti-naval, both of which have created a sentiment which will most likely prove fatal to the administration.

Bourassa's meetings are being attended by double the quantity of people who listened to Laurier the week before, as the Nationalist leader is following the Prime Minister from district to district. It looks to-day as if Quebec had abandoned Laurier.

Whitney at Georgetown.

Georgetown, Aug. 30.—Sir James Whitney was greeted here last night by a gathering of over 2,000 people. On his arrival a monster procession was former, headed by the 20th Regiment band, and marched to the Drill Shed, which was filled to overflowing.

Mr. J. A. Willoughby was chairman, and Dr. A. W. Nixon, M.P.P., and D. Henderson, the Conservative candidate for Halton, were among those on the platform.

Sir James Whitney was greeted with loud cheering as he rose to address the assembly. It was his second visit to Georgetown, and he was pleased, he said, to be in a county that produced such men as Mr. Henderson, Dr. Nixon and J. R. Barber. He was here to do his duty, and he proceeded to strongly criticize the reciprocity treaty, which the Laurier Government, he contended, proposed forcing on the people of Canada.

Canada was prosperous now, and he did not believe Canadians would hand over their prosperity to the United States. In closing he asked the electors to support Mr. Henderson by voting in their own interests and defeating a treaty which would mean ruin to the markets of the farmer. The Premier was loudly cheered. Little Miss Elliott presented him with a bouquet.

Little Damage From Frost.

Winnipeg, Aug. 30.—The report of the Canadian Northern Railway relative to crop conditions in the west was issued yesterday and shows that harvesting is general and that very little damage has resulted from the frost. In some districts as much as 90 per cent. of the crop is in shock. Cutting is advancing through northern Saskatchewan and northern Alberta. As these two latter districts were those in which most anxiety was felt, the report being one of optimism. In the Regina district slight frosts have occasioned some damage, but not of a severe nature.

Is Suing the City.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—Nino Pratico, the man who, owing to a mistake of the police, was sent to an insane asylum, has entered an action against the city for $2,000. Pratico and another man named Festoria had been locked in a cell of the central police station on the same evening, and after examining them Dr. Picotte recommended that one of the men be sent before the recorder and the other sent to the asylum for the insane. It happened that the insane man was sent before the recorder and the sane one to the asylum. Hence the action of Pratico.

Re-open Comfort Case.

Beamsville, Ont., Aug. 30.—The Comfort case, in which the coroner's jury found that the mother and her child, whose bodies were found some weeks ago in the reservoir, had both been murdered, will likely be re-opened. The authorities have discovered a man who is prepared to swear that a few weeks before the woman's death he enquired of a man with whom he was working as Edna Comfort passed them who she was. He says the man replied, "That is Edna Comfort, and I wish to God she was in the bottom of the reservoir."

Captured Burglar.

Brockville, Aug. 30.—A series of burglaries in Brockville lately have been traced by the police to John Healey and W. Burns, two local characters. The capture of Healey has been effected, and he makes a clean breast of his wrong-doing. Most of the booty was secured from parties to whom it was sold for whisky. Burns is still at large.

Norwegian Steamer Foundered.

Vladivostok, Aug. 30.—The report that the Norwegian steamer Tordis had foundered was confirmed yesterday. The Tordis was chartered for the volunteer fleet and sailed from Vladivostok for Kamchatka. She went down off the west coast of Kamchatka. According to the advices just received the passengers and crew were saved.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—A cable received at the local office of the Canadian Pacific Railroad steamship lines states that the Empress of Britain finally sailed from Liverpool at 5.40 p.m. yesterday.

JURY BLAMES WILKIE

Says Woman Came to Her End Because of Beating.

Coroner's Inquest, at Toronto, Into Death of Woman After Assault by Her Husband Holds Him Responsible and Exonerates the Italian Frank Perry, From Blame — More Witnesses Are Heard.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—"We find that Ellen Wilkie came to her death on Aug. 14, 1911, at 254 Claremont street, from the effect of injuries received from the hands of her husband, Edward Wilkie. We exonerate Frank Perry from any implication in her death."

This was the verdict of the jury at the inquest held at the morgue yesterday afternoon by Coroner Graham, regarding the death of Mrs. Ellen Wilkie.

Martin McManus, 2 Frefort place, testified that on Aug. 14, about 11 p.m., he saw Wilkie and wife struggling on the door step. Mrs. Wilkie was dragged into the house by the hair. He heard a woman screaming, and soon after a little girl came out of the house crying that her mother was being killed by her father. Two policemen then appeared on the scene, and the witness ran for a doctor. On returning he entered the house and found the woman lying on the floor and Wilkie beside her crying, "Oh, Nellie, Nellie!"

P. C. Kennedy, No. 316, testified that Wilkie had come to him about 8.30 p.m. and complained that his sister-in-law, Mrs. Crawford, was bringing in whisky to his wife. He at once went to the Wilkie home and found Mrs. Wilkie very excited. Wife and husband quarrelled in his presence, but no blows were struck. An empty whisky bottle lay on the table.

P. C. Charles W. Johnson was notified of the disturbance at the Wilkie home about 10 p.m. Arriving there he found Wilkie and wife scuffling. Mrs. Wilkie asked him not to leave because her husband had been abusing her all night. After having quieted matters, he left about 11.10.

P. C. Joseph McElroy arrived at the Wilkie home about 11.30. Mrs. Wilkie had blood on her face and was bleeding at the nose, and complained that Wilkie had abused her, repeatedly exclaiming, "He beat me and choked me." She announced her intention of laying a charge against her husband, but soon after collapsed and died. Mrs. Mary Moore, 8 Frefort place, merely further verified the evidence of the constables.

Dr. S. Singer, 194 Simcoe street, who, with Dr. Silverthorn, performed the post-mortem, testified that Mrs. Wilkie had suffered from heart disease. He believed the treatment that she had received on the night of her death would and did hasten her death.

Frank Perry, a neighbor of the Wilkies, testified that Wilkie's step-daughter had called him in to separate the struggle in which her father and mother were engaged. He testified that he merely acted as peace-maker, and did not, as alleged, strike Mrs. Wilkie.

Beattie Murder Trial.

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 30.—Paul D. Beattie, cousin of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., indicted for wife murder, remained unmoved yesterday under a volley of questions from counsel for the defence, who attempted to shake the witness' story of Monday, in which he introduced an alleged confession to him by the prisoner concerning the tragedy.

John Sandifer, an intimate friend of the prisoner for several years, who accompanied the latter to Harry M. Smith's home two nights after the murder, followed Paul Beattie on the witness stand for the prosecution. He was expected to confirm the testimony that Henry Beattie, jr., telephoned that night to Paul to ask the latter to carry a message to Beulah Binford. He did not do so, and failed to give any light on the subject and practically became a witness for the defence. Sandifer testified that the relations of Henry C. Beattie, jr., with his wife were pleasant so far as he knew.

An Expensive Delusion.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—As an evidence of their intention to take no chances of losing their votes at the coming elections, hundreds of citizens are running to the City Hall these days and paying all their arrears of taxes, under the mistaken impression that to be indebted to the city at the time of the polling is to render one disqualified to the franchise, as is the case in municipal elections.

Monday $47,000 was paid into the city treasury for water taxes alone.

Woman Takes Poison.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Mary Crawford, 172 McCaul street, tried to end her life yesterday by taking carbolic acid, and tried to hide her actions by taking a good percentage of whisky along with the poison. She dropped into unconsciousness at the corner of Queen and Sherbourne streets at noon, and was taken from there to St. Michael's Hospital, where she regained consciousness about 8 o'clock in the evening.

Girl Swims Golden Gate.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—Miss Hazel Laugenour, 19 years old, a graduate of the University of California, is the first woman to swim across the Golden Gate. She made the distance, one mile and a quarter, in 1 hour and 28 minutes on Monday. She had a hard time in the last 400 yards, as the tide began to set against her and her head often went under the breakers.

Perished In Burning House.

Quebec, Aug. 30.—P. C. Dauteuil, a well-known broker of this city, lost his life by asphyxiation in a fire which badly damaged his residence, situated in St. Roche's, at an early hour yesterday morning. His wife and daughter escaped by jumping, but are seriously injured. Two sons escaped through the rear of the house into the yard.

LAURIER AT DIGBY.

The Prime Minister Begins His Tour In Nova Scotia.

Digby, N.S., The Premier held a rally here yesterday in company with Hon. W. S. Fielding and Sir Frederick Borden. Special trains brought in big crowds and it was a fete day in the fishing town.

Sir Wilfrid, in opening his address, took occasion to extend words of welcome to a number of United States visitors present, Digby being a popular summer resort. "The great mistake of American statesmen in the past," he observed, "has been that they have for years regarded Canada as a negligible quantity. But Canada has come to the front. She has attracted the attention of the world, and has won from her American neighbors the respect to which she is entitled as a neighbor."

The Premier dealt with the reciprocity issue in detail. Explaining the character of the obstruction in Parliament, Sir Wilfrid told the gathering how as leader of the House he was required day after day to hear it all. "Ah, my fellow-countrymen, don't you think after that I deserve something at your hands?" he asked, amid laughter. He looked forward with confidence to the hour of polling. From every part of the country came news of victory, he said. The Premier concluded with a glowing tribute to Mr. Fielding and his services to Canada.

Cheers For Veteran.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—An audience not large enough by a couple of hundred to fill Association Hall, but nevertheless quite in sympathy with reciprocity, had the opportunity last night of hearing the original, dyed-in-the-wool, simon-pure apostle of free trade and foe of protection, Sir Richard Cartwright.

Getting at once into the question before the people, Sir Richard said he doubted if any project had ever been submitted which would benefit so surely and so quickly the majority of the people as the proposal with which he would deal. He thought that this policy might well have been received with more universal approval. On the contrary, he had never known any project to be met with more calumny and more misrepresentation. He had discussed the question of reciprocity with men of light and leading in England and the United States, and he had not met one who did not express the belief that reciprocity in natural products would be to the advantage of Canada.

The arguments against reciprocity he classified as puerile and purely selfish. It was absurd to make it a question of loyalty or disloyalty whether the farmers of Canada are to sell their produce in the United States.

Suspicious Circumstances.

St. Catharines, Aug. 30.—No light is thrown on the mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of Geo. Hodginson at Merritton last Friday, at the inquest which was resumed last evening before Coroner Joy. Medical testimony showed that death was due to drowning, and that the wounds found on the head and shoulder had been received before death and probably after the body entered the water, which was probably at the bridge near McLean's sawmill. Although deceased drew $31.95 the day before the drowning, no one had seen him spend much money the last night he was seen. The suspicious circumstances regarding the pockets being turned inside out remain unsolved. One witness, Charles Dodd, stated that when returning home at 1 o'clock he saw two strangers lying asleep near the town line crossing not far from the spot where the deceased was last seen by his brother.

The inquest was adjourned until Sept. 12 to give the police a chance to solve the problem regarding the pockets and wounds.

Lightning Struck Funeral.

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 30.—As the casket containing the body of Stephen Mastlowicz, ticket seller in the ill-fated moving picture show, was being borne to the grave in the cemetery here lightning struck a tree under which the procession was passing, and the six pall-bearers were knocked down. John Hodie, a brother-in-law of the deceased, was rendered unconscious, and the mourners were panic-stricken. The casket dropped into the mud where it lay until the party had recovered from the shock. Hodie was not seriously injured, but it was necessary to remove him from the cemetery in a carriage.

Accused of Burglary.

Chatham, Aug. 30.—Fatty Rowe, accused of burglarizing the residence of Mr. McCuggan of Kent Centre, and stealing therefrom a gold watch and several other minor things, was brought before Squire Merritt yesterday afternoon and sent up for trial. He is also accused of stealing from his landlady. Fred. Dungry, his pal in the first affair, skipped out before the police could catch him.

Denies McGillicuddy Charges.

Lethbridge, Alta., Aug. 30.—W. A. Buchanan, managing director of The Lethbridge Herald since its inception, and Liberal candidate in this district, denies absolutely statements made by Mr. McGillicuddy at Toronto Monday night. He states that The Herald has never received any contribution from any campaign or slush fund, nor any gift from anyone.

Farmer Badly Hurt.

Brampton, Ont., Aug. 30.—Angus McLeod, a farmer living a few miles north of Brampton, had both legs broken in a runaway accident on Monday.

Some of his neighbor's children ran alongside his wagon and he was playfully reaching out at them with the lines, when his horses, a young team, bolted.

Girl's Trance Ended.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—Shortly before noon yesterday Blanche David, the young girl who has been in a trance for several days and whose case has attracted much attention throughout the country, awakened and asked for a drink of water.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Another advance was made in sugar prices.

The wages of canal employes have been increased.

Emile Lisotte was shot while trying to stop a fight in Montreal, and died in the hospital.

Thousands of women are parading in France as a protest against the high prices for food.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught sail to Canada Oct. 6, after visiting Their Majesties at Balmoral.

Major D. H. McLean was nominated by the Liberals of Carleton, and Mr. Edmund Proulx by the Liberals of Prescott.

Mrs. Neopolitano was taken from Sault Ste. Marie to Kingston to undergo life imprisonment for the murder of her husband.

Apparently overcome by dizziness, Thomas Blunt of Crown Point, near Hamilton, last night fell headlong into a well at his home, and his dead body was found by his wife when she returned sometime afterwards.

After suffering for twelve hours from burns about the body, caused by a coal oil can exploding while she was trying to liven the fire, Mrs. James Steele of Tormorden, near Toronto, died on Monday evening.

Principal Gorden of Queen's will remain in Scotland until Sept. 15, to attend the ceremonies in connection with the 500th anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's Society, when the honorary degree of LL.D. will be conferred upon him.

LUMBERMEN ORGANIZE

Consolidate All Coast Manufacturers' Associations—Presidents to Work Out Details.

At a recent meeting of the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' association a plan for the consolidation of all the lumber manufacturers' associations of the Pacific coast was ratified. The new organization will be formed from the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' association, the Southwestern Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association, and the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association and will be called the West Coast Lumber Manufactures' association. The presidents of the three associations are given to work out the details of the union. As a preliminary step in the uniting of these associations the executive committees of the Pacific coast and the Oregan & Washington associations lately reported that the inspection bureaus had been joined.

LONG ODDS FOR HIM.

J. W. Colt, the horseman, had a jockey who was sick. He told the boy to go to town to a certain doctor for some medicine.

When the jockey got back Colt asked him: "Did you go to that doctor?"

"No, sir. When I got there I found it said, 'Hours, one to two,' on his door."

"Well, what difference did that make?"

"Why, Mr. Colt just across the street there was another doctor that had on his door, 'Hours, twelve to one; and I took the long odds."

Not Too Healthy.

Client—"Before we decide on the house, my husband asked me to inquire if the district is at all unhealthy."

House Agent—"Er—what is your husband's profession, madame?"

Client—"He is a physician."

House Agent—"Hum—er—well, I'm afraid truth compels me to admit that the district is not too healthy."

How Are Your Eyes?

"How are your Eyes?"

It is a most important question nowadays, for there is an impression that each succeeding generation makes glasses more and more in demand But it is wise to have advice about the eye-sight, and particularly if one suffers from headaches, most of which are distinctly traceable to eye disorders. We fit glasses that give instant relief to the eyes and the effects of eye-strain.

AN ACCOUNT OF MOORISH TOWN NOW IN THE WORLD'S EYE

It is a Natural Fortress—Germany Could Make of it a Second Gibraltar

(Agadir corr, London Express.)

One glance at this mysterious town hitherto almost unpenetrable as Lhasa to white men, shows why Germany has been developing her interests in the stony Sus district. Agadir is a Gibraltar in the rough.

Imagine a steep and rocky mountain peak, rising almost sheer to a height of at least 700 feet over a magnificent natural harbor. Imagine it crowned with the snowy walls and ancient Portuguese battlements of a Moorish town, to reach which your horses must climb over boulders and ridges of slippery rock, up a natural winding stairway steeper in places than that which leads to your bedroom at home.

Imagine a point of view that carries the eye northward and eastward over wild cliffs and jagged mountain crests stony and dotted with scrub, so that they have the air of a leopard's hide, southward over vast yellow plains through which the sluggish Sus river wanders idly to the sea; and westward over a wine-purple bowl of sea rimmed with golden sands, and there you have it—Agadir.

In the bowl of purple wine floats a tiny grey shape, like a tiny warship cut out of dove-colored cardboard That is the German warship, the Panther.

Agadir is a Berber word. The people here, be it remembered, are not Arabs, but the original inhabitants of Morocco. The word means mountain And Agadir could have no better name.. It is a mountain and an unassailable one. Like Gibraltar.

Agadir is hard to reach. And when you get there you wish you hadn't come. To begin with, the townsfolk and have scant room to place at their profess no special love for Christians disposal; so that, for my own part having refused the insect-ridden stable offered me as a room, I sit in my tent on the battlements looking over the sea.

But this is a minor discomfort. The serious drawback to life in Agadir is its magnificent isolation from the world.

In Tangier one gets European news three days late. In Mogador one gets Tangier five days late. And in Agadir one gets Tangier news (somewhat distorted) when it pleases Allah to send it, which is at rare and irregular intervals. And to reach this delectable solitude one must ride for four days over the very vilest roads in all Morocco.

The road from Tangier to Alcazar is in some places rather worse than the bed of a Scotch trout stream. The road from Alcazar to Fez is, on the whole, rather steeper, and has more rocks. But compared to the road from Mogador to Agadir, these are as High Holborn or Oxford street.

The country is poor. I am aware that speaking from hearsay, I have described it as rich. Possibly in places it is. But from personal experience I should say it produces nothing but stones and inferior olives Certainly from the point of view of agricultural wealth, this part of Morocco is not worth quarrelling over France can afford to let Germany "develop her interests" in the neighborhood of Agadir, at all events, without a qualm.

It is for England that the affair is serious, not because of the wealth of the country, but because of the situation and possibilities of Agadir as a fortress and coaling station.

Germany, evidently, means to lose no time in extending her interests here. Already there are six German—civilians—resident in the town; and with the exception of one, a journalist, they seem to have come to stay More are expected.

Not to be behindhand, representatives of French firms have begun to arrive. There are five Frenchmen here. I am at present the only Englishman within 80 miles.

Now, all of this sudden immigration of Christians to a savage town hitherto almost closed to white men, has its serious side. The basha, the khalifa, the leading men of Agadir, being wiser than the rest, stifle the hatred of Moslem for Christian, and making the best of things try to see in this sudden invasion of Christians a sign that Agadir is to become a great and prosperous seaport, whose merchants shall be wealthy, and whose bashas shall be reckoned as great men

But the common people do not look ahead. They see only the hated Christian in their midst; and to put it mildly, they do not rejoice at the sight. I have visited a dozen or more Moorish cities, and never yet met with a less enthusiastic reception than that which was accorded to me last night on my arrival here.

"You'll have your throat cut, Christian," said a camel-driver cheerily—hopefully, almost—as I came in sight of the town. "There are too many Christians in Agadir already. The desert men of the Sus are coming soon to kill you all."

"I am English," said I.

"God save you," he returned. "The English are good. But the desert men do not know one Christian from another."

Well, there are no signs of the desert men as yet, though I have heard the same prophecy from more than one person. And for the present the authorities seem to have the common people well in hand.

But more Germans are coming. And the cruiser Berlin hovers continually between Agadir and the Canaries, helping the Panther to keep an eye on the prospective German Gibraltar.

FRENCH HOUSEWIVES

Their Failing Pointed Out.

The Paris correspondent of the "Morning Leader" says that the French housewife, who has always been held up as a model to her English sister in the matter of housekeeping, appears to be not altogether deserving of that honour. It is true that this is not always her fault, as a large proportion of the married women in Paris have to go out to work during the day, the husband's earning not being sufficient, in many cases, to make both ends meet.

Nevertheless, the remarks of M. Charles Driessens, who, so long ago as 1889, founded a free school for housewives at St. Denis, come rather as a surprise. He says that the majority of French housewives are ignorant of the nutritive value of different foods — that they are imbued with all sorts of prejudices and believe, for instance, that meat is very nourishing, and vegetables not so.

He declares that they know nothing of the art of preparing tasty dishes from ordinary materials, or of using up remainders, and especially they do not know how to buy — either because, going out to work, they have not the necessary time for intelligent shopping and the drawing up of a menu, or because they do not possess the rudiments of the culinary art to the extent of enabling them to make tasty vegetable dishes. To save time they go out and buy chops and steaks — an uneconomical proceeding — and cook them in a hurry, all of which, according to M. Driessens, is bad.

WHY THE ANIMALS QUARRELLED

In the early days all the animals lived together in peace, but at one time the dogs became hungry, and killed some hares. They were called to account, and though their excuse of hunger was accepted, they were told that henceforth they were to eat only fallen animals, and a license to this effect was given to them.

The sheep dog, as the most reliable, carried the license, but in autumn he was so busy that he asked the cat to mind it, and the cat put it in a cupboard in his house.

One day the dogs found a pony that had fallen down, and before it could get up they sprang upon it, killed it and ate it. The other animals complained, but the dogs said they had simply carried out the terms of the license. They were told that the permission was only to eat fallen animals that were dead, and they were asked to show the license, but it could not be found, for the mice had eaten it. This made the cat so angry that ever since cats have eaten mice, and the dog was so angry that the cat had lost the license that ever since dogs have been the enemies of cats.

But when one dog sees another in the street, or anywhere else, it always runs up and asks if it has found the license.

Motorcyclist a Hero

The value of the motorcycle squad of the Leavenworth, Kan., police department was given a practical demonstration when one of the motorcycle officers was enabled to save a boy from burning to death by being able to reach the scene of the accident promptly. The city dumpling around had been smouldering for some days, and numerous holes had been lug in an effort to reach the fire. While playing near one of these holes, Frank Romain, eight years old, fell into it. Other boys telephoned to police headquarters and Motorcycle Officer Fitch reached the place within three minutes. He pulled the suffering boy from the burning hole, placed him on the handlebars of his machine, and rushed him to a physician, thereby saving his life.

"Unrestricted Continental Reciprocity"—Will Never Give Up the Fight for It.

(Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Young Liberal Club of Toronto, in 1899):

"I have read the history of unrestricted reciprocity in this way—that every reform has cost to the reformer years of labor, and those years of labor I, for one, am ready to give, and thought the Democrats may be defeated in the States, and though Canadians may grow faint-hearted in Canada, the Liberal party, as long as I have anything to do with it will remain true to the cause until that cause is successful. I will not expect to win in a day, but I am prepared to remain in the cool shaed of opposition until the cause has triumphed, and you shall never hear a complaint from me. I tell you the Liberal party will never cease from the agitation until they triumph and obtain continental free trade. We are asked, sometimes gentlemen, what is the programme of the Liberal party. This is the programme of the Liberal party, to obtain a continental freedom of trade. Success will certainly crown our efforts at no distant day. Fixing our eyes steadily on the goal, we shall go steadily until we reach it—unrestricted continental reciprocity."

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

BOXING

WELL IS CONFIENT

LONDON, Aug. 29.—There is one man in this world who believes that Bombardier Billy Wells, English heavy weight champion, has a chance of wresting the world title from Jack Johnson in their coming match. The man who thus differs from the 2,000,000,000 of inhabitants of this earth is Bill Wells himself. In fact, so confident is he that he does not bother even to train.

Although the fight is arranged to take place at the end of September the Bombardier is still doing his nightly turn on the music-hall stage, throughout the country. He has a sketch called Wanted—A Man, and he goes blithely on his way apparently oblivious of the fact that towards the end of September the title will have to be changed to Wanted—A Good Fighter.

It looks very much as if Wells has resigned himself to defeat at the hand of the black champion, content to collect his $10,000 and the inflated music hall salary.

To a newspaperman Wells is reported to have said:

"I cannot understand why you newspapermen refuse to treat this fight seriously," he said to me. "Personally, I believe I have an excellent opportunity of becoming the heavy weight champion of the world during the last week of September. One has only to read the history of boxing for the last 25 years to realize that every man who eventually became champion was laughed at and belittled previous to his match with the then champion. Corbett was said to have no possible chance with Sullivan, it was predicted that Fitzsimmons would go down to defeat before Corbett, and Jeffries, the boilermaker, was thought to be a presumptuous chap for climbing into the ring with Ruby Bob. Even Johnson was laughed at in many quarters when he chased Tommy Burns around the world and it was not until he had administered the sleep powder to the latter at Sydney that he was thought to be the real champion.

"There is no reason that I can think of why I should be afraid of Johnson. He is the champion, but whom has he licked? Tommy Burns was a good game fighter but he was no world beater. By all accounts, Jeffries was but a shadow of his former self when he stepped into the ring at Reno. Johnson may be a great fighter, he may be the equal of men like Peter Jackson, Jeffries in his prime, Bob Fitzsimmons at his best but his record gives no evidence of it. He comes along at a time when the quality of heavyweights is suffering a temporary slump and will be champion until a really firstclass man enters the ring against him. Perhaps that time is really approaching and is no further away and September.

"I believe I am built for Johnson. I have an enormous reach and am a clever boxer. I will not mix it with him nor will I give him an opportunity of using his advantage in weight against me. I will keep away from him and if the fight goes twenty rounds I will win on points."

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Wheat was dull to-day, selling off 1 1-8c on liquidation of September. Corn, oats and provisions declined slightly.

Wheat started lower in sympathy with declines in the northwest, and showed anything but recuperative powers. September closed 1 1-8c down at 89 3-8c, and December 1/1-8 to 1 1-4c, depressed at 94c to 94 1-8c. The cash situation was not encouraging to the bulls, only 50,000 bushels sold to-day.

The Liverpool market closed to-day unchanged to ¼d lower than yesterday on wheat, and ½d to ¾d higher on corn. Antwerp closed 1¼c higher on wheat, Budapest 1½c higher.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 29.—Closing—Wheat—Spot steady; Nos. 1 and 2 Manitoba unquoted; No. 3 Manitoba, 7s 8½d. Futures steady; October 7s 2⅝d, December 7s 3⅜d, March 7s 4⅛d.

Flour—Winter patents, 28s 3d.

Hops—In London (Pacific Coast), new crop, £8 to £11.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—There continues to be a fair demand from European sources for new crop spring wheat, and the prices bid showed an advance of 1½c per quarter, but even at this rise exporters could not do any business. However, at the decline in prices in Winnipeg sales of several loads of old wheat were made. The foreign demand for oats is also good, but the bids are 1½c per bushel out of line. The local market for oats is strong, and prices have advanced ¼c to ½c per bushel. The demand is good, and sales of several round lots were made. American No. 2 yellow corn has advanced ¼c to ½c per bushel.

The foreign demand for spring wheat flour is very good, and sales during the past two days amount to 75,000 sacks. The local trade also is fairly active.

The tone of the market for bran and shorts is strong, and millers are talking about advancing prices another dollar per ton on account of the big demand and small supplies.

Butter is stronger, and prices have advanced another ¼c per pound under a good demand. Cheese and eggs are fairly active at firm prices.

Dressed hogs—Abattoir, $10.25 to $10.50 per 100 lbs.

Lard—Compound tierces, 375 lbs., 9¼c; boxes, 50 lbs. net (parchment lined), 9⅜c; tubs, 50 lbs. net, grained, two handles, 9½c pails, wood, 20 lbs. net, 9¾c; tin pails, 20 lbs. gross, 9¼c.

Pork—Heavy Canada short cut mess, barrels, 35 to 45 pieces, $23.50; half-barrels, $13; Canada short cut and back pork, 45 to 55 pieces, barrels, $23; Canada clear pork, barrels, 30 to 35 pieces, $20.50; bean pork, small pieces, but fat, barrels, $18.50.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 44½c to 44¾c, car lots, ex-store; extra No. 1 feed, 43¾c to 44½c; No. 3 C.W., 43¼c to 43½c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.40; seconds, $4.90; winter wheat patents, $4.50 to $4.75; strong bakers', $4.70; straight rollers $4 to $4.10; in bags, $1.85 to $2.

Rolled oats—Per barrel, $4.75; bag of 90 lbs., $2.25.

Corn—American, No. 3 yellow, 70c.

Millfeed—Bran, Ontario, $22 to $23; Manitoba, $21 to $22; middlings, Ontario, — to $26; shorts, Manitoba, $24; mouillies, $25 to $31.

Eggs—Selected, 24c to 26c; No. 1 stock, 20c to 22c.

Cheese—Westerns, 13¼c to 13⅝c.

Butter—Choicest, 26c to 26¼c; seconds, 25½c to 25¾c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—The railways reported 110 carloads of live stock at the City Market, consisting of 1621 cattle, 1660 hogs, 1358 sheep and lambs and 371 calves.

Butchers' Cattle.

There were mighty few good to choice butchers' cattle on sale, but some few were reported at $5.65 to $6; medium, $5.15 to $5.60; common, $3.50 to $5.15; cows, $3 to $4.90; bulls, $3.50 to $4.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Altho there were many loads of common, light stockers and feeders on sale, there seemed to be little demand. One load of 890-lb. feeders sold at $4.90; stockers, 570 to 720 lbs. each, at $3.60 to $4.30.

Milkers and Springers.

A fair supply of milkers and springers sold at $45 to $70 each.

Veal Calves.

Nearly 400 calves were on sale, and prices ranged at from $3 to $7.50 per cwt.

MOROCCO TROUBLE IS STILL ACUTE

British Interests May be Prejudiced by French Concessions

(Intelligencer Special.)

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 31.—Lloyds' announce another increase in war risks from five to seven per cent. The European press is generally pessimistic over the resumption of negotiation on the African question, and believes France will offer concessions to Germany in the Congo, which would prejudice British interests there.

TROUBLE AT LOUVRE

(Intelligencer Special.)

PARIS, France, Aug. 31.—M. Howell, director of the National Museum (the Louvre), has been dismissed as the result of the theft of Mona Lisa.

BEATTIE TRIAL

(Intelligencer Special.)

CHESTERFIELD COURTHOUSE, Va., Aug. 31.—Beattie's counsel has decided there will be no insanity defence and the fight will be made on the merits of the case.

JOHNSON TO RETIRE

(Intelligencer Special.)

PARIS, France, Aug. 31.—Jack Johnson, when interviewed to-day stated that he would retire and live in Paris after disposing of all present contenders for the title. He intends to open a big gymnasium, offer the championship belt and referee the bouts himself.

TROUBLE FOR M'CAULEY

(Intelligencer Special.)

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Aug. 31—Joseph McCauley, who assaulted a young Beamsville girl, proves to be an escaped prisoner from the Guelph prison farm. He will now face the charge of jail breaking, finish the unexpired term and return here to meet the Beamsville charge.

HANDS UPLIFTED, GIRLS SWEAR TO ABANDON EVIL

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—When the case of Angeline Sauve of 92 Cad'eux street, was called before Recorder Weir today, six young girls, who had been in the woman's place were asked to line up at the prisoners' bar.

After a lecture, the court asked the prisoners if they would promise to lead a better life, were they given a chance. The girls burst into tears and promised the court that they would.

"Let the ones who are willing to forsake a life of shame raise their right hand and promise never to return to it. make it manifest now," asked the Recorder.

The girls solemnly swore that they would seek honest employment, and lead a better life. They were then allowed to go on suspended sentence.

There was no one to greet them at the court room door, however—no friends and no representatives of any benevolent society, who might help them.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

ALMOST ENDED

The vacation season is almost over, Cool weather and hot politics are ending the good old holiday time earlier than would otherwise be the case.

SUCCESSFUL EXCURSIONS

The Steamers Brockville and Varuna both carried successful and well patronized excursions yesterday. The former went to Presqu'ile and the latter to Massassaga.

TONIGHT'S MEETING

All supporters of Mr. Porter are invited to meet to-night at the Conservative Auxiliary club rooms for the purpose of organizing the city by wards for the campaign. Let there be a grand rally of the workers.

SEASONS FOR GAME

The open season for wild duck shooting has been changed this season from Sept. 1st to Sept. 15th. The opening date for shooting partridge, plover and other game birds is on Sept. 15th as in previous years.

FINE MEETINGS

Largely attended meetings in the interest of Mr. B. R. Hepburn, the Conservative candidate in Prince Edward, were held at Wellington on Tuesday night. Mr. Hepburn is making splendid headway in his canvass and is being ably assisted by Mr. E. Guss Porter, Col. Ponton, and others.

THOSE WEEDS

The Intelligencer is pleased to note that the weeds which fringed the Armouries boulevard on Bridge and Pinnacle streets are being cut by the public works department. Score another for the press.

E. C. KETCHESON BURIED

The funeral of the late Elias C. Ketcheson took place to-day from the residence of Mr. C. F. Farley, Commercial Street. There was a large attendance, and the services were conducted at the house by Rev. Dr. Bishop and Rev. R. N. Adams. The bearers were near relatives of the deceased. Interment took place at the Ketcheson burying ground, 5th concession of Sidney.

CIRCLING THE WORLD

The Kingston Standard of yesterday says: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humphrey, known as the Kelsey Kids, arrived in the city to-day at noon from Belleville on their walking tour of the world for a wager of $10,000. They left New York on July 22nd, travelling by way of Albany, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, thence to Canada coming from Toronto to this city. They left Belleville Sunday and arrived here about noon. So far they have walked 1,400 miles and are 38 miles ahead of their time. They leave here to-night. The pedestrians will proceed eastward to the coast, where they will embark for Scotland. After touring Scotland and England, they will travel through France, Germany, Russia, China, Japan, and from there to San Francisco, by steamer.

PASSED WITH CREDIT

Through an oversight, due credit was not given to Mr. Gordon Reid for his standing at the recent matriculation examination at the High School. He passed a very creditable examination, obtaining first class honors in special mathematics. Also in the Normal School entrance examination the following passed "with honors" (i.e., 75 per cent. or over). Misses Audrey Arnott, Evelyn Boyle, Helen Simpkin and Marjorie Taylor. We extend heartiest congratulations to these young people.

BEAUTIFUL BELLEVILLE

During the past two days a number of photographs of points of interest in this city have been taken for the Grand Trunk Railway Company, no doubt for use for advertising purposes. No more beautiful place than Belleville lies on the route of the G. T. R. in this part of Canada, and its facilities for boating, fishing and shooting in season are unexcelled. It is, in fact, the centre of an angler's and hunter's paradise.

REMEMBERED BY FRIENDS

At the close of choir practice last evening the members of the Tabernacle choir repaired to the home of Miss Keitha Bonisteel, Olive Street. After a short time had been spent socially, Mr. James Dyer, in a few well chosen words expressed the deep regret felt by himself and the choir at having to part with so faithful and valued a member, and assured Miss Bonisteel that the best wishes of the Tabernacle church would follow her in her new home in the West. Miss Elliott and Miss Helen Moore then came forward and made the presentation of cut glass cream and sugar set and spoon tray. Although the recipient was taken entirely by surprise she thanked the choir for their beautiful gifts and their best wishes and assured them the pleasant recollections of past associations would occupy a prominent place in her memory. After dainty refreshments had been served by Mrs. Bonisteel and three cheers had been given for Miss Bonisteel by the choir, the pleasant gathering was brought to a close.

A WELCOME VISITOR

Mr. Dorland Anderson was in the city to-day and received a warm greeting from his many friends. Dorland was for some time a clerk with A. W Vermilyea & Son, and by his obliging manner became a great favorite. He was also a member of the 15th Battalion and accompnied our boys on the famous trip to Quebec to the Tercentenary celebration. A year ago Mr. Anderson, following Horace Greeley's advice, went West, to California and secured a good position in the boot department in the great departmental store of C. J. Hessman, Oakland, the largest gents' furnishing establishment on the coast. Mr. Anderson, by diligent and strict attention to the business of the firm, has won the confidence and esteem of his employer, who has given him a three months' holiday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs W. E. Anderson, of Ameliasburg Dorland came home by the Chicago route and spent a week in Chicago, witnessing the great aviation meet. the largest yet held in the world About the first of Ocober he will leave for his western home, taking in the sights of Vancouver, Seattle and Portland, arriving at Oakland the last of the month to take charge as manager of his department of ladies' and children's boots.

HAD AN OUTING

The staff of the Crystal Hotel, seventeen in number, were the guests of Sergt. Harman in a motor boat trip to Massassaga Park last night.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Mayor Ackerman presided at the police court this morning. The assault case of Nolan vs. Fillerson, adjourned from last week, was settled out of court.

TWO STEAMERS ARE IN TROUBLE

May be Fined for Alleged Violation of U. S. Customs Law

Two Kingston steamboats are in danger of being fined by the Washington government for alleged violation of United States marine law. The cases are now before the department of commerce and labor at Washington.

It is charged that the steamer America, on August 13th, carried an excursion of New York state guardsmen, of Buffalo, N. Y., from Thousand Island Park, for a trip among the Islands, calling at Gananoque, without making a proper landing of the excursionists at a Canadian port. The Canadian law does not permit of excursionists landing on Sundays, and hence the America could not land her party. She merely touched at Gananoque, remained ten minutes, and received a clearance paper from the Canadian customs. The claim is that as no passengers were landed, the steamboat owners should be subject to the fine of $200 for every passenger aboard.

Then the steamer Quinte Queen has been reported to the Washington authorities as having landed at Clayton, on the evening of August 15th, with the Salvation Army band excursion from Kingston when the immigration officer was not on the wharf. On that occasion, the steamer Quinte Queen was held up outside for more than twenty minutes, awaiting the arrival of the customs officer at that port It is rather hard for steamers to be detained at night at a port, owing to the negligence of government officials —Kingston Whig.

Why does the Whig advocate reciprocity in coasting?

BRUTAL MURDER ON MONTREAL WHARF

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—That a brutal murder was committed on the wharf of the Canadian Rubber Company's plant, near Papineau avenue is the story told to the police to-day by Captain Leblanc, barge captain who says that he witnessed the affair

Captain Leblanc says there was a big crowd of roughs on the wharf Soon after nine o'clock a passer-by became engaged in an altercation with this gang. O fight followed.

The man was overpowered, but maintained a game struggle until compelled to give way to superior numbers

While he lay on the wharf he was kicked and buffeted, and Captain Leblanc avers that he was pounded into a condition of unconsciousness. Then the roughs carried the man to the edge of the wharf, swung the body free, and an instant later it struck the water.

For a moment, so the narrator declares. the corpse was seen where the light of an electric lamp strikes the water, but only for an instant, then it was swept away in the swirling waters and disappeared.

At the point the flow of St. Mary's current is at its full height of about eight knots, and it was not long before there was no longer any trace of the blood-stained body.

According to Captain Leblanc the gang remained about the wharf for a considerable time, shouting and singing and were not molested, no policemen appearing to move them off.

Detectives were detailed to investigate.

"Why did you not tell this story last night?" asked Detective Demers.

"I was afraid," answered Captain Leblanc. "That gang remained on the wharf for a long time, and I thought that to leave my boat and go amongst them was to court danger."

The "sunny smile" is coming off so badly does the campaign worry Sir Wilfrid. It has given place to abuse which revives the recollection that "whom the gods would destroy they first make mad."

SEVERAL POLITICAL MEETINGS IN THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

Mr. Borden Makes a Plea For British Connection.

Leader and His Party Invade the English-Speaking Districts of Quebec and Receive a Handsome Welcome From People of Bedford and Granby—Reciprocity a Menace to the Empire.

Bedford, Que., Aug. 31.—Greeted at the station by Mayor N. A. Pare, who read and presented an address of welcome to the Conservative chieftain, and followed from the station to his hotel by a crowd of people who had been attending the Missisquoi Fair. R. L. Borden and his lieutenants yesterday invaded this town to commence their tour of the Eastern Townships.

Dr. Pickel, the Conservative candidate, declared that if the United States got one foot into our fiscal system they would soon have four feet in it so firmly that they could not be dislodged.

Mr. Borden in opening declared that his recent tours had shown him that Ontario and the West intended to maintain the British connection. He knew that Quebec would do likewise.

"This reciprocity pact is the greatest menace to that connection that has ever dawned on our horizon," said Mr. Borden. "But if I judge aright," he continued, "the dark cloud, together with the evil genii of the Liberal party, will be dispelled on September 21."

At Granby.

Granby, Que., Aug. 31.—One thousand residents of this district stood in the Town Hall last night for two hours and a half and listened to R. L Borden and his lieutenants. All the speakers were given a good hearing.

Want Wilson to Stay.

Hamilton, Aug. 31.—A number of dissatisfied Dundas Conservatives are circulating a petition addressed to Premier Whitney asking him not to accept the resignation of Gordon C. Wilson, M.P.P. for Dundas, who was nominated to run in Wentworth in the Dominion election, and urging the Premier to give his support of another man.

CURRENT COMMENT

Remember Borden, and Canada for the Canadians.

And clean out the Augean stable at Ottawa.

Has Sinclair got that 6c. additional for cheese in the U. S. market arranged for, as he asserted at Massassaga would be the result of the pact going into effect.

A Montreal girl goes into a trance regularly two or three days a week. Not unlikely they include the ones devoted to washing and ironing.

The French are making as much fuss over the disappearance of the portrait of that very much dead young lady, Mona Lisa, as if Lisa was a real live one.

An Englishman in London attempted suicide because his wife remained silent for a week. That was a singular reason. But perhaps it was the absence of customary nagging that turned his brain.—Spectator.

Mackenzie King may have helped his own candidature by attacking Mr. Borden because he would have helped Britain in a naval war against Germany; but the young minister hasn't helped his party.—Hamilton Herald.

It is not necessarily a bad thing for the new republic of Portugal that rival political parties should have begun to appear. The only question is whether the politicians have learned the important lesson that partisanship must be kept subordinate to patriotism.

Two million dollars is the estimated loss, up to the present, by the forest fires raging in Newfoundland, with every probability of it being increased. Despite all manner of advice and precaution, this is a phase of national calamity that no effective means seem as yet able to cope with.

The diplomatic rumor that Great Britain is planning the formal annexation of Egypt may grow into the next war scare. What difference would it make to the rest of the world if Great Britain should formally declare what is virtually a fact?, asks the Buffalo Express.

The Canadian campaign has now reached that exciting stage at which even the dignified premier permits himself to say that Henri Bourassa is a "willful liar." And in this country we groan over Mr. Roosevelt's impulsiveness when he merely hinted at the phrase about the "shorter and simpler word."—Buffalo Express.

The Welland Liberals have had to "drink the hemlock" just as the House of Lords did, and have been forced to give Mr. German an acclamation despite the fact that he is unalterably opposed to reciprocity. It is as frank and open a confession of Liberal weakness as anything we have seen in this campaign up to date.—Kingston Standard.

Hon. Mackenzie King at a public meeting read a letter from D. Hibner one of the leading manufacturers of busy Berlin, to the effect that he was in favor of the pact and giving some private information. Mr. Hibner calims that Mr. King violated confidence, and now says that he is opposed to reciprocity, and will appear on the platform of the Conservative party and say so. It must be a hard cause, to publish confidential letters for support.

Spices

Good health depends greatly upon the food you eat

At this season the ladies are preparing pickles and preserves for the rest of the year

You know that the piquancy of all canned goods depends upon the character of spices used and this is where we want you to think of us

We buy from the most reliable spice houses, and in addition examine all our spices carefully before we offer them for sale

We sell spices in any quantity, but just one quality, that is the kind that has built up our spice trade.

Lustrous Hair

MAKES WOMEN FASCINATING AND ATTRACTIVE.

Parisian Sage is not a nostrum; it is the scientific preparation of one of the world's greatest dermatologists.

It will grow hair. It will cure dandruff. It will stop falling hair. It will make the scalp clean and white and free from any disease.

Parisian Sage is the most marvellous and efficient hair dressing known. It will turn harsh, lustreless and uncontrollable hair into soft, lustrous and fascinating hair in a few days. It is the favorite hair dressing of thousands of women who realize that no one can be handsome without beautiful hair. Large bottle, 50 cents at J. V. Doyle's on money back plan, who guarantees it.

Canadians everywhere should bear in mind that the whole reciprocity business began with a threat. That threat was from the President of the United States, that a surtax of 25 per cent, ad valorem would be placed on Canadian products, because of certain tariff concessions Canada had made to the British motherland and to France. That is, President Taft undertook to interfere in Canada's internal affairs by threats, because Canada presumed to conduct her own affairs in her own independent way. That threat was an offence not to be forgotten.

It is of little importance what Mr. McGillicuddy's motive may be for accusing the Minister of the Interior of complicity in irregular transactions. The important thing is whether or no there is ground for the accusations. The story as told by Dan McGillicuddy does not lack the detail which is necessary to give it an appearance of truth. In brief, the charge is that the Minister of the Interior used his power as such to do a large favor for a railway corporation in connection with an exchange of land granted to the corporation; that in return for the favor he received from the corporation a large sum of money, and that he used this money partly for party purposes and partly to promote his private interests. It was this matter that a committee of parliament was about to investigate when the sudden dissolution put a stop to the investigation.—Hamilton Herald.

THE UNION JACK FOREVER.

(Air:—"The Maple Leaf Forever.)

Bill Taft and Fielding made a pact
Of reciprocity, they say
If carried through it would, in fact,
Lead to Yankeeland some day.
But loyal to our king are we,
And naught on earth shall sever,
The ties that bind us to the Throne.
The Union Jack forever.

Chorus.

If we unto ourselves prove true,
We fear no foe whatever,
For we are British through and through,
The Union Jack forever.

Great Britain's flag shall always wave
Over Canada's broad domain.
Its mission to protect and save,
And righteousness maintain.
Prosperity and peace are ours.
So be it our endeavor,
To share in Britain's fame and powers
The Union Jack forever.

In Canada, the land we own,
We, her children, should unite,
By "leaving well enough alone,"
All will, in time, come right.
If loyal to our King are we,
No power on earth can sever
The ties that bind; yet leave us free,
The Union Jack forever.

BUNNETT-McCONNELL.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Wedensday, August 30th at the home of R. J. McConnell, Melrose, when his daughter Jennie, became the bride of James Mr. T. Bunnett of Thurlow, the Rev. S. Crookshanks of Thomasburg being the officiating clergyman. The bride was given away by her father and was becomingly dressed in point d'esprit over white silk. The only attendant was Miss Hazel McConnell niece of the bride who made a very pretty flower girl. After the wedding dinner Mr. and Mr. Bunnett left to visit some places of interest. The bride is travelling in grey with black hat. They have many friends in this city. On their return they will take up their residence on the 2nd of Thurlow. May their jouney through life be happy and prosperous.

DEATH LIST

MRS. JANE CARTER.

Died in Plainfield at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. James Hamilton, Mrs. Jane Carter, widow of the late Jacob Carter, aged 83 years, from general debility. Deceased was a lifelong resident of the township. She leaves one son, James William Carter, of Michigan, and two daughters, Mrs. James Hamilton, of Plainfield, and Mrs. Peter McDougall, of Winnipeg. She was a member of the Methodist church, and greatly beloved by all the neighborhood.

Canadians Are First.

London, Aug. 31.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The artillery contests yesterday resulted in a handsome victory for the Canadian team, commanded by Capt. Harris of Victoria. Five companies were entered in addition to the Canadian garrison, namely, the 1st Sussex, North Scottish, East Riding, Glamorgan and Dorsetshire. Firing took place at a moving target towed across the sea at a range from 4,000 to 5,000 yards in front of the battery, at a speed of about eight to ten knots. The Canadians won the Prince of Wales' prize with a figure of merit of 988. Second prize went to the Sussex company with 715. The North Scottishmen were credited a figure of merit of 542, giving them third position, East Riding 500. Glamorgan received no marks.

The weather on the whole was favorable to firing and showed an improvement upon that in a similar contest last year, but, excepting that of the Canadians, was only of average merit. The event concludes the principal competitions.

Factories Are Closed.

Cornwall, Aug. 31.—The water in the St. Lawrence River is so low that in order to keep the water in the canal up to the required level for navigation, it was necessary to close off the water from all the local factories at noone yesterday. The three local cotton factories, the paper mills and all industries using electrical power were obliged to close down. The east wind had considerable to do with the lowering of the water, but it is hoped that if the wind changes the mills will be allowed to use water and electric power to-day.

The steamer Riverside, which went ashore above the St. Lawrence Power Co.'s power house a week ago, last night, is still stuck fast, although the water was raised to the limit and several tugs tried to pull her off. The water in the river, and consequently in the canal, is lower than at any time for years past.

78 Years Old, Health Perfect

Prominent real estate and insurance man of Barberton, Ohio, owes his youthfulness and vigor to the world's greatest tonic stimulant.

"For quite some time I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey according to directions, and I am now feeling better than at any time for the last several years. I have not paid out a dollar to doctors since I commenced its use, but before using same was compelled to get various kinds of medicine off and on. I am now over 78 years of age and thanks to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I am enjoying the best health I have had in 25 years."—John McNamara, Barberton, O.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

as a renewer of youth and tonic stimulant is one of the greatest strength givers known to science. Its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system; is a promoter of health and longevity; makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous. It is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

All liquor dealers, or direct, $1.25 a large bottle. Be sure you get the genuine; substitutes and imitations are injurious. Medical booklet, containing rare common-sense rules for health, and testimonials, also doctor's advice, sent free to anyone who writes.

Through Ontario With The British-Born

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

I have found an employer who advertises "Old Countrymen preferred." He is Moore, of Meaford, and he talks to his Englishmen as if they were his blood brethren. I heard of his popularity in advertising from a Bristolian who used to work under him and gives him a first-class name. Moore said in opening the meeting, that the least noble of the British that come to Canada are preferable to the best who bring an alien tongue. Whereat the meeting cheered.

Afterwards Moore explained himself to me. He manufactures wood mantels in Meaford. A Quebecer he spent eighteen years in New England. He had a hard time himself, to begin with—as hard as the British have who abound in the North Atlantic States. He came back to Canada because blood and early environment will tell. He has only good to tell of the English.

"Now and then one comes along," he said, "who is a bluff; but the woodcutter from England is thorough and reliable. He soon gets on to our way of doing things, and I always get him when I can. When I started in New England I was like him starting in Canada, and I don't forget it."

My Bristolian, Walter Holloway, said this about his fellow countrymen in Meaford: "There are many good Englishmen in this town, but they have been in the background, keeping themselves to themselves."

The modesty of the English in Canada is not an over-written theme. Indeed, the quality is often thought to be somewhat obscure. That little matter of the aspirate is rather upsetting, but as a quiet fellow from Northamptonshire said to me on the way up from Allandale: the way the careless Englishman forgets and fabricates his aitches is nothing to the honestly-meant reflections of English speech you see in cartoons and stories like those that frequently adorn The Toronto Telegram, the authors of which think they are mighty clever; whereas the Englishman is only natural.

The British-born are misunderstood, because they have so far done so little to understand themselves. I met a little Londoner in Moore's factory who never slept a wink a continuous week away from "the smoke" until he boarded ship for Meaford.

"I cannot say I like it," he told me frankly, "but I don't think I should like to go back.

"What's the matter with Meaford?" I asked. [illegible]

"Nothing," he replied, "only it's too quiet. It ain't like the Elephant and Castle."

This delightful man likes to tell himself he isn't quite so happy here, because Meaford isn't giddy enough for one, long years accustomed to the Elephant. But when he comes to sort out his ideas he remembers that the doctor told him to clear out of London if he wanted to save the only child of eleven that survived.

"Is the child better in Meaford?" I inquired.

"Is she?" he said, with a smile from 'ere to 'ere.

"Go and have a look at her. And there's another since we got here—lively as kittens both of 'em."

"And would you like them to be playing around the Elephant," said I.

"Not by a darned sight," he said.

To come straight from London to this tree-blessed, breezy resort on Georgian Bay, is a mighty change for a man in his forty-fifth year.

I asked if he thought he could be happy in London again.

"I don't know. I know several who have been back for a holiday, you know, and they all say they wouldn't like to live there again."

This man, you see, is just beginning to understand things.

And another I saw who had this story—Liberal in the Old Country; nothing in particular here for several years; now strongly against any closer entanglement with the United States.

Free Traders in the Old Country? Yes, in a way; but here it is different. Higher wages; houses on fifty-foot lots; more freedom and social life; more hope for the kids. The Free Trade we used to have may have been all right. The protection we now have is certainly better, or we would not stay here.

And for a sidelight on the home market: look at the Methodist Barn. Because there is a sheltering wall along the border there are growing industries on Georgian Bay. The farmer also used to find little sale for the stuff in Meaford now has a fine market among the people who run the wood-working factories. And the Methodist farmer who drives into town for the Methodist Gospel drives his horse into a big red brick barn—not an open shed—a big red brick barn that's bigger than the church and almost as imposing. The home market and the Gospel are near-relations in Meaford.

LETITIA

A THRILLING NOVEL OF WESTERN LIFE

By CHARLES A. MACFARLANE

Copyright 1908 by the C. M. Clark Pub. Co., Boston, Mass. Used by Permission

Presently Duffy drew rein at the shanty door and inquired for the camp boss.

"Hello, Finch," he exclaimed, as a large, good-natured man appeared. "We are looking for a bunk. Can you accommodate us for the night?"

"I reckon we can," was the cordial reply. "Just take your horses over to the barn and stall them. I'll see that they are properly looked after. But fetch all your valuables to my office. This house is not responsible for anything outside the safe," he concluded, with a laugh.

"It seems good to see you again, Duffy. Where do you come from this time?" asked Finch when the travellers returned from the barn.

"From Grand Forks. I'm working for Wheeler now," and he presented Grant to the old friend and camp comrade of former days.

"You are welcome, Duffy,—you and the young gentleman," and he conducted them to his own apartment in the shanty.

CHAPTER XVI.

In The Lumber Woods.

Owing to his youthful appearance and neat attire, it was not surprising that young Grant should be selected as the subject for amusement before the evening was over. From the first he was taken for a tenderfoot seeking recreation under the protection and guidance of an experienced bushwhacker,—some Easterner with more money than pluck, and while but few insinuating remarks were made at the supper table, it was evident from the side glances, and winks, that a plan was afoot to draw on the visitor's courage, and make him the laughing stock of the camp. The little Frenchman, on the alert for sly mischief, seemed to be the leader, and while no seeming attention was paid to his comical sayings, Alex soon decided that he would be the one to set the ball rolling. Nor was he mistaken. As the workmen, about fifty in number, arose from the two long tables, this particular individual made his way to where Grant stood in conversation with Finch, and appearing to stumble, knocked against the guest with considerable force, sending him sideways to the partition, two or three feet away.

"No more of that, Guiette," said Finch sharply; but the reprimand was greeted with a half sneer, followed by a titter from the others as they congregated in the adjoining room for the usual evening games, a few going out into the yard, where they were presently puffing their black pipes.

Soon discussion and profanity were freely exchanged as the amusements progressed, and now and then outbreaks over attempts at cheating were threatened, but passed off without serious results. It was all very interesting to Alex, who entered the recreation room later on, but took no part in the games. The room had become almost stifling with tobacco smoke as they spun their yarns, dealt the cards and handled the dominoes or checkers One bold chap attempted a trick on Grant, but was checked by Finch, who, himself, a powerfully built man, usually had control of his subordinates.

Presently the Frenchman approached Alex and asked him to take part in the games, but was politely refused.

"You don't tink you better tan us?" he said hotly.

"Not at all," Grant replied quietly. "But I don't care to take part."

"I bet five dollar I trow you down two time in tree," was the next sally

"We won't indulge in that sport, either," said Grant, with a little laugh.

"You no good. I trow tree like you;" and the impudent fellow spit at him. Then before Grant was aware of the next move, he had been grasped by the arms, tripped, and laid flat on his back. It was very prettily done, and showed the extreme suppleness of the foreigner.

A roar of laughter followed, drawing together the entire camp.

Without a word, the young Vermonter rose to his feet, cooly divested himself of coat and vest, which he handed to Duffy, and faced his opponent. For a moment there was a death-like silence as the two wrestlers struggled for the mastery. Then with a quick movement Alex swung the Frenchman over his hip, laying him squarely on his back.

Finch and Duffy said not a word, but their surprise and pleasure was evident. Nor was there a word of comment on the part of the others. The fall had nettled the Frenchman for his reputation as a wrestler was known to many outside the immediate camp. Nothing daunted, he rose and again grappled his adversary with an energy that bespoke a determination to take the next fall. Like a serpent he twisted and bent, tripping with a cleverness that was the admiration of his comrades, and several times he almost had Grant at his mercy. Finally the "tenderfoot" ducked, twisted, and the would-be champion sailed over his shoulder, both shoulders and hips striking the floor with a thud that was heard throughout the room.

"By Jove, but that was prettily done," exclaimed Finch. "It is the first time the Frenchman has met his match in a year. Who is this young fellow?" he asked, turning to Duffy.

He's from Vermont, and a friend of Wheeler's. I am helping him to hunt up a cousin who is somewhere in the lumber woods. We'll tell you about it later. But if these fellows take him for a greenhorn they will get left."

Guiette was satisfied. The last fall had shaken him up as Grant had intended it should, and he did not care to risk another test. But he acted the part of a true sport, and admitted defeat by taking his victor's hand and complimenting him for his skill.

"You best man in de country. You trow me fair. I no match for you." With which he left the room and sought his bunk.

From that moment Grant held the respect of every woodsman present, who admired nothing so much as the ability to successfully contend with one of reputed skill.

At nine o'clock Finch escorted his guests to his own little side room where a double bunk had been prepared for them.

"You will be safer here," he said in a confidential tone when they had shut themselves in "Them fellows are fairly decent when eyes are on them, but there is no telling what they might do in the dark."

"We appreciate your kindness," said Alex.

"I am glad you floored Guiette so easily," continued the host. "He is a regular mischief breeder, and if he had won it would have made him all the worse. It was a complete surprise to him as well as the rest of us, and may take some of the conceit out of him."

"He is an expert wrestler, and gave me all I cared to handle," replied Grant. "It's my good fortune to be a trained athlete, for which I have been very thankful on several occasions since leaving home." Then he related several experiences along the way, giving an account of the interview with the half-breed, and the part he had taken towards bettering her condition. Perhaps my heart got the better of my judgment, but I would do it over again; I simply could not leave her to become the slave of a brute."

EXONERATE LARGE FAMILIES

By Taxing All Unmarried Men, Is Scheme of Parisian Council

Paris bachelors are in for a hard time if the majority of the town councillors have their way. At its last sitting a proposition was discussed for imposing a tax on all unmarried men, and the town councillors voted the following resolution by 27 votes to 6: "The town council resolves to exonerate large families and to seek new resources to make up a sum of 300,000 francs, the amount of the exoneration. It asks Parliament and the Government to create a new source of revenue by imposing a tax of 10 francs on all unmarried men, and a surtax of 5 per cent. on all house rents exceeding 250 francs."

GERMAN TEN COMMANDMENTS

How Patriotism is Being Advanced In the Fatherland

The "Ten Commandments" of Germany have been printed as a pamphlet and are being circulated by the million copies througout the Fatherland. They breathe a spirit of intense patriotism—in the commercial sense—and distrust of foreign products. Here is the new German Decalogue:

I.—In spending money, however small the amount, never lose sight of the interests of your compatriots and country.

II.—Do not forget that when you buy an article from a foreign country, even though it may cost a copper coin, you diminish to that extent the wealth of your country.

III.—Your money ought only to benefit German merchants and workmen.

IV.—Do not profane the German nation, the German firm or the German workshop by using foreign machines or implements.

V.—Do not allow foreign meat to be served at your table. Using foreign meat is harmful to the German breeder. Besides, it may compromise your health, since foreign meats are not inspected by the German sanitary police.

VI.—Write on German paper with a German pen, and use a German blotting-pad.

VII.—Wear only German clothes and German hats.

VIII.—German flour, German fruits, and German beer alone give German strength.

IX.—Drink coffee which comes from the German colonies. If you prefer cocoa or chocolate, see that they are exclusively of German manufacture.

X.—Do not let the boasting of foreigners turn you from these wise precepts, and remember that the best products, and the only ones worthy of a citizen of Great Germany, are German products.

Feast for the Seine Fish

The Seine fish have had an unexpected pleasure through the arrival in their midst of a wagonful of grubs which were upset on the Boulevard de Strasbourg, and, in order that trams and motor-cars should not be delayed, were turned into the river by the corps of street cleaners. Many anglers went empty away that day.

On the whole the coming election looks not only like a Conservative sweep generally, but one that will gather up most of the Cabinet in the sweeping process.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Wheat was liquidated heavily on the board of trade to-day, September in particular, and the close was ⅜c to ⅝c to 1c under yesterday. Corn and oats found narrow markets, but while corn sold off ⅜c to ½c to ⅜c to ½c, oats closed unchanged to a shade up. Provisions suffered from liquidation, closing 7½c to 10c lower on lard and ribs to 62½c for September pork.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ½d to ⅜d lower than yesterday on wheat, and unchanged to ¼d higher on corn. Budapest closed ½c lower on wheat, Berlin unchanged, and Paris ⅛c to ⅜c lower.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—A feature of the grain trade is the increased demand from local buyers for oats, and sales of 100,000 bushels were made, including 60,000 No. 2 Canadian western at 43½c, and 30,000 extra No. 1 feed at 43½c, ex-store. Oats were stronger at an advance of 1½c per quarter. The foreign demand for old crop Manitoba spring wheat was good, and sales of several loads were made for prompt shipment, and a few loads of new wheat were also worked for October-November shipment. American corn was easier in sympathy with Chicago A good export business continues to be done in spring wheat flour, further sales being made to-day. There is also a good inquiry for winter wheat at an advance of 3c per sack. Rolled oats are strong, and prices have advanced 20c per barrel. Cheese, butter and eggs are fairly active.

Dressed hogs—Abattoir, $10.25 to $10.50 per 100 lbs.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—There has been a little more activity in export live stock circles during the past few days, owing to the improved demand from both American and Canadian exporters for ocean freight space, and fully fifty per cent. of the supply to London for September has been engaged at 27s 6d per head, which is an advance of 2s 6d over the August figure. The demand for Liverpool space is quiet, and so far only one boat has been engaged at 25s, and some Glasgow has been let at 30s.

At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the offerings this morning were 1000 cattle, 800 sheep and lambs, 1700 hogs and 400 calves. Altho the supply of cattle was somewhat larger than usual for the middle of the week requirements, yet a firm feeling prevailed in the market, and prices showed no change, owing to the fact that the demand from butchers was much better than expected, consequently a fairly active trade was done at the close. Choice steers sold at 6¼c; good at 5¾c to 6c; fairly good at 5¼c to 5½c; fair at 4¾c to 5c, and common at 4¼c to 4½c per pound. Cows brought from 4c to 5½c, and bulls from 3c to 4½c per pound.

There was no change in the condition of the market for small meats, prices being steady under a good demand and smaller supplies. Lambs sold at 6c, and sheep at 3¾c to 4c per pound. Calves were scarce, especially choice stock, for which there was a good inquiry, and sales of the best on the market were made at $8 to $10 each, and the commoner ones went at from $3 to $7 each.

The supply of hogs was ample to fill all requirements, and the tone of the market was easier, with sales of selected lots at $7.50, and mixed and heavy at $6.75 to $7.25 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Beeves—Receipts, 2256 head; steers steady to a shade higher; bulls and cows slow to 15c lower. Steers, $4.25 to $7.75; bulls, $3 to $4.85; cows, $1.25 to $4.75.

Calves—Receipts, 2318 head; veals strong; other calves firm to 15c higher. Veals, $7 to $10; culls, $5 to $6; grassers and buttermilks, $4.25 to $5.25; southern and western calves, $4.50 to $7.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6314 head; sheep steady; good and prime lambs firm; others steady. Sheep, $2 to $3.75; culls, $1 to $1.50; lambs, $4.75 to $7.25; culls, $3 to $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 3983 head; market easy, at $7.80 to $8.05.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Cattle—Receipts, 2000; market steady to 10c lower; beeves, $5 to $8.15; Texas steers, $4.40 to $6.35; western steers, $4.25 to $7.10; stockers and feeders, $3 to $5.50; cows and heifers, $2.25 to $6.25; calves, $6 to $9.

Three Indian Heroes.

During the stormy days of the first week in April of this year, a big steamer called the Iroquois went down out on the Pacific coast. And when the waves were lashing the ill-fated Iroquois, and the fatal moment came, and men began to gently urge shrieking women into frail life-boats, three Iroquois Indians, William Tzouhalem, Bob Klutwhalem, and Donnet Charley launched their dug-out on the wild beach, and fought their way to drowning passengers. The story of how they rescued three out of the storm cauldron, at great risk to their own lives, was told before the justices who are investigating the wreck of the steamer Iroquois. The three heroic braves stood up in court and heard the praise of Mr. Justice Martin upon their conduct.

"We will recommend that they be given the Humane Society's medal as a token of the appreciation which all must feel at such an exhibition of bravery."

"What Bust?"

Dr. Brown, a dignified and somewhat portly gentleman, had been commissioned to buy a shirtwaist at a bargain sale which his wife was unable to attend. The task was a novel and not wholly congenial one, but he finally got the attention of a saleswoman and made his wishes known.

"What bust?" she asked.

The doctor glanced around with nervous apprehension.

"Why—er—I didn't hear anything!"

Halves, Mister.

It was at a theatre in Dublin. The king, aged and infirm, was blessed with two sons. He was pacing up and down the stage with a wearied look, exclaiming aloud: "On which of those two sons shall I bestow the crown?"

The house was nearly brought down with laughter, when a little man in the gallery stood up and said: "Treat 'em fair, guv-nor. Can't yer give 'em half-a-crown apiece?"

Corruption Rampant

History records not any period during the life of free institutions when bribery and electoral corruption were so boldly and flagrantly indulged in as at the present time. Scarcely a speech is made by a Ministerialist but reference is found to the expenditure of public money in constituencies where it is thought and believed voters are venal and can be corrupted by the expenditure of money. To such an alarming extent is this carried, that honest electors shudder and ask themselves to what state of degradation are the people of Canada descending in listening to such attempts to corrupt every fibre of the body politic? Where is it to end?

It is but a few months ago that Sir Wilfrid and one of his henchmen, Mr. Macdonald, M.P. for Pictou, Nova Scotia, were in Lethbridge, a large, prosperous and growing city in Alberta, without post office accommodation. The attention of Sir Wilfrid was called to this neglect on the part of his Government. How was it met? Not by Sir Wilfrid, but by Mr. Macdonald, who unblushingly told the people that if they expected favors, they must send a supporter of the Government to Ottawa, thus proving that Canada has a ministry that governs for party and party alone, and not in the interest of the country. This declaration of Mr. Macdonald, of course, on behalf of the Government, was a direct offer of public money in return for a Government supporter in Parliament. Sir Wilfrid was present, heard the declaration and no doubt approved it.

In Toronto the Ministerialists mustered sufficient courage to put up a man in the south division of the city to contest the seat with Mr. Claud Macdonald, one of the most talented and industrious members in Parliament. Mr. Ward, one of the Controllers of the city, was chosen, and, in accepting the nomination, gave no indication of what his views were or are upon any public question, but he did urge support, not upon principle, but of money, in the following language:

"It was time that Toronto had a representative on the Government side of the House. Toronto was too large a city to sit by and see the Laurier Government spend $10,000,000 on the Montreal harbor and not a cent on the needs of Toronto."

Which, translated into plain English, means "If you send a supporter of the corrupt Government, you will get money." In no country in the world would these tactics be tolerated.

Turn to St. John, New Brunswick, where the Hon. Mr. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, who is now seeking re-election, and what do we find? Bribery, not in detail, but in wholesale lots offered in return for support.

The St. John Telegraph, Pugsley organ, tells its readers "that a site "for the new St. John post office has "been selected by the Department of "Public Works," at a cost of $40,000 and that Mr. Pugsley, the Minister, "will erect without delay a fine modern post office, worthy of St. John, and following in general design the magnificent new building recently completed in Winnipeg (over a $1,000,000). The cost will be great, but it has been felt for a long time that the present post office is inadequate for the greatly increased business done in St. John, and the course of the Minister of Public Works in securing this large and costly new building for the city will be heartily appreciated by all citizens."

Is this all? Not a bit of it. The Telegraph adds.

"Together with the news about the new post office comes another announcement, to the effect that a new suction dredge is to be built in St. John. Building it in St. John will give employment to local labor, and thus be of additional benefit.

"A third piece of information is that the Government is calling for tenders for the completion of extensive wharf construction, which work has been delayed for a long time which the Minister of Public Works has been most anxious to have carried on."

The Telegraph winds up its article with the following:

"The new post office, the new dredge, and the construction of more wharfage facilities on the West Side are additional steps in the great programme of improvements for the city and harbor which the Minister of Public Works is carrying on."

Who will say that the declaration of Mr. Borden in one of his speeches that if such acts as have been proven against the present Government had been committed by persons in private life, the oeffnders would find themselves in the penitentiary instead of occupying seats in Parliament, is not fully warranted. Yet, we find Liberals, who, in private life, would condemn all such transactions, approving them in public life by voting for the continuance of the Government, who committed them, in power. Why?

Canadians in the States Opposed to Reciprocity.

A fact of no small significance in the matter of reciprocity is that Canadians living in the United States are, as a rule, strongly opposed to the measure. Some of the more earnest opponents of the pact have come back to their native land to lend their aid by voice and pen to the Conservatives and other loyal Canadians in the great battle they are now engaged in on behalf of the integrity of the Dominion. The sentiment against reciprocity has been strengthened here by what Canadians who live on the other side of the line have to say about it. Letters are continually received from them by business men in Toronto and Montreal, Halifax and St. John, Winnipeg and Vancouver and other places, strenuously urging the rejection of reciprocity on the grounds that the entangling web that will be woven by reciprocity can have no other result than the loss of fiscal and political independence. The sentiment against reciprocity is undoubtedly a great deal stronger than the sentiment for it. The passionate zeal animating the adherents of the measure is missing even amongst the most active of the pro-reciprocity party. The latter are now shaded over with the pale cast of doubt. Many farmers of Ontario and the West have lately spoken with no uncertain voice against the pact. We all now see, irrespective of party ties, that reciprocity is a great deal more than a commercial arrangement with the United States. In a more intimate sense it is a political problem of momentous importance. This first break in our relations with the Mother Country is something much more than a tariff measure. It is an assault directed against the spirit of the British Empire and the great Imperial scheme of things in which Canada has a great part to play. It is an assault directed against the entire policy of the Dominion, the policy which has made the country what it is to-day; the policy without which we would be still what we were fifty odd years ago—hewers of woods and drawers of water for another people. To millions in this country our modest tariff wall is a symbol. It stands for one of the most heroic and determined struggles that the history of nations can show. The occasion of this new struggle is one for passions to run high.

THE POULTRY YARD

Eggs a Great National Asset for Farmers' Wives and Daughters

One of the most lucrative departments of farming in Canada to-day is the poultry yard. Because of the steady increase in the consumptive demands of Canadians, the export trade of the Dominion in eggs has dwindled from nearly twelve million dozen in 1902 to less than a hundred thousand dozen in the fiscal year ending March, 1911. There has been with this decrease in exports a corresponding increase in imports, especially from the United States. Our imports for consumption in 1902 were 772,572 dozen and in 1911 the amount imported was 2,378,640 dozen. In spite of the protective duty of 3 cents per dozen Canada's demand for eggs is so great that she is importing about twenty-five times as many eggs as she is exporting. Why not preserve this great national asset for the wives and daughters of our farmers, and thus add to the domestic happiness of the land?

WHY THEY WANT OUR WHEAT

Not for United States Consumption, But for Export Purposes

So far as wheat is concerned, and it is the chief breadstuff that United States would like to get from Canada, our neighbors do not need Canadian wheat for their own consumption. Their chief purpose in getting free wheat from Canada would be to export it through their ports, and to use it for milling purposes, thus benefitting their own courses of transportation. Prices would not be helped in any way, because the United States has a surplus production of wheat that will make that country an exporter of flour and grain for the next hundred years. The following figures show how the volume of wheat production is increasing in the States:—

1908	624,000,000	bushels.
1909	664,000,000	"
1910	737,000,000	"

MANIPULATED BY TRUSTS

How Producers in the United States Lose the Toll From Consumers

The American market into which the Canadian farmer is to be invited to try his luck is in no need of Canadian produce. The United States, with its great range of territory and its climate, produces a vast surplus of all kinds of agricultural products, and these products are manipulated by the food-distributing trusts to the disadvantage of many of the producers. Go up and down this country in which the New England farmers ought to find a profitable market, and what do you find? You find the cold storage plants of the Chicago packing houses and of the fruit and dairy trusts, taking the toll that the farmers ought to get from the breakfast and dinner tables of the great army of consumers. Here are some of the prices of farms actually on offer at this moment in the New England States. In the township of Bethel, Windsor County, Vermont,—a farm of 45 acres, $700; another of 90 acres, $1,300; another of 369 acres, $2,600. In the township of Brattleboro, Vt., 190 acres, $1,000; 100 acres, $800; at Chester Depot, Rutland County, 195 acres, $2,000; another of 280 acres for $2,500; another of 250 acres for $1,600; another of 225 acres, for $1,300; another of 130 acres, for $2,000.

In New Hampshire, in the township of Tilton, is a farm of 500 acres for $4,400; 150 acres for $2,900; in Peterborough, N.H., 175 acres, for $2,900; and so one might go on. These prices are not exceptional. There are many hundreds of farms at such prices—farms on which there are good buildings, and on which, in some cases, even stock and implements are thrown in gratis. Moreover, these are not the cash prices; in all the instances quoted a small cash price and the rest on easy terms will suffice. Even at such prices purchasers cannot be found, and farm after farm is abandoned.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF CURES CHOLERA INFANTUM

This complaint is chiefly confined to infants between the ages of six and twenty months, and occurs mostly in summer. Outward applications of the Relief to the region where the pain prevails, and doses of from 5 to 10 drops diluted with honey and water, given inwardly, will procure most beneficial results. The purging being checked and the pain alleviated, half a Regulating Pill, in molasses or preserves may be given to produce a healthy evacuation and tone the bowels.

ALLEGED VIRGINIA WIFE MURDERER TELLS COUSIN HE IS GUILTY

Audience Startled When Paul Beattie Says Henry Admitted That He Killed His Wife.—"I Wish I had Not Done It," Are the Words Witness Swears Prisoner Used After Murder.

CHESTERFIELD COURTHOUSE, Va., Aug. 29—Paul D. Beattie, cousin of Henry Clay Beattie, jr., on trial charged with wife murder, declared on the witness stand to-day that the defendant told him 24 hours after the murder that he was sorry he had done it.

The witness did not mention this alleged confession at the coroner's inquest, where he was one of the principal witnesses; nor had anyone, except the prosecutor's staff, known anything about it until, dramatically and unexpectedly, it was disclosed by the witness to-day.

The testimony gained dramatic effect because it came as a climax to the unexpected appearance in the witness stand an hour before of Mrs. R. V. Owen, mother of the slain woman, who had told a pathetic tale of her daughter's unhappy life, due, she declared, to her husband's physical ailments.

Paul Beattie, his lips quivering and his eyes full of tears, declared that he had held back the story when he appeared at the coroner's inquest because "I hated to testify against my own flesh and blood."

"My wife, my child, and the duty I owe my city forced me to tell it," he said.

Audience Startled.

There was an audible, simultaneous gasp from the spectators in the stuffy courtroom as the witness made his startling declaration. It was followed by an uncanny silence, while Paul Beattie continued:

"Henry had told me that he wanted me to stick by him, but I said to him: 'This looks mighty black to me and you've got me into a lot of trouble.' Henry told me: 'I wish to God I had not done it. I would not have done it for $1,000,000, but she never loved me; she only married me for my money.'"

Many an eye was focused on Henry Clay Beattie, jr., as well as Henry Clay Beattie, sr., as Paul Beattie poured forth his conscience. The gray-haired father of the prisoner sat with lips pressed tightly over clenched teeth, often shielding his features from view by a palm-leaf fan. Beside him the prisoner fidgeted uneasily, perspiration on his brow and an alternating flush of blood on his thin face. He buried his fingers in a crumpled handkerchief, held it occasionally to his mouth and bit it.

Paul Beattie appeared to grow stronger as he rid himself of his story and when he had come to the alleged confession of the prisoner, he paused and his plaintive tone sank lower. Stillness prevailed in the room as his next words were awaited, but he said no more, and, bracing himself in his chair, turned his sharp chin toward the bench, where the prisoner and counsel sat and looked fixedly at the latter in preparation for the cross-examination.

Cross-Examination Opens.

H. M. Smith, jr., for the defence, jumped to his feet. He waved a thick book of typewritten testimony in the face of the witness and almost shouted as he asked him why he had not, in his entire 55 pages of testimony at the coroner's inquest, given the slightest intimation that Henry C. Beattie, jr., had ever said to him, "I wish to God I had not done it."

"You were under oath then to tell the whole truth," he cried, as he leaned over the bench and pointed at the witness, "Why did you not do it?"

The witness said he was in bad physical condition at the time, that he hardly knew what he was saying then, or that he could not remember being asked anything concerning his knowledge of Beattie's alleged confession.

He practically declared that he had said at the coroner's inquest that those 55 pages of testimony were not all that he knew about the case, but that his mind was so confused he could not decide whether he should tell the single thing that almost leaped from his lips at that time.

Decides to Tell Truth.

When his mental condition was better, the witness said, he told Wendenburg, the prosecuting attorney, his mind's burden. He had previously told it only to his wife. He added that the real reason why he had not made the admission at the coroner's inquest was that he had tried to keep the thing back as long as he could. Finally, he had determined in spite of the damage it might have on his own kinsman, to tell the truth.

"But did you not damage your kinsman enough?" asked Mr. Smith, "when you told about the purchase of the gun?"

"Yes, but I was in bad physical condition then and hardly knew what I was saying," was the reply.

W. B. Kidd, of Richmond, a hardware merchant, testified that Paul Beattie on the afternoon of July 15 bought three shells from him. The shell was produced which W. [illegible] Brown has testified he found several yards from the scene of the murder. Kidd identified the shell as similar to the three bought by Paul Beattie.

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 31.—The prosecution rested its case at noon yesterday against H. C. Beattie, jr., under indictment for the murder of his wife, and the defence began the introduction of its witnesses.

The prosecution produced fourteen witnesses yesterday, mostly county detectives, to controvert the testimony of young Alex. Robertson as to the presence of more than one blood spot on the Midlothian turnpike where Mrs. Beattie was killed.

The state had contended that the big blood spot where the murder occurred was not caused by dripping from the machine in which the husband alleged his wife was seated when shot, declaring that no blood whatever could have ozed through the bottom of the car and the grease drip pan beneath.

The defence announced early in the day that it would call Paul Beattie to the stand again.

NEW DESTROYERS

The British Programme Authorizes the Contaruction of Twelve Destroyers

It is announced from the British Admiralty that orders have been placed for twelve torpedo-boat destroyers. The shipbuilding programme of the present year authorizes the construction of twenty destroyers, and it is understood that some of these will be of a new type with a speed of thirty-three knots an hour. In recent years vessels have been built for only twenty-seven to twenty-nine knots, but in view of the speed now being obtained by foreign destroyers, it has been decided to construct swifter craft for the British Navy, without discarding the present very heavy armament, which includes a couple of four-inch guns.

AN ENERGETIC REPORTER

Jumped Into the Seine to Interview a Winning Swimmer

People have been interviewed in the strangest ways and in the strangest places. The climax, perhaps, has been reached by the reporter of a Parisian paper. He plunged into the Seine after his victim and interviewed her while swimming. The reporters prey was Juliette Cure, the plucky little girl of 12, who swam against the champions of the world, and finished fourth. When it was known that, with an allowance of some 1,500 yards, the little girl had plunged into the Seine at the Pont d'Austerlitz at the same time as Ooms, Maas, and the other champions started at Ivry, all eyes were turned towards Juliette Cure. A reporter could not help plunging in after her as she reached the Pont Royal. He swam up to her side. There was no time to present a card. Just one word, anything she said then and there would do for an interview. She was too busy striking out with her hands and feet. The reporter insisted. "Surely you must feel tired," he said. "No," was the curt reply. "I am going to finish." That was all he could obtain for his trouble, but it was enough. He had scored a point over his colleagues.

AEROPLANE AND SUBMARINE

Experiments Show that Torpedo Boat is No Match for Flying Machine

The aviator Aubrun, flying in a Duper Dussi monoplane, carried out some interesting experiments outside Cherbourg Harbor. The naval authorities sent out two submarines for some distance, and then asked Aubrun to try and find them. The aeroplane, at a height of 400 feet, discovered, within a few minutes, both submarines, which were over a mile and a half apart. It then returned to the harbor and prepared for a further test—to discover the submarines while submerged and going at a high rate of speed. Aubrun rose at once to a height of 1,200 feet, and, after a short observation, he found the periscope of one submarine which was at a depth of about 18 feet. This second flight occupied 20 minutes. Further similar experiments are shortly to take place. It has now been demonstrated that from a height of about 3,500 feet it is possible to discover a submerged submarine, and that a submarine, with the aid of its periscope, cannot sight an aeroplane when the latter is flying higher than 1,500 feet.

X-Rays and Consumption

Every year medical science discovers a new use for the X-Rays. In the early detection of the presence of consumption in the human body and the location of the exact position of the disease the X-Rays are now considered indispensable in the London hospitals. Before the sounds obtained by tapping on the lungs, listening through the stetroscope, and even the wonderful tuberculin test can prove the presence of the tubercule bacillus, the X-Rays, says a London medical authority, can warn the examining physician of the undermining process which is going on deep in the lungs. So accurate have been the results obtained by this method that a careful X-Ray examination of the chest is now the routine treatment for all new lung cases, and in the London hospitals alone over a thousand consumptive patients have been examined by this means. Thus in cases where the disease is only suspected its presence or absence can be readily ascertained, and presumably also this examination will enable the physician to form an opinion as to whether the progress of the disease has been arrested.

They Love Each Other

Booth Tarkington was talking in Indianapolis about the stage. "There were two actresses in an early play of mine," he said, "both very beautiful; but the leading actress was thin. She quarreled one day at rehearsal with the other lady, and she ended the quarrel by saying haughtily: 'Remember, please, that I am the star.' 'Yes, I know you're the star,' the other retorted, eyeing with an amused smile the leading actress's long, slim figure; 'but you'd look better, my dear, if you were a little meteor.'"

Ancient Greek and Automobile.

"How many people owning or driving automobiles realize how much the magneto of to-day owes to the ancient Greeks," said Charles Splitdorf in a recent interview. "The name magnet as we know it in conjunction with the magneto dates back to the 11th century coming from the Greek Shepard Magnes, who tending his sheep on the sides of Mount Ida, often noticed the attraction of his iron staff to certain large stones which we of the 20th century and drivers of automobiles know as lodostones. "Thus from Magnes the Greek and the 11th century comes magnet and magneto, known to every autoist of the 20th century."

Not Up To Date.

Sir Patrick Spens, London surgeon, praised at a dinner in New York the abundant and timely reading matter that American physicians have in their waiting-rooms. "The English physician offers his patients reading matter, but I am afraid it isn't always up to date." Sir Patrick smiled. "One of your American millionaires consulted me in Harley Street last month. He was kept waiting about an hour. When he finally entered my inner office he looked very much bored. 'I see by your papers, doctor,' he said with a yawn, 'that it is rumored that two Dayton men, Orville and Wilbur Wright, can actually fly.'"

Why Not Let Him Grumble?

There is one privilege, which men will cling to long after they have given women the right to vote, and that is their own inalienable, natural born right to grumble. The man who doesn't grumble has something radically wrong with him, observed a careful student of the trousered species. Women are always miserable with their grievances, but men are blissfully contented over them. Give a man a good, sound grievance and a comfortable chair in which to air it, and no one need fear the distinction of clubs or other male loafing places.

Is it proper, by the way, to say to an unpopular monarch: "Get in out of the rain?"

PUGET SOUND TRADE

Customs Report Shows Record Imports for Past Fiscal Year — Trade With Canada.

The customs business of the collection district of Puget Sound for the fiscal year ending June 30, broke all previous records for imports, which reached a total of $36,654,676, according to the report of the collector of customs.

The exports amounted to $39,135,571. The imports show a gain over the previous year of $7,774,184, and the exports a gain of nearly $10,000,000. More than half of the exports were received at Seattle, and a third of the exports of the district, which consists of 18 shipping points, went from here.

Of the imports, $25,836,424 came from Japan, while the exports to that country amounted to $9,783,000, leaving a balance in favor of Japan of $16,053,000. During the year, British Columbia was the best patron of the district, it having purchased goods valued at $12,406,190. Imports from British Columbia reached $4,819,219. The exports to British Columbia were the largest in the history of the district, being an increase of more than $4,000,00 over any other year. The imports from the Canadian province, however, showed a decrease of $1,000,000.

Alaska is an important factor in the business of Puget Sound, as shown by the report of the collector of customs. During the year the district shipped north goods valued at $12,000,000. Hawaii is credited with $3,561,000.

The collections in this district from all sources during the year amounted to $1,752,163.

Motorcycle Touring.

Long distance travelling by motorcycle is attracting wide attention of late, several trips around the world having been announced, as well as numerous tours of more than one thousand miles. Three young men of Philadelphia — Lewis Stern, Julius Stern and Adam Gimball — are now making a 3,000-mile trip through Europe, to cover two months' time. Frank Troller, of San Francisco, is traveling around the world on a motorcycle. Carl and Anchor Sorenson, of Racine, Wis., have just completed a 3,000-mile ride through the west; and Captain Volney E. Davis, of the San Francisco Motorcycle club, has just reached New York, having established a new transcontinental record by riding from ocast to coast in twenty days. A Newark bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward MacDougall, are now enjoying a honeymoon astride a motorcycle; and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Preparing Calgary Immigration Hall Plans at Ottawa.

The official announcement has come from Ottawa that plans for the new $35,000 immigration hall for Calgary are being prepared, and that the excavations and construction of the building will be started without delay. The new building will be ercted on First street west, opposite the present immigration hall, and will accommodate over 100 persons. It will supply a much-needed want, as with the big rush of immigration that is morally certain to take place next year There will be plenty of families in need of cheap lodging and even where possessed of savings not in a position to pay, say, $2 a-piece at the hotels, while to board at the restaurants would, in their cases, be equally imprudent, financially. And these, of course, are a class of people that Alberta desires to encourage in every way, so that it is pleasing to announce that by next spring, according to government promises, there should be an immigration hall that will be a credit to this city, and that will give population elements of the province cheering first impresions of Calgary.

GREENLEAF & SON

In The Name of Charity.

Nearly all the giddy youth of the neighborhood attended the charity bazaar, and one by one they drifted to a stall where a tiny, shapely, scented, gray kid glove reposed on a satin cushion. Attached to the cushion was a notice written in a delicate feminine hand, which ran:

"The owner of this glove will, at 7:30 this evening, be pleased to kiss any person who purchases a twenty-five cent ticket beforehand."

Tickets were purchased by the score, and at 7:30 a long row of sheepish not to say doggish, young bloods, assembled outside the stall. Then, punctual to the moment, old Tom Porson, the local pork-butcher, who weighs two hundred and twenty pounds, and is almost as beautiful as a side of bacon, stepped to the front of the stall.

"Now, young gents," he said, in his best "Buy, buy, buy," tones, "this 'ere glove belongs to me. I bought it this morning. Now, I'm ready for you. Come on! Don't be bashful! One at a time!"

But nobody came on.

BRITISH PREFERENCE IS HIT

On Five and a Half Million Dollars Worth of Goods Imported from Great Britain, the Agreement Hurts the Preference

By JOHN V. BORNE.

"Statistics be hanged," suggested the Finance Minister when asked inconvenient questions as to which side was better fortified by facts and figures during the Washington negotiations.

There is no evidence, therefore, as to how far the immediate effect of the Agreement on the British Preference, to say nothing of its ultimate effect, was considered at Washington. But, in the light of Mr. McCall's prophecy as to what might happen to Canadian-British relations, it is doubly remarkable that the British Preference was interfered with; and that the information on this question had to be furnished Canadians by the English Tariff Commission, in a document that gives more lucid information than anything issued by the Dominion Government.

The Preference has been wiped out on goods of which Canada in 1909-10 bought $3,340,000 worth from Britain. Of these imports, four lines, representing $2,615,000, came from the United Kingdom; so that a strong incentive is furnished the United States to try to drive the British manufacturer out of Canada's market.

On imports amounting to $2,195,000 the margin of British Preference has been reduced, the percentage of reductions varying from 2½ to 7½ per cent.

To interfere with the preference on between five and six million dollars' worth of British imports, without any inkling being given that this was the way in which the British Preference was being treated, was an exceedingly clever way of beginning the process of breaking Canada away from the channels of trade leading to and from the United Kingdom, which was openly avowed immediately the provisions of Agreement were announced, by statesmen, railway magnates and publicists, all over the United States.

There was another effect of the negotiations that peculiarly accords with the expectations of Mr. McCall—the advantages given the United States over Great Britain are also enjoyed by twelve other countries.

Besides, there is a discrimination against Great Britain in the United States, for none of the advantages given to Canada apply to the Mother Country.

TWELVE FAVORED NATIONS

Canada Extends to Them Tariff Advantages Which Are Not Enjoyed by Great Britain

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The twelve countries which under the Reciprocity Agreement are to enjoy precedence over the Mother Country, are Argentine Republic, Austria-Hungary, Bolivia, Colombia, Denmark, Japan, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

France also participates in certain classes of goods.

Countries like Bolivia and Colombia are not likely seriously to affect Canadian trade; but, the possibilities of letting down the bars to Argentina and Denmark, for instance, are considerable.

The Argentine Republic sends more wheat to the United Kingdom than Canada does. It is produced under conditions which offset its softer quality than the prairie-grown wheat.

Labor in the Argentine is very cheap.

Most of the Argentine wheat is grown near the seaboard, and its transportation is, therefore, very cheap. The best Canadian wheat is grown so far from the seaboard, and the cost of carrying it to the ships is considerable.

Argentine wheat can be dumped at a Canadian port at a cost of 5 2-3c. per bushel for freight, against a cost of 16c. per bushel for haulage from Western Canada to the Atlantic Coast.

Now, 50 per cent. of Canadian wheat is consumed in Canada. Whoever will benefit by free wheat from Argentina, the Canadian farmer will not. This is one of the branches of trade to which "Let well enough alone" most forcefully applies.

Denmark is a great butter and bacon exporting country. Intensive farming has been carried to perfection there, and labor is abundant. The Danes can make money on prices which would enable them to invade the Montreal and Eastern Canada market. Whoever would benefit from an influx of this kind, the Canadian farmer would not.

"BETTER ORGANIZED INDUSTRIES"

Free Trade in Canada for Them, Asked by President Taft, Means Trust Domination

By JOHN V. BORNE.

The United States needs reciprocity because their manufacturers are looking for foreign markets. President Taft, commending the agreement to the citizens of Atlanta, said Canada refused to grant "free trade in everything" because "she was afraid of our better organized industries."

"Better organized industries" means two things—first, they manufacture on a larger scale because they have a larger market; second, they aim to control markets which they should only serve. "Better organized industries" means "trusts and combines."

The American manufacturer is always after control. He doesn't mind how he gets it. He has great difficulty in obtaining markets across the seas. His own market is easy. The Canadian market would be easy, too, if free trade could be made to apply to it, as it does to the inter-state market.

Years ago the Atlantic seaboard was supplied with salt by England, where there are immense deposits a few miles from the coast. The United States salt manufacturers got together and slaughtered prices in the seaboard territory until the British shippers were driven from the ground. Then prices went up, for competition was killed. The thing has happened a thousand times since, in other lines of business.

There are unsupported assertions of "combine" influence in Canada. The Government assures us that there is ample and effective legislation against them—which is proof of the wisdom of retaining our commercial independence. Any trust evil must invade Canada from the United States.

The Canadian market is, on the whole, the best that the United States has—it is third in amount, and first in convenience of access. It is even better than the figures would seem to indicate—for it has furnished employment for vast sums of United States capital, thanks to the National Policy.

Three hundred million dollars of American money is known to be invested in branch factories in Canada, the conditions in which are under Canadian control.

The road which, avowedly, is to lead to Free Trade, is also the road to control of Canadian factories and Canadian prices by the American trusts.

Unless a man is alive to his opportunity he is a dead one.

There are times when a silent witness is an unspeakable nuisance.

PRIED OPEN THE DOOR

President and Secretary Knox Agree That Important Concessions Have Been Made to United States Manufacturers

By JOHN V. BORNE.

But it is objected that the Agreement does not affect manufactured goods, except to a negligible extent. President Taft does not think so. Secretary Knox does not think so. Shrewd-minded newspapers of the front rank, like The Minneapolis Journal, which sits at the gate of the Western Canadian market, do not think so.

It is an erroneous idea that Mr. Fielding and Mr. Paterson went to Washington with adamant faces that silenced the United States negotiators immediately "Free manufactures" was said. The President's message tells a story that is born out by Secretary Knox.

The President said:—

> The policy of encouraging the development of home industries by protective duties within reasonable limits has made it difficult to extend the principle of reciprocal rates to many manufactured commodities, but after much negotiation and effort we have succeeded in doing so in various and important instances. That the opening of the timber resources of the Dominion to our needs, that the addition to the supply of raw materials, will be limited to no particular section does not require demonstration.

And Mr. Knox at Chicago:—

> Some of the greatest of our manufacturing industries, employing large numbers of workmen, for which the growing Canadian market offers opportunities, are located in the middle West. We obtained very material reductions of duty on all classes of agricultural implements. We secured important concessions for the rapidly developing motor vehicle industry. We obtain remissions of duty which will benefit numerous other industries.

And The Minneapolis Journal:—

> This is an agreement between two countries on which a future policy is to rest. The principle of give and take must first be established before the next step can be taken. The next step will be the removal of duties on manufactured products. Why should that barrier exist any more than one between Minnesota and Dakota?

COMMERCE AND NATIONALITY

The Allegiance of the Newcomer Necessarily Grows Out of His Material Prosperity

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Some friends of Reciprocity ask "What has business got to do with Nationality? How can loyalty be a mere question of potatoes and hay?"

They really seem to think that they have disposed of modern Canadian history with two questions like these.

Business has everything to do with the sense of Nationality. What is the first thing that causes the immigrant to be willing to take the oath of allegiance? His business prosperity. The United States has developed a virile national sentiment by allying business and patriotism.

That is right, for a country that is good enough to flourish in is good enough to give your heart to. But, if lines of trade were cultivated so as to make a man feel that his business is dependent on a strange power, just across the border, he will weaken in his regard for the land in which he lives, and will want to be a part of the land which dominates his business interest.

A nation is strong with its own people just so far as it has an individuality that appeals to the instincts which are expressed in the management of public affairs—if you like, in public property.

Why, for instance, should a province spend a million dollars on a legislative building, when six hundred thousand dollars would secure just as much floor space without costly frescoes and façades? Why shouldn't that building be like any other building with a big board room in it? Why should it be in a park, and get a sort of semi-religious atmosphere about it?

Because every citizen, however humble, likes to feel that he is part of a great big organism that makes history; that levies taxes, that moves with all the attributes of power. That confers honor where honor is deserved. That is the immemorial sign of nationhood. It is the spirit which brought forth the boast, "Civis Romanus Sum,"—I am a Roman citizen. It is what has made Canada.

Clear the way to the tall timbers, the Continentalists are driven there.

TWENTY-FIVE

THE TARIFF SAVED CANADA

Without It the Country Must Have Become an Outer Fringe of the Republic

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Canada was compelled to climb painfully into nationhood against three almost overwhelming disadvantages, all of them closely concerned with the United States.

She was handicapped by climate conditions.

She had few people.

She lost population to the United States.

In early days, the more rigorous winter made settlement on the land more difficult, and prevented Canadians reaching the sea for nearly half the year, except through the United States. The whole country was looked upon as a sort of backyard to the United States. It would still be so regarded but for the combined influence of the boundary line, and the tariff which the United States was the first to build upon.

It was the tariff that enabled Canada to turn the disadvantage of her climate into a glorious asset.

If a tariff had not been raised against United States manufactures, those goods would have poured across the border and prevented the growth of industrial cities and towns in Canada. In everything Canada would have been to the United States as the northern parts of Canada are to the rest of the Dominion. What are now her great cities would have been small provincial towns, tributary in the great affairs of business to the manufacturing cities of the United States, which would control the Canadian market for manufactured goods.

And if, in business, Canada had been a tributary, a mere feeder of the United States, pride in her destiny would have languished and few would have gloried in her citizenship; her sons and daughters would have been driven southward, and the feeling that she was an outer fringe of a vast, populous, imposing Republic, to whom she must look for finer sustenances of life and for careers for her children, would have borne its logical fruit.

Without the tariff the southward tide could not have been stayed.

POINTS ABOUT THE DEAL.

KEEP EAST AND WEST TRADE

Routes on Which Millions Have Been Spent are to Canada What the Nile is to Egypt

By JOHN V. BORNE.

Nobody supposes that north and south trade should cease. But there is all the difference between that and encouraging it to be the dominant feature of Canadian commercial life, to the injury of east and west channels which are of the very essence of our nation-building.

To understand the vital significance of the north and south diversion you have only to consider what the position would have been if no Canadian railways had been built around the north shore of Lake Superior to the Western Provinces.

What are now the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta would have been settled entirely from the South; all the trade would have been across the border. All the railways would have been built in from Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana. Members of Parliament and all persons transacting public business would have been compelled to travel for hundreds of miles through a foreign land to reach the capital of their own country.

Obviously, whatever the geographical name of Western Canada, that vast immeasurably rich territory would have become so identified with the United States that even the severest free trader would have admitted that nationality and trade are very much intertwined.

If United States railroads had begun numerously to cross the western borders, and there had been no Canadian railway in sight, a cry would have arisen for an east and west railway across Canada, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prayer would have been anticipated: "Heaven grant that it may not be too late."

There would have been no metropolitan city in Western Canada any more than there would have been a Toronto or a Hamilton in Eastern Canada.

Whatever aspect of Canadian growth you investigate, you reach the clearest proof that east and west trade routes are to Canada what the Nile is to Egypt.

NOT OUR SALES AGENT

Canadians Must Not Allow Uncle Sam to Sell for Them

If Canada were to go into the Knox-Fielding pact, the commercial merger thus formed would take the name of the larger member.

The name and style on the continental signboard—and eventually on the Continental map—would be the United States, and the general trade mark would be the Stars and Stripes.

Our No. 1 hard wheat, our prime Canadian chees, our superior bacon, our unequalled fruits—all the staple articles by which our producers have spread the name and fame of Canada, would be mingled with the products of the United States, and would bear the national label of that country.

Canada's individuality, now so strongly marked in so many paints with great benefit to the country, would be lost in the Continental mass.

No one who has given the matter any thought need be told how vast would be the loss of this country's reputation as a producer of various staple products.

Years of patient statesmanship and decades of painstaking care on the part of our producers were necessary to build up the Canadian brand in the world's great consuming markets.

Are we to give up the fruits of this development and turn over to the United States the business of selling and buying for us?

We have become a trading nation on our own account, and we will not make the United States th ecommission merchant, broker, or middleman between us and any other country,

A LEGEND OF OLD QUEBEC

The Chien D'or

On the Rue Buade, a street commemorative of the gallant Frontenac — says Kirby, in his "Romance of the Days of Louis Quinze in Quebec" — stood the large imposing edifice newly built by the Bourgeois Philibert, as the people of the colony fondly called Nicholas Jaquin Philibert, the great and wealthy merchant of Quebec, and their champion against the odious monopolies of the Grand Company, favored by the Intendant. The edifice was of stone, spacious and lofty; it comprised the city residence of the Bourgeois, as well as suites of offices and ware-rooms connected with his immense business. On its façade, blazing in the sun, was the gilded sculpture that so much piqued the curiosity of every seigniory in the land. The tablet of the Chien d'Or — the Golden Dog — with its enigmatical inscription, looked down defiantly upon the busy street beneath, where it is still to be seen, perplexing the beholder to guess its meaning, and exciting our deepest sympathies over the tragedy of which it remains the sole, sad memorial.

Above and beneath the figure of a couchant dog, gnawing the thigh bone of a man is graven the weird inscription, cut deeply in the stone, as if for all future generations to read and ponder over its meaning.—

Je suis un chien qui ronge l'os,
En le rongeant je prends mon repos;
Un temps viendra qui n'est pas venu,
Que je mordrai oui m'aura mordu.
1736.

Or in English,—

I am a dog that gnaws a bone.
I cou[illegible] gnaw it all alone;
A tim[illegible] come, which is not yet,
When I [illegible] bite him by whom I'm bit.
1736.

170 New Towns in Canada

It seem to be pretty well assured now that by the end of the year there will be at least one hundred and seventy new towns in Canada, not taking into account those which come into existence gradually and in the natural course of evolution from clusters of houses into hamlets, and then into towns. These new towns will all be in the west. They will spring into being, with all modern improvements, — a small railway station, a mile or so of siding, with vast fertile lands about them, as their assets for the future.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will be responsible for fifty of them, the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific for the remainder. It is a fair supposition that all of them will prove permanent, because of the fostering care of the railways, and that most of them will prosper because the time has come for towns to succeed farms at selected locations on the prairies, and the railways are in a better position to do the selecting that any other instrumentality, except land companies.

MET IN JOINT DEBATE

Conservative Speakers Score a Victory at Eganville.

Hon. I. B. Lucas, T. W. McGarry, M.P.P., and Dr. Maloney Make Telling Points in Joint Meeting With Sir Alan Aylesworth, Hugh Guthrie and T. A. Low—Talked For Three Hours.

Eganville, Ont., Aug. 31.—Five thousand people stood for almost three hours under the glaring sun yesterday to hear the big debate on reciprocity between Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Hugh Guthrie and T. A. Low on the Liberal side, and Hon. I. B. Lucas, M.P.P., T. W. McGarry, M.P.P., and Dr. Maloney of Eganville, for the Conservatives. T. W. Crothers, M.P., who was to have been the chief speaker on the Conservative side, was unable to attend, but his place was filled by Mr. McGarry, whose trenchant and masterly criticism of the reciprocity pact, from an economic standpoint, in reply to Hugh Guthrie, was perhaps the biggest feature of the day.

The meeting, which was easily the largest ever held in the county of Renfrew, was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner and the speakers of both sides were given respectful and attentive hearing.

Sir Alan Aylesworth was the first speaker. He refrained from discussing the pact from a purely economic standpoint and criticized R. L. Borden and the Conservative party for what he termed "their shameful departure from the principles of the Conservative leaders and party since confederation."

He quoted extracts from Sir John A. Macdonald's speeches to show that he was in favor of a reciprocity agreement similar to that which the Liberal Government had secured, and which in fact had been the expressed desire and policy of every Canadian statesman since the abrogation of the Elgin treaty in 1866. He charged that the Conservatives were left without a policy or argument and were falling back upon the old refuge of waving the Union Jack, and contemptuously referred to the annexation cry as being unworthy of argument.

He attacked what he termed the "Bourassa - Sifton - Borden alliance" and declared that these men were incapable of government ,as they were divided upon every question but one. Their only united policy was "anything to beat Laurier."

Hon. Mr. Lucas followed for the Conservatives. Taking up the question from the standpoint of the farmer, he advanced a host of arguments and statistics, to show that the market of ninety millions could not possibly mean higher prices for practically everything which they had to sell was raised and exported by the farmers in the United States. He also declared that the price for farm products across the border was lower than in Canada, and challenged his opponents to explain why it was that the Canadian farmer to-day, with his British market, was more prosperous than his neighbor to the south of him who had the privileges of the markets of the United States.

Hugh Guthrie then followed and declared that the only persons in Canada opposed to reciprocity were the privileged classes and the manufacturers of Ontario. He also made a bitter attack on the pork-packing industries of Toronto.

T. W. McGarry, M.P.P., declared that the agreement was entered into by the Laurier Government solely to cloud over other issues and scandals which were creeping up, but that while the people should vote against reciprocity they should also bear in mind "the other scandals and dishonest administration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

Three Engineers Drowned.

Port Arthur, Aug. 31.—An upturned canoe found on Lake Helen, above Lake Nepigon, following their non-arrival at Nepigon Station as expected, indicates the drowning of Division Engineer R. H. McCoy and Resident Engineers C. H. Nelson and Drum of C.N.R. construction staff. The men left camp at Exander Sunday evening for Nepigon, telephoning to Nepigon that they were departing. Their route lay across Lake Helen, between their camp and Nepigon River, and when they did not arrive search was made, resulting in the finding on Tuesday on the shores of Lake Helen of the upturned canoe and floating paddles. McCoy is 48, married, and comes from the Western States. Drum and Nelson, also Americans, have unknown residences.

At Least Fifteen Dead.

Charleston, S.C., Aug. 31.—Conditions in Charleston are fast becoming normal.

Thousands of men are at work clearing away the wreckage of the hurricane.

Revised estimates of the damage here indicate more than a million dollars.

Fifteen persons are known to have perished and it is feared that reports from the exposed sea island will swell the death lists and the property loss.

Annual Barbecue.

St. Catharines, Aug. 31.—Montebello Park swarmed with picnickers yesterday, when the annual barbecue of the St. Catharines' Butchers' Association, was held. After speeches by Dr. Jessop, M.P.P., and E. J. Lovelace, Liberal candidate in the Dominion elections, 1,500 pounds of prime beef and 500 loaves of bread were distributed to the hungry crowd. Races were held in the afternoon and a band concert and fireworks in the evening.

For President of Mexico

Mexico City, Aug. 31.—Francisco I. Madero was nominated for the Presidency by the constitutional progressive party in convention here yesterday evening.

LAURIER AT HALIFAX.

The Premier and Hon. Mr. Fielding Held a Rally.

Halifax, Aug. 31.—Halifax people turned out well last night to hear Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. S. Fielding, and they filled the arena, which has a seating accommodation of 7,000.

Sir Wilfrid argued that the reciprocity policy of the Government was simply that of the Conservatives under their leaders of some twenty-five years ago. He could not understand the opposition of the present Conservative party.

It could not be because of the manufacturers, for the agreement must be for the benefit of the industrial classes as well as for the farmers and fishermen. He believed that the reason for the opinion was the unholy alliance between the Nationalists of Quebec and the British imperials.

"Unless I am greatly misinformed," continued Sir Wilfrid, "the reason for the present campaign was the consummation of an unholy alliance between the Quebec Nationalists and the Tory Imperialists. It was not the reciprocity question that caused them to institute their obstruction; it was the conviction of the present Tory leaders that by closing a secret and unworthy alliance with the Nationalists they could avail themselves of 'anything to beat Laurier.' This was the real inspiration that led those who control the Conservative party to-day to become opportunists of the worst kind in the desperate hope of wrenching an uprighteous victory from the present Administration."

Sir Wilfrid's Itinerary.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Following is Sir Wilfrid Laurier's itinerary for the week after next in the Province of Quebec, announced yesterday morning:

Monday—Victoriaville, evening.

Tuesday—In the afternoon at Beauce Junction, and in the evening at Thetford Mines.

Wednesday—Montmagny, 2 p.m.

Thursday—Quebec, for the English-speaking electors.

Friday—Rimouski, 1 p.m.

Saturday—Grand Mere, evening.

Women Get Prices Down.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The agitation against the high prices of provisions continues and disorders of considerable proportions were reported yesterday from twelve places in northern France.

The usual procedure is for a crowd of women of the lower class to assemble and do their marketing together, carrying large placards upon which are written the prices which the women are willing to pay.

If the shopkeeper assents to sell his goods at the price offered, the women buy; but if he refuses they pitch all of his stock into the street.

The man next door generally yields, though the crowd in its excitement may sack the place out of spite without enquiring whether the dealer is willing to reduce the price of his goods.

Fired Sub Fire Chief.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Sub Fire Chief Martin was officially suspended by the Board of Control yesterday, after an investigation lasting over an hour. An investigation into the charges against Martin will be held next Wednesday at 3 o'clock.

Martin incurred the wrath of Chief Tremblay for an alleged interview given to La Patrie, in which he protested against the system of hiring firemen. He is alleged to have said that bookkeepers and clerks were given positions as firemen in preference to practical men who could handle horses and put out fires, even though their book knowledge was not so extensive.

Hen Gets Two Years.

Chatham, Aug. 31.—Edward Hen, alias Fatty Rowe, was sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary by Judge Dowlin yesterday, on a charge of burglarizing the house of a man named McCugan at Kent Centre. Hen is the man who attacked Constable Peters with a sledge hammer when he went to arrest him.

Wm. Baby, jr., was fined $5 and costs for each offence, on being found guilty of allowing two minors in his poolroom, by Squire Merritt.

E. A. McCrery of Louisville was arrested yesterday on a charge of indecent assault preferred against him by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Weaver.

Would Remove Junction.

Kingston, Aug. 31.—Although it is not officially announced, it is reported that the Grand Trunk intends to move the station of Kingston Junction to Kingston Mills. The company has just purchased the Black and Ravenscroft farms at the Mills and offer to purchase thirty acres of the McAdee farm, close by. Removal would make Kingston the connecting place with the Toronto and Ottawa line via Smith's Falls.

May Not Be Guthrie.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—The Journal, Independent, yesterday, said: "It is learned that the vacant portfolio of Justice has been promised to Mr. A. H. Clarke of South Essex, and not to Mr. Hugh Guthrie, as has been said. It is probable that the mention of Mr. Guthrie has been made in order to help him in his election."

Cotton Mills Close Down.

Warwick, R.I., Aug. 31.—The Warwick Cotton Mills of the B. B. and R. Knight Co. at Centredale, closed last night, for a week. The mill employs 600 operatives. A majority of the mills of the company in this state, Massachusetts and Connecticut, have been running on three-quarters' time for several weeks.

Thrown From His Rig.

Chatham, Aug. 31.—Joseph Brady's horse took fright at a motor cycle on the gravel road yesterday morning and Mr. and Mrs. Brady were thrown from the rig. Mr. Brady suffered a severe sprain to one of his ankles and was badly bruised and cut up. Mrs. Brady was unhurt.

TWO ARE FOUND DEAD

Terrible Tragedy Discovered in the Far North.

Pete Meland Is Found Killed and His Partner, W. S. Elever, Dead From Poison in Lonely Cabin North of Great Slave Lake—Elever, Dying, Slew Friend Because He Was Afraid of Being Murdered.

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—The tragedy of a lonely shack in the far northern wilds of Western Canada is recalled in detail by the arrival in Winnipeg of a letter to Mrs. Mills, wife of Captain J. W. Mills, of the Hudson Bay Co. steamer Mackenzie River, plying between Fort McPherson and Fort Smith. The letter tells the story of a young clerk who when bringing out the mail in the spring, on June 6, found Pete Meland dead with his head crushed and W. S. Elever, the other man's prospecting partner, dead of poison, self-administered, and a confession signed by the latter, telling of the whole tragedy. The scene of the horror is Salt River, about five hundred miles north of Great Slave Lake.

The confession read as follows:

"I have been sick a long time; I am not crazy, but have simply been goaded to death. He (Meland) thought I had more money than I have, and has been trying to finish me. I tried to get him to go after some medicine, but he would not, wishing to have me die. So, good-bye.—W. S. Elever."

A further confession read as follows:—

"I have just killed the man that was killing me, so good-bye, and God bless you all. I am awfully weak and down since the last of March, so there is nothing but death for me. Cruel treatment drove me to kill Pete. Ship everything out and pay George Walker $10.—W.S."

The two bodies were buried together after the inquest, which returned a verdict of murder and suicide. A large stock of fur and the sum of $104 were found in the shack.

New York's Insatiable Thirst.

New York, Aug. 31.—Despite the fact that between 12,000,000,000 and 15,000,000,000 gallons of water have been added to the city's reserve supply by the rains of the past few days, the possibility of a serious shortage is still present, according to Commissioner of Water Supply Thompson. The commissioner said yesterday afternoon that he would appear before the board of estimate and control and advocate the appropriation of $1,200,000 for connecting Ten-Mile River with the present Croton water system.

Menace of Socialism.

Christiania, Aug. 31—The Norwegian press is calling upon the Government to adopt stern measures to prevent the spread of socialism in the army. The Young Socialist party has secured enormous influence over the soldiers, and mutinous scenes are constantly occurring on the drill grounds. Two serious affairs of this kind happened at Stenkjaer and Gardemoen, soldiers storming the cells and liberating comrades whom they considered unjustly imprisoned.

Aviators Sued.

New York, Aug. 31.—Suit for $25,000 damages was filed yesterday by Mary Lynch of Delavin, Wis., against the Wright Co. for injuries sustained Sept. 18, 1910, when she was hit, she says, by an aeroplane driven by the late Archie Hoxsey, at Milwaukee. She claims to have been injured, and asserts that the accident could have been foreseen and provided against.

Dog Saved Six Lives.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—The lives of six people were saved by a dog in a fire early yesterday morning which destroyed the residence of Alex. McDougall, near the Ottawa Golf Club. The barking of the animal, a Boston bull dog, awakened the family just in time to get out of the building in safety though almost suffocated by smoke. The loss is $25,000.

Motor Runs Down Bicyclist.

Kingston, Aug. 31.—Edward Reynolds was struck by a motor car while wheeling home to dinner and seriously injured. The car was owned by Mr. Baldon of Ottawa, his chauffeur being in charge. The wheel was demolished and the car was badly damaged.

"Trimblin' for the Inimy."

A detachment of British soldiers was about to attack a band of rebel Indian tribesmen, who awaited them drawn up in battle order. A seasoned old sergeant noticed a young soldier, fresh from home, visibly affected by the nearness of the coming fight. His face was pale, his teeth chattered, and his knees tried hard to knock each other out. It was sheer nervousness, but the sergeant thought it was downright funk. "Callaghan," he whispered, "is it trimblin' ye are for yer own dirty skin?" "N-no, sergint," replied Callaghan, making a brave attempt to still his shaking limbs, "Oi'm trimblin' for the inimy. They don't know Callaghan's here."

Polly Was a Tell-Tale

All is not paradise aboard ship, first because nobody is armorplate proof against seasickness; old sea captains have been known to succumb to a cross sea in Biscay Bay. There is a malicious story of a captain who brought home a parrot as a gift to a lady friend, who complained that the bird knew nothing but the phrases of the forecastle. The captain promised to bring, on his next voyage, a bird which had never been allowed to go outside his own cabin. Polly, however, proved very reserved, and never said a word, until one day when the lady was giving a lunch party, and the soup was served, there descended from the cage of the bird the agonized remark, "Steward, bring me a basin!"

THE FIRST WORLD EMPIRE

Babylon at one Time Dominated the World.

A correspondent criticizes a statement, contending that Babylon was not the first "world empire." He thinks that Assyria was a prior world empire. We do not know where the critic got this idea of history, unless possibly from Rollins. Later researches put away any posibility of making Assyria a proceeding kingdom or even a universal one.

The facts of history are these: Babylon existed before Assyria. Gen. 10:10. This statement of the Bible puts the matter beyond controversy. History confirms the fact. To quote:

The Babylonians and Assyrians were two very important peoples of remote antiquity, inhabiting the region of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers in Southwestern Asia. The Greeks regarded these peoples as constituting one nation, and called their country Mesopotamia — a name that could properly be applied to only a part of their territory. The Babylonians and Assyrians themselves, on the other hand, regarded each other as alien peoples, through both belonged to the same Semitic stock. The Babylonians were the more ancient, and their territory lay to the south.—"The Historians' History of the History of the World," volume 1, page 318.

It is true that there was a brief period when Assyria conquered Babylon, but this lasted but a very brief period. The Babylonians remained distinct as a people in civilization and religion, and under Nebuchadnezzar soon dominated the world. The Lord never calls Assyria a universal empire; but He did speak thus of Babylon. He rebuked the King of Assyria, and prevented his taking Jerusalem; but He gave over Jerusalem and its people to Babylon. In the language of the Bible and prophecy, Babylon is the first world empire.

ASSOCIATIONS OF CHILDHOOD

We could never have loved the earth so well if we had had no childhood in it — if it were not the earth where the same flowers come up again every spring that we used to gather with our tiny fingers as we sat lisping to ourselves on the grass — the same hips and haws on the autumn hedgerow — the same redbreast that we used to call "God's birds," because they did no harm to the precious crops. What novelty is worth that sweet monotony where everything is known, and loved because it is known?

The wood I walk in on this mild day, with the yellow-brown foliage of the oaks between me and the blue sky, the white star-flowers and the blue-eyed speedwell and the ground ivy at my feet — what grove of tropic palms, what strange ferns or splendid broadpetalled blossoms, could ever thrill such deep and delicate fibres within me as this home scene? These familiar flowers, these well-remembered bird-notes, this sky, with its fitful brightness, these furrowed and grassy fields, each with a sort of personality given to it by the capricious hedgerows — such things as these are the mother tongue of our imagination, the language that is laden with all the subtle inextricable associations the fleeting hours of our childhood left behind them. Our delight in the sunshine on the deep-bladed grass to-day, might be no more than the faint perception of wearied souls, if it were not for the sunshine and the grass in the far-off years which still live in us, and transform our perception into love.

Objects of Pity.

It is an undiscerning sympathy that reaches only to ills that are felt and confessed. We every day meet men with laughter on their lips, and unclouded brows, who are very nearly the greatest claimants of pity. Pity him who laughs but never thinks. Pity the men and women who fritter away the days in busy idleness, calling it society, when they might read a book. Pity those who, without evil intent, are making great mistakes, who live as though life had no purpose or end, who gratify a present desire unmindful of future pain. Pity parents who have not learned how to rear and train their children; pity the children so reared as that, they go unto life with undermined health and weakened nerves prematurely weaned of society, lawless in their dispositions, rude and inconsiderate in their manners, stamped with the impress of chance associations and unregulated pleasures. No, it is not pain that is to be pitied so much as mistake, not conscious sufferings but courses that breed future suffering.

Where Thackeray Studied.

The lover of Thackeray who makes a pilgrimage to the temple must not confine his attention to Brick court, for that was only one of the novelist's temple homes. In 1831, when Thackeray became a member of the temple, he commenced his studies at 1 Hare court, by reading with William Taprell, and in 1848, when he was finally called to the bar he took chambers in Crown Office row, sharing them, it is said, with Thomas Taylor, of Punch. His Crown Office row chambers have disappeared, but Hare court, in which a disastrous fire was once extinguished with beer because the Thames water was frozen, still stands.

Noble Living.

We live by admiration, hope, and love, Wordsworth tells us—not, therefore, by contempt, despondency, and hatred. These contract and narrow the soul, as the others enlarge it. The more a man heartily admires, the more he takes into his nature the goodness and beauty which excite his admiration. His being grows up toward what thus evokes his enthusiasm. And the habit of admiration is the outcome of a moral discipline which represses peevish and fault-finding dispositions, and seeks the admirable in every situation and every person that life brings to us. "Be ye enlarged" implies "learn to admire and to praise."

WERE POLICE BRUTAL?

Dead Man's Family Say He Was Mishandled.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Brutal treatment on the part of the police in the case of Alphonse La Berge, who was brought to the Notre Dame Hospital on Tuesday from No. 3 station in an unconscious condition, and who died at that institution early yesterday a fractured skull is charged by relatives of the dead man.

According to the story of Mrs. La Berge, the man's mother, and her daughter Delphine, Alphonse was in an intoxicated condition, and became unruly at the house of his mother on St. Timothee street so that the daughter notified the police, and at ten o'clock Officers Chaput and Lemiere came to arrest him. They found the man unwilling to go with them, and had hard work getting him as far as the door.

The girl Delphine says that as soon as the door was reached one of the officers gave La Berge a push toward the sidewalk, the man falling on his head from the step.

Alphonse La Berge never moved until aided from that time until he was placed in the patrol wagon. The girl Delphine adds that the officers took hold of the prisoner by the shoulders, lifting him from his prostrate position and dragged him for a hundred feet, his knees scraping the walk, after which they threw him across their shoulders until they reached the patrol, into which he was thrown, his head striking the seat.

Booked By Aeroplane.

London, Aug. 31.—Aviation is becoming a fashionable pastime, bookings for aerial trips having increased 100 per cent. during the last few weeks.

The growing reliability of machines and the increasing skill of airmen have mainly led to the popularity of flying. Mr. H. Barber, the inventor and pilot of the Valkyrie monoplane, whose headquarters are at Hendon, has booked £4,000 worth of passenger flights, and his "fares" require to be taken to all parts of the country.

"The aeroplane flights booked through our instrumentality are now increasing to an altogether remarkable extent," said the manager of the aviation department of Messrs. Keith, Prowse & Co. At first our charges for cross-country aerial flights were at the rate of a guinea a mile. Now, however, in view of the number of flights being made, we are able to reduce the price to half a guinea a mile. Long-distance trips by aeroplane are mainly in demand, and we had a 'fare' the other day, for instance, from Brooklands to the Isle of Wight.

Genuis is more plentiful than plain common sense.

How Are Your Eyes?

"How are your Eyes?"

It is a most important question nowadays, for there is an impression that each succeeding generation makes glasses more and more in demand. But it is wise to have advice about the eye-sight, and particularly if one suffers from headaches, most of which are distinctly traceable to eye disorders. We fit glasses that give instant relief to the eyes and the effects of eye-strain.

AN EVEN BREAK IN BALL GAMES

The Grand Trunks and Ontarios Each Won from the Other Yesterday

Although a double-header between the Grand Trunks and the Ontarios was announced for yesterday afternoon in the city baseball league, and keen contests were expected, the attendance was small. The league and the players did their part, in spite of that, however, as both games were full of interest.

First Game.

Play was late in beginning, owing to the non-arrival of Ashton, the Grand Trunks' clever pitcher, and the railway men started, at the order of Conductor Cochrane, with Brennan at the throttle. The trip was a short one, as the first stage of the journey was reached without mishap, two of the first three batters being struck out and the third being out at first. Ashton pitched the remainder of the game and did good work. He struck out five men, but eight hits were made off him. The game resulted in a score of 5 to 2 for the Trunks, their runs being made in the second, third, fourth and seventh.

The Ontarios, who did not play up to their usual form in the field, failed to give Walter Gerow, who pitched for them, the support that he deserved, while their stick work was not effective, the hits being scattered and lacking in pinches. In the sixth only did they do effective work at the bat. Gerow was very effective, for he struck out eight and five hits were made off him. He gave one base on balls, however, and hit one man twice. The score by innings was:—

G. T. R. . . . . .2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—3

Second Game.

The second game opened with the Grand Trunks at bat and C. Pitcher in the box for the Ontarios. As, however, Pitcher lacked control Gerow resumed business at the old stand and did effective work, victory rewarding his efforts in this second essay. He struck out ten against eight by Ashton, and kept the few hits that were made well scattered. In this game the Ontarios did much better work all round, and although the Trunks netted two in the first they succeeded in blanking their opponents until the sixth, when they assumed the lead, after having singles in the second and fifth. The score by innings follows:—

G. T. R. . . . . . .2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—3
Ontarios . . . . . .0 1 0 0 1 1 0 1 1—5

The line-up for the respective games was:—

First Game.

Ontarios—Hagerman, Gerow, LaVoie, Muir, Ketcheson, Mills, Moore Thompson, Pitcher.

G.T.R.—Coyne, McConnell, O'Neil Brennan, Minorgan, Thurber, Brown Barret, Ashton.

Second Game.

G.T.R.—Coyne, McConnell, O'Neil Brennan, Minorgan, Thurber, Brown, Barret, Ashton.

Ontarios—Hagerman, Gerow, LaVoie, Muir, Ketcheson, Mills, Moore, Thompson, Pitcher.

TROUBLES OF WEST HASTINGS LIBERALS

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:—

I notice you feel inclined to poke a little fun at the Liberals of West Hastings, who met in Trenton on the 25th of this month for the purpose of selecting a candidate to oppose Mr. E. Guss Porter. I do not agree with you. I think the gentlemen in that party showed remarkably good sense in refusing to be made tools of, knowing, as they, do, that to accept a nomination what the result would be.

There is another point in this connection. A fight costs money; who is to foot the bill? The party in the past, it is said, played false with their candidate. Why should another enter the breach to be slaughtered? No sensible man would do it unless the wherewithal was first "bucked up."

The story is, that at the last Dominion election $1,250 was pledged to meet expenses, and that it NEVER WAS PAID, leaving the credulous in the lurch. Such a bird is not likely to be caught a second time.

There is another story current, and that is that a candidate can be found if that debt were liquidated, and an ADDITIONAL sum of $3,000 placed to the credit of the man who would consent to enter the contest. That's business! Now, gentlemen of the Liberal fraternity, "down with the dough," and a candidate is ready to be slaughtered, not in the shambles but at the polls.

Yours,
TRENTONIAN.

Makes Hair Grow

D. M. Waters has an invigorator that will make hair grow or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the great American Hair-Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by D. M. Waters under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage), is on every bottle.

POLITICAL DODGING AT EDMONTON

(From our own Correspondent.)

EDMONTON, Aug. 23.—Things are moving in a strange and mysterious fashion in Edmonton political circles these days. There is a deal afoot where the Oliver and Cross factions of the local liberal party will sign a truce, each one getting something that only the other side can give it.

This is how the situation is at present.

A. C. Rutherford, former liberal premier for Alberta and announced as the candidate against the minister of the interior is to get either a senatorship or a seat on the supreme court bench of Alberta in return for his withdrawal from the fray.

Hon. Frank Oliver is to get the unanimous candidature and so assure his election. He will go to parliament and become a railway commissioner.

C. W. Cross, attorney general in the old Rutherford cabinent, is to be taken into the Sifton Cabinet and receive assurances that some of his northern Alberta railway desires are to be fulfilled.

Hon. Walter Scott is mentioned as the next minister of the intreior.

Such in brief is an indication of the political bartering in which the liberals of high state in Edmonton have been indulging during the past few days. Everthing has not been finally fixed yet, but it is stated here on the very best authority that it is only a matter of a few days now before Mr. Rutherford will announce that he will not run for federal honors in opposition to Frank Oliver. And everthing points to this being a fact. For the last week the city has been placarded with posers announcing that Mr. Rutherford's campaign would open this evening at a big mass meeting. Yet this afternoon dodgers were scattered broadcast all over town with the simple announcement that the meeting had been postponed. No reason was given and no future date was fixed for the meeting.

That Mr. Rutherford has reserved to himself the right to finally stand for election has been generally intimatd.

Indeed it was made evident from the extremely qualified speech of acceptance delivered at the convention at which he was tendered the nomination. Earlier efforts were made to divert his intention to stand for election. That he was on the verge of yielding to them last night is stated to have been the case. That he has actually decided to come to terms with Oliver and decided not to run against him in the election has not yet been fully ascertained, but that he will not continue to fight the election was the most certain political rumor late last night.

Fuller credence can be given this announcement of these proposed appointments because of an intimation which comes from Regina, and says Premier Scott expects to go to Ottawa on the promise of entering the liberal cabinet succeeding the minister of the interior. But owing to the uncertainty in the minds of the liberals as to whether their party will or will not be returned to power in this election he will not resign his provincial premiership until the result of the election is known.

That Mr. Oliver is not wanted in the government at Ottawa has long been current gossip at Ottawa. Any who doubted it shortly before the last parliament dissolved will not have any hesitation now in accepting the statement. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier's advisers are not disposed to give Mr. Oliver any recognition unless he retain the representation of the Edmonton constituency. If he can do that, he will be appointed to the railway commission.

WILL LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

I have been reading an account of our friend, the horse Dr., having the nightmare and would prescribe a dose of raw oil and turpentine with a box stall and pelnty of bedding.

Would it not be better to confine such kicking to the weather man. But well,—God makes the weather and Dr. is a good churchman; we farmers better grin and bear it. Nevertheless we cannot make bricks without straw, nor potatoes without rain, and most of us will be thankful to dig out and pick up the few that are in each hill for our own use. We will have to live on the memory of last year, when we had so many we could not give them away. Even our 'excellent' Belleville market will va[illegible]

"Now is [illegible]pointed time" to invent [illegible] machine, Dr., and those starving widows and orphans you mention—well, send them to us; we can at least supply them with skim milk enough (after we sell you the butter), to keep them alive until spring. I believe we could find work for any that are willing and able. I know that we have not been able to induce any kind of labor to come to us this summer and our neighbors all tell you the same.

The Dr. thinks we are getting rich on the sale of cheese at 13c., which is the best price we have had in years and only got that at the end of the season, after the drought caused the pasture to dry up. We will average about 5 per cent. profit on our cheese sales for the season. What profit do you make on your liniment, Dr.? Would not 500 per cent. be about what you get? Now, Dr., when you are willing to get up as early (to milk on week days and Sundays too;) to work as hard all day in the sun, to live as plainly, and be content with the same rate of profit as the average farmer, we can, I think, safely say that we will take your advice and let well enough alone. In our neighborhood I think you will find these the sentiments of

"THE AVERAGE FARMER."

BUTTERMILK FOR LAYING HENS.

In The Illustrated Poultry Record for July—a magazine of a thoroughly practical character, full of useful hints for poultry rearers—there is a note on "Buttermilk for Laying Hens," in which the writer says:—"We know that it is excellent for fattening poultry, but it would appear that it is equally excellent for the promotion of laying, if an experiment conducted by Prof. W. R. Graham at Guelph is confirmed by later results. Five lots of 25 pullets were tested to show the effect of animal food. All had whole grain and dry mash supplied. Number 1 had its animal food in the form of buttermilk, given as a drink, and this came easily cut first both in the number of eggs produced from Ocober 1 1909 to April 30 1910, when the experiment was discontinued and in the cost of feeding per dozen eggs. The total eggs were 2040, or an average of 81.6 in seven months, and the cost per dozen eggs was 10.68 cents (5 1-2d.) The second best as to laying were fed on 10 per cent of beef scrap, with a record of 1670 eggs, or an average of 65.8, but the cost per dozen eggs was 14.28 cents (7 1-2d). Third had also beef scrap (in hopper ad lib.), with 1664 eggs, or an average of 66.56, but the cost rose to 15.84 cents (nearly 8d) per dozen eggs. Fourth had all the green bone they could eat, and produced 1654 eggs, an average of 66.15 at a cost of 15.48 cents (7 1-4.) per dozen; and fifth, which had no animal food whatever, laid 1406 eggs, at a cost of 12.69 cents (6 1-2d.) per dozen. The hatchability of the fith lot was highest (59.5 per cent) and No. 1 second (55 per cent). This is a hint for dairy-men poultry keepers."

LUNG TROUBLE

PROMPTLY RELIEVED AND PERMANENTLY CURED BY INHALING CATARRHOZONE.

Mrs. Biny Brown, of Tenecape, N. S. was cured by Catarrhozone of lung trouble and catarrh after hundreds of other remedies failed.

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone. It is especially adapted for these diseases and cures every time.

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone.

"I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing, medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler, the local symptoms such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal, purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

Complete outfit cost $1.00; small size 50c. At all druggists.

CHRISTENING OF PETER

Son of Peter Pan and Godson of J. M. Barrie

St. Peter's Church, Broadstairs, was recently the scene of the christening of Peter, the son of Peter Pan, and godson of M. J. M. Barrie, Peter Pan's creator. Peter John Barrie Waterman was the hero of the occasion. He was born seven months ago to Miss Cecilia Loftus, who is now Mrs. Alouys Waterman, but once played Peter Pan for a season at the Duke of York's Theatre.

BOXING

PORKY FLYNN HAD THE SHADE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Porky Flynn had a shade the better of Joe Jeannette, the negro heavyweight, in a ten-round bout at the Fairmount A. C. tonight. It was the first fight in this city under the new boxing rules which took effect last night and for the first time in years the public witnessed a ring contest without the slightest danger of police interference.

The bout, however, was somewhat of a disappointing nature to the large crowd, which hissed both boxers. Jeannette started aggressively and had the better of the first two rounds and the last two, but was not so clever as Flynn in the other two rounds. Popular decision was divided with an inclination to Flynn's favor.

WELLS BEAT BROWN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Matt Wells the English lightweight champion, added to his laurels by outboxing and outfighting Knockout Brown, the New York lightweight, in a ten-round bout before the largest crowd that probably ever witnessed a pugilistic contest in New York city to-night. The bout, the second to be held under the new boxing law, brought a crowd of probably 14,000 persons to the Madison Square Garden.

The British champion was never in danger at any period during the milling, and left the ring unmarked, while Brown was bleeding about the mouth and from a cut under the right eye.

CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH THANKS TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 1st, 1910.

"I am well acquainted with a man, known to thousands in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, who for nearly a year was practically a cripple from Rheumatism. He was so troubled with the disease that he found it difficult to even turn over in bed. His heart appeared so weak that he could hardly walk up stairs.

Last June, he received a sample of "Fruit-a-tives". He used them and dates his recovery from that time. To-day, there is no man in Vancouver enjoying better health.

He was building a house this fall and shingled a good part of the roof in a driving rain, without suffering any bad effects". JOHN B. LACY.

Mr. E. E. Mills, (assistant postmaster at Knowlton, Que.,) also writes:

"I honestly believe that "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world". Try it yourself.

JACK JOHNSON AN ORATOR

World's Champion Will Appear on the Platform as a Lecturer

Jack Johnson, the American heavyweight champion, is proving himself a versatile harvester of English currency. He has not had a chance to show his prowess in the squared circle, so he evolved a new method of lightening British pockets. He has turned lecturer. His first lectures will be held in Edinburgh, Scotland. The subjects of his dissertations, it is perhaps needless to say, will be the art of self defence. Those who make light of the black champion's venture are apt to wind up by envying his coin collection, for he not only has an immense following among that class actively interested in fights, but will be helped by that peculiarity of British character that counts a black face one of nature's gems of humor.

WHERE GERMANY IS SLOW

Behind Every Other Nation in the Matter of Airships

Germany is notoriously behind her sister powers in the matter of aeronautics, and on the head of Kaiser Wilhelm, whose love of sabre and gun and aversion to spending money on "new-fangled" methods of warfare, is heaped the coals of the critics who decry the Fatherland's aero backwardness.

Germany now has but 100 army airmen, and even this small number has been got together only after the most strenuous efforts on the part of the Kaiser's military aides. In the matter of aeronautics Germany is behind almost every other country of the civilized world.

UPHELD "UNWRITTEN LAW"

Italian Jury Acquits Murderer Who Shot His Wife and Her Lover

The "unwritten law," enforced under unusually romantic circumstances, has resulted in the acquittal at Vincenza of Guiseppe Molini, who killed his wife and her lover when he surprised them in each others company. Molini had been warned by numerous anonymous letters to watch his wife and his friend, Cavilli, a lawyer. When he showed one of the letters to his wife she was able to convince him that they were unfounded. One evening Molini went to a masked ball, leaving his wife at home, as she complained of illness. Late in the evening a woman wearing a black mask approached him and asked whether he knew that his wife and Cavilli were then together. He refused to believe her, but she offered to take him and show him the guilty couple. Molini followed the mysterious woman, who led him to his own house, where he found his wife and Cavilli. Molini rushed upon the lovers and shot them both dead. The masked woman disappeared amid the confusion, and has never been seen since, nor has Molini guessed her identity. At the trial the jury found Molini was "unconscious of his action" at the moment of shooting, and acquitted him amid much applause from the spectators in court.

Kingly Courtesy

King Alfonso was shopping at Cowes when he saw that a foreign sailor was in a difficulty with regard to the exchange of his money. His Majesty at once came to his assistance and the man changed his money all right, and was highly delighted at this exhibition of kingly courtesy.

No man is so religious that he considers dying a pleasure.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS DIRECTORY

The Professional Fraternity of our city will find an advertisement under this head an exceptionally advantageous investment, the returns hitherto attained making the extremely moderate rates but nominal. By consulting our price list in another column, or calling at the Intelligencer business office, full information may be obtained.
